Music and image
Music and image

Domesticity, ideology and socio-cultural formation in eighteenth-century England

RICHARD LEPPERT
Professor of Comparative Studies in Discourse and Society
University of Minnesota
For Adam and Alice
Contents

List of illustrations

Page ix

Acknowledgments

XV

1. Introduction: music visualized

I

2. Music, socio-politics, ideologies of male sexuality and power

II

3. Music, sexism and female domesticity

28

4. Music education as social praxis

51

5. Music and the body: dance, power, submission

71

6. The male at music: praxis, representation and the problematic of identity

107

7. The female at music: praxis, representation and the problematic of identity

147

8. Music in domestic space: domination, compensation and the family

176

9. Epilogue: the social and ideological relation of musics to privatized space

201

Notes

215

Index

243
Illustrations

1. Anonymous (eighteenth century), An Orchestra Rehearsing page 12
2. James Gillray (1757–1815), Playing in Parts
   14
3. James Gillray (1757–1815), A Little Music or the Delights of Harmony
   14
4. Isaac Cruikshank (1764–1810), A Concert of Vocal and Instrumental Music, or the Rising Generation of Orpheus
   15
5. Robert Dighton (c. 1752–1814), Fashion Plate for Autumn
   31
6. Peltro William Tomkins (1760–1840), Morning Employments
   32
7. British School (eighteenth century; previously attributed to John Dowman), Lady Jane Matheu and her Daughters, c. 1790
   33
   34
   41
10. James Gillray (1757–1815), Farmer Giles & his Wife Shewing Off their Daughter Betty to their Neighbours, on her Return from School, 1809
    47
    48
12. Edward Francis Burney (1760–1848), An Elegant Establishment for Young Ladies
    54
13. John Faber, Jr. (c. 1684–1756), after Philippe Mercier, A School of Girls
    55
14. Thomas Rowlandson (1756/7–1827), The Comforts of Bath: The Music Master 64
15. Thomas Rowlandson (1756/7–1827), Reflections, or the Music Lesson
    64
16. George Romney (1734–1802), The Music Lesson
    65
17. John Francis Rigaud (1742–1810), Mr. Collins Teaching his Daughter to Play the Harpsichord, 1789
    66
18. British School (late eighteenth century), French Dance-Master
    78
19. Thomas Rowlandson (1756/7–1827), The Dancing Lesson, 1800
    79
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

20 Thomas Rowlandson (1756/7–1827), The Children’s Dancing Lesson
21 John Collett (c. 1725–80), engraved after, Grown Gentlemen Taught to Dance, 1768
22 Rennoldson (act. 1760s), after John Collett, Grown Ladies &c. Taught to Dance, 1768
23 P. Crochet (act. 1768), after Daniel Dodd, Grown Ladies Taught to Dance, 1768
24 British School, Boarding School Education, or the Frenchified Young Lady, 1771
26–29 W. Dickenson (act. 1787), after Henry William Bunbury, A Long Minuet as Danced at Bath, 1787
30 Thomas Rowlandson (1756/7–1827), Round Dance
31 Dance Fan, 1793
32 George Dance (1741–1825), Country Dance
33 Henry William Bunbury (1750–1811), Ladies and Gentlemen Dancing
34 Edward Francis Burney (1760–1848), The Waltz, c. 1800
35 George Watson (1767–1837), Charles St. Clair, 13th Lord Sinclair, with his First Wife and Son James
36 Charles Phillips (1708–47), Algernon, 7th Duke of Somerset, and his Family, 1732
37 Thomas Beach (1738–1806), Francis Archibald Stuart, 1798
38 Johan Zoffany (1733–1810), Frederick, Duke of York, c. 1770
39 Thomas Frye (1710–62), Jeremy Bentham at Age Thirteen, c. 1761
40 Arthur Devis (1712–87), John Bacon and his Family, c. 1742–3
41 Thomas Hill (1661–1734), Garten Orme, c. 1705–8
42 James MacArrell (1728/9?–65) after Thomas Jenkins, Benjamin Hacket, c. 1749
43 Pietro Labruzzi (1739–1805), Sir James Bland Burges, 1774
44 Pompeo Batoni (1708–87), John Brudenell, later Marquis of Montemere, 1758
45 Sir Joshua Reynolds (1723–92), Caricature Group: Sir Charles Turner, Mr. Cooke, Mr. Wooduyeare and Dr. Drake, 1751
46 Samuel Alken (1756–1815), after Thomas Rowlandson, An Italian Family, 1785
47 Joseph Francis Nollekens (1702/6–48), Gentleman Playing a Violoncello
48 Johan Kerseboom (act. 1680–d. 1708), Sir John Langham, 4th Baronet, as a Boy, 1683
49 Thomas Gainsborough (1727–88), Karl Friedrich Abel, 1777
50 John Faber, Jr. (c. 1684–1756), after Philippe Mercier, John Hebdon, 1741
51 Hugh Barron (c. 1745–91), Portrait of a Man with a Violin, possibly a Self-Portrait, c. 1768
52 Johan Zoffany (1733–1810), Self-Portrait of the Artist, with his Daughter Maria Theresa (?) and possibly Giacobbe and James Cervetto (?), c. 1779–83
53 Michele Benedetti (1745–1810), after John Francis Rigaud, Willoughby Bertie, 4th Earl of Abingdon, 1800
55 Edwaert Colyer (act. 1662–d. after 1702?), Vanitas Still Life
56 Edwaert Colyer (act. 1662–d. after 1702?), Vanitas Still Life
57 Samuel De Wilde (1747–1832), Music, 1801
58 William Hoare (1706–99), Henrietta Ann Hoare
59 Bentside Spinet by John Crang, London, 1758
60 Bentside Spinet by Thomas Hitchcock, London, 1758
61 Edward Haytley (act. 1746–61), Lady Strange, 1746
62 Mather Brown (1761–1831), Girl Playing a Harpsichord
63 Paul Sandby (1725–1809), Mrs. Eyre
64 Paul Sandby (1725–1809), Mrs. Eyre
65 John Smart (1741–1811), The Misses Binney, 1806
66 George James (act. 1761–d. 1795), The Three Miss Walpoles as Children, 1768
67 Francis Wheatley (1747–1801), Family Group, c. 1775/6
68 Joseph Wright of Derby (1734–97), Mrs. Robert Gwillym, 1766
69 Arthur Devis (1712–87), Portrait of a Lady, 1757
70 George James (act. 1761–d. 1795), Emily and Georgiana Mason
71 Johan Zoffany (1733–1810), Miss Anne Gore as a Savoyard, 1774
72 Arthur Devis (1712–87) (?), Lady Villiers, Wife of Sir John Villiers of Morley, Dorset
73 James McARDell (1728/9–65), after Allan Ramsay, Mary Viscountess Coke
74 Arthur Devis (1712–87), Edward Rooke-Leeds and his Family, of Royds Hall, Low Moor, Yorkshire, c. 1763–5
List of Illustrations

76 John Thomas Seaton (act. 1761–1806), Col. Ralph Bates and his Wife Anne
77 Arthur Devis (1712–87), Gentleman and Lady at a Harpsichord, 1749
78 James Gillray (1757–1815), Harmony before Matrimony, 1805
79 James Gillray (1757–1815), Matrimonial-Harmonics, 1805
80 Arthur Devis (1712–87), Rev. Thomas D'Oyly and his Wife Henrietta Maria, c. 1743–4
81 Robert Dighton (c. 1752–1814), Fashion Plate for the Month of November
82 Netherlandish School (seventeenth century), A Hunting Party
83 Robert Dighton (c. 1752–1814), Fashion Plate for Winter
84 Richard Houston (c. 1721–75), after Francis Hayman, Hearing, 1753
85 British School, The Captain's so Kind as to Thrust in a Note, while Old Lady Cuckoo is Straining her Throat, 1777
86 Lady Dorothy Savile, Countess of Burlington (1699–1758), Girl at Spinet with an Owl in a Cage
87 Arthur Devis (1712–87), Edward Parker with his Wife Barbara, 1757
88 Sir Godfrey Kneller (1646–1723), Lady Elizabeth Cromwell as Saint Cecilia, 1703
89 John Russell (1745–1806), Emily de Visme, Later Lady Murray, as Saint Cecilia, 1794
90 Sir William Beechey (1753–1839), Robert Lindley, c. 1805
91 John Greenwood (1729–92), John Richard Comyns of Hylands, near Chelmsford, Essex, with his Family, 1775
92 William Hogarth (1697–1764), Richard Wesley, 1st Baron Mornington, his Wife and Daughters and their Friend Miss Donellan, 1731
93 Joseph Francis Nollekens (1702/6–48), A Musical Party, c. 1735
95 Johan Zoffany (1733–1810), The Sharp Family, 1779–81
96 John Nixon (c. 1760–1818), A Scene in Henry Angelo's Garret at the Pauls Head Cateaton Street, 1802
97 Thomas Gainsborough (1727–88), Johann Christian Fischer
98 William Hogarth (1697–1764), Card Party
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Illustration</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>99</td>
<td>William Hogarth (1697–1764), Card Party, detail</td>
<td>212</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>100</td>
<td>William Hogarth (1697–1764), The Enraged Musician, 1741</td>
<td>213</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Acknowledgments

I am grateful to the staffs of several research libraries for their untiring assistance on many aspects of this project, in particular those of the Witt Library, Courtauld Institute of Art, University of London; National Portrait Gallery Archive, London; Interlibrary Loan Services and Special Collections, O. Meredith Wilson Library, University of Minnesota; Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, San Marino; Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library, Yale University; Yale Center for British Art; Music Division, Library of Congress; Department of Prints and Drawings, British Museum; William Andrews Clark Memorial Library, University of California, Los Angeles; J. Paul Getty Center for the History of Art and the Humanities, Santa Monica; Paul Mellon Centre for Studies in British Art, London; Research Libraries of the New York Public Library; Houghton Library, Harvard University; and the National Museum of Science and Technology, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

I am deeply indebted to several institutions and foundations for their generous financial support: the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, the American Philosophical Society, the Yale Center for British Art, and the University of Minnesota’s Graduate School, College of Liberal Arts and Office of International Programs.

Special thanks are due to the many individuals and institutions, both public and private, for providing reproductions of art works and for granting permission to publish them. I would especially like to acknowledge Sarah Hyde, Witt Library, London; Sarah Wimbush, National Portrait Gallery Archive, London; Anne French and Jacob Simon, The Iveagh Bequest, Kenwood (London); and Beverly Carter, Paul Mellon Collection, Washington, D.C. The auction firms of Christie and Sotheby, both London, were extremely generous in supplying photographs, as were the London art dealers Sabin Galleries, Agnew’s Galleries, Spink & Son and Leggatt Brothers.

Among the many individuals to whom I owe a debt of gratitude are the late Edward Croft-Murray, Department of Prints and Drawings, British Museum, for his generosity and tirelessness in helping me locate important images; Ellen D’Oench, Davison Art Center, Wesleyan University, for generously supplying me with hard-to-obtain photographs of paintings by Arthur Devis, and for her advice concerning this artist; Tilman Seebass, Duke University, for his thoughtful suggestions on a portion of the study; Cynthia Adams Hoover and Helen Rice Hollis, both Division of Musical Instruments, Smithsonian Institution, for their kind assistance concerning the development of early keyboard instruments; and Mr. John Thomson, founder of Early Music, for his longterm support and advice on the project. On repeated visits to the Yale Center for British Art two individuals among a staff of unusually helpful people must be singled out: Teri Edelstein and Anne-Marie Logan. I express gratitude to my editor at Cambridge University Press, Penny Souster, for her support and professionalism every step of the way, and to my text editor at Cambridge, Gillian Law.
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Particular thanks are due to Marlos Rudie and Monika Stumpf, Department of Humanities, University of Minnesota, for their unerring and patient assistance in helping with manuscript preparation, correspondence and endless other assorted labors without which my task would have been much more difficult. I especially value their many years of friendship and encouragement. I am grateful to Jon Bassewitz for his assistance in proofreading.

My wife, Ann, and my children, Adam and Alice, have together helped make this book a great pleasure to think about and to write and also provided for me an ever-present locus, as loving companions, of the personal and familial significance of the topic.

Finally, I wish to thank Mary Finn-Shapiro who for three years was my research associate. She worked tirelessly, accurately and imaginatively, tracing family records, pouring over thousands of pages of letters, diaries, memoirs and works of literature and philosophy. Through her efforts I gained access to countless documents I would not have found on my own. I acknowledge her as a co-worker and as a friend.

Richard Leppert
Minneapolis, August 1987