Contents

Figures                              page vii
Tables                                viii
Contributors                          ix
Acknowledgments                       xiii

Introduction: Communion in social comparison – Back to the roots  1
Zlatan Križan & Frederick X. Gibbons

PART I. CORE CONSIDERATIONS

1. Agency and communion in social comparisons  11
Kenneth D. Locke

2. Social comparison in identity theory  39
Jan E. Stets & Peter J. Burke

3. When comparisons divide: Invidious emotions and their social control  60
Zlatan Križan & Richard H. Smith

PART II. INDIVIDUAL LEVEL

4. Sparing others through social comparison  95
Anne L. Zell & Julie Juola Exline

5. Social comparisons within romantic relationships  120
Penelope Lockwood & Rebecca T. Pinkus

PART III. GROUP LEVEL

6. Prototype-based social comparisons within groups:
Constructing social identity to reduce self-uncertainty  145
Michael A. Hogg & Amber M. Gaffney
7. Bonding, hiding, and promoting: Three reactions to shared threat
   Hart Blanton, Melissa Burkley, & Edward Burkley

   PART IV. SOCIOCULTURAL LEVEL

8. Basic principles of social comparison: Does gender matter?
   Serge Guimond & Armand Chatard

9. Culture and self-worth: Implications for social comparison processes and coping with threats to self-worth
   Joni Y. Sasaki, Deborah M. Ko, & Heejung S. Kim

Index