Contents

List of maps
List of figures
Preface
Members of the Calandrini, Burlamachi and Diodati families
Introduction

1. The start of the Calvinist network: the journey from Lucca, via Lyon, to Paris

2. A European network takes shape: the continuation of the Calvinist diaspora in Germany, the Netherlands and England

3. The Calvinist network and the Thirty Years War

4. The collections for Calvinist exiles in England, Scotland and Ireland

5. The collections for Calvinist exiles in the Dutch Republic, Switzerland and France

6. The benevolence of wealthy, individual ‘Brethren in Christ’

Epilogue

Index
Maps

1 Emigration patterns for the Lucchese refugees  page 120
2 Central Europe 1618  129
Figures

1.2. Peter Martyr Vermigli (1500–62), oil by unknown artist (1560). Courtesy of the National Portrait Gallery, London. 26

1.4. Detail of plan of Lyon (c. 1560). Courtesy of the Archives Municipales, Lyon. 43

1.6. View of Paris. Print by Matthaeus Merian (1630). Courtesy of the University Library, Cambridge. 51

2.1. View of Frankfurt am Main. Print by Matthaeus Merian (1630). Courtesy of the University Library, Cambridge. 69

2.2. Francesco Turrettini (1547–1628), oil by unknown artist, seventeenth century, Turrettini Collection, Geneva. Photograph courtesy of Romano Citti. 71

2.3. Barbara Perez Micheli (1556–1637), wife of Orazio Micheli, oil by unknown artist, late sixteenth century, Micheli de Landecy Collection, Geneva. Photograph courtesy of Romano Citti. 73

2.4. Orazio Micheli (1553–1626), oil by unknown artist, late sixteenth century, Micheli de Landecy Collection, Geneva. Photograph courtesy of Romano Citti. 74

2.5. View of Antwerp. Print by Matthaeus Merian (1630). Courtesy of the University Library, Cambridge. 76

2.6. View of Stade. Print by Matthaeus Merian (1630). Courtesy of the University Library, Cambridge. 79
List of figures

3.3. View of Hanau. Print by Matthaeus Merian (1630).

5.4. View of Zurich. Print by Matthaeus Merian (1630). Courtesy of the University Library, Cambridge.
List of figures

5.5. Johannes Breitinger (1575–1645), portrait by Samuel Hofmann (1635). Courtesy of the Historical Museum Thurgau, Frauenfeld. 259

6.3. Margaret Cassier, wife of William Courten, oil by unknown artist (1616). Courtesy of the Rijksmuseum, Amsterdam. 287