

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index
More information

Index

---

- Abelson, Robert, 25
- aggregate policy mood measure, 259
- aggregate policy opinions, 219
- aggregate-level models, 226
- aggregates
  - autonomy of, 219
  - clarity of, 292
  - of individuals, 320
  - motion of, 279
  - political response to, 165
  - time series, 276
- aggregation. See also physical
  - aggregation
  - additive, 312
  - after modeling and estimation, 224
  - atomistic, 334
  - conceptual, 222, 235–6
  - importance of, 313–14
  - of individual, 259
  - levels of, 253–4
  - linear, 323
  - mechanisms of, 310–11
  - methods of, 308–9
  - in political behavior, 221
  - in political psychology, 221, 236
  - political relevance and, 236
  - prior to estimation, 227
  - relational, 222
  - temporal, 222
  - transparent, 335
- Agrees*, 68
  - Knows* correspondence with, 69
- AK High*
  - classification as, 73
- Opposes*, 76
- Supports*, 76
- AK Low*
  - classification as, 73
- AK Medium*
  - classification as, 73
- Opposes*, 77
- Supports*, 76
- Almond, Gabriel
  - on behavior, 98
  - on cross-national culture, 97
- Altermeyer, Bob
  - on authoritarianism, 33–4
- Althaus, Scott, 293
  - on opinion movement, 299
- American Journal of Political Science*, 155, 166
- American Political Science
  - Association, 306
  - political psychology section of, 158
- American Political Science Review*, 155, 166, 193
- American Voter*
  - attitude models constructed by, 36
- Anderson, J. A.
  - four-wave longitudinal study of, 141
- Anderson, Walter, 25
- anthropology
  - global culture sought through, 97
- anticipated reaction, 322
- Appleby, Joyce
  - on human thought, 105
- Aristotle, 57
  - on citizenship, 91

Index

- asymmetry hypothesis, 126
- attitude change theory
  - elite decision making pertinence of, 37
- Attitude Question
  - analysis of, 67–8
  - with cue, 64–5
  - with no cue, 64
  - speaker's cue and, 69
- attitude statements
  - of candidates, 124–5
- attitude theory
  - political psychology and, 25
  - of social psychology, 37
- attribution theory, 177
  - elite decision making pertinence of, 37
- authoritarianism, 33–4
- automatic activation processes, 196
- Avery, R. K.
  - four-wave longitudinal study of, 141
- babbling equilibrium, 83
- balance theory, 117
  - projection theory and, 118
- Bandura, Albert
  - behavior theory of, 34
- Barber, James David, 24
  - on presidents, 175
  - psychobiography and, 29
- Bargh, John A.
  - on autonomic activation processes, 196
- Bartels, Larry M., 116, 127, 155–6, 293
  - gross and net changes predicted by, 294–15
  - on media effects, 39
  - model of presidential vote choice, 299
- behaviorism, 28
- Berelson, Bernard
  - quantitative research of, 128
- Berent, M. K., 12
- Berkman, M. B., 125
- Beyond Self Interest (Mansbridge), 159
- Bianco, William
  - rational choice model of, 27
- Bolland, John
  - schema theory criticized by, 233–4
- Brabrooke, David, 104
- Brady, Henry
  - liability heuristic of, 168–9, 172, 174, 286–7
- Brennen, Geoffrey
  - on rational choice, 159
- Brody, Richard
  - on president approval ratings, 163
- Bruner, J. S., 117
- Cacioppo, John
  - on cognition, 85
  - ELM of, 58
- candidate evaluation, 190–1
  - accuracy of, 145
  - cognitive consistency linked to, 191
  - longitudinal data used to predict, 142
  - model of, 174
  - performance relevant criteria for, 290
  - through memory-based processing, 191
  - variance in, 139–6
- Carmines, Edward
  - on America's racial attitudes, 164
- causal hypothesis testing, 144
- Chaiken, Shelly
  - on autonomic activation processes, 196
  - on persuasion, 59
- children
  - emnification origins in, 30
  - political thinking in, 33
- Chong, Dennis
  - collective action model by, 160
  - rational choice model of, 27
- citizen preferences. See also preferences
  - and voting, 325
- citizenship, 89
  - civic activity in, 94
  - elements of, 91–2
  - focus groups' dialogues on, 100
  - in Great Britain, 90
  - ideal form of, 110
  - "identity" and, 93
  - individualism and, 99

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index
More information

Index

- individuals' meanings of, 92–3
- institutional contexts of, 106
- as key political topic, 109
- “membership” and, 92
- military service and, 95
- patriotism and, 93
- political identities and, 100
- political participation in, 94
- political thought of, 98
- post-World War II, 90
- “practice” of, 94
- as “social contract,” 91
- standardized terms for, 97–8
- study of, 111
- “understanding” and, 93–4
- in United States, 90
- civil rights, 93
- coding schemes, in focus groups, 101–2
- cognitive ability, 239–41
  - education distinguished from, 240
  - ideological neglect of, 239
  - practical neglect of, 239
  - sophistication distinguished from, 240
- cognitive complexity. See political sophistication
- cognitive consistency
  - asymmetry hypothesis of, 119, 121, 123
  - candidate evaluation linked to, 191
  - candidate perception and, 117–18
- cognitive consistency theory,
  - candidate perceptions and, 138
- cognitive dissonance theory, 117
  - elite decision making pertinence of, 37
  - projection theory and, 119
- cognitive inconsistency, candidate perception and, 117–18
- cognitive mechanisms, voter-responsibility and, 208–9
- cognitive mobilization, 283
- cognitive structure, 227
- cognitive structuredness, 227
  - measurement of, 229
- collective experience, individual life effected by, 323
- common factor model, 255
- comparative politics
  - difficulties in, 107
  - multiple conjunctural causation and, 108
  - as policy science, 109–11
  - political phenomena explained by, 103–4
  - systematic selection in, 108–9
- composition factors, dynamic
  - implications of, 324–5
- conformity
  - in decision-making groups, 36
  - in politics, 35
- congruity theory, 117
- Conover, Pamela Johnston, 3, 6–8, 133
  - asymmetry hypothesis tested by, 134–6
  - candidate perception analysis of, 172
  - emotions analyzed by, 169
  - on identity, 93
  - Q-methodology used by, 37
- containment theory, 171
- contextual explanations, as casual
  - explanations, 95
- control case model, 286
- Converse, Phillip E.
  - aggregate consequences suggested by, 292
  - at American Political Science Association panel, 306–7
  - on belief systems, 191
  - “ideology” argument of, 327
  - on individual's political views, 307
  - longitudinal data used by, 131–2
  - on nonattitudes, 206
  - on political cognition, 227
  - on sophistication of ordinary citizens, 282
- correlated measurement error, 126
- covariance structure models, 227
  - identification in, 232
  - of political attitude stability, 229f
  - of political attitude structure, 228f
  - removal of error in, 232
  - sample loss of, 230
- covariation structure model
  - cognitive responses to, 232

Index

- environmental variable control in, 232–3
- cross-sectional data
  - causal hypothesis tested using, 144
  - critiques of, 131
- cross-sectional studies
  - causal processes in yielding, 130
  - critique of, 122–3
  - on negative projection, 140
- cue persuasiveness
  - attribute-based explanations of, 75
  - giver attributes, 56, 59
  - low-cost, 56n5
  - process-based explanations of, 76
- cues
  - interest group, 296
  - simple, 295
- cultural studies, 243n19
- Dalton, Russel J.
  - on political information, 283n5
- Dawes, Robyn, 160
- Deliberative Polling, 297–8
  - results of, 299–300
- Delli Carpini, Michael X., 293
  - model of presidential vote choice, 299
- democracy
  - competence of citizens of, 206
  - deliberation in, 326
  - operations of, 210
  - opinion eliciting methods of, 332
  - presidential approval in, 190
  - public opinion in, 253
  - revision of, 334
  - world motion towards, 90
- Democrats
  - Republicans and, 231
- differential feedback, 324–6
- domestic policy mood, 253
  - all survey organizations estimates of, 261
  - global nature of, 255
  - GSS spending priority estimate of, 260
  - by self-identified liberalism-conservatism, 278f
  - survey organization series estimates of, 258f
- domestic policy preference, motion of, 279
- Donahue, Phil, 65, 67–8, 70–2
- Downs, Anthony, 116
- dummy variables, 70
  - test of exclusion of, 273f
- Eagly, Alice
  - on persuasion, 59
- Easton, David
  - political science defined by, 188–9
- ecological fallacy, 315
- education groups
  - incidence of meaningful and random response in, 266f
- Effect of Treatment*
  - agrees* and knows impacting, 71
  - Agrees* and Knows linked to, 74
  - AK movement increasing, 75
  - cues of, 71
  - feeling thermometers linked to, 74–5
  - persuasion measured by, 69
- Elaboration Likelihood Model. See ELM
- electoral behavior, 116
  - projection theory effecting, 120n2
- electoral turnout, predicting, 99
- elite decision making, theories
  - pertinent to, 37
- ELM, persuasion routes defined, 58
- emnification, 30
  - political genocide and, 31
- emotions
  - cognition and, 241
  - engagement, 317
  - political ramifications of, 169
- empirical studies, 115
- employment, liberals and
  - conservatives in, 288t
- European Union
  - citizenship in, 92
- experiments
  - design of, 55
  - formal models of, 53–4
  - limitations of, 52
  - prison spending, 66
  - purposes of, 53
  - on surveys, 64–6
  - uncontrollable sets of
    - circumstances in, 53n2
- expertise. See political sophistication

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index
More information

Index

- false consensus effect, 125, 127
  - theoretical explanations of, 209
- feeling thermometers
  - Effect of Treatment linked to*, 74–5
  - persuasiveness measured by, 76
- Feldman, Stanley, 133
  - asymmetry hypothesis tested by, 134–6
  - on attitudes, 330
  - candidate perception analysis of, 172
  - emotions analyzed by, 169
  - Q-methodology used by, 37
- Fishbein, Martin, 127
- focus groups
  - coding scheme in, 101–2
  - dialog on citizenship, 100
  - drawbacks to, 102
  - in Great Britain, 101
  - “mildly directive” nature of, 101
  - in United States, 101
- formal modeling, 4, 53
  - of communication, 60, 63n12
  - empirical foundations of
    - psychology and, 77–8
  - equilibrium of, 79–84
  - on persuasion, 59–60
  - persuasion premises in, 60
  - of political communication, 56–7
  - predictions on persuasion
    - determined by, 61–2
  - probabilistic choices in, 79
  - purpose of, 54
  - validity of, 55
- framing, 324
- Freud, Sigmund
  - political theory of, 28
- full information, 293–4
- fully aggregated policy mood series, 264
- Gallup-Thorndike Verbal Intelligence Test, 266–7
- Gamson, William
  - peer group format of, 102
- Gaudet, H.
  - quantitative research of, 128
- General Social Survey (GSS), 15, 239, 276
  - aggregation of, 254
  - domestic spending items of, 278n9
  - individual data of, 254
  - leverage provided by, 258
  - measured policy preferences of, 258
  - measures available in, 269
  - policy mood measured by, 260
  - spending priorities of, 259
- George, Alexander
  - Woodrow Wilson analyzed by, 29
- George, Juliette
  - Woodrow Wilson analyzed by, 29
- global policy perspective
  - as common factor model, 255
- Globetti, Suzanne, 293
  - gross and net changes by, 294n15
  - on sophistication, 300
- Googin, Malcolm, 125
- Govender, Rajen
  - on autonomic activation processes, 196
- Granberg, Donald
  - on perspective effects, 123n3
  - rational democratic coefficient of, 129–30
  - voter-candidate similarity predicted by, 132–3
  - on voting behavior, 176–7
- Granger test, 275
- Great Britain
  - citizenship in, 90
  - focus groups in, 101
  - national identity in, 100
- Green, Donald
  - mass preferences article by, 159
- Greenstein, Fred, 24
- groupthink theory, 178
- Hamil, Ruth
  - on schema theory, 37
- Hamilton, V. Lee
  - attributions analyzed by, 177–8
- Hastie, Reid
  - on decision-making, 190–1
- Heider, Fritz
  - balance theory of, 118
- Heiderian triads, 12
- Hershey, Marjorie Randon
  - on social learning theory, 33
- Hobbes, Thomas
  - on citizenship, 91

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index

More information

Index

- Hochschild, Jennifer interviewing method of, 283
 Holmberg, Soren
   on perspective effects, 123n3 rational democratic coefficient of, 129–30
   on voting behavior, 176–7
 Hovland, Carl, 57 human development, 25, 32–40 needs, 31–2
 Hurley, Norman L. on racial difference, 224
- importance-memory relation, 208 individual preferences. See also preferences transformed into public outcome, 320 individual-level cognition, 285 aggregate measurement of, 230 individual-level relationships “ecological fallacy” and, 224–5 information processing dual-process models of, 39
 Inglehart, Ronald, 32
   on cross-national culture, 97
 institutions citizenship attitudes taught in, 106 learning in, 105–6 macrolevel causal explanations of, 106 integrative complexity political elites studied in, 178–9 interdisciplinary research, 41 Interest Question, 65–6 analysis of, 67–8
   responses to, 68t
   variables derived from, 77
 interpersonal communications, 317 Iyengar, Shanto
   gulf war study by, 203–5
   on media effects, 39
   news media priming studies of, 202
- Janis, Irving L., 25, 57 on conformity, 36 on groupthink, 178
 Johnson, Lyndon, 125
 Jones, Bryan rational choice model of, 27
- Jones, C. C. nonrecursive structural equation
     model of, 128
Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, 155, 193, 203
 Judd, Charles on political candidate judgments, 176 on political expertise, 175–6 judgment formation memory’s role in, 38
   sociotropic, 38
- Kahneman, Daniel, 194–5
 Keen, Sam
   on emnification, 30–1
 Keeter, Scott, 293
   model of presidential vote choice, 299
 Kelley, Harold, 57
 Kinder, Donald R.
   gulf war study by, 203–5
   on media effects, 39
   news media priming studies of, 202 on sociotropic politics, 189–90
 King, M.
   voter-candidate similarity predicted by, 132–3
 Klapper, Joseph on persuasiveness, 58 Kleugel, James R. on inequality, 177
 Knowledge Question, 65–6 analysis of, 67–8
   responses to, 68t
   variables derived from, 77
Knows, 68
   Agrees correspondence with, 69
 Knutson, Jeanne, 25
   humanistic psychology applied by, 31–2
 Krosnick, Jon A., 8–9, 11–13 candidate perception accuracy of, 145–6 candidate perception analyzed by, 142–3
   gulf war study by, 203–5
   news media priming studies of, 202
 Kuklinski, James H., 169
   on racial difference, 224
   schema theory criticized by, 233–4

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index
More information

Index

- Lane, Robert, 16, 24
   at American Political Science Association panel, 306–7
   on individual's political views, 307
   interviewing method of, 282
   on political science, 189 on political thinking, 30
- Langer, Walter report on Hitler by, 29
- Larson, Deborah
   on elite decision making, 37
- Larson, Stephanie
   candidate perception accuracy of, 146
- Lasswell, Harold, 24 on Freud, 28
- Lau, Richard R. on NES respondent voting, 296–7
- Lazarsfeld, Paul quantitative research of, 128
- Lemma I proof of, 82
- Limbaugh, Rush, 65, 67–8, 70–2
- linear association method candidate perception and, 141 positive projection tested by, 137–8 problems with, 137–41
- Locke, John
   on citizenship, 91
- Lodge, Milton
   on candidate evaluation, 190–1 individual-level cognitive mappings of, 234 on judgment formation, 38
   on schema theory, 37 political cognition studies of, 172–3
- Lomasky, Loren
   on rational choice, 159
- longitudinal data analysis of, 131
   candidate perceptions predicted by, 133, 142
   GSS and, 254
   nonlinear measures used for, 141–3 political connotation shifts and, 274 projection tested using, 135
- Lupia, Arthur, 3–4 on auto insurance, 294–5 experiments of, 292 persuasion model of, 59–60 voting models of, 286
- Lusk, Cynthia M.
   on political candidate judgments, 176
   on political expertise, 175–6
- Luskin, Robert C., 13–14, 16–17, 293 gross and net changes predicted by, 294n15 schema theory criticized by, 233–4
   on sophistication, 300
- MacKuen, Michael B., 16–19
   on anxiety, 224
   on political cognition, 26–7
- macrobehavior
   emergent properties, 335 microbehavior's relationship to, 307
- macrocollectivity transforming mechanisms and, 320
- macrocontexts, explanations for, 103
- macroentity, composition of, 310–11
- macroenvironment, influence on individuals of, 318
- macromirror collectivity reflected by, 321 simple model of, 322
- macromovements, attentiveness and, 316
- macrophenomena as concepts, 320
   microbehavior and, 319–24 microbehavior linked to, 324
- macropolitical science, 309–10
- macropolitical system, social cues rooted in, 322
- macropolitics
   fractionation of ideology and, 328 microenvironment effected by, 326
- macropolity
   as instrumental construct, 321 mental constructs affecting, 323
- Madsen, Douglas
   on political authority, 34
- Maher, Kristen, 26
- Marcus, George E.
   on anxiety, 224
   emotions analyzed by, 169
   on political cognition, 26–7

Index

- marginal behavior
  - typical behavior Vs, 315–18
- Markus, Gregory
  - linear association used by, 137
  - longitudinal data used by, 131–2
- Martinez, Michael
  - analytic approach problems of, 136–7
  - asymmetry hypothesis tested by, 134–6
  - candidate perceptions analyzed by, 136
- Maslow, Abraham
  - on human needs, 31–2
  - psychodynamic theories of, 97
- mass communication, cue persuasion in, 62–4
- mass media
  - “minimal effects” hypothesis on, 39
- mass political cognition, literature on, 171
- Masters, Roger, 26
- McCubbins, Matthew
  - persuasion model of, 59–60
- McDermott, Rose, 26
- McGraw, Kathleen M.
  - on candidate evaluation, 190–1
  - individual-level cognitive mappings of, 234
- McGuire, William J., 191
  - on history of political psychology, 23–4
  - on persuasion, 58
- measurement, politics of, 329–30
- mechanisms
  - electoral, 329
  - micro-macro, 334
  - natural, 329
- media, political judgments effected by, 202–5
- memory
  - associative network model of, 202
  - judgment formation effected by, 38
- memory-based processing, 173–4, 190–1
  - candidate evaluation through, 191
  - on-line processing Vs, 237–8
- microbehavior
  - macrobehavior’s relationship to, 307
- macrophenomena linked to, 324
- macrophenomena’s importance for, 319–24
- microenvironment, macropolitics
  - effecting, 326
- micro-macro gap, 16
  - compositional factors of, 314–15
  - emergent properties of, 311
  - factors constituting, 308
  - linkages of, 310
  - nonlinearities in, 333–6
  - partisanship and presidential approval in, 317–18
  - political meaning stemming from, 332–3
  - political psychology bridging, 306
  - politics of, 324–9
  - reconsideration of, 332–6
  - standard model for, 312–13
- micro-macro modeling, 309
- micropolitical science, 309–10
- Middlestadt, Susan, 127
- Mill, John Stuart
  - method of agreement of, 107
- Miller, M. M.
  - voter-candidate similarity predicted by, 132–3
- mixed-strategy equilibrium, 82
- Monroe, Kristen, 26
- moral development, 25
  - political thought linked to, 32–3
- Multi-Investor Study, 64
  - “need for cognition” questions of, 85–6
- multiple conjunctural causation, 107
  - comparative method and, 108
- multiple-indicator structural equation model, 126
- Nadeau, Richard, 26
- National Election Studies (NES), 166
  - standard 7-point scales of, 285
- National Election Study (NES)
  - survey, 120, 200, 206
  - policy items in 1976, 230
- National Opinion Research Center, 239, 267n4
- natural science, advances in, 97
- needs hierarchy, 25

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index
More information

Index

- Nelson, Thomas, 169
 New Deal issue cluster five issue tracks from, 256f Noelle-Neumann, Elisabeth on German politics, 35 nonadditive model, 225 nonlinear politics, 334–5 nonneologicistic equilibrium, 81
 nonrecursive structural equation model, 128 of electoral choice, 131 normatively correct vote, 220
- offhand processing serious processing vs, 237–9
- Oliner, Pearl
   on the Holocaust, 34
- Oliner, Samuel
   on the Holocaust, 34
- on-line processing, 5, 172–3, 190–1 critiques of, 173
   memory-based processing vs, 237–8
- Opinion Question
   agrees or knows responses to, 70t analysis of, 67–8
   ideological similarity, agrees, and knows, 73 response separated by agrees and knows, 72t
   responses to, 67t
   separated by feeling thermometer,
     Agrees, and Knows, 75t
Opposes Thermometer, 85
Opposes/Different Ideology, 85
Opposes/Different Party, 85
Opposes/Low Involvement, 86
- Orbell, John, 160
- Oskamp, Stuart psychological models used by, 171
- Ostrom, Elinor, 160
- Ostrom, Thomas
   on perspective effects, 123n3
- Ottati, Victor, 127
- Page, Benjamin, 116, 125 “communicator credibility” used by, 164
   nonrecursive structural equation
     model of, 128
   on public opinion, 163–4
- Panglossian line shift of, 284
- parallel distributed processing models, 235
- Park, Bernadette
   on decision-making, 190–1
- Parsonian structural-functional analysis, 97
- partisanship, 317–18
- party identification, 200–1
- patriotism, citizenship and, 93
- Peng, Yali
   on political psychology growth, 158
- perfect Bayesian equilibrium
   Lemma for, 84
   nonbabbling, nonneologicistic, 81, 83 proof from, 81–2, 84 strategy profiles as, 80–1 theorem for, 84–5 theoretical results derived from, 80
- personality psychology, 25
- persuasion, 51 alternative explanations for, 73–7 asymmetry and, 124 central route of, 58
   cognition and, 85
   common interests’ effects on, 74 conflicting interests in, 63 corrections for, 128
   empirical model for, 85 formal model of, 59–60 formal modeling premises concerning, 60 formal modeling to predict, 61–2 ideological similarity’s effect on, 73–4
   “likability heuristic” of, 74 mass communication and, 62–4 multivariate analyses of experimental data on, 78t peripheral route of, 58 policy-based evaluation and, 129 positive associations produced by, 124 problem of, 55–7 projection separated from, 143 seminal insights into, 57–9 sophistication and message type interaction in, 223

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index
More information

Index

- third-party, 63–4
- Petty, Richard
  - on cognition, 85
  - ELM of, 58
- physical aggregation. See also
  - aggregation
  - individual-level error canceled by, 284–5
  - in mean locations, 287
- policy attitude, 206–10
  - vote choice models and, 299
  - vs full-information, 293
- policy based evaluation, 118
- policy mood. See also domestic policy mood
  - baseline model of, 261, 264
  - cross-sectional explanatory variable and time dummy variable regression, 172t
  - elections effected by, 336
  - explanation of, 269–71
  - factor score estimation of, 273
  - of four education groups, 263f
  - identification linked to, 277–8
  - ideology's association with, 274–5
  - and liberal-conservative self-identification, 274f
  - longitudinal variation in, 269–71
  - micro foundation of, 268–9
  - micro view of, 257–60
  - nonattitudes and, 262–9
  - opinion elite conception of, 261, 265
  - peripheral voter model of, 262
  - regressions of, 264t
  - self-identification and, 271
  - by vocabulary knowledge test, 267f
- policy preferences. See also preferences
  - increased sophistication moving, 300–1
  - models of, 298–9
  - parallel motion of, 257
- policy-based evaluation, 123
  - corrections for, 128
  - persuasion and, 129
  - positive associations produced by, 124
- political attitude
  - branching and labeling of, 199–201
  - crystallization of, 229
  - format changes in, 209
  - importance of, 207
  - linked to psychological phenomena, 209
  - measurement of, 199–201
  - of ordinary citizens, 217
  - social psychology and, 36
  - structuring of, 37
- political behavior
  - aggregation in, 221
  - antipathies towards, 221
  - contextual, 318
  - cross-national studies of, 102
  - emotions effecting, 169
  - explanatory models of, 222
  - literature on, 199
  - on-line processing and, 173–4
  - of ordinary citizens, 217
  - political psychology distinguished from, 218
  - political psychology overlapping with, 217
  - political psychology's interaction with, 223
  - predicting, 98–9
  - reasons for studying, 242–4
  - “taste” in, 218
  - universal laws of, 96
  - values in, 219–20
- political cognition. See political sophistication
- political contexts
  - potential causal processes identified through, 198
  - psychological research and, 199
  - uncertainty common to, 60
- political culture, 331
  - anthropological-sociological definitions of, 96
  - constructed as variable, 98
  - importance of, 309n2
  - institutional learning shaped by, 105–6
  - political behavior predicted by, 99
  - rethinking, 96–100
  - taxonomic misconceptions in, 97
- political elites
  - integrative complexities studies of, 178–9

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index

More information

Index

- macro-level movements arising
  - from, 261–2
  - role of in political psychology, 164
  - study of, 170
- political genocide, 175
  - ennification and, 31
- political phenomena
  - comparative politics and, 103
  - explaining, 110
  - general models for, 103
  - psychological nature of, 195–6
- political psychology. See also political science, psychological political science
  - aggregate models of, 221
  - aggregate opinion in, 14–19
  - aggregation in, 221, 236
  - antipathies towards, 221
  - articles published on, 156–7
  - attitude theory focus of, 25
  - benefits of, 198
  - of citizenship, 89
  - as comparative enterprise, 110
  - comparative method for, 106–9
  - consciousness and, 333
  - critique of, 163–8
  - cross-national studies of, 102
  - cross-sectional data in, 8
  - cue-taking in, 59
  - defining, 2–3
  - depoliticization in, 165–6
  - disaggregate variables distinct to, 236
  - as “division of labor” enterprise, 308
  - empirical foundations of, 79
  - empirical research in, 187
  - as enterprise, 187
  - envelope expansion of, 89
  - experiments in, 54–5
  - explanatory models of, 222
  - focus of, 24
  - formalization in, 5
  - fundamental sociality of people’s, 331
  - gains from trade in, 54–5
  - generational change and, 161
  - genuine, 194–9
  - growth of, 155–61
  - history of, 23–8, 115
  - human cognition focus of, 25
  - humanistic, 25
  - illustrations of, 199–210
  - individual and polity joined
    - through, 306
  - individuals analyzed in, 165
  - inference methods in, 52
  - interdisciplinary research in, 179–80
  - interdisciplinary teams in, 211–12
  - intramural reservations about, 223
  - linear models in, 334
  - mass media hypothesis of, 39
  - “mass society” envisioned by, 318
  - micro-macro gap bridged by, 306
  - microlevel investigations of, 103
  - model diversity in, 40
  - modern, 167–8
  - opinion changes and, 335
  - paradigm shifts in, 115
  - political action basis of, 40n8
  - political behavior distinguished
    - from, 218
  - political behavior overlapping with, 217
  - political behavior’s interaction
    - with, 223
  - political culture studies in, 96
  - political elites studied in, 170
  - political science and, 19
  - political science differentiated from, 189
  - political science linked to, 193
  - political sophistication and, 281
  - “politics” in, 162, 167
  - popular culture infiltrated by, 160
  - priming effects in, 202–3
  - projection hypothesis of, 116
  - psychoanalysis and, 28
  - psychological nature of, 188–92
  - psychological theory reformation
    - in, 175
  - psychology benefiting from, 199
  - psychology-politics nexus of, 9–14
  - publishing works on, 211
  - rational choice theory linked to, 51–2, 79
  - reasons for studying, 242–4
  - reductionism of, 167, 311–12
  - research agendas of, 40–1
  - role of elites in, 164
  - schema theory and, 25, 233

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index

More information

Index

- scholarship in, 162
- social psychology and, 35
- “taste” in, 218
- theory and context of, 3–9
- “three eras” of, 23–4
- typology of work in, 170–9
- values in, 219–20
- variables from, 233
- political science. See also political psychology, psychological political science
  - articles published on, 156f, 157t
  - benefiting from psychology, 194
  - branching and labeling benefiting, 201
  - definitions of, 188–9
  - experimentation in, 166
  - journals on, 157
  - literature of, 198
  - low-cost cues in, 56
  - political psychology differentiated from, 189
  - political psychology linked to, 193
  - political psychology’s impact on, 308
  - projection hypothesis and, 145
  - psychological political science differentiated from, 210
  - psychological process analyzed in, 195–6
  - psychology benefiting from, 199
  - publishing works on, 211
  - research methods in, 197
  - social cognition focus of, 26
  - validity of public issue notion in, 206–7
- political socialization, 332
- political sophistication, 26–7, 220, 222, 235–6, 291
  - education’s direct effects on, 240
  - election outcomes and, 315–16
  - in electorate, 326
  - gauging, 283
  - “how much” and “how” of, 237
  - increases in, 282
  - knowledge use in, 171
  - knowledge-based measure of, 231
  - mean by placement type, 289t
  - news media effects on, 202–3
  - policy preferences and, 292, 300–1
  - political psychology and, 281
  - schema theory and, 237
- political thought
  - contextual study of, 99, 104–5
  - institutions’ effects on, 104–5
  - micro models for, 104
  - nature of, 330–1
- postmodernism, 243n19
- Pratto, Felicia
  - on autonomic activation processes, 196
- preferences. See also civic preferences, policy preferences, public preferences
  - of GSS, 258
  - liberal policy, 270
  - in macroenvironments, 36
  - mass public changes in, 316
  - in microenvironments, 36
  - motion of, 276
  - policy, 279
  - systematic movements of, 260
- priming effects, 324
  - knowledge structures facilitating, 205
  - recent psychological studies on, 205
  - stimuli, 205
  - used in political psychology, 202–4
- prison spending
  - experiments on, 66
  - “prior involvement” hypothesis on, 86
- processing modes
  - nonadditive dependence on sophistication, 238
- projection. See also projection theory
  - cross-sectional studies of, 140
  - with high importance at scale extremes, 141f
  - implications of, 144–7
  - linear association method for testing, 137–8
  - negative, 141
  - persuasion separated from, 143
  - projection theory, 115–19. See also projection
    - balance theory and, 118

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index

More information

Index

- biased results of, 126
- candidate perceptions and, 136
- cognitive dissonance theory and, 119
- cross-sectional tests of, 120–1
- electoral behavior and, 120n2
- findings of, 143
- impediments to tests of, 144
- mechanisms of, 119
- negative association resulting from, 121
- negative projection onto disliked candidates, 139f
- perspective effects on, 122–3
- policy-based evaluation and persuasion, 123–4
- political science's views on, 145
- positive association resulting from, 121
- psychoanalysis
  - behavioristic approach to, 24
  - political psychology and, 28–32
  - war studies and, 30
- psychobiography, 29
- psychogenic process, 30
- psychological aggregation
  - ignorance obscured by, 284–5
- psychological aggregation. See also
  - aggregation, physical
  - aggregation
  - functions of, 290
  - television and, 241–2
- psychological disaggregation
  - illusions fostered by, 290
  - schema theory and, 290
- psychological political science, 219
  - asymmetric interests in, 192–4
  - attitude importance and, 210
  - definition of, 189
  - forms of, 189–90
  - interdisciplinary teams in, 211–12
  - interest in, 192
  - measurement approaches and, 201
  - news media priming as, 201–2
  - political science differentiated from, 210
- psychological research
  - hallmarks, 197–8
  - laboratory experiments in, 197
  - political contexts and, 199
  - “priming” in, 202
- psychosexual development, 25
- public judgments
  - as summation of individual judgments, 319
- public opinion
  - of “cognitive miser,” 255
  - government and, 307
  - macro theoretic connections on, 253
  - parallel, 256–7
  - polls on, 312–13
  - private considerations translated into, 319
  - profound changes in, 317
  - into public policy decisions, 257
  - shifts in, 257, 260–2
  - systematic change of, 265
  - systemic elicitation of, 331–2
- Public Opinion in America, 15
- public preferences. See also
  - preferences
  - voting results as simplification for, 314
- public psychology
  - politics as, 329–32
- Q-methodology, 37
- quantification
  - political behaviorists emphasis on, 24
- Quattrone, George A., 26
- Ragin, Charles
  - on multiple conjunctural causation, 107–8
- Rahn, Wendy M., 2, 9–12
- rational choice models, 26
  - psychology-based, 27
- rational choice theory, 5, 79
  - articles published on, 156
  - experiments in, 54–5
  - gains from trade in, 54–5
  - inference methods in, 52
  - logical requirements of, 77–8
  - persuasion research and, 57
  - political psychology linked to, 51–2, 79
  - privileged position of, 159

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index

More information

Index

- psychological assumptions in, 160
- rational democratic coefficient
  - policy-based evaluation
    - underestimated by, 129
- Rational Lives* (Chong), 27
- rational reaction model, 323
- reality changes, 317
- Redlawsk, David P.
  - on NES respondent voting, 296–7
- referendum voting
  - costly entry model of, 286
  - endorsement model of, 286
- Republicans
  - Democrats and, 231
- Riker, William
  - on social choice, 169
- Rosenberg, Shawn, 26
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques
  - on citizenship, 91
- Rudolph, Thomas J., 2, 9–12
- schema theory, 171
  - “cognitive miser” metaphor in, 39
  - cognitive structure of, 233
  - criticism of, 233–4
  - elite decision making pertinence of, 37
  - “motivated tactician” metaphor in, 39
  - new instrumentation of, 234n14
  - political cognition and, 237
  - political psychology and, 25
  - psychological aggregation and, 290
- Schweder, Richard
  - on contextual thought, 95
- Searing, Donald D., 3, 6–8
- Sears, David O., 25–6
  - on symbolic politics, 178
- selective elaboration, 207–8
- selective exposure, 207–8
- self-identification
  - bivariate regression of, 276
  - categories of, 277
  - as ideological measure, 277
  - longitudinal movement of, 271
  - policy mood and, 276f
  - policy mood association with, 274–5
  - policy mood linked to, 277–8
  - policy preferences and, 275
- self-perception theory
  - elite decision making pertinence of, 37
- serious processing
  - offhand processing vs, 237–9
- Shaffer, S. D.
  - Heiderian triads constructed by, 142
- Shapiro, Robert
  - “communicator credibility” used by, 164
  - on public opinion, 163–4
- Shepsle, Kenneth, 116
- Simon, Herbert, 26
- Smith, Eliot
  - on inequality, 177
- Smith, Eric R. A. N.
  - on levels of conceptualization, 282n2
- Smith, Joseph
  - attributions analyzed by, 177–8
- Sniderman, Paul
  - likability heuristic of, 168–9, 172, 174, 286–7
- Snow, Peter
  - on political authority, 34
- social cognition, 26, 193
  - knowledge use in, 171
  - literature on, 176
  - political applications of, 172
- social contexts
  - regulating variables identified through, 108
- social influence processes, structural
  - form of, 318
- social interactions
  - artificial hegemony of, 319
  - spiral of silence of, 319
- social judgment theory, 162, 195
- social learning theory, 33–4
- social psychology, 24
  - attitude theory of, 25, 37
  - conformity studies of, 35
  - judgment moderation in, 175–6
  - political attitude and, 36
  - political nature of, 195
  - political psychology and, 35
  - political science literature on, 40
  - recent publications in, 193
  - textbooks on, 195

Cambridge University Press
 0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
 Edited by James H. Kuklinski
 Index
More information

Index

- social science
  - descriptive categories in, 98
  - models of democracy of, 111
  - recent change in, 180
- sociotropic politics, 189–90
- Staub, Ervin
  - on genocide, 175
  - on war, 30
- stereotypes, necessity of, 327
- Stimson, James A., 15–16
  - on aggregations, 165
  - on America's racial attitudes, 164
- stimulus objects, judgment and, 175–6
- Stony Brook School, 10, 26, 38
  - reductionism of, 167
  - research program of, 166
- Stouffer, Samuel
  - survey tradition of, 94
- strategy profiles
  - as perfect Bayesian equilibrium, 80–1
  - rational, 81, 83
- Stroh, Patrick
  - on candidate evaluation, 190–1
- Sullivan, Dennis, 26
- Sullivan, John L., 2, 9–12
- Summer Institute in Political Psychology, 158, 211
  - enrollment in, 192t
- Supports Thermometer*, 85–6
- Supports/Different Ideology*, 85
- Supports/Different Party*, 85
- Supports/Same Ideology*, 85
- Supports/Same Party*, 85
- Sweden
  - voting behavior in, 176–7
- Swindel, S. H.
  - voter-candidate similarity predicted by, 132–3
- symbolic ideology
  - of liberal-conservative, 328
- symbolic politics, 178
- systems theory
  - political regime stability explained by, 170
- television, politics portrayed by, 241
- temporal aggregation, 239. See also aggregation
  - emotional responses and, 241
- Tetlock, Phillip
  - dual-process models employed by, 179
  - integrative complexity researched by, 178–9
- The American Voter*
  - levels of conceptualization of, 282
- The Civic Culture* (Almond and Verba), 97
- The Nature and Origins of Mass Opinion* (Zaller), 5
- The Reasoning Voter* (Popkin), 298
- Tocqueville, Alexis de
  - “reflective patriotism” of, 93
- Tversky, Amos, 26, 194–5
- Tyler, Tom
  - psychology of legitimacy model by, 170, 178
- typical behavior
  - marginal behavior vs, 315–18
- United States
  - citizenship in, 90
  - collective reconstruction of, 159
  - focus groups in, 101
  - individualistic tilt of, 220
  - national identity in, 100
  - political knowledge of citizens of, 283–4
  - presidential approval in, 190
  - voting behavior in, 176–7
- University of California
  - Survey Research Center of, 64
- Upshaw, Harry
  - on perspective effects, 123n3
- values
  - objective interests and, 220–1
  - in political behavior, 219–20, 220–1
  - in political psychology, 219–20
- Verba, Sidney
  - on behavior, 98
  - on cross-national culture, 97
  - on political culture, 99
- verbal labeling, 199–201
- vocabulary skills groups, 267
  - estimated meaningful and random response for, 268f
  - types of, 268

Cambridge University Press
0521593778 - Thinking about Political Psychology
Edited by James H. Kuklinski
Index
More information

---

Index

- Volkan, Vamik
  - on enemies, 30
- Woodrow Wilson Award, 158
- Wright, G. C., 125
- Yale Communication and Attitude Change Program, on persuasion, 57
- Zajonc, Robert B.
  - on emotion, 241
- Zaller, John, 5
  - on attitudes, 330
  - opinion formation studied by, 175
  - on political attitudes, 191
  - “political awareness” measured by, 235–6
  - on political elites, 164
  - on public opinion, 164
- Zimbardo, P. G., on psychology, 188