CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-18017-7 - Historical Understanding in Geography: An Idealist Approach
Leonard Guelke
Index
More information

Index

Abstract worlds, 17
academic historical geography, 6 antiquarian, 5
anthropological study, 13

behavioural geography, 14–5 Billinge, M., 14, 16

causal explanations, 43, 46 cause, 44, 46–7, 57, 59 cause, in history and natural science, 42–4 Christaller, W., 60
chronicler, 5
class, in history, 34, 63
Collingwood, R.G., 1, 12, 16, 20, 39–46, 48–9, 51–2, 66 conjecture and refutation, 26 conventions, 27
Clark, A.H., 6, 10–11, 17, 21 criticism, in rational understanding, 31–2 Croce, B., 16
cross-section, in historical geography, 7–10 cultural change, 9
cultural heritage, 19
cultural landscape, 8–10, 9, 12 culture, 8–9, 12, 101

Darby, H.C., 6, 9–10, 17, 21 deductive–nomological explanation, 55–6 distance, as geographical factor, 101 Dray, W., 58

economic rationality, 38 emotions, 2, 39
empathy, 2, 39
empirical approaches, in geography, 100–2 environmental determinism, 100 environmental ideas, 2, 14
Ernst, J.M., 16

Evans-Pritchard, E.E., 27 event, inside and outside of, 25 evidence, 20, 35, 50, 51 evidence, critical assessment of, 39, 52 evidence, historical, 43 explanation, committed and uncommitted, 65
'explanation sketches', 57 facts, selection of, 5, 10, 12, 15–16, 19, 20 forms of life, 2–3, 27, 59, 99, 102 Freud, S., 45

geographical change, 11, 19–20, 25 geographical intellectual history, 14 geographical knowledge, 3, 14 geographical processes, 9 geography, differentiated from history, 7–8 geosophy, 14
general laws, lack of, 58
Glacken, C., 14
Goldstein, L.G., 40
Gregory, D., 16–7

Harris, R. C., 15
Hartshorne, R., 6–11, 21, 55, 100
Harvey, D., 6, 63–5
Hempel, C., 56–7, 61
historian, interests of, 47 historic event, 5, 17–19, 20, 46 historic past, 8, 10, 13, 17, 19 historic change, 8, 20, 22 historical change, as a dialectical process, 47 historical evidence, 43 historical evidence, misinterpretation of, 90 historical explanation, natural-scientific form of, 55–6 historical geographer, task of, 47 historical geographical analysis, as elucidation of meaning, 67

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-18017-7 - Historical Understanding in Geography: An Idealist Approach
Leonard Guelke
Index
More information

historical geography, as analysis of geographical processes, 9 historical geography, as foundation of regional geography, 101–2 historical geography, as an interdisciplinary field, 11 historical geography, as a spectacle, 10 historical geography, definition of, 3–4 historical geography, differentiated from history, 7–8, 47–8 historical inference, 2 historical knowledge, 1, 3, 16, 34, 45 historical materialism, 61–6 historical materialism, as a philosophy, 63 historical materialism, 'weak' formulation, 61–2 historical meaning, see meaning, historical historical meaning, criterion of, 46, 52, 59 historical narrative, 15, 19 historical process, 12, 14, 17, 18 historical scepticism, 52 historical scholar, essential task of, historical scholar, privileged position of, 2 historical significance, 1, 5, 15, 20, 45–6, 51, 53 historical understanding, as elucidation of meaning, 41–2, 45 historical understanding, in geography, 2–3 historical understanding, as re-enactment of thought, 2 historicity, criterion of, 18, 53 history, as an autonomous field of knowledge, 1, 21 history, as elucidation of meaning, 66–7, 68 history, as a full account of change, 18 history, as a law-applying science, 58 history, differentiated from geography, 7–8 history, discipline of, 11, 12, 14 history, natural-scientific concept of, 53 history, not a synonym for the past, 3, 5 history, temporal concept of, 6, 8–12, 15–16, 21 history, 'total', 13
human activity, as reflection of mind, 3 human geography, definition of, 3, 99–102 human settlement, 102
'humanistic' geography, 14, 15, 21 hypotheses, ad-hoc, 28, 63

idealism, 16–18, 99
idealism, philosophy of, 2, 53 ideologies, 61, 64
institutions, 18, 27
interdisciplinary study, 13
irrational, 38–9, 44

judgement, in history, 15–16 judgement, subjectivity in, 15–16

Kant, I., 6–7
knowledge, geographers contribution to, 99 landscape, 99

landscape, see cultural landscape laws, 9, 17–18, 41
law, confirmation and acceptance of, 57 laws, criteria of universality, 55–9 laws, probabilistic, 57–8 laws, role in objective explanation, 49 laws, in scientific explanation, 57–9
Lehr, J. C., 17
Lösch, 60

Marx, as foundation of theoretical history, 62–3
Marxism, original formulation, 62
Marxism, structuralist interpretation, 63 Marxist approaches, 61–6 meaning, historical, 16, 26, 41–2, 44–6, 48, 51–2 Merrens, H. R., 76
mind, independence of, 1 mind, theory of, 49
mind, subconscious, 44–5 Mink, L. O., 42–3 models, in historical geography, 13 models, role in explanation, 59–60 quantitative analysis, 67 question and answer, 48–9 questions, in historical enquiry, 48–9 rational action, 38 rational understanding, 29–34 rational thought, nature of, 26–9 re-enactment, see re-thinking real, the, 17

regional geography, 101–2 re-thinking, 46–7, 48–50, 53 re-thinking, as foundation of historical fields, 2 re-thinking, as imaginative understanding, 30, 39–40

Sauer, C. O., 6, 8, 10, 21, 48 scale of enquiry, 67, 102 science, use of results in historical enquiry, 43 scientific approach, in historical geography, 13 scientific explanation, 55 sciences, law-applying, 56–7 scientific methods, 66–8 scientific procedures, in study of natural world, 1 selection, see facts, selection of significance, criterion of in historical geography, 3 social sciences, 1, 13–14, 43, 61 social science, undeveloped state of, 58 social theory, 28–9, 43

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-18017-7 - Historical Understanding in Geography: An Idealist Approach
Leonard Guelke
Index
More information

sociological study, 13
space, 7, 11, 16
spatial geography, 100–1 spatial relations, 11
statistical associations, 67
Strabo, 99
structuralism, 16
sympathy, 39
synthesis, in historical geography, 15 subconscious, the, 44–5 subjectivity, in explanation, 49

Taylor, G., 63
theoretical approaches to history, 17; problems with, 90–1 theoretical bias, 61, 65 theoretical geography, 13–14, 60, 100 theoretical history, 16–7 theoretical knowledge, nature of, 26–8 theoretical models, 59 theories, 13, 40–1, 45, 48, 53, 55–7, 61–6, 68–9 theory, in historical geography, 13, 21 theory, in historical understanding theory, revolutionary and counter-revolutionary, 64 theoryless explanation, 40–1
Thompson, E. P., 62
Thünen, Von, 59–60
time, 7, 9–11, 16, 51
'total' history, 13
truth, 21, 27, 65
Tuan, Y-F., 14

unconscious motivations, 44–5 unified science, 57
uniqueness, 27, 31, 56, 59, 101

verification, in history and science, 35–6
'vertical' themes, 10–11

Watts, S. J. and Watts, S. J., 50 world view, 47, 52
Wright, J. K., 6, 14–15, 17, 48

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org