Contents

List of figures

Acknowledgments

1 Introduction

2 The military revolution of the nineteenth century

3 Imperial state formation, the professionalization of the army and the making of experts

4 Forming intelligence, making an archive

5 Disciplining the space of Asia: triangulation and route books

6 Regulating the facts of Asia: military reports and handbooks

7 The uses of intelligence

8 The effects of the imperial security regime in Asia and Great Britain

9 Imperial security and the transformation of Asia

Bibliography

Index
Figures

5.1 Page from Bell's Turkey in Asia (1889)  \(\text{page 77}\)
5.2 Use of prismatic compass, from Mockler-Ferryman  \(\text{81}\)
5.3 Plane table and proper use, from Mockler-Ferryman  \(\text{82}\)
5.4a Example of a boundary pillar, from the Pamir Commission  \(\text{98}\)
5.4b Synopsis of boundary markers from House of Commons Sessional Papers  \(\text{99}\)
6.1 Sketch map showing gun emplacements of Tung-Liang-Shan Fort  \(\text{141}\)
6.2 Panoramic view of the country east of Chin-kiang City  \(\text{142}\)
6.3 Hsiang Shan from the summit of Yu Shan  \(\text{143}\)
6.4 Battery no. VI Kiang-yin  \(\text{143}\)
6.5 Field of fire of guns at Chen-kiang  \(\text{144}\)
6.6 Gun crew loading cannon at Battery No. III, Hsiang Shan  \(\text{145}\)
6.7 Chart showing kinds of guns at Hsiang Shan  \(\text{146}\)
8.1 Buddha, from the Pamir Commission  \(\text{214}\)
8.2 Mad Mullah – The Graphic September 18, 1897  \(\text{234}\)
8.3 Burning a fanatic – The Graphic February 8, 1879, p. 140  \(\text{236}\)
8.4 Fanatics in chains – The Graphic November 28, 1896, p. 678  \(\text{237}\)
8.5 Destruction of Shelan – The Graphic August 28, 1897, p. 280  \(\text{238}\)
8.6 Assault – ILN, December 18, 1897, p. 875  \(\text{239}\)
8.7 Sniper fire from above – ILN, December 18, 1897, p. 882  \(\text{240}\)
8.8 Massacre of cut-off soldier – ILN, December 18, 1897, p. 883  \(\text{241}\)
8.9 Burning villages – The Graphic February 5, 1898, p. 4  \(\text{242}\)