CONTENTS

List of tables  page viii
List of illustrations  ix
The Hamlyn Trust  xi
The Hamlyn Lectures  xv
Acknowledgements  xix

1 Introduction: determining the public good  1
2 Professionalism re-assessed: what now for lawyers?  5
3 Access to justice: whither legal aid?  59
4 Judges and the public good: reflections on the last Law Lords  125
5 Conclusion: where next?  194

Bibliography  198
Index  212
TABLES

2.1 The nature of professionalism  page 16
4.1 Senior judiciary in England and Scotland by gender  144
4.2 Scottish shreival contests 2002–2009  145
ILLUSTRATIONS

2.1 Supermarket effects on the High Street page 14

2.2 Legal Practice Certificate holders and Training Contract numbers 27

2.3 Partners in England and Wales by gender 40

2.4 Partners in Scotland by gender 40

3.1 English and Welsh expenditure on legal aid (2008 prices, cash) 75

3.2 Expenditure on legal aid in England and Wales (civil and criminal) 82

3.3 Expenditure on Criminal Legal Aid in Scotland 91

3.4 Concentration among Civil Legal Aid providers in Scotland, England and Wales 96

4.1 Partners in England and Wales by gender 145

4.2 An Appellate Committee chaired by Lord Hope, 2009 157

4.3 Lord Phillips giving judgment in the Chamber 158

4.4 Proportion of cases with a dissent in the House of Lords 1952–68 and 2000–9 172

4.5 Proportion of cases with a dissent in the US Supreme Court 1800–2009 172

4.6 Dissenters in the House of Lords 2000–9 174
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

4.7 Unanimous decisions in the US Supreme Court
1930–2009  179

4.8 Single judgments in the House of Lords and Supreme Court
1952–2010  182

4.9 Wordle: Lord Bingham, Belmarsh  190

4.10 Wordle: Lord Hoffmann, Belmarsh  190

4.11 Wordle: Lord Rodger, Belmarsh  191

4.12 Wordle: Lord Walker, Belmarsh  191