

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

Index

- Aarsleff, H., 12
- Absolute, the, 2, 91
- Academic liberalism, 10, 27, 30–36, 40, 42, 75, 154, 237, 247, 256, 257, 260
and fortunes of political economy, 41 and Mill's liberal philosophy, 69 and Mill's political economy, 41 cause of crisis in, 31 its concern with national education, 237, 238
- Agnosticism, 2, 18, 90, 91, 112, 117, 196
Mansel as architect of, 92
Stephen's militant form of, 48 term coined by Huxley, 91
- Altruism, 25, 27, 230, 239 and distinctive work of a university, 242 as different from sympathy, 148 as key to utopia, 289 as non-mechanical, 147 as opposite of selfishness, 148
- America as land of the future, 266, 267 mobility of its labour, 267, 268, 294
- Analytical Engine. See Babbage, Charles
- Ancient civilization, 208, 212, 215, 220, 253, 271, 274, 275, 277
as governed by custom, 212 as natural organism, 212, 215
- Annan, N., 18
- Apostles, 39, 46, 58, 192
“Approximate History of Curves,” 161
- Aquinas, Thomas, 9
- Aristotle, 253, 290
- Arnold, Mathew, 68, 75, 78
- Associationist psychology, 2, 3, 6, 22, 23, 110, 121, 133, 134, 146, 148
- Augustine of Hippo, 218
- Automatic action, 125, 134, 231
- Automaton hypothesis, 127, 190
- Babbage, Charles, 137–40 his calculating engines, 137–38, 189, 191
Ninth Bridgewater Treatise, 189, 190
Passages from the Life of a Philosopher, 137, 139
- Bain, Alexander, 105, 107, 111, 113, 114, 120, 121, 125, 133, 134, 195, 197 and principle of energy conservation, 131
as opponent of Ferrier, 113
Marshall's criticism of, 112 on difference between nervous and electrical circuits, 131 on division between body and mind, 125 on spontaneous activity as basis of volition, 135
The Senses and the Intellect, 124, 128, 144
- Bastiat, Frédéric, 174
- Beesly, Edward, 255, 285 his criticism of liberalism, 247 his vision of the future compared to Marshall's, 248

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

316

Index

- Beesly, Edward (cont.) on the continuous progress of the race, 247
 “The Social Future of the Working Class,” 246–49
- Bentham, Jeremy, 8, 24, 26, 62, 64, 65, 67, 68, 261
- Biagini, E., 257 his problematic analysis of Marshall's 1873 talk, 258–59
- Bridges, John Henry, 223, 224
- Bristed, Charles, 132
- British Association for the Advancement of Science, 190
- Broad Church, 58, 75, 92, 94, 99, 218.
See also Liberal Anglicanism and Coleridgean metaphysics, 96–98, 100 origin of, 96
 Stephen's criticism of, 94 theological differences within, 217–18
- Brougham, Henry, 20
- Buchanan, David, 201
- Buckle, Henry Thomas, 34 on Adam Smith's method, 25, 28, 33, 36, 83, 147
- Burke, Edmund, 293
 on civilization and commerce, 57, 292
Reflections on the Revolution in France, 292
- Cambridge Millites. See Stephen, Leslie; Fawcett, Henry
- Cambridge Moral Science Club, 266
- Cambridge Reform Club, 37, 38, 237, 238, 245, 248, 249, 256, 257, 258, 259, 266, 284, 285, 290
- Cambridge University as a national institution, 56, 57, 78 as font of expert opinion, 37 as the university of Newton, 58, 61 Fawcett's ideal of, 70 mid-century reform of, 58 nineteenth-century criticism of, 58 official and unofficial teaching regimes, 71 reforms of the late 1860s, 74–76 state of before reform, 55 transformation of, 39, 49
- Cambridge University Gazette*
 Marshall's letters to, 77, 131, 149, 281
- Cambridge University Reporter*
 Marshall's letters to, 239, 241
- Capaldi, N.
 his erroneous view of J. S. Mill as convert to romanticism, 64
- Capital, 41, 153, 157, 158, 167, 169, 171, 172, 174, 183, 197, 232, 245, 246, 253, 275, 277
 as “the enemy,” 199 Marshall's historical survey of meaning of, 169, 174 subjective account of, 169, 170, 182, 184 supply of dependent upon character, 244
- Carlyle, Thomas, 24, 25, 44
- Carpenter, William, 125, 127, 129 and use of principle of energy conservation, 131
 “On the Doctrine of Human Automatism,” 125
- Character, 28, 30, 50, 65, 70, 71, 74, 104, 121, 127, 148, 154, 232, 246, 266, 267, 269, 276, 283. See also Manliness and economic life, 228, 244, 260 and liberal education, 50, 74, 248, 250, 254
 as manly, 27, 70, 74, 145, 148, 241, 260, 292, 293
 economic education of, 9, 234, 267, 273, 283–89, 291, 293, 294
 limits of, 285–86
 Marshall's dualist model of, 122 mechanical side of, 139, 144, 147, 191, 222, 223, 224, 228, 250, 294, 298
 limits of, 147 national, 224, 225, 266 of a gentleman, 249 of the working classes, 228, 246, 281, 284, 294

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

- spiritual side of, 142, 145, 147, 149, 254, 285, 286–89
- Christian Socialism, 28, 98, 259
- Christianity, 275, 277, 290. See also Broad Church; Church of England; Evangelicism; High Church; Incarnationalist theology; Liberal Anglicanism
- appearance of as turning-point in world history, 210, 212, 215, 216
- as future-orientated and progressive, 209, 210
- as powerless without education, 213
- Church of England, 251, 293 different attitudes toward of Stephen and Marshall, 48
internecine theological struggle within, 99
its disputed role in national education, 32, 237
its reception of Kant's Critique of Pure Reason, 100 its relation to England's ancient universities, 56
twin foundations of authority of, 95
- Civic humanism, 51, 294
- Civilization, 51, 54, 57, 62, 154, 198, 203, 211, 212, 215, 216, 219, 220, 222, 230, 233, 274, 292, 293, 294.
See also Ancient civilization
- Clark, John Bates
Marshall's letter to, 180
- Clerisy, 58, 67, 70, 77, 251, 293
Coleridge's idea of, 57, 96, 293
Marshall's idea of, 250, 257, 258, 266, 293
opposed by Fawcett, 69
Whewell's idea of, 60, 61, 69, 292, 293
- Clifford, William Kingdon, 127, 196, 215, 278
and non-Euclidean geometry, 196 his evolutionary enthusiasm, 193 his model of mental evolution, 193, 272
his philosophical differences with Marshall, 128
his physiological determinism, 128
on Babbage's engines, 138 on the unity of the sciences, 189–92
- Coach, private, 73, 76, 78
Marshall as, 87 reformers opposition to, 78 role and origin of term, 72
- Coleridge, Samuel Taylor, 2, 25, 47, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 62, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68,
89, 90, 92, 98, 100, 104, 116, 119,
148, 149, 162, 211, 217, 251, 261, 292, 293, 295 and distinction between reason and understanding, 96, 116 his distinction between fancy and imagination, 142
his idea of a clerisy, 57, 96, 293 his non-sectarian metaphysics, 97 influence of in Cambridge, 7 on political economy, 67
On the Constitution of Church and State, 57
Stephen's hostility to, 94
- Collective freedom, 271, 286, 290, 296, 297, 298
- Collini, S., 26, 27, 29, 48, 73, 148
- Common sense philosophy, 2, 7, 21, 22, 101, 109, 116. See also Hamilton, William; Mansel, Henry Longueville as a via media between Locke and German rationalism, 105
Mansel's version of, 101 mutation of between Stewart and Mansel, 7, 8
- Comparative method. See Historical method
- Competition, 54, 63, 67, 70, 71, 72, 73, 78, 80, 82, 83, 164, 214, 231, 233, 234,
240, 241, 246, 247, 252, 254, 259, 284, 290
- Comte, Auguste, 35, 248
- Condorcet, Antoine-Nicolas, 260
- Consensus, as epistemological ideal, 19, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 46, 47, 48, 68, 298
- Costs of production, 156, 166, 175, 176, 179, 180, 182, 199, 230, 243

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

318

Index

Cram

as the antithesis to culture, 77

Custom, 11, 12, 202, 203, 208, 212,

213, 215, 220, 221, 222, 223,

230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 252,

269, 271, 273, 274, 275, 276,

287, 288, 296

Dardi, M., 287

Darwin, Charles, 32, 35, 111, 193

Origin of Species, 91, 93, 191

De Marchi, N., 22, 153, 229

Definitions, in political economy, 157,

168, 170, 174, 177

Descartes, René, 191

Dialectic, 3, 46, 47, 48, 171, 181,

207, 208, 209, 266, 270, 271,

272, 286–89, 295, 296,

297, 298

of Marshall and Marx compared,

296–98

Difference Engine. See Babbage, Charles

Distribution, 24, 151, 153, 155, 157,

184, 205, 227, 234, 235, 236, 244,

245, 248, 292. See also “On Wages”;

Wages; Wages-fund theory

Division of labour, 51, 53, 198, 235, 236, 274, 275, 278, 280, 284, 294.

See also Organization and Babbage's engines, 138

Economic man, 25, 146, 229

Economic organon, 282

Economic science

as a physical science, 9, 271, 279, 286, 290, 298

limits of, 266, 279–86

as but one part of social philosophy,

266, 286–89

as divorced from political values, 4

as subordinate to higher philosophy, 3 its ethical purpose, 290–91 its metaphysical foundations, 279, 280,

286, 291

Economics of Industry, 232, 233, 250, 277, 278

on organization, 273–76

Education, 182, 184, 213, 221, 228, 235.

See also Liberal education;

Technical education

as key to a classless society, 238, 254, 291

as supplied by economic life, 266, 268,

269, 272–73, 284, 285, 286–89,

291, 293, 294

of the working classes, 184, 228, 236,

237, 238, 243, 245, 246, 247, 255,

258, 266, 283, 285, 291

Ego

distinction between subjective and objective sides of, 113, 116,

194, 195

Hamilton's intuitionist ground for belief in, 109

Mill's failure to demonstrate empirical grounds for belief in, 110 objective side of, 114–15, 116 its evolution, 207

subjective side of, 114, 116

Emerson, Ralph Waldo, 132, 196

Enthusiasm, 59, 82, 147, 235, 236, 239, 240, 291

eighteenth-century view of, 53 nineteenth-century rehabilitation of, 56

Essays and Reviews, 217*Essays on Reform*, 30

Eusebius of Caesarea, 218

Evangelicism, 23, 24, 26, 56, 99, 216,

259, 260

its similarities with Benthamism, 24

its warfare with Incarnationalism,

99–101

within Cambridge, 93

Evolutionary science, 32, 35, 190

and Babbage's engines, 139

and Marshall's economic science, 265 and social evolution, 11 and the mechanization of production, 284

psychology as, 112

Stephen's conception of, 32

Expectation

Marshall's mechanical account of, 136

Mill's problems with, 110

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

- Farrar, Frederic William, 61
- Fawcett, Henry, 28, 29, 35, 40, 42, 50, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 89, 99, 143, 148, 154, 176, 240, 241, 247 and muscular ideal of manliness, 149 and the crisis of political economy, 42 as a Philistine, 69
as a university reformer, 70 as setting tone of Cambridge political economy, 69
compared with Marshall as disciple of Mill, 76
his ideal of character compared with Smith's, 74
his pedagogy and social philosophy, 73–74
his reform activities compared with Marshall's, 76
on the Cambridge mathematical tripos, 73
on trade unions, 159
- Ferrier, James Frederick, 105, 113, 115, 118
as opponent of Bain, 113
Marshall's criticism of, 114
- Ferrier's first proposition, 113, 174, 195, 207
- "Ferrier's Proposition One," 111, 113–16, 120, 121, 122, 142, 194, 206 and Marshall's early mental crisis, 122, 143–46
- Feudalism, 199, 200, 203, 223 as fusion of subjective freedom and archaic customs, 223
- Feuerbach, Ludwig Andreas, 295
- First Reform Bill, 55, 66
- Forbes, D., 217
- Forster's Education Act, 236
- Foxwell, Herbert Somerton, 44, 174
"The Economic Movement in England," 44–45 his early relationship with Marshall, 44 his lack of sympathy with Marshall's idealism, 47
- Freedom. See Collective freedom; Objective freedom; Subjective freedom
- French Revolution, 8, 23, 56, 225, 247, 259, 260
- Galton, Francis, 89, 133, 143
- Garnier, Germain, 236
- Germanic invasions, the, 213, 219, 222, 277
as imposing a network of archaic customs, 223
as spiritual regeneration of the world, 222, 275
- Gibbon, Edward, 35
- Gladstone, William Ewart, 56
- Grote Club, 46, 87, 92, 95, 108, 120, 122, 127, 129, 133, 138, 191
- Grote Club papers. See "Law of Parcimony"; "Ferrier's Proposition
One"; "Ye Machine"; "Duty of the Logician"
- Grote, John, 40, 61, 94, 95, 102, 103, 108, 113, 116, 117, 119, 142, 175, 195,
196, 197, 211
Exploratio, 105, 107, 108, 113, 117, 118, 195 studied carefully by Marshall, 102 his accommodation with Mill's philosophy, 103, 105 his ambition for Cambridge moral science, 103
his anti-Kantianism, 103 his Cartesian bifurcation of moral science, 104, 194, 195
his distinction between consciousness and self-consciousness, 106, 194 his interpretation of Whewell's philosophy, 103, 104
his profound antagonism to common sense philosophy, 105, 106 Marshall's turn to his philosophy, 117 on "Real Logic," 104 on Ferrier's first proposition, 117–18
reorganizes Moral Sciences
Tripos, 103
- Grotius, Hugo, 20, 22
- Guizot, François, 222, 223

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

320

Index

- Haakonssen, K., 6, 20
- Habit, 11, 80, 82, 124, 125, 127, 143, 145, 159, 179, 205, 221, 224, 225, 230, 231, 233, 234, 245, 249, 252, 253, 266, 270, 271, 273, 274, 275, 276, 281, 297
- as governing pagan behaviour, 212, 220, 221, 231
- as mechanical, 191, 193, 225, 250, 251, 270, 278, 279, 288
- as product of secondary automatism, 125
- as primitive condition of law, 202, 208
- as shaped by economic organization, 269, 273, 288
- of self-determination, 212, 213, 225, 230, 234, 254
- place of in Marshall's mature social philosophy, 286–89
- variation of in modern world, 231, 232
- Hamilton, William, 2, 7, 90, 92, 100, 106, 112, 115, 116, 119
- on belief in mind and matter as founded on intuition, 109
- on the identity of consciousness and self-consciousness, 105
- Hare, Julius Charles, 58, 59, 75, 97, 217
- his criticism of Hegel, 217
- Harvie, C., 31, 37, 75, 78
- Hegel, Georg W. F., 2, 146, 198, 215, 218, 219, 220, 221, 227, 231, 270, 295, 296
- his idea of the Atonement, 208–10
- his idea of the State, 207
- his idea of the universal class, 256, 269
- Philosophy of History*, 2, 3, 48, 119, 222, 230, 256, 270
- as Marshall's bridge between psychology and social philosophy, 206–8
- its parallelism with Maine's Ancient Law, 208–10
- Marshall's notes on, 206–8, 213
- Helmholtz, Hermann von, 140
- High Church
- emphasis on Apostolicity over nationality, 95
- Hilton, B., 23, 99, 100
- Historical method, 33, 203, 219, 267, 274, 277
- and Marshall's economic science, 267
- as necessary for study of modern history, 221
- of present study and Marshall's contrasted, 4–13
- Hitchcock, Henry, 100
- Hobbes, Thomas, 6
- Hooker, Richard, 9
- Horner, Francis, 20
- Hort, Fenton John Anthony
- as representative of Cambridge liberal Anglicanism, 107
- his articulation of Coleridgean method, 113
- his reaction to Darwin, 93
- his reaction to Mill's Examination, 108
- on Maurice's faith, 98
- Hume, David, 7, 21, 35, 56
- Huxley, Thomas Henry, 91, 112, 117, 127, 190, 191, 192, 196, 218, 277
- his physiological determinism, 128, 190
- “Improvements in the Art of Production,” 161
- Incarnationalist theology, 2, 99, 217.
- See also Maurice, Frederick Denison
- Instinct, 11, 12, 127, 134, 135, 154, 215, 220, 223, 225, 229, 243, 250, 271, 279, 284, 296
- as product of primary automatism, 125
- Intuitionism. See Common sense philosophy
- Jevons, William Stanley, 41, 178
- Theory of Political Economy*, 170
- Joachim de Fiore, 218
- Jones, G. S., 256
- Jones, Richard, 40
- Jowett, Benjamin, 99, 217, 218
- Kant, Immanuel, 90, 97, 100, 146, 167
- Critique of Pure Reason*, 128, 196
- reception of in Church of England, 100

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

- his moral philosophy, 128 the categorical imperative, 268
- Keynes, John Maynard on Marshall's crisis of faith, 87–91, 112, 117, 118 on Marshall's dual personality, 10 on Sidgwick's religious difficulties, 88
- Kingsley, Charles, 92, 93, 192, 215
- Knightbridge Chair of Moral Philosophy, 61, 92, 102, 103, 107
- Labour, 23, 24, 29, 41, 83, 139, 146, 153, 156, 157, 158, 164, 166, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 174, 181, 182, 183, 184, 199, 205, 232, 243, 244, 245, 247, 252, 253, 275, 276, 277, 281, 283, 285, 294 different grades of, 252, 253, 254, 256 education of, 182, 184, 228, 239, 243, 250. See also Education; Wages efficiency of, 184, 228, 239, 244, 254 mobility of, 267, 268 productive and unproductive, 167, 168, 169 and teaching and research, 171 rule of its replacement by machinery, 280, 283, 285
- Lassalle, Ferdinand, 171, 182, 199, 200, 201, 243, 253
- “Law of Parsimony,” 111–13, 194
as criticism of Mill's Examination, 109
- Law of parsimony
as defined by Hamilton and Mill, 109
- Leavis, Q. D. and F. R., 18
- Leslie, T. E. Cliffe, 8, 26, 33, 34, 41, 201, 231, 232
- Liberal Anglicanism, 2, 10, 27, 28, 30, 75, 90, 94, 119, 260, 295. See also Broad Church
in alliance with academic liberalism, 76 in opposition to common sense philosophy, 1 its idea of history, 217 its response to Darwin, 93
- Liberal education, 3, 49, 182, 184, 228, 238, 240, 242, 245, 251, 285 Adam Smith on, 54
as fostering enterprise, 242, 254 as key to future of the world, 245 as link between school and business, 241 Marshall's mature conception of, 242 mechanical components of, 141 shift from eighteenth to nineteenth-century ideas of, 62 Whewell's vision of, 59
- Liberalism, 27, 228, 247, 251, 256, 257.
See also Academic liberalism as both individualistic and republican, 257
- Macaulay, Thomas Babington, 24
- Macleod, Henry Dunning, 167, 169, 172, 174, 175, 176, 180, 182
- Magna Carta, 210, 214, 224
- Maine, Sir Henry Sumner, 33, 201, 212, 213, 219, 274 Ancient Law, 33, 48, 202–4 its parallelism with Hegel's Philosophy of History, 208–10 his contrast between historical method and natural law, 203–5
- Malthus, Thomas Robert, 23
- Malthusianism, 23, 29, 153, 200, 236, 237, 238, 254, 260
- Manliness, 27, 29, 74, 145, 148, 241, 242, 260, 292, 293. See also Character and economic behaviour, 30 divergence between Anglican and secular liberal conceptions of, 70, 148 Victorian ideals of, 27, 148
- Mansel, Henry Longueville, 7, 90, 92, 101, 115, 116, 117, 119, 196, 218 as defender of Anglican orthodoxy, 99 his Bampton lectures, 90, 92, 100, 102, 109, 128, 216 his Copernican revolution in theology, 100 his denial of distinction between reason and understanding, 102 his psychology defended by Marshall against Mill, 112 his theology demolished by Mill, 106
Marshall's disillusionment with, 2, 115

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

322

Index

- Mansel, Henry Longueville (cont.)
Metaphysics, 101, 112, 115, 116 on Hegel as high-priest of modern heresy, 216
 on the identity of consciousness and self-consciousness, 105
- Marshall, Alfred. See also Economics of Industry; Principles of Economics and a liberal education and circuit between university and economy, 241–42, 283, 284, 291 his earliest views on, 77–81 his early criticism of Smith on, 79–81, 239 his early notes on, 242–43 his revised view of, 50
- and Coleridge his Coleridgean method, 46–47, 113, 148, 176, 180–81, 220–22, 261, 295 his Coleridgean separation of university and society, 83, 239, 291, 294 and revision of, 171, 228, 238–42, 251, 284 his distinction between reason and understanding, 116
- and dualism, 2, 9, 10, 12, 13, 121, 122, 123, 128, 129, 144, 148, 149, 150, 162, 225, 239
- distinction between permanent and variable elements of consciousness, 116
- distinction between subjective and objective ego, 113
- his two notions of freedom, 278–79
- and his early reformation of political economy, 258–61 as break with nineteenth-century orthodoxies, 259 as completing Mill's moralizing of political economy, 260, 261 as founded on his idea of education, 259 as placing idea of manly character at heart of political economy, 260 his idea of freedom as central to, 230
- in the perspective of modern scholarship, 260
- and his early writings. See also “Approximate History of Curves”; “Ferrier's Proposition One”;
 “Improvements in the Art of Production”;
 “Law of Parcimony”;
 “Mr Mill's Theory of Value”;
 “On Money”;
 “On Value”;
 “On Wages”;
 “Some Features of American Industry”;
 “The Duty of the Logician”;
 “The Future of the Working Classes”;
 “Ye Machine”
- abandoned volume on international trade, 244
- “advanced lecture” notes, 159–76, 199, 234, 237
- essay on the history of civilization, 156, 210–15, 227, 230, 237, 270, 273, 274
- influence of Hegel on, 210, 211
- lectures on progress, 273, 276–77
- lectures to women students, 243, 253, 259
- notes on Hegel's Philosophy of History, 206–8, 213, 270
- notes on Smith's Wealth of Nations, 160, 163
- notes on the division of labour, 235, 284
- on Smith on education, 79–81, 239, 291
- on the history of economic thought, 164
- and his metaphysical faith, 90, 215–19, 290
- its place in Protestant tradition, 219
- its relation to theology of Maurice, 218
- and his neo-Hegelian philosophy of modern history, 214, 231, 233, 286–89
- as compared to Beesly's Positivism, 247
- conceived of as interplay between self-consciousness and

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

- mechanical circuitry, 221, 222, 271, 296
- contrast of England and America, 266–72
- contrast of England and France, 223–25, 270, 273
- its initial form, 219–26
- and his philosophy of history, 3, 203–15, 230, 265
- as set out in the Economics of Industry, 273–75
- as Whig history, 214
- its psychological foundations, 220–22
- and his social philosophy, 3, 261
- as dialectic between the physical and the metaphysical, 266, 271, 296–98
- in 1873, 249, 250, 251, 252, 261
- mature conception of, 266, 271–72, 286–89
- and J. S. Mill
- as the heir of Mill, and Maurice, 259, 260
- he discards Mill's methodology, 229–30
- his criticism of Mill's account of mind, 2, 111–12
- his neo-Hegelian reading of Mill's Principles, 256
- his reading of Mill on Bentham and Coleridge, 64
- influenced by Mill's account of mental crisis, 88–90
- on his enduring loyalty to Mill, 261
- on Mill's philosophy as but partial truth, 143
- on the organization of Mill's Principles, 156, 227, 235
- and his criticism of, 235, 245, 255
- translates Mill into mathematics, 161
- and the crisis in his mental development, 95, 122, 143–46, 192
- possible physical basis of, 143–46
- resolution of theological component of, 215–19
- and the history of economic thought, 6–8, 161–63, 165–67, 206
- and his own place within, 260
- as continuous development, 19, 47
- and the marginal agent, 179
- and the moral philosophy of Kant, 128, 129
- convinced that he is more than an automaton, 143
- crux of his intellectual project, 6
- early collapse of his physical health, 143–44
- early definition of political economy, 167
- finds in Hegel a bridge between psychology and social philosophy, 2, 6, 206–8
- he adopts curves as an engine, 161
- he inverts Smith's social analysis of the division of labour, 284–85
- his Alpine reading, 146
- his attitudes to reform, 76
- his attitudes to socialism, 200, 289–90
- his conception of self-consciousness, 114
- his conception of trade unions, 255, 256, 268–69, 285
- his concern with use of the term “natural,” 6, 201, 204, 212, 232, 253–54, 260, 275
- his crisis of faith. See crisis in his mental development
- his definition of “value in use,” 176
- his idea of vigour, 145–46
- his Inaugural lecture, 282
- his mature emphasis upon individualism over collectivism, 289
- his mechanical model of volition, 128
- his method of interpretation, 5, 156, 161–63, 165–66
- his new liberalism, 48, 249–58, 259
- Hegelian aspects of, 256
- his notion of a gentleman, 249–51, 257
- his reading of Spencer, 194, 198
- his rounded globe of knowledge, 3, 4, 296–98
- limitations of, 13

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

324

Index

- Marshall, Alfred (cont.)
- his synthesis of Hegel and Maine, 208–10
 - his theory of language, 5–6, 141, 162, 205–6
 - his trip to America, 266
 - his use of Maine's Ancient Law, 205
 - his vision of moral development compared with Smith's, 10–12
 - his visits to Germany, 128, 171, 196, 199
 - influenced by Whewell's pedagogy, 61
 - on Babbage's engines, 138–40
 - on difference between sympathy and altruism, 148
 - on economic history, 199, 212, 213–15, 219, 225
 - on evolution of social conventions, 11, 273
 - on organization, 272–79, 293
 - on productive and unproductive labour, 168
 - on relationship of custom and competition, 231–32
 - on the method of political economy, 173, 281
 - on the real value of ideas, 291–92
 - origin of his mature theory of wages, 242–45
 - swelling of his right foot, 143
 - the aim and tragedy of his life's work, 10
 - the method of his earliest economic research, 160
- Marshall, Mary Paley, 146, 232, 273, 274
- Marx, Karl, 176, 199, 246, 257, 296–98
- Das Kapital*, 170, 199, 235, 295
- Mathematical Tripos, 60, 61, 71, 72, 74, 87, 89, 281
- 1868 reform of, 130
 - and undergraduate identification with machinery, 132
 - as moral training, 70, 73
 - emphasis of upon physical mechanism, 129
 - intensification of competition in, 72
 - Marshall's view of, 146, 149, 242
 - pressure of on undergraduates, 88
- Maurice, Frederick Denison, 40, 44, 46, 58, 68, 75, 76, 78, 92, 93, 94, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 102, 104, 107, 113, 119, 148, 175, 216, 217, 218, 240, 241, 251, 259, 260
- and spiritual ideal of manliness, 149
 - as missing from Keynes's narrative, 92
 - enthusies over Mill's demolition of Mansel, 107
 - his attitude to Darwin, 93
 - his aversion to system, 59
 - his Coleridgean methodology, 47
 - his Coleridgean theology, 97–99, 259
 - his conception of society as domain of religious duties, 7, 259
 - his conception of the church, 28
 - his conversational pedagogy, 59
 - his dispute with Mansel, 92, 102
 - his ideal of political economy, 27–28
 - his revision of Coleridge's elitism, 98
 - his theology as Hegelian, 217
 - introduces Mill to Coleridge, 67, 89
 - Marshall's conversations with, 118
 - Sidgwick and Marshall's relation to, 46
 - Stephen's hostility to, 94
 - why a true Coleridgean, 46
- Maxwell, James Clerk, 130
- McCulloch, John Ramsay, 174, 175
- his edition of Smith's Wealth of Nations, 163, 168
- Memory
- as related by Coleridge to fancy, 142
 - Marshall on role of in perception, 123
 - Mill's problems with, 110
- Mercantilism, 168, 172
- Mid-century shift of conventions, 26, 99, 259
- Middle Ages, the, 255, 275, 277
- as cradle of modern economic life, 275, 296
 - no science of political economy previous to, 213
 - spiritual equality of, 211
- Mill, James, 20, 24, 65, 68

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

- Mill, John Stuart, 2, 5, 6, 25, 32, 48, 58, 78, 91, 99, 115, 120, 134, 145, 146, 147, 167, 175, 176, 229, 230, 232, 234, 259
- as inoculated against idealism, 67
 - Autobiography*, 57, 62, 65, 89, 106, 151, 155
 - Examination*, 90, 92, 106, 112, 159
 - account of belief in mind, 109–11
 - chief problem with, 108
 - liberal Anglican reaction to, 107
 - his concern with trade unions, 256
 - his contrast of natural law and human will, 154
 - his contrast of the thought of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, 152
 - his defense of Berkeley's theory of vision, 124
 - his demolition of Mansel's theology, 107
 - his early mental crisis, 67, 88, 151
 - his essay on endowments, 236
 - his essay on method, 22, 24, 25, 151, 173, 175
 - his fear of social stagnation, 66, 257, 267
 - his liberal philosophy of consensus, 68
 - his moralizing of political economy, 29, 153–54, 259, 261
 - his political reorientation circa 1836, 68
 - his recantation of wages-fund theory, 41, 159, 156–59, 182
 - as context of Marshall's early economic research, 159
 - his review of Bain, 124, 134–36
 - his review of de Tocqueville's Democracy in America, 66, 257, 267
 - his review of Thornton, 157, 182, 256
 - his shared presuppositions with Whewell, 62
 - his social philosophy, 152, 259, 261
 - his strategy against intuitionism, 124
 - his support for the endowment of education, 63, 67
 - his tendency toward socialism, 154
 - impacts of his writings in Cambridge, 76
 - in alliance with Coleridgeans, 68
 - influence of Coleridge on his thought, 64
 - on civilization, 154
 - on desire for freedom, 229
 - on education of the working classes, 236, 237
 - on enthusiasm as the essence of religion, 81
 - On Liberty*, 65, 67
 - on political economy as a moral science, 22
 - on reasoning of animals and children, 124
 - on spontaneous activity as basis of volition, 135
 - place of freedom in his thought, 229
 - Principles of Political Economy*, 28, 29, 151–55, 156, 158, 159, 161, 163, 175, 227, 229, 231, 237, 245, 252, 254, 290
 - and different grades of labour, 252
 - as bible of mid-century political economists, 19
 - as expression of Mill's resolution of mental crisis, 152
 - as juxtaposing intellectual traditions of two centuries, 152, 154
 - as modelled on the Wealth of Nations, 151
 - Marshall's account of organization of, 155, 231
 - two different moral lessons of, 154
 - System of Logic*, 35, 124, 127
 - The Subjection of Women*, 229
 - Money, Marshall's definition of, 176
 - Montesquieu, Charles de Secondat, Baron, 33, 34, 202, 203
 - Moral Sciences Tripos, 3, 40, 60, 61, 76, 92, 103, 107
 - Moulton, John Fletcher, 37, 38, 237, 257, 258
 - "Mr Mill's Theory of Value," 46, 155, 162, 165, 227, 229, 230, 234, 245
 - Müller, Max, 220
 - Napoleonic Wars, 23
 - Natural law, 8, 33, 203–5, 206, 232
 - Natural selection, 11, 134, 192, 288

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

326

Index

Nervous system, 114, 129, 132, 195 and connection to mental phenomena, 135 and two types of nerve, 125 as different from electrical system, 132 as telegraphic system of the body, 131 physiological study of, 124

Newman, John Henry, 97

Norton Wise, M., 130

Objective freedom, 3, 210, 216, 222, 225, 273, 286, 290 and modern history, 214–15 as born from evolution of self-consciousness, 207 as ground of industrial organization, 275, 286
 as precondition of modern state, 213, 259
 Marshall's 1875 redefinition of, 265, 269–72
 physical preconditions of, 270 preconditions of its evolution absent from Marshall's mature writings, 289–90, 298

"On Money," 178

"On Value," 161, 162, 170, 171, 176–81, 181, 229, 230. See also Supply and demand, theory of period analysis of, 179–81

"On Wages," 181–85, 233, 243
 as application of period analysis, 184

Organization, 234, 265, 298 and economic analysis of the academy, 281 and the education of character, 283–86, 293
 limits of, 285
 and the growth of knowledge, 280–83
 limits of, 281, 282, 285
 and the mechanization of production, 280, 283, 293 as born in the medieval towns, 275 as resting on spiritual preconditions, 275, 279, 286 as unifying the characteristics of modern life, 272–73 biological account of, 272, 276–79 difference between moral and natural, 278 genesis of Marshall's mature conception of, 265, 272–79 its role in Marshall's mature social philosophy, 272, 286–89 relationship between metaphysical and physical accounts of, 273, 277–79

Oxford University Chair of Political Economy, 27 corruption of its teaching, 54

Paganism, 6, 8, 206, 210, 232, 253, 260 as backward-looking and non-progressive, 209, 210 as pre-moral state, 211

Paine, Thomas, 260

Palfrey, D., 40

Permanent element of cognition.
See subjective side of Ego

Physiocracy, 5, 164, 165, 168, 172, 204, 205, 206, 225, 260

Physiology, 280, 284. See also Automatic action; Bain, Alexander; Carpenter, William; Nervous system; "Ye Machine" its colonization of psychology, 135 state of in Britain circa 1870, 128

Pocock, J. G. A., 36, 57, 79

Political economy as a mechanical science, 152 as a moral science, 6 as an "unmoral" science, 44 as catalactics, 167, 169, 234 as part of moral philosophy, 21 as part of the philosophy of mind, 21 as the "dismal science," 23 change in method of, 267 collapse of its authority in 1870s, 41 did not exist before the Middle Ages, 213, 219 distinction between science and application of, 151 history of in Cambridge, 40 its relation to freedom and necessity, 231 Marshall's early reformation of, 258–61

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

Index

327

- Marshall's early definition of, 167 Maurice's ideal of, 27–28
mid-Victorian moralizing of, 27, 30, 259 Mill's methodology of, 151 not a natural science, 212 problematic state of in 1869, 160 romantic ideal of, 28
Stephen's view of as a branch of sociology, 34
Pollock, Frederick, 192 Population principle, 164, 260
Positivism, 30, 248, 249
Grote's definition of, 103
Positivist Society, 246 Potential energy as physical basis of pleasure, 123, 131
Principle of the Conservation of Energy.
See Thermodynamics Principles of Economics, 9, 45, 46, 144, 145, 149, 178, 204, 232, 234, 261, 265, 266, 272, 273, 280, 291, 292, 293, 295, 296 introduction to, 278, 290 relation of to main work, 266, 277–79, 286 Marshall's organization of, 278
on organization, 272, 276, 277–86
Production, 24, 151, 153, 155, 157, 158, 161, 166, 171, 175, 179, 182, 185, 227, 234, 235, 245, 253, 272, 273, 276, 277, 281, 282, 283, 284, 287, 294, 296
Progress, 9, 23, 26, 30, 48, 50, 52, 57, 61, 65, 155, 190, 201, 211, 217, 220, 228, 234, 248, 250, 251, 256, 258, 266, 271, 272, 276, 281, 285, 288, 293, 294, 295, 296 as continuous, 40, 247, 259 as product of dialectical synthesis, 47, 208, 271, 288, 289 as victory of higher over bestial self, 27 extension of education as key to, 50, 228, 245, 247, 252, 253, 254, 258, 259, 285 idea of absent in ancient literature, 209 in economic thought, 164, 175, 205 in the modern world, 3, 181, 219, 270, 271 its spiritual side, 269, 270, 271, 272, 280, 285, 290, 298
Maine's conception of, 202, 210
Marshall's faith in, 216, 218, 219
Marshall's historical idea of, 220, 221
Marshall's mature notion of, 286–89 of character, 283–86 of knowledge, 280–83
Spencer's idea of, 198, 207
Stephen's understanding of, 31, 34 vigour as source of, 149, 290
Pryme, George, 40, 72, 73
Psychology, 116, 151
as study of the processes of education, 115 its convergence with physiology, 135
Mansel's definition of, 101
Marshall's early project in, 109
Raffaelli, T., 94, 196
Reflex action. See Automatic action Reformation, 53, 56
Reid, Thomas, 7, 9, 21, 101, 219 on limits to knowledge, 101
Religion of humanity, 248
Ricardo, David, 5, 24, 28, 29, 30, 36, 40, 59, 151, 152, 153, 159, 161, 163, 164, 165, 174, 175, 180, 199, 201, 205, 206, 232
Robertson, William, 35
Rogers, Thorold J. E., 176
Romanticism, 10, 27, 28, 44, 56, 57, 67, 89, 90, 97, 101, 143, 148, 152, 171, 184, 217, 241, 251, 261
Rothblatt, S., 67, 68, 76, 78
Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 203, 204
Ruskin, John, 25
Russian Revolution, 297
Ryan, A., 110, 111
Schäffle, Albert, G. F., 199, 200
Schneewind, J. B., 46
Schultz, B., 38, 46
Scientific naturalism, 2, 91, 189–92, 215, 289

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

328

Index

- Scottish Enlightenment, 7, 57, 260, 292
- Scottish school of philosophy. See Common sense philosophy; Ferrier,
James Frederick
- Searby, P., 58
- Second Reform Bill, 30, 32, 236, 247, 256
- Sedgwick, Adam, 49, 58, 59, 62, 63, 93
- Self-consciousness, 117, 121, 128, 140, 141, 147, 171, 175, 181, 192, 194,
215, 239, 250, 270, 279, 280, 283, 289, 290, 298
- and Coleridge's notion of the imagination, 142
- and distinctive work of a university, 242
- and induction, 282
- and manliness, 149
- as assumed away in "Ye Machine," 123
- as devoid of physical analogy, 114, 120
- as distinguished from consciousness, 106, 112, 117
- as first step in knowledge of God, 117–18
- as ground of higher philosophy, 116
- as precondition of mental phenomena, 123
- as precondition of morality, 12
- as source of creativity, 6
- as source of non-mechanical action, 141
- as source of progress, 149, 285
- as subject of historical development, 2, 216
- as the foundation and the limit of economic science, 280, 286, 292
- as the ground of economic life, 228, 230
- as the telos of economic life, 228
- associated with higher self, 2
- Bain's Lockean definition of, 114
- brutes devoid of, 142
- economic manifestations of, 234
- evolution of as separation from nature, 212 generates subjective and objective
freedom, 207
- identified with Hegel's notion of freedom, 206
- its role in Marshall's mature social philosophy, 286–89
- Marshall's clarification of his idea of, 122–23
- Marshall's definition of, 114
- the human mind before advent of, 11
- Self-interest, 151, 152, 229
- Selfishness, 25, 26, 27, 33, 81, 82, 83, 148, 230, 246
- Sidgwick, Henry, 17, 18, 19, 38, 39, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 64, 75, 76, 81, 88, 129, 147
- and crisis of political economy, 42
- his criticism of Jevons and Cliffe Leslie, 43
- his early aspirations for political economy, 81
- his epistemic conception of consensus, 38–43
- his philosophical differences with Marshall, 47
- Marshall's obituary tribute to, 18
- Methods of Ethics*, 38, 127, 128
- on distinction between voluntary and determined actions, 127
- on Mill's eclecticism, 64
- Principles of Political Economy*, 41, 42
- Skorupski, J., 67
- Slavery, 200, 211, 253, 254, 275, 290, 296
- Smith, Adam, 5, 7, 8, 9, 12, 24, 32, 50, 56, 62, 63, 151, 152, 204, 205, 232, 236, 260
- as founder of mechanical political economy, 152
- his ideal of character compared with Fawcett's, 74
- his lecture notes on jurisprudence, 19
- his lectures on rhetoric and belles lettres, 51
- his vision of moral development compared with Marshall's, 10–12
- his wider moral philosophy, 20
- on a liberal education, 54
- on capital, 169
- on economic motivations, 23
- on primary education, 235, 236

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

- on the corruption of the English universities, 74
- on the division of labour, 51, 53, 280, 283, 284, 294
- on the history of civilization, 52, 274, 277
- on the significance of standing armies, 52
- on the theory of value, 176
- recent scholarship on, 19
- Theory of Moral Sentiments*, 11, 19, 25
- Victorian transformation of his legacy, 25–30
- Wealth of Nations*, 19, 20, 25, 33, 50, 53, 78, 160, 165, 168, 200, 201, 235, 292
- Smith, C., 130
- Social philosophy, 3, 151, 152, 153, 198, 207, 228, 236, 259, 261, 265, 271, 286–89, 289
- Socialism, 171, 182, 199, 200, 211, 290
- “Some Features of American Industry,” 266–72, 286, 287, 289, 294
- Spencer, Herbert, 9, 32, 35, 91, 112, 117, 146, 192–98, 200, 206, 207, 215, 218, 278
 - and principle of energy conservation, 131
 - First Principles*, 91, 194, 197
 - and Ferrier's first proposition, 195
 - his monistic philosophy, 194–95
 - on civilization, 198
 - Principles of Psychology*, 194
 - Social Statics*, 198, 207
- St. John's College, Cambridge, 45, 83, 150
- Statistical Society, 282
- Stephen, Leslie, 17, 29, 69, 75, 76, 99, 112, 117, 148, 154, 241
 - “An Agnostic's Apology,” 92
 - and muscular ideal of manliness, 149
 - his dismissal of liberal Anglicanism, 93–94
 - his fear of the church, 32
 - his revision of conventional history of political economy, 30
- History of English Thought in the Eighteenth-Century*, 31–36, 37
- Life of Fawcett*, 29, 35, 70, 73
- on the Cambridge mathematical tripos, 73
- on the irrationality of the masses, 37
- The English Utilitarians*, 90
- Stewart, Dugald, 7, 9, 20, 22, 23, 152, 219
 - his Baconian method, 21
 - his moralizing optimism, 7
 - his role in shaping Adam Smith's legacy, 21
 - on Reid on the limits of knowledge, 101
- Stirling, John, 58, 67, 68, 89
- Stoicism, 8, 203, 204, 205, 210
- Subjective freedom, 3, 227, 230, 231, 272, 279, 286, 289, 290, 296, 298
 - as educated by the market, 273
 - as foundation of economic life, 233, 259, 286
 - as precondition of modern state, 213
 - identified as self-consciousness, 206
 - its role in Marshall's mature social philosophy, 286–89
 - Marshall's 1875 redefinition of, 265, 269–72
 - physical preconditions of, 270
- Supply and demand, theory of, 157, 175–76, 176–81, 183, 230, 231, 233, 292. See also “On Value”; Value
- Sympathy, 11, 12, 25, 153, 230, 236, 268, 285, 289, 297
 - Adam Smith's conception of, 11
 - as distinct from altruism, 148
 - as opposite of selfishness, 148
 - mechanical equivalent of. See “Ye Machine”
 - nineteenth-century meaning of, 25
- Tait, Peter, 130
- Taylor, Sedley, 39, 43
 - on authority of consensus, 37
- Technical education, 182, 184
- Test Acts, 95
- “The Duty of the Logician,” 196

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

330

Index

- “The Future of the Working Classes,” 154, 245–46, 249–58, 265, 266, 269, 284, 285, 290, 293
 and different grades of labour, 252 and Marshall's idea of a clerisy, 251, 257 and Marshall's new gospel, 259 and pagan interpretations of political economy, 253–54 as drawing on Marshall's study of Hegel and Maine, 254 as theoretical support for university extension movement, 252, 258 as vision of a classless society, 249 compared with visions of Mill and Beesly, 249 criticized as utopian by Biagini, 258–59 in relation to Marshall's philosophical dualism, 250 Marshall's late comments on, 289 physiological background to, 285 Thermodynamics, 130 and Thomson and Tait's Treatise on Natural Philosophy, 130–31 Marshall's reading of, 130 in Cambridge, 130–31
 Thirlwall, Connop, 58, 75, 217
 Thomson, William, 130
 Thornton, William Thomas, 157, 158, 159, 160, 181 his attack on economic orthodoxy, 156–59 his criticism of supply and demand theory, 157
 Tocqueville, Alexis de, 255, 267 Democracy in America, 66, 267
L'Ancien Régime, 224–25 provides Marshall with key to modern history, 225 Trade unions, 157, 159, 245, 247, 248 and wage determination, 156–59 as agents of progress, 248, 255 compared to Greek republics and Medieval towns, 255, 285
 Marshall's attitude to, 255, 268–69
 Trinity College, Cambridge, 73
 Turgot, Anne Robert Jacques, 6, 164, 165, 205, 206, 260
 Tyndall, John, 190
 University extension movement, 37, 238
 University Test Acts, 76
 Unknowable, the. See Absolute Utilitarianism, 2, 152
 Utopia, 247, 289, 297 Value, 167. See also “On Value”; Supply and demand, theory of and cost of production, 199, 205 and demand as origin of, 167 and period analysis, 179–81 as “normal,” 232–34 outside the economic sphere, 1, 4, 10, 63, 76 subjective definition of, 165–66, 168–69, 170, 172 theory of, 160, 173, 175–76, 230, 231
 and Coleridgean method, 46 in relation to freedom and necessity, 234 marginal utility, 178
 Variable element of consciousness. See objective side of Ego
 Venn, John, 76, 104
 Vigour, 145–46, 149, 290–92
 Village community, the, 215, 274
 Volition, 127, 128, 129, 134
 and Babbage's engines, 139
 as a physical phenomena, 127 physical basis of, 140 von Arx, J., 31
 Wages, 29, 41, 151, 153, 160, 161, 165, 205, 206, 232, 252, 259. See also Wages-fund theory and education, 228, 239, 255 and origin of Marshall's mature theory of distribution, 239, 242–43, 244, 245 and Marshall's philosophy of history, 233 “iron law” of, 29, 199, 200, 205, 206, 243, 253

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-76008-9 - The Intellectual Foundations of Alfred Marshall's Economic Science:
A Rounded Globe of Knowledge

Simon J. Cook

Index

More information

- theory of, 24, 29, 153, 156–59, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 181–85, 233, 242–45
- as framing intellectual context of Marshall's early economic studies, 157
 - as hinge between mechanism and morality, 29, 156
 - marginal-productivity, 184, 228, 244
- Wages-fund theory, 41, 153, 156–59, 160, 169, 182, 184, 244, 253
- Ward, James
- Marshall's letter to, 143
- Warwick, A., 72, 132
- Westcott, Brooke Foss, 108
- Whately, Richard, 167
- Whewell, William, 40, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 70, 71, 75, 76, 77, 103, 167, 174, 282, 292, 293
- as first head of moral sciences tripos, 60
 - as reformer of mathematical tripos, 71, 129, 132
 - his philosophy of the moral and natural sciences, 58–59
 - his shared presuppositions with Mill, 62
 - his vision of a Cambridge clerisy, 60, 61, 69, 292, 293
 - his writings on political economy, 61
 - Novum Organon Renovatum*, 104
 - on a liberal education, 59
 - on civilization, 62
 - on permanent and progressive sciences, 60, 130
- Whitaker, J. K., 161, 178, 181, 183, 244, 255
- Williams, P., 62
- “Ye Machine,” 115, 120–49, 162, 191, 193, 194, 221, 284
- and Coleridge's fancy, 142
 - and limits of intelligent mechanism, 140, 141–42
 - and limits of mechanical sympathy, 147
 - and Marshall's early mental crisis, 122, 143–46
 - and mechanical equivalent of ideas and sensations, 133
 - and mechanical equivalent of imagination, 136
 - and mechanical equivalent of nervous transmission, 140
 - and mechanical equivalent of sympathy, 146
 - and mechanical equivalents of association of ideas, 133
 - and mechanical equivalents of volition, deliberation, instinct, 134
 - and moral character, 146–49
 - and natural selection, 134
 - and random contrivance, 135
 - as account of thermodynamic engine, 130–31
 - as assuming away self-consciousness, 123
 - as development of Bain and Mill's account of volition, 135
 - as exercise in engineering, 121, 129
 - as mechanical rendering of associationist psychology, 121
 - as modelled on Babbage's engines, 140, 141
 - as part of demonstration humans not automata, 143
 - as test of Mill's empiricism, 141
 - feedback mechanism of, 139, 141
 - lower circuit of, 134
 - characteristic of earliest civilizations, 220
 - upper circuit of, 136–40
 - entails imaginative deliberation
 - superseeds random variation, 137
 - in operation in modern history, 220
 - why not a quantitative model, 132