Index

An “f” after a number indicates a separate reference on the next page, an “ff” indicates separate references on the next two pages. Continuous discussion over two or more pages is indicated by a span of numbers, for example, 1–5.

All-People Representative Conference, 90
all-people revolution, 28
American War of Independence, 194
Amnesty International, 346, 351
anarchism, 4, 6; see also Liu Shipei Anhui, 26, 167
antimperialism, 6–7, 25, 85, 112, 185, 225, 351; see also jiuwang; nationalism Anti-Rightist Campaign (1957), 45, 347 armies, Chinese: issue of, in the PCC, 276–9; nationalization of, 234, 263, 277, 292; reduction and reorganization of, 276–9, 293 Association for the Promotion of Chinese Democracy, 301–2

baoji system, 40
Baghot, Walter, 19
Bai Chongxi, 26
Battle of the Bulge, 208
Beetham, David, 15
Beida, see Beijing University
Beijing University, 44, 81, 83, 114, 126, 129, 152
Belgium, 208
Bentham, Jeremy, 60f, 65, 218
“Big Four,” 166

Bill of Rights, 52
Bismarck, Otto Eduard L. von, government of, 35
Black Shirts, 99
Blue Shirts, 41, 44, 50, 99; see also fascism, in China
Bolshevism, 110
Britain, 82, 98, 107, 109, 122, 124, 138, 204f; viewed by Jiang Tingfu as the most stable country, 102–3; see also England
British Labour Party, 318; held up as a model by Chinese liberals, 323–4; socialism of, 323
Brown Shirts, 99
Burke, Edmund, 60

Cai Yuanpei, 46, 72f, 89 capitalism: bureaucratic, 140, 303, 305f, 320, 326, 351; dim view of, 18, 225–6, 247, 306; new, 326–7; state, 140
CC Clique, 234; opposed to the PCC resolutions, 280f cesse-fire agreement (January 10, 1946), 264–5, 286, 293
Central Political Council, 29, 38f, 89, 130, 154, 244
Central Training Corps, 173f
Chang, Carsun, see Zhang Junmai

393
Index

Chang Kia-ngau, 148
Chang, Maria Hsia, 42
Chang Yansheng, 88
Changchun: communist occupation of, 287; retaken by Nationalist forces, 288
Chen Cheng, 287
Chen Dezhieng, 55
Chen Duxiu, 4, 54, 134
Chen Erjin, 348–9
Chen Jitang, 149
Chen Lifu, 167 n90, 180
Chen Mingwu, 99
Chen Qitian, 94, 165, 194; criticizes Nanjing’s handling of the Manchurian crisis and political tutelage, 87–8; on democracy, 222–4; endorses the Constitution of 1947, 291–2; on nationalization of the armies, 277
Chen Shaoyu, 168
Chen Yi, 253
Chen Youren, 149
Chen Zhihui, on democracy within the ruling party, 129–31, 143, 207
Chengdu University, 235
Chiang Kai-shek, 5, 21, 24, 27f, 39f, 112, 125, 131, 144f, 155, 160, 162, 171ff, 173, 176f, 180ff, 204, 206, 225, 232ff, 240, 253f, 256ff, 259f; appointed as zongcai of the GMD, 50; birth of, 41; and constitution making, 46–50; and convocation of the National Assembly, 290; on democracy, 186–7; dictatorship of, 41–6; duumvirate with Wang Jingwei, 86–7, 96; exchanges letter of cooperation with Youth Party and National Socialist Party leaders, 148; and factionalism in the GMD, 29; and fascism, 41–3; and the “four promises,” 266, 301; negotiates with the Communists for a cease-fire in Manchuria, 286–9; and nonresistance to Japan, 82–3; and the PCC resolutions, 280f; rejects coalition government, 286; resigns from all government posts in 1931, 86; sweeping powers of, 49–50; see also Chinese Nationalist Party
China Democratic Party, 352
China Public Institute, 72
China Revolutionary Party, 149
Chinese Communist Party (CCP), 4, 11, 20, 105, 127, 209f, 229, 265; on army reorganization, 277; boycotts the National Assembly, 290; concessions on the program of national reconstruction, 276; and New Democracy, 20, 188–90; on the 1936 Draft Constitution, 267; relations with the DL, 247–53; seats on the expanded State Council, 274; seats in the National Assembly, 271; Southern Bureau of, 248; sympathy for, 314–16; thought to be willing to compromise early in 1946, 294–5; united front strategy of, in relation to the MPGs and the third force, 154, 156, 190, 346; viewed as a benign and pro-democracy force, 297; wartime united front with the GMD, 144; see also Mao Zedong
Chinese Democratic League, see Democratic League
Chinese Democratic National Construction Association, 301
Chinese Human Rights League, 348–9
Chinese League of Democratic Political Groups, 233–4; see also Democratic League Chinese League for the Protection of Civil Rights, 72
Chinese Liberation Action Committee, 150
Chinese Nationalist Party (GMD), 3, 5, 11, 20, 43, 205f, 207f, 210, 247, 265; Extraordinary National Party Congress (1938), 49, 168; factionalism in, 27, 29, 131; Fifth National Party Congress, 47, 125;
Index

Fourth National Party Congress, 89; Left of, 27, 41; on government reorganization, 271–2; liberal elements within, 45–6; nature of the regime of, 26–30; relations with the DL, 253–5; rise to power of, 26; seats in the National Assembly, 271; Sixth National Party Congress, 50, 177, 257; Third National Party Congress, 31, 546; “three cardinal policies” of the reorganized, 149; wartime democratic rhetoric of, 185–8; wartime united front with the CCP, 144; see also Chiang Kai-shek; political tutelage
Chinese Peasants and Workers Democratic Party, 150
Chinese political culture, 182, 260, 264, 339, 346; as a paradigm to explain China’s failure to democratize, 21–5
Chinese Youth Party; see Youth Party
Chongqing talks, 256, 264
Chu Anping, 238–9, 252; on the role of Chinese liberals, 309; on the weaknesses of Chinese intellectuals, 311; purged in the Cultural Revolution, 348
Chu Fucheng, 257
Churchill, Winston, 208; wartime cabinet of, 284 civil opposition: compared to the pro-democracy movement in contemporary China, 348–51; definition of, 2; failure and significance of, 346–7; fate of, 331–4 civil war: in China, 286f; inevitability of, 293–4; opposition to, 258–9, 263f; responsibility for, 294–5
Clibb, Edmund D., 293 coalition government, 16f, 87f, 137, 145, 213, 244, 247; notion of, 282–6; see also “On Coalition Government”
Coble, Parks M., 28, 150
Cold War, 231, 286, 305, 346; end of, 351
Columbia University, 45, 58, 119
Comintern, 346
Commission for the Inauguration of Constitutionalism, 172–3, 176–7, 244
Committee of Five, 288
Committee of Three, 264, 278, 288
communism, 103, 306; in China, 69, 243–50; in Soviet Russia, 319–20 Communist Manifesto, 330 conflict of interest, question of, 226–8, 342
Confucianism, 4; and authoritarianism, 22–3; blamed for China’s lack of democracy, 54; and Chinese legal system, 71; and fascism, 42; and human rights, 51–3; and proto-liberal and pro-democracy elements, 22, 222–3, 227; under attack, 137
Constitution Drafting Committee, 98, 168
Constitution of 1923, 57, 291
Constitution of 1947, 50, 291–2
Constitution Promotion Committee, 169–71, 176
Constitutional Democracy Promotion Association, 176
Constitutional Review Committee, 270, 281 constitutionalism, 3, 31, 57, 61, 194, 198–9; renewed campaign for, at the PCC, 166–79
Control Yuan, 39, 269f, 273
Crescent, The, 55, 58f, 80f; Beijing office of, 73
Crescent Society, 55
Cultural relativism, 15, 65
Cultural Revolution (1966–1976), 348
Currant, Thomas D., 220, 260
Czechoslovakia, 324
Dagongbao, 86, 91, 106, 126, 159, 179, 187
Dahl, Robert, A., 18
Dai Li, 44
Dazhong shenghuo, 151
de Bary, Wm. Theodore, 22
December First Movement, 259, 300
December Ninth Movement, 236
Declaration of Independence, 52
Defense of Freedom, The (1935), 130
democracy: Anglo-American, 13f, 16, 134, 219, 224, 229, 231, 246, 315, 343; case for wartime, 192–6; Chinese, defined, 2; consociational, 284–5; constitutional, 9, 124, 142; different models of, 14 and n33; economic, 330; gentry, 3; and expatriocracy, 74–80; and human rights, 51, 74, 196–7; liberal, 14f, 35, 38; and liberalism, 14–16; middle ground, 218–26, 341f; and national reconstruction, 265; new, 299, 324, 342; political, 330; people’s, 1; revisionist, 138–43, 186, 226; Sinification of liberal, 224, 342; socialistic, 331, 348–9; uses of, 340
Democracy Wall Movement, 348
Democratic Constitutional Party, 250
Democratic International, 312, 346
Democratic League (DL), 20, 146, 195, 260ff, 263, 265, 270; on army reorganization, 277; boycotts the National Assembly, 290; calls for a cease-fire in Manchuria, 287; criticized by Huang Ganyin, 250–1; on democracy, 240–3; formation of, 232–5; funding of, 240; on government reorganization, 273; mediation efforts of, 255–8; membership of, 238–9; opposed to civil war, 258–9; organization and leadership of, 236–40; political platform of, 243–7; relations with the CCP, 247–53; relations with the GMD, 253–5; seats in the National Assembly, 271; slogans ("democratization of politics" and "nationalization of the armies") of, 234, 263, 292; U.S. attitude toward, 256–8
Democratic Socialist Party, 247, 250; expelled from the DL, 292; see also National Socialist Party
Deng Xiaoping, 25, 326, 344, 348
Deng Ziyang, 149–50
Deng Yingchao, 158, 164
Dewey, John, 78, 120, 151
Ding Wenjiang, 119, 125, 143, 331, 338; advocates neo-dictatorship, 104–8, 111–12; on the national emergency in 1932, 83–4; rejects Hu Shi’s kindergarten politics, 117; visits Soviet Russia, 106
Dingxiang experiment, 153
Domes, Jürgen, 38
Dong Biwu, 164, 172
Dong Shijin, 340
Dongfeng zushi, 86
Double-Tenth Agreement (1945), 264
Draft Constitution (May 1936), 47–9, 169f, 173, 177, 291; issue of, at the PPC, 267–70; PPC resolution on amendments to, 268–70
Draft Constitution of 1919, 57
Draft Constitution of 1925, 57
Draft Constitution Subcommittee, 267, 280
Draft Program for Resistance to Japan and National Salvation, 96
Duan Qiru, 89, 235
Duli pinglan, 81, 86, 99, 114
East–West dichotomy, 13
Eastman, Lloyd, 16, 44, 116, 118, 142; on Chinese fascism, 41–2; on Chinese political culture, 21; on democracy in China, 13–14; on the democracy versus dictatorship debate, 114; on the Nanjing regime, 27–8
Elvin, Mark, 3
Emperor Protection Party, 132
Engels, Friedrich, 330
England, 5, 19, 100, 116, 129, 194; see also Britain enlightened despotsm, 99, 116
Essentials of Parliamentary Democracy, The (1935), 130
Index

European War, 166, 173, 204f, 249, 269, 346; see also Second World War
Examination Yuan, 39, 269
Executive Yuan, 39, 49, 139, 180, 269; proposal for a reorganization of, 272f; proposal for a wartime, 168 exploitation, debate on the question of, 325–7
Fabianism, 55, 224, 324
Fairbank, John K., 28, 41, 79
Fang Lizhi, 349
fascism, 41f, 103, 110, 249; in China, 41–2, 43, 99; in Italy, 42, 130; in Portugal, 42; in Spain, 42
fazhi, 57, 121f; see also law, rule of Federalist Papers, 39
Fei Xiaotong, 248, 347
Feng Yuxiang, 26, 47
Fengtian, 84
Fewsmith, Joseph, 28, 35, 42
Fifth Army Corps, 82, 97
First World War, 110, 129, 225, 284
five powers, 38, 48, 174
France, 100f, 110, 122, 124, 129; fall of, to Nazi forces, 205, 207f
French Revolution, 5–6, 121, 129
Friedman, Edward, 19, 23
Fu Sinian, 334; urges caution in resisting the Japanese in 1932, 84; visits Yan’an, 257f
Fudan University, 45
Fujian, 26
Fujian Rebellion, 99–100, 102, 150, 248
Fundamentals of National Reconstruction (1924), 30, 40, 280; criticized by Hu Shi, 57
Furth, Charlotte, 107
Gambetta, Leon, 92
Gansu, 26
Gauss, Clarence E., 175, 257
Germany, 5, 21, 42, 98, 102, 109, 124, 195, 205, 207f
Goldman, Merle, 52–3
Grammar of Politics, A (1925), 60; translated into Chinese, 58
Great Depression, 88, 100, 113, 124, 138, 225
Great Leap Forward, 348
Grieger, Jerome B., 10, 12, 34, 79, 98, 238
Guancha, 238, 299, 325; launching and circulation of, 300–1
Guanghua University, 58, 134
Guangmingbao, 233f
Guangxi, 253
Guangxi Clique, 26, 83, 99, 149
Guangxi Constitutional Government
Advancement Association, 49
Guomindang Association for the Promotion of Democracy, 302
Guowen zhoubao, 86, 126–7
Guoxin, 153
Han Dynasty, 36, 100
He Baogang, 7
He Xiangning, 46, 151, 302
Hebei, 153, 167
Heilongjiang, 84
Held, David, 14–15
Henen, 26, 167, 208
Henkin, Louis, 51
Hitler, Adolf, 43, 110, 219
Hobbies, Thomas, 60
“Holy Alliance,” 138
Hu Daowei, 118, 121–2
Hu Hanmin, 46–7, 86
Hu Shi, 4, 12, 44, 54, 79f, 104, 112, 125, 128, 140, 142, 152, 155, 213, 331; as ambassador to the United States, 184 n5; and the Chinese League for the Protection of Civil Rights, 72–3; on constitutionalism, 61; criticizes Sun Yat-sen, 57; critiques GMD political tutelage, 66, 70; as Dean of the College of Arts at Beijing University, 81; debates with Ding Wenjiang on democracy versus dictatorship, 100–1; on democracy and expert politics, 74–80; dismissed as principal of the China Public Institute, 72; opens the human rights salvo, 55–8; on the “five great enemies,” 85; on kindergarten politics, 75, 114, 115–19, 124, 143; on the knowledge-action nexus, 35; regards democracy as a kind of education, 74–5; supports but does not join the Nationalist government after 1949, 334; telegram to Mao Zedong in 1945 urging the CCP to lay down its arms, 333; on thought control and freedom of speech, 69
Index

Hua Gang, 248
Huang Ganyun, critique of the DL, 250–1
Huang, Philip C., 342
Huang Yanpei, 238, 246, 251, 257, 301; on democracy, 154, 214; and the formation of the DL, 233, 235; as founder of the Vocational Education Society, 153; home of, ransacked, 279; post–1949 career of, 347 n8; and the wartime constitutional movement, 170ff, 176, 178; withdraws from politics, 292
Hubei, 26, 167
human rights, 2, 5, 51, 242–3; case for wartime, 196–7; coming to China of the idea of, 53–4; and Confucianism, 51–3; and democracy, 51, 74, 196–7; issue of, 12, 20; joint statement (February 1947) demanding respect for, 304; Western notion of, 51ff; see also Hu Shi; Luo Longji
Human Rights Group, 54; central concerns of, 65–74; criticized by PRC writers, 80f humanism, Chinese, 52–3
Hunan, 167
Hungary, 124
Huntington, Samuel, 22, 128, 203, 210
Hurley, Patrick J., 177; mission to China, 256–8
Ichigo Offensive, 208, 254
India, 133
International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (1966), 64 n47
International Covenant on Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights (1966), 64 n47
Ip Hung-yok, 211, 213
Italy, 5, 21, 56, 88, 109, 110, 124, 137f, 207; defeat of, 195
Japan, 2, 21, 42, 98, 103; actions in Manchuria, 82, 85, 92, 142; Mejì, 3, 35; threat to China, 5, 81
Jiang Hengyuan, 168, 178
Jiang Menglin, 71
Jiang Tingfu, 108, 111f, 115, 117, 125, 143, 192, 338; advocates dictatorship, 99–104; on the National Emergency Conference, 91–2; supports Nanjing’s nonresistance policy in 1932, 84; visits Soviet Russia and Germany, 102
Jiangsu, 26, 153
Jiangsu Provincial Education Society, 153
Jiangxi, 59
Jiefang ribao, 278
Jilin, 82, 84
Jin-Ji-Chao border region, 167
Jinri pingshan, 184 n4, 191
Jiuguo tongxin, 153
jiawang, 3–7, 25, 82, 183; and democracy, 192–3; and qimeng, 6–8, 85–6, 112, 143, 183–4, 228, 337–8; see also Li Zehou
Judicial Yuan, 39, 269
Kalgan, 288–9
Kant, Immanuel, 217
Kantong Army, 82
Kennedy, Melville, 238, 247

398
Index

Kent, Ann, 53
“knowledge is difficult, action is easy”
(Sun Yat-sen), 35, 76
“knowledge is easy, action is difficult”
(Wang Yangming), 35
Kong Geng, 168
Korea, 23, 313
Kung, H. H. (Kong Xiangxi), 180
Ladson, Wm. R., 253
Laski, Harold J., 58, 65, 93, 98, 120, 195, 219, 220, 223, 309, 320; and new liberalism, 61; on political and economic equality, 321; on rights and the obligation of the individual, 60–1; on the state, 62, 65–8 n56 law, rule of; and constitutional rule, 198; and democracy, 198–9; and human rights, 52; as a major concern of the Human Rights Group, 70–4; as a minimal demand during the war, 198–9; see also fazhi
League of Nations, 82, 84
Legalism, 71
Legislative Yuan, 39, 47, 49, 96, 97–8, 175, 180, 269, 273
Leng Yu, 179, 257
Lenin (Vladimir Illich Ulyanov), 84
“Let a Hundred Flowers Blossom and a Hundred Schools Contend Campaign,” 347
Levine, Marilyn A., 147
Li Dazhao, 4, 54
Li Gongpu, 151; assassination of, 281, 345
Li Huang, 90, 146, 148, 155, 235, 290, 334
Li Jishen, 26, 46, 240, 253, 302
Li, Lincoln, 7
Li Yizhe Group, 348
Li Yizhe Movement, 348
Li Zehou, 6–8, 337–8
Li Zongren, 26, 83
Liang Qichao, 13, 36f, 53, 99, 132ff, 148, 218f, 341
Liang Shiqiu, 55; criticizes Sun Yat-sen, 66; critiques “Party-ization,” 69
Liang Shuming, 154, 156, 165, 172, 192, 194, 227, 237, 248, 251; calls on the Communists to eschew the use of violence, 332–3; culturalism of, 211–13; on “election disaster,” 313; on the events of 1946–1947 and responsibility for the civil war, 294–5; and the formation of the DL, 232–4; as founder of the Rural Reconstruction Group and the Shandong rural reconstruction project, 152–3; post–1949 career of, 247 n58; on the question of veto power in the expanded State Council, 274–5; reaction to the fall of Kalgan, 259; single-multiple inclusive system of, 209–13; talks with Americans about the DL, 256–7
Liao Zhongkai, 16 f70 liberalism, 5, 8, 10, 19, 103; classical, 324, 343; and communism, 329; cultural, 325; and democracy, 14–16; laisser-faire, 77; new, 299, 324, 343; political, 325; and socialism, 321
Liguo zhi dao (1937), 133
Lin Biao, 256
Lin Sen, 89, 162
Lin Yu-sheng, 1
Lincoln, Abraham, 32, 242
Lithuania, 124
Liu Binyan, 349
Liu Shipei, 4; on the liberty–equality nexus, 317
Liu Wenhui, 240
Liu Xiang, 147
Locke, John, 61f
London School of Economics and Political Science, 58, 93
Long Yun, 44, 240, 253; supports the Communists and the DL in Yunnan, 248–9
Lubot, Eugene, 98
Index

Luo Longji, 54, 80–1, 88, 90, 94, 119, 140ff, 165, 209, 213, 220, 224, 233, 236f, 239f, 242, 248, 251ff, 281, 331, 350; appointed as editor of Yishibao, 73; arrest of, 73; attitude toward the Communists, 76 n79, 294, 316; birth and education of, 58; on communism in China, 69; conception of human rights, 58–65; criticizes the civil service exam system, 67; criticizes GMD political tutelage and dictatorship, 66–8, 88; on the democracy versus dictatorship debate, 122; on expert politics, 75–8; hails the PCC resolutions, 279; on the liberty–equality nexus, 317–18; on obligation of the individual, 61; on party system, 205–7, 340; on politics of public opinion, 222; post-1949 career of, 347 n8; on public administration and institutional development, 74ff, 202–3; purged by the CCP in 1957, 348; reaction to the fall of Kalgan, 289; on rule of law, 73–4; on the state, 62; on the third road, 246–7; on thought control and freedom of speech, 68–9; understanding of democracy, 214; on universal suffrage and representative bodies, 75; on wartime democracy, 184, 200
Lushan Conference, 144, 154

Ma Zemin, 237
MacDonald, Ramsay, government of, 57, 110, 138
Manchuria, 81f, 83f, 97; 1932 crisis in, 10, 20; civil war in, 206; GMD–CCP negotiations over; see also Marco Polo Bridge incident; Mukden incident
Mandate of Heaven, 62
Marco Polo Bridge incident, 144, 151
Marshall, General George C., 264; calls for a Chinese liberal leadership, 307–8; endorses the Constitution of 1947, 291 n106; endorses the PCC resolutions, 279; on the GMD–CCP conflict, 296; mission of, 279, 286ff, 289; statement of January 1947, 296; on the weaknesses of the MPGs, 308 n30
Marx, Karl, 60, 330
Marxism, 2, 4, 54, 189, 327
Marxism–Leninism, 6
May Fifth Draft Constitution, see Draft Constitution (May 1936)
May Fourth Movement, 4, 6, 54, 114, 172, 311; enlightenment and spirit of, 120f; radicalism of, 2; tradition of, 55; veterans of, 9, 183
Melby, John F., 148, 252, 261, 316
Metzger, Thomas, 23, 36, 141
Michael, Franz, 52
Michels, Robert, 18
middle party, and politics, 2, 10f, 231, 262, 304–6 middle-ground democracy, see democracy
Military Affairs Commission, 39, 49, 277
Mill, John Stuart, 36, 65, 124, 139, 219
minben thought, 22, 137, 222
Mingri zhi Zhongguo wenhua (1936), 133 minor parties and groups (MPGs), 11f, 25, 144f, 176ff, 184, 229f; accommodated by the GMD at the start of the Sino-Japanese War, 144–6, 345; democratic thoughts of, 190–213; elites of, 11–13; on the eve of the Sino-Japanese War, 146–54; as loyal critics, 12; on provincial self-government, 268; significance of, 154; wooed by the CCP, 154, 345; see also National Salvation Association; National Socialist Party; Rural Reconstruction Group; third force; Third Party; Vocational Education Society; Youth Party
Index

Minzhu, 258
Minzhu magazine, 301, 303
minzhu, 2, 241
Minzhu banyuekan, 301
minzhu dangpai, 347
Minzhu lunan, 301
Minzhu shenghuo, 301
Minzhu zhengzhi, 301
Minzhu zhouchan, 184 n4, 258, 301
Minzhubao, 280
Moore, Barrington, Jr., 21, 29
Mosca, Gaetano, 299–300
Mou Zongsan, 342
Mukden incident, 81f, 86; criticism of Nanjing’s handling of, 87–8
Musсолини, Бенито, 110, 300
Myers, Ramon, 25

Nankai University, 44, 89, 129
Nathan, Andrew, 1, 17, 22, 57f, 213; on Liang Qichao, 218
National Assembly, 30f, 33, 39, 48–9, 90, 97, 269; First, 96; opening of, in November 1946, 288–90; question of the convocation of, 168f, 170–2, 177f, 204, 270–1; question of veto power in, 271
National Central University, 108
National Constituent Assembly, 75
National Defense Advisory Council, 154
National Emergency Conference, 20, 186–92, 112–13, 159, 182
National People’s Representatives Congress, 91, 97, 126, 134, 137, 139 national reconstruction: and democracy, 262; issue of, at the PCC, 275–6; wartime task of, 191–2
National Renaissance Society, 54, 132 national salvation, see jiuxiang
National Salvation Association, 92, 146, 235, 247; on the eve of the Sino-Japanese War, 150–1
National Socialist Party, 54, 99, 102, 205f, 235, 250; formation and ideology of, 132–7; on the eve of the Sino-Japanese War, 148–9; see also Democratic Socialist Party nationalism, 7–8, 134, 151, 197, 224, 228; anti-imperialism, 9–10, 83, 85, 112ff, 183, 193, 338, 350; economic, 109; resurgence of, in the PRC, 351
Nationalism China Youth Corps, 146–7
Nationalist revolution, 4, 225; three phases of, 30, 66
Nazis, 54, 299
neo-dictatorship, advocacy of, and democracy debate, see Ding Wenjiang; Hu Shi; Jiang Tingfu; Qian Duansheng
New Culture Movement, 9, 54
New Deal, 110, 113, 331; see also Roosevelt, Franklin
New Democracy, see Chinese Communist Party; Mao Zedong
New Enlightenment movement, 183, 221f
New Fourth Army incident, 164, 233, 248, 256
New Life Movement, 42–3, 187
Nineteenth Route Army, 82, 97, 99, 153
North China Correspondents Association, 304
Northern Expedition, 26

Olesnik, Keneth, 150
“On Coalition Government,” 189, 296, 315
“On New Democracy,” 296, 315
On Liberty, 36
one-party dictatorship, as a main human rights concern, 66–8; see also Chinese Nationalist Party; political tutelage
Index

Pacific War, 166, 236, 286
Pan Guangdan, 348; on democracy, 219–21, 236, 246, 248
Parekh, Bhikhu, 15
Paris Commune, 349
Pateman, Carole, 17
Peace of Brest-Litovsk, 84
Peng Zennin, 150
People’s Liberation Army, 275
People’s Political Council (PPC), 11, 20f, 143, 144–6, 230, 339; early phase of, 159–66; evaluation of, 179–82; formation of, 154–8; memberships of, 156–8, 165; postwar existence of, 178–9; powers of, 159–60, 161; presidium of, 158; Residential Committee of, 160; viewed as a “wartime parliament,” 145
People’s Republic of China (PRC), 1, 51, 80, 248, 253
Pepper, Suzanne, 293–4; on the third force, 334
Plato, 119
Poe, Dixon, 198
Poland, 5, 124, 284
Political Consultative Conference (PCC), 11, 20, 250, 262, 339; issue of army reorganization at, 276–9; issue of government reorganization at, 271–5; issue of the National Assembly at, 270–1; issue of national reconstruction at, 275–6; issue of the 1936 Draft Constitution at, 267–70; opening of, 265–7; origins of, 264; ultimate failure of, 279–82
Political Study Clique, 46, 256 political tutelage: assumptions about, 31; conceived by Sun Yat-sen, 30–1; critiqued by the opposition elite, 92–6; and one-party dictatorship, 66–8
Price, Don, 3
Principle of the People’s Livelihood, 226; equated with economic democracy, 319
Principle of People’s Rights, 32
Program of Armed Resistance and National Reconstruction, 144, 163, 169, 185, 234
Program for the National People’s Spiritual General Mobilization, 187
Progressive Party, 132
Provisional Action Committee of the Guomindang, 149–50
Provisional Constitution of 1912, 57, 194
Provisional Constitution of May 1931, 47, 49, 73, 169
Pye, Lucian, 21, 197
Qian Duansheng, 111–12, 148, 157, 167, 347; advocates dictatorship, 108–10; calls for a new Nationalist leadership, 307; on DL’s political platform, 247; on national reconstruction and resistance to the Japanese, 111–12; on the need for the GMD to democratize before China could, 207; post–1949 career of, 347 n8; on the PCC, 179, 182; on single-party system, 203–7, 340–1
Qian Jiaju, 319
Qian Shifu, 322
qimeng, 6–7, 9, 25; and jiawang, see jiawang
Qin Dynasty, 36
Qing Dynasty, 3, 94
Qinghua University, 44, 55, 84, 119, 129, 151
quanzhong dichotomy, 35, 77, 79, 185–6
Quanzhong zhounan, 159
Rectification Campaign (1942), 45
Red Army, 275
Rehe, 83–4
renzhi, 57, 71, 121f, 203
Reorganizationists (Guizupai), 27
Republic of China, 92, 94
Republic of China People’s Revolutionary Government, 99

402

© Cambridge University Press  www.cambridge.org
Index

Research Clique, 132
revisionist democracy (xiuzheng minzhu zhengzhii), see democracy; Zhang Junmai
Revolution of 1911, 3, 121
Revolutions and Alliance, 92 rights: citizen’s, 64; civil and political, 64 n46; four, as stated by Sun Yat- sen, 30, 33, 35, 37, 48, 174, 241, 267; natural, 37, 60–1, 64, 122, 141, 350; negative, 64; people’s, 63–4; positive, 64, 79; see also human rights
Ringwalt, Arthur, 248, 257
Romania, 264
Roosevelt, Franklin D., 110, 113, 173, 198, 294, 218, 256, 319, 331; administration of, 138, 318; see also New Deal
Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 33, 60, 62, 217
Rural Reconstruction Group, 146, 152–3, 235
Russell, Bertrand, 75, 98, 106, 120, 193, 219, 233; on postwar democracy, 299
Russia, 100f; see also Soviet Russia
Russian Revolution, 4, 284
Sanmin zhuyi, see Three Principles of the People
Sartori, Giovanni, 16, 19; on the liberty–equality nexus, 317, 323
Schumpeter, Joseph, 16–17, 18, 118
Schwarze, Vera, 114, 183, 221
Second World War, 18, 110, 284; see also European War
September Third Study Society, 302 “seven honorable persons,” 151, 215
Sha Qianli, 151
Shaaxi, 26, 149
Shandong, 152, 167
Shandong rural reconstruction project, 152–3
Shandong Rural Reconstruction Research Institute, 152
Shanghai, 26, 82, 146; capitalists of, 28; City Council of Chinese, 3; International Settlement, 44
Shanxi, 26, 167
Shao Lizi, 46 n69, 279f, 307
Sharmon, Lyon, 38
Shen Junru, 151, 165, 237f, 268; on constitutionalism, 194–5
Shenhuo, 99
Shen-Gan-Ning border region, 167
Shenghuo zhihui, 301
Shi Fuiliang, 191, 301; on the democracy–socialism nexus, 328; on exploitation and new capitalism, 326–7, 335; on the “liberal road,” 309; on middle party and middle politics, 304–5
Shi Liang, 165, 246, 281; arrest of, 151; on democracy, 215–16; home of, ransacked, 279; post–1949 career of, 347 n8
Shidai pinglun, 196
Shiji pinglun, 301, 324
Shishi xinhao, 134
Sino-Japanese War, First, 3, 9; Second, 143, 153, 183; see also War of Resistance
Smith, Adam, 61
socialism, 4; and democracy, 327–31; and liberalism, 321; new, 299, 323, 343; state, 134, 138, 140
Society for Vigorous Practice, 42, 99; see also fascism
Solomon, Richard, 21
Song Jiaoren, 3
Song Qingling, 46, 72, 149, 151
Soong, T. V. (Song Zifen), 83 n1, 97, 180
Southwest Associated University, 44, 207, 219, 236, 258, 307
Soviet Russia, 98, 102f, 107, 109, 110, 112, 124, 137f; see also Soviet Union
Soviet Union, 106, 149, 205, 207; enters the Pacific War, 286; rosy picture of, 319–20
Spain, 5, 21, 98, 124, 129
Spar, Frederic, 63

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Index

Spencer, Herbert, 219
Stalin, Joseph, 208; Five-year Plan of, 113
State Council, 281, 288; proposal for expansion of, 271–3; question of veto power in, 274–5
Stuart, Leighton, 286, 288
student activism, 2, 300
Sun Fo, 47, 86, 89, 92, 160 n59, 172, 180, 234, 253, 279, 307; as a leading liberal within the GMD, 45–6; as a member of the PCC, 279; replaced as president of the Executive Yuan, 86; political speeches of, critical of the GMD, 173–6; as president of the Legislative Yuan, 45, 96; proposes an enlargement of the government, 271–2; pursues a cabinet system of government, 47; reformist views, 96–8
Sun Hongyi, 90
Sun Wu Kong (legendary Monkey), 128
Sun Yat-sen, 4, 27, 46, 62, 77, 133, 220, 267; conception of political tutelage, 30–1; criticized by Hu Shi, 57; criticized by Liang Shiqiu, 66; democratic thought of, 179, 32–6, 48, 72, 127, 224; on equality, 34; five-power structure of government of, 39; legacy of the thought of, 38–40, 50; on liberty, 35–7; on local self-government, 31; on the quan-neng dichotomy, 35; sheet-of-loose-sand theory, 36, 66, 109, 212; as zongli of the GMD, 33, 50, 70
Svensson, Marina, 7
Switzerland, 129
Taiping Rebellion, 33, 41
Taiwan, 23, 270f, 334
Tan Pingshan, 149, 302
Tang Dynasty, 100
Tanggu Truce, 84
Tao Menghe, 124
Tao Xingzhi, 151, 165, 237
Tao Xisheng, 126
Temple of Heaven Draft Constitution of 1913, 57 third force, 2, 11, 20f; definition of, 230–1; mediation of, 286–92; reflections on the peace efforts of, 292–7; revisited after the war, 304–6; significance of, 261; split of, 292; viewed by General Marshall as a potential liberal force, 293; see also Democratic League
Third Party, 12, 89, 99, 105, 146, 235, 247f; origins and early activities of, 149–50
Third Party Group, 290
third road, 246–7, 261, 305f
Three Principles of the People, 37, 48, 55, 105, 109, 146, 149, 187, 203; accepted as the “highest guiding principle during the war” by all political parties and groups, 163, 190, 232; adopted as the GMD’s ideology, 4; and communism and liberalism, 306; declared by the GMD as the “highest principles of national reconstruction” and accepted as such by the CCP, 275f; echoed by the National Socialists, 134; implementation of, 320
Three Principles of the People
United Comrades Association, 302
Tiananmen tragedy (June 4, 1989), 348, 351
Tongzhi Restoration, 41
Trotskyites, 99
Truman, Harry S., 264
Tsou Tang, “win-all-or-lose-all” theory of, 23–4, 340
Turkey, 103, 109, 110
two-party paradigm, 11
USSR, 231; see also Soviet Russia; Soviet Union
United National Reconstruction Comrades Association, 232
Index

United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights of 1948, 52
United States, 82, 98, 107, 109, 110f, 116, 122, 124, 129, 138, 173, 204; alleged interference in China’s domestic affairs, 312–13; policy in China, 346; see also Marshall, General George C.
Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948), 64 n47 universal suffrage, 17, 75, 79, 127, 129, 350
University of Wisconsin, 58, 93
Van Slyke, Lyman P., 154, 249, 293
Vocational Education Society, 146, 153, 235
Voitinsky, Gregory, 134
Wakeman, Frederic, Jr., 42
Wallace, Henry A., 256, 531
Wang Chonghui, 39, 55–6
Wang Jingwei, 27, 47, 125, 148, 155; defection of, 164, 166–7, 193; defends political tutelage, 92; on democracy, 185–6; duumvirate with Chiang Kai-shek, 86–7; at the National Emergency Conference, 90–2; as president of the Executive Yuan, 89, 163; as speaker of the PPC, 162f
Wang Shijie, 46 n68, 160 n59; on the enlargement of the government, 272; as a government representative on the PCC, 279f; as secretary of the PCC, 171f, 176
Wang Xizhe, 348
Wang Yunseng, on coalition government, 282–3
Wang Yunwu, 180, 257, 334; on the allocation of State Council seats, 274; on the membership of the National Assembly, 270; on the PPC, 180
Wang Zaoshi, 94, 151, 159, 165, 168, 172; critiques political tutelage, 92ff
War of Resistance, 159, 171, 186, 232; see also Sino-Japanese War
Webb, Sidney and Beatrice, 98
Weber, Max, 18, 219
Wedemeyer, General Albert C., mission to China and Korea, 313
Wei Jingsheng, 351; calls for a “Fifth Modernization,” 349
Wells, H. G., 98, 106, 120, 324
Wen Yiduo, 55, 248; assassination of, 281, 345
Wenhui bao, 305
White Terror, 55
Wilson, Woodrow, 32
Wu Enyu, 322
Wu Han, 248
Wu Jingchao, 104, 115, 125, 192
Wu Jingxiong (John C. H. Wu), 48, 98
Wu Tielehong, 234
Wu Yuan-li, 52
Wu Zhizhuang, 199
Wuwei philosophy, 118
Wuwei politics, 118, 342
Xi’an incident, 144
Xianzheng yuekan, 174, 176
Xiaogongqu, 321
Xiaoxi, 301
Xin Zhonghuabao, 188
Xinhua ribao, 159, 188, 279f
Xinningbao, 329
Xu Deheng, 302
Xu Zhimo, 55
Yalta Agreement, 208
Yan Fu, 13, 37, 53
Yan Jiaqi, 350
Yan Rengeng, on new capitalism, 326–7; on the socialism–democracy nexus, 330–1, 335
Yan Siping, 328
Yan Xishan, 26, 47, 149
Yan Yangchun (James Y. C. Yen), 153, 159
Yang Renbian, on liberalism and the Chinese liberals, 306, 308f, 311, 330
Index

Yanjing University, 134, 304
Ye Chucang, 70
Yeshibao, 81, 88, 94, 122, 164
Young, Ernest P., 3
Young Turk Party, 146
Youth Party, 99, 102, 132, 177–8, 205f, 235ff, 239, 247, 250; on army reorganization, 270; attitude toward the National Emergency Conference, 86–91; formation and early years of, 146–8; on government reorganization, 272–3; on the 1936 Draft Constitution, 267; opposed to the opening of the National Assembly in November 1945, 177–8; seats in the National Assembly, 217
Yuan Shikai, 3, 4, 41, 94
Yugoslavia, 124, 284
Yunnan, 44, 248
Yunnan University, 236
Yuzhou xunkan, 212

Zaisheang, 132, 149; writers for, on the GMD, 134–5
Zaishegshie, 54, 132
Zeng Guofan, 41, 43
Zeng Qi, 273, 333; as leader of the Youth Party, 146–8
Zeng Zhaolun, 248, 253; on coalition government, 284; on the DL–CCP alliance, 249–50
Zhang Bojun, 149, 164, 168, 172, 178, 233, 237, 240, 248, 257; as leader of the Third Party, 150; post–1949 career of, 347 n8; purged by the CCP in 1957, 348
Zhang Boling, 89
Zhang Dongsun, 95, 132, 238, 303; changes attitude toward the Communists, 315–16; on conflict of interest, 227–8; critiques GMD political tutelage, 93–4; on coalition government, 283; on democracy, 216–18; on the democracy–dictatorship relationship, 134–6; on election manipulation, 313–14; as a founding member of the National Socialist Party, 134; on middle party and middle politics, 305–6; on postwar production in China, 325; on the socialism–democracy nexus, 327–8
Zhang Fukui, 253
Zhang Foquan, 126–8
Zhang Junmai, 54, 58, 168, 170, 172, 209, 213, 224, 233, 237f, 251; on the CCP’s war criminals list, 333; critiques Wang Jingwei’s position on political tutelage, 93; defines the third force, 231; endorses the Constitution of 1947, 291; as founder and leader of the National Socialist Party, 132–3, 148–9; on human rights, 242, 346; and the idea of an “invisible National Assembly,” 267–8; leadership qualities, criticized by Qian Duansheng, 148; lives in the United States, 334; on local self-government, 97; on the PCC resolutions, 282; on revisionist democracy, 138–43, 186, 226; and the Third Party Group, 289; understanding of democracy, 218; on wartime British politics, 201–2; on working with the Communists in 1946, 294
Zhang Lan, 195, 234f, 237f, 240f, 249, 253, 288; on democracy, 195, 241 “Zhang–Luo Anti-Party, Anti-Socialist, Anti-People Alliance,” 348
Zhang Naiqi, 151, 301
Zhang Qun, 279f
Zhang Shifu, 151, 164, 168, 192f, 200, 237, 249, 347; calls for postwar democracy, 300; on China’s alternative in 1948, 331–2; on democracy and science, 193; home of, ransacked, 279
Index

Zhang Xiruo, 142; attacks the GMD, 302–3; defends liberal values, 119–21; endorses Hu Shi's views on human rights, 80 n89
Zhang Zhiben, 98
Zhang Zhizhong, 264
Zhang Zuolin, 30
Zhejiang, 26, 41
Zhejiang University, 326
Zhongguo zhi mingyun (1943), 172
Zhonghua minzu, 101
Zhongyang ribao, 169
Zhou Enali, 155, 248, 257, 264, 280, 287; on army reorganization, 277–8; reaction to the fall of Kaigan, 289; and the Third Party Group mediation, 290
Zhou Jingwen, 196, 237
Zhou Lan, 170
Zhou Shouzhang, 329
Zhou Xinmin, 237, 248
Zhoubaos, 301
Zhu Qinglai, 97
Zhu Yisong, 93, 136–7
Ziyou luntan, 184 n4, 198
Ziyou shijie baryuekan, 301
Zou Taoteng, 151, 165, 167, 196; on the PPC, 161–2
Zuo Shansheng, 88, 146, 155, 159, 164, 168, 172, 237, 239f, 251; exchanges letters of cooperation with Chiang Kai-shek, 148; and formation of the DL, 233f; on the PCC, 180; on the PPC, 250; takes refuge in Hong Kong, 334; and the Third Party Group, 289–90; visits Yan’an, 257–8
Zou Wenhai, 123, 323