

Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-24330-8 - The Cambridge History of China: Volume 5: Part Two: Sung China, 960–1279 Edited by John W. Chaffee And Denis Twitchett Table of Contents More information

CONTENTS

	List of tables and figures	page x1
	List of maps	xii
	List of abbreviations	xiii
	Preface	xv
	Introduction: reflections on the Sung by John W. Chaffee, Binghamton University, State University of New York	I
	A weak dynasty?	2
	Economic dynamism	3
	Assertions of authority	7
	Sung Confucianism	10
	Elites and their output	12
	A religious society	15
	The Sung in Chinese history	16
Ι	Sung government and politics by Charles Hartman, University at Albany, State University of New York	19
	Introduction	19
	A bibliographic prelude	24
	The unfinished character of the Sung state	27
	The literatus as civil servant	32
	Literati ideas about government	35
	The literati character of Sung government	43
	The civil service system	49
	The Sung monarchy	80
	Government decision making	II2

Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-24330-8 - The Cambridge History of China: Volume 5: Part Two: Sung China, 960–1279 Edited by John W. Chaffee And Denis Twitchett Table of Contents

More information

viii	CONTENTS
2	The Sung fiscal administration by Peter J. Golas, University of Denver	139
	Introduction	139
	Agriculture and the countryside	158
	Labor service	167
	Cities, commercial taxes, and monopolies	175
	Disbursements	192
	The monetary system	207
	Conclusion	211
3	A history of the Sung military by Wang Tseng-Yü, Academy of Social Sciences, Beijing	214
	The organization of the military in the early Sung	214
	The military history of the Northern Sung	220
	Weapons, logistics, and technology	233
	The military history of the Southern Sung	238
4	Chinese law and legal system: Five Dynasties and Sung by Brian McKnight, University of Arizona	250
	Introduction	250
	Five Dynasties law	250
	The Sung legal system	253
	Conclusion	283
5	Sung education: schools, academies, and examinations by John W. Chaffee, Binghamton University, State University of New York	286
	Introduction	286
	Methods of recruitment	287
	Early Sung developments	288
	The Ch'ing-li reforms	293
	Policy debates: quotas and curriculum	295
	Wang An-shih's reforms	298
	The Three Hall System	300
	The early Southern Sung: survival and reconstruction	305
	Southern Sung government schooling	305
	The academy movement	309
	Examinations in the Southern Sung	312
	Conclusion: the Sung educational order	318

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-24330-8 - The Cambridge History of China: Volume 5: Part Two: Sung China, 960-1279 Edited by John W. Chaffee And Denis Twitchett

Table of Contents

More information

by Joseph P. McDermott, Cambridge University, and Shiba Yoshinobu, Toyo Bunko Introduction Late Tang to early Sung (742–1080) Middle Sung (1080–1162) Late Sung (1163–1276) 7 China's emergence as a maritime power by Angela Schottenhammer, Salzburg University Introduction Political and economic background Sea routes and maritime accounts Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion 8 Sung society and social change by Robert Hymes, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		CONTENTS	ix
Late T'ang to early Sung (742–1080) Middle Sung (1080–1162) Late Sung (1163–1276) 7 China's emergence as a maritime power by ANGELA SCHOTTENHAMMER, Salzburg University Introduction Political and economic background Sea routes and maritime accounts Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion 8 Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by PETER K. BOL, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669	6	by Joseph P. McDerмотт, Cambridge University, and Shiba	321
Middle Sung (1080–1162) Late Sung (1163–1276) 7 China's emergence as a maritime power by ANGELA SCHOTTENHAMMER, Salzburg University Introduction Political and economic background Sea routes and maritime accounts Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion 8 Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by PETER K. BOL, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Introduction	321
Late Sung (1163–1276) 7 China's emergence as a maritime power by ANGELA SCHOTTENHAMMER, Salzburg University Introduction Political and economic background 435 Sea routes and maritime accounts 446 Nautical and shipbuilding technology 456 The Sung navy 457 Official administration of maritime trade 466 Exchange of commodities 499 Conclusion 522 8 Sung society and social change 526 By ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction 526 Printing and reading 547 Women and gender 568 Religion 599 Elites, locality, and the state 621 Conclusion 665 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung 59 By PETER K. Bol., Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 666		Late T'ang to early Sung (742–1080)	326
7 China's emergence as a maritime power by Angela Schottenhammer, Salzburg University Introduction Political and economic background Sea routes and maritime accounts Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion 8 Sung society and social change by Robert Hymes, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol., Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Middle Sung (1080–1162)	385
by Angela Schottenhammer, Salzburg University Introduction Political and economic background Sea routes and maritime accounts Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion Sung society and social change by Robert Hymes, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Late Sung (1163–1276)	409
Introduction 435 Political and economic background 436 Sea routes and maritime accounts 446 Nautical and shipbuilding technology 456 The Sung navy 452 Official administration of maritime trade 466 Exchange of commodities 495 Conclusion 522 8 Sung society and social change 526 by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University 526 Introduction 526 Printing and reading 547 Women and gender 568 Religion 599 Elites, locality, and the state 621 Conclusion 661 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung 547 by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University 669 The Sung intellectual legacy 669	7	China's emergence as a maritime power	437
Political and economic background Sea routes and maritime accounts Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by PETER K. BOL, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		by Angela Schottenhammer, Salzburg University
Sea routes and maritime accounts Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Introduction	437
Nautical and shipbuilding technology The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion 8 Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by PETER K. BOL, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Political and economic background	439
The Sung navy Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by PETER K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Sea routes and maritime accounts	440
Official administration of maritime trade Exchange of commodities Conclusion 8 Sung society and social change by Robert Hymes, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 466 467 4		Nautical and shipbuilding technology	450
Exchange of commodities Conclusion 8 Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by PETER K. BOL, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 520 520 521 522 523 523 524 526 526 527 528 529 529 520 520 520 520 520 520 520 520 520 520		The Sung navy	454
Conclusion 523 8 Sung society and social change by Robert Hymes, Columbia University Introduction 526 Printing and reading 542 Women and gender 568 Religion 599 Elites, locality, and the state 629 Conclusion 669 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung 569 by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University 669 The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Official administration of maritime trade	460
8 Sung society and social change by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by PETER K. BOL, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 526 526 527 528 528 529 529 520 520 520 520 520 520 520 520 520 520		Exchange of commodities	491
by ROBERT HYMES, Columbia University Introduction 520 Printing and reading 542 Women and gender 568 Religion 599 Elites, locality, and the state 621 Conclusion 661 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung 669 by PETER K. BOL, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Conclusion	523
Introduction 526 Printing and reading 542 Women and gender 568 Religion 599 Elites, locality, and the state 622 Conclusion 663 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung 669 by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669	8	Sung society and social change	526
Printing and reading Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy		by Robert Hymes, Columbia University
Women and gender Religion Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 661 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 665		Introduction	526
Religion 599 Elites, locality, and the state 622 Conclusion 663 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung 669 by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Printing and reading	542
Elites, locality, and the state Conclusion 62: Conclusion 66: 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 66:		Women and gender	568
Conclusion 66s 9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung 66s by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 66s		Religion	595
9 Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Elites, locality, and the state	621 and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669		Conclusion	661 and Southern Sung by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669	9	Reconceptualizing the order of things in Northern by Peter K. Bol, Harvard University The Sung intellectual legacy 669			665
- · ·
Culture and ideology, 960–1030 670		The Sung intellectual legacy	665
		Culture and ideology, 960–1030	670
From learning to politics: the Fan Chung-yen faction 672 The search for coherent systems and methods in the			674
•		•	681
,		·	708
		-	721

X

Index

Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-24330-8 - The Cambridge History of China: Volume 5: Part Two: Sung China, 960–1279 Edited by John W. Chaffee And Denis Twitchett Table of Contents More information

CONTENTS

10	The rise of the Tao-hsüeh Confucian fellowship in Southern Sung
	by HOYT CLEVELAND TILLMAN. Arizona State University

by Hoyt Cleveland Tillman, Arizona State U	Iniversity
The first period, 1127–1162	732
The second period, 1163–1181	737
The third period, 1182–1202	759
The fourth period, 1202–1279	781
Conclusion	788
Bibliography	791

727

885