CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-46729-2 - The International Monetary System
Edited by Peter B. Kenen, Francesco Papadia and Fabrizio Saccomanni
Table of Contents
More information

Contents

Conference participants page xi
Foreword xiii
CARLO A. CIAMPI
Editors' note xv

Introduction 1
PETER B. KENEN, FRANCESCO PAPADIA, AND FABRIZIO SACCOMANNI
1 Premise 1
2 International liquidity 3
3 Exchange rates 5
4 The international framework for national economic policies 11
5 Conclusions 13

I OVERVIEW OF THE ISSUES: RETROSPECTS AND PROSPECTS

1 The international monetary issues of the Bretton Woods era 19
JACQUES J. POLAK
1 Introduction 19
2 Adjustment 21
3 Liquidity creation 23
4 The rate of interest on the SDR 25
5 A substitution account? 28
6 'Objective indicators' for exchange rate adjustment 29
7 A moral? 31

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-46729-2 - The International Monetary System
Edited by Peter B. Kenen, Francesco Papadia and Fabrizio Saccomanni
Table of Contents
More information

2 Significant episodes in the evolution of the international monetary system 35
GUIDO CARLI
Discussion 38
ROBERT Z. ALIBER
FRED C. BERGSTEN

II INTERNATIONAL LIQUIDITY

3 The rise and fall of the concept of international liquidity 53
JOHN WILLIAMSON
1 Introduction 53
2 Emergence of the concept 53
3 The significance of liquidity in the reform negotiations 57
4 The fall of the concept of international liquidity 60
5 Is there a future for the SDR? 61
6 Concluding remarks 63
Discussion 65
RAINER S. MASERA
ROBERT A. MUNDELL

4 The role of market and official channels in the supply of international liquidity 82
ANDREW CROCKETT
1 Introduction 82
2 Definitions 83
3 Two paradigms 86
4 The supply of international reserves 1945–92 90
5 Is there a reserve supply problem? 97
Discussion 101
ROBERT D. HORMATS
STEFANO MICOSSI

5 High world interest rates: shortage of saving or liquidity? 107
WILLIAM H. BRANSON
1 Introduction 107
2 A world model with the term structure of interest rates 109
3 Unanticipated shifts in liquidity demand or excess saving 113
4 Anticipated shifts in excess saving or liquidity demand 114

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-46729-2 - The International Monetary System
Edited by Peter B. Kenen, Francesco Papadia and Fabrizio Saccomanni
Table of Contents
More information

5 Two-country model: real exchange rate and the current account 117
6 Interpretation of macro events 1989–92 124
Discussion 129
MARCELLO DE CECCO
ALEXANDRE SWOBODA

III EXCHANGE RATES

6 Floating exchange rates reconsidered: the influence of new ideas, priorities, and problems 139
PETER B. KENEN
1 Introduction 139
2 The taxonomic ordering of exchange rate arrangements 140
3 Exchange rate arrangements and the quality of policies 143
4 Trends in exchange rate arrangements 146
Appendix: The classification of exchange rate arrangements 151
Discussion 162
GIANCARLO GANDOLFO
RONALD McKINNON

7 The credibility of adjustable parities: the experience of the European Monetary System 170
ZHAOHUI CHEN AND ALBERTO GIOVANNINI
1 Introduction 170
2 Measuring expected parity changes 171
3 Interpreting expected parity changes 174
4 Empirical evidence 177
5 Concluding remarks 187
Discussion 193
LUIGI SPAVENTA
NIELS THYGESEN

8 Concerted interventions and the dollar: an analysis of daily data 201
PIETRO CATTE, GIAMPAOLO GALLI, AND SALVATORE REBECCHINI
1 Introduction 201

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-46729-2 - The International Monetary System
Edited by Peter B. Kenen, Francesco Papadia and Fabrizio Saccomanni
Table of Contents
More information

2 Methodology: selection of the episodes and measurement of intervention 202
3 The results 204
4 Concerted interventions and the turning points of the dollar 208
5 Interpreting the evidence 213
6 Conclusions 217
Discussion 240
GIORGIO BASEVI
JEFFREY A. FRANKEL
EDWIN M. TRUMAN

IV THE INTERNATIONAL FRAMEWORK FOR NATIONAL ECONOMIC POLICIES

9 Economic performance under alternative exchange rate regimes: some historical evidence 257
TAMIM BAYOUMI AND BARRY EICHENGREEN
1 Introduction 257
2 Methodology 258
3 Bretton Woods and the post-Bretton Woods float 263
4 The classical gold standard and the interwar period 279
5 Conclusions 291

10 Improving economic policy coordination: evaluating some new and some not-so-new proposals 298
MORRIS GOLDSTEIN
1 Introduction 298
2 What has economic policy coordination accomplished so far? 299
3 Adopting louder and more explicit exchange rate commitments 303
4 Strengthening the analytical framework 305
5 Remedial action and follow-up procedures 313
Discussion 325
RICHARD N. COOPER
LAMBERTO DINI
LEONHARD GLESKE
TOYOO GYOHTEN
JACQUES DE LAROSIÈRE

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org