A German denauer, Konrad (German Centre party mayor of Cologne), and Rhenish separatism during the Ruhr crisis (1923) 124 agent-general for reparation payments see Gilbert, Seymour Parker Alsace-Lorraine 50, 60, 231
American and European stabilisation see United States
American Relief Administration (ARA) 82
America’s peace ultimatum to Europe 223
Amery, Leopold (British Conservative politician and sometime cabinet minister) anti-Bolshevik attitudes 335 and Europe 338
imperialist attitude to European affairs 208
Angell, Norman, and the pacifying effect of international economic interdependence before World War I 27
Anglo-American guarantee of French security (1919) 49, 57–8 and European stabilisation after Versailles 67
Anglo-American relations, and cruiser quotas 422
Anglo-American stabilisation policies, after World War I impact of, in Europe 9–10, 108–9 and the World Economic Crisis 2
Anglo-French entente 133–6
British view of 271
Anglo-German commercial treaty (1924) 188
Anschluss (political union) of Austria with Germany, prohibition of, at Versailles 61–2 appeasement 1
distinction between 1920s and 1930s 91 see also Chamberlain, Austen arbitration, emphasis in Locarno negotiations 253–4 armament parity dispute 597 armistice, after World War I (11 November 1918) 26 arms limitation see disarmament article 10 (of League Covenant) 65, 66 see also League of Nations; Lodge, Henry Cabot; United States Congress; Wilson, Woodrow Association of German Heavy Industry 392, 410 assumptions, in post–World War I international system 27
Auswärtiges Amt see German Foreign Office
Bainville, Jacques, and assessment of the Versailles treaty 62
Baker, Senator Newton, debt cancellation 311 balance-of-power politics 6, 14–15
British views on 28
as core principle of international order 14 erosion at Locarno 281
French views on 28
Lloyd George and 29
nineteenth-century European international system 26 US views on 29
Wilson and 29
Baldwin, Stanley (Conservative British chancellor of the exchequer, 1922–3; Conservative British prime minister, 1923–4, 1924–9; leader of the opposition, 1929–31), and British intervention in the Ruhr crisis 102–6, 104–5
Baldwin government abandonment of British ‘neutrality’ 102–7 depressed economy 337 cartels 338–9
cuts in military spending 339 foreign economic policy 338
general strike 340
return to gold standard 190, 338
unemployment 338

© in this web service Cambridge University Press  www.cambridge.org
Baldwin government (cont.)
domestic pressures to intervene in the Ruhr conflict 104–5 emphasis on politics over finance 329, 330, 341
liberal-capitalist system 189
military guarantees to France 601
and Poincaré’s Ruhr policy 102, 104
and Ruhr crisis 102–6 threat of Weimar Germany’s collapse 104
Balfour, Arthur (Unionist British foreign secretary, 1916–19), and Germany’s inclusion in the postwar order 43–4
Balkan states, and great-power competition before World War I 26
Bank for International Settlements, 532, 533, 536
and Britain 561
and Hoover 560–1
and Norman 510
outlines for 482
participation of FRBNY 533–4, 538–9, 560–1 Wall Street support for 538 weakness of 561, 563, 573
Young’s support for 538
Bank of England
co-operation with Strong 192
financial crisis 235
opposition to French plans for Rhenish Bank 118–19
return to gold standard 189
bargains, strategic, political-cum-financial, in post-World War I international politics 2, 19, 23–4 Barthou, Louis (French reparations expert, Quai d’Orsay), and the Dawes process 121, 137, 141
Beaverbrook, Max, Lord (sometime British cabinet minister), imperial consolidation 559
Belgium see Eupen–Malmedy question Benesˇ, Edouard (Czechoslovak foreign minister and prime minister), and Briand’s Locarno policy 233 and the eastern arbitration treaties 263 and the Locarno pact 262
Bérenger, Henry (French ambassador, Washington) see Mellon–Bérenger agreement Berlin treaty, between Germany and Soviet Russia (1926), 187, 365 Berthelot, Philippe (secretary of the French Foreign Ministry under Briand) 234, 235 fear of German revisionism 393–4, 411
fortification of status quo 419, 421
grand settlement 518
Locarno politics 437, 447
retention of IMCC 356
Rhineland question 267, 287, 386, 402
Snowden telegram affair 553
and Thoiry 390–410
‘Treaty of Berlin 365
‘Big Three’, the, at Versailles see Clemenceau, Georges; Lloyd George, David; Wilson, Woodrow Birkenhead, Frederick E. S., Earl of 423
Geneva Naval Conference 432, 433
relations with USSR 445
Bismarck, Otto von (German chancellor, 1871–90), Bismarckian realpolitik 26
Borah, William (US Republican senator) American war-outlawry movement 451, 452 condemnation of Hoover moratorium 591 debt cancellation 495
and France, and the League of Nations 15
French war-debts 311
Foreign Relations Committee 320
isolationism 220, 222, 321
Kellogg–Briand pact 454, 457
and the Versailles treaty 66
Bourgeois, León (adviser of Clemenceau at Versailles) 50–1 and the League and postwar security 54
Bowman, Isaiah (adviser of Wilson at Versailles) 23, 34 and the League as mechanism for peaceful change after Versailles 64 Bradbury, John (British delegate to the Inter-allied Reparations Commission) 137, 141, 142, 152
Brazil, League Council crisis 349
Breton Woods 619
Briand, Aristide (sometime French foreign minister and premier) accommodation with Germany over Young process 480, 518 adherence to politics of London and Locarno and Young process 574
Berlin treaty 364–6
Dawes settlement revision 470
domestic constraints 617
Locarno politics 437, 446
security 380
and Young process 483
estern Locarno proposals 396, 415, 443–4
economic diplomacy 384, 398
European Federal Union 579
vacuation link to final financial settlement at Geneva talks 522 financial crisis and Thoiry 387–8, 403–4 fortification of status quo 419
Index

Polish–Lithuanian dispute 443
Franco-German continental bloc 501, 512, 514, 519
French foreign policy reorientations after World War I 18, 19
French security 616
and first Hague conference (1929) compromise 559 distribution question 552
evacuation and reparations 3540; distinction between occupation zones 551
Henderson’s mediation on Rhineland question 3575; evacuation of French troops 557; withdrawal of British troops 556
United States of Europe 567
Kellogg–Briand pact 419 compromise over 468
Germany’s rationale for pact 463 proposal to USA 448, 455; Kellogg’s counter-proposal 455, 461, 462; motives for 449; Republican foreign policy 449–50 and Locarno pact Anglo-American financial pressure 250 Chamberlain’s mediating role 241, 247, 252–3
domestic issues and Locarno negotiations 237, 244 eastern arbitration treaties 245–6, 252–3, 256, 261–3 encounter with Luther 263
endorsement of compromise 262
evacuation of Rhineland 265; compromise agreement 266–7 link between disarmament, evacuation and security 245, 248 recognition of German rehabilitation 268 safeguards against future German aggression 262 view of Chamber 274–5
view of Locarno 274, 276, 287–8
Locarno policy 231
assumptions behind approach to German problem 233–4 claims for 231–2
domestic opposition 236
financial difficulties 235; need for US support 235–6 guarantees to Poland and Czechoslovakia 232–3 need for Britain’s backing 232, 235 reactive policy 232
relations with USA 234
strategy shift 232, 234; reasons for 234–6 suspicious of German intentions 229, 232
and Locarno system agreement with Germany 348
Anglo-American influence on policy 346–7, 349
and Chamberlain’s mediating role in League crisis 351 changed role in European politics after League crisis 353 critical to European peace process 332
failure of 281, 284
financial pressures on conciliatory policy 346
Lugano declaration 529
Mellon–Béranger agreement 312, 368
nationalist opposition to German policy 380–1 normalisation of relations with Germany 320 and peace process 291, 615
and Poland’s anxieties 393, 411–12, 490
Polish entry to League 378
private discussion with Stresemann 393, 411 reconciliation and strength of entente 381–2
relations with USA 447
Rhineland evacuation and German guarantees 345, 347, 421, 438–9 permanent inspection body 520 progress on minor questions 436
and Young process 485, 487
security and direct agreements with Germany 387, 403 and financial compensation 520
Thoiry plan for final settlement with Germany 285, 383 Bloc National 386, 402
domestic resistance to 393, 411
Franco-German rapprochement 388–9, 405 need for Anglo-American backing 386–8, 393, 401–2, 404–5, 411–12
revision of 212–3
territorial order 389, 407
troop reductions and relations with Russia 27, 446

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Index

Bridgeman, Sir William (first lord of the British Admiralty, 1924–9), Geneva naval conference 431, 432

Britain
alliance commitments in Europe after Versailles 69–70 Anglo-American relations at Geneva naval conference 432–3 appeasement, 1920s and 1930s compared 91 assumptions about post-World War I international politics 3, 14 about the USA 3, 13–14
Bolshevik infiltration in Germany 105 and Briand’s plans for European Federal Union 579 British financiers 90–1 approaches to peaceful change in Europe after World War I 15 compared with USA 2 influence on French and German policies 18, 116–18 influence on Polish policies 18 cabinet constraints on Locarno policy 359 Cannes conference (1922) 72
cautious approach 422, 426 concert system 207
division in Baldwin cabinet 208, 231
Franco-German security problem 207 and Soviet Russian alliance with Germany 213 Stresemann’s proposed Rhine pact 210–11
consolidation of Empire 337 containment of a revived Weimar Germany 127 co-operation with the USA to settle Ruhr conflict (1923) 81, 106, 146 Davies process 116–17 departure from gold standard and Hoover’s debt moratorium 582
depoliticisation of the Ruhr and reparations conflict 112–13
disagreements over naval regime 422–3 protection of Empire 433–4 disenchantment with the Versailles treaty 70–4 distancing from the League after Versailles 71 eastern question 335–6 economic depression and unemployment 337 Empire after World War I 16
European concert 7
European security question 185
Chamberlain 186
MacDonald’s ‘as US’ approach 188–9
reorganisation 205

Europe’s post-Versailles crisis (1920–3) 69–70
financial and economic conditions after 1918 16 foreign policy reorientation after Versailles 91, 100–2, 101–2 Franco-German question after World War I 91, 105
free trade 188, 189
‘Freedom of the Seas’ 44, 45
French security after Versailles 72 and the moderation of French policy after Versailles 69–70
German colonial aspirations after Versailles 335
German disarmament after Versailles 126–7 and perceptions of the German threat after Versailles 69–70
Germany as prerequisite for postwar stability 127–8
Germany’s orientation towards Soviet Russia 126–7
global naval regime after World War I 44
gold standard 590, 591, 593
and first Hague conference (1929)
Bank for International Settlements 561
commitment to European appeasement 564–5 concessions on distribution question 535 deterioration in financial situation and Hague settlement 548 disagreement with France over annuities 534 dominant role at 548
need for US support on reparations question 544 satisfaction with settlement 558–9 separate commissions for politics and finance 549 British Monroe Doctrine 458
defence of Empire 459
French land-armament issues 474
Locarno-style security 467
lack of power to act as the world’s ‘policeman’ after World War I 74 League Council crisis 351, 353
Locarno pact
and Briand’s Locarno policy 232, 233, 235
Chamberlain’s two-pronged policy 242, 253 diplomatic role in Locarno process 229, 240, 252 domestic criticisms 271
emphasis on arbitration 253–4
limits to underpinning French security 253–4, 255 Locarno guarantees 333
misgivings 271
overseer of European security 273 success of 271
suspicious of Hindenberg’s election 243 management of transition from German integration to containment 575 mandate system, for former German colonies 44–5 opposition to French designs for Rhenish state (1923) 118–19
Pax Anglo-Americana after World War I 1
Polish Corridor 599
pressure on France over Treaty of Berlin 365 pressure to slacken commitment to Locarno system 336–7 recasting of Franco-German relations after the Ruhr crisis (1923) 16–15 reform of the Versailles system 70–4
rehabilitation of Germany after World War I 71–4 rejection of Geneva Protocol 204–5
relations with Soviet Russia 444
reorientation of foreign policy under Chamberlain (A.) 206–7, 213, 216–17
reparations 44
Anglo-French collaboration 512, 525 link with evacuation 523, 524
revisionist policy 590
US war-debt policy 509
and war-debt cycle after Versailles 68, 69–70
Rhineland policy 425
see also Young process
role in the postwar international system 15–16, 28
Ruhr crisis (1923)
economic motives for 104
intervention in 11, 100–2; and the engagement of Germany in 100–2; and Poincare’s Ruhr policy 100–2; political motives for 105 security and German rehabilitation 328 security obligations 598–9
Soviet Russia 334–5
spectre of Weimar Germany’s disintegration (1923) 105
stabilisation policy for Europe after Locarno 327, 329, 337, 339
after the Ruhr crisis (1923) 101–2
after World War I 2, 3, 37–45
support for France in disarmament talks 375
naval competition 375
ten-year rule 97
Treasury link between reparations and war-debts 426 Versailles disarmament clauses 360
war-debts 16, 68, 146
World Economic Crisis 19 world economic order 590
World War I 16
Young process
change in Rhineland and reparations policy 502–3, 505; balance between aims of Treasury and Foreign Office 506; Gilbert’s reports on Dawes plan and German economy 507–8 differing assumptions from USA 492 initial lack of strategy in 480, 523 mediation in settlement 526
see also Britain, Foreign Office; Britain, HM Treasury Britain, Foreign Office
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
collective security 97
Britain, Foreign Office (cont.)
settlement of 994, security guarantees 589
and Geneva Protocol 600
and policy aims 587, 588 separation of security and financial questions 426
and Treasury 329, 333, 340–1
view of Stresemann 330
and Young plan 544–5 Young process and German threat to
security 505
see also Chamberlain, Austen; Crowe, Sir
Eyre; Carzon, Georges; Cus hendun, Ronald M.; Henderson, Arthur;
MacDonald, James Ramsay; Tyrrell,
Sir William Britain, HM Treasury
Foreign Office concerns over Thoiry 386, 400
marketing of German railway bonds 384, 399
reparations objectives 506 and US debt-claims 508
revision of Dawes plan 385, 400, 480, 502, 507, 509, 524
sceptical of German financial reform 508–9 Thoiry plan 384–5, 399
view of Germany as extravagant and improvident 509
Young plan 545–6
Young regime and German relief 590
see also Churchill, Winston; Leith-Ross, Sir Frederick; Niemeyer, Sir Otto; Snowden, Philip
British ‘Monroe Doctrine’
Hughes and 33
Wilson and 33, 44
Brockdorff-Rantzau, Ulrich von (German foreign minister, 1919; ambassador, Moscow) Germany’s 1919 peace aims 51–2
and Treaty of Berlin 363
and the Versailles peace settlement 51–2 Brüning, Heinrich (German chancellor, 1930–2) armaments policy and Geneva conference 602 assertive foreign policy 578–9 customs union with Austria 577
deflationary policy 578 departure from Stresemann’s course 575, 578
European Federal Union 579
financial crisis 584, 592
French loan offer 593
Hoover moratorium and reparations burden 593
need for authoritarian government 569
Polish Corridor 602
relationship with France 579 Bryan treaty (1913) and Kellogg–Briand
pact 453
Bulow, Bernard von (official, under-secretary, German Foreign Ministry, 1931) demise of Stresemann’s policy 569 restoration of Germany’s status 579 Caillaux, Joseph (sometime French finance minister)
financial crisis 387, 388, 403, 405
reform legislation 235 war-debt to USA 503
Cannes conference (1922) 67, 72
Cardogan, disarmament problem 475
Carnegie Endowment for Peace 451 Castle, William R. (head of western division, assistant secretary of state, 1930–3), US State Department) 535, 540
Anglo-American relations 317, 491
approaches to disarmament 322, 371, 428 critical of Kellogg 322
Dawes plan 484, 493
democratic government in postwar Germany 112
distrust of European politics 299, 314–15
economic pacification 221
European security after Locarno 301, 302
and France 586, 595
French attempts to establish a ‘closed’ economic bloc in Europe 111
Geneva naval conference 435
and Hughes’ intentions during the Ruhr crisis 113
Kellogg–Briand Pact 450, 451, 452, 453,
461–2, 463
League Council crisis 352
League disarmament 273 official non-involvement in European politics 429
Progressive policy 500
Stresemann, mistrust of 194, 430 suspicion of European co-operation 224 transfer of responsibility to private bankers 584
united Europe vs USA 274
US intervention in the Ruhr crisis 107
view of Locarno 222, 249, 273, 314
warnings about nationalism and communism 316, 320
Castlereagh, Robert Stewart, Viscount (British foreign secretary at the Vienna Congress, 1814–15, and Chamberlain’s approach to European security 217
Cecil of Chelwood, Robert, Viscount (British minister for the blockade during World War I; chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, 1924–7)
Anglo-American guarantee agreement with France (1919) 58
collective security 97, 102
disarmament 97, 343, 423
Geneva naval conference 431, 432
German entry to League 378
Kellogg–Briand pact 456
and the League of Nations 42–3, 97
Preparatory Disarmament Commission 375, 376
principles of postwar international politics 29, 41
and the USA 41, 43
Cecil–Requin Treaty of Mutual Assistance 202 central bank co-operation, and the reconstruction of Europe after World War I 108–9
Chamberlain, Austen (Conservative British chancellor of the exchequer, 1919–21; foreign secretary, 1924–9)
Anglo-French entente in European concert 332 appeasement, and foreign-policy objectives, 212, 215–16 belief in example of British international policy 330–1 and Briand’s domestic pressures 328, 331
common interest with 328, 331, 333–4, 343 Britain’s role in Europe, changing definition of 326, 329, 337
and Chiang Kai-shek 423 diplomatic negotiations leading to Locarno 186 direct negotiations with Briand and Stresemann 260–1
eastern arbitration treaties 262, 263–4
emphasis on arbitration 253–4
 evacuation of Rhineland 265–6;
compromise agreement 266–7
French demands for British guarantees 253–4 German detachment from Russia 264–5
honest broker role 266, 271
mediation at 241–2, 251–3, 268–9 perceptions of French and German domestic challenges 243, 251, 256–7, 274, changes in 252–3 disarmament policy 342, 344, 423 industrial strength and land disarmament 343 naval armament 343–4 disarmament talks 375
European concert 376
domestic pressures after Locarno 325, 329, 339
eastern Europe 215–16
entente 418, 422
French troop reductions 446–7
European concert 91
European postwar stability 8, 91, 609
French withdrawal from Rhineland 327 generational rationale of peaceful change 216
Geneva naval conference 432, 433
Anglo-American relations 434
Geneva Protocol 204–5, 438
German colonial aspirations 228
German containment 611–12
Germany’s international integration 327, 328, 334 difficult to guide 332
entry to League 336 honest broker of peaceful change 326, 330, 358–9 IMCC 327
influence on European politics and mediation role 358
Kellogg–Briand pact 420, 456, 458, 461, 467–9
Anglo-American agreement on naval ratios 475–6
British Monroe Doctrine 456, 459–60
Dawes revision 457
disarmament compromise with France 472–4 Egyptian independence 459 impact on Locarno 470 preservation of entente 456, 467
US isolationism 457, 471–2;
breakdown of Geneva naval talks 458
League Council crisis 349–50, 351
and Locarno pact 229, 240
learning process 212–16
1925 crisis 245, 246–7, 248
British guarantee to European security 270;
Anglo-French alliance 271
compromise favourable to Germany 262, 264 and the lessons of Castlereagh’s foreign policy 217 Locarno policy 396, 414
criticisms of 206–7 development of Locarno system 294 failure of system 281
and non-interference 396, 415
need for domestic approval for further European commitment 288, 293 perception of Franco-German question 207–8
Polish–German problem 335–6, 394–6, 412, 414, 442–4

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-85353-8 - The Unfinished Peace after World War I: America, Britain and the Stabilisation of Europe, 1919-1932 Patrick O. Cohrs Index
More information
Chamberlain, Austen (cont.)

political vs financial solutions 339, 340

post-Locarno, dismissal of USA in European politics 341–2 problems in China and Egypt 337 pursuit of Locarno pact 208–9

evacuation of Rhineland 214–15

German entry to League of Nations 214

German revisionism 213–14

Herriot’s two-treaty proposal 212

modification of Versailles 213

preservation of entente 214

recognition of domestic and international needs 238

Stresemann’s Rhine pact proposal 210

two-pronged policy 242, 253, 257

view of Briand 243

views on Moscow’s part in Locarno negotiations 256

quotas for cruisers 422

reassertion of Locarno reciprocity 424–5

reciprocity 326, 332, 360–1

Briand’s domestic problems 361–2 demands for mutual concessions from Stresemann 361, 366–7

relations with Soviet Russia 423–4, 444–6

restoration of Concert of Europe 217 revival of entente and limitation of Locarno system 359, 360, 361

and Rhineland troop reductions 359–60, 367

Rhineland evacuation 347, 354–5

Berlin treaty 366

Rhineland policy 425–6, 446–7

and Schacht’s demands 353

and Snowden’s hard line at The Hague 359

spirit of Locarno 421, 426

Stresemann, confidence in 397, 415

suspicious of Treaty of Berlin 365 pragmatic damage control 365

tension between France and Germany 422, 424, 446 focus on troops reductions 436

and Thoiry

German entry to League 378, 381

League, instrument of peaceful change 380

original approval of Franco-German agreement 418 policy of restraint 382, 384, 399

rejection of 378, 394, 412

territorial revision 390, 408

Thoiry not priority of Locarno concert 384–6, 390, 399, 401, 407; focus on Rhineland question and military control 390, 407

and Treasury 385–6, 399–400

view of military occupation 384, 398

use of League 390, 414 view of US foreign policy 218–19

and Young process

Anglo-American co-operation 491

appeasement policy 529, 530

control and conciliation commission in Rhineland 505 domestic criticism 483, 510, 528

expert inquiry 503

extension of entente 502, 504, 511

financial focus in Young plan 503;

need for US co-operation 506

honest broker role 503

Lugano declaration 529

need for reparations settlement involving USA 483, 506 preservation of European concert 488, 503, 504; mediation between France, Germany and British interests 504, 526, 529–30; strengthening of Locarno proponents in Germany 503–4

reciprocity 504, 505

resistance to German appeals to hasten evacuation 504, 511

Rhineland question 485

unsuccessful pressure on Briand 485–6

Chamberlain, Joseph (British colonial secretary), and the proposal for a British ‘imperial preference system’ (1903) 27

Chamberlain, Neville (Conservative British chancellor of the exchequer, 1923, 1931–7)

gold standard 391

military guarantees to France 601

Ruhr conflict 106–12

Chamberlain, Professor J.P. 451

Chanak crisis (1922) 74–5

Chequers summit 145–6

German reaction to 147

opportunity for German return to international system 148

Cheron, Henri, Young plan 552, 554

Chiang, Kai-shek (Chinese nationalist leader) 337, 423

Chicherin, Georgi (Soviet commissar for foreign affairs)

Locarno negotiations 256
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Entry</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Rapallo agreement with Germany (1922)</td>
<td>73–4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>China</td>
<td>83, 337</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Churchill, Winston (secretary of state for war during World War I; Conservative chancellor of the exchequer, 1924–9) agreement with Poincaré over reparations 502, 512, 519, 525–6</td>
<td>502, 512, 519, 525–6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>anti-Bolshevik</td>
<td>335</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Balfour declaration 524</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>British economy 338</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>British Treasury objectives on reparations 507–8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>clash with Hoover 491</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>delaying tactics 524–5</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Europe 338</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>French disarmament 473</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Geneva naval conference 433</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>relations with USSR 445</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>imperialist attitude to European affairs 208, 210</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>liberal-capitalist system 189</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pressure on Berlin 527</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reparations 44</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and American war-debt 329</td>
<td>340–1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>retrenchment 333, 343</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>return to gold standard 189–90</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>revision of Dawes plan 502</td>
<td>509, 524</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thoiry plan 395–6, 400, 414–15</td>
<td>USA 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>war-debts 44</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Young process 485</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Churchill–Caillaux accords 341, 385, 395–6, 399, 414</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Churchill–Poincaré accord, opposition to German case at Hague settlement 532</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ciechanowski (Polish chargé d'affaires, Washington), and Germany's potential for weapon-making 371</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>City of London, the 108–9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Claudel, Paul (French ambassador, Washington), Kellogg–Brand pact 450, 461–2</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clemenceau, Georges (French premier, 1917–19)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anglo-American guarantee pact 49, 57–8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>approach to peace and postwar order 24, 46, 49–51</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>compatibility with Lloyd George's and Wilson's approaches 24, 46–9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>British commitments to French security after World War I 50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>French security after World War I 49, 54–8 and Czechoslovakia 50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and the dismemberment of Germany 50–1 and Germany 23, 25, 46, 49, 55–6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and German disarmament 50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Germany's admission to the League 57</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and historical lessons and precedents 49</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>League of Nations 49–51, 396, 414</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Lloyd George 22, 24, 55–6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>peace aims at Versailles 48–51</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poland 50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reparations 50, 58–6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and the return of Alsace-Lorraine 50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rhineland question at Versailles 50, 54–8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and the creation of a Rhenish buffer state 54–8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>security question at Versailles 57–8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>self-determination, national 50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>US commitments to French security after World War I 50</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Versailles settlement 62–3</td>
<td>Wilson 22, 24, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clémentel, Etienne (French finance minister under Herriot) attitude to Dawes plan 164, 184</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>French Ruhr and Rhineland policy 119</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>collective security 6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wilson, and 6, 32</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Comité des Forges (pressure-group of the French iron and steel industry), and the attempt to establish French economic predominance over Rhine and Ruhr 104, 119</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commission de Conciliation et Constatation 520, 522, 524, 530, 549, 550, 556–7</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>comprehensive Franco-German postwar settlement see Thoiry plan; Hague conferences</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Concert of Europe see European concert Conference of Allied Ambassadors see Council of Allied Ambassadors</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coolidge, Calvin (Republican US president, 1923–9) and British Labour government 133</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>criticism of France over League crisis 353 and Dawes plan 141 default question at London conference 168 disarmament 322–3</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Houghton’s remarks on European peace 315 Progressivism 300 rejection of Thoiry 397, 416 support for Rhineland evacuation and modification of Versailles 318 tax-reduction agenda 311 view of Locarno 272 World Economic Conference 429</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Coolidge administration (1923–9) see United States, Coolidge administration
Coolidge naval conference see Geneva naval conference (1927)
Council of Allied Ambassadors 114
Crewe, marquess of (British ambassador, Paris) 135
French concessions in Rhineland 355 Crimean war (1853–6) 26 crisis management, in the post-World War I international system 26
Crowe, Sir Eyre (British permanent under-secretary, Foreign Office, 1920–5) 23–231
Anglo-French alliance 271
Britain's role in the post-World War I international system 28, 41
British diplomacy at Locarno 242, eastern Europe 215–16
European security after Versailles 95–7 perception of 207–9, 213 threat of French predominance 96, 134, 148 and France 41 Franco-German question after Versailles 96–7, 102, 135–6, 143
and Germany 41
Hughes plan 96, 101
London conference 146, 148, 159
and MacDonald 96, 101, 135
memorandum 511
need for an Anglo-French entente after Versailles 96–7
Poincare’s Ruhr policy 96–7, 105, 135
principles and rules of postwar international politics 28
reorientation of British security policy 96–7, 102
Stresemann's Rhine pact proposal 210
USA 41, 132–3
World War I 28
Cruise controversy 342
Curzon, George, Marquess of (Unionist and Conservative British foreign secretary, 1919–23) approach to peace and postwar order 41
Britain’s role in the postwar international system 28
European security after Versailles 71–2
and France 41
opposition to an alliance with France after Versailles 71
and Germany 41
Hugnet 'depoliticisation' strategy 116
and the League of Nations 71
principles and rules of postwar international politics 28
Ruhr crisis (1923)
Britain's intervention in 102–6
Britain’s ‘neutrality policy’ 103–4
Poincare’s Ruhr policy 103–4
and the USA 41
and the engagement of the USA during the Ruhr crisis 103, 106–12
and World War I 28
Cushendun, Ronald M., Baron (acting British foreign secretary, Aug.–Nov. 1927)
Geneva talks 521, 524
mediation at 504, 510, 523–4
Czechoslovakia alliance with France after Versailles 69 and Chamberlain (A.) 215–16
creation of, at Versailles 24
Sudeten question 60
D’Abernon, Viscount (British ambassador, Berlin, until 1926) 135
British diplomacy at Locarno 242, 251, 266
Dawes plan 170
proposal for a Rhine pact (1922) 107, 209
Rhineland evacuation 355
view of Stresemann 330
Danzig 60
Davies, Dwight, 323, 324
Dawes, Charles G. (US financier; vice president 1925–9; ambassador to Britain from 1929) confidence in Pax Americana 316 and French security 134 and the making of the Dawes plan (1923–4) 107, 130
and Young plan 553
Dawes plan 17, 19, 137, 138–42
American contributions to 139–42 consensus between Anglo-American bankers and western governments 187–8 division of German payments 187 Euro-Atlantic relations 130–1, 137
endorsement of 138
European diplomatic negotiations 140–1, 145–6 foundation of European stability 192–3
French acceptance conditions 163, 164
French domestic approval 183
French withdrawal from Ruhr 166, 170, 173, 175, 178
German domestic approval 183
German financial stabilisation 138
German support for 165, 171
MacDonald and Anglo-American bankers 202–3
revision of 290
shift in international power 181 temporary solution of reparations problem 180 Transfer Committee’s role 167–8 transfer crisis 192
US informal stabilisation objectives 159, 198–9 weakness of US federal government’s financial regulation 198–9 see also London conference; Pax Anglo-Americana
Dawes regime (1924–9) 10, 181
need for political insurance 221
no political bail-out guarantees 307 stability of international system 282, 284–5 susceptibility to crisis 197–9 timing of revision 394, 397, 412, 415 unofficial involvement of US administration 297, 302 wider European recovery 197
see also reparations; Young plan; Young regime de Metz, General (German commander of the occupation forces on the Rhine’s left bank), and French Ruhr and Rhineland policy 104–5, 118 debts see war-debts Degoutte, General (French head, MICUM), and French Ruhr and Rhineland policy 104–5, 118–19
democratisation, after World War I, Wilson and 32 Depression, the Great see World Economic Crisis (1929–32)
Deutsche Volkspartei (DNVP) see German National People’s Party Deutsche Volkspartei (DVP) see German People’s Party
Dewey, Charles, and Piłsudski government 395, 413
Dillon, Read & Co. liquidation of German railway bonds 396, 414 loans to Poland 394, 412
Dirksken, Herbert von (official, German Foreign Office), financial pressure on Poland 392, 410
disarmament
Anglo-American co-operation 342
cruiser controversy 342
Anglo-French axis in Locarno system 328
Anglo-French compromise 472
British disarmament policy and USA 371–3; differences with USA at General naval conference 432–3; limited effectiveness 372, 376; support for France 474; view of 428
British rejection of armaments parity 342 Coolidge 322
diplomacy of reciprocity 332
disagreements between France and USA 371, 376
German opportunism 474
Kellogg–Briand pact 420, 464
limits to British and US approaches 420–1 after Locarno 289
naval 324
Preparatory Disarmament Commission 423, 428, 472–4
principles of US policy 323
sense of security 475
see also Geneva naval conference; Preparatory Disarmament Commission Doumerge, Gaston (French president, 1924) 438
Drummond, Sir Eric (British League secretary-general, 1919–32) 204 eastern arbitration treaties and article 16 of League Covenant 252–4, 256
eastern Europe 9–10
influence of Anglo-American policies on 346
German entry into League 348
Hague settlement 362–3
instability, after Locarno 281 lack of initiatives from USA/Britain 283–5
Locarno pact 225
stabilisation, and 186
eastern Europe (cont.)
strategic bargaining 348 structural instability of, after Versailles 28, 61–2
Versailles settlement and 24, 60
eastern Locarno 10, 391, 396, 409, 415
eastern territories, Germany’s former, Stresemann’s economically rational view of territorial changes 287, 289 Ebert, Friedrich (German Social Democrat politician, first president of the Weimar Republic) and German peace aims 51
and Seeckt 112
economic and financial challenges after World War I 27
economic diplomacy 79
US approaches to 4, 129
economic peace (1924)
consolidation of 185, 190, 269 and political insurance 221–3 see also Hoover, Herbert economic revitalisation and political stability 383 see also Briand, Aristide; European security problem; Stresemann, Gustav Entente Internationale de l’Acier (EIA) 338 equilibrium, international, definition of 14–15
Eupen–Malmedy question
Thoiry initiative 386, 389, 400, 406
and Britain 390, 407
and USA 390, 407
at Versailles 60
Euro-Atlantic politics 10 comparison of 1923 and 1928 490, 526 differing assumptions 492 guarantees for Dawes system 185
Hooverian debt policy 496
Locarno pact 186
needs of Europe and America 389, 407 regional security system 186
stabilisation of franc 387, 403
Thoiry initiative 385–6, 388, 399, 401–2, 405, 411
US isolationism 499–500
Euro-Atlantic stabilisation, and Hague settlement 561–2
commitments of Anglo-American policymakers 564 deterioration of German economic conditions 563
eastern Europe 562–3
German acceptance of reparations regime 563
missed opportunity 565–7
US attitude to German rehabilitation 563
Weimar Germany 562
Euro-Atlantic system 19 changes after London conference
178, 180, 182
French loss of sanction prerogatives 181
Dawes system and political guarantees 181
departure from Versailles politics 604
evolution of Stresemann’s Westpolitik 606 failure to buttress German struggle for peaceful change 574–5
Franco-German question and Anglo-American pacification strategies 605–6 influence on French policy 606–7
and Locarno 261
rule of 614
support for Stresemann 605
European concert, after World War I 7
and Locarno 260, 261, 268–9, 279
and the Vienna system 26 European restoration interpretation of post-World War I international history 4
European security problem deals between western powers and Germany 384, 399
Anglo-American support 384–5, 399
financial and political stability 388–9 gradual progress in Locarno system 419 international finance 381 and Kellogg’s definition of French view 427
and US view 428
Thoiry plan 387, 403
Europe’s era of London and Locarno 19
Europe’s postwar crisis after Versailles (1920–3) 68
evacuation
of Cologne zone and occupied Rhineland,
and Locarno pact 228
of Rhineland, and German disarmament 267 see also Briand, Aristide expert committees and Coolidge administration 527–8
Dawes plan 14, 130
delaying tactics of Churchill 324, 525
German hopes for US co-operation 527
Young report 484–5, 498, 503, 506,
512, 524, 528, 529
Fischer-Williams, Sir John, default question at London conference 168 Fletcher, Henry P. (under-secretary of state; US ambassador, Brussels)
British policy during the Ruhr crisis 104, 106
US policy during the Ruhr crisis 110
Fleuriu, A. de (French ambassador, London) 212
Anglo-French relations after Hague settlement 559
French debt settlement 388, 404
Treaty of Berlin 364
Foch, Marshal Ferdinand
opposition to evacuation of Rhineland 267, 275–6, 356
Fordney–McCumber Act (1922) 83, 306
Fourteen Points see Wilson, Woodrow
France
Balfour declaration 525 bilateral arrangements with Germany 512 compromise over Kellogg–Briand pact 468
Dawes plan 142
debt settlement controversy with USA 290 disarmament compromise with Britain 472–3 fears of Anschluss 577 financial and political difficulties 235 and conciliatory policy 346
and military superiority over Germany 356, 371 pressure from Hoover administration 306, 310, 311 financial power used to change policy 580
Geneva naval conference 432
German entry into League 348
DNVP and Hindenburg opposition 350 first Hague conference (1929) common front with Belgium 552, 555 conditions for compromise 350
disagreement with Britain over annuities 535 Hitler/Hugenberg opposition to Young plan 570
sanctions 570
security and co-operation with Germany after Hague settlement 564 territorial concessions at The Hague 549 timing of evacuation of troops from Rhineland 537 US tariff policy 567
gold standard 595
improved position in late 1920s 489 League security regime 438 link between evacuation and reparations 518 and war-debts 518
and Locarno pact
Anglo-French consensus 242, 255
capital shortage and US pressure 250 changed attitude to Germany after Locarno 274–5 convergence with German policies 238, 240 difference between private and official attitudes pre-Locarno 239 eastern arbitration treaties 252–3 evacuation of Ruhr and sanction cities 245; conditions posed by France 245–6 faith in Chamberlain 241 need for Anglo-American co-operation 513 official replies to Stresemann’s security initiative 244, 245 potential imbalance of power with Germany after Locarno 289, 290 need for security 228, 236; US commitments 296
Mellon–Bérenger agreement 312–13, 581
nationalism after Locarno 301
policy shift before Locarno 232, 234
Polish Corridor 580
protests against US tariff policy 501, 519 reorganisation of power relations with Germany 356
resentment against USA 431 Rhineland evacuation after Locarno 345, 437
domestic opposition to 357
response to Stresemann’s Rhineland offensive 487 search for Anglo-American backing 581 security fears 579, 600
Anglo-American co-operation 600
and Geneva disarmament conference 602 and German reinvigoration 438
after Locarno 292
at Preparatory Disarmament Commission 374–5
and Young process 480, 519–21
see also French security Third Republic
alliance with Czechoslovakia after Versailles 69 alliance with Poland after Versailles 69
Anglo-American guarantee agreement (1919) 54
Cannes conference (1922) 72
containment of German revisionism after Versailles 69, 127 creation of a Rhenish buffer state, at Versailles 54–8 Dawes process 117–18
eastern alliance system after Versailles 69 financial constraints 119
France (cont.)

- foreign policy reorientations, after World War I 18, 116–18
- French power in the post-World War I international system, compared with Germany’s 50
- French steel industrialists and 101, 104 and Germany 9, 69–70
- and Germany’s admission to the League, after Versailles 57
- Germany’s exclusion from the League, at Versailles 54
- need for a new understanding with the USA after Versailles 119–21
- need for new British security commitments after Versailles 69, 72
- perceptions of the German threat after Versailles 69–70, 127, 149
- Polish question at Versailles 60
- position and role in the postwar international system 28
- postwar security 49, 54–8, 69, 144
- principles and rules of postwar international politics 28, and financial constraints 119
- reparations 149
- Rhenish separatism during the Ruhr crisis 101
- Rhineland question, at Versailles 54–8
- Ruhr policy of 101, 74–5
- Upper Silesia question 60–1
- US engagement in the Ruhr and reparations conflict 118–21
- Versailles peace settlement 48–51, 63
- see also Clemenceau, Georges; war-debts
- Thoiry initiative 385, 400
- domestic resistance to 386, 393, 401, 411
- fall of governments 388–405
- financial crisis 387, 403
- Poincaré and Union Nationale 388, 405
- public opinion and debt settlement 388, 405
- Treaty of Berlin 364
- treaty of friendship and arbitration with USA 466
- Franco-British disarmament compromise 434
- Franco-German aims, and failure of Locarno system 281
- Franco-German peace process, after Versailles 10
- Franco-German question, after World War I 17
- Franco-German relations, changes after London conference 182

Franco-German steel-cartel agreement 276
commercial treaty 276
Franco-German trade agreement 230, 513
Franco-Prussian war (1870–1) 26
Franco, Emile 532
bank proposal 533
Franklin-Bouillon, Henry, and Locarno guarantees 356
French Finance Ministry, and French Rhineland policy 119–21
French Foreign Ministry Rhineland policy 119–20
see also Briand, Aristide; Berthelot, Philippe; Seydoux, Jacques need for a postwar entente with Britain and understanding with the USA 120 French security demands for guarantees 208 government reaction to Stresemann’s Rhine pact 211–12 importance for peace 221–2
Locarno pact 269
Poincaré view 275
relations with USA 368, 373–4
Germany’s weapon-making potential 371, 374
Fromageot, Henri, 253
Gaus, Friedrich (legal expert, German Foreign Office) 255–6 Gellér, Otto opposition to Rhine pact 231
general strike, and British relations with Soviet Russia 424, 444 Geneva compromise (Young plan) 526 early evacuation and reparations settlement 524 mediation by Chamberlain, 526, 529–30 nomination of experts 528
terms of reference for Young plan 521
Britain 523–4
France 521–2
Germany 522–3
Geneva Disarmament Conference (1932–5) 597, 601
Franco-German conflict 601–2
Geneva Economic Conference see World Economic Conference (1927)
Geneva naval conference, 420, 422
Anglo-American differences 432–3, 434 consequences for European situation 434–5
failure of 432, 434
Index

Geneva Protocol
  abandonment by Baldwin government 204–5 automatic sanction clauses 202–3, 205
  French hopes for 202
  MacDonald policy 202–3, 210
  rejection by US government 203–4
  Stresemann attitude to 204
  Geneva ‘tea parties’ see Locarno politics
  Genoa conference (1922)
    European reconstruction 72–4
    failure of Lloyd George’s ‘grand design’ 72–4 German disarmament
    Briand’s linkage with evacuation and security 245
    IMCC report 244
    and the pre-Locarno crisis of 1925 244
  German Foreign Office eastern faction within, and German Ostpolitik after World War I 123, 126 and the European Concert 122
    reorientation of German policy after World War I 122 see also Curtius, Julius; Maltzan, Ago von; Rathenau, Walther; Schubert, Carl von; Stresemann, Gustav German National People’s Party (Deutsche Nationale Volkspartei, DNVP) 125–6 and Dawes settlement 183 opposition to German membership of League 350 Stresemann’s security policy 230
  Treaty of Berlin 363
  see also Germany
  German nationalist parties, reaction to Dawes negotiations 194
  German People’s Party (Deutsche Volkspartei, DVP) 126 German question
    after Versailles 68
    at Versailles 51–3
  German railway bonds, liquidation of, Anglo-American rejection 396, 398, 415, 417
  see also Briand, Aristide; Stresemann, Gustav German Reichswehr, see Reichswehr, German Germany
    1925 recession 230
    acceptance of reparations regime after Hague settlement 563
    Anglo-American view of Marx and Muller policy 509
    Anglo-French disarmament compromise 472
    bilateral arbitration treaty with USA 464 bilateral arrangements with France 512, 513 changed condition at first Hague conference (1929) 547 claims to eastern territories, and Locarno pact 228 collapse of the Wilhelmian Empire and foundation of the Weimar Republic 28 colonial aspirations after World War I 535 commercialisation of railway bonds 392, 410 communist and left-wing forces in 126 communist unrest in Saxony and Thueringia (1923) 105 conception of peaceful change 464 consolidation of Weimar Germany, as a prerequisite for Europe’s postwar stabilisation 127–8 control over foreign borrowing 309 creation of the League mandate system for Germany’s former colonies 63 creation of the new Polish state at Versailles 60–1 currency reform and stabilisation (1923–4) 113 Dawes system 117–18, 138
    revision of 484
    declaration of Germany’s war guilt at Versailles 60–2 disarmament question after Hague settlement 562 disarmament through the Versailles treaty 60, 146 disintegration of the Weimar Republic (1931–33) 11, 19 domestic crisis of 1923 112
    domestic opposition to Thoiry 386, 401 and Anglo-American interests 388, 403–4 east European status quo 60–1 economic power and politics 384, 398
    and US control 391–2, 410 economic revitalisation 304, 317 economic unity 139
    economy after US stock-market crash 569 effect of deterioration in economy 563
    entry into League 204, 334, 347–9, 367, 378
    forum for cooperative diplomacy 379, 380 peaceful change and European stability 379
    and US opinion 378
    European international system 26
    evacuation and reparations link 522 financial crisis and effects of Hoover moratorium 592
    and abandonment of Stresemann’s policies 596 financial pressure from USA 306, 318
    financial pressure on Poland 392, 410
Germany (cont.)

financial problems and conciliatory policy after Locarno 346
French security concerns 523
frustration with progress of Locarno politics and Young regime 579
Genoa conference (1922) 73–4
German heavy industry 176
plans for a right-wing coup d’état (1923) 112–13
German question after World War I 20
at Versailles 22, 24
German–Soviet alliance-building after World War I 1, 13
grand coalition government 514 implicit linkage between evacuation and reparations 522–3 importance of Kellogg–Briand pact 464 for Euro-Atlantic security system 464 importance of ratification of Young plan 568 improved position after London conference 154 incorporation in gold-dollar system 188 increased pressure from Rhineland evacuation 514 inflation 68–9
integration into European security system 202 integration into post-World War I international system 2, 7, 9, 29 international stabilisation plan and buyback of territories 394, 412 isolation in the Versailles system 68–9
Kellogg–Briand pact 421
Anglo-Soviet tension 445–6
Polish expansion around eastern Prussia 442
relations with Soviet Russia 426 League of Nations at Versailles 57
and Locarno pact
Anglo-French alliance 271
article 16 and Locarno 260, 262
bilateral arbitration treaties 268 Britain’s emphasis on arbitration 253–4 capital shortage 250–1 conciliatory proposals 251
convergence with French policies 238, 240 demands for linking pact with evacuation of Cologne zone 260, 265–7 difference between private/official attitudes pre-Locarno 239 eastern territories policies 251–2, 256 Locarno system 267–8
rehabilitation 268–9 supplement F 264
tariff policy and DNVP support 251
Marx cabinet support for Kellogg–Briand pact 464 nationalism after Locarno 301, 317–18
power of 292
opposition to Young report 536, 563, 568 peaceful change of the postwar order 121 perception of Locarno as having two sets of rules 367–8
plans for a right-wing coup d’état (1923) 112–13 political and financial revitalisation 186
and Dawes plan 199
position and role in the postwar international system 10, 28, 50
public opinion on Dawes regime 515 Rapallo agreement with Soviet Russia (1922) 73–4 re-emergence of 489
as great power 331
after Locarno 290
relations with Poland after Locarno 19, 288–9, 292
during Young process 516 removal of financial controls 536
reorientation of German postwar policy 18, 121, 116–18
reparations and evacuation of Rhineland 480, 513 Schubert strategy 512
and war-debt cycle after Versailles 68–9, 146
revision of the postwar order 24
revisionist ambitions and co-operation of Locarno powers 397, 415
Ruhr crisis
German ‘passive resistance’ 102, 112–13
and Soviet Russia 3, 13
search for a US ‘senior partner’ in the postwar international system 121, 68–9 shortage of foreign funds 483, 523 Social Democrats, impatience with Locarno politics 489 sovereignty, and Dawes plan 196
spectre of Weimar Germany’s disintegration (1923) 112–13
stab-in-the-back legend after 1918 64
Sudetenland and Czechoslovakia 289 sustainability of western orientation after Hague settlement 564 Thoiry initiative 385, 400
Index

need for Anglo-American backing 386–7, 402
unemployment 578
unification of 223
Upper Silesia question and plebiscite 60–1
US ally at Preparatory Disarmament Commission 373–4 Versailles treaty 5–6, 63–4
revision of 64
Weimar Republic (1919–33)
Anglo-American intervention in the Ruhr conflict and Europe’s postwar crisis 121, 146
westernisation process 292
Westpolitik under Stresemann 121–5
Wilson’s ‘betrayal’ of Germany at Versailles 64 withdrawal from Young regime, Locarno and Kellogg–Briand pact 575 withdrawal of foreign control and transfer protection 482 Geßler, Otto (German Reichswehr minister), and the revision of the Versailles system 123 Gibson, Hugh
disarmament 323
Geneva naval conference 431–2
Preparatory Disarmament Commission 372
Gilbert, Seymour Parker (US agent-general for reparations) 180, 191, 196, 223, 297 control over Germany’s economic life 250
Dawes plan 391, 410
modification of 385, 400
Dawes regime 301, 429, 440
political safeguards for 302, 310
international stabilisation package 394, 412
liquidation of German railway bonds 187, 392, 410
loan guarantees 304, 307–8
Thoiry rejection 394, 412–13
Thoiry and stabilisation of French currency 395–6, 414
Transfer Committee 169, 181
Young process 480, 482–4, 493–4, 500, 507, 512, 517, 526
effect of Republican policies 511–12
French approaches to Germany to form economic bloc 519
Hooverian debt policy 495–6, 496–7
revision of Dawes system 484, 497;
opposition of HM Treasury 525;
pressure on Berlin 527
globalisation of great-power competition before World War I 26 of the international economy before World War I 127 gold standard belief in 197–8 Conservative policy 189–90 reintroduction of in Britain 282
shortcomings of 573, 594–5 stabilisation of 561
Wall Street crash 198
Great Depression see World Economic Crisis (1929–32) Grew, Joseph C. attitude to disarmament 322
disarmament negotiations 371
German entry to League 379
Hague conference, the first, and settlement accords (1929) agreement on distribution 555, 558 changed conditions for settlement 547 consequences and historical significance of 9
final ‘grand bargain’ in post-World War I international politics 19 Franco-German compromise 547 intergovernmental bargaining process 549 separation of political and financial issues 549
significance of 546–7
transatlantic quid pro quo process 549
see also Briand, Aristide; Britain; Henderson, Arthur; Stresemann, Gustav Hague conference, the second (1930) 570–1 Hankey, Sir Maurice (secretary to the British cabinet and CID) 159 distribution agreements 555 influence on MacDonald 542
little Englander approach to European affairs 208, 210
Harding, Warren G. (Republican US president, 1921–3)
America’s return to ‘normalcy’ after Versailles 79
Ruhr crisis 103
war-debts 68
Harris, Forbes & Co. 309
Index

Harrison, George L. (head, Federal Reserve Bank of New York, from 1929) crisis management 584
Hoover’s debt moratorium 580
Hay, John (Republican US secretary of state) and US ‘open-door’ policy in China (1899–1900) 83 democratic government in Germany 112–13 disarmament approach 324
distrust of European politics 299
domestic opposition from isolationists 564
eastern territorial revision 319, 395–6, 413
economic diplomacy 82, 282, 294, 611–12
European power politics 82, 69
European stability 496, 497, 499
Europe’s post-Versailles crisis 69 economic roots of 83–4 expansion of foreign trade 305–6 tariffs 306
financial pressure on France 582–3
foreign economic policy 500–1
France’s reparations war against Germany 69
Franco-German antagonism after Versailles 82, 83–4 conflict over the Ruhr 110
French military spending 322
French war-debt 311
Genoa conference (1922) 87
German dependence on US goodwill 583
German economic revitalisation 304
Germany’s economic importance 82, 111 gold standard, return to 305
half-hearted agenda of peaceful change 582 Hoover moratorium on intergovernmental debts (1931) 19 importance of financial concerns in disarmament talks 372 informal role of US in reparations settlement 531, 549
isolationism 585
domestic constraints 586
French security commitments 586
Japanese invasion of Manchuria 585–6
Polish Corridor 597, 598
security obligations 598, 601
Smoot–Hawley tariff 586, 595
lack of official commitment to financial and security system in Europe 583, 586, 598 transfer of responsibility to private bankers 584 US banking and credit system 584
Lausanne conference 594
failure of 591
German financial situation 592
Lloyd George’s ‘grand design’ for Europe’s reconstruction 87
misgivings over Bank for International Settlements 560–1
naval ratios 475
opposition to loan guarantees 309 organisation co-operation with business 306 participation of Federal Reserve in international bank 534, 538–9, 560–1 Pax Americana 191–2 peaceful change of the postwar international system 82
Poland 319
polyangular course of trade 501 postwar stabilisation 9
private loans to Europe 500
Progressive approach to international affairs 33–4, 297–300, 481, 493, 497, 500
reform of the Versailles system 82
reparrations and war-debts 107, 494–5, 511
Ruhr crisis (1923) 107, 110
settlement of French obligations 541 Snowden’s opposition to Young scheme 553 suspicious of Thoiry 395, 397, 413, 417
tariff policy 569
threat of revolution after World War I 82
transatlantic economic interdependence after 1918 83–4
trust in European financial consolidation 428
US commercial policy 83–4
US credit for solving Europe’s problems 539
US limits and Hague’s acrimony 548
US ‘open-door’ policy 82
view of European militarism 582
view of Locarno 272
Wilson 82
World Economic Crisis 573
Young process 492–3, 499
clash with Churchill 491
Hopkins, Sir R., and Treasury reparations policy 307, 508
Houghton, Alanson B. (US ambassador, Berlin, until 1925; London, 1925–9)
co-operation with Britain 373
eastern Europe 225
European peace and disarmament 315
Kellogg–Briand pact 460
League Council crisis 352
plans for a right-wing coup d’état in Germany (1923) 112–13, 161
Preparatory Disarmament Commission 373, 376–7
US participation in Rhine pact 222–3, 225
USA’s peace ultimatum to Europe 223
House, Colonel Edward (US diplomatist and adviser to President Wilson)
Anglo-American guarantee agreement with France (1919) 57–8
assessment of the Versailles settlement 62 and Clemenceau 49
House, Colonel Edward (cont.)
  French plan for a Rhenish buffer state, at Versailles 54, 64 post-World War I dislocations 24
Howard, Sir Esme (British ambassador, Washington, 1924–30)
  Anglo-American co-operation 99
  cruiser quotas 422
  expert committee 528
  Kellogg–Briand pact 456, 457
  US opinion of Young scheme 499, 539, 553
Howell, senator, isolationism 539
Hugenberg, Alfred (German press baron)
  Young report 536, 537, 563, 568
  opposition to 478, 489, 515
Hughes, Charles E. (Republican presidential candidate, 1916; US secretary of state, 1921–5)
  Anglo-American financiers 109 approach to European stability 80–9, 96–7, 102, 609 belief in Dawes plan 179 belief in US neutrality to foster European security 201–2 claims for London conference 155
  collective security 81
  compromise on default question 166
  co-operation with Britain at the Washington conference (1921–2) 85 creation of a ‘community of ideals, interests and purposes’ after Versailles, including Germany 87
  Dawes plan 108–9, 139–41, 142, 151–3, 492
  Dawes process (1923–4) 114–15, 130–1
  democratic government in postwar Germany 112 depoliticisation of Europe’s postwar power conflicts 87–9, 116
  domestic constraints 88–9
  European security 85 fear of European debtor coalition against USA 200
  France 113–15
  Franco-German antagonism over reparations and the Ruhr 110
  Geneva Protocol 203
  Genoa conference (1922) 87–9
  German containment 611–12
  German political reintegration 169, 171
  German problem after World War I 81
  Germany’s responsibility for the Great War 89 government guarantees for German loan 194–5
  and Harding 86
  Hughes Doctrine 84–7
  Hughes plan, also known as the New Haven plan (1922) 80–1, 87, 107
  League of Nations 81
  learning-processes 80–1
  loans, and the Monroe Doctrine 85 modification of Treaty of Versailles 193
  and Pax Americana 86
  peaceful change of the postwar international system 81–9
  plans for a right-wing coup d’état in Germany (1923) 113
  Poincaré 115
  postwar order, concepts of 8
  Progressive designs for postwar international order 33–4, 80–1, 84–7, 186, 192–3 public opinion 88–9, 111
  reorientation of US foreign policy after Versailles 80–1, 84–7 role at London conference 157, 158, 167 role of the USA in settling the Ruhr conflict 113–14 role of the USA in the postwar international system 84–7, 117
  Ruhr crisis (1923) 81
  economic motives for 110–12
  evacuation 175
  political motives for 110–12
  settlement 122–5
  US’s intervention in 107–14
  USA as neutral arbiter 107 security, US and international 85
  and Soviet Russia 81, 87
  threat of revolution after World War I 81
  trust in Stresemann and Marx 194
  US bankers 88
  US commercial policy 83
  US Congress 86, 88–9
  US Department of State 88
  US isolationism after Versailles 86
  US ‘open-door’ policy 83
  US strategy at London conference 160–1, 167, 170, 171, 172
  US support for the Stresemann government in 1923 113
  Versailles settlement 10, 81
  war-debts and reparations 88–9, 107
  Washington conference (1921–2) 85
  Wilson’s approach to international order 81
  Hughes, William M. (Australian prime minister) 41
  Hull, Cordell (Democratic US secretary of state, 1933–45)
Index

Hurst, Cecil (legal expert, British Foreign Office) 252, 255
Kellogg–Briand pact 459, 467
meeting with Fromageto and Gaus 468
Locarno negotiations 254, 262

ideas, and post-World War I international politics 3, 13
Imperial Conference 337
Imperial Economic Conference see Ottawa conference (1932) imperialism and imperialist rivalry, before World War I 17, 25 Independent Labour Party (ILP), MacDonald and 93 inflation, in Germany, and capacity to pay reparations 68–9 Inter-Allied Military Commission of Control (IMCC) 206 withdrawal 390, 408
Inter-Allied Reparations Commission see Reparations Commission international distribution of power, after Locarno 289, 290 international financial system, after World War I 27
international security Germany’s resurgence 185
lack of framework for economic stabilisation 185 obstacle of Versailles system 193
see also Kellogg–Briand pact; Locarno pact; Locarno system international system, after World War I 2 Britain’s pivotal political power 607–8
British and US stabilisation strategies 609–11 combined impetus of USA and Britain 611–12 and the consolidation of Weimar Germany 127–8 economic and financial factors 116–17 lack of time for change in Weimar Germany 612 learning processes undergone by USA, Britain, France and Germany 608–9 legitimacy of 3, 12–13, 127 long-term change in outlook 612 need for a new, functioning system of international politics after 1918 27, 28
principles and rules of 3, 12, 14–15 recasting of the Euro-Atlantic international system after the Ruhr crisis 100–2, 116–18
self-preservation in crisis 574, 596 susceptibility to collapse 572–4 widening of the European into a transatlantic system after 1918 28
see also system of London and Locarno
interpretations, previous, of post-World War I international history of British policy after World War I 4 economic and financial interpretations of 5–6
European restoration interpretation of 4
idealist interpretations of 4 illusion of peace interpretation of 1, 4 of the Locarno pact of 1925 and the Locarno system 4–6 of the London agreement of 1924 and the Dawes system 4–5 prima facie of internal politics interpretations of 5 realist interpretations of 4–5 structural interpretations of 5
Thirty Years War interpretation of 1 of US policy after World War I 4–5 Irreconcilables, US (opponents of the Versailles settlement) 66 Italy
defensive nationalism 27
Geneva naval conference 432
and reparations 554 pressure from other powers 555
Versailles peace conference 53
Japan
defensive nationalism 27
Geneva naval conference 432
Versailles settlement 53
Jaspar, Henri, Young plan 552, 554
Jones, Rear Admiral Hilary, Geneva naval conference 431
Kaas, Ludwig (German Zentrum politician), Zentrum party protests against Young scheme 551
Kellogg, Frank B. (US ambassador, London; Republican secretary of state, 1925–9) aims at London conference 157, 160
Anglo-American declaration of disarmament principles 375
Anglo-French responsibility 352 attitude to Britain 317
British naval interests 431–3
British role in Locarno negotiations 224 changed attitude to Locarno 313, 315–16
Dawes plan 144
default question 166, 168

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Kellogg, Frank B. (cont.)

disarmament
atitude to 322, 324
naval 324
principles of US policy 323
Washington naval conference 323

disarmament negotiations 314, 371–2
distinction between US and French approach to security 427 domestic approval for European commitment 288, 293
eastern territorial revision 319, 395–6, 413, 415
economic pacification 221
effect of failure of Geneva naval conference 434

European security problems after Locarno 301, 302
European stability, approach to 201, 220–1, 223, 297, 299–300, 302–3, 314, 610
financial pressure on France 247–9
French war-renunciation initiative 321
French withdrawal from Ruhr 172–3, 175, 177
German containment 611–12
Herriot's schemes to exclude Germany 222
international bank 534
international security 218
League Council crisis 352
loan to Poland 395, 413
Preparatory Disarmament Commission 430
Progressive policy 186, 300, 306
regional approach 428 rejection of Thory 397, 416, 417 revival of entente cordiale 369
spirit of Locarno 313
Stresemann's Rhine pact initiative 221–2, 225
Treaty of Berlin 364
USA's wider engagement in European security 420 view of emerging German problem 429–30 view of French attitudes to security 239
view of Locarno 272–3
warnings to US bankers 309
and Young process
Anglo-American co-operation 491
Anglo-French disarmament compromise 472
arbitration treaties 453–4

Briand’s proposal for peace pact 448 debt settlement 496–7, 499
essentials for agreement 469 European resentment of US economic superiority 451
expert committee 527–8
initial reservations 450
internalisation of peace pact 453, 455, 466, 468–9, 3044; inclusion of Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia 469;
inclusion of Germany 463 limits of US engagement in European security 449, 468–9 opportunity for high-profile peace initiative 452, 468 overshadowed by Hoover 493
pacifist movement 451, 452
refusal of bilateral treaty with France 462–3
US isolationism 499
world peace and Kellogg–Briand pact 450, 463
Kellogg–Briand pact (1928) 9, 19, 397, 417
Anglo-American commitment to European security system 466 consequences of 476
different aims of France and Germany 461 failure of Geneva naval conference 434 initial US reaction 450
and French war-debt ratification 450 instrument of peaceful change 460 legal estimate of draft proposal 459 limitations of 471–2 Locarno system 449, 460
multilateral 448, 452
non-containment of Germany 398, 417
significance of 419–20
Kerr, Philip 55
Keynes, John Maynard (British economist, government adviser and critic) creation of a liberal world economic system after World War I 27
gold standard 595
Lloyd George's peace policy 37–8
reparations question 68
and Bolshevik Russia 22
and The Economic Consequences of the Peace 70–1
Versailles settlement 20–1
Wilson's peace policy 30
khaki elections in Britain (1918) 37, 38–9
Kikijiuo, Ishii, Geneva naval conference 432
Index

Kilmarnock, Lord (British high commissioner in the Rhineland) 135, 361

Kühlmann, Richard von, and German colonial aspirations 535

Laboulaye, André de (French chargé d'affaires, Washington) 111, 114

Labour party
  peace aims after World War I 39
  revision of the Versailles settlement 71

Lamont, Thomas W. (US banker) breakdown of expert committee 535 interest in success 547, 553
  US reliance on 549, 553
  Dawes plan 141, 152
  default question 167
  Hughes plan (1922) 88
  London accords 157, 161–2, 179
  Ruhr evacuation 174
  Mellon–Bérenger agreement 313
  reparations and debt settlement scheme 59, 152, 482, 499
  Smoot–Hawley tariff 595

Lampson, Miles W. (head of the British Foreign Office’s Central Department, 1922–6), Eupen–Malmedy question 390

Lansing, Robert (Democratic US secretary of state under Wilson) 34

Lausanne conference (1932) 576, 594

Laval, Pierre (sometime French premier and foreign minister) changing approach to policy 580 consultative pact with USA 598 loan offer to Germany 593
  need for Anglo–American backing, 3728
  security and armament parity 599

Law, Andrew Bonar (Conservative British prime minister, 1922–3), and Britain’s inability to act as the world’s ‘policeman’ after World War I 74

League of Nations 6
  article 16 and Locarno 263–4
  Britain and 65
  Clemenceau and 49
  creation of the mandate system for Germany’s former colonies 63 financial committee 1610, 1611
  German accession 348–9, 349–50
  German entry 268, 378
  international security after Versailles 166–7 Locarno system 380–1
  mechanism for peaceful change after Versailles 64–6 Poland, non-permanent seat 378 support from Henderson 543
  USA and 66–7

Upper Silesia plebiscite (1921) 61
  Wilson and 24, 32, 34–6

League of Nations Union (LNU; British pressure-group) 29, 39

League to Enforce Peace (LEP; US pressure-group) 29

learning-processes, in post-World War I international politics 3, 13, 13

see also Briand, Aristide; Chamberlain, Austen; Crowe, Sir Eyre; Herriot, Edouard; Hoover, Herbert; Hughes, Charles E.; Kellogg, Frank B.; MacDonald, James Ramsay; Poincaré, Raymond; Schubert, Carl von; Stresemann, Gustav

Leffingwell, Russell C. (US banker) 108

French war-debt 312

Transfer Committee 167

legitimacy core problem of post-World War international order 3, 7, 10, 12–15 domestic legitimation of international settlements 8 of system of London and Locarno, international and domestic 7

Leith-Ross, Sir Frederick (deputy controller of finance, British Treasury) 507

Dawes plan 509, 524

Treasury reparations requirement 525

Lenin, Vladimir I. 86

lessons, in international politics and policymaking 1 of 1920s international politics 1 of 1930s appeasement 1 of Versailles 10
  of World War I 1

Levinson, Salmon Oliver (originator, US ‘Outlawry of War’ movement) 451

Lindsay, Sir Ronald (British ambassador, Berlin, 1926–8; permanent under-secretary, Foreign Office, 1928–30) 496

DNVP opposition to Locarno 496

Young process 507–8

Lippmann, Walter

Woodrow Wilson’s peace policy and the Versailles settlement 17–24

Young regime 561

Lloyd George, David (Liberal–Unionist British prime minister, 1916–22)

Anglo–American guarantee agreement with France (1919) 57–8

approach to peace settlement and postwar reconstruction 17, 24, 37–45 Lloyd George, David (cont.)
attempt to forge an entente, not an alliance, with France after Versailles 71–4 and Austria-Hungary 40
Bolshevik threat to Germany 55
British security, and Versailles 57–8, 71–2
Cannes conference (1922) 72
Chanak crisis (1922) 74
and Clemenceau 22, 24, 43 compatibility with Clemenceau’s and Wilson’s approaches 24 compromise on distribution question 558 contribution to Rhineland evacuation 548, 550, 555–6 creation of a new ‘directorate’ of great powers after World War I 40, 42–3 criticism of Chamberlain 510, 528
distancing of Britain from the League after Versailles 71 domestic postwar constraints 38–9
eastern Europe 60–1
engaging the USA in Europe after Versailles 65
failure to engage the USA 73 fall from power after the ‘defeat’ at Genoa and the Chanak crisis (1922) 74 Fontainebleau memorandum (March 1919) 40–1, 55
and France 39–41
French League plans at Versailles 54
Genoa conference (1922) 71–4
German question at Versailles 52–3
and Germany 23–4, 39–40
Germany’s admission to the League 57
Germany’s inclusion into a new postwar order 43–4, 71–4
Germany’s representation at the Versailles peace conference 51
Germany’s war guilt 38, 59
global naval regime after World War I 44
grand design for Europe’s reconstruction 71–4 historical precedent of the Congress of Vienna (1814–15) 42–3 and Ireland 40
khaki election (1918) 37–9
League of Nations 39, 42–3, 54
as a mechanism for peaceful change after Versailles 65
MacDonald minority government 541
Monroe Doctrine 44
opposition to French plans for a Rhenish buffer state 54–8 peace policy 38, 39–41 and Poincaré 72–3
and Poland 40, 60–1
Political Commission 549, 555
postwar consolidation of the British Empire 38
principles of postwar international politics 29
Rapallo agreement (1922) 73–4
reform of the Versailles system 64–5, 71–4
reparations and war-debts 38–9, 58–60
Rhineland question at Versailles 54–8
self-determination, national 39, 40, 60–2
Soviet Russia 41, 71–2
strengthening of centrist forces in Weimar government 556
Upper Silesia question 60–1
verdict on first Hague conference (1929) 547, 558
Versailles settlement 63
defence of 62
as self-styled ‘master politician’ and mediator at Versailles 53
USA 41–5
Wilson 22, 24, 39–40, 43–5
World War I, lessons of 41
Locarno accord (1925) 3, 13 consequences (‘Rückwirkungen’) and historical significance of 9–10, 18 era of London and Locarno 11 Locarno conference balance between French security and German rehabilitation 260 core issues 260
informal meetings over Rhine pact’s wider scope 265
representatives at 259
Rhineland occupation problem 260, 266–7
significance of 267
British appraisal 270–2 durability of accords 279
Stresemann interpretation 274,
US appraisal 272–4
spirit of Locarno 261, 267
Locarno pact 186
Briand’s aims for 237
Britain’s role as mediator 229
guarantor 232
challenges for British diplomacy 238–9
Chamberlain’s eurocentric view 218–19
Chamberlain’s mediation 241–2, 249
Chamberlain’s policy of peaceful change 207, 217 crisis in negotiations 244–6, 257 politics of new European concert 257–8 resolution of 246–7

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
emphasis on arbitration 253–4, 257–8
German conditions 228 inevitability of 240 informal promotion by USA 229
inviability of Rhine frontier 214–15
and London conference 156
need for domestic and international approval 238
origins of 229
stages leading up to 201
Stresemann’s aims for 237
US financial pressure 240–1, 247
Locarno politics 10
and the European concert (or the Locarno concert: Britain, France, Germany) 11, 19 Locarno system 267–9, 279
aims of 291–2
Anglo-American stabilisation policies 346–7, 349
Anglo-American support 293
complacency 293
lack of development after 1925 293–4
US priorities 295
Anglo-French axis 328, 332
Anglo-French entente after League crisis 333 distinct from Germany 367 balancing mechanisms to prevent breakdown 288 Britain’s belief in 327–9
key time factor 331
and Britain’s lack of resources 333
compared with Kellogg–Briand pact 471
Anglo-French disarmament compromise 474
concert politics 358
conflicting ideas of Briand and Stresemann 287–8 deadlock over Rhineland question 485 change in British policy 505 deterioration in 477, 485, 510
evacuation and reparations disputes 483 framework of European security 418
French obligations 466
German entry into League 348–51
Hurst’s recommendations to Chamberlain 467 importance of anchoring Germany 331 and Kellogg–Briand Pact 468 tensions over 466
lack of consolidation after treaty 283–4
League of Nations 380–1
need for Euro-Atlantic system for security and stabilisation 291 personal relationships of main protagonists 333–4 politics of appeasement 418 progress in mid-1920s 345, 362 reasons for failure of 281–2, 282–3
reciprocity 332
Rhineland issue 347, 419, 446–7
bargains 348
need for financial and political agreement 435–6 security questions 285
shortcomings of 354
small steps in Franco-German reconciliation process 436, 446
eastern Europe 270, 442, 445–6
transatlantic relations 291
Treaty of Berlin 365–6
under strain 397, 417, 421–2 and transatlantic concert 447 underlying problems 345 unsettled questions 289, 290–1
US investors 307
see also London and Locarno system
Lodge, Henry Cabot (Republican US senator, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee)
League of Nations 65–6
Versailles settlement 65–6
Logan, James A. (US emissary and unofficial representative at the Reparations Commission)
liquidation of German railway bonds 396, 414
London conference 160
London and Locarno system
adoption of shared rules 605
Anglo-American disengagement 614
common interest in preserving German democracy 604 consequences of Republican aloofness 307 constraints of French, German and Polish policies 619 departure from Versailles politics 604
expectations of 615–16
Stresemann’s 616
inclusion of Weimar Germany in peace system 614
link between 603
Polish–German relations 614, 617
lack of Anglo-American support 618 reorientation of Anglo-American policies between 1925 and 1929 618–19
Rhineland evacuation 616
Ruhr crisis 604
stability after World War I 619
London and Locarno system (cont.)
US economic diplomacy and European stabilisation 603–4, 613 vulnerability to crisis 613

London conference
Anglo-American co-operation 154, 156, 171
influence of bankers 157, 161–2
pressure on France 163, 173–4
stabilisation effect 179
Britain’s aims 146, 152, 158
consequences and historical significance of 9–10, 17
Dawes regime 153
default question 166
bankers’ conditions 167
and the era of London and Locarno 11
Franco-German compromise over Ruhr evacuation 177
French demands 166
US compromise proposal 166–7
French evacuation of Ruhr 158–9, 162, 164–5, 169, 172
German attitude to 152, 164
German participation in 169–71
Hughes and 152
inclusion of Germany in new international system 156, 158, 161, 165, 169, 181
Lamont and 152
Morgan and 152
Norman and 152
perceptions of 154
readjustment of French attitudes 163, 164 Reparations Commission and sanctions 157, 161–2, 166, 168
significance of 178, 184
Europe’s balance of power 181 relationship between France and Germany 179 start of Euro-Atlantic peace system 155, 182 tactical defeat for France 155, 163, 182 and Thoiry failure 388, 405 unresolved issues 185
US aims at 152, 153
US position 152, 155, 161, 168
US representation 160
see also MacDonald, James Ramsay
London financial conference 592
London naval conference 475
London schedule of payments (reparations plan, 1921) 68–9
Loucheur, Louis (French finance minister, under Poincaré), and France’s Ruhr and Rhineland policy 119
Luther, Hans (German chancellor, 1925–6)
DNVP support 251
domestic difficulties 243
Locarno crisis 244
encounter with Briand over eastern arbitration treaties 263
evacuation of Cologne zone 265–6
Germany’s financial crisis 391, 409
private vs. official view of future 239
resignation of DNVP ministers after Locarno 278
MacDonald, James Ramsay (Labour British prime minister and sometime foreign secretary, 1924, 1929–31; National government premier, 1931–5)
Anglo-French entente 133–6, 147
Britain’s role in the postwar international system 92–3, 117, 359
British intervention in the Ruhr conflict 95–6 capitalism after World War I 97 and Cecil 97
central assumptions on foreign affairs 542
and Chamberlain’s Locarno diplomacy 543–4 and Chamberlain’s policy, compared 93 commitment to appeasement 564–5 need for US backing 565
conciliatory talks with Briand after Hague settlement 559 conflict with Snowden over reparations 542, 543–4, 550, 553–4 telegram affair 553–4
cooperation with the USA in the stabilisation of Europe 92–3, 98–9, 132–3 criticism of Chamberlain 510, 528
and Crowe 96–7, 148
and Curzon’s Ruhr policy 92, 94–5
Dawes plan 108–9, 130, 133, 142–4, 148, 150
deteriorating financial situation 548
disarmament 98, 146, 389
domestic legitimacy of international politics 94 and Ebert 96
economic interdependence and British economic interests after 1918 99 European stability and financial crisis 588, 590, 592–3, 597 evolutionary approach to postwar stabilisation 91–9, 97–8, 131–2, 609 and Foreign Office 96–7
and France 96–9, 129, 144–6
Franco-German question after World War I 91–3, 132–7
Index

effect of Hague settlement on European international politics 145–6 French policies towards Germany on armaments 599
French power politics at Versailles 93
French security 95, 133, 144
French security and armaments policy 601
Geneva Protocol 202
attitude of French 202
German commitment to moderate policy 599
German containment 611–12
German inclusion in League of Nations 204
German political reintegration 169, 170
German threat after Versailles 95 gradual revision of European status quo 599 and Herriot 95, 144
and Howard 99
Hughes plan (1922) 99
idealism and practicalism in international politics 94
League of Nations 92–3, 147, 168
reform of 97–8
learning-processes 94–6
Lloyd George’s postwar policy 92, 93
London conference 132, 182
Manchurian crisis 590 mediation role at London conference 157, 158, 168, 170, 175, 180
on Germany’s behalf 175, 177
military guarantees to France 600
naval agreement with USA 544, 559
naval ratios 475
need to strengthen centrist forces in Weimar Germany 556 need to support Weimar Germany’s republican leaders after Versailles 95–6, 135 Poincaré’s Ruhr policy 95, 132, 133 postwar order and peace, concepts of 8, 93–4 premises of international politics 93–4 pressure on France over Rhineland evacuation 542, 550 and disarmament 544
proposals for arbitration regime on sanctions 167
public opinion 94
reconstruction of Europe 180
reorientation of British foreign policy after Versailles 92
reparations and war-debts 98–9, 137, 149
Rhineland question 488
Ruhr conflict, formulation of a ‘comprehensive policy’ for settlement 96 second minority government 541–2 security, British and European 97–8 security–evacuation–reparations linkage 149
Soviet Russia 97–8
spectre of Weimar Germany’s disintegration (1923) 95–6
stabilisation of Europe after the Ruhr crisis 96–7, 102, 131–7 stabilisation of Weimar Germany 95, 136 Stresemann 98
threat of French imperialism after Versailles 95 traditions of British foreign policy 93–4
Versailles settlement 93–4
reform of the Versailles system 93–4 view of France’s protocol policy 601 and Wilson 93
Young plan 503, 526
Zinoviev letter 203, 334
McGarrah, Gates W., and Bank for International Settlements 561
McKinley, William (Republican US president) 32, 83
Maginot, André (French minister of war)
Maginot line 235, 387, 403, 439, 486
Makata, Admiral Saito, Geneva naval conference 432
Maltzan, Ago von (under-secretary, German Foreign Office; ambassador, Washington) eastern orientation of German postwar policy 123 German–American special relationship 222, 229 gravitation towards Stresemann’s Westpolitik 123
Rapallo treaty (1922) 73–4
Treaty of Berlin 364
Manchukuo regime 585
Manchurian crisis, London’s approach to Japanese aggression 589–90 mandate system, for Germany’s former colonies 42
market uncertainty, and Young scheme 538
Marriner, J.T., and Kellogg–Briand Pact 450, 452
US pacifist movement 451
Marshall Plan 619
Marx, Wilhelm (German Centre party chancellor, 1923–4, 1926–8) 136–7
Bürgerblock coalition 439
Marx, Wilhelm (cont.)
compromise over Ruhr evacuation 64
London conference 169
Melchior, Carl (German banker) 52, 532, 534
Mellon, Andrew (Republican US Treasury secretary, 1921–2)
Dawes regime 301, 308
German railway bonds 392, 396, 410, 415
international credit bank 334
and Progressivism 300, 306
reparations and debt-settlement scheme 482, 511
return to gold standard 305
and Thoiry 397, 417
trust in European financial consolidation 428
War-Debt Commission 303, 310–12
Young process 493
Dawes revision 493
debt settlement 494–6, 499
German public spending 497
pressure on Poincaré over Mellon–Bérenger agreement 494 Mellon–Bérenger agreement (1926) 199, 310, 312–13
militarism, in the pre-World War I European international system 26 military control, German demands 287
Millerand, Alexandre (French president), and the Ruhr crisis 96, 101
Mills, Ogden (US assistant secretary, Treasury, 1929–32), transfer of responsibility to private bankers 584 Mission Interallée de Contrôle des Usines et des Mines (MICUM) 24, 104, 139, 147, 153, 176 monetary stability, and economic rehabilitation 192
Monroe Doctrine 33
American postwar policy 33
Moreau, Emile (governor, Banque de France) 532 central bank loan to Poland 394, 413 financial crisis and foreign capital 387–8, 404–5
financial stabilisation 339
reparations and war-debt settlement 519, 521
Morgan, J.P., Jr (US banker)
Bank for International Settlements 538
Dawes plan 140, 151
distrust of German politicians 196
Europe’s stabilisation after World War I 108, 133 expert committee on Young process 498, 528 influence of Norman 160 interest in Locarno negotiations 249
loans to France during and after World War I 109 London accords 157, 161–2, 179
and Ruhr evacuation 174 responsibilities of politicians in Europe’s reconstruction 108–9 settlement of the reparations question 109
Transfer Committee 167
US foreign policy after World War I 111
Young scheme 549
Morgan, J.P. & Co.
Dawes plan 12, 130, 141–2
government guarantees for German loan 194–5
liquidation of German railway bonds 396, 415
loan boycott 307
Mellon–Bérenger agreement 312
non-interference in political questions 558 organisation of German loan 195–6 proposed loan to France 199 satisfaction with Young scheme 538
view of Locarno 272
Morgenthau, Hans, and Wilson’s peace policy and the Versailles settlement 21
Morrow, Dwight (US businessman and diplomat) 108, 141
liquidation of German railway bonds 396, 414
reparations and debt settlement scheme 481
Transfer Committee 167
transfer crisis and Dawes regime 193–4 Müller, Hermann (German Social Democratic chancellor, 1919, 1926–30) acceptance of Young scheme 537
adherence to politics of London and Locarno and Young process 574 coalition government 514 compromise with France at second Hague conference (1930) 570–1 economic problems and coalition break-up 569
Geneva talks 521, 522–3
Locarno politics 504
Rhineland question 486–7, 489, 513–14, 517
Schacht’s criticism of Hague settlement 568
US tariff policy 567
Young scheme, ratification of 564, 568
Mussolini, Benito (Italian premier and dictator, 1922–43), German plans to establish a ‘Fascist movement’ akin to Mussolini’s 112
Index

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>national and nationalist mobilisation and the international system before World War I</td>
<td>17, 25, 27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>international politics after World War I</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Socialist German Workers’ Party (NSDAP)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brüning’s attempts at containment 602 election victory and chain reaction of crises 577</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>naval arms limitations see disarmament</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>naval regime, global, after World War I</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Britain and 44</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>USA and 44</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nicolson, Harold (private secretary of Lloyd George at Versailles; postwar Foreign Office official)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anglo-French pact 209, 213</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>challenges of Versailles 48</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Lloyd George 39</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fontainbleau memorandum 56</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Niemeyer, Sir Otto (controller of finance, British Treasury)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dawes plan 143</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>London conference 159</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>return to gold standard 189</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thoiry plan 385, 399, 413–14</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nollet, General Charles (French war minister)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>national security 164</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ruhr evacuation 173, 176</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bank for International Settlements 546, 561</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and emergency lending 584</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>British financial interests after World War I</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>central bank co-operation 108–9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Chamberlain 397–6, 414</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>co-operation with the USA 108–9, 132, 151</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>default question 166</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eupen–Malmedy scheme 390, 408</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>financial stabilisation 339</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>foreign loans 142, 143</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>German railway bonds 392, 397, 410–11, 415</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>impact of Thoiry on Dawes regime 395–6, 414</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>importance of economics for stability 282</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>international stabilisation package 394, 412</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>London accords 157, 159</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Ruhr evacuation 174</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>postwar financial stabilisation, German and European 108–9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>return to gold standard 189–90</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>role in Young process 510</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Snowden’s line at first Hague conference (1929) 559</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Strong 108–9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Young regime and German relief 590</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>see also Harrison, George L.; Moreau, Emile; Schacht, Hjalmar; Strong, Benjamin</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>North Atlantic Alliance 619</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Observer, The 397, 417</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ogden, Rollo 451</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>open-door policy, of the USA 32</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Culbertson and 83–3</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoover and 82</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taft administration and 83</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Orme Sargent, and Thoiry plan 386, 400</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ottawa conference (1932) 591</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>gold standard 595</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlawry of War Organisation 451</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Painlevé, Paul (French president) 231</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Locarno negotiations crisis 248</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rhineland troop levels 355</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Papen, Franz von (German chancellor, 1932)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>assertive foreign policy 575, 579</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>collapse of Geneva disarmament conference 576, 602</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paris conference (1924), and Dawes plan 187</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paris payment schedule, for reparations (1921) 68</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Parmoor 203</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paul-Boncour, Joseph (French politician and disarmament negotiator)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>French security 520</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>meeting with Chamberlain 473</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pax Americana 185–6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>British guardianship 224</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dawes system 187, 197</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Franco-German relations 298</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>informal/private programmes 187–8</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kellogg’s approach to 220–1</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Progressive policy 301</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>replacement of Pax Britannica 191</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Republican notions of in the 1920s: 86, 190–3; after 1945 15</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pax Anglo-Americana, after World War I 1, 10, 19</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>disputes over Dawes plan 190</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>legitimacy of 127</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>limits for stabilisation policies 188</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>two-level system 186</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pax Britannica, of the nineteenth century 15</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>peace order, Euro-Atlantic, after World War I 10–11</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> peaceful change, in the post-World War I international system 9, 11, 15 core problem of postwar international politics 127–8 Germany and 9
and MacDonald 131–2, 136
need for a mechanism for, after Versailles 61
two-dimensional process of peaceful change after 1919 3, 13
Versailles settlement and 61
Wilson and 47
peaceful dispute settlement, and Locarno commitment 260
Peret, Raoul (French finance minister) debts and reparations link 311
Mellon–Béranger agreement 313
Peretti de la Rocca, Emmanuel de (political director, Quai d’Orsay), and the need for a new entente with Britain and understanding with the USA after Versailles 120, 145, 149
Permanent Court of International Justice 570
Perowne, J.V. (British Foreign Office official), criticism of German policy 510
Phipps, Eric (British charge d’affaires, Paris), Rhineland evacuation 439 Piłsudski, Marshal Józef (Polish head of state) 1926 coup 335
eastern Locarno 444
German–Polish relations 617
Polish foreign policy 18 and Polish-Lithuanian dispute 441–3
Polish security 391–2, 410
Poincaré, Raymond (sometime French premier and president) agreement with Churchill over reparations 502, 509, 512, 519, 525–6 bid for an ‘artificial’ continental hegemony in Europe after Versailles 74–5
and Briand’s Locarno policy 236
and Briand’s reconciliation policy 381
Cannes conference (1922) 72–3
Davos process 117–18, 121, 130, 139
evacuation and reparations negotiations 486–7
Franco-German accommodation and Young process 480
Franco-German continental bloc 501, 512, 514, 519
French expansionists in 1923 104–5
impact on postwar international politics 100–2 pyrrhic victory of 1923 102
Gilbert’s scheme 518, 519
Hughes plan (1922) 116
Lloyd George and the Genoa conference (1922) 69
Locarno policy 437
Locarno system 347, 361
London settlement 184
Mellon–Béranger agreement 519
MICUM agreements 104–5, 119
opposition to Thoiry 386–7, 402
Poland’s anxieties 489
Polish–German question 393, 411
Preparatory Disarmament Commission 374
reorientation of French policy after World War I 118, 116–18, 143
reparations 74–5, 72–3
Rhineland policy of 118–19, 134, 356
Ruhr policy of (1923) 74–5, 101, 143
search for a firm Anglo-French entente after Versailles 72, 133–6 search for a new understanding with the USA after Versailles 119–20 search for British security guarantees after Versailles 74–5 search for US support on security and reparations before and during the Ruhr crisis 74–5, 118–21 security, French and European 72 security and financial compensation 520–1
stabilisation of franc 387, 403
territorial revision 389, 407
Union Nationale and Thoiry plan 388, 405
US loans and debt settlement 346, 368 yoke of Versailles 604
Young process 485, 487
Poland alliance with France after Versailles 69 bilateral conflicts originating at Versailles 60–1
and Briand’s Locarno policy 232–3
and Chamberlain 215–16
concerns secondary to Young process 489–90
creation of the new Polish state at Versailles 60–1 danger of war with Lithuania 397, 416 dissociation of French guarantee from Locarno pact 262 domestic pressure on Stresemann 230
Franco-German negotiations on revisions to Versailles 390
French military preponderance 289
and Germany 9
Germany’s eastern borders 287–9
Kellogg–Briand pact 463–6
League Council crisis 348–50
long-term interest 490 proposal for non-aggression pact 465 relations with Germany after Locarno 301
Index

reorientation of foreign policy after World War I 18 representation of interest in Locarno negotiations 238, 252–3
Rhineland evacuation 439
security after Locarno 267–8, 270
and Germany’s alliance with Soviet Russia 270 Stresemann’s proposal for separate arbitration agreements 228
Upper Silesia question 60–1
Versailles settlement 24
Polish Corridor
creation of, at Versailles 60
Rhine pact 225
US attitude to 226
Polish–German problem
after World War I 3, 10, 18
Anglo-American view of territorial revision 396–8, 414, 416 border disputes 9
British attitude to 334–5
commercial war 392, 410 impact of, on London and Locarno system 390, 409–10 minority problems 10
politics of London and Locarno 397, 415
Polish–Lithuanian dispute 441, 442
German restraint 443–4
Poole, duration of German obligations in Young plan 568
Porter 427–8
Preparatory Disarmament Commission, Geneva 323, 342–3, 423
French concerns 374–5
Germany’s potential for weapon-making 371
naval vs land armaments 372, 376 stalled negotiations 347, 370, 374, 376–7
US/German co-operation 373–4
US view 371–3, 376
Prittwitz, Friedrich von (German ambassador, Washington) 463, 494 Progressive approach to politics, Hughes and 80–1 public opinion, Wilson and 35
Quai d’Orsay summit (1924) 145, 150
Rapallo treaty, between Germany and Soviet Russia (1922)
Britain and 74
compared with the Hitler–Stalin pact (1939) 74
France and 74
impact on Germany’s relations with the western powers 74 stipulations and significance of 73–4 western reactions to 74
Rathenau, Walther (German foreign minister)
Geneva conference (1922) 73–4
Germany’s isolation after Versailles 73
Rapallo treaty (1922) 73
Reich Association of the German Industry 330
Reichsbank, threat of closure 577
Reichskanzler, German
Britain and 68–9
as core problem of postwar international politics 17
France and 68–9
and German postwar foreign policy 126
London reparations schedule (1921) 68
Paris reparations schedule (1921) 68 reparations problem at Versailles 58–60 reparations problem after Versailles 68
USA and 68
war-debts 68–9
Reinhold, Karl, German financial crisis 391, 410 reparations after Locarno 290
armament parity, Locarno pact 228
Britain and 68–9, 137
Dawes plan 151
and Thoiry initiative 386, 400
US depoliticisation strategy 179
US lack of commitment 187
see also Dawes plan; London conference Reparations Commission 139, 141
international credit bank 533
revision of Dawes system 484
reparations settlement bound to political consideration 478 European strategies for 483
French war-debts to USA 518–19
Young plan 479
see also Young process
Revelstoke, Lord, 532–3
Rheinhaben, Werner von, 318
Rhenish railways, future of French and Belgian workers 172, 174
Rhineland Commission 162
Rhineland pact see Locarno accords
Rhineland question
Anglo-French proposal for permanent civilian control commission 425
diplomacy of reciprocity 332
effect of disarmament negotiations 370
French troop reductions 447
French withdrawal 287–9
need for Anglo-American support 419, 439
Index

682  Rhineland question (cont.)
need for financial/political agreement 435–6
reciprocity 424, 438–9
Rhineland as France’s strategic glacis 50
Schubert’s security initiative 441 stagnation in Locarno process 421 test of Locarno system 347, 354
Thoiry initiative 386–7, 389–400, 402, 406
after Versailles 19
at Versailles 50
Young process 479, 482, 485
Robbins, and Dawes report 170
Roosevelt, Franklin D. (Democratic US president, 1933–45) ‘Four Policemen’ concept of 238 compared with Wilson’s peacemaking approach 6–7
gold standard 595
New Deal 587
and the World Economic Crisis 596
Roosevelt, Theodore (Republican US president)
Root treaty (1908), and Kellogg–Briand pact 453–4
Rowe-Dutton, revision of Dawes plan 508
Ruhr crisis (1923)
Anglo-American intervention in 100–15, 146
Britain and 75, 100–6
consequences and historical significance of 17
Curzon and 102–6
direct Franco-German negotiations 173, 176–7
French Ruhr policy and occupation 74–5, 131, 146, 153
German attitudes to Hague settlement 568
German ‘passive resistance’ 75, 97, 102
Germany and 72, 75, 101
Hughes and 108–9
impact on postwar international politics 100–2
MacDonald’s mediation and official recall to Berlin 535
removal of Dawes regime 515
Scheidemann, Philipp (prime minister of the provisional German government, 1919), and German peace aims after 1918 51–2
Schleicher, General Kurt von (German chancellor, 1932), departure from Stresemann’s course 575
Schubert, Carl von (under-secretary, German Foreign Office) approach to postwar international politics 122
Berliner treaty negotiations 363
co-operation with European concert post-Thoiry 390, 408
crucial position of USA and France 517
Dawes regime revision, slow progress over Rhineland question 436
disarmament talks after Kellogg–Briand pact 475
eastern territorial revision 392, 410

Rumbold, Sir Horace (British ambassador, Berlin, 1928–33) 472 and British Treasury 524
Russia, Tsarist
as challenged empire before 1914 27 breakdown 28
role in the nineteenth-century European international system 26 see also Soviet Russia
Saar 60, 66
Saint-Aulaire, Count Beaupoil de (French ambassador, London) 134, 148
Sargent, Orme (head, British Foreign Office Central Department)
criticism of German policy 510
disarmament negotiations 473
Geneva Protocol 600
reparations issue 544
Saxony 105
Schacht, Hjalmar (president, German Reichsbank) 390, 408, 532
co-operation with Strong 192
currency reform and stabilisation in Germany 113 see also Angell, Norman; Harrison, George L.; Moreau, Emile; Strong, Benjamin economic dictatorship 569
financial pressure on Poland 392, 410
financial stabilisation 339
foreign borrowing 309
Hague settlement 549, 568
international credit bank 533
political considerations 534–5, 536 recall to Berlin 535
removal of Dawes regime 515
Young process 515
Scheidemann, Philipp (prime minister of the provisional German government, 1919), and German peace aims after 1918 51–2
Schleicher, General Kurt von (German chancellor, 1932), departure from Stresemann’s course 575
Schubert, Carl von (under-secretary, German Foreign Office) approach to postwar international politics 122
Berliner treaty negotiations 363
co-operation with European concert post-Thoiry 390, 408
crucial position of USA and France 517
Dawes regime revision, slow progress over Rhineland question 436
disarmament talks after Kellogg–Briand pact 475
eastern territorial revision 392, 410
European concert 122
Germany's inclusion in Kellogg–Briand pact 463 importance of Hague settlement 567
inclusion of USA in international rules for dispute settlement 463
Polish–German commercial treaty 516
Polish–Lithuanian crisis 516
possibilities for peaceful change 419, 440–1 relations with Poland 443–4
Rhine pact 229
Rhineland evacuation and Young process 485–6, 513–14
Rhineland evacuation link with Dawes revision 517, 521–2
Snowden telegram affair 553
territorial revision concerning Poland 465
Thoiry plan 390, 409–10
transatlantic concert 447
US support for Germany 515
Schurman, Jacob G. (US ambassador, Berlin) 317 anxiety over US loans to Germany 307–8
Locarno negotiations 248, 252
observations on Germany 318 perceptions of German problem 429 reports on German political pressures 497 reports of German reaction to Young plan 568
Rhine pact 223
'Treaty of Berlin' 364
security
Anglo-American inability to deal with Franco-German power struggle 596–7, 600 and financial stabilisation 329
German integration in international system 596 international, as a core postwar problem in Europe 3, 8, 9, 12, 17, 29 renationalisation of security politics under the impact of the Great Depression 596 see also Harrison, George L. Herriot, Edouard; Moreau, Emile; Norman, Sir Montagu; Schacht, Hjalmar; Strong, Benjamin; system of London and Locarno Seeckt, General Hans von (chief of staff, German Reichswehr) demands for dictatorial powers (1923) 112
Locarno pact 278
opposition to Rhine pact 231
plans for a right-wing coup d'etat (1923) 112 revision of the postwar status quo 126
revisionist alliance with Soviet Russia 123
self-determination, national
Lloyd George and 39, 40
Versailles settlement and 60–2
Wilson and 24, 32, 47
Seydoux, Jacques (reparations expert and sub-director for economic affairs, French Foreign Ministry) 149
Anglo-American financial yoke 368
fear of German revisionism 393–4, 411
financial objections to Thoiry 386, 402
Franco-German rapprochement and Thoiry plan 388–90, 409–10
Rhine pact 211–12, 215
Rhineland question 287
Shotwell, Professor J.T., American
Locarno 451–2, 454
Silesia see Upper Silesia
Skrzynski, Alexander (Polish prime minister and foreign minister) 18 eastern treaties and Locarno negotiations 262–3
League Council crisis 349, 351
Polish entry to League 378
pro-Locarno course 391, 410
Rhine pact 226
Smoot, Reed (Republican senator), French war-debts 311
Smoot–Hawley Act 500–1, 567, 586, 595
Smuts, Jan (South African prime minister) German problem after World War I, 29
League of Nations 42
mandate system for Germany's former colonies 42 principles and rules of postwar international order 41
USA 41
Wilson's peace policy 35
Snowden, Philip (British Labour chancellor of the exchequer, 1924, 1929–31)
Anglo-American co-operation 132
Bank for International Settlements 545
Financial Commission 549
and France 144
hardline on reparations 542–3, 546, 548, 552, 554
telegram affair 553
liberal-capitalist system 189
London conference, role at 157, 159 public opinion of policy 558
reparations 144
revision of postwar status quo 146
Ruhr evacuation 174
US debt cuts 390
Snowden, Philip (cont.)
verdict on London conference 155, 180 Young plan, negative view of 549
Young process 507
Social Democratic Party, German (SPD) 51, 96, 101, 486, 489, 514, 537, 569, 574
see also Ebert, Friedrich; Müller, Hermann Soviet Russia (from 1918: Russian Socialist Federal Soviet Republic (RSFSR); from 1923: Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR))
British fear of alliance with Germany 213 influence of Anglo-American policies 346
integration into European security system 202, 204
opposition to eastern Locarno 444 opposition to Polish encroachment 442
position and role in the postwar international system 28
Rapallo agreement with Germany (1922) 73–4 relations with Britain 444
Soviet–German alliance-building after World War I 3, 13–14
Versailles settlement 22
Zinoviev letter 203
Soviet–German Neutrality Treaty (Treaty of Berlin) 73–4 Spain, League Council crisis 349
spirit of Locarno 282
stabilisation, of Europe, after World War I 1, 6
British approaches to 37–45, 131–7
Europe’s era of ‘relative stability’ (1925–9) 19 fault-lines of European instability after World War I 127–8 impact on east European stabilisation 3, 12–14 limits of 2
political and economic 8 ramifications for west European stabilisation 3, 12–14
US approaches to 30–7
Stamp, Sir Josiah (British banker and reparations expert)
Bank for International Settlements 545
expert committee 532
possible transfer crisis 563
Young scheme 545
Sterndale-Bennett, on unemployment and Locarno 339
Sthamer, Friedrich (German ambassador, London) 243
Stimson, Henry (Republican US secretary of state, 1929–33)
British responsibility under Geneva Protocol 598–9 condemnation of Japan 589 debt-payments from Britain and France 539
disarmament 602
emphasis on economic viewpoint 536 European affairs 539–40
financial pressure on France 582–3 informal role of US at The Hague 549
international bank 534, 538–9 isolationist constraints 541
Kellogg–Briand pact 540
lack of policy on debts and reparations 540–1 non-committal foreign policy 586 opposition to French security commitments 586 opposition to revision of Young plan at London financial conference 592
peaceful change 582
Polish Corridor 597, 599
Rhineland question 558
Versailles settlement 122
revision of treaty 597
Wilson’s approach to international relations 540–1
Stimson Doctrine 585
Stinnes, Hugo (German industrialist), and plans for a right-wing coup d’état in Germany (1923) 112
Stresemann, Gustav (German chancellor, 1923; foreign minister, 1923–9) agreements with France and Poland 348
Anglo-American influence on policy 346–7, 349
Anglo-French disarmament compromise 472
Anglo-French entente 125–6, 147
approach to foreign policy, distinguished from Hitler’s 124 bid to re-establish Germany as an ‘equal’ great power after Versailles 121–5 Britain’s intervention in the Ruhr conflict 125
Britain’s role in postwar international politics 125 coalition government and Rhineland evacuation 514 communist and left-wing extremists in Germany 126 community of responsibility in expert committee 532 conditions for joining League of Nations 204
co-operation with aims of Locarno after Thoiry 390, 408
Index

co-operative approach to restoring German independence 515–16 criticism by Norwegian king 429 and Curzon 125
Dawes plan 138, 147, 199
Dawes process 117–18
defence of the Weimar Republic against left- and right-wing challenges 124 direct agreements with Briand over evacuation 512
disarmament 147
talks after Kellogg–Briand pact 475 distribution question and domestic opposition to Young plan 552 DNVP 126, 439
domestic constraints 126, 330, 354, 437, 440, 615
verification and control commission 551
Young process 478, 483, 489, 514
eastern territorial revision and support of France, Britain and USA 392–4, 410–12
economic diplomacy 384, 398
efforts to moderate and negotiate with Poincaré 123–4
entry into League 348, 351
Poland’s claims 350
evacuation date for French troops 556 restitution claims against occupiers 557
failure of Locarno system 281, 284
financial pressures on conciliatory policy 346
French security concerns 382
French troop withdrawals 440 future colonial aspirations 228 future European federation 567
German defeat in 1918 122
Germany’s economic power after
World War I 124
Germany’s eligibility for new alliances 122–3 Germany’s inclusion in Kellogg–Briand
pact 463–5
Germany’s military power after
World War I 112–3
Germany’s Westpolitik 121–5 Henderson’s mediation on Rhineland
questions 555–6
withdrawal of British troops 556
Hooverian debt policy 495
importance of Hague settlement 567
importance of Locarno-style co-operation 436, 441–2
and US interests 440, 447 integrity of Weimar Germany during the Ruhr crisis 124–6 interconnectedness of world-economic interests 124–5
just rewards of Locarno 3883, League entry 379
learning-processes, after World War I 122–5 legitimacy of his policy, international and domestic 123–6
lessons of the Ruhr crisis (1923) 123–5 liquidation of German ‘passive resistance’ 113
and Locarno pact
accommodation with Soviet Russia 264–5 Chamberlain’s mediating role 241–2 crisis resolution 246, 251–2 domestic issues and Locarno
negotiations 237, 244, 247
domestic needs 278; DNVP 278; and Reichswehr 2140)
eastern arbitration treaties 262, 263
economic approach to peaceful revision 229, 230; domestic interest-groups 230–1
endorsement of compromise 262
endorsement of policy of peaceful accommodation with western powers 277–8
English orientation of foreign policy 277
evacuation of Cologne zone 260, 265–6, 274
goals for security policy 228 importance of co-operation from Chamberlain 229
private vs official view of future 239
protection of Rhineland 276
tariff policy and DNVP support 251
US control of economic power 277 use of fact of US financial pressure 250–1
Locarno policy 477, 513
French security concerns 358
wider German aims 357
London conference 169–70
aims at 169–70
commercial concessions 176
Ruhr evacuation 173–5
loss of faith in Chamberlain 517
MICUM agreements 123–4
need for a postwar accommodation with France 124
need for a rapprochement with the western powers after Versailles 63 no link between evacuation and
reparations 464
opportunity to gain US support over
reparations 351
opposition to French designs to establish a separate Rhenish state and bank 118–19, 123–4 opposition to the concept of forging a revisionist alliance with Moscow 122
Stresemann, Gustav (cont.)

opposition to Thoiry 386, 401
Anglo-American interests 388, 403–4
from Schacht 386, 401 participation in London conference 169, 170
peace process 291
plans for a right-wing coup d’état (1923) 112
policy of peaceful revision 327, 388, 391–2, 404, 410, 419 policy success 183
policy towards Poland and Soviet Russia 443–4, 562–3
Polish–German commercial treaty 516
Polish–Lithuanian crisis 516
pressure for disarmament 328
private discussion with Briand 393, 411 proposal for interim arrangement 554 protest against creditors’ front against Germany 527 rationales for co-operation with the USA after Versailles 124–5 rationales for co-operation with Britain after Versailles 124, 136–7 rationales underlying his foreign policy 124–5
reciprocity 361
reorientation of German foreign policy after World War I 18, 116, 112–18 resistance to anti-American coalition with France 512, 514, 519 return to the status quo of Versailles in 1923 123 revision of eastern borders 319 revision of the postwar status quo 1389, Rhine pact proposal 209–10, 222, 345
Chamberlain’s reaction to 210
French reaction to 211–12
US endorsement 222
Rhinelan evacuation and Young process 485–6, 513–14
future of Locarno politics 486–7
German nationalists 489, 497, 503 need for US approval 487–8, 513 secret co-operation between Reichswehr and Red Army 445
significance of death for peace process 569–70 Soviet Russia, accommodation with 264–5 stagnation of Locarno system 421
territorial revision concerning Poland 465
Thoiry plan for final settlement with France 285, 383
buy-back of Eupen–Malmedy 389, 406 liberation of Rhineland 389, 406
need for Anglo-American backing 386–7, 390, 392, 401–2, 410 threat of another world war 122–3
Treaty of Berlin 362–3
DNVP and Hindenberg view 363
domestic opposition to 355–7
Locarno partners 363
western orientation 363
and the USA 121, 124, 137, 196, 514–15
US protectionist policies 497, 501, 516
US support for 368, 373–4
Versailles settlement 122–3
view of Locarno 287, 288
warnings of Dawes crisis 516
Wilhelminian Machtpolitik 122
World War I, lessons of 122–3
and Young’s compromise 535, 537
Strong, Benjamin (governor, Federal Reserve Bank of New York, until 1929) 388, 390, 405, 408 central bank co-operation 108–9
co-operation with Britain 108–9
Dawes regime 301
financial stabilisation 339
French war-debt 311, 312
German financial policy 497
German railway bonds 392, 399, 410, 415
importance of economics for stability 282
international stabilisation package 394, 412
lending to Poland 394, 412–13
Locarno negotiations 247–9, 255
New York’s predominance in global finance 192
and Norman 108–9
opposition to government regulations on loan control 309 postwar financial stabilisation, German and European 108–9 Progressive policy in Europe 186 reparations and debt-settlement scheme 482, 499
return to gold standard 189, 305
Rhine pact 223, 225
support for progressive policy 298, 300
US financial interests after World War I 108–9, 284
US investors after Locarno 284
view of Locarno 272
see also Moreau, Emile; Norman, Sir Montagu; Schacht, Hjalmar Sudeten question, at the Versailles peace conference 60 system of London and Locarno, the nature, principles and rules of 6, 7, 9
Index

Tardieu, André (adviser to Clemenceau at Versailles, sometime French premier and minister)

adherence to politics of London and Locarno and Young process 574 alteration of French policy course 580 compromise with Germany at second Hague conference (1930) 570–1
French peace aims at Versailles 50–1
Geneva Protocol 600
Hague settlement 559
French security 570
sanctions 570
need for Anglo-American backing 581
proposal for international policing force 600 rejection by Britain 601
Rhineland question 50
security and armament parity 599
Tardieu plan 581
tariffs, and ‘mercantilistic’ competition before World War I 27
ten-year rule, the British 97
Theunis, Georges (Belgian premier and finance minister) 37–9
London conference default question 168
Thoiry plan 383, 385, 400
combination of financial and political interests 393–4, 411 conflict with Anglo-American interests 394, 412 failure and limits of Anglo-American stabilisation strategies 386–7, 402–403 idea of a ‘final’ Franco-German postwar settlement 19 impact on Locarno politics 388, 405 need for Anglo-American financial backing 383, 386, 390, 402 rejection by USA 394, 397–8, 416 settlement at League assembly 390, 408
Thuringia 105
Thyssen, Fritz (German industrialist)
Rhineland evacuation 439
Times, The (London) 105
Tirard, Paul (French head, Inter-Allied Rhineland High Commission)
French control over the Rhineland 118–19
Rhenish separatism during the Ruhr crisis 104–5
trade agreements, between the USA and Germany (1923) 83
twenty years’ crisis (1919–39) 1
Tyrrell, Sir William (permanent under-secretary, British Foreign Office, 1925–8; ambassador, Paris, 1928–33) 241, 252, 254 backing for Franco-German talks 384, 399 economic leverage on diplomatic solutions 282, 385, 399 European security and domestic economic problems 340
financial pressure on France and Germany 329
German economic and demographic preponderance 331
Locarno policy 333, 359
Polish–German dispute 329, 334
Russian danger 334
Young process 507
unemployment, in Britain 189
return to gold standard 189–90
unfinished transatlantic peace order, after World War I 2, 6–7, 11, 18–19, 182 disintegration of (1929–32) 19 making of (1923–9) 1
Union for Democratic Control (UDC), and the revision of the Versailles settlement 71 United States (government) (see also United States, Commerce Department; United States, Congress; United States, Coolidge administration; United States, Department of State; United States, and Hague settlement; United States, Locarno negotiations alliance commitments after World War I 69–70
aloofness from the European crisis after Versailles 69–70
Anglo–American agreement on naval ratios 475–6
Anglo-American relations 316–17
Anglo-French disarmament compromise 472
arbiter in the post–World War I international system 7 assumptions, after World War I about Britain 3, 13–14 about international politics 3, 14 attitude to Weimar Germany 317–18
revision of Germany’s eastern borders 319–20
Rhineland evacuation 318–19
and Schurman’s observations 318 support for change 318
Big Navy Party 44, 452, 458
bilateral arbitration treaty with Germany 464 United States (government) (cont.)
and Britain, differences with at Geneva naval conference 432–3 protection of trading rights 433–4 and Britain’s Ruhr policy 106–12 commercial policy after World War I 83 concept of peaceful change 464 consolidation of a republican Germany as prerequisite for Europe’s stabilisation 127–8 corporatist interpretation of US foreign policy after 1918 79–80 currency reform in Germany 113
Dawes plan 130, 139–42
differing assumptions about 492
division of Locarno members 485
revision of 435, 440, 484; British Treasury opposition to 525
Dawes process 116–17
democratic opposition to tariff regimes 306
depoliticisation of the Ruhr and reparations conflict (1923–4) 112–13
distrust of European-style politics 299 domestic environment and European commitments 587
eastern Europe 225
economic diplomacy 294
after Versailles 79, 82–3
and Young process 479, 496, 513
economic interdependence, with Europe, after World War I 111 European security, lack of commitment to 297, 300, 302, 304, 427, 454, 461, 471–2 effect of 310
German economic revitalisation 304
informal approach to 220–1, 223
European stabilisation 30–7
laissez-faire capitalism and financial shock 576
League of Nations 66–7
Lloyd George’s ‘grand design’ for Europe’s reconstruction 87
management of transition from integration to containment of Germany 575
MICUM agreements 111
mistrust of European politics 294–5
Monroe Doctrine 203
no need for European security policy 427
non-intervention and informal financial diplomacy concerning Poland 395, 413
objections to French disarmament policy 430
open-door policy after World War I 83
before World War I 32
French war-debt 303
German containment 69–70, 127
German disarmament after Versailles 126–7
German loans 303
Germany as an ‘auxiliary power’ in extending the US ‘open-door’ regime after World War I 83
Germany’s 1922 Rhine pact initiative 121
Germany’s economic policies 497, 509
Germany’s orientation towards Soviet Russia 126–7
Germany’s preservation as a mainstay of the international economy 111
global naval regime after World War I 44
ground-rules of a Pax Americana after World War I 1 historical development of, compared with that of European states 33
Hooverian Progressivism 481, 493
Hughes plan (1922) 87
influence of senators 311 influence on French and German postwar policies 18, 116–18 influence on Polish postwar policies 18 influence to work to Germany’s advantage 527 international financial system after 1918 27
isolationism 79, 320, 397, 417, 429–30, 499–500
Kellogg–Briand pact 420
and Monroe Doctrine 458–60;
fundamental policy 470; precedent for others 460
lack of consolidation after Locarno 283–4
 League of Nations 66–7
Lloyd George’s ‘grand design’ for Europe’s reconstruction 87
management of transition from integration to containment of Germany 575
MICUM agreements 111
mistrust of European politics 294–5
Monroe Doctrine 203
no need for European security policy 427
non-intervention and informal financial diplomacy concerning Poland 395, 413
objections to French disarmament policy 430
open-door policy after World War I 83
before World War I 32
opposition to grand settlement linking evacuation, reparations and war-debts 518
pacifist movement 451
peaceful conflict resolution 15, 453 perceptions of evolving German problem 429–30
and Poincaré’s Ruhr policy 100–6 policies before Depression 477
and Hoover 492–3
policy of independence towards European security 201–2 pressure on France over disarmament 597 private lending to Europe 307–8
Progressive foreign policy 297–304
and Dawes regime 299, 303, 309 protectionism after World War I 83 and financial crisis 595, 596
and open-door policy 501 recasting of Franco-German relations and European politics after 1923 1, 115 refusal to bail out international loans 573
rejection of Geneva Protocol 203–4
reorientations of US foreign policy after World War I 19, 79–89, 100–6 return to ‘normalcy’ after Versailles 79 role in the post-World War I international system 15–16, 28 role in the post-World War I world economic system 16
Ruhr crisis (1923) 3, 10–11, 75, 101–2, 115
co-operation with Britain 81
economic motives for 110–12
engagement of Germany 100–2 intervention in 100–2, 107–12
political motives for 110–12
security threats from Europe, after World War I 58
Senate’s limitations on administration 320–1
Soviet Russia 87
spectre of Weimar Germany’s disintegration (1923) 112–13
and Stresemann 124
and Rhine pact 222, 225
suitability as mediator in Franco-German dispute 296 suspicion of European political and economic co-operation 224 trade agreement with Germany (1923) 83
trade and tariff policies of 82–3, 430 transfer crisis, prevention of 308 treaty of friendship and arbitration with France 466 treaty of friendship and commerce with France 430
trust in European financial consolidation 428–9
use of financial weight 224
Versailles peace conference and settlement 22, 24
war-debts 68, 88–9
and reparations cycle after Versailles 68 and Republican policy 310–11
World War I 16
United States, Commerce Department belief in unofficial financial stabilisation 301 condemnation of Weimar spending 317–18
loan to Poland 395, 413
supremacy in administration 300
United States, Congress fight over Versailles treaty 24, 65–6 postwar trade and tariff policy 83 US commitments to Europe after World War I 28
war-debts 68, 88–9
United States, Coolidge administration and Britain 132
continued ties with Germany 388, 404
and Dawes plan 130, 139–42
disarmament 300, 304, 322–4
and Preparatory Disarmament Commission 371–3
domestic isolationist pressure 321
European stabilisation 296, 303
financial expansion and European economic consolidation 385, 389, 399, 406
foreign economic policy 298
French war-debt settlement 303
German railway bonds 385, 400
Germany’s need for support over disarmament 368 influence over France and Germany 382, 388, 405 interdependence of international politics and finance 382–3, 385, 399
League Council crisis 352
loans to Germany dependent on efficiency 370
Mellon–Berenger agreement 385, 388–9, 395, 397, 403–4, 413, 415
non-involvement in security pacts after Locarno 369–70 open-door policy and Thoiry 395, 413
pressure on France 199
Progressive pursuit of European stability 185–8, 191–2
Dawes approach 190, 192, 195, 198–9
ratification of French debt 370

© in this web service Cambridge University Press

Cambridge University Press 978-0-521-85353-8 - The Unfinished Peace after World War I: America, Britain and the Stabilisation of Europe, 1919-1932
Patrick O. Cohrs
Index
More information
United States, Coolidge administration (cont.)
separation between reparations and war-debt 394, 397, 412–13, 417
Soviet Russia 320
Soviet–German neutrality treaty 364 steel cartel 390
Stresemann, trust in 353
termination of Rhineland occupation 369 Thoiry, rejection of 394, 412
expert committee 498, 527–8
reluctance over general reparations settlement 494 suspicious of debtors’ coalition 389, 406
Young regime, crisis in 573, 577
United States, Department of State assessment of European security after Locarno 301–2
focus on economic restoration 307 in Germany 317
German territorial revision 319
Hughes plan 88; see also Castle, William R.; Hughes, Charles E.; Kellogg, Frank B.; Stimson, Henry warnings to US financiers 309
United States, financiers demands for loan guarantees 298
government security provision 185 impetus for Young plan settlement 482 interests in Locarno negotiations 238, 240, 248–9
liquidation of German railway bonds 396, 414
Progressivism 300, 305, 310
see also Morgan, J.P. & Co.
United States, and Hague settlement
Bank for International Settlements 560–1
change in US public opinion 553 debt-claims independent of reparations 534, 560 declining role in underpinning settlement 560, 565–6 detachment from Rhineland question 538 dissociation from proceedings of expert committee 531 limits to discussion 531
reliance on experts to diffuse crisis 536 informal influence on Young scheme implementation and Mellon–Berenger agreement 541
isolationism 539, 566
links with high finance and MacDonald 553 pressure on MacDonald over Snowden 553 reactions to 559–60 and German stability 563
tariff policy 566–7
European opinion of double standards 567
United States, Locarno negotiations, 238–41, 247 abstention from European alliances 271 backing for Chamberlain 249
direct intervention in Germany 250 favour international conference 255 membership of League of Nations 263–4 non-representation at Locarno 259
and Pax Americana 273
policy of non-involvement 272
pressure on France 247
underestimation of French difficulties 248–9
United States of Europe 273
United States, stock-market crash (1929) 572
Upper Silesia, the plebiscite in (1921) 60–1
at Versailles 60–1
Vandervelde, Emile (Belgian premier), Eupen–Malmédy negotiations 389, 406 Vansittart, Sir Robert (head, American Department, British Foreign Office, 1924–8; adviser to British premier, 1928–30) coopération with France 588
diplomatic procedure 589
Versailles peace conference 2, 3, 11, 12, 20–67
and Alsace-Lorraine 66
Anglo-American guarantee agreement with France (1919) 57–8, 62
appraisal of settlement, consequences and historical significance of 2, 17, 20–4, 47–8, 63–4 Belgium 60
Eupen–Malmédy question 60
Big Three, the (Wilson, Clemenceau, Lloyd George), and the League of Nations 54–8 Clemenceau’s peace aims at 48–51 creation of Czechoslovakia 24, 46, 50, 60 decisionmaking at 53
domestic constraints 48
eastern and central Europe 24, 46, 60–2 foundations of postwar security 54–8
reparations question 58–60
Rhineland question 54–8
wider challenges of peacemaking and legacies of World War I and prewar imperialism 25
France and 48–51
French security at 49
German question at 22, 24, 46–7, 51–3, 62–4
Germany and 62
Germany’s admission to the League 57
Wilson, Woodrow (cont.)
historical premises and precedents for peacemaking in 1919 33
international integration of a democratic Germany 36, 64–5
League of Nations 24, 32, 34–6, 54, 66
Lloyd George 22, 24, 37
Monroe Doctrine 33, 44
open-door policy and economic liberalisation
after World War I 32
opposition to French plans for a Rhenish buffer state 54–8 peaceful change of European boundaries
after World War I 47
Poland 34
Polish question at Versailles 60–1
previous interpretations of Wilson’s foreign policy 30–1
pre-World War I international order 24 principles and rules of Wilson’s envisaged ‘new world order’ 32–4 Progressive reform
before World War I 80–1
of the international system after World War I 32
public opinion 31, 34, 35
ratification battle over Versailles treaty in the US Senate 24, 65–6
reparations and war-debts 56, 58
reparations question at Versailles 58–60
Rhineland question 54–8
role of great powers in the postwar international system 35
security, US, European and international,
after World War I 57–8
self-determination, national 32, 47, 61–2
self-styled arbiter at Versailles conference 53
US Congress 34
US ‘exemplarism’ and ‘exceptionalism’
33–4, 36
Versailles settlement, defence of 62
World War I, lessons of 24
Wirth, Joseph (German chancellor, 1921–2) Germany’s Erfüllungspolitik (policy of fulfilment) on reparations 68–9 search for a US ‘senior partner’ after Versailles 68–9
Zentrum party protests against Young
scheme 531
World Disarmament Conference (1932–5)
see disarmament
World Economic Conference, Franco-German
rapprochement 513
World Economic Crisis (1929–32) 2, 11, 18
ability of governments to pursue international solutions 576 causes of 572–4
chain reaction of crises 577–8 disintegration of London and Locarno systems 575, 576
effect on co-operation of Locarno
powers 574
erosion of European concert system 596
failure of Locarno system 281, 282 gravest crisis of the post-World War I international system 2
monetary system and international trade regime 594–6
self-preservation effects 574
World War I
breakdown of the prewar balance-of-power system 28
origins of 25
significance and consequences of 10
wider challenges of peacemaking
after 1918 25
World War II, the origins of 17
Worthington-Evans, Laming, and Stresemann’s Rhine pact proposal 211
Young, Owen D. (American financier) assessment of Geneva case 532
bank proposal 533, 538
Dawes plan 107, 130, 137
political safeguards for Dawes regime 302 European recovery 192
expert committee, chairman of 528, 531–2, 535
and London conference 160
opposition to tariff regime 306 promotion of Young plan 537 reparations and debt-settlement
scheme 482, 498, 500
US debt policy 535
view of Locarno 272–3
Young plan 9, 19, 284
eastern territorial revision 531
expert committee, and Rhineland question 531, 555–67
German experts’ case 532 limits set by Hoover 511
see also Geneva compromise near breakdown of proceedings 534–5
re-assessment of Germany’s capacity to pay 532
unconditional payments, subcommittee 533
war-debt 531
Young process
British focus on financial questions 505 Euro-Atlantic adverse domestic pressures 478
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Index</th>
<th>693</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>influence of Parker Gilbert 483–4, 490</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>lessons from London and Locarno 479–80</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>need for Euro-Atlantic governmental co-operation 490–1</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anglo-American attitudes 491–2</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>not doomed to failure 478</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polish anxieties 489–90</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>preservation of concert system and</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Euro-Atlantic relationship 480, 490</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reparations vs Rhineland question 481</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Young regime 10</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abolition of 576, 595</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>chain reaction of crises 577</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>lack of support and World Economic Crisis 573, 594</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lausanne conference 593</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and politics of London and</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Locarno 574</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Young report 536</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>circumstantial difficulties 537</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zaleski, August (Polish foreign minister)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kellogg–Briand pact 465–6</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>eastern Locarno proposal 443</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polish postwar foreign policy 18</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pro-Locarno course 391, 410</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>proposal for a non-aggression pact (1927) 465</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rhineland settlement 489, 520</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zinoviev letter 334</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zwischeneuropa 19</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>