abortion, 63, 64t
accommodation, 36, 55, 222
adoption, by same-sex couple, 85
Ahad, Ha’Am, 10
Aley Shalaechet (Autumn Leaves), 117–118, 133–134
Aloni, Shulamit, 109
“alternative politics,” 22
Amar, Shlomo, 81
“Am Chofshi” (A Free People) movement, 166
Americanization, 39, 186
Angelovitch, Theresa, 108–123
anti-globalization movement, 22
Appadurai, A., 17
Arab minority in Israel, 224, 225t Ashkenazi
and civil burial, 114, 115t, 192 and civil marriage, 75t, 76, 81, 88, 192 cultural accommodation strategy of, 222
and ideology, 44, 221
and marriage abroad, 93
and middle-class consumerism, 39
and secularization of everyday life, 222
self-identification as, 47
and shopping on Sabbath, 192t view on kashrut, 153, 154t. See also secular Israelis Ashkenazi haredi parties, 45, 52 assimilation, ethnic, 23, 81–82 Association for Civil Rights in Israel, 71, 85 austerity policy, 37
Barak, Ehud, 79
Barber, Benjamin, 16
Basic Law: Human Dignity and Liberty, 146–157
Basic Law making Sabbath official rest day, 201–202
Batei Midrash, 42–43
Beck, Ulrich, 21–22, 219 believing without belonging, 6
Ben-Gurion, David, 32
and marriage law, 65, 66
Benizri, Shlomo, 170
Berdichevsky, Micah Joseph, 30
Berger, Peter, 5
Bialik, Haim Nachman, 180
Bin-Nun, Yoel, 201
Blue Laws, 178
The Blue Mountain (Shalev), 102
born again Jews, 44–45
bricolage, 24, 216
religious, 6
Bruce, Steve, 8
burials and funerals
commercial model of, 105, 106
and freedom of choice, 106, 122, 131 health and social issues, 103–104 ideal-type models of, 105 immigrant and minority needs, 106 market forces, effect on, 104

© in this web service Cambridge University Press burials and funerals (cont.)
modern state, role in, 103–104 political model of, 105 recent reforms in, 105–106 religious model of, 105 secularization of, 104
significance of rituals/arrangements, 103.
See also burials and funerals, in Israel burials and funerals, in Israel aesthetics of, 111, 114, 126, 131–132
and hevra kadisha, 107–108, 111, 122, 123–135, 136
civil burial, lack of popular interest in, 120 civil burial law, 135
civil cemeteries, 120, 124–126, 136–137 civil cemeteries, funding for, 123–124 comprehensive services, 130–131
cremation, 117–118, 132–133 economic model, 128, 134, 137 ethnicity, views on according to, 114–115, 115f
and freedom of choice, 122
and FSU immigrants, 102, 106,
108–111, 116, 117, 118, 120–121,
124, 125
Jewish Orthodox ritual, 107
and judicial system, 122–124
kibbutz cemetery, 118, 128–134
land use, 134, 135
legislation on, 120, 121
meaning and content, lack of, 111–112 Memuna Nekhona, 116–117, 118, 119
military burials, 109–110, 121 nation-building, role in, 103 need for alternatives to Orthodox dexterity, 102–103, 106
Orthodox reactions to secularization, 135–136
planning choices, 126–128
and political realm, 119–121 political-religious model, 107 political-religious model, challenges to, 108–115
preference for Orthodox burial, 113–114
private cemeteries, 126–128, 134, 135, 137
private services, 128–134
quality of service, 132
and Reform movement, 117, 123 religious authority over, 106–108 secular burials, 111–112, 114 secular burials, conservative approach to, 112–115
secular demands as reason for alternatives, 102–103, 106 and secular entrepreneurs, 115–119, 123–137
separation of Jews from non-Jews, 132 state authority over, 106 and women’s rights, 112, 122–123, 127
Casanova, Jose, 15
Center for Jewish Pluralism, 88
Chamberlain, Joseph, 30
Chaves, Mark, 7
Cherlin, Andrew, 62
children out of wedlock, 63, 64f, 77 citizenship
and FSU immigrants, 40, 41
law on, 33, 40f

civil burial
and Ashkenazi, 114, 115f, 192 educational attainment and support for, 114 and FSU immigrants, 114, 115f, 192 lack of popular interest in, 120 law on, 135
and Mizrahim, 114, 115f. See also civil cemeteries
civil cemeteries, 124–126, 136–137
and FSU immigrants, 124, 125
funding for, 123–124
and members of non-Orthodox Jewish communities, 124
and religious-political model, 126 and secular veteran Israelis, 124, 125
civil marriage
educational attainment and support for,
76–77
ethnicity and support for, 75f, 76, 77 gender and support for, 77 support for, 75f
Coca Cola, 141
cohabitation/common law marriage, 96–97 disadvantages, compared with married couples, 97
and divorce, 97
and inheritance rights, 85, 96–97 and judicial systems decisions, 96–97 legal contract for, 97
Index

percentage of marriages, 100 rights of persons in, 96–97 and same-sex couples, 97 commercial model, of burials and funerals, 105, 106 Committee for the Sanctity of Shabbat, 210–211 common law marriage. See cohabitation/common law marriage Conservative movement, 42
and marriage, 72
consumerism, 38–40, 216 and burial/funeral reform, 105, 106 effect on religion, 15–16
and food consumption, 153–156
and globalization, 16, 17
and shopping on Sabbath, 185–187
Council of Torah Sages, 210 counter-secularization, 44–47
born-again Jews, 44–45
and rise of SHAS, 45–46
and Zionist revival, 46–47
Cox, Harvey, 1
cremation, 117–118, 132–133
cuis regio, eius religio (as the ruler, so the religion), 10 cultural accommodation, 36, 222 cultural imperialism, food product as symbol of, 141 Cyprus, marriages in, 92–93
Dan, Kristin, 78
Davie, Grace, 36
days of rest. See Sabbath divorce
and cohabitation/common law marriage, 97 increase in rates, 100
rabbinical court jurisdiction over, 60, 65–66 validity of marriage between Cohen and divorcee, 83. See also marriage; divorce, in Israel Dubnow, Simon, 29
Durkheim, Emile, 3
economic entrepreneurs, 19
economic stabilization program, 38 Edelstein, Yuli, 121 educational attainment of religious and secular, 48f and support for civil burial, 114 and support for civil marriage, 76–77 educational autonomy, 32 educational network of SHAS, 45 Eitan, Raphael, 109 entrepreneurs. See secular entrepreneurs ethnic identity, 4, 23
ethnicity, views according to on burials and funerals, 114–115, 115f on civil marriage, 76, 77 on kashrut, 153, 154f
on shopping on Sabbath, 192f food. See food businesses and factories;
pork consumption
food businesses and factories, 158–164 business strategies, 164–169, 175 demonstrations leading to restriction to industrial zones, 172 economic sanctions to restrict/ban production and sale of pork, 144 and economic slowdown, 168–169 festival for nonreligious, 164 growth in outlets, 139
immigrant customers of, 159, 161
Israeli customers of, 161–162
Karl Berg, 159
Ma’adanei Aviv, 159–160
Ma’adanei Manya, 145, 159, 160–161, 172
Ma’adanei Mizra, 146, 147–148, 149–151, 159, 160, 164, 168
Ma’adanei Waldman, 160, 169
minimizing conflict through closing on Shabbat, 167 minimizing conflict through secular location, 166–168 and pig rearing, increase in, 160 and political identity, 166 political-legislative restrictions/bans on production and sale of pork, 143–144 quantity sold, in tons, 160 and religious party mobilization, 168 and secular identity, 164–166 size of market, in shekels, 160 social-economic and cultural transitions, affect on, 162–164 target population of, 145–146

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org food businesses and factories (cont.)
- variety of available foodstuffs, 165, 164
- and veteran Israelis customers, 160–161 food consumption
- as delineating boundaries, 140
- politics of, 141–142
- relationship with culture and space, 140
- views on sale of non-Kosher food as permissible, 154f, 171f Forum for Freedom of Choice in Marriage, 71, 77–79, 95 Forum for National Consensus, 201 freedom of choice
- and burials, 106, 122, 131
- and marriage, 70, 71, 77–79, 92
- and political agenda, 35
Friedman, Thomas, 147
Friedmann, Daniel, 81
Friedmann-Amar bill, 81
FSU (former Soviet Union) immigrants
- and burials, 108–111, 114, 115f, 116, 118, 124, 125, 192
- and burials, criticism of, 109–110
- and burials as practical problem, 102, 106, 110–111, 120–121
- and burial service preferences, 106
- as challenge to status quo, 40–41, 216
- and citizenship, 40, 41
- and civil marriage, 75f, 76, 77, 192
- demographic needs of, 108–111
- and demographic secularism, 221
- and ideological secularism, 34
- and marriage, 41, 67, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 87
- and marriage abroad, 94
- military burials, criticism of, 109–110
- and political parties, 53
- and political realm, 120–121
- and pork consumption, 151, 152–153, 159, 161, 175
- preference for practical vs. political solutions, 119
- and preference for pragmatic solutions, 101
- reasons for alternatives to Orthodox service, 102
- and secularization of everyday life, 222
- and secular entrepreneurs, 116, 118
- and shopping on Sabbath, 187, 192f
- views on keeping kashrut, 153, 154f
- functional differentiation, 155
- funerals. See burials and funerals; burials and funerals, in Israel
Gal, Avraham, 116
Garbuz, Yair, 109–110
Gatekeeper role, of religion, 32, 33, 36, 65
Gavison, Ruth, 201–202
gay marriage. See same-sex marriage
- gender
- and support for civil marriage, 77. See also women gender marginalization, 224
- gender segregation, xi, 116–117
General Federation of Hebrew Labor (Histadrut), 181
- globalization, 16–18, 24, 215
- anti-globalization movement, 22
- and culture wars, 18
- effect on consumerism, 16, 17
- effect on pluralism, 6–7
- effect on production, 17
- effect on religion, 17–18
- and food consumption, 140–141
- and functional weakening of state, 20
- and local settings, 22–23
government jobs, preference for Jews in, 225f Gregorian calendar, 122
Guidemak, Arkadi, 168–169
Gush Emunim (Bloc of the Faithful), 46–47, 52
Halakhah, 27
- and citizenship, 67
- and day of rest, 199
- and marriage, 65–66, 67, 81
heddi parties, 52, 53
- and “Pig Law,” 146–147, 148
Havaya Institute, 73
Herzl, Theodor, 30
hevrav kadisha (HK), 107
- criticism of, 107–108, 135
- criticism of burial practices of, 111
- criticism of monopoly on burials, 107–108
- flexibility in rules of, 122
- judicial system on, 123
- reform policies of, 136
Index

homosexuals
rights of, 69–70, 84, 85, 224 and same-sex marriage, 77, 79, 89–90, 97

Idelson, Beba, 66
identity
continuing significance of religious, 18 ethnic, 4, 23
national, 4, 23, 214–215
nonreligious self-identity, 36 Orthodox (dati) self-identity, 35–36. See also religious Jews; secular Israelis;
traditional (masorti) Israelis;
ultra-Orthodox Jews (haredim) ideological or principled secularism, 34–35, 221 ideology, 12–13
and Ashkenazi, 44, 221
and FSU immigrants, 34
and liberal tolerance, 12–13 and liberty and freedom, 12 and Mizrahim, 44
and nationalism/religious belief, 13 and secular entrepreneurs, 54, 58, 216–218. See also secularism; secularization
immigrants demographic needs of, 108–111. See also FSU (former Soviet Union) immigrants; Mizrahi
individual freedom argument
and burials, 122
and food consumption, 148
of secular entrepreneurs, 54, 58, 217–218
and secularism, 54, 217
and secularization, 12
and shopping on Sabbath, 173
inheritance rights, and common-law marriage, 85, 96–97 internal secularization (meso-level processes), 6 Israel
definition of secularization in, 27 as ethnic democracy, 224 general trajectory of secularization in, 59 likelihood of becoming secular, 223–228 as nonliberal democracy, 223–224
Israel Democracy Institute, 202
Israeli Association for the Prevention of Religious Coercion, 184 Jew, Orthodox definition of, 40n2 judicial system, 55–57 activism of, 218–219 and burials and funerals, 122–124. See also judicial system, and commerce on Sabbath; judicial system, and marriage judicial system, and commerce on Sabbath, 198–201 social and national values, 200–201 social/cultural significance of Sabbath, 199 civil services, 198–199
Working Hours and Rest Law, 199–200 judicial system, and marriage, 83–86
as challenging/not changing Orthodox monopoly, 85–86 child adoption, 85
civil marriage, 83–84
cohabitation/common-law marriage, 85, 96–97
collective labor agreements, 85 inheritance rights, 85
marriage between coven and divorcee, 83 marriage performed abroad, 85 marriage performed abroad, validity of, 83
pension rights, 85
questions related to personal distress, 84–85
same-sex marriage, 85
Kadima (Forward party), and marriage, 80
Kadish, 107, 112, 114, 127–128, 223
Karl Berg, 159
Katznelson, Berl, 138–139, 180–181, 200 ketubah (Jewish marriage contract), 72, 73, 87
Kibbutz cemetery, 118, 128–134
aesthetics of, 131–132
comprehensive services of, 130–131 and cremation, 132–133
criticism of, 134
good service provided by, 132 separation of Jews/non-Jews in, 132 Labor Party (MAPAI) and austerity policy, 17
and marriage law, 66, 78
ousted out of power, 37
and “Pig Law,” 148
and status quo, 33, 52
Laicization (micro-level process of differentiation), 6
Langenthal, Nahum, 195
Lantzman, Evgeni, 78
Lapid, Yosef, 66
Lantzman, Evgeni, 78
Langenthal, Nahum, 52
Law for Alternative Civil Burial of 1996, 121
Law of Freedom and Occupation, 56
Law of Religious Services, 106–107
Law of Return, 40, 53, 67
Law on Human Dignity and Freedom, 56
League against Religious Coercion, 35
Levi-Strauss, Claude, 60 Liberal freedoms argument and burials, 54
and FSU immigrants, 53
as political/legislative argument, 218
and protests, 184
and sale of pork, xix, 173–174 life-centered funerals, 105–106 Likud party, 52
and “Pig Law,” 148
Livneh, Neri, 111
Local Authorities (Special Enablement) Law (1956), 143, 170–171
Livitch, Rivkah, 122–123
Ma’adanei Aviv, 159–160
Ma’adanei Manya, 145, 159, 160–161, 172
Ma’adanei Mizra, 146, 147–148, 149–151, 159, 160, 164, 168
Ma’adanei Waldman, 160, 169
macro-level process of differentiation (Laicization), 6 mamlachtit, 33
Manya, Yaakov, 166
market economy, and shopping on Sabbath, 202–206 economic justification, 204, 205–206 legitimacy of opening stores on, 202 location of malls, 202–203 malls within city center, 205–206 need and desire for shopping, 203 small businesses in city center, 204–205 market forces, effect on burials and funerals, 104 market rationality argument, 54, 58 marriage
deinstitutionalization of, 62–65
and freedom of choice, 70, 71, 77–79, 92
religious regulation of, 61
same-sex marriage, 77, 79, 89–90, 97
state regulation of, 61–62, 63.
See also marriage, and secular entrepreneurs;
marriage, in Israel
marriage, and secular entrepreneurs, 70–74, 86–92 and abolition of Orthodox monopoly, 70, 72–73 business-like attitude, 91–92 and ceremonies of secular Jewish cultural nature, 70, 73–74 civil weddings abroad, 88
Conservative movement, 88
Conservative movement ceremony, 87–88 constitutionality of marriages, 71 contract marriages, 71
differences in goals/strategies of, 70–71 downside of association with FSU immigrants, 87
and freedom of choice, 70
learning process for participants, 90–91 legal status of marriages, 71 mixed marriages, 71
and non-Orthodox religious movements, 72–73
and postmaterial values, 89 profit-motivated entrepreneurs, 70
quality of service, 91–92
Reform movement, 88
Reform movement ceremony, 87–88 same-sex marriages, 71, 89–90
service aspect of, 73–74.
See also marriage; marriage, in Israel
marriage, in Israel
awareness of marriages abroad, 95
as challenging/not changing Orthodox monopoly, 85–86 and children out of wedlock, 64, 77
civil marriage, 63, 83–84
civil marriage, support for, 74–77
Index

cohabitation/common-law marriage, 85, 96–97 cohen and divorcée, validity of marriage between, 83 collective labor agreements, 85
conclusions about marriage and decline of religious authority, 100–101 and Conservative movement, 87–88 and couples recognized as non-Jews according to halakhab, 81 Cyprus as location for, 92–95 data on persons marrying abroad, 93
deinstitutionalization of, 100
and Forum for Freedom of Choice in Marriage, 77–79
and Friedmann-Amar bill, 81
and FSU immigrants, 92–96, 100
and Friedmann-Amar bill, 81
and heritage, 85
and Kadima (Forward party), 80 marginal increase in marriages at rabbinate, 98f, 100 marriage abroad, 85, 92–96, 100 marriage abroad, marketing of, 93–95 marriage abroad, validity of, 83 and Meretz party, 80, 81 and mixed families, 79
and New Family organization, 78 new trends of secular Israelis, 68 non-material demands of secular Israelis, 68–69
and non-Orthodox religious movements, 72–73 opposition to Orthodox monopoly on, 66–67 Orthodox ceremony preference, 72–73, 74–75, 100 Orthodox response outside rabbinate, 97–99, 101 and pension rights, 85 political effect of marriage abroad, 95–96
and political realm, 77–82
and postmaterial values, 69
proposed marriage and divorce bill, 78–79
questions related to personal distress, 84–85
rabbinical court jurisdiction over, 60, 63, 65–66
and Reform movement, 87–88 restrictive scope initiatives, failure of, 82
same-sex marriage, 69–70, 77, 79, 85, 89–90
secular ceremonies, 86–88, 92 and secular entrepreneurs (see marriage, and secular entrepreneurs)
service aspect of, 91–92
single-parent families, 79
and status quo, 65–66, 101
tax agency role in, 95
Tzohar marriage ceremony, 99
Tzohar marriage initiative, 97–99 undermining of status quo on, 67–70 upscale weddings, 94–95 and Yisrael B’Aliya organization, 79–80 and Yisrael Beiteinu party, 80
Marx, Karl, 14
McDonalds, 141, 193–194
Meat and Its Products Law (1994), 158
Meteal, 157–158
Medan, Yaakov, 201–202
Meimad party, 201
Meir, Golda, and marriage law, 66
Menuha Nekhona (Rest in Peace; MN), 116–117, 118, 119, 124, 134
Meretz party, 53
and burials, 124
and marriage, 80, 81
and public transport on Sabbath, 166
and shopping on Sabbath, 196–197
meso-level processes (internal secularization), 6 micro-level processes of differentiation, 6 Middle East immigrants. See Mizrahim
military burials, 121
military exemption for haredim, 148–149 Mills, C. Wright, 3
miqva (ritual bath), 69
Mizrahim, 36
and civil burial, 114, 115f
and civil marriage, 75f, 76
and ideology, 44
and kashrut, 153, 154f, 192f and religious life, 45 and self-identification, 47 and shopping on Sabbath, 192f. See also SHAS party

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
Mizrahi (national religious party) and marriage law, 65
and status quo, 33, 65
Movement for Progressive Judaism in Israel, 88 Municipalities’ Ordinance Law, 1991, 183 national identity, 4, 23, 214–215 role of Jewish religion in, 214–215 National Religious Party (NRP), 52 nation-building, role of burials/funerals in, 103 neo-institutional theory, 8–10, 24 neoliberalism as challenge to status quo, 37–40
and globalization, 17, 38
and secularization, xviii, 2, 57
New Family Organization, 71, 78, 97 nonideological secularization, 14–16 and consumerism, 15–16
and early capitalism, 14 and modern capitalism, 14–16 nonreligious Israelis self-identity of, 36
on shopping on Sabbath, 176–177
See also secular Israelis
North African immigrants. See Mizrahim
Olmert, Ehud, and civil marriage, 78–79
Or, Theodore, 158
Orthodox (dati) self-identity, 35–36. See also identity; ultra-Orthodox Jews Orthodoxy, as vicarious religion, 36
Padan, Omri, 193–194
Paine, Thomas, 177–178
“Paraguayan marriage,” 92
pension rights, 85
Peretz, Amir, and civil marriage, 78–79
Pesachov, Lev, 109–110
Pig-Raising Prohibition Law (“Pig Law”), 145 and Agudat Israel Party, 147, 148 efforts to close loopholes in, 146–147 and haredi parties, 146–147, 148 and Likud party, 148
and NRP party, 146
pluralism, 6–7
Poggi, Gianfranco, 10
political apathy, 51
political crisis, 51–53
and loss of legitimacy of status quo, 52 political apathy as response to, 51 protests as response to, 51–52 political entrepreneurs, 19 political model, of burials and funerals, 105 politics, role of everyday choices in shaping, 22
pork consumption, 170–175
after statehood, 142
Agudat Israel Party and “Pig Law,” 147, 148 and Basic Law: Freedom of Occupation, 156–157, 158, 199–200 and Basic Law: Human Dignity and Liberty, 156–157 challenges to municipal law by non-kosher butcheries, 172 court case to repeal municipal bylaws, 172–174 cultural preferences, restrictions, changes, 140–142, 175 de-politicization of pork, 151–153 efforts to close loopholes in “Pig Law,” 146–147 and emergence of consumer society, 153–156 ethnicity, view on kashrut according to, 153, 154, 175
and FSU immigrants, 151, 152–153, 175
balakbic prohibition on eating pork, 138 haredi parties and “Pig Law,” 146–147, 148 Labor Party and “Pig Law,” 148 and legal sphere, 156–157 level of kashrut observance, 153–154, 154f, 169 Likud party and “Pig Law,” 148 limitations of laws on, 145 and Local Authorities Law, 1956, 143, 170–171 local struggles on, 170–175 and Ma’adanei Mizra, 146, 147–148, 149–151, 159 and Meat and Its Products Law, 158 and Meatreal petition, 157–158 national political realm, debate in, 146–151 need for new legislation, 146, 147
Index

“normalization” of pork, 155–156, 158, 173
NRP Party and “Pig Law,” 146 and Pig-Raising Prohibition Law, 145 politics of pork, 142–146 religious argument on, 142–143 religious use of national argument on, 143–146 secular opposition to “Pig Law,” 147, 148–151 secular view on keeping kashrut, 154–155 secular Zionism on, 138–139 before statehood, 142
as status/lifestyle expression, 141
See also food businesses and factories; food consumption postmaterial values and burials, 106, 126 and marriages, 69, 89
postmodern family, 62
private cemeteries aesthetics of, 126 and economic model, 128, 134, 137 and land use, 134, 135 and planning choice, 126–128. See also kibbutz cemetery property rights, and common-law marriage, 96–97 Protestant Ethic (Weber), 14–15 punctuated equilibrium, 9
Rabbinical Courts Jurisdiction (Marriage and Divorce) Law, 65–66 Rafael, Yitzchak, 145
rationalization, dynamics of, 3
Reform movement (Israeli Movement for Progressive Judaism), 42
and burials, 117, 123
and marriage ceremony, 72
and marriage initiatives needed, 95 religion a la carte, 6
religiosity, as ingrained in state and society, 214 religious affiliation, mismatch with secular behavior, 223 “religious” and “secular” as de-politicized, 20 in formal political realm, 20 religious economies model, 5 religious identity, 18
continuing significance of, 18. See also identity religious Jews on abortion, 64f
on desirability of parliamentary legislation on Jewish law, 219t
on preference for Jews in government jobs, 225t
on rights of Arabs in Israel, 225t
on sale of nonkosher food, 154f, 171t
self-identification as, 48t
on shopping on Sabbath, 192t
and Zionist revival, 46–47 religious movements, worldwide growth of, 4 religious-political model, and civil cemeteries, 126 republican citizenship argument and burials, 54, 109, 218 and commerce on Sabbath, 183–184, 194
of contribution, 149–150, 164
and marriage, 77–78, 99, 218
as political/legislative argument, 218 and sale/consumption of pork, xix, 139, 148–150, 217–218
and secularization, 58
Sabbath, commerce on, 177–180 and alternative official day of rest, 196 arguments based on cultural/ecological/social reasons, 195–196 Basic Law making Sabbath official rest day, 201–202 during British Mandate, 181–182 concerns over rapid commercialization, 190 confrontations, 207
consumer boycotts, 209–211 and consumer society, 185–187 covenants and pacts, 201–202 and culture struggle, 183–185 decision to open business on Sabbath, 188–189 demonstrations, 183–185 economic justification for, 204, 205–206 enforcement and evasion, 206–208 and ethnicity, 192t Sabbath, commerce on (cont.)
evasion tactics, 207–208 expansion as economic decision, 187–189 flexible attitude toward, 190 and Forum for National Consensus, 201
and FSU immigrants, 187
and Israel Democracy Institute, 202
and judicial system, 198–201
and keeping of Shabbat commandments, 189 legitimacy of opening stores on, 202
local struggles, 208–211 and market economy, 202–206 and mayors of cities, 196–197 and McDonald’s controversy, 193–194 and need and desire for shopping, 203 and nongovernmental organizations, 201 nonreligious position on, 176–177 political debate on, 193–197 public support for shopping on, 189–192 and religious businesspeople, 197, 209 religious/secular arguments on, 176, 177–179, 189 republican citizenship argument on, 183–184, 194 road closures, 209
and secular entrepreneurs, 187–189, 191, 197 shopping malls, location of, 202–203 shopping malls in city centers, 186, 205–206, 209 shopping malls outside cities, 186, 202–203
small businesses in city center, 204–205
social and economic arguments on, 179–180, 187–188 and social and national values, 200–201 and social/cultural significance of Sabbath, 199 state authority on, 180–183
during statehood, 182–183 summary of, 211–212
traditional position on, 189–190, 191 and unions, 179
and vital services, 198–199 and Working Hours and Rest Law (1951), 182–183, 199–200, 206–207
same-sex marriage, 63, 69–70, 71, 77, 79, 89–90, 97
Sar-Shalom, Eyal, 147
Sartori, Giovanni, 12
Scholem, Gerschom, 214
Secular Ceremonies Institute, 79, 89 secular entrepreneurs, 19–20, 24, 25, 53–55 and burials and funerals, 115–119, 123, 137
and commerce on Sabbath, 187, 188–189, 191, 197
economic entrepreneurs, 19
and FSU immigrants, 116, 118, 187
ideological and economic motives of, 54, 216–217 individual freedom argument of, 54, 58, 217–218 market rationality argument of, 54, 58 and marriage (see marriage, and secular entrepreneurs)
political entrepreneurs, 19
and pork sale/consumption (see food businesses and factories) republican citizenship argument of, 54, 58, 217–218 and subpolitics, 219–220 transformative effects of, 54–55 transformative effects of, constraints on, 55 use of loopholes in political system, 219 secular humanism, 34–35 secularism
ambivalence of, 33, 43, 214–215, 221
and burials, 132
demographic, 221
ideological or principled, 34–35, 36–37, 221 and individual freedom arguments, 54 overall weakness of, xi vs. secularization, 1, 12, 217
and shopping on Sabbath, 176
and tolerance, xiii–xiv, 13 before Zionism, 214
secular Israelis
on abortion, 64f
and burials, 111–113, 114, 115f, 115j, 116–117, 124, 125
Index

Chief Rabbinate, views on, 43
on desirability of parliamentary legislation on Jewish law, 219t on marriage, 75t
practices of, 49t
on preference for Jews in government jobs, 225t
on rights of Arabs in Israel, 225t
on sale of nonkosher food, 154f, 171t
self-identification as, 48t
and shopping on Sabbath, 189, 191–192t secularization and challenges to status quo, 37–43
and Conservative movement, 42 contradictions of, 2, 221–223 as decline in religious authority, 1–2, 24, 215, 217 derivation of, 3
economic aspect of, 220
and emergence of religious/spiritual alternatives, 41–43 as everyday life practices, 2, 20, 24, 25, 50, 215–216, 220, 222 expected effects and outcomes of, 25–26 general principles underlying study of, 24 geographic aspect of, 220 globalization, effect on, 2 and ideal types, 221–222 immigration of FSU immigrants, effect on, 40–41 and institutional arrangements between religious organizations, 11 as institutional change, 215–217 internal, 6
levels of analysis, 6
local context of, 23, 24, 216 and mixed types, 222–223 of modern state, 10–11
and neoliberal economy, 37–40 nonideological, 14, 15–16
as outside formal politics, 2–3, 217 and political power and authority of religion, 11 as political process, 2
politics of, 217–220
principles of development of, 24–25
and Reform Movement, 42
and religion and national/ethnic identities, 23
vs. secularism, 1, 12, 217 and transformation in basic politics/religion relationship, 10. See also secularism; secularization theory secularization theory, 3–4
criticism of, 4–5
defense of, 5–6
secular Judaism, 42–43
Segal, Israel, 27
self-identification, 47–51 change in meaning over time, 48 complexity of, 49–50
nonreligious, 36
overview of, 48t
secular, 47
societal change, effect on, 50. See also religious Jews; secular Israelis; traditional (masorti) Israelis; ultra-Orthodox Jews (haredim) Sephardic Jews
and assimilation, 81–82
and marriage, 81
Shalev, Meir, 102
Shapira, Avraham, 147, 148
Sharansky, Natan, 79–80
SHAS party, 52–53
and counter-secularization, 45–46
on freedom of occupation, 158 and sale/consumption of pork, 168, 170 on violations of Sabbath law, 193
Sherlo, Yuval, 98
Shinui (change) party, 53, 81, 166
single-parent families, 84, 100
Status Quo, 52–33
challenges to, 34–35
components of, 32
institutions to overcome disagreements, 32–33 stability of, 33–34
state law based on, 32
Stav, David, 98–99
subpolitics, 21–22, 57–58, 219–220 supply-side (religious economies) model, 5 Supreme Court, 55–56
third world, religious resurgence in, 4 Tnuva, 144
traditional (masorti) Israelis
on abortion, 64f
on burial, 112–113
Index

258

cultural accommodation strategy of, 222
on desirability of parliamentary legislation on Jewish law, 219 practices of, 49
on preference for Jews in government jobs, 225
on rights of Arabs in Israel, 225
on sale of nonkosher food, 154, 171
and secularization of everyday life, 222
self-identification as, 36, 48
on shopping on Sabbath, 189–190, 191, 192 trust in government and politicians, decline in, 21
Tzaban, Yair, 119
Tzohar marriage initiative, 97–99
Uganda Plan, 30–31
ultra-Orthodox Jews (haredim)
on abortion, 64
change among, 50
on commerce on Sabbath, 191–192
on desirability of parliamentary legislation on Jewish law, 219 exemption from military service, 53 political parties, 52, 53
on preference for Jews in government jobs, 225
on rights of Arabs in Israel, 225
on sale of nonkosher food, 154, 171
self-identification as, 48
on Tzohar marriage initiative, 98

Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 63 Verdery, Katherine, 103
vicarious religion, 4
Walter, Tony, 136
Warhaftig, Zerach, 143, 144
Weber, Max, 3, 14, 15
Weissman, Dudi, 210–211 welfare state, 45
women
and abortion rights, 64
and burial rights, 112, 122–123, 127, 213 and military service, 213 and Orthodox divorce process, 66 and Orthodox marriage regulations, 69. See also gender Working Hours and Rest Law (1951), 182–183, 194, 200–201

yeshivot (Colleges of Higher Jewish Learning), 42–43, 44–45
Yishai, Eli, 193
Yisrael B’Aliya party, 79, 80
Yisrael Beitenu party, 80
Youth Employment Law, 193

Zionism, 29–32
adoption of religious symbols, 31 and national identity/religion relationship, 214 revival of, 46–47
before secularism, 214