Contents

List of Contributors  page vii

Introduction  1
Nadia Urbinati and Alex Zakaras

PART ONE  LIBERTY AND ITS LIMITS

1. Mill on Liberty and on the Contagious Diseases Acts  11
Jeremy Waldron

2. Rational Freedom in John Stuart Mill’s Feminism  43
Maria Morales

3. The Many Heads of the Hydra: J. S. Mill on Despotism  66
Nadia Urbinati

4. J. S. Mill and Liberal Socialism  98
Bruce Baum

5. The Method of Reform: J. S. Mill’s Encounter with Bentham and Coleridge  124
Frederick Rosen

PART TWO  DEMOCRACY AND THE INDIVIDUAL

6. Bureaucracy, Democracy, Liberty: Some Unanswered Questions in Mill’s Politics  147
Alan Ryan

Dennis F. Thompson
Contents

8. John Stuart Mill, Individuality, and Participatory Democracy
   Alex Zakaras 200

9. Mill’s Neo-Athenian Model of Liberal Democracy
   Jonathan Riley 221

10. John Stuart Mill on Education and Democracy
    Wendy Donner 250

PART THREE BEYOND NATIONAL BORDERS

11. Cosmopolitan Patriotism in J. S. Mill’s Political Thought and Activism
    Georgios Varouxakis 277

12. Mill and the Imperial Predicament
    Karuna Mantena 298

13. Making Sense of Liberal Imperialism
    Stephen Holmes 319

14. Mill’s “A Few Words on Non-Intervention”: A Commentary
    Michael Walzer 347

Bibliography 357
Index 375

Method of Citation

All page references to the writings of J.S. Mill are to The Collected Works of John Stuart Mill (33 volumes), John M. Robson, General Editor (Toronto: University of Toronto Press, 1963–1991). They are written as follows: CW XVIII: 266, for Collected Works, Volume XVIII, page 266.