Contents

Series Foreword page ix
Preface to Pancreatic Cancer x
Contributors xi

1. Epidemiology and genetics of pancreatic cancer
Srinivasa K. R. Prasad and Rong Zeng 1

2. Pathology of pancreatic neoplasms
Thomas C. Smyrk 10

3. Multi-detector row computed tomography (MDCT) techniques for imaging pancreatic neoplasms
Alec J. Megibow 28

4. Magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) techniques for evaluating pancreatic neoplasms
Shawyon Shadman and Vamsi R. Narra 46

5. Imaging evaluation of pancreatic ductal adenocarcinoma
Steven S. Raman and David S. K. Lu 58

6. Imaging evaluation of cystic pancreatic neoplasms
Dushyant Sahani and Onofrio A. Catalano 83

7. Imaging evaluation of pancreatic neuroendocrine neoplasms
Ruedi F. Thoeni 104

8. Role of endoscopic ultrasound in diagnosis and staging of pancreatic neoplasms
Rajesh N. Keswani and Riad R. Azar 130

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-88692-5 - Pancreatic Cancer
Edited by Jay Heiken
Table of Contents
More information

9. Surgical staging and management of pancreatic adenocarcinoma
Steven M. Strasberg 150

10. Treatment of locally advanced and metastatic pancreatic cancer
Benjamin R. Tan, Jeffrey Carenza, and Joel Picus 166

11. Rare pancreatic neoplasms and mimics of pancreatic cancer
Naoki Takahashi 175

Index 193

The plate section can be found between pages 84 and 85.

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org