Index

abortion, 4, 5, 38, 71, 151; availability of, 18, 36–7, 39, 131, 149; legalization of, 4, 48, 70–1, 89; rates of, 36–7, 37f academic ability, 50–1, 62, 108 academic achievement: children of teenage mothers, 104; see also school performance academic domain, 110, 111; see also schooling academic problems: low birth weight and, 89 academic success (children of teenage mothers), 109, 115–16, 116t, 121, 122, 125, 126, 128, 129, 144; see also school performance additional childbearing, 36t, 64, 72; birth control use and, 65–6; consequences of, 71; and economic status, 55–6, 57, 61, 138; see also pregnancy(ies), repeat adolescence, 9
adolescent fertility: outside marriage, 6; public policy and, 19–20; by race, 2–3t adolescent motherhood: as experienced by children, 77–105 adolescent mothers: characteristics of, 54–7; costs to, 133; goal of, for their children, 104–5; life connections with children, 122–7, 124f; and newborns, 111–12; profile of, 19, 21–47; see also life course adolescent outcomes: children of teenage mothers, 78, 81, 110, 115–19, 122, 125, 126, 128, 144 adolescent parenthood: reassessment of, 1–20 adolescents: and social services, 146–7, 149 adoptive background, 89 adult education, 153; see also post-high school education adulthood: conditions affecting adaptation of early childbearers in, 5, 19, 48–76; pathways to success in, 48–76; teenage mothers’ experiences in, 18–19, 21–47, 48–76 AFDC, 40, 138–9, 145
age: at first birth, 1; at first intercourse, 54; at marriage, 1, 4–5; at pregnancy, 54, 102–3, 136 age-appropriate behavior, 5 age-parity cohort (Baltimore study), 48–9 Alan Guttmacher Institute, 5, 151 ameliorative policy programs, 145–9, 152, 153 antisocial acts: children of teenage mothers, 78, 97–8; see also juvenile delinquency Appar score, 90, 111–12 attitudes: and economic status, 54, 60; about family size, 60–1; and life course, 136; toward pregnancy, 54, 89; about welfare, 61 baby boom, 1
Baltimore: City Health Department, 17
Baltimore study, 10–21, 130–1, 152; analysis of sample attrition for bias, 161–2; data sets used for comparison, 163–6; design of, 12t; five-year follow-up, 11, 13, 16, 21, 25, 30, 34, 35, 40, 47, 53, 78, 84, 87, 112–15, 131; generalizability of, 18, 19, 131; initial phase, 11; methods and procedures, 167–70; multivariate analysis, 171–83; origins of, 11–13; policy implications of, 145–52; procedure for computing summary statistics, 184–6; reliability of demographic variables in, 15–16, 158–60; representativeness of, 16–18, 130–1; 17-year follow-up, 13–20, 22, 33, 35, 46–7, 48, 50–1, 57, 61, 70–4, 78, 87–8, 107, 130, 132, 143, 145–6; strategy for data analysis, 49–50
Bane, M. J., 40
behavior/misbehavior: children of teenage mothers, 15, 93, 94t, 96–8, 99t, 104, 109, 114–15, 116–18, 117t, 121, 122, 125–6, 127–8, 129, 142–3, 144, 145, 172–3; low birth weight and, 89 behavioral domain, 110, 111 birth control, 36, 39; attitudes toward, 54 birth control information: given by mothers, 101–2, 103–4 birth control use, 137; barriers to, 151; by children of teenage mothers, 95, 101–2, 116; and economic status, 54, 55–6, 65–6, 66f, 68, 138, 140; and family size, 73; and fer-birth control (cont.)
utility, 71; teens' difficulties with, 35, 37, 38, 149 birth spacing: see spacing of children birth weight, 89, 90, 111–12
black family, 5, 87, 126
black urban males, 152–3; as marriage prospects, 31–2; unemployment, 95 black women: socioeconomic variables, 29, 47 blacks, 18, 130–1, 142–3; economic status, 53–4; marriage rates, 32; out-of-wedlock births, 4; and social context of early childbearing, 150; status attainment by, 51; use of sterilization, 37–8, 38t Blau, P. M., 50, 51
Bloom, B. S., 109
Caldwell Preschool Inventory, 91–2, 96, 112, 113–14, 121–2, 125, 126, 143, 144, 172, 173
Cammell, Arthur, 6, 7, 9 career contingencies, 19, 49, 62–3; and child outcomes, 145; and economic status, 75 caregivers, 127; see also child care; primary caregivers caregiving, shared, 83–4, 141–2 case histories, 23–5, 24f, 33 case histories: children, 80f; Claudia, 80, 81, 85, 90, 91, 96, 103, 114, 116; Randell, 79, 81, 83, 85, 89, 91, 96, 114, 115–16; Tyro- rone, 79–80, 81, 85, 90, 91, 96, 101 case histories: Doris (Randall), 79, 81, 83; economic status, 41; employment experience, 43; fertility, 35, 38–9; income, 45, 46; life history, 23, 25; pregnancy, 89 case histories: Helena (Claudina), 80, 81; employment experience, 43–4; income, 45, 46; life history, 25; marital history, 31; pregnancy, 90 case histories: Iris (Tyro)ne), 79–90, 81; economic status, 40–1; employment experience, 43; income, 45; life history, 23–4, 25; residential experience, 33; pregnancy, 89–90 Center for Human Resource Research, 165
cesarean section, 90
change, long-term, 10
child abuse, 77
child care, 40, 74, 82, 141; arrangements for, 21, 77, 79, 81, 83–4, 104, 141–2; shared responsibility for, 83–4, 141–2; see also primary caregiver child development, 10, 77; economic status and, 108, 109, 111–22, 116f, 117t, 125–6, 127–9; educational attainment and, 109, 112–22, 116f, 117t, 125, 126–9; effects of maternal education on, 107–8; effects of maternal life decisions on, 107, 108; fertility and, 108, 109, 112–22, 116f, 117t, 125, 127–9; and mother's life course, 108–22 child support, 44, 51
childbearing, 23; postponing, 71 (see also early/late childbearing comparison); timing of, 5, 46; see also additional childbearing; early childbearing children of teenage mothers, 8, 9, 77–105; in adolescence, 19; early childbearing by, 143; effects of early childbearing on, 8, 9–10, 77–105; effects of high fertility on, 70; interconnections between maternal life course and outcomes of, 78–9, 143–5; life course of, 141–3; life course of: intersection with mothers, 106–29; services to, 153; see also self-reports Children's Defense Fund, 150 church attendance, 54, 162
Clark, S. D., Jr., 100
cognitive ability, 50, 137; of parents, 60 cognitive development, 108, 143 cognitive functioning, 78 cohabitation relationships, 23, 31, 47, 85, 142; and family income, 88 cohort identity, 48–9, 131 Commonwealth Fund, 13
community standards, 150, 151 competence, 49, 51, 68, 147; and economic status, 55, 75; and family size, 72–3; measures of, 61–5, 62f continuity, 119–20, 143, 171–4 contraceptive services, 151; see also birth control; family-planning services coping strategies, 10
coreidence with parents, 21, 33–4, 126, 141; and child care, 83–4; and economic status, 56, 57, 70; and life course, 136 counseling, 149
courtship pattern, 4, 5
CPS: see Current Population Survey (CPS)
Cronbach's standardized-item alpha, 159 cross-sectional studies, 111–12, 144 Current Population Survey (CPS), 28, 29, 42, 163–4, 165 data analysis (Baltimore study), 49–50 day care, 18, 83 n2; see also child care decisions; see life decisions delayed gratification, 96
demographic change, 1–4 demographic variables (Baltimore study), 158–60 dependency: on family, 56, 57; on welfare, 7, 40, 42, 61, 67, 148, 153 dependency, economic, 13, 40, 46, 56, 58, 67, 147; family size and, 138; fertility and, 61, Index

128; predictors of, 134f; residential experience and, 34; schooling and, 90, 139 development: concepts of, 109, 123, 124, 125, 128; sensitivity to differences in, 153; see also child development disadvantage, 7, 8–10, 44, 47; children of teenage mothers, 8, 77; cycle of, 77, 91; in early parenthood, 8, 129; social, 8–10, 78; transmission of, 8, 10, 111 disadvantaged children: study of, 9–10 discrimination, 51, 53, 59–60 diversity, 9, 23, 45, 48–9, 50, 106; in adaptation to early childbearing, 106, 145–6; in child outcomes, 142; in economic status, 48, 49, 50–4, 75; in fertility, 49, 50, 70–4; intracohort, 135–6; in life-course trajectories, 51, 106, 133–46; in mothers’ later lives, 129; in motivation, 19, 49; see also individual differences divorce, 32, 47, 126, 132; and children of teenage mothers, 85, 86; risk of, 33
Duncan, C. I., 40
Duncan, O. D., 50, 51
early childbearing: adaptation to, 25, 47, 48–76, 130, 133, 136, 152; adverse effects of, 6–8; by children of teenage mothers, 77, 143; conditions affecting adaptation in adulthood, 19, 48–76; costs of, 133, 150, 153; cycle of, 98–100; diversity in adaptation to, 106, 145–6; and economic status, 53; effects of, 8–10, 11; and family size, 74; social context of, 150–2; successful management of, 133–4 early/late childbearing comparison, 19, 22, 75, 112, 145; academic readiness, 92; disadvantage, 133; educational attainment, 29–30; employment, 44; family dissolution, 86; fertility, 39–40; income, 46; maladjustment, misbehavior of children, 97–8; marital status, 52; receipt of public assistance, 43 early marriage, 3, 67, 108; dissolution of, 6, 7, 30, 33, 126 early parenthood: children of teenage mothers, 104; costs of, in social services, 49; outcomes of, 9, 49, 50 economic mobility, 133
economic opportunities, 4–5 economic security, 45, 46, 49, 55, 75, 132, 152–3; determinants of, 68–70; likelihood of, 137, 138; marital status and, 107; predictors of, 135f; social services and, 139 economic status, 40–3, 45, 131–2, 145; and child development, 108, 109, 111–22, 116t, 117t, 125–6, 127–9; child outcomes, 153–5; children of teenage mothers, 88, 106–7; determinants of, 52f, 137–40; diversity in, 48, 49, 50–4, 75; family background and, 53–4; and life course, 136–40; number of children and, 108; paths of influence in, 57–70, 74–5; predictors of, 52f, 53 economic variables: and fertility, 71 Edgar Allen Poe School, 15, 55–6, 64, 65–7, 74, 75, 137–8, 139, 140, 148 education, 40, 46, 47, 108–9, 145, 152; decisions about, 76; early childhood, 153; and economic status, 106–7; effect on child behavior, 107–8; and life success, 50–1; and occupational mobility, 4–5; see also schooling education programs, ameliorative, 148, 152 educational achievement: and economic success, 56–7; see also school performance educational aspirations, 108, 137–8, 147; children of teenage mothers, 95–6; and economic status, 54–5, 59, 60, 62–4, 63f, 65, 75, 139; and family size, 73, 74 educational attainment, 7, 26, 27t, 27–30, 131; and child development, 109, 112–22, 116t, 117t, 125, 126–9; and child outcomes, 144; children of teenage mothers, 104; effects of family background on, 60; and life outcomes, 50–1; see also high school graduation; remaining in school educational experience: and connections between mother and child life course, 177–83, 178t, 180t educational opportunities, 106, 107 educational status: consistency across life course, 171
Elder, G. H., Jr., 48
Ellwood, D. T., 40
emotional health, 49
emotional problems: children of teenage mothers, 77, 96–7
emotional support: children of teenage mothers, 107, 108 employment, 46, 47, 108, 133, 146, 151, 152; and transition to parenthood, 21 employment experience, 40, 43–4, 131–2; and child development, 123 employment opportunities, 18, 153 environment: and child development, 10, 109, 112, 121, 123, 128–9; children of teenage mothers, 141, 142–3, 145; maternal life course and, 106–8; and variability in life course, 51 equality, 107
family, 7, 59; black, 5, 87, 126 family background, 9, 108, 147, 185t; and economic status, 51–3, 56, 57–61, 58t, 75; family background (cont.) and fertility, 72; and life course, 136; and life success, 50, 53–4 family formation, 4, 18; early, 4, 5, 6; social timetable for, 5 family income(s), 40–3, 49, 132, 139; diversity in, 48; modest, 49; and presence of biological father, 88 family-planning services, 74, 148, 149, 153 family size, 7–8, 36, 46, 47, 132–3, 136, 137, 138, 139–40, 141; and child development, 127; determinants of, 52t, 70–4, 74t; diversity in, 48; education and, 55, 148; effects on likelihood of, 73f; effectiveness of programs to limit, 148, 149; parental, 58–9, 60–1; predictors of, 135f; preferences in, 34–5; welfare receipt and, 73–4, 140 family support, 44, 89, 136, 144, 147; social services compensating for lack of, 139 father(s) and children of teenage mothers, 79, 80, 81, 85–8, 104, 141, 142, 144; marriage to, 31, 85; role of, 152–3; school dropout, 7 father figures, 19, 80, 88, 142; see also step-fathers; surrogate adults fatherhood, 102 n12
Featherman, D. L., 51
fecundity, 71
female-headed households, 88, 133, 142 fertility, 34–40, 46, 47, 108–9, 132–3, 152, 185t; and child development, 108, 109, 112–22, 116t, 117t, 125, 127–9; and child outcomes, 143–5; children of teenage mothers, 102–4; and children’s life course, 106; consistency across life course, 171; decisions about, 76; determinants of, 137; diversity in, 49, 50, 70–4; and economic dependency, 128; and economic status, 58–9, 70–4, 75, 107, 139–40, 147; effect of parental family size on, 60–1; effects of family background on, 58; and life course, 134, 134t, 136 fertility experience: children of teenage mothers, 78, 105; and connections between mother/child life course, 177, 178t, 181t, 183; and economic status, 51–3, 55–7 fertility rates, 1
finishing high school: and economic status, 57, 58, 61, 104; and family size, 73; see also high school graduation; remaining in school Foundation for Child Development, 165
From Birth to Maturity, 143
Furstenberg, F. F., Jr., 112
GED, 26, 131, 152
gender differences, 95, 109–10

Index
grade failure, 92, 93, 143, 144, 173, 175; children of teenage mothers, 109, 115–16, 116t, 121, 125, 126; and sexual experience, 94–5 grade level, 59, 60, 147, 152; and economic status, 62–4, 139; and family size, 73 grandmothers, 79, 80, 81, 83, 127, 141, 142
Great Society, 12–13, 18
Hardy, J. B., 100
Hauser, R. M., 51
Head Start, 91, 92, 107, 113, 128, 153 health: antenatal, 121; children of teenage mothers, 81, 90; neonatal, 111–12 health programs: school-based, 149 high school achievement: children of teenage mothers, 78, 92–5 high school graduation, 4, 26, 28–30, 46, 63, 96, 131, 141, 147, 149; probability of, 26f; see also finishing high school; remaining in school Hunt, J., 109
income, 44–6, 47; moderate, 132; sources of, 45t; see also family income(s) income attainment: and life outcomes, 50–1 individual characteristics: and social contexts, 48–9, 51 individual differences, 19, 49, 109; in adaptation to early parenthood, 9, 13; in child development, 10, 112; in competence, 49; in effects of early childbearing, 9, 11, 49–50; see also diversity infancy, 78, 81
Institute for Survey Research (ISR), Temple University, 13 institutionalization: children of teenage mothers, 83 tergenerational mobility, 50, 51, 59–60 intermediate variables, 71
Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research, 165 interval between births, 56, 70–1 intervention(s), 10, 20, 67, 75, 128, 134; decisions about, 130; and economic status, 65f, 65–70; educational, 125; effectiveness of, 148–9; and family size, 74; formal programs, 19, 49, 65–70; 74, 137–9, 140, 148; health, 12; limited success of, 148–9, 152; need for different kinds of, 146 intracohort diversity: reasons for, 49–50
James, Viviana, 26–7
Jencks, C., 50, 63
job market, 7, 64
job training, 145, 153

© Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
Index

jobs, 33, 44, 153; see also employment; work juvenile delinquency, 15; children of teenage mothers, 77, 96–8, 105, 109, 116–18, 122, 128

Kanter, J. F., 100

labeling, 115
labor-force participation, 44 life chances: children of teenage mothers, 77– 8, 144; of disadvantaged youth, 151–2; ef-effect of early childbearing on, 6–9, 13; ef-effect of early life experience on, 120–2 life choices, 121; of disadvantaged youth, 151– 2; effect of social context on, 48–9 life course, 18, 49–50, 109, 128, 152, 185; adaptation to early parenting, 9; and child development, 108–22; children of teenage mothers, 19, 77–8, 79–88, 80t, 89, 106–29;
and children’s environment, 106–8; decisions affecting, 75–6; early events, experience as potential determinants of, 53–4, 56–7, 62, 72, 75; early identification of, 172–3; educational attainment in, 51; effect of early childbearing on, 6–8, 11; effect of educational aspirations on, 64–5; effect of postponing childbearing on, 71; fluidity, flexibility in, 47; one–year postpartum, 55– 7; possible patterns of, 120f; preventive programs in altering, 149–50; public policy implications of, 130–54; self-fulfilling prophecies in, 146; updating record of, 22– 5; variability in, 50–1, 106, 131–3 life-course intersection (mothers/children), 19, 78–9, 81, 105, 106–29, 124f, 143–5, 174– 83; analytic strategies, 110f; bivariate associations, 113f; consistency across, 119–20, 143, 171–4; cross-sectional comparisons, 111–12
life-course perspective, 5, 6 life-course trajectories: differences in, 133–40, 152 life decisions, 75–6, 107; career, 134; and child development, 107, 108, 109–22; ef-effects on children, 142; marriage, 75, 76; timing and sequencing of, 152; and timing of marriage and parenthood, 150 life experience: continuity in, 120–1; effect on children, 78–9; effect on development, 109; effect on life chances, 120–2, 128
life-history calendar, 14, 22–5, 26, 33, 56, 79, 81; chart, 157
life span: change across, 128 longitudinal studies, 10–11, 49, 53, 143, 144 low birth weight, 89, 90, 111–12; defined, 111;
and school readiness, 121
maladjustment: children of teenage mothers, 96–8, 98t, 104; school, 93, 94, 95 maladjustment indexes, 171, 182–3 male figures (children of teenage mothers), 79, 81, 85–8; see also father(s); stepfathers;
surrogate adults
marital disruption, 7, 21, 47, 126; causes of,
32–3; and children of teenage mothers, 83, 165–6; and economic status, 51 marital dissolution, 39, 108, 132, 160; and children of teenage mothers, 85–6, 88; see also divorce; separation marital experience: and connections between mother and child life course, 177, 179f, 183; and economic status, 51–3 marital history, 23, 30–3; and children’s life course, 106
marital status, 31t, 47, 108–9, 132, 133; and child development, 108, 109, 111–22, 116t, 117t, 126, 127–9; and child outcomes, 144; consistency across life course, 171; and economic status, 57, 75, 106–7;
and household residence, 34 Markov process, 171
marriage: to biological father, 31, 85; decisions about, 75, 76; and economic status, 51–3, 64, 67–8, 104, 139, 152–3; and fertility, 71; as path from poverty, 152; refusal of,
68; study reliability, 159–60; see also early marriage
marriage market, 51, 64
maternal characteristics: and child outcomes, 143–4; and school readiness, 115
maturation, 109
mental retardation, 111
middle class, 132
morbidity, neonatal, 12, 89, 90, 111 mortality, neonatal, 12, 89 motivation, 51, 137; and economic status, 55, 75, 106–7; and family size, 72–3; individual differences in, 19, 49; measures of, 61– 5, 63f; strategies to enhance, 147, 148; and use of birth control, 68 multivariate analysis, 57, 66–7, 134, 171–83 multivariate models, 167–70

National Academy of Sciences, 151; Panel on Adolescent Pregnancy and Childbearing, 154
National Center for Health Statistics, 28, 102
n12, 163
National Institute of Mental Health, 165
National Longitudinal Survey (NLS), 28, 29,
43, 102 n12, 164
National Longitudinal Survey of Young
Index

National Survey of Children (NSC), 14, 15, 19, 86, 93, 97, 100, 102, 142; 1976–1981, 165–6
National Survey of Family Growth (NSFG), 28, 37, 43; cycle III (1982), 163
National surveys, 28, 32, 33, 42–3, 44, 46, 47, 131, 133 neonatal outcome(s), 89–90
newborns, 89–90, 111–12
New Republic, 8
NLS; see National Longitudinal Survey (NLS)
obstetric care, 90
occupational mobility, 4–5 out-of-wedlock childbearing, 3t, 3–4, 5, 7, 18; effect of on life chances, 6–8 parent–child relations, 136 parental characteristics: and economic status, 107 parental education: and economic status, 50, 53, 54, 57, 59–60, 75; and life course, 137 parental family size, 72 parental household: years living in, 23; see also coresidence with parents parental support, 75, 126 parenthood: adolescent, 1–20; costs of, 141; timing of, 150; see also early parenthood; transition to parenthood parenting, 8, 104
parity: and sterilization, 38 parity-progression ratios, 71–2 paternal contact, 87–8; see also father(s) paternal support (children of teenage mothers), 79, 81, 87–8, 141 paternity, 102 n12, 143
perinatal care, 90
personal attributes, 19, 33, 134; and life course, 136 personal happiness, 49
personality/temperament: children of teenage mothers, 115, 118–19, 119t, 122, 125, 126, 143 post-high school education, 4, 27, 30, 64, 96, 131 poverty, 7, 8, 40, 45, 46, 47, 106, 141, 145; cycle of, 146, 147; effect on child’s behavior, 106, 107; impact on child development, 10; intergenerational transmission of, 116, 149–50; routes out of, 152; teenage childbearing as link in, 12–13; women in, 51 pregnancy(ies), 1, 23, 71, 89–90, 136; accidental, 70; children of teenage mothers, 102–3, 103F, 143; as outcome of school failure, 95; premarital, 3, 6; reaction to, 54, 136; repeat, 12–13, 21, 35, 56; unwanted, 67, 89 pregnancy-prevention programs, 130, 145, 148, 149; see also family-planning services premature infants, 89
prenatal care, 13, 89–90, 111, 112, 121; and economic status, 54 preschool years (children of teenage mothers), 78, 112–15, 128, 143 preventive programs, 145, 149–52; effectiveness of, 152; see also intervention(s); social services primary caregiver (children of teenage mothers), 79, 80, 83–4, 141 Project Redirection, 138
proximate determinants, 71 psychological distress (children of teenage mothers), 96, 97, 98 n10 psychological domain, 111 psychological functioning (children of teenage mothers), 109, 118–19, 119t, 127 psychological security, 49 psychological services, 96 public assistance; see welfare public attitudes: toward teenage childbearing, 1–6 public-health campaigns, 150, 153 public policy, 19–20, 128; implications of Baltimore study for, 145–52; implications of life course of adolescent mothers for, 130–54 quasi-fathers, 88
“quasi”-marriages, 31
race: adolescent fertility by, 2–3t, 4; and economic status, 53–4 reliability (Baltimore study), 158–60 remaining in school, 108, 137–8; and economic status, 55–6, 62–5, 75–6; see also finishing high school; high school graduation; schooling remarriage, 32, 88
remedial education, 148, 152 residence patterns: children of teenage mothers, 79–81, 82t, 85, 86, 87t, 141; and life course, 136 residential experience, 33–4, 34f; see also co-residence with parents resource allocation, 147 resource availability, 49, 53, 59, 60; and economic status, 60, 61 resources, 137; differential, 75; economic, 106–7; social, 19 risk groups, 150; identification of, 146; services for, 146–7
Rodriquez, G., 71
Roe v. Wade, 4
role models, 106, 127; parents as, 75
Index

roles: father, 152–3; mother/wife, 75
Ross, S., 100
Ryder, Norman, 49

SAT scores, 108
school attendance (years of), 23 school dropout, 6, 7, 12; children of teenage mothers, 77, 93–4, 95 school failure, 95, 152; children of teenage mothers, 77, 90, 92–5, 105; as predictor of economic dependency, 90; see also grade failure school performance, 137–8; children of teenage mothers, 78, 81, 90–6, 115–16, 116t, 125, 143, 145; and economic status, 54–5, 107; and risk of early childbearing, 147–8; welfare experience and, 175–7; see also grade level school readiness, 91–2, 107, 109, 125, 128, 173; and maternal characteristics, 115 schooling, 25–30; adjustment to (children of teenage mothers), 93, 94; children of teenage mothers, 142; and children’s life course, 106; and economic status, 50, 138, 140; and family size, 73, 74; study reliability, 159–60; and transition to parenthood, 21; see also education; finishing high school self-esteem, 96 self-reports (children of teenage mothers), 15, 98 t, 101, 117; 118; educational aspirations, 64; school performance, 54, 92–3; underreporting in, 102 n12 separation, 47, 132; and children of teenage mothers, 86 separations from mother, 23, 79, 81–3, 82t, 141, 142 sex education, 151
sexual activity, 3, 4, 151; irregular, 101, 149 sexual behavior: children of teenage mothers, 78, 81, 94–5, 98–104, 99t, 100t, 109, 110, 116, 116t, 142; responsible, 151 sexual decisions: control over, 149 sexual patterns: change in, 102 n12 sexuality: management of, 101–2 sibships, 70, 108; and economic status, 53, 54, 57, 60–1 Sinai Hospital (Baltimore): care program for adolescent mothers, 11–13, 16–17, 55–6, 67–70, 74, 75, 112, 127, 138, 139, 140, 148 single mothers, 132
single-parent families, 6, 8, 107, 141, 142; children of teenage mothers, 85–6, 88; and economic status, 53, 56 social context, 19; of early childbearing, 150–2; effect on life choices, 48–9 social development, 143
social functioning, 78
social mobility, 34, 50, 51, 59–60
social norms, 5, 150
social problems: teenage childbearing as, 1–6; children of teenage mothers, 77 social services: content, timing, and sequencing of, 146–7; costs of early parenthood on, 49, 74; developmental approach to delivery of, 153; effectiveness of, 148–9, 152; as encouraging teen pregnancy, 149; impact on teen mothers, 138–9 social skills, 60
social variables, 71
socioeconomic variables, 29t, 111 spacing of children, 56, 70–1, 132–3; and child development, 108; and economic status, 106–7 status attainment, 28, 50–1, 59 stepfathers, 85, 86, 88, 142 stereotypes (teenage mothers), 8, 9, 40, 47, 132, 145–6 stereotypes: contraceptive use, 37–9, 71, 133, 153; as path from poverty, 152 substance abuse, 15, 173–4; children of teenage mothers, 96, 97, 99t, 118, 143 supervision, 107, 108
support systems: availability of, 134; informal networks, 18, 49, 50, 75; see also intervention(s), formal programs; parental support surrogate adults, 141–2; children of teenage mothers, 79, 80, 82–3, 84, 85–6, 88, 127 teenage childbearing: causes of, 150–2; costs of, 141; prevention of, 130, 145; research on, 6–8; as social problem, 1–6, 18; see also early childbearing teenage mothers; see adolescent mothers teenage pregnancy: prevention of, 130, 145; rates of, 151; as social problem, 151; see also pregnancy(ies)
three-generation households, 33–4 Time magazine, 77
time spent with child, 107, 108 transition to parenthood, 9, 21–2, 48, 152; individual differences in, 11 trust in others, 95
two-parent household, 85–6; and economic status, 53, 56 underemployment, 44
unemployment, 4, 95, 152–3
United States: teenage childbearing in, 1, 150–1
U.S. Bureau of the Census, 28, 164, 165
Index

U.S. Department of Labor, 28, 165
Urban League, 150

variability; see diversity

wage market: women in, 51
wages, 44
Washington, Vivian, 15
welfare, 7, 23, 40–3, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 53, 56, 108–9, 132, 133, 146, 153, 185; background factors in likelihood of receiving, 58, 59, 60, 61, 64, 66, 67, 68–70, 69t, 73–4, 75–6, as bridge, 152; and child development, 111–12; costs of early parenthood on, 49; decisions about, 76; determinants of, 68–70, 69t; and educational attainment, 57; and family size, 73–4, 140; probability of going on, 41f, 42f, 137–9, 140; study reliability, 159–60
welfare dependency, 7, 40, 42, 67, 148, 153; intergenerational, 61
welfare experience as child: and economic status, 53, 54, 57, 61; and family size, 73–4 welfare experience of mother: and child development, 110, 112–22, 116t, 125, 126, 128; and connections between life course of mother and child, 174–83, 175t, 176t; and life course, 134–6, 137, 140, 141, 144

welfare status: consistency across mother/child life course, 171–2, 172t
well-being, 49, 115; of adolescents, 115–19; children of teenage mothers, 78, 88, 98
n10, 109–10, 114–15; economic, 106–7, 137–40
whites: in Baltimore study, 13, 16, 28, 53–4, 110, 161; marriage rates, 5; out-of-wedlock births, 4, 150 n1; teenage pregnancy and childbearing, 5–6
women: births to unmarried, 1–4; black, 29t, 47; in labor force, 4–5; status attainment of,
51
work, 40–3
work experience: and economic status, 56–7 working poor, 45, 46, 49, 88, 132

Zajonc, R. B., 108
Zelnick, M., 100
Zubin, L. S., 100