CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-47678-2 - The Object of Literature
Pierre Macherey
Table of Contents
More information

Contents

Foreword by Michael Sprinker page ix
Bibliographical note xiv

1. What is literature thinking about? 1

PART I ROADS TO HISTORY 11

2. A cosmopolitan imaginary: the literary thought of Mme de Staël 13
3. George Sand's Spiridion: a pantheist novel 38
4. The Hegelian musings of Raymond Queneau 57

PART II INTO THE DEPTHS 85

5. On Victor Hugo: figures of the man from below 87
6. Georges Bataille: materialism inverted 112
7. A rhetoric of abysses: Céline's magic metro 132

PART III ALL MUST PASS AWAY 145

8. Sade and the order of disorder 147
9. Flaubert's non-realism 178
10. Foucault reads Roussel: literature as philosophy 211
11. Towards a literary philosophy 228

Index 239

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org