

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More informationIndex

- absolute, the, 152, 153, 162
 - arguments for and against, 163–71, 175, 192
 - as hypothesis, 15, 166, 169, 171, 195, 200
 - philosophy of, 152, 154
 - possibility of, 195, 197
 - practical failure of, 167
 - see also* idealism, absolute
- absolute truth, 214–23
 - functions of, 219–20
 - pragmatically interpreted, 217–21
 - see also* truth
- action, 202, 211, 212
- activity, ambidextrous notion, 191
- additions to reality, see thoughts as additive
- aggregates, 52, 160, 200
- all-form, 163
- all-knower, 17, 49, 96, 162, 195, 196, 200, 215
 - as morally unacceptable, 22
- Alston, William P., 230
- amelioration of the world, 41, 201, 236–41
- antirealism, 209–15
 - see also* realism
- Aristotle, 166
- atomism, psychological, 68–9, 71
- Avenarius, Richard, 5, 83–7

- Baldwin, J. Mark, 73, 100
- Barnard, G. William, 224
- beliefs, hot and cold, 131
 - justified, 215, 223
 - religious, 130, 229, 231
 - true, 55
 - warranted, 215
- Bergson, Henri, 180–3, 186, 189, 194, 228
- Berkeley, George, 15, 16, 49, 61, 77, 99, 113, 148, 230
- Bloom, Harold, 210
- Bode, Boyd Henry, 149–50, 177, 182, 200
- Borden, Lizzie, 222

- Bradley, F. H., 27, 58, 107, 113, 162, 208
 - speckled hen example, 173
- brain states, 64, 68–9, 74
- Broad, C. D., 230
- Bunyan, John, 103

- cases, extreme, in Varieties, 116–17
- causation, 59, 190–2
- center, see margin
- certainty, 41
- Chopp, Rebecca, 239
- Christianity, “Sunday,” 59
- Clebsch, William, 97
- co-consciousness, 199
 - see also* consciousness, compounding of
- cognition, 63
- cognitive, see relations, cognitive, and knowing
- Concept, the, 173
- conception, value of, 180–1
- conceptions, hypersensible, 51
- concepts, 28, 38, 41
 - as aperceptual, 39
 - as both thought and thing, 40
 - as “cut out,” 38, 177, 183
 - as distinct from percepts, 39, 164
 - functioning as pure experiences, 40
 - organizing, 41
 - see also* percepts
- “co-ness,” 58, 177
 - see also* consciousness, compounding of
- consciousness, as function of knowing, 23
 - aggregates of, 200
 - compounding of, 73–4, 170–1, 172–85, 193–4
 - constitutional variations in, 133
 - continuity of, 80, 183
 - cosmic, 198
 - entitative view of, 23, 171
 - field theory of, 87–95, 131–3
 - higher, 199

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More informationIndex

249

- sensible continuity of, 22, 183
- “substantiality” of, 11
- superhuman, see superhuman consciousness
- unity of, 74
- conterminousness, 107, see also pure experience, as dialectic, and reality, dialectic
- contextualization, and James’s view, 215
 - of field contents, 92
- continuity and discontinuity, 20, 89
 - and philosophical views, 19
 - experiences of, 159
 - see also* relations
- convergence, 219
- conversion, 121
 - and the field theory, 105, 131–3, 136–7
 - involuntary, 132
 - origins of, 134
 - value of, 133, 135
- counterfactuals, 222

- Darwin, Charles, 64
- datum, the, 85, 87–95
- denkmittel*, 51–3, 56, 152
- Dewey, John, 149, 214
- direct acquaintance, 31–43
 - and insight, 182
 - and logic, 180
 - and the field theory, 93
 - and truth, 49, 81, 208
 - anticipated in James’s psychology, 70
 - as pure experience epistemologically, 35
 - as pure experience metaphysically, 37, 81
 - conjoining systems of associates, 36
 - early formulations of, 81
 - in Varieties, 143
 - integrally related to knowledge about, 46, 93–4, 183
 - versus knowledge about, 32–4, 36, 39, 44, 93
 - vividness of, 93
- discursive critic, 214
- disquotational principle, 222–3
- divine, the, 52, 118, 236
 - real presence of, 136
 - see also* God and superhuman consciousness
- dualism, 23
 - and the field theory, 132
 - and truth, 49
 - in Varieties, 137, 139
 - mind/matter, 11, 63, 76, 176, 190
 - rejection of, 33, 66, 176, 193–4, 228
 - subject/object, 11
- Dummett, Michael, 206
- dynamism, 58, 93, 193, 227

- each-form, 163
- Edwards, Paul, 187
- ego, transcendental, 17
- Eisler, Rudolph, 187
- eject, the, 94, 107
- Eliade, Mircea, 232
- Emerson, Ralph Waldo, 214
- empiricism, 11, 15, 77
 - and panpsychism, 58, 187
 - and rationalism, 14, 58, 155, 200, 214
 - as James’s method, 161, 214
 - pluralistic, 1, 2, 195
 - radical, see radical empiricism
- environment, function of, 200, 213, 227
- epiphenomenalism, 188
- epistemology, and metaphysics, 35
 - and pragmatism, 207
 - direct-realist, 176
 - representational, 36, 176, 228
- error, problem of, 167, 169
- evidentialism, 230–1
- evil, 120, 167–8, 238
- existential judgments, 111–12
 - and conversion, 133
 - and religion, 142–3
 - see also* spiritual judgments
- expediency, 211
- experience, ambidextrousness of, 58
 - ambiguity of, 37, 39
 - and religious life, 113, 129–30, 198–9
 - and truth, 39
 - as basic conception, 40, 87, 185, 228
 - as double-barreled, 26, 38, 239
 - as ontologically fundamental, 39
 - as public, 56
 - conceptual, 38, 231
 - concrete, 13, 31, 215
 - continuity of, 80, 89
 - direct, 16
 - fabric of, 184
 - factual realm of, 196
 - fenced, 198
 - givenness of, 38, 92
 - irreducible complexity, 27, 129, 233
 - lived, 226–7
 - mystical, 224, 230
 - perceptual, 38
 - phenomenology of, 41, 231
 - pulse of, 80
 - pure, see pure experience
 - rationality of, 179

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More information

250

Index

- religious, 6, 117–18, 141–2, 195, 199–201, 229–31
- self-sufficiency of, 21
- separation into consciousness and content, 35, 142
- stream of, 37, 46, 53, 87–8, 90–1, 191
- systems of, 191
- tissue of, 45
- turn to, 229–31
- unanalyzed, 27
- explanation, functional, 35, 46
- good, 234, 239
- reductive, 232–3
- fact(s), as constraints on truth, 221
 - fact/value distinction, 111
 - “full fact,” 13, 110, 128
 - new, 138
 - past, 236
 - religious, 200
 - see also* experience, concrete, and truths, new
- faith, 237, 238
- “faith-ladder,” 161
- fallibilism, 14, 53, 215, 216, 222, 227, 235
- Fechner, Gustav, 155, 175, 187, 197, 228
- feeling, 28
 - emphasis on in Varieties, 113, 129–30, 144
 - nature of, 82
- field, constitutional variations in, 133–4
 - dualistic interpretation of, 132
 - first use of, 89
 - metaphor, 83, 87, 89, 90, 109, 177
 - of the present, 30
 - spatiality of, 90
 - see also* fact, “full fact” and margin
- field theory, 1895–6 discussion of, 87–96
 - and compounding of consciousness, 176
 - and conversion, 131–3, 140
 - and psychical phenomena, 198–9
 - dualistic, 131–3, 140
 - radically empiricist, 140–1
- finitude, criterion of, 200
- Flournoy, Théodore, 72, 104, 105, 146
- flux, the, 37, 180
- Ford, Marcus Peter, 14, 84
- foreignness, see intimacy
- Foucault, Michel, 238
- fringe, the, 87, 91
 - see also* “more,” the, and margin
- fruits, of religion, 128
- Gifford Lectures, 5, 97–145
 - and radical empiricism, 108
 - history of appointment, 99–101
 - history of composition, 99–106
 - James’s two-fold plan, 100–2
 - outline and contents, 102
 - philosophical course, remnants, 106–10
 - see also* Varieties of Religious Experience
- God, 17, 51, 52, 58, 141, 160, 200, 240
 - and foreignness, 156
 - and panpsychism, 192
 - arguments for existence of, 230
 - as same substance with world, 173
 - finite, 196–202, 237, 240
 - potentially plural, 200
 - see also* divine, theism, and superhuman consciousness
- good, 168
 - human, 168
 - the, 41, 51, 221
- Grote, John, 32, 43
- habit, 219–20
- Hardwick, Charley, 232
- healthy-minded, the, 120
- Hegel, G. W. F., 4, 152, 160, 161, 166, 238
 - James’s estimation of, 171–4
 - solution to his problem, 184
- helpfulness, moral, 114, 124–5
- hermeneutics, 215, 231
- Heymans, Gerardus, 190, 192
- Hibbert Lectures, 1, 58
 - history of, 146–51
- historicism, 215, 216, 231, 238
- history, 167, 200
- Hodgson, Shadworth, 45, 77, 198
- holidays, moral, 22
- holism, 226
- hope, plausibility of, 196
- Hume, David, 15, 16, 184, 230
- hypothesis, formulation, 115, 138
 - religious, 236
- idealism, absolute, 113, 152, 162, 167, 170–1, 234
 - and balance of rationality, 167
 - and concreteness, 96
 - and panpsychism, 187
 - and truth absolute, 215–16
 - James’s, 89, 112, 214
 - pluralistic, 114
 - reductive force of, 58
- idealist thesis, 166, 172
- ideas, as objects of thought, 212
 - hot and cold, 131
 - religious, 124, 231
 - truthful, 53, 56
- imagination, 40

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More informationIndex

251

- immediacy, and certainty, 41
 - and mediation, 33–4, 45
 - and “pure” experience, 35
 - naïve, 41
 - phenomenological and metaphysical, 37
- intellectualism, Bergson’s critique of, 180
 - vicious, 164, 165, 169, 170
- intentionality, 52, 78, 92
- intermediaries, functional chains of, 47
- intersubjectivity, 211, 215
- intimacy, and foreignness, 3, 155–62
 - and rationality, 6, 158, 180, 196
 - and relations, 20, 156
 - and trust, 157–8
 - as criterion, 154–6, 158
 - as ideal, 159–61, 185, 196
 - metaphysical view of, 158–60
- irrationality, see rationality
- irrealism, see antirealism

- Jacks, Lawrence Piersall, 146, 151
- James, Henry, 72, 99, 102, 103, 104, 146, 151, 169, 208
- jar and transition, experience of, 34, 45

- Kant, Immanuel, 15, 25, 35, 39, 84, 158, 187, 241
- Katz, Steven, 230
- Kloppenbergh, James, 214, 215
- knowing, 237
 - and formulation of radical empiricism, 73–82
 - and pragmatism, 49–55, 208, 213
 - and psychology, 63–4, 70–1
 - and pure experience, 30, 32
 - and the field theory, 83, 92
 - as relation, 30, 33, 79, 107
 - dynamic account of, 83
 - function of, 23
 - functional account of, 24, 31–48
 - perspectival character, 55, 171, 212–13
 - problem of, 77–82
 - three-fold categorization, 32
 - virtual, 46–8, 50
 - see also* consciousness, direct acquaintance, knowledge about, substitution, and truth
- “Knowing of Things Together,” article, 73–82
- knowledge, 144, 221
 - and interest, 216
 - growth of, in field theory, 92
 - mediate, 48
- knowledge about, 43–48, 182
 - and relations of conjunction, 44, 79
 - and social exchange/sociality, 55, 217
- and the field theory, 92
- and truth, 49–55, 208, 217, 219–20
- anticipated in James’s psychology, 70
- as integrally related to direct acquaintance, 46, 93–4, 183
- distinguished from direct acquaintance, 32–4, 36, 39, 44
- in Varieties, 143
- metaphysical and phenomenological descriptions of, 44
- see also* knowing and direct acquaintance
- Kuklick, Bruce, 61

- Lane, A. C., 220, 221
- language, sufficiency of, 213
- leading, 54, 93, 159, 189
- Lentricchia, Frank, 214
- Levinson, Henry S., 64, 67, 87, 152, 214
- life, exceeding logic, 162, 182, 201–2
 - religious, 126–7, 238–41
- linguistic turn, the, 211, 213
- Locke, John, 15
- logic, 166
 - and idealist thesis, 166
 - contextualization of, 178–81, 184, 201
 - hegemony of, 183
 - intellectualist, 166, 170, 179
 - standard or conceptual, 165–6, 170, 177–81, 183, 201
- Lowell Lectures, 149–50, 155
 - see also* Pragmatism
- luminousness, immediate, 114, 123

- McGhee, Michael, 230
- margin, 87
 - in 1895 field theory, 90–2
 - in Varieties, 132
- leaky or pervious, 134, 141, 197–8
- Marx, Karl, 238
- materialism, 114, 128–9, 152–3, 155, 167, 234–5
 - and panpsychism, 188
- mediation, see immediacy
- meliorism, see amelioration
- Memorial Hall, example, 45–8
- mental states, combining, 68–9, 174–6
 - religious, 117
 - simplicity/complexity of, 75–6
- metaphysics, and autonomy of substance, 173
 - and epistemology, 35, 213
 - and natural science, 65, 128–9, 223
 - and religion, 127, 130, 196–202, 203, 223, 237
 - defined, 67
 - dynamic, 178

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More information

252

Index

- formally monistic, 5
- heuristic, 211, 227
- James's shift to, 71–3, 223
- value of, 226, 231, 237
- see also* philosophy, pure experience, and radical empiricism
- Mill, James S., 16
- Mill, John Stuart, 16
- Miller, Dickinson S., 149, 177, 200, 206, 209
- “Miller–Bode Objections, The,” 150, 177, 179
- mind, states of, see mental states
- minds, finite, problem of, 168, 170
- monism, and panpsychism, 57–8
 - dynamic, 83, 178
 - formal, 24–5, 39, 95, 140, 190
 - metaphysical, 24–5, 76–7
 - neutral, 27
 - pluralistic, 114
 - transcendental, 95–6, 152, 162, 171, 172
 - see also* pluralism
- Moore, G. E., 111, 209
- moral questions, 237
- “more,” in field theory, 91, 94
- the, 136, 199
- Morse, Frances, 10, 98, 100–2, 106, 108, 113, 115, 116, 203–5
- Münsterberg, Hugo, 72, 217
- Myers, F. W. H., 27, 61, 131, 167, 204
- mysticism, 122, 226
- naturalism, 128, 142, 235
 - and supernaturalism, 236, 238
 - reductive, 136, 232–3
 - refined, 200
 - religious, 135
 - scientific, 11, 232–3, 238
- nature, 221
- Notion, the, 173
- Novalis (Friedrich von Hardenberg), 29
- novelty, 42–3, 45, 195, 211
- object, as purely conceptual, 40
 - in field theory, 90
 - religious, 118
 - shared, 56
 - unexperienced, 51
- once-born, the, 120
- ontology, formally monistic, 36
 - and indeterminacy, 58
- opinion, ideal, 217–18, 221
- oppression, 238
- origin, and value, 134–5
- Otto, Rudolph, 37, 224
- over-beliefs, 136–8, 142
- panpsychism, 144–5, 152, 186–96
 - and God, 192–3
 - and intimacy, 161
 - and radical empiricism, 6, 145, 188
 - as spiritualistic philosophy, 187
 - in Gifford Lecture plan, 109
 - James's considerations of, 189–92, 227
 - moderate, “non-dualistic,” 194
 - pluralistic, 13, 57–8, 144–5, 161, 186, 192–6, 211
 - see also* pluralism
 - strong (idealistic), 187
 - weak (epiphenomenalist), 188
- pantheism, 152, 154, 163, 234
- particularity, 15
- Peirce, Charles Sanders, 15, 49, 50, 128, 216, 218, 221, 222, 231
- perception, selective nature of, 39
- percepts, 28, 41
 - as aconceptual, 39
 - as distinct from concepts, 39
 - known by an idea, 45
 - retroactive validating power of, 48
 - see also* concepts
- Perry, R. B., 4, 17, 52, 61–3, 97, 104, 149, 209
- phenomenalism, 211
- phenomenism, 84–5
- philosophy, 7, 202, 225–9
 - against religion, 113, 204
 - and James's shift from psychology, 61–2, 71–3
 - and living understanding, 186
 - Anglo-American, 206
 - as a discipline, 146, 206, 226, 235
 - assessed in relation to religion, 123–5, 203
 - criteria for, 151–62, 226
 - importance and reliability of, 38, 123
 - intimate, 158
 - materialistic, see materialism
 - mosaic, 59–60
 - of religion, 7, 224, 229–35
 - religious, 101, 107, 203, 234
 - spiritualistic, 152–5, 157, 172, 173, 185, 201, 235
 - see also* logic and radical empiricism
- physicalism, 232–3
- pictures, of the world, 154
- Pillon, François, 100, 104
- pluralism, and empiricism, 195
 - and monism 11, 192
 - and panpsychism, 145, 194–5
 - and rationality, 168, 195
 - elemental, 25
 - holistic, in Varieties, 114, 138
 - metaphysical, 59, 171

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More information

Index

253

- piecemeal, 196
 prospective, 59, 145, 196
 radical, 1, 2, 211
 religious, 200–1
Pluralistic Universe, A, 146–202
 as last sustained effort, 151
 pointing, 78–9
 of mental states, 139
 of religious states, 140
 Poirier, Richard, 214
 pragmatism, 49–57, 107, 205–23
 and action, 212
 and priority of thought, 212
 as James's Weltanschauung, 208
 as principle of meaning, 49–50, 54, 117, 149
 as subjectivist, 209
 as theory of truth, 54, 149, 206–23
 in relation to radical empiricism, 53, 207–8
 in Varieties, 138
 renaissance of, 214
 see also sociality, satisfaction, and truth
Pragmatism, 149, 153
 reception of, 146, 151, 182, 208, 212 prayer, 124–5
 Pringle-Pattison, Andrew Seth, 99–102, 105–7
 Proudfoot, Wayne, 232, 234
 psychical research, 189, 197–8 psychology, 61–82
 and dualism, 63, 139
 and metaphysics in Varieties, 126–30, 136 and psycho-physical principle, 64, 75 and religious facts, 130–7 and turn to metaphysics, 9, 61–2, 67, 71–3, 203 anticipating radical empiricism, 70 as natural science, 62–7
 as special science, 65–7, 130, 139
 associationist, 71, 74
 descriptive, 65
 dualistic, 108, 131, 137, 139
 metaphysical problems of, 67, 74, 130, 139–40, 174 “pure,” as modifier, 28–9, 35, 85 pure experience, 16, 24–31, 226–7 and Avenarius, 83–7
 and conversion, 140
 and field theory, 82–96, 140
 and panpsychism, 190–1
 and reality, 221
 and relations, 181
 and thought, 31
 anticipated in James's psychology, 70, 77, 81
 as conceptual and metaphysical, 26, 87–8 as conceptual placeholder, 24
 as dialectic, 183–5, 233
 as feeling/sensation, 28, 184
 as formally monistic and pluralistic, 24–5, 39, 195
 as functional in knowing, 30
 as limit conception, 43
 as phenomenological, 26, 184
 as “primal stuff,” 24, 183–4 as state of being and knowing, 35 as subjective and objective, 30, 184 early formulations, 80, 84, 85, 87
 first occurrence, 83–4
 in first intention, 36, 191
 in Gifford outline, 85
 taken discretely or collectively, 29–30, 35 the world of, 42, 211
 see also experience and radical empiricism pure experiences, abstract and concrete, 54
 pure experiencing, 36
 Putnam, Hilary, 204, 206, 208, 216–22
 radical empiricism, 9–60 1904–5 presentation, 4, 57
 and compounding of consciousness, 176, 178
 and intimacy, 154–9
 and panpsychism, 188, 195
 and social analogy, 59, 157
 and the field theory, 96, 176
 and Varieties, 138–45
 anticipated in James's psychology, 70
 as a federal republic, 235
 as a reflective view, 177
 as gothic, 1–2, 185, 205, 229
 as James's Weltanschauung, 9–14, 108, 152, 208, 211, 223–4, 226
 as mosaic philosophy, 59–60, 80, 184
 as pantheistic, 154, 164
 as philosophy of pure experience, 10 as pluralistic panpsychic view, 152, 154, 192–6, 200–1, 204, 227 congenial consequences of, 59 contributions to philosophy, 225–9 contributions to philosophy of religion, 229–35 contributions to theology, 235–41 early date for, 62, 73–83, 96, 204 emphasis on inclusiveness, 20, 211 incompleteness, 237
 in relation to pragmatism, 53, 207–8, 211
 James's arguments for, 162 objections to, 149, 150–1

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

David C. Lamberth

Index

More information

254

Index

- postulate, see radical empiricism, methodological thesis
- refined, 152, 182, 196, 200
- seven theses, 4–5, 14
 - factual thesis of reality of relations, 18–23, 79
 - see also* relations
 - functional account of direct acquaintance, 31–43
 - see also* direct acquaintance and knowing
 - functional account of knowledge about, 43–8
 - see also* knowledge about and knowing
 - metaphysical thesis of pure experience, 23–31
 - see also* pure experience
 - methodological thesis, 14–17, 34, 40, 76–7, 117
 - pragmatic conception of truth, 48–57
 - see also* pragmatism and truth
 - thesis of pluralistic panpsychism, 57–8, 194–6
 - see also* panpsychism
 - statement of fact, see relations
- Rankin, Henry W., 99, 100, 104
- rationalism, and preference for concepts, 172
 - and spiritualistic philosophy, 152, 172
 - and universals, 15
 - and vicious intellectualism, 164
 - critique of, 166
 - in Varieties, 113, 122–5
 - see also* empiricism
- rationality, and faith, 161–2, 200, 235
 - and intimacy, 155, 158
 - and irrationality, 158, 178–82
 - and logical validity, 163
 - and religion, 127, 143, 200
 - four kinds, and balance of, 166–7, 181–2, 185, 194–5, 227, 235
 - Hegelian, 158, 172
 - sentiment of, 119, 130, 200
- realism, and antirealism, 209–15
 - and pragmatism, 213
 - and truth, 215–23
 - direct, 174, 176, 208
 - epistemological, 210, 214, 216
 - minimalist, 215
 - naïve, 79, 231, 234
 - natural, 209
- reality, 182, 186
 - and logic, 179–81, 201–2
 - and second intention, 194
 - and truth, 42, 56, 208–10, 221–2
 - basic model of, 185
 - degree of, 138
 - dialectic movement in, 172, 186, 193–4, 221
 - feeling of, 41
 - independent, 210, 212, 221
 - living understanding of, 186, 221
 - sentiment of, 119
 - social character of, 57, 157, 204, 227, 236
- reason, 221
- reasonableness, philosophical, 114, 124
- reciprocity, 156
- reductivism, 227, 228, 231–3, 239
- reference, objective, 48, 92
- relations, 18–23, 156
 - and compounding of consciousness, 173, 177, 183
 - and knowledge about, 44, 79, 94
 - and intimacy, 156, 159
 - as parts of pure experience, 24, 181
 - cognitive, 32, 34, 45, 67, 72, 107
 - see also* knowing and knowledge about
 - conjunctive and disjunctive, 33, 80, 92, 181
 - and margins, 92
 - as given, 33, 80, 184
 - equal status of, 33, 183
 - excluded in direct acquaintance, 94
 - external, 44, 79, 181, 194
 - monoactive versus interactive, 156
 - of continuity, 89, 156, 181
 - social, 55, 156
 - themselves experiences, 33, 41
 - see also* radical empiricism, factual thesis of
- relativism, 217, 221
- religion, and alliance with empiricism, 152
 - and mystical experience, 224, 230
 - as humankind's function, 115
 - claims beyond psychology, 127–8, 134
 - common idea of, 129
 - differentiated from morality, 118
 - facts of, 143, 196–201
 - five salient features of, 116–18
 - James's summation of, 126–7
 - rationality of, 200
 - study of, 229, 235–6
 - truth of, 122, 136
 - validity of, 130
 - see also* life, religious
- Rickert, Heinrich, 217
- romanticism, 28–9
- “room experience,” 36–7
- Rorty, Richard, 206, 210–14
- Royce, Josiah, 52, 58, 99, 101, 106–9, 113, 157, 170, 187, 215, 216, 221
 - cat and King example, 164–5, 185
- Russell, Bertrand, 27, 209

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More informationIndex

255

- Sacks, Oliver, 142
 saintliness, 121–2
 salvation, 201, see also amelioration of the world satisfaction, as relative, 55 conception of, 54, 209, 211, 217
 Schiller, F. C. S., 10, 12, 106, 109, 138, 146, 149, 187, 206, 212
 Schleiermacher, F. D. E., 37, 230 science, and idealism, 186
 and religion, 128–30, 233
 natural, 62–7
 of religions, 125
 special, 65–7, 112
 Seigfried, Charlene Haddock, 215 self, subliminal, 134, 141 wider, 136–7, 141, 198–9
 see also subject, phenomenology of sensation, 28
 as aconceptual, 39
 selective nature of, 39
 senses, special, 119
 Seth, Andrew, see Pringle-Pattison sick-souled, the, 120
 Smith, Norman Kemp, 86
 social analogy, 157, 201
 sociality, and intimacy, 156
 in relation to pragmatism, 54–7, 209
socius, 157
 solipsism, 31, 57, 89, 93–4, 175–6, 211
 and panpsychism, 190
 and psychology, 139
 and wider self, 137
 soul, 17, 171
 spiritual judgments, 111–12
 and conversion, 133
 and mysticism, 122
 and philosophy, 123–4
 and religion, 127, 140, 142–3
 and saintliness, 121 criteria of, 114
 see also existential judgments
 Sprigge, T. L. S., 14, 27, 208, 216, 228 stream, 87, 88, 94
 of consciousness, 22, 87, 174
 of experience, 37, 46, 53, 87–8, 90–1, 191 of thought, 174, 175, 176
 Strong, Charles, 57, 187–90, 206, 209
 Stumpf, Carl, 72, 73, 106
 Sturt, Henry, 12
 subconscious, see subliminal subject, phenomenology of, 239
 subjectivism, charge of,
 and Pragmatism, 209, 210–11
 arguments against, 94, 143–4 subject/object distinction, 88
 subliminal, 132–3, 135–6, 141 substitution, 46–8
 and truth, 50–1
 superhuman consciousness, 196–202
 as finite, 197
 as panpsychic, 199
 monistic or pluralistic, 196–7, 199 probability of, 196–7, 200 supernaturalism, piecemeal, 6, 128, 137, 200, 203, 233
 and religious experience, 142, 200
 Taylor, Eugene, 62
 Taylor, Hudson, 104
 temperament, 152–3
 cynical and sympathetic, 152–3, 185, 201
 termini, and knowing, 46–8 theism
 dualistic, 154, 156, 167, 175, 234–5
 pluralistic, 168
 theology, 7, 175, 229–30, 235–41
 moral aspects of, 237–41 process, 224–5
 rational, 122, 124, 128, 240 theory, 115, 145, 182, 202
 critical, 238, 239
 heuristic, historical approach to, 224 thick and thin, distinguished, 174, 214, 233 thinking, as moral endeavor, 237 discursification of, 56 philosophical types of, 152–5 thought, critical, 231
 in relation to action, 212 novel power of, 40
 theoretic value of, 181–2
 thoughts, as additive to reality, 31, 56, 237 combination of, 73–4
 in relation to reality, 212 thought and thing, relation of, 36, 80, 83 and pure experiences, 40 time, 200
 “train window” metaphor, 90 transformation, see conversion transition, relation of, 34, 45 see also relations, cognitive trueness, 55, 220
 truth, 48–57, 205–23
 absolute, 17, 215–23
 and ideal opinion, 217–18, 221
 and intimacy, 159–60
 and truth claiming, 56, 122
 as an ideal, 216–17
 as collective opinion, 218
 as piecemeal and plural, 220

Cambridge University Press

052158163X - William James and the Metaphysics of Experience

Divid C. Lamberth

Index

More information

256

Index

- as practical judgment, 42
- feeling of, 41
- half and absolute, 216–17, 222–3
- meaning of, 222
- pragmatic conception of, 48–57, 149, 205–23
- production of, 55
- relativity of, 55, 213, 221
- significance of in James's thought, 205–9, 215
- sociality of, 54–7, 209
- theory of, see pragmatism, as theory of truth
- warrants for, 122
- truths, stock of, 53, 56, 93, 124, 217–18, 237
 - new, 56, 93, 222
- twice-born, 120

- Underhill, Evelyn, 224
- universe, block, 42, 169
 - incompleteness of, 241
 - piecemeal or strung-along, 169, 201, 240
 - social character of, 204
- unseen, the reality of, 119, 137, 142

- validity, see rationality
- value, 112
 - and origin, 111, 134–5
 - production of, 115
- Varieties of Religious Experience*, 97–145
 - and James's psychological stance, 137
 - and subjectivism, 143–4
 - and superhuman consciousness, 197–9
 - and types of religious individuals, 120–2
 - basic argument, 110–26
 - common reading of, 97, 143–4, 224
 - contents compared to outline, 102
 - limitation to individual experience, 116–17
 - metaphysical conclusions, 127–31
 - philosophical reading of, 107
 - psychological conclusions, 126–7
 - radically empiricist reading of, 62, 110, 138–45, 198–201
 - two tasks, 113, 115
 - see also* Gifford Lectures
- verification, 52
 - and field theory, 93
 - and intimacy, 159–60
 - and truth, 216–17, 220
 - cooperative, 56, 218
 - direct and indirect, 53, 209
 - experiences of, 55
- via media*, 214
- voluntarism, 120, 131

- Wainwright, William J., 230, 231
- West, Cornel, 24, 206, 211, 214–15, 219, 224
- whatness, 88
- Whitehead, Alfred North, 224
- Wieman, Henry Nelson, 224
- Wild, John, 27, 61, 87, 206, 229
- Woodbridge, F. J. E., 148
- world, influence of, on thought, 212
 - real, 228
 - shared, problem of, 43, 174–5, 176–7, 211
 - see also* consciousness, compounding of
- Wundt, Wilhelm, 63, 187

- Yandell, Keith, 231