Index

ABC (Chaucer), 146–7
aestheticist historical interpretation, 19
Anne of Bohemia, 129, 137
Anonimalle Chronicle, 69–71, 173, 189
Appellant crisis (1387–8), 166–7, 212
Arthurianism, King Arthur and baronial model of parliamentary assembly, 37–8, 40, 43–4, 46 and nationalism, 45–6
Edward I's identification with, 37, 43
in Mannyng's Chronicle, 42–3
Arundel, Thomas, 165
Ashby, George, 255
Assembly of Ladies, The, 145, 169
Athelston, 44
Audience
for parliamentary literature, 71, 189, 209 for parliamentary petitions, 221 for Piers Plowman, 181, 200–1 authoritative voice in Mirour de l'Omme, 117
in Mum and the Sothsegger, 246, 248–9
in Paunfield's petition, 226
in Canterbury Tales, 172–3
in the Piers Plowman tradition, 211, 246–7 authoritative voice. see also speaker for parliament/Commons, speaking with one voice, voice of the people
Bad Parliament (1377), 202
Bailiff, Henry, 10, 171
Bailly, Harry, 174
Ballockd, Robert, 135
Baldwin, Anna, 181
"Barn of Unity" episode (Piers Plowman), 202–5 Barnwell Abbey (Cambridgeshire), 225 baronial model of parliamentary assembly as court of complaint, 36–7 as theme in parliamentary literature, 14, 34, 255 descending representativeness of, 79 dual nature, 35
Edward I's parliaments, 37–8 evolution of, 41
in Anonimalle Chronicle, 70–2
in Gower's poetry, 119, 127
in Langtoft's Chronicle, 39
in Mannyng's Chronicle, 40–3
in Parliament of Fowls, 154–5
in Song of Lewes, 36, 52
in Cronica Tripartita, 121, 124
in Ypodigma Neustriae, 45–6 movement away from, 20, 236 religious/spiritual component, 49, 51 role in legitimizing parliament, 44 baronial model of parliamentary assembly. see also romance baronialism, 44 barons, baronial counsel Arthurian ideal, 20, 37, 46
as representative of the commons, 34
Barons' War, 35
demonic, in Mirour de l'Omme, 108 divine guidance for, 51, 81 oversight and reform role, 34–6 parliaments versus, 2, 87 parodies of, 84
royal conflicts with, 56, 210
the Ordinances (1311), 57
barons. see also Appellant crisis, 276
Barr, Helen, 10, 231
Beauchamp, John, 167
beehive allegory (Mum and the Sothsegger), 242–7
Bennett, J. A. W., 133, 152, 154, 162
Berners, James, 167
bill-poems, 144–7
bills of complaint, 112 and development of parliamentary power, 67
as literary form, 140
emergence of documentary culture and, 10–11, 69
in Mum and the Sothsegger, 239
in Piers Plowman, 193–5
bills of complaint (cont.)
in Richard the Redeless, 230, 232
Mercers’ Petition (1388), 73, 75–6
propagandizing/partisan uses, 76
public interest in, 144 submission process, 68
bills of complaint, see also complaint, right of, petitions, parliamentary bird metaphors/allegory
in Parliament of Fowls, 153–64
in Richard the Redeless, 237
in Summa Praedicantium, 82
in Canterbury Tales, 175
Blake, John, 168
Blanchefleur et Florence, 160
Bowden, Muriel, 174
Brembre, Nicholas, 73–6, 159, 167
Brinton, Thomas, 31, 54, 79, 80 use of rats and mice’ fable, 182 Bromyard, John, 80–3
Bromyard, John, see also Summa Praedicantium, 83
Brown, A. L., 8 bureaucratic language/procedures
Chaucer’s familiarity with, 130, 133, 153, 174 Gower’s familiarity with, 105–6
in Anonimalle Chronicle, 69–71
in Parliament of Fowls, 155, 157–64
in parliamentary petitions, 68
in Piers Plowman, 199, 201
Burghersh, Bartholomew de, 55
Burley, Simon, 167–8
Burrow, J. A., 144
Bussy, John, 212
Burt, Ronald, 8
Cam, Helen Maud, 18
Canterbury Tales (Chaucer)
as estates satire, 231
mediatory focus, 148
parliamentarians in, 139 parliamentary narrative framework, 183, 207
representation as theme in, 131
speaking with one voice in, 149
the Franklin in, 241, 245
the Parson in, 208
Canterbury Tales, (Chaucer), see also “General Prologue”, “Tale of Melibece” Capgrave, John, 119
Cargill, Oscar, 201
Carlyle, Thomas, 18
Changwys exemplum (Mum and the Sothsegger), 248–9
Charlton, Thomas, 10
Chaucer, Geoffrey
as literary model, 256
government service, 9–10, 129–30, 151, 164 parliamentary participation, 131, 152 rape quitclaim, 92
traditionalist view of parliament, 20, 83
Chaucer, Geoffrey, see also Canterbury Tales, Parliament of Fowls, “Tale of Melibece”, Trinizis and Cresyde Chaucer, Thomas, 10, 130, 216
Chauampaign, Cecily, 92
Chesterton (Cambridgeshire), Paunfield’s petition on behalf of, 222, 224–6 Chrimes, S. B., 33
Chronicle (Knighton), 165–7
Chronicle (Langtoft), 38, 39
Pentecostal model of assembly in, 51 translation and rewriting of, 40 Chronicle (Mannyng), 41–3 chronicles, chronicle tradition
in Richard the Redeless 230, 232 romance baronialism in, 34, 45–6 romance historiography, 41 church, see clergy, 6 church, see Conciliar Movement, 6 civil rights, 9
clamor, public/parliamentary
in Parliament of Fowls, 197, 196
in Piers Plowman, 196, 207
remedies for, 117
classes, see estates, 114 classes, see social classes, 276 clergy
criticisms of in Mum and the Sothsegger, 240 criticisms of in Piers Plowman, 206 participation in parliament, 3, 33, 35, 52, 187 pictorial representations of, 25 clergy, see also convocations, clerical, 276 clerks
and the development of parliamentary literature, 10, 64
as audience for petitions, 221
as audience for Piers Plowman, 181
as speaker in The Crowned King, 229
Cliff, William, 135
Cobham, Baron, 130, 154
Cobham, John, 94, 104
Coke, Edward, 22
Coleman, Janet, 33
commercial legislation, 5 committee-to-one (Modus Tenendi Parliamentum), 88, 119, 246 Common Pleas court, 25
Commons, 197
as representative of whole parliament, 33
Index

as the voice of the people, 3, 8, 56–61, 63–6, 69–71, 220
estates in, 3, 4, 33, 205
Henry IV and, 214–17
in pictorial representations, 26 institutional inaction, 30, 82–3 physical location, symbolism of, 30 Richard II and, 213
role in judicial proceedings, 143, 197 taxation authority, 3, 4, 151
use of vernacular in, 68
voice votes, 55
commons, the (communes, universitas, communitas regni) barons as representatives of, 34–6, 44, 52 collective voice and action by, 176–8 dangers of speaking for, 170, 200, 235, 253 literary efforts to represent, 15–17, 257–8 misrepresentation of by parliament, 80, 82–4 multivocality of, 116, 268, 257 parliament as representative of, 49, 122, 159, 195, 231 poet as representative of, 119, 120 the realm as, 229
univocality of, as ideal, 87–8, 207 use of term in Pieris Plowman, 200 commons, the. see also voice of the people, 276 Commons. see also Lords, 218 communitas regni. see commons, the, 58 complaint literature as expression of vox publica, 115, 117
bill-poems, 145
Brinton's Sermons, 79–80
Bromyard's Summa Predicantium, 80–4
Devils' Parliament in Mirour de l'Ommne, 105–11 Gower's legal estate criticisms, 100–5 limits to solutions in, 236
Mum and the Sothegger, 238, 251
Richard the Redless, 230–5, 237, 244, 253
St. Albans Chronicle, 77–8
the Mercers' Petition, 73, 75–6 Vox Clamantis, 115, 119–20
"Complaint Unto Pity" (Chaucer), 145, 169 complaint, right of, see also petitions, parliamentary, 143 Conciliar Movement, 6, 7 Confessio Amantis (Gower), 115, 125 metonymy of nobility in, 127 parlement as theme in, 126–7 parliamentary elements, 92 consensus/unanimity and conflicts of representation, 64
as parliamentary ideal, 71–2, 88
as Pentecostal/spiritual ideal, 53–5 false or fraudulent, 77–82, 84
in Gower's poetry, 209
in Mum and the Sothegger, 238
in Pieris Plowman, 203 consensus/unanimity. see also speaking with one voice, 53 Constitutional History of England (Stubbs), 18 convocations, clerical, 187, 206 convocations, provincial, 7
Copeland, Rita, 218
Council of Basle (1439), 6
Council of Constance (1414–1418), 6 councils (consilium), see barons, baronial counsel, 2 counsel, false
as basis for parliamentary trials, 192 as charge in the Mercers' Petition, 76 as theme in Cronica Tripertita, 121 charges of in Septvauns affair, 95, 97–8 complaints about in Summa Praedicantium, 81–2 parliamentary trials for, 192 court literature
love-bills, 169
references to in Parliament of Fowls, 152 satirical tradition, 63, 152 courts, parliamentary, 2, 7 courts, royal, 2, 5, 25, 36 Cronica Tripertita (Gower), 10, 120, 169 as response to revolution of 1399, 210 counterpoints to in Mirour de l'Ommne, 92–3 critics of parliament, 121–2 idealized baronial assembly in, 121 parliamentary narrative framework, 120
theme of good versus bad governance, 122 Crowned King. The
as parliamentary literature, 10 moral exhortations in, 229–30 necessity for public speech in, 245 parliamentary context, 228–9
D'Amory, Elizabeth, see de Burgh, Elizabeth, 134
Daniel Deronda (Eliot), 255, 258

© Cambridge University Press  www.cambridge.org de Burgh, Elizabeth, petitions (1322–27), 134–6, 162

de la Mare, Peter, 56, 70, 72, 188, 202

de Lille, Alain, 154

de Lorr\`{i}s\textsuperscript{2}, Guillaume de, 154

de Louens, Reynard, 148

de Montfort, Simon, 35

de Wake, Blanche, direct petition to Edward III

(de Lille, Alain, petitions (1381)), 144 debate poetry, 160–1

delegate representation, origins of concept, 7 democracy, 9
“Despenser” regime, 57, 61, 134–6, 159
Deumarce, Cecille, petition (1381), 144–2

Devils’ Parliament (Mirou\textsuperscript{2}r de l’Omm\textsuperscript{2}e), 92–3, 105–8 property dispute in, 109–11

Devils’ Parliament (Mirou\textsuperscript{2}r de l’Omm\textsuperscript{2}e). see also

Mirou\textsuperscript{2}r de l’Omm\textsuperscript{2}e (Gower), 92 discussion/debate

as characteristic of good governance, 173, 229 during crisis of 1386–1388, 165
during Merciless Parliament, 167

in parliament, Chaucer’s representations of,

132, 161–4

in Piers Plowman, 192, 195–9, 201, 208

parliament as assembly for, 13–14, 194 satire of in Piers Plowman, 203 versus violence, as theme in Parliament of Fowls, 159–60

discussion/debate. see also parlement, 203 dissent/discord

Gower’s fear of, 115–17, 119

Henry IV’s response to, 213 poet as mediator and reconciler, 117–18

Richard II’s response to, 212–13 dissent/discord. see also discussion/debate,

mediation
documentation, documentary writing

as literature, 69–72

as the voice of the people, 68, 228

as theme in Chaucer’s poetry, 209 decline in as literary form, 256 emergence of documentary culture, 69 explosion in, 10, 11

in narrative structure of Mum and the Sothbegger, 240–1, 244, 251 petitions within, 73, 75, 144 records of parliamentary activity, 73, 98,

165–6, 168, 214

role in legitimizing parliament, 46

use of for partisan propaganda, 76

use of vernacular in, 136, 221

Dodd, Gwilym, 212

Donaldson, E. Talbot, 180

dream-visions, as narrative form, 247

Edward I

development of parliament under, 36–8, 46,

49

Quo warranto inquiries, 12–13

romanticized portrayals of, 45–6, 51, 61

Edward II

deposition and abdication, 31–2, 56, 58–60, 62

development of parliament under, 63

Edward III

development of parliament under, 7–9, 52–3,

134

foreign wars, 64–7

election (electione)

Chaucer’s use of term, 10, 156–8, 172, 177

late medieval concepts, 9

voice votes, 55

Eliot, George (Daniel Deronda), 235, 258

Elsyng, Henry, 65

England, Gower’s metonymical identification with, 119–20

English language. see vernacular, 75

equity, as theme in Piers Plowman, 199 estates

as theme in Langland’s poetry, 201, 209 development of distinct pecage, 64

early parliaments, 3

expansion of, 35, 64

models for, 31, 33, 205 parliamentary legitimacy and, 32–3 property ownership and, 114 relationships and conflicts among, 4, 33–4, 64,

79, 131, 155, 175

representativeness of, 31–3, 65, 87, 97

estates satire, 33, 251

Europe, parliamentarism and conciliarism

in, 6–8

Favent, Thomas, 76

Ferguson, Arthur, 117, 210, 238

Fisher, John H., 95, 99, 105

Fleta, 2

Flores Historiarum, 67

Fourth Lateran Council, 7

France, wars with, 192

franchise (liberty), late medieval views, 109, 226 fraud, Gower’s concern with, 97–8, 101–3, 105 freedom, late medieval views, 226

Fürstenspiegel genre, 81, 85, 148, 229

Galloway, Andrew, 169

Galway, Margaret, 151
Index

Gaveston, Piers, 57
Keighley, Henry (‘Keighley’s Bill’), 53
King’s Bench court, 2
Knighton, Henry, 167
King, Henry, 167
Knight’s Tale (Chaucer) collocation of marriage and parliament, 138 petitions in, 147
Index

283

discussion of in Parliament of Fowls, 162–3 Elizabeth de Burgh case, 133–6 licit, and social order, 139 of Edward I’s daughter, Joan, 137 parliament’s role in legitimizing, 20, 98, 112, 132, 136–9, 160–3, 193
Richard II and Anne of Bohemia, 129, 137
“Marriage of Meed” episode (Piers Plowman) appearance in A-version, 200 representation of parliamentary procedure in, 183, 190–9 Marsilius of Padua, 7
mediation
as feminized function, 133
as literary theme, decline in popularity of, 256 as role of parliament, 152–3, 155, 157, 160, 163 as theme in Parliament of Fowls, 151–4, 157, 159–60 as theme in “Tale of Melibee”, 148–51 by the Host in Canterbury Tales, 173–6 Chaucer’s experience with, 151, 209 during Long Parliament, 217
during Merciless Parliament, 167
in parliamentary petitions, 225
poetry as form of, 117–18, 169, 257
Mercers’ Petition (1388), 73, 75–6, 136
Merchant’s Tale (Chaucer), 85
Merciless Parliament (1388), 164, 166–7
Chaucer and, 133
documentary record, 168
in The Cronica Tripertita, 120–1, 169 metonymy of nobility, see nobility, 121 middlemen, 131, 133
Middleton, Anne, 15
Mirour de l’Omm (Gower), 20
as estates satire, 251
collocation of marriage and parliament, 138 condemnation of legal estate, 99–106 counterpoints to in Cronica Tripertita, 92–3
dates written, 128
Devils’ Parliament allegory, 85, 105–9, 111 legal language and themes in, 93 “man” in, 91, 118
marriage ritual in, 112
multivocal voices in, efforts to reconcile, 118 parliamentary narrative framework, 120, 183, 207
poet’s voice in, 115–18
property as theme in, 108–10, 112, 245
tHEME of silence in, 245
univocality, as ideal in, 112 vos populi as vos Dei, 90–2 mob rule, 9
Modus Tenendi Parliamentum, 2, 119 committee-to-one, 85–9, 246
estates in, 31, 64
representations of parliament in, 65–6, 68
univocality, as ideal in, 86–8
Mohl, Ruth, 252
money, monetary exchange (meed)
as theme in Langland’s work, 183, 203–4, 206
as theme in St. Albans Chronicle, 188–9 as theme in Thomas Hoo’s dream-vision, 187 in chronicles, 201
role in estate relationships, 189, 198 moralism
in Gower’s poetry, 91, 93
in historical interpretation, 18
in The Crowned King, 229
multivocality
Gower’s struggles with, 118
Langland’s struggles with, 206, 208–9 Mum and the Sothsegeger, 237–52
as parliamentary literature, 10
bag of books/documents, 247 beehive allegory, 85
Changwys exemplum, 248–9
conclusion of, 249–50 consensus as theme in, 238 criticisms of parliament, 243–4 criticisms of the church, 240 documentary narrative framework, 222, 243, 251 Franklin as speaker for the commons, 245–7 garden dream-vision, 240–2 health/illness metaphors, 211, 240, 243–4 incompleteness of, 250
limits of criticisms in, 211
property as theme in, 245
relationship between representatives and the represented, 17 right of complaint, as theme in, 238–40, 245, 251–2 social consciousness in, 210
theme of silence in, 245
mun. see silence, 14
Musson, Anthony, 5

narrative frameworks
in Chaucer’s poetry, 152, 154, 170
in parliamentary literature, 183, 207
in Piers Plowman, 183, 190, 201, 207
in the Piers Plowman tradition, 222, 243, 251
national identity
and metonymy of landed nobility, 113–14
Arthurianism and, 38–9
evolution of parliament and, 26, 30, 72, 221 following deposition of Edward II, 63 in Gower’s works, 93, 119–20

© Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
national identity (cont.)
in Ypodigma Neustriae, 45 role of barons in formulating, 35 national identity. see also vernacular, 34 Nerford, Marjory, 137 nobility
 as distinct class, 64
decreasing representativeness of, 79 discherned, reinstatement of under Edward III, 134 metonymy of, 93, 113–14, 119, 121, 127, 209
pictorial representations of, 25
varying degrees and grades of, 31 nobility. see also marriage, 137–8
Nolan, Maura, 18
Northampton, John, 73
notional forum, parliament as, 14, 26
Olson, Paul, 131
Ordinance of Laborers and Statute of Laborers, 67 Ordinances, the (1311), 57
Osw, G.R., 182

parliament (public speech/assembly)
as theme in Confessio Amantis, 126–7 as theme in "Marriage of Meed", 194 as theme in Mum and the Sothsegger, 238–9, 245, 252 as theme in Piers Plowman tradition, 211, 253 changing meanings of, 1, 256 declinig public interest in, 212, 253–6 ethical component, 258
forums for, 228
in Manning’s Chronicle, 41–3 literature as, 18
multiple views of in Gower’s poetry, 91
Pentecostal representations, 206–7
use of as framework in Canterbury Tales, 131, 176–8 parliament
and national identity, 26
as assembly for gossip, 13–14
as audience for petitions, 221
as bureaucratic institution, 1, 2, 35, 56, 177–8 as forum for partisan propaganda, 76
as “house”, 12, 200
as notional forum, 14, 26, 171
as representative of the commons, 16–17, 63, 66
as vox Dei, 20
cooperation with king, 198 decision-making process, 55–6 dual nature of, 34
estates in, 4, 31, 33

European conciliarism and, 6–8 evolution of power and procedures, 8, 16, 21, 57–61, 209–10, 212, 255–6 feudal aids, 137
Gower’s involvement with, 92 judicial function, 2, 5, 11–12, 34, 36–7, 150, 192 laiczification of, 3
late middle ages versus modern, 8–9 marriage and, 132
mediatory function, 131, 133, 225 notional identity, 66
Pentecostal/spiritual, 31
political/policy-making function, 5, 34, 67, 73, 192 reform function, 104, 166, 189 relationship to literary expression, interpretive approaches, 9–10, 18–19 role as court of justice, 141 social and commercial legislation, 5 sources of authority, 4–5, 8–9, 65, 133, 137, 210 violence in, 170

Parliament of Fowls (Chaucer) as petition-poem, 145
baronial model of assembly in, 154
bird metaphors/allegory, 153 bureaucratic language/procedures in, 155
collocation of marriage and parliament, 138
collocation of marriage and parliament, 162–3, 193
dates written, 129
discussion versus violence in, 159–61 dream-vision, 152
inaction in, 85
mediation as theme in, 151–2, 169
parallels with Bromyard’s Summa Preditcantium, 83 parliamentary procedures in, 132, 154–5 petitionary process in, 156–8, 162–4 variable narrative frameworks, 243 voice of the people in, 159

parliamentarians
as audience for Piers Plowman, 200 Chaucer’s representations of, 131 coercion and co-optation of, 82, 84
criticisms of, in Mum and the Sothsegger, 239, 247
in Richard the Redeless, 235–7 inside-outside position, 221 parliamentary assemblies as forum for communicative exchange, in Chaucer’s poetry, 132
clergy’s role in, 187
criticisms of in public poetry, 66 critiques of in Richard the Redeless, 234–5, 237, 244, 253

Index
decision-making process, 55–6 deposition of Edward II, 58–60 in “Marriage of Meed” episode (Piers Plowman), 190–9
in Canterbury Tales, 174
in The Crowned King, 228–30
in Thomas Hoo’s dream-vision, 187–8 locations for, 23, 30, 154, 186 pictorial representations, 23, 25–6, 30–1 satire of in Parliament of Fowls, 161 violence during, 159, 165 parliamentary assemblies, see also baronial model of parliamentary assembly, Pentecostal/spiritual model of parliamentary assembly, Westminster, Palace of parliamentary literature as chronicle, 14
baronial model, 14, 20, 34
bill-poems, 144–7
changes in genres, 256
changing representations of parliament in, 11–14 collocation of marriages and parliaments, 138–9 contribution of clerks to, 11 court literature and, 12 critiques of political institutions in, 210 decline of interest in, 209, 255 definition of, 14
documentary forms, 251
Gower’s contributions, 91 petitionary model, 11, 140, 171–3 poetic dream-vision, 247 relationship to parliament, interpretive approaches, 9–10, 18–19 relationship with political world, 177 role in good governance, 230
romance baronialism, 44
social context in, 130
structural/narrative interrelationships, 15, 190 themes of representation and representativeness in, 257–8 use of vernacular for, 221 parliamentary literature. see also documentation, documentary writing, satire Parliaments, specific 1264, 35, 59
1294, 37
1296 at Bury St. Edmunds, 51
1301, at Lincoln, 40, 49, 51
1307, at Carlisle, 49, 52–3
1311, the Ordinances, 57
1327, deposition of Edward II, 31–2
1330, at Westminster, 143
1366, 95–8, 112
1376, Good Parliament, 10, 52–3, 56, 69–71, 78, 173, 182, 184, 189
1377, Bad Parliament, 196, 202
1382, Richard’s wedding, 77
1386, Wonderful Parliament, 164
1388, Merciless Parliament, 30, 120–1, 164, 166–8
1397, “Revenge” Parliament, 120–2, 213
1398, in Shrewsbury, 234
1399, deposition of Richard II, 32, 120, 122
1401, first Lancastrian parliament, 214–15
1406, Long Parliament, 216–18
1414 (Henry V’s second parliament), 218, 220, 222, 224–7
“Parson’s Prologue, The” (Canterbury Tales), 175
Paston the Younger, John, 51
Patterson, Lee, 149
Paunfield, Thomas, petition by (1301), 51
Peck, Russell, 91
peerage, 31, 64
Pentecostal model of parliamentary assembly, 46 and religious symbolism, 52–3 and speaking with one voice, 46, 53, 55–6 in Havelok the Dane, 47–9
in Piers Plowman, 206–7
in The Crowned King, 230
in the St. Albans Chronicle, 188–9
in Thomas Hoo’s dream-vision, 187–8 religious symbolism in, 50–3 vox dei as vox populi, 53, 55–6
Percy, Henry, 159
Perrers, Alice, 136–7, 188, 192 and Meed in Piers Plowman, 184 appeal of convictions, 196
in the St. Albans Chronicle, 189 reinstatement and recondemnation of, 202 petitionary process and the development of literary discourse, 145 Commons control over, 143, 212
in Chaucer’s “Tale of Melibee”, 149–51
in Mum and the Sothegger, 251
in Parliament of Fowls, 156–8, 161–3
in Richard the Redless, 230 risks of, exploration in Piers Plowman tradition, 253
submission and hearings, 140–1
use of English vernacular for, 116 petitioners, petitionary role act of pleading, 146
feminization of, 147, 162, 164
in Canterbury Tales, 171–3, 209
relationship with the king, 215–16, 132

Index
Index

petition, parliamentary as alternative to violence, 148
as literary form, 11, 140, 144, 210
as the voice of the people, 164
Cecilie Deumarcz petition (1381), 141–2 during Appellants crisis, 166–7, 169
Elizabeth de Burgh petitions (1322–27), 133–6
English language petition (1414), 218, 220–1 Haxey’s petition (1397), 213
in the Piers Plowman tradition, 210, 245, 247
Mercers’ Petition (1388), 73, 75
number of, 67, 212, 218 Paunfield petition (1414), 222, 224–7 propagandizing/partisan uses, 76 royal responses to, 53, 161
use of English vernacular for, 68, 212, 221 writers of, 76
pictorial representations of parliament, 23, 25–6, 30–1 Piers Plowman (Langland) audience for, 179–80, 200–1 “Barn of Unity” episode, 202–6 bills and petitions in, 211
collocation of marriage and parliament, 138 conflict of secular and religious institutions, 206
dates written, 129, 200
dream-landscape in, 241 explorations of conflict in, 183 Good Parliament and, 200 parliament of the Rats and Mice, 12, 80, 181–3, 302
parliamentary narrative framework, 20, 183, 190, 201, 207 parliamentary readership, 10 Pentecostal representations of parliament/public voice in, 206–7
poet’s voice in, 17, 208
reference to in Richard the Redeless, 236 reform advocacy in, 206
representations of parliament in, 180–1 use of term “commons” in, 200 Piers Plowman tradition artistic fatigue, 211
bureaucratized view of parliament, 20 complaint as theme in, 210 historical context, 209 incompleteness of poems, 211, 250
limits of criticisms in, 211
Mum and the Sothsegger, 238–51 parliamentary references in, 10 quest for authoritative voice in, 211 realism and artistic license, 210 reflection of events following revolution of, 104, 209 representation as theme in, 254
Richard the Redeless, 230–7, 244, 253
right of complaint, as theme in, 252
The Crowned King, 228–30
Pinkhurst, Adam, 76
Pitkin, Hannah, 17
plague (“Black Death”), 244 poet-king model, 255
poets, poet’s voice
ambiguities of role of, 17
as mediators/reconciler of estate conflicts, 117–18 as petitioner, in The Crowned King, 230
as the voice of the people, 114, 119–20, 124–5, 128, 258
clerks as, 10–11
in Gower’s poetry, 91, 115 parliamentary connections among, 9–10 political/policy-making function and parliament’s reform function, 189 development of by 1370s, 73 growing role of shire-knights, 3 judicial function and, 5 parliamentary power and, 5 petitionary activity and, 67 references to in Piers Plowman, 192 propaganda, use of petitions and bills for, 76 property ownership (purchase, pourchas, 39 and identity, 93, 113–14
and metonymy of landed nobility, 113–14, 119
as theme in Confessio Amantis, 126 conflation with metaphors of ‘Man,’ in Mum and the Sothsegger, 245 de Burgh dispute over, 113–6 disputes over in Miroir de l’Ommé, 104, 108–11, 113 disputes over in Cronica Triperitita, 120 fraud associated with, as theme in Gower’s poetry, 101–3, 105
in Paunfield’s petition, 224–6 property, alienation of, 94–5, 108, 110–11, 113 relationship to personal identity, 113–14 Septvauns dispute over, 94–5, 97 well-run property, 242–6 property ownership (purchase, pourchas), see also marriage proportional representation, 34 propria, see property, 93 Provisions of Oxford (1258), 35 Provisions of Westminster (1259), 35 public poetry
as petition, 252
Index

as public discourse, 91, 115, 117, 208, 258
bill-poems, 144–7
complaint as theme in, 228, 252, 257
criticisms of parliament, 66 debate poems, 160–1
dream-vision in, 247
movement from baronialism to parliamentary model, 20–1 representation as theme in, 14–17, 235–7, 255
self-criticisms in, 252 public voice. see voice of the people Pyers Plowman Exhortation, 179, 206 queen, traditional role as mediator, 146–7
Quo warranto inquiries (1285), 12–13
“Rats and Mice” fable
in Brinton’s Sermons, 80, 182
in Piers Plowman, 12, 181–3, 202
public familiarity with, 201 receivers, parliamentary, 140 records, parliamentary. see documents, documentary writing, petitions, parliamentary redress of grievances
parliamentary responsibility for, 37, 68, 132, 140 Paunfield’s petition for, 226 royal responsibility for, 142, 247 reform
and the Piers Plowman tradition, 206 as theme in Piers Plowman, 205 as theme in Richard the Redless, 232 baronial responsibility for, 34–6
parliamentary responsibility for, 52–3, 72, 166, 202 representation, idea of
and the right to parliamentary petition, 172
as public discourse, 91
as theme in public poetry, 14–15, 17, 199, 257–8 challenges of multiple voices, 33, 64, 256 delegate representation, 7
in Chaucer’s poetry, 10, 156–8, 170–2, 177
in Gower’s poetry, 99–100, 114, 119, 125
in Piers Plowman tradition, 253
in Richard the Redless, 231–7, 253
late medieval views, 9, 16 representation, idea of. see also parlement (public speech/assembly).
representation, as proportional and petitionary, 34 representations of parliament, overview, 23
“Revenge” Parliament (1397), 213
Reynolds, Walter (Archbishop of Canterbury), 58–60
Richard II
and the evolution of parliament, 8
Appellant crisis, 165, 212–13 deposition of, 31–2, 61, 213, 230–2, 237 marriage to Anne of Bohemia, 129
Richard the Redless
as parliamentary literature, 10 criticisms of parliamentarians, 232, 234–5, 253
incompleteness of, 236–7, 250
limits of criticisms in, 211 literary forms in, 230
necessity for public speech in, 245 political and social complaints in, 230–3, 237, 244 ring imagery, roundness, 30, 37, 43, 71, 84 ritual
and Arthurianism, 37
in Pentecostal model of parliament, 48–51 symbols of in pictorial representations of parliament, 25–6 Roman de Brut (Wace), 41
romance baronialism
in Mannyngh’s Chronicle, 41–3 in parliamentary representations, 34, 44–6 romance parliaments, 37–8
Rymer, Thomas, 22
Salisbury, John, 167
satire
anti-legal, 104–5
estates satire, 33
in courtly literature, 63, 152
in Parliament of Pawns, 114
venality satire, 201
Savage, Arnold, 10, 50, 130, 214, 216
Septvauns, William Jr., parliamentary trial (Septvauns affair)
as public spectacle, 99
governer’s involvement with, 93–7 issue of false counsel/misrepresentation, 97–9 themes from in Gower’s poetry, 92 Sermons (Brinton), criticisms of parliament, 79–80 shire knights/shires
as local administrators, 35 as parliamentarians, 33, 35, 67 growing role in politics and poetry, 3
in Mum and the Sothsegger, 245
in Canterbury Tales, 170–1
seigneurial ideal, 242
Thomas Hoo, 186
Shrewsbury parliament (1398), 234
Index

poet as reconciler of multiple voices, 117–18 speaking with one voice (univocality). see also speaker for parliament/Commons
St. Albans Chronicle
criticisms of parliament, 77–8
monetary themes in, 188–9
Thomas Hoo's dream-vision, 184–7
St. Paul's Cathedral, 3, 186
Statute of Pleading (1362), 68
Statute of Treasons, 67 Statute of York (1322), 58 stewardship, proper
as theme in St. Albans Chronicle, 189
in Mum and the Sothsegger, 242
in Piers Plowman, 203
Stilus Curie Parliamenti, 65
Stonehenge, raising of, in Mannyng's Chronicle, 43
Stourton, William, 216
Strohm, Paul, 131
Stubbs, William, 18
symbolism, in pictorial representations of parliament, 25–6, 30–1 “Tale of Melibee” (Chaucer)
criticisms of parliament, 148
mediation as theme in, 148–50
petitionary process in, 151
speaking with one voice in, 149 threat of violence in, 148 taxation
Commons’ control over, 4–5, 67, 187
of clergy, disputes over, 52 on the occasion of royal marriages, 137 wool tax, 10, 39, 152
Temple of Glass, The (Lydgate), 144–5
Thomas of Lancaster, 57, 134
Thorpe, William, 12
Tiptoft, John, 216–17
“To His Purse” (Chaucer), 210
treason, 193
nonviolent responses 10, 150
Tresilian, Robert, 167
Troilus and Criseyde (Chaucer), 170
collocation of marriage and parliament, 138
Trojan parliament, 84
Trussell, William, 60–1, 63 truth-telling
as theme in parliamentary literature, 14
equation with wellness, in Mum and the Sothsegger, 240 relationship to unity, 77

288

silence (mum)
as theme in parliamentary literature, 14
fraudulent consensus and, 80
in Mum and the Sothsegger, 239–40
in Richard the Redless, 237
of parliament, criticisms of, 77
Simpson, James, 202
Sir Orfeo, 44
Skeat, Walter William, 182
social classes complexity of class associations, 4 Langland’s allegorical representations of, 209 links between property and identity, 114 parliament as forum for interchanges among, 131 social classes. see also estates.
social legislation, 5
Song of Lewes, 36, 52
Song of Roland, The, 37
speaker for parliament/Commons and the Host in Canterbury Tales, 172, 174–6 and the ideal of univocality, 61, 87–8 Arnold Savage, 214
choice of from Commons, 165 documentation of activities of, 214
in Parliament of Fowls, 158–9
John Bussy, 212
John Tiptoft, 216
Peter de la Mare, 70
prototypes for, 60–1, 63
selection of, 165
Speaker’s protestation, 72, 176, 214 use of term “prolocutor” for, 107 speaking with one voice (univocality) and fear of conflict, 116–18 and parliamentary decision-making, 55–6 as ideal, in Gower’s poetry, 93, 112, 115, 117–19
as parliamentary ideal, 46, 88, 216
as pentecostal/spiritual ideal, 53, 55, 207 criticisms of in Summa Pradictantium, 81–3 criticisms of in the St. Albans Chronicle, 77–8 fraudulent consensus, 78–84 identification of Commons with, 56 in Knighton’s Chronicle, 166 in Modus T enendi Parliamentum, 86–8
in Parliament of Fowls, 160
in representations of, 63 in the Anonimade Chronicle, 71–3
in Canterbury Tales, 149
in Cronica Tripetita, 121, 123–5 in the Mercers’ Petition, 75–6 inherent conflicts in, 64, 77 late medieval meanings, 9 legitimizing function of, 61
Index

truth-telling, see also silence (mum), 14

Twelve Conclusions of the Lollards, 3, 146 unanimity, see consensus, unanimity, speaking with one voice (univocality) unity, see consensus, unanimity universitas fidelium, 7

universitas, struggles to represent, 3, 15–17

univocal parliament, see speaking with one voice, 278

Uprising of 1381, 8, 15, 67, 102

Usk, Thomas, 76, 167

vant parlour (prolocutor), in Gower’s Mirour, 107

venality satire, 201

vernacular expression and the ‘Englishing’ of parliament, 221

in parliamentary petitions, 68, 73, 75–6, 212, 218, 220–2, 227

in Piers Plowman, 181, 207

in Provisions of Oxford, 35 increase in during Lancastrian period, 221 use of English in legal procedures, 68 violence

during Richard II’s reign, 165, 167, 210, 233

in parliament, examples of, 159 in the name of the commons, 170

mediatory alternatives to, 132, 148, 150–1, 237 voice of God (vox Dei)

as vox publica in Cronica Tripartita, 123–5

parliament as representative of, 51–2, 59–60

voice of the people (vox populi, vox publica, vox communis)

as theme in parliamentary literature, 12–13

as vox Dei, 59–60, 90–2, 123–5

barons as representatives of, 34–6, 44, 52

bureaucratic documentation as, 221

Commons as, 56–61, 63–4, 66, 69–70, 220 conflicts among, 116

ethical component, 238

idea of, in Piers Plowman versus Piers Plowman tradition, 211

in Chaucer’s poetry, 159, 164, 170, 175–8

in Gower’s poetry, 91, 93, 114, 118–20, 122

in Piers Plowman, 207–8

in poetry from the Piers Plowman tradition, 235, 245–7, 253

late medieval meanings, 9, 200, 257–8

making visible through public writing/documentation, 228

parliament as representative of, 93, 98, 121, 235

parliamentary petitions as, 164

pentecostal representations, 46, 51–2, 206–7

poets as, 115, 117, 119–20, 125

voice of the people (vox populi, vox publica, vox communis), see also complaint literature, documents, documentary writing, petitions, parliamentary

Vox Clamantis (Gower), 115

Cronica Tripartita addition, 10, 120 identification of poet with vox publica, 120 poet as voice of the commons in, 119–20

vox populi, see Mirour de l’Omme, voice of the people.

Wace (Roman de Brut), 41

Waldegrave, Richard, 108

Wallace, David, 131, 148

Walsingham, Thomas, 32, 45–6, 78

war

money for, parliamentary role, 67, 198 power of parliament and, 4, 21, 64

with France, references to in Piers Plowman, 192

Warenne, Earl of, 12, 13

Wawn, Andrew, 238

Westminster, Palace of, 2–3

in Parliament of Fowls, 154

in Piers Plowman, 193

in Thomas Hoo’s dream-vision, 186

Painted Chamber, 25

role of clerks at, 58

White Chamber of the Lords, 23

Wetherbee, Winthrop, 118

women

in romance literature, 147

marital choice, 136, 138, 161–3 property rights, 116

right to petition, 142

rights as widows, 133–6

Wonderful Parliament (1386), 133, 164

Woodstock, Thomas, 165

wool, taxes from, 10, 25, 39, 152

“writing visible”, 228

Ypodigma Neustriae (Walsingham), 32, 45–6