

Contents

Contributors	page vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction Locating rights, envisioning law between the global and the local Mark Goodale	1
PART ONE STATES OF VIOLENCE	39
Introduction Sally Engle Merry	41
1 Human rights as culprit, human rights as victim: rights and security in the state of exception Daniel M. Goldstein	49
2 “Secularism is a human right!”: double-binds of Buddhism, democracy, and identity in Nepal Lauren Leve	78
PART TWO REGISTERS OF POWER	115
Introduction Laura Nader	117
3 The power of right(s): tracking empires of law and new modes of social resistance in Bolivia (and elsewhere) Mark Goodale	130
4 Exercising rights and reconfiguring resistance in the Zapatista Juntas de Buen Gobierno Shannon Speed	163

CONTENTS

PART THREE	CONDITIONS OF VULNERABILITY	193
	Introduction	195
	Sally Engle Merry
5	Rights to indigenous culture in Colombia	204
	Jean E. Jackson
6	The 2000 UN Human Trafficking Protocol: rights, enforcement, vulnerabilities	242
	Kay Warren
PART FOUR	ENCOUNTERING AMBIVALENCE	271
	Introduction	273
	Balakrishnan Rajagopal
7	Transnational legal conflict between peasants and corporations in Burma: human rights and discursive ambivalence under the US Alien Tort Claims Act	285
	John G. Dale
8	Being Swazi, being human: custom, constitutionalism and human rights in an African polity	320
	Sari Wastell
	Conclusion Tyrannosaurus lex: the anthropology of human rights and transnational law	342
	Richard Ashby Wilson
	Index	370