

Contents

Acknowledgments	page ix
Introduction	1
Inventing tools that support advertisers in generating ideas	1
Can creativity be defined and quantified?	2
Creativity: An academic perspective	3
Looking for a method in the creative madness	8
Effectiveness of creative ads	10
A brief outline of the tools	13
Fusion	14
Closed World	15
1. Unification	18
Where do ideas come from?	18
Prisons that set you free	19
The constraint of the medium	20
Paradox: Mixing constraints with daring	20
Definition of advertising media	22
Using the medium	22
Two approaches to using Unification	28
Approach 1: Exploring the medium to serve the message: Getting more out of an existing medium	28
Instructions for use	33
Approach 2: Content creates form: Recruiting a medium in the environment of the message	34
Instructions for use	37
How can we benefit from resources in the environment of the medium?	39
Instructions for use	40
And some for the road	41

vi	Contents
2.	Activation	43
	Gluttons for attention in a noisy world	43
	The message is tuned out before it is spoken	43
	Defining the tool	44
	Other examples that prove the rule	45
	You can't ignore what you create	46
	When is Activation useful	47
	Activating imaginations	52
	Benefits of using Activation: What it provides	54
	How to apply Activation	56
	Taking advantage of the medium	59
	And some for the road	62
3.	Metaphor	63
	Splitting metaphoric hairs	63
	Getting it in one shot	63
	The Metaphor tool	64
	Distinguishing art	67
	How to effectively create a metaphoric ad	68
	An example: Options open to the advertiser	73
	Going all the way – fuse all three	74
	Brand advertising	77
	Brand recognition	79
	Instructions for use	80
	And some for the road	81
4.	Subtraction	83
	Minimalism wins creative results	83
	When subtraction is an addition	83
	How Subtraction highlights the message	84
	Subtraction can be used on any element – and partially	86
	Instructions for use	87
	Unintuitive thinking	89
	And some for the road	96

5.	Extreme Consequence	97
	Avoiding cliché – and still highlighting a product’s promise	97
	Consequence replaces promise	97
	Instructions for use	102
	Thinking process for presenting a minor trait	105
	Provide a new approach to a product	105
	Instructions for use of Extreme Consequence, using a minor trait	107
	And some for the road	108
6.	Absurd Alternative	109
	Focus on the benefit – not the product	109
	Generous irony in absurd situations	109
	Thinking processes for using the tool	111
	Additional uses for this tool	115
	Instructions for use	116
	When the product should be in the ad	116
	And some for the road	119
7.	Inversion	120
	In marketing – there’s nothing to fear but fear itself	120
	The Inversion alternative	121
	Absurd situations make it real	122
	Using Inversion on our old standbys	123
	Thinking process	125
	When to use minor trait Inversion	131
	Generosity	132
	When to use Inversion	132
	Instructions for use	133
	And some for the road	133

viii	Contents
8.	Extreme Effort	137
	What to say when you have nothing to say	137
	Two types of scenes	137
	When to use the tool	140
	Instructions for use	142
	And some for the road	144
9.	Attribute–Value Mapping	145
	The three questions	145
	The difference between an attribute and a value	146
	Added value of defining the value – the next step of the process: Beginning to seek new messages	147
	A few examples: Are these advertisements based on attribute or value?	148
	Why don't people do what they know is right?	149
	The connection between attribute and value	151
	Distinguishing between attribute and value levels	153
	What the AV Mapping offers	155
	How to build your own Attribute–Value map	156
	And some for the road	161
	Photograph Credits	162
	Index	165