CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

Index

Abraham, David, 151 accident insurance: development of, 64–5; France's post-WWII social policy reform and, 191, 195, 197; overview, 64–5, 255–6; private social policies and, 57; statistics on (early 1900s), 15–16 accident insurance (France/19th century): agricultural workers and, 94, 97, 100–1, 103; business preferences of, 89–96; business preferences summary, 95f; chambers of commerce preferences, 91, 93; Chamber vs. Senate and, 96–104; control and, 92–3; financing of, 96, 98, 102–3; legal reforms and, 86–9; overview, 104–5; policy-making process in, 96–104; private preexisting institutions and, 92–3, 95, 96, 99–100, 101–2; risk incidence and, 93–5; risk pools of, 96, 103, 104; risk redistribution and, 93–5, 101–2; scope of, 98–9, 100–1; size of firms and, 92–3, 94–5, 97, 98, 99–100; small-business preferences and, 97, 104, 105; state's role in, 99, 100, 103; théorie du risque professionnel, 97–8, 100–1, 103 accident insurance (Germany/19th century): agricultural sector and, 73, 74–5, 79, 80, 85; business influence on, 78–85; business preferences of, 71–6, 77f; chambers of commerce preferences, 71, 76; control of, 79, 80, 81–5; financing of, 79, 80, 83–4, 85; labor preferences of, 104; policy-making process of, 76–85; politicization of, 65–71; risk "classes of danger," 83, 84; risk incidence and, 72–3, 74; risk pool, 79–80, 84–5; risk redistribution and, 72, 72–3, 74; size of firm and, 71, 75–6, 105; strategic alliances and, 85
Accident Insurance Fund (France), 99, 100 accidents (France/19th century): burden of proof in, 86–7, 88; "categories of danger" with, 89; contractual responsibility and, 86–7; reversal of burden of proof, 87; théorie du risque professionnel, 87–9, 89–90, 91–2, 94, 95; unknown causes of, 87, 97–8 accidents (Germany/19th century): burden of proof in, 66–8; employer obligations and, 67; reversal of burden of proof, 67–8; statistics on fatalities, 72; supervising personnel and, 66–7; unknown causes of, 66 agricultural sector: accident insurance (France), 94, 97, 100–1, 103; accident insurance (Germany), 73, 74–5, 79, 80, 85; compulsory social insurance (France), 126–7, 128, 134, 257; demographic structure (Germany), 174–5; post-WWII social policy (France), 197–8, 199, 201, 204, 206–7, 208; post-WWII social policy (Germany), 174–5; price controls (U.S.), 53; unemployment insurance (Germany), 150–1, 158, 256–7 alliances: cross-national variation in, 1–2; overview, 41–2, 50–62; politicians and, 42n14; preexisting policies and, 42n14, 50, 52–62. See also cross-class alliances; prestrategic alliances; strategic alliances
American Federation of Labor (AFL), 47
Association of Employers' Organizations in Agriculture and Forestry (Germany), 150, 151
Association of French Industry, 89
Association of German Industry, 144
Association of German Iron and Steel Industrialists, 70

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

Baare, Louis, 57, 69, 70–1, 76, 83
Baldwin, Peter, 5–8, 12, 14, 15, 18, 49–50, 52, 183, 186–7, 187–8
Baron, Julius, 68
Bauer, Gustav, 158
Belgian Christian Democratic union federation, 45
Belgium: development of unemployment insurance, 262; Ghent system, 115; trade union benefits, 44
Beutner, Georg, 76–7
Beveridge reforms (Britain), 15, 166, 167, 188
Bismarck, Chancellor: accident liability, 57, 70–1, 73; compulsory accident insurance, 77, 78, 79, 82–3, 85; coverage of agriculture, 74; old-age insurance, 58; paternalism, 79
Bloc des Gauches, 117
Blohm, Rudolf, 159
Blüm, Norbert, 236, 240, 241–2, 243, 245, 246
Brauns, Heinrich, 155, 165 business: assumption of opposition to social insurance, 2–3, 5, 22–3, 41, 62, 249–50; business-centered research, 8–9, 12–13, 41; social policy preferences overview, 2–3, 9, 21–5, 250–1, 260 business social policy preferences: for accident insurance (France), 89–96; for accident insurance (Germany), 71–6, 77f; analyses of, 32–3, 34f, 35f, 36–7; business preference for compulsory social insurance (France), 121–8, 129f, 135; change in, 37–9, 40f; of early retirement policies (France), 215, 216, 217, 219–25, 224f, 228, 229–30; of early retirement policies (Germany) and, 235–8; in liberal market economies, 264; location in the social policy space, 32–40; overview, 21–39, 40f, 252–9; of post-WWII social policy (France), 193–201; of post-WWII social policy (Germany), 171–9, 212; summary of, 38f, 62; for unemployment insurance (France), 113, 114, 116, 263; for unemployment insurance (Germany), 140, 142–3, 144–53

Caisse des Forges, 19 cartels, 22
Central Committee of Coal-Mining Producers (France), 93–4
Central Federation of German Industrialists, 26–7, 58, 70, 72, 75, 78, 80, 153, 252–3
Central Industrial Committee (Belgium), 262
Chaveau Report (France), 120, 121–2, 124, 135–7
Chôtard, Yves, 221
Christian-Democratic MRP (France), 188–9, 192
Christian Democratic Party (Germany): early retirement policy and, 240–1, 241–2, 243, 244, 245, 246; universalistic social policy and, 185, 186
Christian Democratic political parties, 52
Christian Social Union (Germany), 185
Civil Code (France) and accidents, 86, 98 Civil Code (Germany) and accidents, 65–8
coalitions. See alliances
Commission of Assistance and Social Insurance (France), 133
Commission of Social Insurance (France), 117 Committee of Producers in Coal Mining (France), 90–1 compulsory social insurance (France): agricultural sector and, 126–7, 128, 134; chambers of commerce preferences, 124–5; control issues and, 122–4, 125, 129f, 131, 132–3, 135, 137; disability and, 130–1; employer preferences in, 121–8, 135; employer preference summary in, 129f; family benefits and, 123, 130, 136; hostility toward, 128–9; labor preferences in, 132; negotiations/legislation on, 128–38; old-age benefits and, 120–1, 122, 123, 124, 130, 131–2, 136; preexisting private policies and, 122–3, 131, 132–3, 134; risk determination and, 135–6; risk pool of, 131; risk redistribution and, 125–8, 129f, 130, 133–4, 137–8; sickness benefits and, 120–1, 122, 123, 130–1, 136; size of firms and, 122, 124–5, 126, 127–8, 138; tax evasion from, 127–8; unemployment insurance and, 120–1, 125, 126, 136–7
Confédération Générale du Travail, 112, 130, 132, 190, 215, 216
Confederation of Commercial Groups, 135
Congress of German Industry and Commerce, 146
Conseil National du Patronat Français (CNPF): early retirement policies and, 215, 219, 221; universalization of policies and, 190, 198–9, 201, 204, 207
Conservative political bloc (Germany), 78, 80, 82

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

Index

construction industry, 72, 92
contributory policies: effect on employers, 26; financing of, 26; social policy preferences of firms, 36–7, 252, 254, 265; social policy space and, 18, 19; unemployment insurance and, 108; unemployment insurance (France) and, 109, 111–12, 113, 114–15; unemployment insurance (Germany) and, 143–4, 145, 153, 154, 165
control: accident insurance (France) and, 92–3; accident insurance (Germany) and, 79, 80, 81–5; business cost-benefits of, 25–8; compulsory social insurance (France) and, 122–4, 125, 129f, 131, 132–3, 135, 137; description of, 17, 25; early retirement policies (France) and, 218–19, 220; in Ghent unemployment policies, 107; labor and, 45, 48–9, 54; post-WWII social policy (France) and, 188, 191, 194–6, 200–1, 205–6; post-WWII social policy (Germany) and, 170, 172–3, 178, 181; social policy space and, 15f, 16–20, 25–8; unemployment insurance and, 17n1, 28, 107–8; unemployment insurance (France) and, 109, 112–13, 115; unemployment insurance (Germany) and, 146–7, 148–9, 154, 156, 159, 161–2, 163. See also sensitivity to control (of a firm)
Council of Economic Experts (Germany), 239 cross-class alliances: in different political contexts, 259; early retirement policies (France), 248; early retirement policies (Germany), 248; failure of, 58; general findings of, 260–3; overview, 2, 3, 5, 8, 50–9, 259–63; political composition of, 261–2; preexisting social policies and, 42n14, 50, 52–62, 260–1; unemployment insurance (Germany), 155–8; universalistic policies and, 49–50, 58–9. See also strategic cross-class alliances

Dalle, Victor, 111
decommodification, 5, 249, 250
Délépine Commission, 190, 191
Democratic Party (Germany), 185
Denmark: social policy developments, 49–50; wage-bargaining institutions, 8
Döding, Günter, 234
Dore, Ronald, 54
Duisburg, Carl, 151–2

Early Retirement Act (Germany): negotiations of, 239–46; policy changes of, 245–6; significance of, 246 early retirement policies: as hybrid policies, 213; positioning in social policy space, 15f, 19–20 early retirement policies (France): contributions of elderly workers and, 222–3; cost issues and, 220, 221–2; cross-class alliances and, 248; economy and, 215, 218, 228–9; employer social policy preferences of, 215, 216, 217, 219–25, 228, 229–30; financing of, 217–19, 226, 227–8; firm size and, 220; garantie de ressources, 217, 218, 223, 225, 226, 227, 230, 231; labor market authorities and, 248; labor preferences of, 215, 216–17, 218, 229–30; Laroque commission/report, 214–15, 216; negotiation of, 225–31; old-age insurance and, 228, 229; old-age pension rates and, 216, 229, 230; ordonnance of March 1982, 230; overview, 246–8; preexisting policies and, 225–6, 231, 254; risk redistribution and, 223–5, 257; size of firms and, 220–2, 224–5; skill composition of work force and, 222, 223; strategic alliances and, 219, 230; subsidies and, 216, 218–19, 229–31; unemployment insurance and, 216–17, 226, 228, 230; voluntary resignation and, 218 early retirement policies (Germany): "blurring of risks" in, 232–3; cross-class alliances and, 248; disability benefits and, 232–3; Early Retirement Act negotiations, 239–46; economy and, 233; employer preferences of, 235–8; Employment Promotion Act and, 233–4, 241; German courts and, 232–3; industry risk profiles, 237; labor market authorities and, 248; labor preferences for, 234–5; large- vs. small-firm conflict, 241–6; Law of the Adaptation of the Employment Promotion Act, 242; old-age insurance and, 239; overview, 246–8; preexisting policies and, 242, 246, 254; priority of, 231–2; retirement age and, 233; risk redistribution and, 237–8, 257; size of firm and, 233–4, 236–7, 238, 239–40, 241–6; skill composition of work force and, 237; unemployment benefits and, 232–3; working time reduction and, 234, 242

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

earnings-related benefits: business skill needs and, 254; control issues and, 27; France's post-WWII social policy, 188; Germany's post-WWII social policy, 186, 187; labor unions and, 47, 48; skill investment and, 24, 27, 28, 147–8, 251; unemployment insurance, 147–8 Employers' Liability Act of 1871 (Germany), 68–9, 78
Employment Promotion Act (Germany), 233–4, 241
Esping-Andersen, Gøsta: decommodification, 5, 249, 250; early retirement policies, 247; power resource perspective, 2, 4, 47n16; Social Democratic parties, 51
Estevez-Abe, Margarita, 9, 22, 24, 39, 54, 58, 59, 263
Ewald, François, 64, 88, 96, 104

family benefits, 123, 130, 136, 189–90, 191, 194–5, 197
Faure, Félix, 88, 91, 98
Federal Employment Office (Germany), 234–5
Federal Social Court (Germany), 232
Federation of Employers' Associations, 172, 254
Federation of German Employers' Associations, 17, 27, 28, 56, 140, 147, 148, 151–2, 156, 159, 161, 162, 163, 172, 254
Federation of German Trade Unions, 17, 46, 47–8, 139, 141–2, 154, 158, 161–2, 180, 261
Federation of Mechanical Workers (France), 119
Federation of Workers in the Printing Industry (France), 110, 119
Feldman, Gerhard, 151
Food-Processing Workers' Union (Germany), 239
France: Ghent unemployment policies in, 55, 60, 107, 262–3; private policies in, 23, 26; trade union benefits, 44. See also accident insurance (France/19th century); compulsory social insurance (France); early retirement policies (France); unemployment insurance (France)
France's post-WWII social policy reform, 197–200, 201, 205, 206–7, 208–9, 210; accident insurance and, 191, 195, 197; agricultural sector and, 197–8, 199, 201, 204, 206–7, 208; artisans and, 198, 199, 201, 202–3, 206, 207–8; chambers of commerce and, 193, 194, 196, 199–200; control issues of, 188, 191, 194–6, 200–1, 205–6; decision-making speed in, 188; earnings-related benefits and, 188; employer influence on, 189, 192–3, 202–10, 211–12; employer preferences of, 193–201; family benefits and, 189–90, 191, 194–5, 197; financial issues of, 188, 194, 195, 196–7, 204; independent workers and, 191–3, 202, 203–4, 206, 211; labor and, 189, 190, 192–3, 195, 203, 209; liberal professions and, 198, 205, 206, 207–8; old-age insurance and, 189–90, 191, 192, 198, 203, 204, 207; ordonnance of October 1945, 187–210; political parties and, 188–9, 202; preexisting private social policies and, 210; redistribution of costs in, 196–7; sickness insurance and, 189–90, 191, 198; size of firms and, 197–8, 199, 200–1, 203–4, 205, 206, 207; social insurance for the "unorganized," 208, 209; Surleau Commission, 203–10, 211–12; universalization of, 188, 189–90, 197–8
Free Democratic Party (Germany), 185
French Communist Party, 188–9
French Federation of Printers, 119
French Industrialists and Retailers, 195
French labor movement, 17; decentralization of, 55; union-based social policies and, 44
French Labor Office, 109–10

Galant, Henri, 188, 189, 202, 209
Gambetta, Léon, 97
General Christian Trade Union (AVC), 45
General Confederation of German Employers (BDA), 235, 236
German People's Party (DVP), 164
German Progressive Party, 80
German Reichparty, 80
Germany: accident insurance in, 26n8, 75; Ghent unemployment policies in, 46, 107; health insurance in, 26n8; old-age insurance policies and, 58, 59–60; private policies in, 23, 25n7, 55, 57; trade union benefits, 43–4; unemployment benefits and, 55–6. See also accident insurance (Germany/19th century); early retirement policies (Germany); unemployment insurance (Germany)
Germany's post-WWII social policy reform: agricultural sector and, 174–5; in American occupation zone, 167–8, 173, 183, 184; austerity measures of, 182–3,

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

186; Bismarckian status quo support for, 186, 187; in British occupation zone, 167, 173, 180, 183, 184; budget problems and, 167; chambers of commerce preferences, 183; control issues in, 170, 172–3, 178, 181; cross-subsidization, 184; differences in risk profile, 173–4, 178–9; earnings-related benefits, 186, 187; economic council for, 184–5; employer preference prediction, 170–1; employer preferences of, 171–9, 212; failure of universalistic social policy (Einheitsversicherung), 185–7, 211; financing of, 182–3; first stage of, 167–9; Handwerk and, 169, 174, 176–8, 183; industry subsidies and, 175, 176, 184, 187; labor preferences of, 180–3; labor role in, 170, 172, 181; level of insurance coverage, 170, 173, 174, 175; negotiations in, 180–7; old-age insurance and, 173–4, 177–8, 182, 183, 185; policies of Russian occupation authorities, 169; policy proposal to unify social insurance, 170, 171–2; preexisting social policies, 187; "principle of self-administration" and, 172, 181; private insurance in, 174; proposed change summary, 170; risk redistribution in, 174–8, 180; second stage reform process of, 169–79; sickness insurance funds, 181, 183; size of firms and, 170–1, 172–3; strategic alliance, 186–7, 211; unfavorable age structure of firms, 174, 175–6
Ghent policy of unemployment compensation, 55, 59, 115; after World War I, 46; control in, 107; in France, 55, 60, 107, 108, 165, 262–3; France development of, 111–19; in Germany, 46, 107, 138, 139; preexisting policies and, 115; risk redistribution in, 107–8; size of firms and, 117–18; social policy space and, 15f, 19; strategic cross-class alliances in support of, 118
Gottschalk, Marie, 47, 54
Great Depression: existing policies/coalitions, 53; social policies inadequacies, 47; unemployment insurance and, 16
Grinda report (France), 121–2, 133–4
Guillemard, Anne-Marie, 20, 198, 214, 216, 217, 220, 221, 229

Hall, Peter A., 8, 12, 51
Handwerk producers, 146, 149, 151, 176–7, 236–7, 240, 241–3, 243-4, 244–5, 261
Hatzfeld, Henri, 17, 19, 45, 54, 92, 122, 128–9, 130, 135, 255
Heclo, Hugh, 51
Herrigel, Gary, 139
Hicks, Alexander, 4
Hilferding, Rudolf, 155
Hockerts, Hans, 47, 182, 184, 185, 231, 232
Huber, Evelyne, 1, 4, 51, 249

Immergut, Ellen, 129, 137
Imperial Employment Office (Germany), 143, 155–6, 157–8, 159–60, 161, 162, 163
Imperial Insurance Board (Germany), 79, 83, 85 iron/steel industry: compulsory accident insurance and, 73; as high risk industry, 92, 93, 255–6
Iron Works Committee (France), 90–1, 92, 123

Japan: corporate-based housing and, 58–9; cross-class alliances and, 263; private social policies and, 54; social protection in, 258

Kathedersocialists, 67, 68
King, Desmond, 1, 2
Kitschelt, Herbert, 2, 8
Kohli, Martin, 213, 232
Kolberg, Jan, 247
Korpi, Walter, 4, 5, 51, 249

Labor Office of the Ministry of Commerce (France), 23, 109–10 labor social policy preferences: for accident insurance (Germany), 104; along the control dimension of the social policy space, 43, 45, 48–9; along the risk redistribution dimension of the social policy space, 45–6, 47n16, 48, 49; for compulsory social insurance, 46, 47, 132; of early retirement policies (France), 215, 216–17, 218, 229–30; of early retirement policies (Germany), 234–5; effects of skill profile on preferences, 44, 46, 47, 48, 49f; general summary of, 49f; history of, 43–4; labor movement and, 46–7; overview, 42–50; in post-WWII social policy (France), 189, 190, 192–3, 195, 203, 209; in post-WWII social policy (Germany), 180–3; for unemployment insurance (France), 111–13, 114, 116–17, 154; for unemployment insurance (Germany), 140, 141–2; for union-administered social policies, 44, 46

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

Langnamverein, 71, 80
Laroque, Pierre, 188, 205–6, 214
Laroque commission, 214–15, 216, 226
Law of the Adaptation of the Employment Promotion Act (Germany), 242 liberal market economies, 1, 264
Liberal political parties, 52
Liberal political parties bloc (Germany), 78
Liberal Union (Germany), 80

Manow, Philip, 2, 21, 45, 155n41, 181, 264
Manpower Directorate of the Control Council of the Allied Powers, 168–9 market power: business size and, 29
Martin, Cathie Jo, 9, 13
Massenez, Josef, 73
Mauroy, Pierre, 227
means-tested social policies, 265
mechanization level and risk, 31
metalworking industry (France): private policies and, 23; risk pool and, 198; unemployment risk in, 256; work force age in, 223 metalworking industry (Germany), 256 middle-class interest in social insurance, 6–7
Millerand, Alexandre, 51, 110–11, 117, 119 minimum wage, 22
mining industry: accidents and, 68; agricultural workers migration to, 74–5; Employers' Liability Law and, 69–70; as high-risk industry, 93, 255–6 mining industry (France): earnings-related benefits and, 254; labor and, 54; private policies and, 23; risk pool and, 198 mining industry (Germany): accident risk in, 68; age structure of, 174; earnings-related benefits and, 254; employers and, 54; private policies (Knappschaftskassen) in, 57, 74, 175, 176
Mittelstandsfraktion, 240–1, 243, 244, 245
Mitterand, François, 227

National Confederation of Agricultural Associations (France), 126, 134, 257
National Federation of Employees (France), 111
National Health Insurance (U.S.), 47
National Liberal Party (Germany), 80
National Socialism (Germany), 171
New Deal, 23, 42n14
New Zealand social policy, 1

old-age insurance, 16, 58, 59–60, 120–1, 122, 123, 124, 130, 131–2, 136, 167, 168, 173–4, 177–8, 182, 183, 185, 189–90, 191, 192, 198, 203, 204, 207, 228, 229, 239
ordonnance of March 1982 (France), 230 ordonnance of October 1945 (France): defeat of, 202–10; employer preferences and, 193–201; policy changes of, 187–93
Organization of the German Employer's Association, 172

Paris Chamber of Commerce, 91, 193, 194, 196 parity representation of capital and labor in the administration of social insurance, 27, 47, 172
Parodi, Alexander, 189
Pierson, Paul, 1, 12, 21, 52–3, 57, 260 policy legacies, 50; consequences of private social policies, 53, 54, 56; implications for strategic alliances, 53, 58; informational consequences of, 53, 56, 57; material consequences of, 53, 55
Pontusson, Jonas, 13, 22 power resource perspective, 2, 4–5, 6–9, 249 prestrategic alliances, 3, 10, 48–9, 61–2 printing industry (France), 110, 119
private social policies: accident insurance (France) and, 92–3, 95, 96, 99–100, 101–2; compulsory social insurance (France) and, 122–3, 131, 132–3, 134; cross-class alliances and, 42n14, 50, 52–62, 260–1; early retirement policies (France) and, 225–6, 231, 254; early retirement policies (Germany) and, 242, 246, 254; financing of, 26; Ghent system and, 115; importance to firms, 26; information consequences of, 56–7; low visibility/traceability of, 56–7; overview, 22–3, 43–4; position in social policy space and, 18, 19; post-WWII social policy (France) and, 210; post-WWII social policy (Germany) and, 187; social policy preferences of firms, 36, 252, 254; statistics on, 43–4; unemployment insurance (France) and, 115–16; unemployment insurance (Germany) and, 139–40
Prussian Ministry of Trade, 23
Prussian Statistical Bureau, 71–2, 76

Questiaux, Nicole, 227

Rabinbach, Anson, 68
Radicals (France), 97
Radical Socialists (France), 97

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

Index

railway industry (France): labor and, 54; private policies and, 23 railway industry (Germany), 54, 67–8, 174, 175–6 Reichslandbund, 150 reservation wage, 27; gradation of reservation wage and investment in skills, 24, 28
Richter, Willi, 167 risk incidence: definition, 30; impact on social policy preferences of firms, 31–2, 33–7; risk of old-age, 31; risk of unemployment, 31; risk of workplace accidents, 31; sources of variation in, 31
risk redistribution: accident insurance (France) and, 93–5, 101–2; accident insurance (Germany) and, 72–3, 74; compulsory social insurance (France) and, 125–8, 129f, 130, 133–4, 137–8; in different political contexts, 259; early retirement policies (France) and, 223–5, 257; early retirement policies (Germany) and, 237–8, 257; in Ghent unemployment policies, 107–8; labor preferences in, 45–6, 47n16, 48, 49; post-WWII social policy (France) and, 197–200, 201, 202, 203, 204–9, 210, 211; post-WWII social policy (Germany) and, 170, 173, 174–8, 180, 211; social policy space and, 10, 15f, 16, 30–40; unemployment insurance (Germany) and, 147, 150–2, 162–3; unemployment insurance and, 31, 46, 107. See also sensitivity to risk redistribution
Robertson, General, 184
Roche, Jules, 102
Ruhr industrial region, 69

Salais, Robert, 106, 126
Say, Léon, 88
Schmoller, Gustav, 57
Schönhoven, Klaus, 43–4
Schumpeter, Joseph, 12
"second-best" outcome. See strategic alliances sensitivity to control (of a firm): factors affecting, 28–30, 30–2; social policy space, 32–40; unemployment insurance and, 146, 147. See also control sensitivity to risk redistribution (of a firm): factors affecting, 30–2; firm sector and, 126; low/high-risk business and, 37, 39; social policy space, 15f, 16, 30–2, 32–40; unemployment insurance and, 147. See also risk incidence; risk redistribution Shalev, Michael, 4, 5, 249 sickness benefits/insurance: after World War II, 16; compulsory social insurance (France), 120–1, 122, 123, 130–1, 136; post-WWII social policy (France), 189–90, 191, 198; post-WWII social policy (Germany), 181, 183; unemployment insurance (Germany), 158, 159, 160 size of firms: accident insurance (France), 92–3, 94–5, 97, 98, 99–100; accident insurance (Germany), 71, 75–6, 105; compulsory social insurance (France), 122, 124–5, 126, 127–8, 138; control and, 29–30, 32; early retirement policies (France), 220–2, 224–5; early retirement policies (Germany), 233–4, 236–7, 238, 239–40, 241–6; Ghent system and, 117–18; large/small cleavage, 39, 255; market power and, 29; policy preferences and, 10, 211, 252–4; post-WWII social policy (France), 197–8, 199, 200–1, 203–4, 205, 206, 207; post-WWII social policy (Germany), 170–1, 172–3; small-firm cost concerns, 29–30, 220, 221–5, 255; unemployment insurance (France), 117–18; unemployment insurance (Germany), 145–9, 152–3 skill formation: social policies and, 9–10, 24–5, 27–8, 32, 250–1, 264–5; social protection and, 258; unemployment insurance (Germany) and, 145–6, 147–8 skill profile of business: control and, 28–30, 32; early retirement policies (France), 222, 223; early retirement policies (Germany), 237
skill shortages, 24–5
Skocpol, Theda, 4, 23, 51, 52, 53, 250
social committees (Germany), 240–1, 245
Social Democratic Party (Germany): administration centralization and, 180; Early Retirement Act and, 239–40, 243, 245; proposals for higher social policy benefits, 185; unemployment insurance and, 140, 141, 163, 164, 180
Social Democratic political parties: Scandinavia social policy and, 6; social policy preferences, 51–2, 53
Social Insurance Code (Germany), 176
Socialist Party (France), 188–9
Socialist Trade Union Federation (Belgium), 262 social policy: major types of, 19; variation in the level of coverage, 15–16 social policy retrenchment, 1, 263–4

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

social policy space: business preferences, 32–40; control, 15f, 16–20, 25–8; control/risk redistribution trade-off, 21; firms' indifference curves, 33, 34f; location of contributory social insurance policies, 18, 19; location of Ghent policies, 19, 20; location of private social policies, 18, 19; location of universalistic social policies, 18, 19; maximum of utility, 35f, 36–9; overview, 14–16; risk redistribution, 15f, 16, 30–40
Social Security Act (U.S.): American employers and, 23; influences on, 57; labor unions and, 47
Society of French Farmers, 126, 134, 257
Soskice, David, 8, 12–13, 39n13, 251
steel industry: accident insurance and, 73; Employers' Liability Law and, 69–70
Steinmetz, George, 138, 181
Stephens, John, 1, 4, 51, 249
strategic alliances: in accident insurance (Germany), 85; credible policy change and, 50; description of, 3, 10–11; early retirement policies (France) and, 219, 230; factors contributing to, 50–62; information and, 60, 155–6; in opposition to new social policy, 58–9; in post-WWII social policy (Germany), 186–7, 211; preexisting policies and, 50, 52–62; summary of, 61f strategic cross-class alliances: description of, 50, 260; preexisting policies and, 53–4, 60–1, 62; in support of Ghent system, 118; unemployment insurance (France), 109, 117; unemployment insurance (Germany), 154–8, 164–5. See also cross-class alliances Streeck, Wolfgang, 8, 12
subsidiarity, 52
Surleau Commission, 199, 203–10, 211–12
Sweden: cross-class alliances and, 262; Ghent system and, 56; wage bargaining, 8
Swedish Conservatives, 262
Swedish Labor Confederation, 262
Swedish producers (SAF), 262
Swedish Social Democratic Party, 262
Swenson, Peter, 4, 8, 9, 13, 21–2, 23, 42n14, 56, 234, 258, 259, 262

Taft Hartley funds, 54
Thelen, Kathleen, 2, 8, 12–13, 264
théorie du risque professionnel: accident insurance, 97–8, 100–1, 103; accidents (France/19th century), 87–9, 89–90, 91–2, 94, 95
Topalov, Christian, 44, 55, 57, 106, 110–11, 112n8, 113, 116n17 unemployment: causes of, 106; skilled workers and, 28, 254; views on, 106–7, 140, 143 unemployment assistance, 141; disadvantages for employers of, 28, 142–3, 148 unemployment insurance: contributory, 108; control in the administration of, 17n1, 28, 107–8; Great Depression and, 16; historical overview, 106, 107; risk pool of, 107; risk redistribution and, 107. See also early retirement policies unemployment insurance (France): association participation statistics, 118–19; chambers of commerce and, 113; class conflict and, 113; compulsory insurance and, 120–1, 125, 126, 136–7; contributory insurance and, 109, 111–12, 113, 114–15; control issues and, 109, 112–13, 115; employer preferences, 113, 114, 116, 263; financing of, 111; Ghent system development and, 108, 111–19, 165; labor preferences, 111–13, 114, 116–17, 154; local/national level associations and, 110, 116–17, 118–19; overview, 107; policies preceding Ghent system, 109–11; political entrepreneurs and, 109, 113–14; preexisting policies and, 109–10, 115–16; preexisting policies survey, 109–10; size of firms and, 117–18; strategic cross-class alliance in support of, 109, 117 unemployment insurance (Germany): agricultural sector and, 150–1, 158; chambers of commerce role in, 141, 146; communes role in, 138–9, 140–1, 142–3, 154, 163–4; contributory policy in, 143–4, 145, 153, 154, 165; control issues, 146–7, 148–9, 154, 156, 159, 161–2, 163; cross-class alliances and, 155–8; deliberations on policy, 158–65; differences to French policy developments, 157; disparities in, 141, 142; earnings-related benefits for, 28, 147–8; employer influence in policy, 158–65; employer preferences, 140, 142–3, 144–53; financing of, 154–5, 159; Ghent policies in, 46, 107, 138, 139; Ghent policy rejection, 140, 143, 148, 154, 164; labor exchanges and, 158–9, 161, 163; labor influence in policy, 158–65; labor preferences of, 140, 141–2;

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-53477-2 - The Politics of Social Risk: Business and Welfare State Development
Isabela Mares
Index
More information

means-tested policy of, 138–44, 154, 163–4, 253–4; overview, 107, 138; preexisting private policies and, 139–40; records of deliberations, 144–5; risk of unemployment and, 149–51, 152–3; risk pool of, 149–50, 160–1; risk redistribution and, 147, 150–2, 162–3; sickness insurance funds and, 158, 159, 160; size of firms and, 145–9, 152–3; skill formation and, 145–6, 147–8; small firms and, 149; strategic cross-class alliances and, 154–8, 164–5; willingness to work, 148–9, 160, 162; World War I effects on, 140–2
Union of Economic Interests (France), 135
Union of Metallurgical and Mining Industries (France): compulsory social insurance and, 122–3, 125, 127, 133, 134, 198, 201, 228; employer-administered social policies and, 26, 254
United Kingdom: accident risk and social policy, 258–9; Beveridge reforms (Britain), 15, 166, 167, 188; employer social policy preferences in, 1, 264
United States: accident insurance, 258–9; agricultural policies in, 53; labor market deregulation and, 1; labor movement in, 46–7; New Deal of, 23, 42n14; product market competition regulation in, 22n5; social policy development, 250; social protection in, 22, 258; Social Security Act, 23, 47, 57
universalistic social policies: control in the administration of, 49; cross-class alliances and, 49–50, 58–9; effect on firms, 25–6; failure in Germany, 185–7, 211; financing of, 25–6; France's post-WWII social policy reform, 188, 189–90, 197–8; German labor movement and, 54; labor unions and, 49; social policy preferences of firms, 37, 265; social policy space and, 18, 19

Vanthemsche, Guy, 59, 262
Viatte, Charles, 192, 203
Villey, Edmond, 128
Vincent Report (France), 120, 121–2, 131

wage-bargaining institutions, 1; business opposition to decentralization of, 8, 9
Weir, Margaret, 52–3
"welfare capitalism," 258
welfare state retrenchment bifurcation of, 1
Wood, Stewart, 1, 2, 241, 265

Zentrum (Germany), 78, 81, 82, 83, 85, 141, 164

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org