List of contributors xi
Foreword – Myron L. Weisfeldt M.D. xxvii
Preface xxxi

Part I Introduction

1 A history of cardiopulmonary resuscitation 3
Mickey S. Eisenberg, Peter Baskett, and Douglas Chamberlain

2 The epidemiology of sudden death 26
Graham Nichol and David Baker

Part II Basic science

3 Global cellular ischemia/reperfusion during cardiac arrest: critical stress responses and the postresuscitation syndrome 51
Kimm Hamann, Dave Beiser, and Terry L. Vanden Hoek

4 Genetics, genomics and proteomics in sudden cardiac death 70
Lesley A. Kane, Silvia G. Priori, Carlo Napolitano, Dan E. Arking, and Jennifer E. Van Eyk

5 Intracellular signaling during myocardial ischemia 90
Peter H. Sugden

6 Electrophysiology of ventricular fibrillation and defibrillation 101
Wei Xiong and Gordon F. Tomaselli

7 The neuroendocrine response to global ischemia and reperfusion 128
Martin W. Dünser, Stefan Jochberger, Karl-Heinz Stadlbauer, and Volker Wenzel

Table of Contents
More information

8 Inflammatory and Immunologic responses to ischemia and reperfusion 163
Jason S. Haukoos, Ronald J. Korthuis, and James T. Niemann

Resuscitation research

9 Methodology of laboratory resuscitation research 179
Menekhem Zviman and Henry R. Halperin

10 The methodology of clinical resuscitation research 206
Johan Herlitz, Anouk van Alem, Volker Wenzel, and Karl Wegscheider

11 The special problem of consent for resuscitation research 216
Henry R. Halperin and Douglas Chamberlain

Part III The pathophysiology of global ischemia and reperfusion

12 The etiology of sudden death 229
Sunil K. Sinha, Arthur J. Moss, and Hugh G. Calkins

13 Global brain ischemia and reperfusion 236
Brian J. O'Neil, Robert W. Neumar, Uwe Ebmeyer, and Gary S. Krause

14 Reperfusion injury in cardiac arrest and cardiopulmonary resuscitation 282
Thomas Aversano

15 Visceral organ ischemia and reperfusion in cardiac arrest 298
Kevin R. Ward and Andreas W. Prengel

16 Mechanisms of forward flow during external chest compression 326
Henry R. Halperin

Perfusion pressures

17 Hemodynamics of cardiac arrest 347
Michael P. Frenneaux and Stig. Steen

18 Coronary perfusion pressure during cardiopulmonary resuscitation 369
Karl B. Kern, James T. Niemann, and Stig Steen

19 Methods to improve cerebral blood flow and neurological outcome after cardiac arrest 389
Uwe Ebmeyer, Laurence M. Katz, and Alan D. Guerci

20 Pharmacology of cardiac arrest and reperfusion 395
Tommaso Pellis, Jasmeet Soar, Gavin Perkins, and Raúl J. Gazmuri

21 Analysis and predictive value of the ventricular fibrillation waveform 417
Trygve Eftestøl, Hans-Ulrich Strohmenger, and Colin Robertson

22 Etiology, electrophysiology, and myocardial mechanics of pulseless electrical activity 426
Tom P. Aufderheide

Part IV Therapy of sudden death

23 Prevention of sudden cardiac death 449
Catherine Campbell, Ty J. Gluckman, Charles Henrikson, Dominique M. Ashen, and Roger S. Blumenthal

24 Sequence of therapies during resuscitation: application of CPR 463
Leonard A. Cobb

25 Transthoracic defibrillation 470
Richard E. Kerber, Charles D. Deakin, and Willis A. Tacker, Jr.

26 Automated external defbrillators 482
Rudolph W. Koster, Douglas Chamberlain, and Dianne L. Atkins

27 Public access defibrillation 496
Roger D. White, Mick Colquhoun, Carys Sian Davies, Mary Ann Peberdy, and Sergio Timerman

28 The physiology of ventilation during cardiac arrest and other low blood flow states 506
Ahamed H. Idris and Andrea Gabrielli

29 Airway techniques and airway devices 550
Jerry P. Nolan and David A. Gabbott

External chest compression: standard and alternative techniques

30 Manual cardiopulmonary resuscitation techniques 571
Henry R. Halperin and Barry K. Rayburn

31 Mechanical devices for cardiopulmonary resuscitation 585
Henry R. Halperin

32 Invasive reperfusion techniques 600
Mark G. Angelos

33 Routes of drug administration 614
Thomas Kerz, Gideon Paret, and Holger Herff

More information

Vasopressor therapy during cardiac arrest

34 Adrenergic agonists 639
Max Harry Weil, Shijie Sun, and Wanchun Tang

35 Vasopressin and other non-adrenergic vasopressors 647
Anette C. Krismer, Martin W. Dünser, Karl H. Stadlbauer, Karl H. Lindner, and Volker Wenzel

36 Antiarrhythmic therapy during cardiac arrest and resuscitation 667
Markus Zabel, Douglas Chamberlain, Paul Dorian, Peter Kudenchuk, Edward Platia, and Hans-Richard Arntz

37 Acid–base considerations and buffer therapy 674
Gad Bar-Joseph, Fulvio Kette, Martin von Planta, and Lars Wiklund

38 Cardiac arrest resuscitation monitoring 698
Kevin R. Ward and Joseph Bisera

39 Special considerations in the therapy of non-fibrillatory cardiac arrest 725
Tom P. Aufderheide, Todd M. Larabee, and Norman A. Paradis

40 Cardiocerebral resuscitation: a new approach to out-of-hospital cardiac arrest 747
Gordon A. Ewy and Michael J. Kellum

41 Thrombolysis during resuscitation from cardiac arrest 757
Fabian Spöhr and Bernd W. Böttiger

42 Percutaneous coronary intervention (PCI) after successful reestablishment of spontaneous circulation and during cardiopulmonary resuscitation 764
Marko Noc, Bjørn Bendz, and Karl B. Kern

43 Emergency medical services systems and out-of-hospital cardiac arrest 772
Matthias Fischer, Thomas Krafft, Luis García-Castrillo Riesco, Freddy Lippert, Jerry Overton, and Iain Robertson-Steel

44 In-hospital resuscitation 782
Mary Ann Peberdy, Johan Herlitz, and Michelle Cretikos

45 Complications of CPR 792
Michael Baubin, Walter Rabl, and Robert Sebastian Hoke

46 Bringing it all together: state-of-the-art therapy for cardiac arrest 809
Max Harry Weil and Wanchun Tang

Part V Postresuscitation disease and its care

47 Postresuscitation syndrome 817
Erga L. Cerchiari

48 Prevention and therapy of postresuscitation myocardial dysfunction 829
Raúl J. Gazmuri, Max Harry Weil, Karl B. Kern, Wanchun Tang, Iyad M. Ayoub, Julieta Kolarova, and Jeejabai Radhakrishnan

49 Prevention of postresuscitation neurologic dysfunction and injury by the use of therapeutic mild hypothermia 848
Wilhelm Behringer, Stephen Bernard, Michael Holzer, Kees Polderman, Risto Roine, and Marjaana Tiainen

50 Postresuscitation neurologic prognostication and declaration of brain death 885
Romergryko G. Geocadin, Daniel F. Hanley, and Scott M. Eleff

51 Bringing it all together: brain-oriented postresuscitation critical care 902
Uwe Ebmeyer, Laurence M. Katz, Kevin R. Ward, and Robert W. Neumar

Part VI Special resuscitation circumstances

52 Prevention of sudden death in patients at risk: channelopathies and arrhythmic syndromes in the structurally normal heart 921
Alan Cheng, Gordon F. Tomaselli, and Ronald D. Berger

53 Pediatric cardiopulmonary resuscitation 937
Robert A. Berg and Vinay M. Nadkarni

54 Resuscitation in elder persons 960
Arthur B. Sanders

55 Asphyxial cardiac arrest 969
Peter Safar†, Norman A. Paradis, and Max Harry Weil

56 Hemorrhagic shock and hypovolemic cardiac arrest 994
James L. Atkins, Michael T. Handrigan, and David Burris

57 Cardiopulmonary resuscitation in hypothermic patients 1014
Peter Mair, Birgit Schwarz, Beat Walpoth, and Tom Silfvast

58 Cardiac arrest due to poisoning 1028
Kenneth Heard and Norman A. Paradis

59 Cardiac arrest during anesthesia 1043
Wolfgang Ummenhofer, Andrea Gabrielli, Quinn H. Hogan, Eldar Soreide, and Mathias Zuercher

60 Resuscitation of the pregnant patient suffering sudden cardiac death 1076
Mark Stacey and Stephen Morris

61 Drowning 1088
Joost Bierens, Robert A. Berg, Peter Morley, David Szpilman, and David S. Warner

62 Anaphylactic shock 1103
Richard Pumphrey

63 High altitude resuscitation 1118
Philip Eisenburger, Benjamin Honigman, Susan Niermeyer, Robert Roach, and Wolfgang Voelckel

64 Electrical injuries 1136
Wolfgang Lederer, Erga Cerchiari, and Norman A. Paradis

65 Rare syndromes, commotio cordis, sudden death in athletes 1148
Tommaso Pellis, Mark Link, Charles Antzelevitch, and Peter Kohl

Part VII Special issues in resuscitation

66 The ethics of resuscitation and end of life decisions 1201
Peter Baskett, Arthur B. Sanders, and Petter Andreas Steen

67 The economics of treating sudden cardiac arrest 1212
Alastair Fischer and Graham Nichol

68 Medicolegal aspects 1226
Richard Pawl

69 The near-death experience, long-term psychological outcomes and support of survivors 1244
Sam Parnia, K. Spearpoint, and P.B. Fenwick

70 CPR training 1258
Michael Shuster, Walter Kloeck, Edward R. Stapleton, Ulrik Juul Christensen, and Allan Braslow

71 Consensus development in resuscitation: the growing movement towards international emergency cardiovascular care guidelines 1278
Jerry P. Nolan, Douglas Chamberlain, William H. Montgomery, and Vinay M. Nadkarni
