

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11339-7 - Spatial Policy Problems of the British Economy

Edited by Michael Chisholm and Gerald Manners

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

List of tables	page vii
List of figures	ix
Preface	xi
1 Geographical space: a new dimension of public concern and policy
MICHAEL CHISHOLM AND GERALD MANNERS	1
2 Employment mobility in Britain
DAVID KEEBLE, Lecturer in Geography, University of Cambridge	24
3 Leads and lags in inter-regional systems: a study of the cyclic fluctuations in the South West economy
PETER HAGGETT, Professor of Urban and Regional Geography, University of Bristol	69
4 Spatial structure of metropolitan England and Wales
PETER HALL, Professor of Geography, University of Reading	96
5 Poverty and the urban system
RAYMOND PAHL, Senior Lecturer in Sociology, University of Kent at Canterbury	126
6 Some economic and spatial characteristics of the British energy market
GERALD MANNERS, Reader in Geography, University College London	146
7 Growth, technical change and planning problems in heavy industry with special reference to the chemical industry
KENNETH WARREN, Lecturer in Geography, University of Oxford	180
8 Freight transport costs, industrial location and regional development
MICHAEL CHISHOLM, Reader in Geography, University of Bristol	213
Index	245