

Contents

Preface	page ix
A note on primary sources	xi
 Introduction	 1
1 Town–country struggles in development: A brief overview of existing theories	10
2 Nehru’s agricultural policy: A reconstruction (1947–1964)	28
3 Policy change in the mid-1960s	48
4 The rise of agrarian power in the 1970s	81
5 Organizing the countryside in the 1980s	113
6 Has rural India lost out?	146
7 The paradoxes of power and the intricacies of economic policy	174
8 Democracy and the countryside	191
 Appendix: Liberal trade regimes, border prices, and Indian agriculture	 203
Index	207