

Contents

Preface page ix

Part I Cultural logics

- | | |
|---|----|
| 1 Frantz Fanon and the living ghosts of capitalism's world-system | 3 |
| Durkheim's ghosts in the culture of sociologies | 8 |
| 2 Lévi-Strauss and the sad tropics of modern cultures | 29 |
| What is culture? Amid the flowers, seeds or weeds? | 36 |
| 3 Paris 1907 and why the sociological imagination is always unstable | 59 |
| Sociological theory and the relativistic paradigm | 66 |
| 4 Ferdinand de Saussure and why the social contract is a cultural arbitrary | 81 |
| Literary politics and the champ of French sociology | 87 |

Part II Durkheim's ghosts

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 5 Marcel Mauss and Durkheim and why the ghosts of social differences are ubiquitous | 117 |
| Durkheim's woman and the Jew as the pluperfect past of the good society | 124 |
| 6 Jacques Derrida and why global structures had to die when they did | 144 |
| The uses of the French structuralisms | 148 |
| 7 Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari and why structures haunt instruments and measures | 163 |
| Structures, instruments, and reading in social and cultural research (with Willard A. Nielsen, Jr.) | 166 |

vii

Cambridge University Press

0521842662 - Durkheim's Ghosts: Cultural Logics and Social Things

Charles Lemert

Table of Contents

More information

viii	Contents
8	Roland Barthes and the phantasmagorias of social things	184
	Language, structure, and measurement as a semiotic of differences	188
Part III Culture as the ghost of primitive transgressions
9	Michel Foucault and why analytic categories are queer	221
	Pierre Bourdieu's aesthetic critique of sociological judgment	227
10	Simone de Beauvoir and why culture is a semiotics of the Other	235
	Power-knowledge, discourse, and transgression
	(with Garth Gillan)	241
11	Fernand Braudel and Immanuel Wallerstein and why globalization is a social geography of inequalities	262
	The system of future worlds	268
	Postscript: What culture is not	283
	Index	286