

Contents

Acknowledgments	page ix
1 Political culture and industrial rationality	1
Introduction	1
Political realism	5
Economic realism	7
Institutional realism	9
Culture and meaning in modern states	10
Institutionalized meaning systems	12
Rationalized meaning systems	15
Vocabulary for a cultural approach to policy	18
The argument	19
Political culture	22
Emergent industrial culture	23
Conclusion	26
2 The United States	28
Introduction	28
American state structure	30
Railway policy	35
Planning	36
State and local planning	36
Federal planning	38
Finance	40
State and local aid	40
Federal promotion	49
Technical and managerial coordination	59
Pricing and competition	64
State regulation	66
Federal regulation	75
Conclusion	91

Cambridge University Press

052162990X - Forging Industrial Policy: The United States, Britain, and France in the Railway Age

Frank Dobbin

Table of Contents

More information

viii	Contents
3	France	95
	Introduction	95
	French state structure	97
	French railway policy	103
	Planning	105
	Early state planning: 1823–1833	105
	The maturation of public planning	108
	Finance	116
	The debate: Should the railways be public or private?	117
	The compromise: Mixed construction and private operation	123
	Technical and managerial coordination	132
	The early franchises	132
	The expansion of state controls	135
	Pricing and competition	141
	Early rate-setting	142
	Industry structure and competition	144
	The maturation of pricing and competition policy	147
	Conclusion	153
4	Britain	158
	Introduction	158
	British state structure	160
	Railway policy	165
	Planning	166
	The battle over expropriation	167
	Finance	175
	Technical and managerial coordination	178
	Safety	180
	Operations, gauge, scheduling, and time	192
	Pricing and competition	196
	Rates	197
	Competition	199
	Conclusion	208
5	Conclusion	213
	Introduction	213
	The rise of industrial policy paradigms	214
	Culture and rationality	217

Cambridge University Press

052162990X - Forging Industrial Policy: The United States, Britain, and France in the Railway Age

Frank Dobbin

Table of Contents

More information

Contents	ix
Politics and rationality	218
Are interest groups primordial or constructed?	219
Are interests objective or subjective?	219
Does the strongest group always win?	220
Economics and rationality	222
Economics as a natural science	222
The social origins of economic principles	224
Institutions and rationality	227
Conclusion	230
Bibliography	233
Index	255