

INDEX

- abrasion, 20, 186, 238 abrupt retouch, 170 abrupt scrapers, 97
 Abu Maadi points, 180, 242
 Abu Salem points, 242–244
 Abu Sif knives, 100, 108
 Acheulian assemblages, 73–76
 Early, 73–74
 Late, 74–76
 Middle, 74
 Acheulo-Yabrudian assemblages, 72, 76–78 ad-hoc hammerstones, 36
 adzes, 184, 233–237, 238 aesthetic qualities of stone tools, 14 Agro-Standard assemblages, 274, 284–285 alternate burinated bec, 144 alternate flat endscrapers, 132 alternately-retouched bladelets, 176 alternate retouch, 170 alternate retouched becs, 98 alternate scrapers, 97, 102
 Amuq A-B assemblages, 284
 Amuq points, 244, 246 angle dihedral burin, 134 angle dihedral burin on break, 134 animal community of Levant, 10 anvils, 21, 23, 27–28, 147–148 archaeological method and theory, biasing effect of, 291–292 archaeological periods, 5–6 archaeological record
 Epipaleolithic, 163–164
 Middle Paleolithic, 82
 Neolithic, 216–222
 Upper Paleolithic, 118–120
 archaeological sites in Levant, 48, 115 arch backed bladelets, 177 arch backed bladelets with basal modification, 177 Arqov/Divshon assemblages, 151, 156 arrowheads, 248 artifact-types, 317–318
 defined, 37–38
 Geneste's typology of Middle Paleolithic débitage products, 91–93
 Lower and Middle Paleolithic checklists, 317
 Neolithic checklist, 318
 Upper Paleolithic and Epipaleolithic checklists, 317
 Ashkelon knives, 251–252
 ASPRO (Atlas des sites du Proche Orient) framework, 219–220
 assemblage-groups, 38–39
 assemblages. See industries Aswadian assemblages, 272, 276–277

- Aswad points, 242–244
- asymmetrical trapeze A microliths, 178
- asymmetrical trapeze B microliths, 178
- Atlas des sites du Proche Orient* (ASPRO) framework, 219–220
- Atlitian assemblages, 151, 154–156
- atypical artifacts
- awls, 98
 - backed knives, 98, 143
 - burins, 98
 - carinated endscrapers, 132
 - endscrapers, 98, 132
 - Helwan lunate, 178
 - lunate, 178
 - perforators, 143
 - Ramon points, 177
 - triangles, 178
- Aurignacian blades, 135–138
- awls, 34–36, 98, 102–104, 258
- axes, 233–236, 238, 261, 262, 263
- backed blades, 174–175
- backed fragments, 143, 181
- backed knives, 34–36, 98, 143, 181
- backed pieces, 144, 145, 260
- backed points, 143
- backing, 33, 170
- BAI (Big Arrowhead Industries), 272, 279–280, 281
- Baradostian assemblages, 151, 157
- Barajné retouch, 170
- beaked burin, 134
- becks, 98, 144, 258
- bedrock mortars, 263–264
- behavioral-strategic approaches, 13–14
- behavioral variability, 314
- Beit Tamir knives, 249–250, 252
- bending initiations, 18
- Besorian assemblages, 273, 284
- biases influencing lithic record, 289–292
- geological attrition, 290
 - historical and geographic factors, 290–291
 - variability in archaeological method and theory, 291–292
- bidirectional blade cores, 223, 226, 227
- bifaces, Borde's terminology for, 61
- biface thinning flakes, 60–63
- bifacial foliate, 99
- bifacial knives, 250–252
- bifacial LCTs, mean length values for, 297
- bifacially-backed sickle inserts, 252
- bifacial retouch, 32–34
- bifacial scrapers, 97, 102
- Big Arrowhead Industries (BAI), 272, 279–280, 281
- bipolar bidirectional blade cores, 226
- bipolar percussion, 21, 23
- bipolar retouch, 170
- Biqat Quneitra, 112
- bitruncated pieces, 144
- blade cores
- Lower Paleolithic, 54
 - Middle Paleolithic, 93–94
 - Neolithic, 225–226
 - Upper Paleolithic, 124–126
- blade-core trimming elements,
Neolithic, 228
- bladelets. See specific bladelets by name
- with complete fine retouch, 176
 - increased production during Epipaleolithic, 167–169
 - with multiple notches, 144
 - with partial fine retouch, 176
 - produced by prismatic blade core technology, Upper Paleolithic, 127–128
 - retouched, in Epipaleolithic, 175–184
 - retouched, in Upper Paleolithic, 135–138
 - retouched on both edges, 176
- blades. See also specific blades by name
- backed, in Epipaleolithic, 174–175
 - with continuous retouch on both edges, 145
 - with continuous retouch on one edge, 145
 - defined, 32
 - with multiple notches, 144
 - Neolithic, 228

- produced by prismatic blade core technology, Upper Paleolithic, 127–128
- production in Middle Paleolithic, Upper Paleolithic and Epipaleolithic, 306
- retouched, in Upper Paleolithic, 135–138
- with small-scale denticulation, 253
- with two polished retouched edges, 253
- blunt backed bladelets, 176
- boat-shaped bidirectional blade cores, 226
- bola stones, 70
- bones, in Natufian assemblages, 208
- Bordian typology for retouched artifact types, 94–95, 96, 115–116
- borers, 258
- bowls, 191, 269
- Broad-Spectrum Revolution, 162
- bulbar eminence, 29
- bulb of percussion, 29
- bullet-shaped blade cores, 225–226
- burination, 33–34
- burin flakes, 172–173
- burins, 98
 - on concave truncations, 134
 - on convex truncations, 134
 - defined, 33–36
 - Epipaleolithic, 172–173
 - on lateral preparations, 134
 - on Levallois point, 135
 - Middle Paleolithic, 102–104
 - multiple, 124–126
 - Neolithic, 259
 - Upper Paleolithic, 133–135
- burin spalls, 33–34, 135, 172–173
- burin-truncated pieces, 144
- Byblos points, 244, 246
- byproducts of LCT production, 60–64
- canted scrapers, 97, 101–102
- carinated burins, 134
- carinated endscraper–burins, 144
- carinated endscrapers, 131, 132
- carinated pieces, 124–126
- carved stones, 261, 266–267, 268
- caves, 6
- Cayonü knives, 253
- celts, 184, 185, 233–238, 261, 262, 263
- celt tranchet flakes, 229
- central blades, 228
- chaîne opératoire* approach, 13, 14
- chamfered pieces
 - Emiran assemblages, 149
 - on lateral preparation, 138
 - on notch, 138
 - Upper Paleolithic, 138
- chanfreins*. See chamfered pieces
- children, tool production by, 42
- chips, 32
- chisels, 184–186, 233–238, 239
- choppers, 50, 99
- chopping tool, 99
- chronology
 - of Neolithic projectile points, 249
 - of Neolithic sickle inserts, 256
 - Stone Age, 5–6
 - variability in Upper Paleolithic, 157–158
- chronostratigraphy
 - of Epipaleolithic, 163
 - formation of frameworks, 311–313
 - of Middle Paleolithic, 115
 - of Neolithic, 219–220
 - of PPNB, 280
 - of Upper Paleolithic, 149
- circular endscrapers, 132
- Clactonian notch, 144
- cleavers, 60
- climate in Levant, 8, 9–10
- cobble fragments, 31–32
- combination tools, 142–144, 145
- comparative approaches, 294–295
- completely retouched bladelets, 176
- completely retouched blades, 181
- completeness of flakes, 338
- composite tools, 34–36
- concave convergent scrapers, 97
- concave stones, 266
- concave transverse scrapers, 97

- conchoidal fractures, 18, 19
 contextual clues, 17 convergent scrapers, 66, 101–102 convex convergent scrapers, 97 convex transverse scrapers, 97 core-preparation flakes, 128–130 core-rejuvenation, 130–131 cores
 defined, 22
 Epipaleolithic, 168
 general discussion, 28
 measuring, 334–336
 Neolithic, 223, 225
 core scrapers, 60 cores-on-flakes, 36 core tablet flakes, 130 core technology
 in Epipaleolithic, 166–169 in Middle Paleolithic, 84–94
 in Neolithic, 223–226
 in Upper Paleolithic, 122–131
 core-tools
 defined, 36
 Neolithic, 233
 core-trimming elements (CTE), 32, 130–131, 226–228, 229 cortex, 28 coverage, 334 extent, 338 cortical flakes, 31–32, 226–227 crested blades, 128–130
 cryptocrystalline silicates, 18
 CTE (core-trimming elements), 32, 130–131, 226–228, 229 cultural aspects of lithic variation, 45–46 culture, 38
 culture-historical approaches, 12–13 culture-stratigraphic approaches, 10–12 curation of pebble-cores, 54 curved backed knives, 181 curved pointed bladelets, 176 dates, abbreviations for, 5 débitage

 defined, 22

 Geneste's typology of Middle Paleolithic products, 91–93
 measuring, 337–342
 demi-Quina retouch, 66
 Demirköy points, 242 denticulated pieces, Neolithic, 260 denticulated scrapers, 145 denticulates, 34–36, 98, 102–104, 144, 184 denticulation, 33
 desert in Levant, 8–10 detached pieces, Neolithic, 226–229 blades and blade-core trimming elements, 228
 flakes, 228–229
 other core-trimming elements, 228 directionality of flake scars, 334–336 direct percussion, 124 direct procurement, 40–41 discard, 44–45 discoids, 50–53
 distal microburin, 174
 distal opposed-platform blade cores, 126 distal-proximal symmetry, 339–340 divers, 145
 dorsal surface morphology, 338–339 dorsal surface of flake, 29–30 double concave scrapers, 96 double convex-concave scrapers, 96 double convex scrapers, 96 double flat endscrapers, 132 double microburin, 174 double scrapers, 66, 100 double straight-concave scrapers, 96 double straight-convex scrapers, 96 double straight scrapers, 96 double-truncated Helwan points, 177 Dour Choueir bladelets, 180 drawings of stone tools, 22, 25–27 drill bits, 258
 Dufour bladelets, 135–138, 145, 176

 Early Acheulian assemblages, 71, 73–74
 Early Ahmarian assemblages, 150, 152–154

- Early Epipaleolithic assemblages, 163, 193–203
- Early Hamran, 202–203
- Kebaran, 200
- Nebekian, 200–201
- Nizzanan, 202
- Qalkhan, 202
- Early Hamran assemblages, 194, 202–203
- Early Levantine Mousterian assemblages, 108
- Early Neolithic assemblages, 272, 274–278
- Early Neolithic Period, 220
- Early Ramonian assemblages, 196
- Early Upper Paleolithic assemblage groups, 148–154
- Early Ahmarian, 152–154
- Emiran, 148–152
- Levantine Aurignacian, 154
- East Mediterranean Levant. See Levant
- East Mediterranean Middle Paleolithic assemblages, 111–112
- ecofacts, 55
- ecotones, 8–10
- ecozones, 8–10
- Edge Angle, 345
- Edge Shape in Plan View variable, 343
- El-Khiam points, 241–242
- elongated flake cores, 224
- elongated Levallois flakes, 90
- elongated Mousterian points, 96, 100, 108
- elongated points, 240, 244, 246
- El Wad points, 140, 141–142, 175
- embedded procurement, 40–41
- Emiran assemblages, 148–150, 152
- Emireh points, 139–140, 141–142, 149
- end-notched flakes, 99
- endscrapers
- on Aurignacian blades, 132
 - Bordian typology for, 98
 - defined, 66
 - endscraper/burins, 144
 - endscraper/truncated pieces, 144
 - on Levallois points, 132
- Middle Paleolithic, 102
- on retouched blades, 132
 - Upper Paleolithic, 131, 144
- Eolithic Period, 311
- Epipaleolithic Period, 161–212
- archaeological record, 163–164
 - artifact-type checklists, 317
 - differences between Neolithic and, 286–287
- Early Epipaleolithic assemblages, 193–203
- flaked stone technology & typology, 164–186
- groundstone tools, 186–191
- human behavioral evolution, 162–163
- Late Epipaleolithic assemblages, 206–209
- lithics references, 164
- Middle Epipaleolithic assemblages, 203–206
- Montane Levant assemblages, 209–210
- overview, 7
- patterns in lithic record, 304–306
- periodization, 163
- epochs, 5
- epsilon blades, 228
- Erq el-Ahmar, Israel, 73
- ethnoarchaeology, 17
- Euphrates Variant of BAI, 281
- ex oriente* research group, 222
- exosomatic symbols, 310
- experimental archaeology, 17
- external platform angle, 342
- facetted stones, 230–231
- Falita points, 143, 175
- fan-shaped endscrapers, 132
- Final Hamran assemblages, 203–204
- fine retouch, 170
- fissures, 29
- flake cores, 223–224
- flaked stone celts, 233–234
- flaked stone tools, Epipaleolithic, 164–169, 186. See also retouched tools, Epipaleolithic

- flaked stone tools, Neolithic, 232–260
 - celts, 233–238
 - core tools, 233
 - knives, 249–252
 - projectile points, 238–249
 - retouched tools, 256–260
 - sickle inserts, 252–256
- flake fragments, 32
- flake-release surface, 28
- flakes
 - Bordian typology for, 98–99
 - byproducts of LCT production, 60–64
 - with continuous retouch, 145
 - defined, 22
 - general discussion, 28–32
 - measuring, 337–342
 - Neolithic, 226–229
 - produced by Levallois core technology, 86–93
 - produced by pebble cores, 54
 - produced by prismatic blade core technology, 127–131
- flake scars
 - directionality of, 334–336
 - number of, 334
- flake scrapers, 132
- flat-faced carinated burins, 134
- flat invasive retouch, 253–254
- flat-nosed endscrapers, 133
- flintknapping, 21
- foliate points, 34–36
- Font Yves points, 140
- fossils, index, 10–12
- fractures
 - conchoidal, 18, 19
 - general discussion, 17–21
 - propagation, 20
- function of pebble-cores, 54
- Geneste's typology of Middle Paleolithic
 - débitage products, 91–93
- geographic factors, biasing effect of, 290–291
- geography
 - of Levant, 6–10
 - variation in Upper Paleolithic, 158
- geological attrition, biasing effect of, 290
- geological time, 5
- Geometric Kebaran assemblages, 195, 203
- geometric microliths, 138, 178
- geometric pieces, 180
- Gesher Benot Ya'acov, Israel, 64
- giant core technology, 64
- Giant Flake Acheulian assemblages, 74
- Gilgal truncations, 260
- glass, 18
- Goring-Morris typology, 174
- grinding tools
 - grinding slabs, 147–148, 262, 264
 - grinding stones, 187, 188
 - in Upper Paleolithic, 146–148
- grooved stones, 189, 190–191, 266–267
- groundstone celts, 233–234, 262, 263
- groundstone tools, 37, 186
- groundstone tools, Epipaleolithic, 186–191, 305–306, 310–311
- groundstone tools, Neolithic, 232, 260–270
 - carved stones, 266–268
 - celts/axes, 262
 - occurrences of, 271
 - pulverizing equipment, 262–266
 - stone vessels, 268–270
 - time and energy investment in, 310–311
 - variation among, 270
- Güzir points, 242
- hachoir, 99
- hafting, 302, 304
- Hagdud truncations, 260
- hammerstones, 22, 24–27, 36, 146–147
- handaxes, 58–60, 297
- handles, 105
- handstones, 187, 188, 265–266
- Ha-Parsa points, 244–246
- hard-hammer percussion, 21, 23
- Harifian assemblages, 198, 209
- Harifian points, 239–240, 241

- Harif points, 180, 209, 238 heat treatment, 21 heavy duty tools
 Epipaleolithic, 184–186
 heavy-duty scrapers, 60
 Neolithic, 233
 heavy perforators, 143
 Helwan bladelets, 177
 Helwan blades, 181
 Helwan lunate, 178
 Helwan points, 177, 240, 242–244, 245
 Helwan retouch, 170
 Hertzian initiations, 18, 29
 Herzliya points, 244–246 higher-order groupings, 37–39 historical factors, biasing effect of, 290–291 Holocene Epoch, 5
 hominin evolution
 Epipaleolithic, 162–163
 Lower Paleolithic, 47–48
 Middle Paleolithic, 81–82
 Neolithic, 214–216
 Upper Paleolithic, 117–118
 Huleh break, 237–238

 iconological style, 45 illustrations of stone tools, 22, 25–27 improving lithic evidence in Lower Paleolithic, 79–80
 in Middle Paleolithic, 115–116
 in Neolithic, 287–288 inclined cores, 28
 index fossils, 10–12 indirect percussion, 21, 23, 124 industrial complexes, 38–39 industries culture-historical approaches to lithic analysis, 12–13
 defined, 38–39
 industries, Epipaleolithic, 193–210, 211
 Early Epipaleolithic assemblages, 193–203
 Late Epipaleolithic assemblages, 206–209
 Middle Epipaleolithic assemblages, 203–206
 in Montane Levant, 209–210
 industries, Lower Paleolithic, 70–78, 79–80
 Acheulian assemblages, 73–76
 Acheulo-Yabrudian assemblages, 76–78
 PCAs, 70–73
 Tayacian assemblages, 76
 industries, Middle Paleolithic, 105–114
 Levantine Mousterian assemblages, 105–112
 Southwest Asian Montane Mousterian assemblages, 112–114 industries, Neolithic, 270–286
 Early Neolithic, 274–278
 Late Neolithic, 280–285
 Middle Neolithic, 278–280
 Stone Age in Levant after Neolithic, 285–286 industries, Upper Paleolithic, 148–158 chronological variability, 157–158
 Early Upper Paleolithic assemblage groups, 148–154 geographic variation, 158
 Later Upper Paleolithic assemblage-groups, 154–157
 in Montane Levant, 157
 initiation of fracture, 18–19, 21 intensification, Epipaleolithic, 304–305 Interglacial Levantine Mousterian assemblages, 108–110 internal platform angle, 342 interpretive concepts in lithic analysis, 39–46 discard/recycling, 44–45
 raw material procurement, 40–41 social and cultural aspects of lithic variation, 45–46 tool production, 41–43 tool use, 43–44
 invasiveness, 345 invasive retouch, 33, 170
 inverse choppers, 99

- inversely/alternately retouched blades, 181
- inversely-retouched bladelets, 176
- inverse retouch, 32–34
- Iraqi Variant of BAI, 281
- irregular retouch, 170
- isochrestic style, 45
- isosceles triangle, 178
- Janus flake/core, 36
- Jerf Ajla cores, 66–67
- Jerf el Ahmar points, 242
- Jericho IX assemblages, 273, 283
- Jericho points, 244, 246
- Jiita points, 176
- Jordan Rift Valley, 6–8
- Jordan Valley points, 241–242
- Kebaran assemblages, 194, 200
- Kebara points, 176
- Khiamian assemblages, 272, 275–276
- Khiam points, 180
- knapping techniques, 23
- knife-blades, 249–250
- knives. See also specific knives by name
- on blades, Neolithic, 251
 - on cortical pieces, Neolithic, 254
 - with curved backs, 143
 - naturally-backed, 90–91
 - Neolithic, 249–252
 - with straight backs, 143
- Kombewa flake, 36
- Krukowski microburin, 174
- Ksar Akil points, 140, 141–142
- Ksar Akil scrapers, 145, 146
- Ksar Akil site, 160
- lakes, 8
- Lames/pièces à manchure*, 183–184
- laminar Levallois techniques, 93–94
- La Mouillah points, 177
- La Mouillah points with basal modification, 177
- lances, 29
- Large Cutting Tools (LCTs), 55–65
- byproducts of production, 60–64
 - explaining variation among, 64–65
 - giant core technology and Levallois technology, 64
 - Lower Paleolithic, 295–296
 - major types of, 55–60
 - measurements for LCTs, 336
 - Middle Paleolithic, 297–300
- Large Flake Acheulian assemblages, 74
- large projectile points/knives, 249, 250
- large scrapers, 60
- Late Acheulian assemblages, 71, 74–76
- Late Ahmariian assemblages, 151, 156–157
- Late Epipaleolithic assemblages, 206–209
- Harifian, 209
 - Late/Terminal Ramonian, 208–209
 - Natufian, 206–208
- Late Neolithic assemblages, 273, 280–285
- Late Neolithic Period, 221–222
- lateral carinated endscrapers, 132
- lateral opposed-platform blade cores, 126
- Later Epipaleolithic, 163
- Later Levantine Mousterian assemblages, 110–111
- Later Upper Paleolithic assemblage-groups, 154–157
- Arqov/Divshon Group, 156
 - Atlitian, 154–156
 - Late Ahmariian/Masraqan, 156–157
- Late/Terminal Ramonian assemblages, 198, 208–209
- Lawrence, T. E., 314–315
- LCTs. See Large Cutting Tools
- Lebanon mountains, 8
- Levallois technology
- core technology, Middle Paleolithic, 85–93
 - Lower Paleolithic, 64–65
 - variation in blade technology, Middle Paleolithic, 94
- Levant
- geography of, 6–10
 - Lower Paleolithic evidence, 48

- Levantine Aurignacian assemblages, 150, 154
- Levantine Mousterian assemblages, 105–112
- Early, 108
- Interglacial, 108–110
- Later, 110–111
- other East Mediterranean Middle Paleolithic assemblages, 111–112
- limaces, 34–36, 96, 100, 145
- linear evolutionary model, 10–12
- lithic analysis, 17–46
- cores, 28
- flakes and flake fragments, 28–32
- groundstone tools, 37
- higher-order groupings, 37–39
- interpretive concepts in, 39–46
- pounded pieces, 22–28
- problematical artifacts, 36–37
- retouch and retouched tools, 32–36
- technology, 17–21
- lithic record, 289–315
- biases influencing, 289–292
- Epipaleolithic patterns, 304–306
- Lower Paleolithic patterns, 295–297
- Middle Paleolithic, Upper Paleolithic and Epipaleolithic patterns, 306
- Middle Paleolithic patterns, 297–302
- Neolithic patterns, 306–311
- in perspective, 311–315
- Upper Paleolithic patterns, 302–304
- lithic references
- Epipaleolithic, 164
- Lower Paleolithic, 48–50
- Middle Paleolithic, 82–84
- Neolithic, 222
- Upper Paleolithic, 120–122
- Location of Retouched Edge variable, 344
- London typologies, 122, 164
- Lower Paleolithic Period, 47–80
- artifact-type checklists, 317
- differences between Middle Paleolithic and, 114
- hominin evolution, 47–48
- improving lithic evidence, 79–80
- industries, 70–78
- LCTs, 55–65
- Levantine evidence, 48
- lithic references, 48–50
- overview, 7
- patterns in lithic record, 295–297
- pebble cores, 50–55
- pounded pieces, 68–70
- retouched flake tools, 66–68
- lubricating agents, 20
- lunate/crescent, 178
- mace-heads, 268
- Madamaghan assemblages, 196, 204
- Masraqan assemblages, 151, 156–157
- massive scrapers, 60
- materials, procurement of, 40–41
- mean length values for bifacial LCTs, 297
- measuring lithic artifacts, 334–345
- cores, 334–336
- flakes and flake fragments, 337–342
- pounded pieces, 345
- retouched edges, 343–345
- retouched tools, 342–343
- mechanical studies, 17
- mechanics of blade production, in
- Upper Paleolithic, 123–124
- medio-lateral symmetry, 340–341
- Mediterranean Basin, 6
- Micoquian handaxes, 58–60
- micro-adzes, 235
- microblades, produced by prismatic blade core technology, 127–128
- microburin technique, 172, 173, 210
- micro-carinated endscrapers, 133
- microgravette points, 177
- microliths, 138, 175–176, 179, 184, 304–305
- microperforators, 143, 258
- micropoints, 176
- micropoints with basal modification, 176
- micro-tools, 67–68
- Middle Acheulian assemblages, 71, 74

- Middle Epipaleolithic assemblages, 163, 203–206
 Geometric Kebaran, 203
 Madamaghan, 204
 Middle-Late/Final Hamran, 203–204
 Mushabian, 204
 Ramonian, 204–206
- Middle/Late/Final Hamran assemblages, 195, 203–204
- Middle Neolithic assemblages, 272, 278–280
- Middle Neolithic Period, 221
- Middle Paleolithic Period, 81–116
 archaeological record, 82
 artifact-type checklists, 317
 core technology, 84–94
 differences between Lower Paleolithic and, 114 differences between Upper Paleolithic and, 159 hominin behavioral evolution, 81–82 improving lithic evidence in, 116 industries, 105–114
 lithics references, 82–84
 overview, 7
 patterns in lithic record, 297–302, 306
 retouched flake tools, 94–105
- Middle Ramonian assemblages, 196
- miniaturization, 296
- miscellaneous retouched pieces, 145
- mixed multiple burins, 135
- mixed retouch, 170
- Montane Levant
 Epipaleolithic assemblages in, 209–210
 Upper Paleolithic assemblages in, 157
- morphological measurements, 342
- mortars, 187, 188, 189, 262–264
- mountains in Levant, 8
- Mt. Carmel, coastal sites near, 112
- Mousterian points, 95–96, 100
- Mousterian tranchet, 98
- multilinear evolutionary models, 12–13
- multiple burin on truncation, 135
- multiple burins, 124–126
- multiple carinated endscrapers, 133
- multiple chamfered pieces, 138
- multiple dihedral burins, 134
- multiple perforators, 143
- multiple-platform cores, 126
- multiple tools, Neolithic, 260
- Mureybitian assemblages, 272, 277
- Mureybit points, 242
- Mushabian assemblages, 196, 204
- Nahal Hemar knife, 249–250
- Nahr Ibrahim cores/truncations, 66–67
- narrative approaches, 292–294
- narrow-fronted cores, 126, 167–168, 169
- Natufian assemblages, 196, 206–208
- naturally-backed knives, 90–91, 143
- naturally-fractured rock, distinguishing pebble-cores from, 50
- naviform bidirectional blade cores, 226
- Nebekian assemblages, 194, 200–201
- Negev-Sinai Variant of BAI, 281
- Nemrikian assemblages, 272, 277–278
- Nemrik points, 242
- Neolithic Period, 213–288
 archaeological record, 216–222
 artifact-type checklists, 318
 celts, 233–238
 core technology, 223–226
 core tools, 233
 differences between Epipaleolithic, 286–287 flakes/detached pieces, 226–229 groundstone, 232, 260–270
 human behavioral evolution, 214–216 improving anthropological relevance of evidence, 287–288 industries, 270–286
 knives, 249–252
 lithics references, 222
 obsidian sub-assemblages, 230
 overview, 2, 7
 patterns in lithic record, 306–311
 pounded pieces, 230–231
 projectile points, 238–249
 retouched flake tools, 256–260
 sickle inserts, 252–256
 Stone Age in Levant after, 285–286

- Nevalı Çori points, 242
 Nizzanan assemblages, 194, 202
 Nizzanim points, 244–246
 nodules, 224
 Northeast Variant of BAI, 281
 North Levant Early Neolithic projectile points, 240 North Levant Neolithic points, 243 notched pieces, Neolithic, 260 notched triangles, 99 notches, 34–36, 98, 102–104, 144
 notching, 33
 number of flake scars, 334
- oblique burin on lateral preparation, 134 oblique chamfered piece on truncation, 138 obliquely-truncated and backed bladelets, 177 obliquely-truncated bladelets, 176 oblique straight truncation burin, 134 obsidian sub-assemblages, Neolithic, 230 offset dihedral burins, 134 ogival endscrapers, 132
 Oldowan assemblages, 70–72 operational chain (chaîne opératoire) approach, 13, 14 opposed-platform blade cores, 126 orientations of tools in drawings, 26
 Ouchtata retouch, 135–138, 170
 Ounan points, 180, 238 oval thick polished bifacial celts, 262 ovates, 58–60
 overdesign, 308–310
 overshot flakes, 63–64
- Paleolithic Period, 2 parallel cores, 28 parallel-opposed double platform flake cores, 224 partially-backed pieces, 143 partially-retouched bladelets, 176 partially-retouched blades, 181
 patterns in lithic record, 292–311
 Epipaleolithic, 304–306
 Lower Paleolithic, 295–297
 Middle Paleolithic, 297–302
 Middle Paleolithic, Upper Paleolithic and Epipaleolithic, 306
 Neolithic, 306–311
 Upper Paleolithic, 302–304
 Pebble Core Assemblages (PCAs), 70–71, 73 pebble cores, Lower Paleolithic, 50–55 and ecofacts, 55 explaining variation among, 54 flakes produced by, 54 major types, 50–54 pebble core technology, limitations of, 295 pebble tools, 145 pedunculated polished celts, 262 pendant palettes, 268 people, provisioning, 41 percussion techniques for flintknapping, 21 percussors, 230 perforated discs, 268 perforated stones, 190–191, 261, 268 perforator-burins, 144
 perforator-endscrapers, 144
 perforators, 143, 258
 perforator-truncated pieces, 144 periodization, Epipaleolithic, 163 perpendicular-opposed-double platform flake cores, 224 pestles, 187, 190, 266 photography of stone tools, 22 picks, 55–58, 184, 233, 235 pieces with curved backs, 254
 with curved truncation, 144 with inverse or alternate retouch, 145 with irregular backs, 143 with large-scale denticulation, 253 with two backed edges, 143 piquant trièdre, 174 pitted stones, 27–28, 189 places, provisioning, 41 platform cores, 28 platform retreat, 130 platters, 269

- Pleistocene Epoch, 5
- plunging blades, 130–131
- PN (Pottery Neolithic) period, 219–220
- pointed backed bladelets, 176
- pointed backed bladelets with basal modification, 176
- pointed blades, 228
- pointed pieces, 145
- points. See also specific points by name
defined, 34–36
in Middle Paleolithic, 95–100
in Upper Paleolithic, 139–142
- polished bifacial celts with rectangular section, 262
- polished blades with basal modification, 252–253
- polishing process, 20
- polishing stones, 266, 267
- polish on sickles inserts, 175
- polyhedrons, 53
- postero-lateral bidirectional blade cores, 226
- Pottery Neolithic (PN) period, 219–220
- pounded pieces, 231
general discussion, 22–28
Lower Paleolithic, 68–70
measuring, 345
Neolithic, 230–231
- pounders, 266
- pounding tools, Upper Paleolithic, 146–148
- PPN (Pre-Pottery) period, 219–220
- PPNA projectile points, 240
- PPNB assemblages, 272
- PPNC assemblages, 273, 280
- preferential Levallois methods, 72
- Pre-Halafian assemblages, 274, 284
- Pre-Pottery (PPN) period, 219–220
- pressure flaking, 21, 23
- primary elements, 128–130, 226–227
- prismatic blade core technology
Lower Paleolithic, 54
Middle Paleolithic, 93–94
Upper Paleolithic, 122–124, 302–304
- prismatic blades, 32, 128
- problematical artifacts, 36–37
- projectile points
Epipaleolithic, 179, 180, 181–182
Neolithic, 238–240, 248–249
- propagation, fracture, 20
- proposed changes in Upper Paleolithic lithic systematics, 159–160
- protobifaces, 60
- Proto-Harif points, 180
- proto-Levallois cores, 64
- proto-trapeze microliths, 178
- provisioning people, 41
- provisioning places, 41
- proximal end of flake, 29
- proximal microburin, 174
- pseudo-Levallois points, 91
- pseudo-microburin, 99
- pulverizing equipment
Epipaleolithic, 187–190
Neolithic, 261, 262–264, 265, 266
- push-plane, 99
- pyramidal cores, 126
- Qalkhan assemblages, 194, 202
- Qalkhan points, 180, 202
- Qaramel points, 242
- Qatifian assemblages, 273, 284
- Qdeir Variant of BAI, 281
- Qermezian assemblages, 272, 277
- querns, 188, 262, 264
- Quina retouch, 66
- raclettes, 98, 102, 145
- radial-centripetal Levallois preparation, 86
- Ramonian assemblages, 204–206
- Ramon points, 177, 206, 209
- Ramon points with basal modification, 177
- ratio-scale measurements, 39. See also measuring lithic artifacts
- raw material procurement, 40–41
- rectangle microliths, 178
- recurrent Levallois methods, 86
- recycling, 44–45
- refitting analysis, 20
- regular endscrapers, 131

- resharpening hypothesis, 104
- retouch. See also specific retouch by name
- Epipaleolithic, 170
 - general discussion, 32–36
 - Quina, 66
- retouched/backed bladelet varia, 177
- retouched/backed blades, 181
- retouched/backed blade varia, 181
- retouched/backed fragments, 177
- retouched blades/bladelets, 135–138
- retouched edges, measuring, 343–345
- retouched Levallois points, 95, 96
- retouched notch, 144
- retouched on both edges (blades), 181
- retouched tools
- defined, 22
 - general discussion, 32–36
 - measuring, 342–343
- retouched tools, Epipaleolithic, 169–182, 183, 186
- backed blade tools, 174–175
 - backing, 170
 - bladelets, 175–184
 - burination and burin products, 172–173
 - heavy-duty core tools, 184–186
 - microburin technique, 172
 - microliths, 175–184
 - retouch, 170
 - truncation, 172
 - typology, 174
- retouched tools, Lower Paleolithic, 66–68
- retouched tools, Middle Paleolithic, 94–105
- awls, 102–104
 - burins, 102–104
 - denticulates, 102–104
 - notches, 102–104
 - points, 95–100
 - scrapers, 100–102
 - truncated-faceted pieces, 102–104
 - variation among, 104–105
- retouched tools, Neolithic, 256–259, 260
- backed/truncated pieces, 260
 - burins, 259
 - multiple tools and varia, 260
 - notched/denticulated pieces, 260
 - perforators, 258
 - scrapers, 258
- retouched tools, Upper Paleolithic, 131–142, 148
- blades/bladelets, 135–138
 - burins, 133–135
 - chamfered pieces, 138
 - common, 142–146
 - endscrapers, 131
 - grinding and pounding tools, 146–148
 - points, 139–142
- retouchers, 230, 231
- Retouch Mode, 343
- Rift Valley, Jordan, 6–8
- right angle straight truncation burin, 134
- rocks used in Levant, 18
- roughouts, 224
- rounded asymmetric perforated stones, 268
- Salibiya points, 241–242
- Sawwan Variant of BAI, 281
- scaled pieces, 36, 142
- Scalene bladelets, 177
- Scalene bladelets with basal modification, 177
- scraper retouch, 32–34
- scrapers. See also specific scrapers by name
- defined, 34–36
 - Epipaleolithic, 184
 - on interior (ventral) surface, 97
 - Lower Paleolithic, 66
 - massive, 60
 - Middle Paleolithic, 100–102
 - Neolithic, 258
 - with thin backs, 97
- sedentism and tool use, 44
- segmented pieces, 240, 247
- semi-abrupt retouch, 170
- shaft straighteners, 266–267
- shear initiations, 18–19

- Sheik Hassan points, 242–244
- shells, in Natufian assemblages, 208
- short Late Neolithic points, 240
- short termination, 130–131
- shouldered endscrapers, 133
- shouldered pieces, 143
- Shunera points, 180, 238
- sickle blades
- on backed blade or bladelet, 181
 - on curved backed blades, 181
 - on Helwan blades or bladelets, 181
- sickle inserts
- on blades, 255
 - Epipaleolithic, 175, 181
 - on flakes/flake fragments, 257
 - Neolithic, 252–253, 256
- sidescrapers, 66, 144
- single burins, 259
- single concave scrapers, 96
- single convex scrapers, 96
- single endscrapers, 132
- single-platform blade cores, 124–126
- single-platform discoidal flake cores, 224
- single platform unidirectional flake cores, 223–224
- single scrapers, 66, 100
- single straight scrapers, 96
- snapping, 172
- social aspects of lithic variation, 45–46
- soft-hammer percussion, 21, 23
- South Levant Early Neolithic projectile points, 240
- South Levantine Early Neolithic points, 241
- Southwest Asian Montane Mousterian assemblages, 112–114
- spheroids, 68–70
- Spin-Plane Angle, 345
- stemmed points, 99
- stemmed tools, 99
- steppe in Levant, 8–10
- Stone Age
- chronology, 5–6
 - in Levant after Neolithic, 285–286
- stone axes, 184
- stone balls, 230–231, 232
- stone bowls, 188, 189
- stone tool analysis in Levantine prehistory, 10–14
- behavioral-strategic approaches, 13–14
 - culture-historical approaches, 12–13
 - culture-stratigraphic approaches, 10–12
- stone tools. See lithics
- stone vessels. See vessels
- straight convergent scrapers, 96
- straight dihedral burins, 134
- straight transverse scrapers, 97
- straight truncated and backed microliths, 178
- strategic modeling, 39–46
- striking platform
- defined, 29–30
 - morphology, 338
 - of prismatic blade cores, 122–123
 - surface, 28
 - thickness, 342
 - width, 342
- style, 45
- subspheroids, 68–70
- Sultanian assemblages, 272, 276
- symbolic artifacts, 3, 310
- symmetrical perforated stones, 268
- systematics, proposed changes in Upper Paleolithic, 159–160
- tabular/cortical scrapers, 258
- Tabun Cave, width/thickness ratios for whole flakes in, 301–302
- Tachengit/Tabalbat cores, 64
- Tahunian axes, 234
- Tahunian Variant of BAI, 281
- Taurus Variant of BAI, 281
- Tayacian assemblages, 72, 76
- Tayac points, 66, 99, 100
- technological characteristics of artifact-types, 37–38
- technological measurements, 342
- technological organization approach, 13–14

- technology. See specific technologies by name
- termination, 19
- termination of fracture, 19–20
- termination type, 341
- terminology, 22–39
- cores, 28
 - flakes and flake fragments, 28–32
 - groundstone tools, 37
 - higher-order groupings, 37–39
 - pounded pieces, 22–28
 - problematical artifacts, 36–37
 - retouch and retouched tools, 32–36
- terra rosa* sediments, 8
- tested clasts, 224
- TFPs (truncated-facetted pieces), 66–67, 102–104
- thermal alteration, 21
- thick endscrapers on cores, 133
- thick-nosed endscrapers, 133
- thumbnail endscrapers, 132
- time attrition, biasing effect of, 290
- time needed to reproduce Epipaleolithic and Neolithic stone tools, 309
- tip-removal/breakage flakes, 63–64
- tool production, 41–43
- tool use, 43–44
- tradition, 38
- tranchet flakes, 64, 228, 229
- transverse arrowheads, 247
- transverse burins
- on lateral preparation, 135
 - on notch, 135
- transverse-mounted projectile points, 248
- transverse scrapers, 66, 102
- trapeze microliths, 178
- trapeze/rectangle microliths, 178
- trapeze with one convex end, 178
- triangular polished bifacial celts, 262
- trihedral picks, 174
- truncated blades, 144
- truncated-facetted pieces (TFPs), 66–67, 102–104
- truncated flakes, 144
- truncated pieces, Neolithic, 260
- truncations, 33, 34–36, 98, 144, 172
- Tuwaitian assemblages, 273, 284
- type-lists, 317–318
- general discussion, 38–39
 - Lower and Middle Paleolithic checklists, 317
 - Neolithic checklist, 318
 - Upper Paleolithic and Epipaleolithic checklists, 317
- typical awls, 98
- typical backed knives, 98
- typical burins, 98
- typical endscrapers, 98
- typical perforators, 143
- typologies
- Bordian, for retouched artifact types, 94–95, 96, 115–116
 - characteristics of artifact-types, 37–38
 - Geneste's, of Middle Paleolithic débitage products, 91–93
 - Goring-Morris, 174
 - of groundstone tools, Epipaleolithic, 186–191
 - London, 122, 164
 - of retouched tools, in Epipaleolithic, 174
- Umm el Tlel points, 140
- undulations, 29
- unidirectional blade cores, 223, 225–226
- unifacial points, 140, 145
- unifacial retouch, 32–34
- unretouched sickle blades, 181
- Upper Paleolithic Period, 117–160.
- See also* retouched tools, Upper Paleolithic
 - archaeological record, 118–120
 - artifact-type checklists, 317
 - core technology, 122–131
 - human behavioral evolution, 117–118
 - industries, 148–158
 - interpretive issues for variability, 159–160
 - lithic references, 120–122
 - overview, 7
 - patterns in lithic record, 302–304, 306

- utilized flakes, 36–37
- varia, Neolithic, 260
- variations
- in archaeological method and theory, 291–292
 - behavioral, 314
 - in blade technology, Middle Paleolithic, 94
 - in groundstone tools, Neolithic, 270
 - interpretive issues for Upper Paleolithic, 159–160
 - in LCTs, Neolithic, 64–65
 - in pebble cores, Lower Paleolithic, 54
 - in retouched tools, Lower Paleolithic, 66–68
 - in retouched tools, Middle Paleolithic, 104–105
 - social and cultural aspects of lithic, 45–46
 - in Upper Paleolithic chronology, 157–158
 - in Upper Paleolithic geography, 158
- vegetation in Levant, 8–10
- ventral surface of flake, 28–29
- vessels
- Epipaleolithic, 191
 - Neolithic, 261, 268–270
- Victoria West cores, 64
- Wadi Rabah assemblages, 273, 283–284
- Western Syrian Variant of BAI, 281
- whole flake size, increases in, 301–302
- women, tool production by, 42
- woodlands in Levant, 8–10
- worked pebbles/cobbles, 266
- Yabrudian scrapers, 66
- Yarmukian assemblages, 273, 282–283
- Yiron, Israel, 70–72
- Zagros Aurignacian assemblages, 151
- Zagros Mousterian assemblages, 112
- Zarzian assemblages, 209–210