

Contents

List of Figures	page xi
List of Tables	xii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction: Old Age and American Slavery	I
PART I THE ENSLAVED
1 “As to those more advanced in life”: Old Age in Slavery	33
2 “Old and broken now; no tongue can tell how much I suffer”: Sale, Abandonment, and Neglect	72
3 “Young people think that old people are fools but old people know that young people are fools”: Intergenerational Conflict Among the Enslaved	105
4 “Don’t kill such an old creature as I”: Old Age and Community Tension	136
5 “You wont notice me now but you’ll wish you had”: Conjure, Community, and Intergenerational Conflict	164
6 “The summer of my life was passing away”: Resistance, Old Age, and Surviving Slavery	195
PART II ENSLAVERS
7 “Old God damn son-of-a-bitch, she gone on down to hell”: Elderly Enslavers and Enslaved Resistance	225
8 “They are getting too old and weak”: Aged Mastery and White Conflict	251

x	Contents
9	“Something must be done with the old man”: Dominion After Death	289
10	“Let our women and old men . . . be disabused of the false and unfounded notion that slavery is sinful”: Emancipation Contested	318
	Conclusion	346
	Bibliography	353
	Index	380