

Index

- absent entrepreneurship, 41
- adjustment ability and entrepreneurship, 36–37
- agency theory, 3
- alertness to opportunities, 33–35, 38, 43, 50, 59, 69–72
- ambiguity, modeling of, 90
- a priori* probability, 84
- Arrow–Debreu-style contracting, 236
- asset ownership, notion of, 119–121
- asset specificity approaches, to heterogeneous assets, 110
- Austrian notion of heterogeneity, 22
 - adaptation to unforeseen contingencies, 110
 - vs* American notion, 105
 - asset specificity approaches, 110
 - Böhm-Bawerk’s views, 114–115
 - capital as a complex structure, 121–123
 - capital heterogeneity, 116–118, 221
 - endogenous heterogeneity, 118–119
 - entrepreneurial judgment, 123–125
 - experience, role of, 126
 - Hayek’s views, 114
 - in theory of the firm, 110–112
 - Lachmann’s views, 113
 - Menger’s views, 113
 - old property rights theory, 111–112
 - production-function view, 107–108
 - property rights and ownership, 119–121
 - resource and knowledge-based approaches, 111
 - shmoo view of capital, 106, 108–110
 - time dimension, 113–114
 - transaction costs and direction of entrepreneurial search, 127–128
- Austrian school of economics, 105
- Böhm-Bawerk, Eugen von, 52
- Cantillon, Richard, 47
- Clark, John Bates, 48
- decentralized organizational structures, 215
- early school of thought, 46–50
- Fetter, Frank A., 48–50
- heterodox approaches to entrepreneurship, 45
- Kirzner, Israel, 53–55
- Menger, Carl, 46–48
- Mises, Ludwig von, 52–54
- Rothbard, Murray, 54–55
- Wieser–Hayek thoughts, 50–52
- Austrian theory of capital, 21–22, 27–28
- autonomous strategic initiatives, 188
- Baumol, William, 12
- biases, in entrepreneurship
 - opportunity-discovery, 225–227
 - sole-individual, 227–229
 - start-up, 223–225
- Böhm-Bawerk, Eugen von, 21, 48, 50, 52, 106, 114
- Boulding, Kenneth, 244
- boundaries of firms, see also firm, emergence of cognitive representations of resource space, 178–179
- dynamics, 178–181
- in an entrepreneurial perspective, 175–177
- limits of firm size, 181–184
- optimal, 175
- selective intervention, impact of, 184, 186
- structure of ownership, 175–177
- via mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures, 180–181

- bounded rationality, 135, 146
- Buffet, Warren, 79
- bureaucratic capitalism, 245
- business cycle, theory of, 46
- Business Cycles*, 32
- business leadership, 38
- business organization, economics of, 4

- Cambridge capital controversy, 106
- Cantillon, Richard, 5, 27–28, 47
- capital heterogeneity, 116, 169,
 - see also* Austrian notion of heterogeneity
 - and 2008 credit crisis, 242–244
 - Böhm-Bawerk's approach, 117
 - Hayek's views, 114
 - Kirzner's view, 117
 - Lewin's approach, 115
 - Menger's views, 113
 - in modern production theory, 116
 - real-world entrepreneurship, 116
 - subjectivist approach, 115
 - valued attributes, 118
- Capitalism, Socialism, and Democracy*, 224
- causal-realist analysis, 63
- charismatic leadership, 37–38
- Christensen, Clayton, 188
- Clark, John Bates, 48
- closed-membership cooperatives, 228
- Coase, Ronald, 4
 - conceptualization of firm as contractual entity, 140
 - definition of entrepreneur, 138–139
 - economic theory of firm, 137–138
 - employment contract and authority relation, 215
 - notion of employment relationship, 215
- competition, 34, 153, 244–247
- constraining heuristics, of theory of the firm, 134–135
- corporate finance, 237
- corporate renewal, 2, 30
- corporate venturing, 188
- creation entrepreneurs, 75, 97
- creative aspect, of entrepreneurship, 31, 95–96

- Davenport, Herbert J., 48

- decision-making, in the context of entrepreneurship, 59
 - free-decision-making bias, 231–235
 - under uncertainty, 39
- derived entrepreneurship
 - managing judgment, 198–202
 - parties' preferred constraints, 204–207
 - productive/destructive distinction, 197–198
 - value creation, 203–204
- discovery entrepreneurship, 44, 70, 75, 97
- discovery process, 34, 44
- disequilibrium adjustment processes, 36
- dispersed knowledge, 213–214
 - authority and, 215–219
- division of labor, and entrepreneurs
 - experiment, 170, 229–231
- doctrine of real probability, 89

- economic agents, 47
- economic calculation, 41
- economic theory of firm, 2–3, 133, 142
 - business organization, 4
 - as contractual or organizational entity, 4–5
 - fundamental issues, 12
 - in management literature, 3–4
 - twentieth century, 15–16
- effectuation, notion of, 76, 95, 98
- employee empowerment, 15
- endogenous heterogeneity, 118–119
- entrepreneur
 - as an economic agent, 24–26
 - importance of, 5
- entrepreneurial attitudes and behavior, fostering, 188
- entrepreneurial behavior, 1, 30, 232
- entrepreneurial decision-making
 - under uncertainty, 181
- entrepreneurial division of labor, 79
- entrepreneurial judgment, 165, 169, 191, see also judgment-based theory of entrepreneurial action
- entrepreneurial learning, 6
- entrepreneurial profit, source of, 34
- entrepreneurial success, 80

- entrepreneurial theory of economic organization, 106
- entrepreneurialism, 2
- entrepreneurship
 - academic courses, programs, and activities, 23–24
 - analysis of, 5
 - in Austrian school of economics, 27
 - Austrian theory of capital, 21–22
 - biases, 223–229
 - Cantillon’s notion, 18, 34
 - as charismatic leadership, 18, 37–38
 - concepts of, 17–20
 - contemporary views, 2, 5
 - as decision-makers, 20–21
 - definition, 7
 - early work on, 7
 - in economic literature, 10
 - empirical economics research, 11
 - entrepreneur’s decision problem, 21
 - entrepreneurial actions, 8
 - experimental activity, 22
 - as a factor of production, 9
 - firm as locus of activity, 8–10
 - functional perspective, 29–30
 - holistic view, 2
 - as imagination/creativity, 31
 - implications for a theory, 223
 - J. B. Clark’s notion, 34
 - as judgment, 18–19, 21
 - Kirzner’s concept, 8, 18–19, see also Kirznerian entrepreneurship
 - Klein’s views, 35
 - Knightian conception of, 11, 18–19
 - in management context, 11–12, 14–15
 - mature firms, 2
 - Mises’s understanding, 40–41, 44
 - modeling, 6
 - and neoclassical theories, 15–17
 - occupational perspective, 28–29
 - ownership titles, 22
 - Rothbard’s argument, 34
 - Shane and Venkataraman’s assessment, 44
 - as small-business management, 30–31
 - in social sciences, 5
 - strategic, 6
 - structural perspective, 29
 - in terms of strategic management theory, 26–27
 - Theodore Schultz’s approach, 36–37
 - theory of, 11–12
- entrepreneurship research, 16, 44
 - judgment as decision-making under uncertainty, 100–103
- Essai sur la nature du commerce en général*, 18, 47
- estimated probability, 84
- expected utility theory, 84
- experimental activity, of
 - entrepreneurs, 22
 - coordination problems, 171
 - in context of optimizing production, 171–172
 - division of labor, 170
 - in production-function approach, 169
- farm production, aspects of, 36
- Fetter, Frank A., 48–50
- finance-as-a-factor-of-production bias, 237–239
- firm, emergence of, see also boundaries of firms
 - entrepreneurial judgment, role of, 168–169
 - matching of an heterogeneous assets, 169–172
 - non-contractible judgment, role of, 164–168
 - problem-solving experimental process, 172–175
- Foundations of Economic Analysis*, 244
- free enterprise system, 80
- free-decision-making bias, 231–234
- free-floating cognitive act, 16
- functional aspect, of
 - entrepreneurship, 29
- game theory, 15, 133, 228
- game-theoretic contract theory, 146
- General Theory of Entrepreneurship*, 44

- Hamlet*, 12
 Hayek, F. A., 28, 34, 44, 46, 50–52, 60–61, 63, 81, 114, 213–215, 244
 Hayekian triangles, 114
 heterogeneous assets, 21–22, 27, 46, 105, 168, see also Austrian notion of heterogeneity; capital heterogeneity hidden knowledge, 216 higher- and lower-order goods, 21, 46–47, 113
Human Action, 52
 human capital, 164
- ignorance theory of probability, 89
 imperfect contracting, 141 incentive conflicts, 143
 incomplete markets for judgment, idea of, 169 incomplete-contracting theory, 139, 141, 175, 236 innovation aspect, of entrepreneurship, 2, 31–33, 36
 innovation management, 30 innovation-proof equilibria, 91
Innovator's Dilemma, 188
 intrapreneurship, 188–189
- judgment-based theory of entrepreneurial action, 20–22, 28, 38–42, 78–79 behavioral aspects of meeting uncertainty, 96–98 creativity, 95–96
 handling uncertainty, 91–93
 heuristics, 97
 operationalization of judgment, 81 original vs derived, 192–197 resource-allocation problems, 232 skills and experience, 94–95 in terms of uncertainty, 79–81 uncertainty preferences, 96
 as ultimate decision-making, 98–100
- “kaleidic” economy, 61, 89
 Kauffman Foundation, 23, 244
- Keynesian analysis of 2008 financial crisis, 242–243
 Kihlstrom and Laffont’s model of self-employment, 9
 Kirzner, Israel, 17–18, 34
 Kirznerian entrepreneurship, 18–19, 37–38, 43, 45–46, 92–93, 109, 165–166 aggregate effects of individual acts of alertness, 70 capital ownership, 66–69
 Competition and Entrepreneurship, 55 competitive imperfections, 70 concept of alertness, 27, 43–44, 55–57, 69–72 criticism on equilibrium economics, 60–64
 discovery entrepreneurship, 70
 disequilibrium opportunities for profit, 71 distinction between “Robbinsian maximizing” and “entrepreneurial alertness”, 57
 equilibrating function, 59 exploitation of opportunities, 59 formulation of capital structure, 21 government interference with price mechanism, 71–72
 as a logical category, 60
 main effect, 61, 65
 market process, 57–58
 market vs market process, 63–66
 metaphorical nature of his constructs, 71 nature of competition, 34 opportunity recognition, 34–35 pure entrepreneurs, 56–58, 62, 66 system of opportunities, 73–74 welfare concept, 58
- Knight, Frank H., 3, 18, 37, 39, 166
 entrepreneurs, 164, 191
 probability, 84–86
Risk, Uncertainty, and Profit, interpretation, 82–83
 Knightian program, 3
 Knightian uncertainty, 76, 79–80, 146, 168, 170, 173, 221, 236

- Bewley's ingenious approach to modeling ambiguity, 90 knowledge level, 85
 knowledge workers, 189–190
 knowledge-based approach, to heterogeneous assets, 111
- Lachmann, Ludwig, 21, 50, 61, 89–90, 169, 216
 equilibration skepticism, 66 theory of multiple specificities, 21, 113
- “learning curve” phenomenon, 15
- Lucas' general equilibrium model, 9
- maladaptation costs, 110
- malinvestment, concept of, 116, 244
- marginal productivity theory of distribution, 40, 65
- market competition, 44
- Marshallian entrepreneur, 136
- mechanism design, 3
- Menger, Carl, 21, 46–47, 113
- Mises, Ludwig von, 44, 53–54
 critical market process, 62, 64 difference between discovery and exploitation, 69–70 economic calculation under socialism, 65, 182 on Knight's thinking on probability, 86–88 marginal theory of distribution, 65 theory of profit and loss, 40–41
- multi-task agency theory, 186
- “mundane Austrian economics”, 63
- nascent entrepreneur, 165
- “Nature of the Firm, The”, 4, 137
- neoclassical price theory, 15, 137
- neoclassical production theory, 21, 136
- neoclassical theory of the firm, 136–137
- nested hierarchy of judgment, 98
- new firm formation, 1
- nexus-of-contracts approach, 3
- non-contractible judgment, 164–168
- non-market actors, 2
- occupational concepts, of entrepreneurship, 28–29
- “old” property rights theory, 111–112
- once-influential notion, 96
- opportunity-discovery bias, 225–227
- opportunity-discovery view, of entrepreneurship, 35, 72, 101, see also alertness to opportunities
- critiques of, 74–76
- focus issues, 76
- Kirznerian view, 73–74
- as marginal changes, 76
- profit opportunities vs entrepreneurial opportunities, 75–76
- ownership titles, of entrepreneurs, 22, 207–209
- relationship with other agents, 209–210
- and rewarding of employees, 210–213
- Penrose's model of firm capabilities and firm growth, 26
- Prices and Production*, 114
- probability theory, Knight's, see also Knightian uncertainty, 84–86
- classification, 84
- Keynes vs Knight, 85–86
- Lachmann's views, 89
- Mises's views, 86–88
- Shackle's views, 89
- subjective probability, 85
- problem-solving experimental process, 172–175
- production-function view of capital, 107–108, 136
- professional-services firms, 228
- profit and loss theory, 40
- profit opportunity, in entrepreneurship, 34
- property-rights theory of firm, 3, 111–112, 139, 163
- heterogeneous capital, 119–121
- proxy entrepreneurs, 191–192
- public policy issues, 240
- competition, 244–247
- for entrepreneurship, 247–248
- heterogeneity, 243–244

- public policy issues (cont.)
 - macroeconomic stimulus policy, 240–242
 - New-Deal-related, 245
- Pure Theory of Capital, The*, 114
- purely entrepreneurial decisions, 58
- representative firm, 136
- residual rights of control, 98
- resource-based approach, to
 - heterogeneous assets, 111, 163
- Risk, Uncertainty and Profit*, 3
- Robbinsian maximizing, 57, 75, 135
- Rothbard, Murray, 50, 54–55, 182
- roundaboutness, notion of, 21, 114
- Rumsfeld, Donald, 81, 85
- Samuelson, Paul, 106, 244
- Schumpeterian entrepreneurship,
 - 16–17, 31–33, 43, 62, 92, 165
 - creative destruction, 17
 - economic progress, 36
 - as innovator, 28
 - models of innovation and technical change, 26
 - notion of “new combinations”, 95
 - relationship between entrepreneur and firm, 17
- science-based entrepreneurs, 97
- selective intervention, concept of, 185–186
- Shackle, George, 61, 89
- shmoo view of capital, 106
 - implications, 108–110
- small-business management, 30
- Social Economics*, 50
- socialism and entrepreneurship, 40–41
- sole-individual bias, 227–229
- specific knowledge, Hayekian notion of, 85
- stability theory, 60
- starfish organizations, 190
- startup firms, theories of, 2, 223–225
- static-incentive-alignment bias, 235–237
- statistical probability, 84
- strategic entrepreneurship, 6
- strategic management theory, 26–27
- structural concepts of entrepreneurship, 29
- Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE), 30
- subjective probability, 85
- team theory, 140–141
- Terminator 2: Judgment Day*, 106
- Theodore Schultz’s view of
 - entrepreneurial function, 36, 80
 - demand and supply of entrepreneurial services, 37
 - entrepreneurship ability, 36–37
- Theory of Economic Development*, 32
- theory of economic organization, 5
- Theory of Money and Credit*, 52
- theory of the firm, 1
 - choice of alternatives, 147–148
 - Coase’s thoughts, 137
 - cognitive powers of agents, 146–147
 - constraining heuristics, 134–135
 - critiques of, 12–14
 - critiques of the arbitrary suppression of certain margins, 153–156
 - in economics, see economic theory of firm
 - and entrepreneurship, 157–161
 - finance-as-a-factor-of-production bias, 237–239
 - firm as a single actor, 136
 - free-decision-making bias, 231–235
 - implications for, 223, 232–238, 240
 - Knight’s entrepreneurial explanation of the firm, 138–140
 - knowledge-based view of firm, 150
 - modern, 2, 146–156
 - modern organizational economics, 140–146
 - motivation, role of, 148–149
 - and neglect of entrepreneur, 133–134
 - neglect of heterogeneity and capabilities, 150–151
 - neoclassical, 136

Index

299

- ontological commitments, 156–157
- separation with entrepreneurship, 3
- static-incentive-alignment bias, 235–237
- time dimension of capital, 113–116
- transaction cost economics (TCE), 3, 21, 110, 137, 140–141, 159, 163, 179, 232
- Troubled Assets Relief Program (TARP), 243
- uncertainty-bearing as entrepreneurial function, 49, 61
- Wealth of Nations*, 5
- Weber, Max, 215
- Wicksteed, Philip, 48
- Wieser, Friedrich, 48, 50–52
- wikified firms, 190
- wire fencing, 118
- World War II entrepreneurship, 5, 26