

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-79404-6 - The New Liberalism: Reconciling Liberty and Community

Edited by Avital Simhony and D. Weinstein

Table of ContentsMore information

Contents

List of contributors	page	viii
Acknowledgments		ix
Introduction: The new liberalism and the liberal–communitarian debate Avital Simhony and D. Weinstein	1
1 Liberal community: an essay in retrieval Michael Freeden	26
2 T. H. Green on individual rights and the common good Rex Martin	49
3 T. H. Green's complex common good: between liberalism and communitarianism Avital Simhony	69
4 Private property, liberal subjects, and the state John Morrow	92
5 Neutrality, perfectionism, and the new liberal conception of the state James Meadowcroft	115
6 Bosanquet's communitarian defense of economic individualism: a lesson in the complexities of political theory Gerald Gaus	137
7 The new liberalism and the rejection of utilitarianism D. Weinstein	159
8 Staunchly modern, non-bourgeois liberalism Alan Ryan	184
9 The new liberalism and citizenship Andrew Vincent	205
Select bibliography	228
Index	236	