

Contents

|                                                                           |                 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| Preface                                                            | page vii |
| Acknowledgements                                                   | ix              |
| Note on Translations                                               | xiii            |
| List of Abbreviations                                              | xiv             |
| Introduction                                                              | I               |
| 1 Republics, Monarchies and the Philosophy of Human Society               | 31              |
| 2 Rousseau and the Origins of the ‘Current Malaise of the World’          | 63              |
| 3 Montesquieu’s System and Reforms in Russia                              | 97              |
| 4 The Bildung of Humanity and Modern Virtue                        | 132             |
| 5 German Freedom and Modern Liberty                                       | 173             |
| 6 The Vocation of Poets, Pastors and Philosophers                         | 204             |
| 7 State-Machines, Commerce and the Progress of Humanität in Europe | 230             |
| 8 Perpetual Peace and Purified Patriotism                                 | 276             |
| Conclusion                                                                | 324             |
| Epilogue                                                           | 334             |
| Bibliography                                                       | 346             |
| Index                                                              | 374             |