Contents

List of illustrations .......................................................... ix
Notes on contributors .................................................... x
Acknowledgements ........................................................... xiii

Part I  Introduction

1. What is the people?
   Philip Connell and Nigel Leask ................................ 3

Part II  Ballad Poetry and Popular Song

2. ‘A degrading species of Alchymy’: ballad poetics, oral tradition, and the meanings of popular culture
   Nigel Leask ............................................................. 51
3. Refiguring the popular in Charlotte Brooke’s Reliques of Irish Poetry
   Leith Davis .............................................................. 72
4. ‘An individual flowering on a common stem’: melody, performance, and national song
   Kirsteen McCue .......................................................... 88

Part III  Politics and the People

5. Rus in urbe
   John Barrell ............................................................. 109
6. The ‘sinking down’ of Jacobinism and the rise of the counter-revolutionary man of letters
   Kevin Gilmartin .......................................................... 128
Contents

7  Shelley’s Mask of Anarchy and the visual iconography of female distress 148
   Ian Haywood

PART IV  THE URBAN EXPERIENCE  175

8  Popularizing the public: Robert Chambers and the rewriting of the antiquarian city 177
   Ina Ferris

9  Keats, popular culture, and the sociability of theatre 194
   Gillian Russell

10 A world within walls: Haydon, The Mock Election, and 1820s debtors’ prisons 214
    Gregory Dart

PART V  CANON-FORMATION AND THE COMMON READER  237

11 Every-day poetry: William Hone, popular antiquarianism, and the literary anthology 239
    Mina Gorji

12 How to popularize Wordsworth 262
    Philip Connell

Bibliography  283
Index  307