

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf

Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More informationIndex

- Abel, Elizabeth 162
The Aeneid 72
- Aiken, Conrad
 and modernist fascination with colloquial expression 35
 correspondence with TSE
 “Bolo” theme continuing through TSE’s life 15, 217
 Columbo and Bolo poems as allegory 30, 31
 Columbo’s “chaplain” as Charlie Chaplin 25 part of TSE’s Columbo and Bolo “coterie” 11, 15 Columbo and Bolo poems as “parerga” 36–8 on death of Jean Verdenal 84 initial circulation of Columbo and Bolo poems 14, 15, 16, 21, 26 and TSE’s sexual anxiety 65, 94 on poetic impotence 78
 on a possible book, “Inventions of the March Hare” 217 on Pound, the Great War, Columbo and Bolo, and TSE’s poetic impotence 75–6 the open secret of Columbo and Bolo poems 19 and TSE’s “exile” 31
 “King Bolo and Others” (1948 tribute to TSE) 36–7, 38
- Albright, Daniel 123
- Aldington, Richard 95–6, 107
 “Epigrams” 96
Images of War 95–6
Images of Desire 95–6 “Reserve” 83
- alterity
 in relation to desire 47–8, 56, 79, 90, 123, 209
 of language 154
 of memory 213
 and mimicry 113
 vis-à-vis the past 6, 9, 61, 114, 115, 117, 148 in theater and performance 124 and writing biography 123
- Altieri, Charles 4
- Amiran, Eyal 220
 amnesia
 in TSE 59, 66, 91
 Woolf’s lament for cultural amnesia 180–1
- Anderson, Margaret 107, 156
- androgyny
 in Orlando 119, 120, 122
- Archives Nationale 224
- Aristotle 119
- Assman, Jan 49–50
- autobiography
 in TSE
 in relation to Columbo and Bolo poems 15
 and The Waste Land 226
 in Woolf (see also “A Sketch of the Past”) biography as autobiography 128 VW critical of 123–4, 151
 fictional 150
To the Lighthouse 150, 172–3
 mentioned in her diary 173
 reluctance to attempt 150 and The Waves 173
- Badenhausen, Richard 71
- Badowska, Eva 241
- Bakhtin, Mikhail 194
- Banfield, Ann 169
- Barnes, Djuna
Nightwood 3
- Barthes, Roland
 on biography 125
 and birth of the reader 88, 108 “flush of pleasure” of ideas 159 and “Historical discourse” 49 Kristeva on 88
punctum 154, 239
- Bate, Walter Jackson 64
- Baudelaire, Charles 42, 65–74, 80, 108

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

249

- bawdy poetry 10, 13
 as genre 35
- Beach, Sylvia 29
- Beer, Gillian 187, 196, 201, 246
- Beinecke Library, Yale University 219
- Bell, Anne Olivier (Woolf's niece) 149
- Bell, Clive 149, 206
 and TSE's Columbo and Bolo poems 11, 15, 19, 36
 and Woolf 132
- Bell, Quentin (Woolf's nephew) 180, 206, 236
- Bell, Vanessa (née Stephen) 3, 149, 150, 154, 162, 177, 180
- Benjamin, Walter
 archaeological labour of memory 61
 historiography and the art of quotation 202 convergence of history and memory 51
 historical materialism 108
 and history 190
 and ineluctability of memory 106 on memory 48
 as modernist 4, 106
 and Proust 199
 "pure language" 89
 shock and photography 154, 239
 "The Task of the Translator" 89 on relation between topology and
 memory 195–6
 as Woolf's contemporary vis-à-vis theorizing remembrance 8
- Bennett, Arnold 164
- Bereford, John Davys 162
- Bergson, Henri
 "consciousness means memory" 180
La perception du changement
 ("The Perception of Change") 224 and conservation of the past 3 past creates with the present 155–6 temps as distinct from durée 8 influence on TSE 45–6, 52–3, 70 links between unconscious and conscious aspects of the psyche 92
 indelibility of memory 141
 "matter" of memory 53, 70, 171 memory and sensation 212
 as modernist 106
 TSE attending his lectures 45–6, 52–3, 224
 resonances with Woolf 138, 215
 as Woolf's contemporary vis-à-vis theorizing remembrance 8
- Bersani, Leo 4
- Bhabha, Homi
 on mimicry 25, 113
 spatialization of historical time 194
 and writing time 51
- Bibliothèque Nationale 224
- biography
 in TSE
 on "personality" and exposing oneself to biography 113
 in Woolf
 "age of biography" 151
 "The Art of Biography" 125–6, 152, 181
 critical of 151
 fictional 150
 limits of 181
 linked with war 151 Flush: A Biography 150
 mentioned in her diary 173
vis-à-vis Orlando 119–22, 123–4, 150
 alterity 123
 as autobiography 128
 as biographic meditation 119–24
 biographic time collapsed 124–31
 eros of 125
 as history 134–5
 homoeroticism 120
 conjoined with sexuality 119–22, 125 and Strauss, in relation to history 129–30 and subjection 125, 131
 Victorian 129
Roger Fry: A Biography 39, 150
- bisexuality
 and desire in Woolf 125
 in TSE's Columbo and Bolo poems 25
- Bissell, Elizabeth Beaumont 109
- Blake, William 68, 154
- blason* 125
- Blast*
 humor 16, 38
 imitated by TSE 16, 19, 224
 Pound's contributions 105 publication of "Preludes" 28, 32, 92 publication of "Rhapsody of a Windy Night" [sic] 28, 32, 90
 as stimulus to circulation of TSE's Columbo
 and Bolo poems 15–16
 TSE's submission of Columbo and Bolo poems (and Lewis's rejection) 27–8 Vorticism and celebration of the present 105–7
- Bloom, Harold 58, 113, 205
- Bloomsbury Memoir Club 149–50
- bones 66
 in TSE
 and "Ash Wednesday" 97–8
 and The Waste Land 66, 70, 71, 72
- Bookman* 138
- Booth, Alison 216
- Borges, Jorge Luis
 as discussed by Foucault 191

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

250

Boswell, James 129
 Bourdieu, Pierre 126
 Bowlby, Rachel 156
 Bradley, F. H. 177
 Brawne, Fanny 234
 Briggs, Julia 201
 Brooke, Rupert 185, 243
 Brooker, Jewel Spears 78
 Brotherton Collection, University of Leeds 217
 Browning, Robert 65, 66, 151, 155
 Buber, Martin 95
 Burke, Edmund 46
 Bush, Ronald 4
 Butler, Judith 155
 Byron, Lord George Gordon 198

Cadava, Eduardo 108, 239
 Cambridge, University of Woolf lectures at Newnham and Girton
 Colleges 188
 Caramagno, Thomas C. 25
 Carlyle, Thomas 151
 Carroll, David 116
 Caruth, Cathy 63, 152–3, 187
 C elan, Paul 95
 Chaplin, Charlie
 and TSE 25, 219
 Chaucer, Geoffrey 201
 Childs, Donald 53
 Chinitz, David 7, 17, 219
 Cicero 193 cinema, and Woolf 186
 cleriheW (and TSE) 35
 Collingwood, R. G. 177–8 colonialism
 in TSE
 Columbo and Bolo poems 10–13, 14–15, 36
 and sexual poetics 25
 and hysteria 19–20
 in Woolf
 in Between the Acts 191, 197, 207
 and her failure of memory about 182
 yet writes out colonialism everywhere 182 Columbo, Matteo Realdo
 on anatomy of the clitoris (1559) 218 Columbus, Christopher 10–38
 comic-strip
 Krazy Kat 220–1
 humor and TSE 24, 34, 36, 37 Conley, Tim 155–6
 Conrad, Joseph 25, 87, 227
 coterie
 TSE’s homosocially arranged 11, 13, 14–15, 23–4
 Cowper, William 151

Index

The Criterion (and TSE) 9 Croce, Benedetto 177
 cross-dressing 22, 76
 Cuba 10–11, 12
 Cuddy-Keane, Melba 42
 Culler, Jonathan 156

Dante Alighieri 108
 and intensity of “emotion” for TSE 111
 The Inferno (and TSE) 39, 45, 94
 Purgatorio
 as illuminating TSE 85
 TSE’s dedication to Verdenal 83
 TSE borrowing his language 68
 Darwin, Charles 205
 Davidson, Harriet 69
 De Certeau, Michel 44–5, 49, 108, 212–13
 “allure of facts” in historical accounts 129
 De Man, Paul 4, 64
 Denisoff, Dennis 94
 De Salvo, Louise 53
 Derrida, Jacques 38 desire (select instances) in Richard Aldington’s poetry 96
 as a fixed impulse 146
 as the future 170
 ineffaceable 141
 and memory (see also “memory”)
 copulative relation 9
 to record memory as text 167
 in TSE 67–8
 and alterity 47–8, 56, 79, 90 anxiety about 81 and appetite 80
 in relation to language 85–9
 and Columbo and Bolo poems 10–11, 13, 18, 21, 22, 39–43
 at the core of being 72
 as excess 47
 to incorporate the past 31, 116–18
 vis- -vis history 35, 47, 51, 66, 81, 100, 110, 114
 and the body 72–3
 in “Gerontion” 45–6
 illegibility of 73
 and the interrogative 78–80 its figurality as unresolved 115 its limits 80–1, 89, 90 and Jacques Lacan 47, 80–1
 and memory 10, 36, 51–2, 53, 78
 as bound 124
 in Four Quartets 99–100
 and “Rhapsody on a Windy Night” 51–2 their zeugma 85, 96
 and the present 110

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

251

- prone to interruption 61
in "Prufrock" 65
for publicity 27–33
and its remains 116
renunciation of 47–8, 96–8 repulsion from heterosexual desire 89–94 resistance to 81, 115 urgency of 11, 81
in Woolf
and Between the Acts 203 exposed through biography 119–23, 124–5, 130
for futurity as place in To the Lighthouse 172
history as embodied desire 210
and intensity of James's desire in To the Lighthouse 173–4, 175
and intimacies of history and memory 123, 158
as materiality 175
in relation to the letter/writing 119–20, 147
and memory 7, 119, 120, 158, 172, 178, 205, 206, 209
linked with perception and textual production 154
of thwarted desire 175
to go "to the lighthouse" – as desire interrupted 173–4 to revisit the past as place 179
The Dial 32, 95
Dickinson, Violet 148
Dictionary of National Biography 127
Dilthey, Wilhelm 177
Dobrée, Bonamy
and Columbo and Bolo poems 11, 15, 19, 21, 24, 217
downplaying his familiarity with Columbo
and Bolo poems 34
doggerel 11, 35
Dolar, Mladen 246
Donne, John 43, 66, 94
Doolittle, Hilda (H. D.) 56
Dryden, John 201, 233
Duckworth, Gerald (Woolf's half-brother) and Woolf's sexual abuse 157, 158
Düran, Richard 237
- ecstasy
in Woolf
delight in 158
distinct from rapture 155, 156
and first memories 158
"it's ecstasy that matters" 156
and "moments of being" 167
and shame 157
The Egoist 96, 107
- elegy in Woolf 173, 177, 178, 187, 193
Eliot, Charlotte (TSE's mother, née Stearns) TSE's correspondence with about the Great War 60, 84, 104
TSE's need to impress 33
TSE's worry about shocking her 34
Eliot, Henry Ware (TSE's father) 31, 33
Eliot, Henry Ware (TSE's brother)
TSE's correspondence with
on "impotence" after "Prufrock" 78 regarding the "nightmare" of the present 39 about responsibility to the future 60 on The Waste Land as a cultural document 104
TSE as satirist 34
Eliot, Thomas Stearns
adolescence in St. Louis 17 American-ness 37
anti-Semitism 12, 216–17
Ara Vos Prec 34
"Ash Wednesday," 3–4, 47–8, 58, 80,
97–9, 142
"Aunt Helen" 32
"Ballade pour la gross Lulu" 27, 219
"Baudelaire" 80
"The Boston Evening Transcript" 32
"Burbank with a Baedeker: Bleistein with a Cigar" 34
Columbo and Bolo poems 1, 7, 10–38, 39, 44, 76, 85
cartoon humor 36
comic-strip humor 24, 34
Cuba as fantasized tabula rasa 194–5 desire to publish 11, 13, 27–9, 32–3
as pornotropic parergon 36, 38 rejected by Wyndham Lewis 22, 105 self-censorship 33, 34
correspondence with mother 60 conversion to Anglo-Catholicism 14, 15, 59, 79, 96
"Cousin Nancy" 32
The Criterion 9, 28
"Dante" 115
as the most "universal" poet 89
emotional instability 234
exile 11, 31–2
Four Quartets 43, 47, 100
"Burnt Norton" 54, 81, 99, 227
"The Dry Salvages" 24, 101, 106, 131, 175
"East Coker" 48, 117, 208, 213
"Little Gidding" 48, 63, 83, 99–100, 117, 172, 203, 210, 224
"Gerontion" 7, 65, 93, 100 and female sexuality 77, 90, 93
and history 137

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

252

*Index*Eliot, Thomas Stearns (cont.)

- “The Hollow Men” 61, 70
- “Hysteria” 7, 54–6, 97
- “If Time and Space as Sages Say” 101
- Inventions of the March Hare* 10, 13, 217
- “Last Words” 156
- “The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock” 7, 10, 32, 43, 45, 97
 - and the agitation of the present 6, 202
 - and American slang 37
 - and Bergson 215
 - corporeality of desire 64
 - desire in relation to subject formation 87–8
 - draft 35
 - TSE’s sexualized anxieties about equaling it 78–85
 - the troubled figurality of women 30, 90–4
- “The Metaphysical Poets” 43, 72, 110, 155
- “Ode” 34
- “Philip Massinger” 95
- Poems 1919* 3, 7, 33, 34
- “Portrait of a Lady” 4, 7, 10, 32
- “Preludes” 7, 10
 - and sexual undesirability of women 92
 - published in Blast 28, 32, 92, 105
 - and Proust 199
- Prufrock and Other Observations*
 - dedication to Jean Verdenal 30, 83
 - and the failure of desire 68
 - the interpenetration of memory and desire 78
 - the limits of desire 2, 81
 - overcoming a faltering iterability 98
 - painful eroticization of history and memory 100
 - troubled figurality of women 31, 45, 90–4
- “Prufrock’s Pervigilium” 35
- “Reflections on Contemporary Poetry” 111–12, 113–15, 118, 159
- “Rhapsody on a Windy Night”
 - published in Blast 28, 32, 51–2, 54, 55, 75, 90–2, 105
 - vis-à-vis Bergson 53
 - on title change from “Rhapsody of a Windy Night” [sic] 219
- essay on Seneca 177
- “Song” 133
- “Sweeney Agonistes” 80, 96
- “Sweeney Among the Nightingales” 34
- “Sweeney Erect” 34
- “Thoughts After Lambeth” 177
- “The Three Provincialities” 86
- “Tradition and the Individual Talent” 7
 - compared to Woolf’s project in Between the Acts 191

- critiques totality of the subject 112–13
- dialogic exchange between past and present 115, 211
- labor of recuperating the past 143
- laboring for the “historical sense” 114
- misinterpreted as totalizing 49
- obligation to carry marks of time 108–12
- the past makes the new 99
- published in The Egoist 107
- tradition cannot be inherited 7, 118
- “The Triumph of Bullshit” 27, 219
- The Waste Land* 7, 10, 47, 91, 100, 107–10, 211, 212
 - and archaeological labor 61–3
 - alterity of past language 117
 - breakdown of signification 89
 - “burst[ing]” into print in 1922 28
 - collaboration with Pound 24, 29, 69, 77–8, 103, 225, 227
 - and contemporary history 104–5
 - drafts of 69–70
 - epigraph 75
 - possible gift of manuscript to John Quinn 33
 - and homoeroticism 219
 - impossibility of an ideal reader 88
 - instability of sexual identifications 57
 - and London 61, 65, 73, 104
 - memory’s multiple guises 181
 - “mixing / Memory and desire” 1–2, 9, 40–3, 68, 86
 - as a poesis of memory 39–44, 98
 - physicality of memory 65–74, 97
 - and Sappho 46
 - commenting on the present 103–5
 - and ruins 116
 - and “steal[ing]” 95–6
 - surrendering to memory 53–4
 - traversed with the dead 64, 76
- in relation to Woolf
 - and the archive of the past 140
 - both fight cultural amnesia 181
 - both suggest past time is continuous and contiguous with the present 109
 - diagnoses his sense of the historiography of language 86
 - first meeting with Woolf 86–7
 - intertextually cited in Between the Acts 201
 - Mrs. Ramsay in To the Lighthouse
 - compared with Stetson in The Waste Land 140, 177–8
 - past as still-living body 160
 - and reification of past delight 160
 - repression is bound to fail for both 70
 - stress on the need to “feel” thoughts 155

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

253

- and The Waste Land 204
The Waste Land compared to a passage
in The Years 41
and TSE's "turn for caricature" 33 discussed by W. B. Yeats 59
Eliot, Valerie (TSE's second wife, née Fletcher)
14, 15, 217, 225–6
Eliot, Vivien (TSE's first wife, née Haigh-Wood)
anxieties re. TSE equaling "Prufrock" 78 collapse of marriage 54 marries TSE 65
TSE worries about her health 30 comments on The Waste Land drafts 69 on TSE's Americanness 31–2 Emerson, Ralph Waldo 71
epiphany
in Joyce 166–7
linked with desire for textuality 167
epistological titillation 24, 27
eros (see also "homoeroticism") between TSE and Woolf 3 of history and memory 51
of the past 1, 2
as preserver 148, 213
and telling the past 51
and thanatos 41, 66, 234
in Woolf
of life writing 125
and memory 7, 119, 159
of the letter 119–20
of the past 189, 208
statue of Eros in Piccadilly 206 of writing 124
in Eliot
dialectic between attraction and repulsion 31
eroticization of resistance to desire 81 and excess in Columbo and Bolo
poems 39
and history 41
homoeroticism in bawdy verse 12–13, 23, 25, 26, 30, 31, 75–8
in "Prufrock" 64
and representing the past 7
and writing time 77
Esty, Joshua D. 244
Euripides 147
Fanon, Frantz 21
Faulkner, William 4, 106, 115, 117, 183, 234
Ferdinand, King of Spain 10, 11
Fitzgerald, F. Scott, 234
Fleishman, Avrom 159, 171
Flint, Kate 151
forgetting and Cathy Caruth 63
in TSE 102
in "Ash Wednesday" 98–9, 142
capital "H" history susceptible of being forgotten 182–3
in The Waste Land 42, 68, 98
and Freud 63, 141
as healing 141–2
and Nietzsche 64, 68, 98
for TSE and Woolf, where neither seeks sustained forgetting 142–3
in Woolf
Between the Acts 197, 200
events 185, 186
reading Freud 147, 164, 182
writing her memoir 152 anticipates a general forgetfulness about the Great War 180–1, 199
colonialism 182
and the Great War 182, 243
Forster, E. M. 149, 150, 211
Foucault, Michel 50–1, 67
on Borges 191
genealogical model of history 190
Frazer, Sir James George 26
Freud, Sigmund 8, 211, 212
ananke 170
on childhood memories 160
"Civilization and Its Discontents" 3 ambivalence about how the past is stored 142 compared with Woolf's Between the Acts 192
inefficability of memory 141 topographic model of psyche 145 and of memory 145
as modernist 143
death in London 162
H. D.'s Tribute to Freud 180
International Psychoanalytic Library
published by Hogarth Press 148
Woolf typesets 163–4
"Leonardo da Vinci and a Memory of his Childhood" 160
melancholia, 6
memory and desire both indestructible 142
memory as desire 141–3
"Obsessive Actions and Religious Impulses" Woolf typesetting 164
"Screen Memories" 160
and pleasure of recollection 159 and trauma (via Caruth) 152
and TSE 56, 63, 92, 106
and Breuer 55–6, 63

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

254

- Freud, Sigmund (cont.)
 eros and thanatos 66
 “fort”/“da” 72
 “Leonardo da Vinci and a Memory of His Childhood” 50
 melancholia 116–17
 mourning 116–17
 uncanny 93
 “Screen Memories” 50
 and Woolf
 her ambivalence to psychoanalysis 164–5 appears everywhere in Woolf’s fiction 161, 183 claims to read Freud for the first time in 1939 162 denies familiarity with 148, 161–2 familiarity with 162–5
 force of the unconscious 128 forgets about reading him 147, 164, 182 layers of anamnesis 161 meeting Freud 162
 both stress primacy of childhood memories 158, 160–1
- Friedman, Susan Stanford 1, 41
- Fritzsche, Peter 4, 146
- Froula, Christine 28, 47, 62
- Fry, Roger 149, 150, 152
- Fuery, Patrick 47
- Fussell, Paul 84, 155, 182
- Futurism 103
- Garnett, David 149
- Germany
 and TSE 26, 76
 Marburg 14, 75
 and Woolf
 on Germans after the Great War 182
 German air raids during World War Two 197, 245
- Gibbon, Edward, Woolf’s fascination with 244
- Gilbert, Sandra 47, 57, 58, 110, 126, 234
- Gilbert, W. S. (later of Gilbert and Sullivan) 17–18
- Gill, Jonathan 35
- Gilman, Sander 20
- Gish, Nancy K. 47–8, 225
- Goethe, Johann Wolfgang von 151, 194
- Goldberg, Jonathan 20
- Gorak, Jan 34
- Gordon, Lyndall 60, 84, 90, 102
- Graham, James 34
- Grant, Duncan 149
- Gubar, Susan 57, 58, 110
- Gualtieri, Elena 4, 133–4, 188

Index

- H. D. 180
- Haigh-Wood, Maurice (Vivien Eliot’s brother) 84
- Hale, Emily 54
The Harvard Advocate 14, 224
- Harvard University
 Houghton Library and TSE archive 224
 and TSE 14, 15, 18, 37, 54, 77, 171, 177
- Hayward, John Davy 15, 71, 176
- Heap, Jane 157
- Hemingway, Ernest 183, 234
- heterosexuality
 and the logic of history 46
 TSE’s resistance to 85, 89–94, 98, 115 vulnerability to in TSE 67, 84
- Heraclitus 171
- Herriman, George 220–1
- Hills, Jack 173
- Hinkley, Eleanor (TSE’s cousin) 31
- historicity experience of 3
 and Joyce’s A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man 222 modernism’s concerns with 1, 5, 43, 103
 in TSE 7
 as erotogenic 61
 in “Gerontion” 93
 in Four Quartets 100
 in Woolf
 as a kind of memory 182 past as pure historicity 177
 in relation to the real 129
- historiography
 according to de Certeau 129 modernist commitments to 5
 in TSE
 anticipates de Certeau 108
 his version of “modernist” 39 and “Gerontion” 45
 of language 86
 in Woolf
 condemns history as merely the biographies of great men 151
- history (select instances) defined 48–51
 disavowed in criticism about modernism 4, 58–9
 in relation to memory 48–51, 145
 and modernism 2
 Nietzsche’s “historical fever” 203 subjectivity of for TSE and Woolf 210
 in TSE
 its agitation 110
 ahistorical 58, 105, 106
 and the body 43–7

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

255

- and Columbo and Bolo poems 11, 12, 14, 15
 queerness of colonial history 23 contemporary modernist 104–5
 convergence of history and memory 51
 and De Certeau 44–5, 49, 108
 in relation to desire 35, 47, 51, 66, 81, 100, 110, 117–18
 and the body 72–3
 disavowed 106
 and eros 38, 41, 100, 107, 114
 feminized 54–6, 221–2 and Foucault 50–1, 67
 as freedom and bondage in “Little Gidding” 100
 historical continuity 60, 107
 as hysteria 54–6, 58
 illegibility 73 literary 62, 110, 204
 and eros 113, 114
 and the body 114
 and “Little Gidding” 203
 materiality of 103
 physicality of 102
 poetics of 39
 and sexuality 39
 and Veyne 44, 50
The Waste Land as historical object 103
 in Woolf
 and the architectural site 126
 and the body 126, 133, 134, 202
 fullness of 136
 writing the body 133
 her own body as embedded in English history 133
 capital “H” history susceptible of being
 forgotten 182–3
 chronicling personal history 186
 its corporeality 133, 200, 206
 and De Certeau 44–5, 49, 108, 129
 cultural 205
 its demand to be situated 199
 and desire 132, 158, 210
 English 130, 135, 205
 and eros 119, 131
 and ethics 187
 as fantastic 132–3
 and fictionality 124, 132–3 indestructible 126
 and Lévi Strauss 129–30 limits of history 151, 181, 187–90
 literary 201, 203–4
 materiality of 126, 196, 206
 in relation to memory 123, 133–4, 180–1, 200, 204
 national 137
- Henry James and the novel as history 130
 and Orlando 126, 128, 132–3 prehistory in Between the Acts 205–8 vitality of 147
 Woolf as complicated thinker of history
 and memory 8
 as historian 187–90
 Woolf and Leonard feel “unconnected” to English history 184
- Hite, Molly 42, 240
 Hitler, Adolf
 Freud discusses with Woolf 162
 Hogarth Press 2, 59
 Homer 108
 homoeroticism
 in TSE 178
 in relation to elegy 83
 in bawdy verse 12–13, 23, 25, 26, 30, 31, 75–8
 its unrest 83
 positivity of 46, 115
 and race 20, 31
 and The Waste Land 24, 57, 219
 vis-à-vis literary history 113–14
 in Woolf
 between Orlando and his biographer 120
 in relation to Vita Sackville-West 119–20, 121, 122, 123, 125, 131, 134–5, 139, 140, 233
- homosexuality 18, 23
 in TSE
 TSE as homosexual 219
 not disavowed in TSE’s work 36 modernist valences of “queen” and “fairy” 30
 in Woolf
 eroticism between Orlando and his biographer 120
 Septimus Smith’s possible
 homosexuality 161
- hooks, bell 20
 Hume, David 169
 humor
 and Blast 16, 38
 in TSE 16–19, 33–5, 38
- Hunt, Lynn 187
 Hussey, Mark 122, 206
 Hutcheon, Linda 116
 Hutchinson, Mary 32, 150
 Hynes, Samuel 104
 hysteria 55–6
- impersonality in TSE 104, 178
 limits of 94, 110–13
 possible rebuttal by Woolf 129

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

256

India
 colonial figures in Between the Acts 191
 Isabella, Queen of Spain 11–12, 13

Jacobus, Mary 190
 James, Henry 130
 Jameson, Frederic 48
 Jay, Gregory 47
 Johnson, Samuel 151
 Joyce, James
 and Columbo and Bolo poems 11, 15, 19, 23, 183
 emotional instability 234
 epiphany 166–7
Finnegans Wake 76
 obsessed with the past vis-à-vis present 186
A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man 145, 166, 167
Stephen Hero 166–7
Ulysses 3, 28, 29, 155, 201
 TSE's admiration for 29, 87
 Joyce, Stanislaus (Joyce's brother) 186

Kant, Immanuel 241
 Kaye, Richard 48–51
 Keats, John 121, 234
 Kermodé, Frank 53, 104, 110, 176
 Keynes, John Maynard 149
 Kipling, Rudyard 22, 204
 Klein, Melanie
 lectures at Woolf's brother's house 162, 163
 Koestenbaum 24, 51, 58, 77, 218
 Krazy Kat 37, 220–1
 Kristeva, Julia 9, 88

Lacan, Jacques 47, 80–1, 101 anticipated in TSE 87, 89 “defiles of the signifier” 186 desire and the Other 209
 the Real 168

LaCapra, Dominick 242
 Laforgue, Jules 65, 79
 Laity, Cassandra 47, 178
 Lamos, Colleen 36, 51–2
 Lane, Anthony 209
 Lee, Hermione 153, 172, 236
 Levenson, Michael 69, 104
 Lewis, Wyndham 11, 15, 19, 22–3, 219
 and Blast 15–16, 90, 105–7
 being published by TSE 28 publishing TSE 27–9 relinquishing the past 103
 Woolf's comments on 87
 limerick (and TSE) 35

Index

The Little Review 107, 158 logos
 in Woolf 154
 London 219
 The Blitz 180
 Freud's death 162
 and TSE 11, 15, 16, 28, 43, 65
 aerial blitzes 78
 Golders Green 30, 31, 37
 “nervous sexual attacks” 94
 TSE's status as a “foreigner” 31–2
The Waste Land 61, 65, 73, 104
 and Woolf 245
 in Between the Acts 205, 206
 Hyde Park Gate 153
 in Mrs. Dalloway 181 vis-à-vis eros and remembrance 192
 Paddington 153
 Piccadilly 119, 205, 206, 207 pressure of unrecorded life 151 unrepresentable 124
 in The Waves 145
 in The Years 127

Longenbach, James 1–2
 Lucretius 193
 Lyotard, Jean-François 181

MacCarthy, Desmond 149
 MacCarthy, Molly 149, 150, 163
 Macksey, Richard 64
 Mallarmé, Stéphane 39
 Mao, Douglas 109
 Marinetti 103
 Marshall, Alan 65
 Marvell, Andrew 71, 82
 materiality
 of memory 3
 for Bergson 53
 in TSE
 of history 103
 of memory 70, 103
 riven materiality in “The Hollow Men” 61
 in Woolf
 of desire 175, 210
 of history in Between the Acts 191, 206
 of language 186
 of memory 167, 171, 175, 206
 of the past 8–9, 148, 154, 159, 174

McClintock, Anne 21, 22, 208
 Medd, Jodie 156–7, 218
 melancholia
 according to Freud 6, 116–17
 TSE challenges typology of 212
 in Woolf 173
 according to Žižek 175

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

257

- Meltzer, Françoise 91, 95
 memorialization 178
 memory (select instances; see also Bergson and Proust)
 cultural 195
 according to Jan Assman 49–50 and cathexis 51 instability of 50
 defined 48–51
 and desire (see also “in TSE” and “in Woolf”) 1–2, 8
 copulative relation 9
 in relation to history 48–51, 145
 its Otherness 6 and familiarity 213
 in TSE
 anti-memory 65
 April as anamnestic in The Waste Land 42 broken anamnesis 116
 cultural
 and Columbo and Bolo poems 39
 of colonialism 10
 as dialogic 110
 and desire 10, 36, 39–43, 51–2, 53, 54, 78
 as bound 124
 in Four Quartets 99–100
 in “Gerontion” 45–7
 failure of in The Waste Land 69–71 and the female body 90–3 and freedom 99
 materiality of 103
 “matter” of 51, 53, 70
 “mixing / Memory and desire” 1–2, 9, 40–3, 68, 86
 and the nightmare of sexual intimacy 68–70
 physicality of 65–7, 102
 return of the repressed 63, 91 spatiality of 43
 vicissitudes of 45, 50
 in Woolf
 apropos art 177–8
 its double pleasure 165 celebrates proliferating turns of 3 commemorating the Great War 184 continually encrypted on psyche 145
 and corporeality 136, 204, 206
 cultural 170, 191
 failures of vis-à-vis the Great War 183 Woolf as continuous with English cultural memory 133
 delight in unpredictability of 138
 and desire 119, 120, 140, 141–6, 158, 172, 178, 205, 206, 209
 linked to textual production 154 and thwarted desire 175 and writing 140
 earliest 158–9 embraces haphazard nature of memory 185
 and eros 119, 131, 138–9
 ethics of 170, 171, 176, 187
 as excess 139
 in relation to Freud: symptoms as archival expressivity 141
 in relation to history 123, 133–4, 180–1, 200, 204
 as “hussy” 137–9
 ineffaceable 141
 involuntary 185
 materiality of 154, 166, 167, 171, 175, 176, 206
 in relation to the maternal 154, 197–8 “matter” of 154, 169, 171, 176
 not fixable 171
 as palimpsestic leaf 176 personal 204–5
 poetics of 148
 preservation of 139
 refashions and revisions 177 relief from 165
 sexualized 137
 as “hussy” 139
 and promiscuity 138, 140
 almost tangible 138
 and topography in Between the Acts 190–208 unreliability of 137 writing memory 165, 170
- Middleton, Peter 10
 Miller, James E. 178
 Miller, Nicholas Andrew 70, 212–13
 Milton, John
 in Woolf 201
 minstrelsy 35
 Modernist Studies Association (MSA) 42
 Monroe, Harriet 95
 Moore, G. E. 169
 Morrell, Ottoline 32, 244
 Morrison, Toni 108
 mourning 6, 106, 115, 116–17, 169
 and Freud 116–17
 successful in To the Lighthouse 175
 TSE challenges typology of 212
 according to Žižek 175
- Muir, Edwin 102–3
 Murry, John Middleton 59, 87, 103
 Murry, Katherine 181
- Napoleon Bonaparte 147
The Nation 78

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

258

New Criticism 32, 35
 new, the 2, 101, 103, 116, 170, 173 newness 5, 64, 86, 117
The New Yorker 209
New York Herald Tribune 128
 Nicolson, Ben 234
 Nicolson, Harold 121
 Nicolson, Nigel 122, 131, 234
 Nietzsche, Friedrich 2, 4, 8, 211 and forgetting 64, 68, 98, 143
 in relation to Freud 142
 Foucault on 190
 “historical fever” 203
 on making the present 102 North, Michael 24, 34–5, 219
 nostalgia
 and ambivalence in To the Lighthouse 140 recollection in TSE and Woolf as not simply 3, 5, 41, 117
 and Woolf 205
 and Yeats 59
 objective correlative 5
 Ogden, Daryl 61
Others 32
 Owen, Wilfred 185
 Ovid 69, 193
Oxford English Dictionary 156 and first instance of “bullshit” attributed to TSE 219
 Palmer, Marja 83
 parergon
 and TSE’s Columbo and Bolo poems 36, 38, 85
 Tiresias as parergic in The Waste Land 57
 the past (see also “Bergson”) alterity of 6
 denigrated in Vorticism 105–7
 différance of 212
 drive in TSE and Woolf to investigate its return 143
 and eros 7
 as fundamentally retrievable for TSE and Woolf 142
 as “history” 48–9
 materiality of, for Proust 143, 144
 for modernist writers 5, 107
 as it has appeared in criticism 6
 as obsession 101
 its value, for Edwin Muir 102–3 for Nietzsche 102
 its ongoing becoming 6
 requires a plural hermeneutics 6–7

Index

as still-living body, in TSE and Woolf 160
 temporal and spatial contiguity with the present 5
 TSE and Woolf’s wish to incorporate into the present 210
 in TSE
 its alterity 6, 9, 61, 114, 115, 117 attachment to 115–18
 and Bergson 52–3
 coextensive with present 86, 107–10 diagnosing the future through reading the past in The Waste Land 68
 and eros 39, 47, 113–15
 never-fully-lost favorite object 107
 as always only partially unearthed 60–4 plenitude of 212
 and re-cognizing 99–100
 relation to the present 103–5
 in Woolf
 “as an avenue lying behind” 169
 as “beautiful” and “complete” 180 continuous and contiguous with the present 170, 171, 206, 212
 and desire 145, 169
 dream of accessing via technology 169–70
 and eros 208
 immediacy of 207
 indestructibility of 180
 materiality of 159, 169, 174
 peace needed to appreciate 170
 as place 179
 its plenitude as life-giving 171
 the power of 101
 as pure historicity 177
 more real than the present 155–6, 168, 239 rearranging the past 209 repression of 175
 respite in 177
 as substantial matter 169
 its ongoing becoming 148, 156
 linked with sexuality, sensuality, and desire 147–8
 its tangibility, touchability, and physicality 168, 169
 as voluptuous 170
 Patterson, Gertrude 53
 Pawlowski, Merry 190
 Peter, John 57, 219
 Phillips, Adam
 reading of Freud: memory as desire 140 memory as of desire 141–2
 Plato 147
 Plotinus 64

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

259

- Poetry magazine* 32, 95
- Pope, Alexander
The Rape of the Lock 40
- pornotropism 7, 10, 20, 23, 36, 208
- Pound, Ezra 3, 22, 68, 106, 183, 234
and Columbo and Bolo poems 11, 15, 19, 23, 24
Cantos 4 collaboration with TSE 29, 69, 77–8, 103, 225, 227
regarding TSE's attempt to publish bawdy poems in Blast 27–8 “make it new” 101, 170 support of TSE 32, 65, 75
“The Turbine,” Blast 105
Vorticist credo 105
Woolf's comments on 87
- the present
its “broken surface” 213 celebrated in Vorticistism 105–7
for modernist writers 5, 102, 107
its only partial fullness 6 requires the supplement of recollection to be written 5
in TSE 102
and time and repetition 102
coextensive with the past 86, 115–18 as fragile interstitial point 60 time and the eternal 108 and vitality of the past 232
in Woolf 87, 102
in Between the Acts 202–3
and “the bloom of the past” 70 continuous and contiguous with the past 170, 171
deeper when “backed by the past” 170, 211 incompleteness of present feeling 157, 180
and “moments of being” 102
the new truth of the present revises
memory 177
and Orlando 128, 134–7, 157, 182
peace needed to appreciate 170
“pure” present in To the Lighthouse 174 spectrality of 137
unreality of 155–6
wish to fill it with all time 147
as wounded temporality 211 writing it arrests its momentum 186–7
- Proust, Marcel 8, 9, 106, 212, 234 involuntary memory 143
in relation to Freud
bringing the past to light 143 labor of recuperating memory 143 materiality of past 143, 144 memory as infinitely desirable 143
- On Reading*
and link between memory, landscape, and literature 198–9
A la recherche du temps perdu 1, 4, 6–7 sensualization of time 144, 147 Woolf reading 144
- psychoanalysis
its new language 211 and value of forgetting 141
and TSE 2, 8
and Woolf
ambivalence about 164–5 brother and sister-in-law training as psychoanalysts 162
familiarity with 162–5
International Psychoanalytic Library
published by Hogarth Press 148
Woolf typesets 163–4
and maternal 120
her shorthand for 162
- Quinn, John 29
purchase of TSE's early notebooks 33 possible gift of The Waste Land manuscript 33
- race
and TSE
on identifying with racial Otherness 24–5, 37
Columbo and Bolo poems 10–11, 16, 17–18
ongoing obsession with 38 racist imaginary 13, 16, 20–2 racist slang 37
- Rainey, Lawrence 2, 4, 51
- rapture
Kristeva on Proust – memory as involving rapture 9
in Woolf
connection with memory 156–7
delight in 158
distinct from ecstasy 156 of earliest childhood memories 155 and intensity of sensual experience after mother's death 153–4
and shame 157
when writing 168
- Raverat, Jacques 233
- Read, Herbert 24, 111
- real, the
as truth of history for Veyne 212
in Woolf 168–9, 211
material of history as the real of psychic experience 212
cf. Lacan's “Real” 168

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

260 religion

 in TSE
 and Columbo and Bolo poems 18–19
 Anglo-Catholicism 7, 14, 19, 58, 74 Christian-Buddhist renunciation of desire 47–8
 Hinduism 73, 77
 Old Testament 68, 71, 97, 227
 Babel 98
 Ecclesiastes 82, 147
 Ezekiel 97
 Kings 97
 Psalms 97
 satire of the Church 18–19
 in Woolf
 compared with First Corinthians 154 Remembrance Day 242 Rhythm 103
 Richards, I. A. 85, 111
 Richardson, Brian 42
 Rickard, John S. 145
 Ricks, Christopher 13, 14, 17, 27, 217
 Ricoeur, Paul 114, 210
 Riquelme, John Paul 109
 Rodker, John 22–3
 Romanticism and TSE 42
 inverted 47
 Rome
 and Freud's topographic model of psyche 145
 Rossetti, Christina 136
 Rousseau, Jean-Jacques 66
 ruins 3
 and desire 140, 205
 made to live again 117
 and modernism 209
 in Proust – can be undone 144 threat of ruin 212
 in To the Lighthouse 145, 206, 238
 and The Waste Land 116
 and the passage of time in Woolf 168
 Russell, Bertrand 158, 169
 Sackville-West, Vita
 and Knole, her ancestral home 136, 233–4
 as Orlando 122, 123, 130–1, 132–3 on “rapture” of beginning Orlando 158 Orlando as homage to 119–20, 125, 139, 208 part of “the whole of English history” 150, 184 romance with Trefusis 234 romance with Woolf 120, 121, 131, 140, 233
 on motherhood 122
 Woolf presents with copy of Orlando 134–5
 Santner, Eric 239, 245
 Sappho 46, 67, 204
 Sassoon, Siegfried 185

Index

satire in TSE 10, 13, 16, 18, 32, 33–4, 38 Saunders, J. W. 23–4
 scatology
 in TSE's bawdy poems 11–12, 25 and The Waste Land drafts 29 Schama, Simon 190
 Sedgwick, Eve Kosofsky 23
 sensation in relation to memory, for Woolf and Bergson 212
 sensuality
 and anteriority 1, 2, 3, 9, 81
 sensualization of time in Proust 144
 in Woolf
 of remembrance 158
 of writing the past 131, 147, 155
 in TSE
 and anteriority 7, 39, 41, 51, 62, 102, 109
 and intense desire 172 interruption of the feminine 93
 visceral 90 vulnerability 80 sentimentality 5
 sexual abuse in Woolf 157–8, 216
 sexuality (see also homoeroticism, homosexuality, and heterosexuality)
 in TSE
 female 92–4, 97–8 hyperbolic (in Columbo and Bolo poems) 10–13, 21, 25
 and intimacy as nightmare 68–70
 and memory 68–70
 obsessions 38
 and poetic impotence 75–8
 in Woolf
 pleasure in writing about the past 147, 155
 sexing the biographic subject in Orlando 119–22, 125
 sexual abuse 157–8
 Shakespeare, William 68, 83, 113, 201
 sonnets 140
The Tempest 71
 Shelley, Percy Bysshe 151 shock in Woolf 167
 Shohat, Ella 13
 Sidney, Sir Philip 120
 Smith, Grover 52
 Smyth, Ethel 157, 192, 239, 245
 Sorbonne 16, 45, 52–3, 224
 Southam, B. C. 17, 18
 Sparks, Elisa K. 109
 Spillers, Hortense 37, 221
 St. Ives, Cornwall 148, 155, 158, 161
 Stam, Robert 13

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

261

- Stein, Gertrude 106, 108
The Making of Americans 4
- Steinberg, Michael 51
- Stephen, Adrian (Woolf's brother) 149, 161, 162
- Stephen, Karin (Woolf's sister-in-law) 162
- Stephen, James (Woolf's great-grandfather) 239
- Stephen, Sir James Fitzjames (Woolf's uncle) 239
- Stephen, Julia (Woolf's mother)
 death of 155
 memorializing her 185
 and positivity in midst of trauma 152, 153–5 Leslie Stephen's memoir of 239
 and To the Lighthouse 172, 173
 and Woolf's "first memory" 161
 Woolf's obsession with 165
- Stephen, Sir Leslie (Woolf's father) founder of Dictionary of National Biography 127
 and To the Lighthouse 172
 Woolf's obsession with 165
 writing biography 239
- Stephen, Thoby (Woolf's brother) death 153
 Woolf meets him at train 153
- Sterne, Laurence 151
- Strachey, James 50
- Strachey, Lytton 132, 149
Eminent Victorians 127 influence on Woolf's notion of biography 125 and rewriting history 188
- Strauss, Lévi 129–30
- Symbolists 45
- Talland House, St. Ives, Cornwall 155
- Tate, Allen 34
- Teague, Frances 35
- Tennyson, Alfred Lord
 TSE on 111, 155
 Woolf on 156
- Tepper, Michele 178
- theater and performance for Woolf 124
- time (see also Proust)
 animated and preserved by eros for TSE and Woolf 213 consciousness of modernist writers 3–4, 8–9 Great War as temporal disruption 185 Heraclitan stream of time 171 link with trauma 152–3
 lost 212
 modernist extratemporality 212
 sensualization of in Proust 144
 Wordsworth's "spots of time" 166
 TSE and Woolf's cubist poly-temporality 210 not delineated, and open to psychic instability in TSE and Woolf 211–12
 "writing" 1–9, 213
 writing as preserving time 139
 in TSE 42–3, 48
 as chronos 51–2 collapsing 116
 freedom from via memory 99
 and history 49
 lost 5, 9, 59, 79, 116
 anxieties and meditations about in "The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock" 81–3 marks of 49, 108
 overcoming 208
 psychic 51
 "If Time and Space as Sages Say" 101
 truth of 48
 "writing" 53, 60, 65, 77, 101, 104, 177
 in Woolf
 biographic time collapsed 124–31
 double temporality 134–5
 indeterminacy of 126–7 multiple temporalities vis-à-vis multiple identities 127
 not fixable 171
 operates palimpsestically 176
 Otherness of 209
 past time and the currency of the proper name 193
 permanence of past time 169
 as plural and layered 191 pool of time in To the Lighthouse 140, 206
 the present as a wounded temporality 211
 "present time" in Between the Acts 202–3
 "real" time arrived at within Orlando 128
 in relation to reading 166
 and spatiality 208
 tripartite temporality in To the Lighthouse 174–5
 "writing" 127, 135, 184, 185–7, 189, 190
 writing the past stays time 148
 writing against 119
- Times Literary Supplement* 162
- Tiresias 57
- topography 2, 65
graphein of topos, in Woolf 195
 and memory, in Benjamin 195–6 of memory, in Freud 145
 and memory, in Woolf 190–208
- transgenderism 13, 30, 77, 132, 139, 220
- Traub, Valerie 218
- trauma 55
 disinterring traumatic memory 63
 and failure of memory 180, 182 and the healing of forgetting 64

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

262

*Index*trauma (cont.)

- link to temporality 152–3
- positivity in the midst of 152–3
- of the present 136
- trauma studies 6

Trefusis, Violet Keppel 122, 234

Turner, Saxon-Sydney 149

Verdenal, Jean 30, 83, 84

Veterans Day 242

Veyne, Paul 44, 50, 171, 212

Vico, Giambattista 70

Victoria, Queen 207

Voltaire 151

Vorticism 105–6

Wagner, Richard 67, 68

Wall, Wendy 23

War, First World (the Great War) 8

- and limits of written histories 185
- as watershed for twentieth century 155–6
- and TSE

- comes to England at outbreak of war 75

- effects on TSE 84

- letter to his mother about 104

- and memory 60, 95, 153–4

- one of worst blitzes 78

- timing of circulation of Columbo and Bolo poems 14

and Woolf

- Armistice 181, 242, 243

- as “barren sand” 185

- Peace Treaty 183–4

- worries about cultural amnesia 180–5, 199

- “forgets” 182, 183

- insists it cannot be

- forgotten 182

- Woolf and Eliot meet for first time just after

- Armistice 86–7

War, Second World 196, 199, 201, 203, 211, 245

Waterlow, Sydney 206

Webster, John The White Devil 62, 68

Weil, Simone 112–13

Weston, Jessie L. 26

White, Hayden 4, 20, 49–50

Whitehead, Alfred North 169

Whittier-Ferguson, John 5

Wilde, Oscar 85, 96

Wilden, Anthony 168

Williams, William Carlos 177

Woods, Tim 39

Woolf, Leonard

- and League of Nations 183

- in the Memoir Club 149, 150

- Peace celebrations after the Great War 184

- on Woolf’s happy childhood memories 240
- “unconnected” with English history 184

Woolf, Virginia 106

- “22 Hyde Park Gate” 149

- “angel of the house” 237

- “The Art of Biography” 125–6, 152, 181

- influence of Bergson 236

- Between the Acts* 8, 187

- and staging “present time” 202–3

- and Walter Benjamin 192

- compared with Freud 192

- as historical score 199

- and present time 135

- and Lévi-Strauss 192

- topography and memory 190–208

- and TSE 202

biographies of 235–6

Bloomsbury Memoir Club 149–50

- “Byron and Mr. Briggs” 134

- “Character in Fiction” 156

- The Common Reader* 122, 134

- death of her mother 121

- and elegy 173, 177, 178, 193

- emotional instability 234

- fantasies of banishing from domestic sphere 237

- “Freudian Fiction” 163

- “granite and rainbow” 235

- as a complicated thinker of history and memory 8

- as historian 187–90

Hogarth Press 2, 59

- “I am Christina Rossetti” 209

- instability of self and cogito 124

- irregular punctuation 236

- Jacob’s Room* 187, 245

- and presence of history 203

- history as merely the biographies of great men? 126–7, 151

- limits of narrating a life 127

- language as necessary to being and knowing 168

- Melymbrosia* 188

- Memoir Club 149–50

- “The Memoirs of Sarah Bernhardt” 124

- memory and history 48, 155–6

- “moments of being” 88, 147, 166–7, 168, 241

- “Modern Fiction” 65, 66, 138

- Mrs. Dalloway* 187

- critique of psychiatry 161, 183

- and the durability of passion 205

- and forgetting the Great War 181

- intense pleasure at the thought of the past 159

- ruins of senses and emotions 144

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

Index

263

- “The New Biography” 128, 130, 235
Night and Day 87
 “Old Bloomsbury” 150
Orlando 6, 8, 173, 175, 177, 187, 200, 206, 208, 245
 and biography 119–31
 as blason 125
 and corporeality 126, 133–7, 159, 199, 234
 “it’s ecstasy that matters” 156
 English history within 130–1, 135
 history as embodied desire 210
 and “impervious screen of the present” 182 interpreted literally, as history, by British upper classes 133 and the truth of history 132–3 and the progress of the self within the past 169 that “hussy,” memory 137–9 memory and the maternal 198
 memory’s repair 139–41
 and multiplicity of selves 126–7, 151 present arrived at 128 trauma of this 134–7
 violence of the present 157 punctuated by history 128 compared with To the Lighthouse 137, 172 “Phases of Fiction” 138 “Professions for Women” 133, 237
 and Proust 199
 “Reading” 134
Roger Fry: A Biography 150, 152
A Room of One’s Own (see also “Women and Fiction”) adapting the book to the body 134 connection between rapture and memory 156–7 critique of biography 151
 critique of psychoanalysis 161 feminist critique of history 188–90
 fiction more truthful than fact 129 and Sackville-West, Vita (see also Sackville-West and homoeroticism) 119–20, 121, 122, 123, 125, 131, 132–3, 134–5, 139, 140, 150, 158, 233–4 “A Sketch of the Past” 8, 51, 101, 175, 177 and avenue of memory 145
 and death of her mother 153–5 eros and sensual pleasure of childhood
 memory 155–6, 157, 158–9
 ethics of mnemonic testimony 170 “first memory” 198
 its “free page” 148, 152
 and limits of life writing 123
 as manual for reading memory 161 materiality of the past 168 pleasure of writing it 152 problem of its genre for Woolf 148, 151
 in relation to Freud 147, 162
 compared with “Tradition and the Individual Talent” 109 reluctance to write a memoir 150–1, 152 technology could reconnect the past 169–70 writing process as analogous to psychoanalytic treatment 165 writing the past, healing, and the real 168 on theater and performance 124
Three Guineas 151, 172
 on biography as linked with war 151
To the Lighthouse 4, 8, 46, 162, 169, 187, 245
 as autobiographical 172–3 Woolf borrows language from 153 and desire for posterity 237
 for futurity as place 172
 healing trauma, writing the past 172–9 hired help create tabula rasa 237 homosocial bond between Mr. Ramsay and Mr. Tansley 174 and intensity of James’s desire 173–4, 175 James’s successful mourning 175
 and the mother’s promise 173–4, 179
 nostalgia 140
 Oedipal concerns 161, 183
 “pure” present 174
 reaching the lighthouse 147
 and ruins 145, 206
 spectrality of memory 140–1 structure 174–5
 and temporality 174–5 writing it as psychoanalytic cure 165
 and TSE 100
Between the Acts read through “Tradition and the Individual Talent” 195
Between the Acts in relation to “Prufrock” 202 Between the Acts in relation to “Little Gidding” 203
 both fight cultural amnesia 181
 correspondence about TSE 3
 diagnoses his sense of the historiography of language 86
 first meeting 86–7
 cry to Mrs. Ramsay compared with cry to Stetson in The Waste Land 177–8
 intertextually cited in Between the Acts 201
Orlando compared to “The Dry Salvages” 131
 past as still-living body 160
 rebuttal to TSE’s notions of “impersonality” 129
 and reification of past delight 160

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-87785-5 - Modernism, Memory, and Desire: T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf
Gabrielle McIntire

Index

More information

264

*Index*Woolf, Virginia (cont.)

- suggests TSE as caricaturist 33
- Orlando* in relation to “Gerontion” 137
- To the Lighthouse* and “Dry Salvages” 175–7
- “Tradition and the Individual Talent”
 - compared with Between the Acts 191
- Woolf’s sense of barrenness of war
 - compared with The Waste Land 185
- and The Waste Land 204
- The Voyage Out* 124, 206, 245
- The Waves* 187, 245
 - as “Autobiography” 173
 - and colonialism 182
 - fixedness of desire 146
- Neville 119
- ruins 145

“Women and Fiction” (draft of A Room of One’s Own) 151

- The Years* 187
 - and the present 147
 - spring stimulates recollection 41
 - twin unknowability of identity and time 127

Wordsworth, William

- “see into the life of things” 167
- “spots of time” and The Prelude 166

Yeats, William Butler 59–60, 66, 87, 204

zeugma (of memory and desire) 3, 85, 96

Žižek, Slavoj 90, 175, 241

Zwerdling, Alex 35–6, 122, 150, 239