

CONTENTS

List of figures	page vii
Acknowledgments	viii
Introduction	1
PART I CATHOLIC AND PROTESTANT INTOLERANCE IN THE LATER SEVENTEENTH CENTURY	15
1 Catholic intolerance, its representations in England, c. 1678–86, and Locke’s Second Treatise	17
2 Catholic intolerance and the significance of its representations in England, Ireland, and the Netherlands, c. 1687–92	55
3 Protestant religious intolerance in England, c. 1660–c. 1700	94
4 Religious toleration and intolerance in the Netherlands and in the Huguenot community in exile	138
PART 2 JUSTIFICATIONS OF INTOLERANCE AND THE EMERGENCE OF ARGUMENTS FOR TOLERATION	195
5 Patristic and medieval sources of early modern intolerance: anathematising heretics and schismatics as seditious, pestilential poisoners, ‘libertines’ and ‘sodomites’	197
6 Heresy and schism, sedition and treason, and ‘contrarities’ and ‘inversions’ in the ‘Last Days’	224
7 Catholic and ‘magisterial Reformation’ attacks on Anabaptism, anti-Trinitarianism, and atheism: sedition, ‘libertinism’, and ‘sodomy’	244
8 Anathematising heretics in sixteenth- and early seventeenth- century French religious polemic	264

vi	Contents
9	Anti-heretical and anti-schismatic literature in England from the late sixteenth to the mid-seventeenth century	281
10	Early tolerationist arguments and their condemnation	312
11	Arguments for and against religious toleration in the Netherlands, c. 1579–c. 1680	335
12	Toleration and intolerance, Jews and Muslims	371
13	Catholic justifications of intolerance in the 1680s and 1690s	396
14	Huguenot justifications of intolerance and debates over resistance in the 1680s and 1690s	418
15	Justifying intolerance in England, c. 1660–c. 1700	440
	PART 3 THE ‘EARLY ENLIGHTENMENT’ DEFENCE OF TOLERATION AND THE ‘REPUBLIC OF LETTERS’ IN THE 1680S AND 1690S	467
16	Tolerationist associations in the 1680s and 1690s and virtuous service in the cause of toleration in the ‘early Enlightenment republic of letters’	469
17	Political and economic arguments for religious toleration in the 1680s and 1690s	536
18	Toleration, ‘heretics’, and ‘schismatics’	568
19	Toleration and Jews, Muslims, and ‘pagans’	593
20	The historical argument for toleration and ‘early Enlightenment’ advocacy of ‘humanity’ and ‘civility’	618
21	Epistemological, philological, theological, and ethical arguments for religious toleration	647
22	Toleration and the intolerant, Catholics, ‘atheists’, ‘libertines’, and ‘sodomites’	680
	Bibliography	720
	Index	755
	Titles in the series	763