To Edward Greenwood for three decades of instruction and hilarity
Contents

Acknowledgements x

Introduction: Wittgenstein on explanation and self-clarification 1

1 Information, contemplation and social life 19

2 Aesthetic explanation and aesthetic perplexity 47

3 Wittgenstein and the Fire-festivals 80

4 When do empirical methods by-pass ‘the problems which trouble us’? 107

5 Explanation, self-clarification and solace 128

6 Wittgenstein on making homeopathic magic clear 155

7 Wittgenstein and obscurantism 183

8 Wittgenstein on Freud’s ‘abominable mess’ 206

9 Congenital transcendentalism and ‘the loneliness which is the truth about things’ 235

AFTERWORD 253

10 Explanation and self-clarification in Frazer 255

11 Explanation and self-clarification in Freud 264

12 Conclusion: two cheers for the coroner’s report 301

Index 305
Acknowledgements

I want to thank for their help and support my wife, Nalini, my nephew Sagar Nair, and my colleagues David Ellis and Nick Bunin.