

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-57644-4 - Towns, Plans and Society in Modern Britain

Helen Meller

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

Acknowledgements	page	vi
1 Introduction	1
2 Understanding cities: the impact of mass urbanisation	8
3 Ideals and experiments in modern urban living, 1860–1914	25
4 Town planning in a free society: the interwar period	46
5 The golden age of planning: ‘building the better Britain’, 1942–1965	67
6 Crisis of identity for cities and town planners, 1965–1979	85
7 Thatcherism and cities: the new context for planners	96
8 Economic imperatives and urban regeneration: a new culture of cities?	105
Appendix: timeline of significant dates	114
Bibliography	121
Index	132	