

Index

References marked with square brackets [] are to the Introduction; references in bold are to the discussion passages; all other references are to the notes.

Aeneas

absolved from fall of Troy [37], 2.287–97, 2.589–603, and Ascanius 1.643–56, and Creusa [44], 2.735–51, 2.752–70, 2.790–804, and Hector 2.287–97, and suffering [42], 1.464–78, and Venus [42], 1.380–6, 1.408, 1.402–9, 2.567–88, 2.589–603, as commentator on his actions 2.298–317, 2.336, 2.355–69, 2.413–34, 2.434–52, as exile [30], [32], as leader [40], 1.180–6, 1.198–207, 1.305–13, 1.551–8, 1.594–612, 2.268–86, 2.336–54, 2.453–68, 2.790–804, as warrior 2.298–317, 2.336–54, 2.650–70, burden of responsibility [41], 2.692–704, 2.721–34, character summary [39–44], concern for Anchises 2.634–49, 2.650–70, courage [43], fear 2.721–34, furor and ira [43], 2.298–317, 2.589–603, guilt at Creusa's loss 2.738, 2.735–51, 2.752–70, 2.790, 2.790–804, heroism [38], [43–4], 1.92–101, 1.196, 1.479–93, 2.287–97, 2.298–317, 2.336–54, 2.413–34, 2.790–804, hope 1.453–63, 1.479–93, ignorant of fate 1.254–66, 2.771–89, in early epic [24], 2.287–97, in Homer 2.544–58, in Naevius [18], like Dido 1.335–42, 1.365–71, 1.441–52, links with Dido 1.631–42, men's attitude to 1.534–50, 1.551–58, myth hostile to? [34], 2.402–12, obedient to fate [44], pietās [39–40], 1.10, 1.8–11, 1.29–33, 1.372–9, 2.287–97, 2.326, 2.635–9, 2.705–20, puts mission at risk? [43], 2.336–54, 2.544–58, 2.589–603, 2.735–51, role in Trojan horse episode 2.5, 2.31–9, 2.105–13, sorrow/despair/sympathy/ sense of unfairness [43], 1.92–101, 1.208–15, 1.216–22, 1.452, 1.453–63, 1.479–93, 2.1–13, 2.180–98, 2.199–200, 2.214–19, 2.257, 2.355–69, 2.402–12, 2.456, 2.491–505, 2.506–25, 2.544–58, Stoic? [41], [43], struggle [50], 1.33, 1.453–63, 2.771–89, trust in Creusa 2.705–20, use of trickery? 2.386–401, used as Virgil's mouthpiece? [35], [43], 2.250–67, 2.469–90, 2.491–505, 2.506–25, 2.528, words and action [41], 1.216–22, 2.1–13, 2.705–20

Aeneid

as tragedy [35], 1.289–96, 1.712–22, 2.50–6, 2.228–40, 2.241–9, 2.506–25, 2.544–58, Augustus in [28–9], gods in [46–9], historicised [23], integrating Aeneas and Romulus [18], 1.267–77, purpose [10], [23], Romanised [23], 1.208–15, 1.283, 1.278–88, 1.426, 1.429, 1.418–29, 1.505–19, 1.700, 1.724, unfinished lines [8] and footnote, 1.534, 1.560, 2.66, 2.233, 2.346, 2.468, 2.614, 2.623, 2.640, 2.720, 2.767, 2.787

Ajax (son of Oileus)

rapes Cassandra 1.41, 2.402–12, 2.403, 2.506–25

alliteration/sound effects/word position

1.50–7, 1.81–91, 1.108–23, 1.124–31, 2.9, 2.13, 2.26, 2.53, 2.58, 2.68–9, 2.84, 2.85, 2.116, 2.227, 2.243, 2.245, 2.255, 2.325, 2.479, 2.784, 2.771–89

anachronism

[23], 1.148–56, 1.213, 1.373, 1.418–29, 1.449, 1.507, 1.505–19, 1.695–711, 1.723–35, 1.736–47, 2.148, 2.157, 2.145–61, 2.174, 2.162–79, 2.228–40, 2.242, 2.244, 2.320, 2.351, 2.403, 2.441, 2.504, 2.512, 2.528

Anchises

admits wrong 2.692–704, injury 2.648, refusal to leave Ilium 2.634–49, 2.650–70, responds to miracle 2.671–91

Antenor

[34] 1.1, 1.242, 1.242–53, 1.601

Apollonius of Rhodes

[10] and footnote, 1.297–304, 1.736–47

Ascanius/Iulus

1.278–88, 1.643–56, miracle 2.671–91

Augustus

and Aeneid [28–9], and Carthage [28], family line [23], 1.267–77, gēns Iūlia 2.788, interest in Virgil [6], Julian star 2.692–704, laurel tree 2.513, praise of [10], [24], [28–9], 1.267–77, 1.289–96

Carthage

destruction 1.20, fierce people 1.297–304, history 1.12, 1.12–18, 1.444, in Aeneid [25–6], [30], [32], in Naevius and Ennius [17–20], Punic wars [11], Romanised 1.418–29

Cassandra

1.41, 2.246, 2.402–12, 2.403

chiasmus

1.209, 1.291, 1.716, 1.750, 2.13, 2.196

Creusa

ghost and prophecy 2.771–89, lost [44], 2.711, 2.735–51, mutual feelings with Aeneas 2.777, 2.784, 2.790–804, supplicates Aeneas 2.671–91

Dido

admiration for Aeneas 1.613–30, and Carthage [30–2], 1.418–29, 1.441–52, developing Carthage with Trojans 1.559–78, 1.613–30, exile 1.335–42, falling in love with Aeneas 1.695–711, 1.712–22, 1.748–56, father 1.621, in Naevius [17], like Artemis 1.494–504, links with Aeneas 1.631–42, name 1.299, strong leader 1.353–64, sympathy for 1.657–76, understands Roman language of duties 1.559–78, Virgil's invention [24], 1.657–76

ecphrasis

1.159, 1.456

Ennius' Annālēs [20–1], [25], 1.255*etymology*

[51], 1.22, 1.73, 1.208, 1.261, 1.559–78, 1.566, 1.662, 1.704, 2.54, 2.171, 2.777

fate

and Dido 1.297–304, and Rome 1.254–66, 1.278–88, and will of Jupiter [50], 1.254–66, 1.278–88, as process [50], 'objective' [50]

focalisation

[36], 1.470, 1.483, 1.486, 1.479–93, 2.250–67, 2.355–69

gods

altars 2.506–25, angry? 1.8–11, appearing to humans 1.314–24, augury 2.692–704, cruel? 1.297–304, divine signs 2.692–704, 'double determination' 2.50–6, in epic [46], like humans [47], mysterious 2.604–23, power-sharing 1.139, praying to 1.325–34, 2.406, 2.692–704, readers'/characters' knowledge of 1.198–207, 2.228–40, responsible for destroying Troy 2.589–603, terrifying [47], trivialised? 1.76–80, 1.132–41

Greeks

cowards 2.250–67, 2.386–401, desperate 2.14, 2.13–20, treacherous 2.57–66, 2.180–98, 2.298–317

Helen of Troy

[16], [34], 1.643–56, 2.310, 2.567–88

hendiadys

1.61, 1.293, 1.504, 2.20, 2.116, 2.152, 2.265, 2.296, 2.470, 2.504, 2.534, 2.722

hexameter

articulation 1.78, 1.94

Homer

Iliad and Odyssey [16], gods in [46–7], used by Virgil [10], [23], [33], 1.50–7, 1.71–5, 1.92–101, 1.157–69, 1.187–97, 1.372–9, 1.401–7, 1.494–504, 1.736–47, 1.748–56, 2.298–317, 2.336–54, 2.355, 2.355–69, 2.413–34, 2.456, 2.453–68, 2.491–505, 2.526–43

hypallage

1.101, 1.293, 2.576, 2.714, 2.780

irony

[35], 1.198–207, 1.387–401, 1.520–33, 1.573, 1.631, 1.677–94, 1.723–35, 2.67–75, 2.194, 2.228–40, 2.241–9, 2.761

Juno

and Carthage [32], 1.12–18, blames fate for Aeneas' arrival in Italy 1.34–41, encourages Greeks against Trojans 2.612, hates Trojans 1.42–9, liar 1.76–80, vengeful, 1.19–28

Jupiter

destroys Ilium 2.604–23, helps Trojans 2.624–33, 2.692–704, mastery 1.223–33, national Roman god [27], not authoritative [48], plans for Rome [27], 1.254–66, 1.267–77, 1.278–88, 1.289–96

Laocoon

and Panthus 2.318, as priest 2.40–9, awareness of Greek characteristics 2.44, 2.48, 2.40–9, children 2.40–9, 'criminal' 2.228–9, death 2.209–27

Maecenas

woos Virgil [13]

metrical effects

1.50–7, 1.99, 1.105, 1.108–23, 1.269, 1.617, 2.9, 2.13, 2.26, 2.58, 2.68, 2.69, 2.67–75, 2.227, 2.237, 2.245, 2.255, 2.380, 2.414, 2.479, 2.506–25, 2.731

Minerva

aids destruction of Troy 2.615, and snakes (?) 2.209–27, 2.228–40, Palladium 2.162–79, wooden horse 2.15

Naevius

[17–19], [25–7]

Neptune

calms seas 1.124–31, 1.132–41, 1.142–7, uproots Troy 2.610

penātēs

1.6, 1.68, 2.297, 2.287–97, 2.318–35, 2.508, 2.506–25

pietās

[39]

Priam

and Hector 1.483, 2.541–3, and Pompey 2.544–58, anger at death of Polites [43], death 2.506–25, 2.526–43, 2.544–58, epitome of suffering 1.479–93, 2.22, his death the climax of fall of Troy 2.544–58, king of Troy [16], tragic figure [28], [35–6], 2.22, 2.491–505

Pyrrhus/Neoptolemus (son of Achilles)

epitome of the goddess Greek 2.526–43, 2.544–58, snake-like 2.469–90

rhetoric

1.198–207, 1.234–41, 1.242–53, 1.520–33, 1.594–612, 1.657–76, 2.354, 2.355–69

Rome

end of republic [12], 1.148–56, 1.289–96, future of in Aeneid [28–9], [32], 1.234–41, 1.254–66, 1.278–88, 2.491–505, 2.692–704, immigration/mixed-race Romans [32], 1.29–33, 1.559–78, 1.613–30, 2.711, rise [11], will take revenge for Trojan war [18], 1.278–88, 2.194

Servius

Life of Virgil [1–10], [51]

simile

1.148–56, 1.430–40, 1.494–504, 2.209–27, 2.298–317, 2.355–69, 2.413–34, 2.453–68, 2.491–505, 2.506–25

Sinon

acting/story-telling 2.71, 2.67–75, 2.114–21, 2.122–31, 2.162–79, combines truth and falsehood 2.77–87, 2.122–31, 2.162–79, creating dependency 2.67–75, 2.145–61, honourable 2.88–96, 2.180–98, inconsistencies in story 2.132–44, 2.162–79, 2.180–98, innocent victim 2.97–104, 2.122–31, name 2.79–80, takes oath 2.145–61, tells truth 2.77–87, 2.180–98, treacherous 2.57–66, young 2.57–66

stoicism

and Aeneas [41], [43], and gods [50]

style

common vocabulary [9] and footnote, [50], 1.462, 1.464, 1.676, lack of subordination 1.685, repeating ideas 1.441–52, 2.132–44, subjective/objective 1.208–15, 1.712–22

synecdoche

2.23

Trojans in Ilium

gullible 2.180–98, history of 2.643, reasonable people 2.31–9

Trojan war

sources [33], 2.198, Appendix

Ulysses

wooden horse his idea 2.15

Venus

and Dido [30], [32], 1.657–76, blames gods for Troy's fall 2.589–603, cruelty to Dido 1.657–76, 1.677–94, Cytherean 1.257, fears for Trojans 1.234–41, 1.657–76, flatterer 1.223–33, helps Aeneas 1.579–93, in disguise 1.314–24, in Naevius [19], liar 1.251, promises aid to Aeneas 2.604–23, unfeeling treatment of Aeneas 1.387–401, 1.402–9

Virgil

and the numinous 1.157–69, compositional technique [3–4], 1.223–33, critics [9], date of Aeneid [18], death [7–8], early epic plans [15], health [1], hopes for Augustus [14], land/history/nation theme 1.92–101, 1.170–9, praise of Augustus [10], [24], [28–9], recitation [5], retiring nature [2], Roman Homer [24], Servius' life [1–9], subverting Rome? [28], use of early epic [17–22], [25–7], use of gods [48–9]

wooden horse

image 2.20, 2.13–20, 2.46, 2.49, immovable 2.236, size 2.150, 2.180–98 (cf. 2.250–67)