FROM SUBJECT TO CITIZEN
The old Lie: Dulce et decorum est
Pro patria mori
(It is sweet and fitting to die for one’s country)

Wilfred Owen
Contents

List of Figures x
List of Tables xi
Acknowledgments xii
Abbreviations xiii
Introduction 1

Part I: From Subject to Citizen 1901–1996 9

1 Civis Romanus Sum 13
   Nation and State 19
   Creating a National Identity 32
   Definition of Citizenship 40

2 From Subject to Citizen I: to 1948 45
   The Commonwealth of Australia 50
   The Australian People 52
   Formal Requirements before 1948 59
   Public Discourse about Citizen Rights: 1901–1948 66
   Unofficial Discourse on Citizenship 70
   Civics for Schools 79
CONTENTS

3 Nationality and the Citizen II: 1948–1986 84

   Official Policy 87
   Formal Requirements: 1948–1972 94
   International Personality and Nationhood 101
   Unofficial Discourse on Citizenship 103
   Naturalisation Rates and Belonging 105
   Closures to Theory 108

4 From Subject to Citizen III: 1983–1996 113

   Official Discourse about Citizenship 120
   A Bill of Rights for Australia: 1973–1993 124
   The Active Citizen 134
   The New Nationalism 139

Part II: Discourses of Exclusion 143

5 Discourses of Exclusion, Silencing the Migrant Voice 149

   From Alien to Permanent Resident: 1945–1972 158
   Aliens 160
   Aliens from Whitlam to Hawke 162
   Aliens and Permanent Residents: 1984–1995 165
   From One Voice to Many: to Cacophony? 167
   The Citizenship Conventions: 1950–1970 169
   The Migrant Voice 171
   Ethnic Spokesmen 175
   Social, Economic and Educational Rights 179
   Deep Culture and Racism 185

6 Aborigines and Citizenship: Discourses of Exclusion 188

   The Colonial Period 189
   The Franchise Act (1902): The Right to Vote 190
   Land and Values 201
   The Problem of ‘Belonging’ 203
   The Discourse of Exclusion 209
   An Aboriginal Contribution to Citizenship 213
CONTENTS

Part III: The Active Citizen and Beyond

7 The Active Citizen and Direct Democracy in Australia
   The Right to Vote 228
   The Popular Sovereign and Direct Democracy 233
   Local Government 235
   Direct Democracy 237
   Responsible Government 240
   The Inactive Citizen 245
   Overview 246

Conclusion 248
   Looking Backward 248
   Recrudescent Nationalism 255
   What Is So Special About Our Fellow Countrymen? 256
   Looking Forward to the Twenty-First Century 259
   Regionalism and the Regional Citizen 260
   The European Example 263
   New Acts of Citizenship 275
   Representative Democracy 276
   Australia Learns? 280

Notes 287

Select Bibliography 312

Index 331
Figures

1 Trends in the number of eligible non-citizens of Australia by birthplace 155
2 South and East Asia – applications, visas issued and cases carried forward, by migration program component, 1983–84 to 1990–91 (year ended 30 June) 156
4 The Gini index 234
5 The Dauer-Kelsay index for Australian legislatures 235
Tables

1. Contexts of democracy
2. Top ten countries (in order) of former citizenship or nationality of persons granted Australian citizenship, 1983–93
3. Citizenship rates (%) by year of arrival and birthplace (overseas-born only), pre 1971–91
5. Eligible non-citizens at June 1994 by selected country of birth
6. Electoral enrolments for State and Territory lower houses of parliament
7. Electoral enrolments for State upper houses of parliament
8. Innovation in representational arrangements – lower houses
9. Constitutional referenda, 1901–88
10. Classification of South-east Asian countries on the human rights scale (1991)
Acknowledgments

This book has been seven years in the making. Many people have helped in a labour marked by many articles, changes of direction, and a feeling that the answers never keep up with the changes. If I do not thank all those who are in this book please forgive me. I have had great research assistants: Kathy Dempsey; Mark Lopez; Effi Tomaras; Lucas Walsh; Tan Nguyen; library specialists: Gayle Whyte and Grace Giannini; word-processing experts: Cecilia Thorei and Anne West. I have had post-graduates working on closely related matters: Nella Pasqua; Abby Howe; Matt Harvey. I have benefited from discussions and comments with Mike Salviris; Michael Muetzelfeldt; Bryan Turner, Stephen Castles, Stuart Macintyre, Rob Watts, Marcelo Dascal, Stuart Woolf, Roger Spegele, Peter Beilharz, Anna Yeatman, Andrew Wells, Marilyn Lake, Jim Walter, James Warden, Donald Horne, Charles Sampford, Beth Gaze, George Venturini, Anthony Mason, Tony Pagone, Sid Spindler, Wayne Hudson, Kathleen Weekley, Barney Cooney, Jane Connors, Brian Costar, Boris Frankel, Maryellen Davidson and Terry Burke. Thanks to Lee White for her editing work.

Over these years I have been able to participate in the emergence of Citizenship studies in the Ideas for Australia project; the Social Benchmarks for Citizenship project at Swinburne University of Technology and the Centre for Citizenship and Human Rights at Deakin University.

I owe much to discussion, dispute and disagreement with so many people. This book may all be wrong. I take every responsibility for what I have written, but it was really a product of debate with other ‘active citizens’. If it ends in a memory hole it will have all been worth it because these people have sustained my flagging belief in civic virtue.
Abbreviations

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Abbreviation</th>
<th>Full Form</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ACC</td>
<td>Australian Citizenship Convention</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AEU</td>
<td>Australian Education Union</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AGPS</td>
<td>Australian Government Publishing Service</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AIAS</td>
<td>Australian Institute for Asian Studies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ALJ</td>
<td>Australian Law Journal</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ALJR</td>
<td>Australian Law Journal Reports</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CIS</td>
<td>Centre for Independent Studies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CLR</td>
<td>Commonwealth Law Reports</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CP</td>
<td>Country Party</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CPD</td>
<td>Commonwealth Parliamentary Debates</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DFAT</td>
<td>Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DIEA</td>
<td>Department of Immigration and Ethnic Affairs</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ECJR</td>
<td>European Court of Justice Reports</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EAC</td>
<td>European Atomic Community</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EAEC</td>
<td>European Atomic Energy Commission</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ECSC</td>
<td>European Coal and Steel Community</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EHRR</td>
<td>European Human Rights Reports</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EPAC</td>
<td>Economic Planning and Advisory Council</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ER</td>
<td>English Reports</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NACC</td>
<td>National Aboriginal Consultative Council</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nat</td>
<td>National Party</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NCP</td>
<td>National Country Party</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NSWLR</td>
<td>New South Wales Law Reports</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>OMA</td>
<td>Office of Multicultural Affairs</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PARC</td>
<td>Public Affairs Research Centre</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>VGL</td>
<td>Victorian Council for Civil Liberties</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>