Index

Acland, Thomas, 81
Adderley, Sir Charles (later Lord Norton), 20, 42
Adler, Herman (Chief Rabbi), 121
Agar-Ellis v. Lascelles (1878 and 1883), and judicial defence of paternal rights, 154, 157–8
Agar-Ellis, Harriet, and surreptitious upbringing of her children as Catholics, 97, 157–8
Agar-Ellis, Leopold, 17, 97, 157–8
Aggravated Assaults on Women and Children Act (1853), 70 alcohol, 76–8, 81
Amberley, Kate (Lady), 63
Amphlett, R. P., amendment to Married Women's Property Bill (1869), 91
Anderson, Elizabeth Garrett, 242
Anderson, Olive, 33
Arch, Joseph, and agricultural trade unionism, 259
Ardmillan, Lord, and custody of children after divorce (Steuart v. Steuart), 4
Arnold, Arthur, on child abuse, 106
Arnold, Thomas, 116
Ashbourne, Lord, see Gibson, Edward Asquith, H. H., 284
Astor, Nancy (Lady), 6
Atherley-Jones, Llewellyn, 314
Austin v. Austin (1865), and paternal rights over religious education, 148
Ayrton, Acton Sme, 62–3, 78, 79, 89, 230
Baines, Edward, 81, 240, 257, 272
Bainton, George, and The wife as lover and friend, 41, 43, 47, 133, 134
Baker, Auguste, on custody and guardianship of children, 141–2
Balfour, A. J., 289, 290, 293
Balfour, J. B., on child custody rights, 50, 161 Ballot Act
influencing attitudes to women's suffrage, 239, 242–3, 313 provisions for illiterate voters, 257 vote as a trust, and the shift to individual representation, 244–8, 298, 307
Bankes, William, 197
Banks, Olive, 25
Barnes, Alfred, and 'separate spheres', 54, 56, 58
Barnett, Samuel, 121
Barran, John, 259
Bass, M. A., inconsistent support for women's rights, 19, 81
Bateson, Sir Thomas, 29
Beauchamp, Earl, on Infants Bill, 45, 99, 144, 146, 162
Becker, Lydia, parliamentary secretary of the suffrage societies, 7 divisions over 'widows and spinsters clause', 272–3 failure of her strategy in 1884, 277, 281, 282
Hon. Treasurer of Married Women's Property Committee, 11 on women's suffrage and household suffrage, 270
Beet, Joseph, on wife's duty of obedience, 54
Belsham, Thomas, 115
Benson, Edward White, Archbishop of Canterbury, 121
Bentley, Michael J., 147
Beresford Hope, Adrian, 182
Beresford Hope, Alexander anti-feminism and his familial experiences, 180–2 class and married women's property, 87 fantasies about female MPs, 197, 198 fears of an impulsive, uneducated electorate, 253, 258 on female mental constitution, 251 on marital unity, and household harmony, 41–2, 44, 180, 275

340
Index

parliamentary performance and problematic masculinity, 183–4, 185, 186, 200 plays on fears of ‘universal suffrage’, 274 scriptural opposition to Married Women’s Property Acts, 52, 180
and ‘separate spheres’, 167
vociferous anti-suffragist, 167 on ‘widows and spinsters’, 274 on women’s political education, 263, 267
Beresford Hope, Philip, 182
Besant, Annie, 97
Birley, Hugh, 29
Blackstone, William, and coverture, 9
Blair, W. T., 123
Blennerhassett, Rowland, 267
Bodichon, Barbara Leigh Smith, 11, 59
Boer War, and gender politics, 315
Boucherett, Jessie, 275
Bouverie, Edward
cites scripture to attack Mill, 32, 61 on exposing women to contested elections, 235–6, 239, 242 on female MPs, 197, 198
incongruity of enfranchising single women, 226 insists (1870) that ‘property is a mere test of fitness’, 307
Bowen, Lord Justice, and paternal rights, 158
Bowles, Thomas Gibson, and community representation, 294, 297
Brabourne, Lord, on Infants Bill, 98, 141, 162
Bradlaugh, Charles, 86
Bramwell, Lord, 50–1, 155
Brand, Henry, Speaker of the House of Commons, 194, 195
Braye, Lord, 150
Brett, Reginald, 198
Breward, Christopher, 189
Bright, Jacob, 21, 81, 85, 167 his assumptions refuted by Raikes, 224–5 the Ballot Act strengthens the case for women’s suffrage, 239, 242, 248 on class divisions and women as a class, 220–1, 222, 225, 236 and female newspaper readership, 264 and fitness to vote, 228, 277 on political issues in which women take a special interest, 266
and ‘separate spheres’, 263 suffrage the only way to secure redress of legal grievances, 218–19, 223 and votes for married women, 226, 277 women and municipal franchise, 13 women’s suffrage as household suffrage, 270–1 Bright, John distinguishes political education from formal schooling, 256 on domestic political differences, 275 on franchise reform, 219, 279
and Kenealy, 195
repudiates the idea that women form a class, 204, 215, 221–2, 225 on residential qualification, 231
and ‘separate spheres’, 236, 278
Bristowe, S. B., 224
Broadhurst, Henry, 106
Brocklehurst, W. C., 240
Brooke, Emma, 108
Browne, Cecilia (In re Browne) and religious education of an orphan, 148–9
Bruce, Henry, 81, 173, 197, 235
Bryce, James commitment to both anti-suffragism and marital equality, 183 favours extending judicial discretion, 153 and Guardianship of Infants Bill (1884), 97, 138, 139, 140, 150, 152, 159 and legal expertise, 155 mocked for being unmarried, 160 on paternal rights under Scottish law, 161 rejects the notion that women form a class, 215 relations between classes, 207
Bulwer Lytton, Sir Edward, 206, 209–10
Burns, John, 77–8
Bush, Julia, 21
Butler, Josephine, 11, 100, 222, 318
Caine, Barbara, 61, 141, 223, 318–19
Cairns, Sir Hugh (later Lord Cairns) his authority invoked posthumously, 162 class bias in his discussion of married women’s earnings, 92 class theory of political representation, 30, 205–6 experience as counsel in custody cases, 155
on Guardianship of Infants Bill (1884), 137 legislators’ intentions and judicial discretion, 162 son’s breach of promise, 186
Sunday school teacher, 155 views on working-class abuses, 86
342    Index

Callan, Philip, 105
Campbell, Lady Colin, 192
Campbell, Sir George, 62
Campbell, Harry, 253
Cecil, Lord Hugh, 196, 314, 317
Cecil, Lady Mildred, and marriage to Alexander Beresford Hope, 180–1
Chamberlain, Austen, 47, 307
Chamberlain, Joseph, 292 advocates (1872) enfranchising female householders, 270 as authoritarian patriarch and anti-suffragist, 183, 275 on local taxation and civic obligations, 289 on the political education of the agricultural labourer, 258, 259 promotes the party-politicisation of Birmingham government, 244 refuses (1894) to support enfranchising paupers, 301
Chambers, Thomas, 230
Chaplin, Henry, 185, 196–7, 220, 274, 275
Chapman, Elizabeth Rachel, 126
Charley, William, 22, 29, 276
Chartism, 69, 160
child abuse, 75–6, 100, 105–7 child prostitution, 102–7 child custody laws, 3–4, 5, 10, 11–12, 69, 96–9, 309
stance adopted by common lawyers, conservative equity lawyers and radical equity lawyers, 156–9 see also Austin v. Austin (1865), Browne, Cecilia (In re Browne);
Conjugal Rights (Scotland)
Amendment Act (1861); Curtis v.
Curtis (1859); Divorce Act (1857);
Guardianship of Infants Bill (1884);
Infant Custody Act (1873);
Matrimonial Causes Act (1878);
Andrew and Elizabeth steuart;
Talfourd's Act (1839); Chapter 5 passim Churchill, Lord Randolph and abandonment of class representation, 214 his flamboyant dress, 189–90 and Hughes-Hallet, 194 nature of friendship with Sir Henry James, 165
rejects importance of Gladstone's 1884
Franchise Bill, 280
Churchill, Winston, 196
Clark, Anna, 69, 277
class representation, 30, 203, 279, 303, 318 decline, 246, 249
influence on women's suffrage debates, 30, 204, 215–28, 263, 303, 312–13 loses purchase in liberal discourse after 1867, 214–15, 250, 268
and masculinity, 225
and parliamentary reform, 204–14
Clay, James, and educational franchise, 253, 256
Cleveland Street homosexual scandal, 198
Clifford, John, 121 Cobbe, Frances Power, and domestic violence, 71, 72–3, 76
Coetzee, Frans, 297
Colenso, John, Bishop of Natal, 113–14
Coleridge, Lord, and family dirty linen, 186
Collings, Jesse, 259
Collini, Stefan, 67, 60, 127, 128, 171, 207
Collins, Thomas, on paternal rights in law, 99, 147, 152, 159 community representation and the Conservative Party, 30, 203, 283, 293–300, 302–4
displaces considerations of fitness, 304 and the language of interests, 298–300 and women's suffrage, 302–8
Conjugal Rights (Scotland) Amendment
Act (1861), 12
Connell, R. W., and 'hegemonic masculinity', 168–9, 179, 184–5 conservatism and anti-feminism, 25, 28–9, 80–1, 305–8, 313
disorientation after 1886, 284–5
and feminism, 29, 80, 318 growth of support for women's suffrage, 283, 302–4, 305–8, 313 religious culture and women's rights, 135–6
and theories of political representation, 30–1, 204, 313
class representation, 204, 207–8, 213–14, 279, 312
household suffrage, 212–13, 270, 279, 289 representation of communities, 283, 293–300, 302–4, 305
representation of interests, 298–9 representation of property, 294–7, 304–5 see also political education threat of socialism and defence of property, 292, 294, 297
Contagious Diseases Acts, 5, 9, 14, 19, 20, 97, 100–3, 104, 107, 121, 149, 222,
264, 266, 311
Commons' voting on the issue, 18–19
Index

impact on voting on women’s suffrage, 241–2 influence on election results, 31 and liberalism, 27
Cooke, Charles Radcliffe, 265, 293, 305–6, 307
Cooper, Timothy, 297
Corbett, Edward, 213
Corrupt Practices Act (1883), 235, 239, 265
Cottenham, Lord, 84
Court of Chancery, and administration of law of equity, 9 Courtney, Leonard lack of composure in the Commons, 190–1 and women’s suffrage, 221, 222, 224, 266–7 coverture
Mill’s ‘rationalist’ assault on, 59–63 patriarchal authority, and marriage, 4, 9–14 position of unmarried or separated women, 49–51 protection of a married woman’s earnings, 88 trusts and marriage settlements, 82–5, 87–8, 95–6 and Victorian domestic ideology, 45–51, 58–9
Cowling, Maurice, 32
Craigen, Jessie, 222, 279
Cranborne, Lord
acceptance of limited working-class representation, 211 electoral arithmetic, 205, 213 on intimidation at elections, and voting papers, 237–8 on working-class combination and the threat to political economy, 210 see also Lord Salisbury Criminal Law Amendment Act (1885), 102–7, 109
Crippen, T. G., 122–3
Cromer, Lord, 308
Cross, J. K., 19
Cross, Sir Richard Assheton, 48, 161, 191, 248
Cubitt, George, 29, 311
Cumming, John, on male domestic authority, 56, 58
Curtin, Michael, 192
Curts v. Curtis (1859), 59
Curzon, G. N., 293, 295–6, 308
Darwin, Charles, and Origin of species, 113
Davey, Horace, and the Infants Bill, 97, 138, 144, 151, 152, 154
Davidoff, Leonore, and Catherine Hall, 40, 170
Davidson, Samuel, 113
Davies, Emily, 128, 242 religion and ‘feminism’, 124–5 Davies, J. Llewelyn
ambiguous ‘feminist’ commitment, 121, 124, 128, 129–31
F. D. Maurice’s devoted disciple, 124, 125, 128 on Pauline writings, slaves and wives, 117
Davis, John, 232
Dawson-Damer, Lionel, 194
Deas, Lord, 4
Delap, Lucy, 21, 25
Dicy, A. V., on the ‘balance of classes’ and class consciousness, 206, 207, 208
Dickson, Major Alexander, 195
Dilke, Sir Charles, 164 female MPs a matter for the voters, 199 on the intellectual capacity of women, 251 and redistribution of seats, 233 and sexual scandal, 103 on the vote, trusteeship and ‘fitness’, 247–8
Divorce Act (1857), 10, 88
Divorce Court, and revelations of domestic abuse, 71–2, 73, 76
Dodds, Joseph, 19, 143
domestic abuse and class, 66–8, 72, 74–83, 86–7, 98–9, 109, 152, 311 see also child abuse development of a moral panic, 68–73 and Divorce Court, 71–2, 76 explanations for, 75–8 incompatible with domestic ideology, 64, 66, 73, 110 legal redress, 10 legal reform as a means of ending abuse, 78–9 and liberalism, 79–81, 110 and masculinity, 128 statistical evidence, 70–1, 80 and the women’s movement, 72–3 see also James and Susannah Palmer; Andrew and Elizabeth Steuart
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>domestic ideology, 23, 38, 309–10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and advice literature, 40–1, 42–4, 47, 56, 131–2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and biblical commentaries, 53–8, 132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>challenged by early ‘feminists’ and J. S. Mill, 59–60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>collapse, 23, 63–4, 66, 110, 308, 309–12, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and companionate marriage, 46, 132–4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and coverture, 45–51, 58–9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>creates a sharp distinction between married and unmarried women, 49–51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and domestic abuse, 24, 66, 72, 73, 110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and disfranchisement of married women, 274–6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and filial duty, 182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and male sexuality, 100, 108</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and need for household harmony, 41–5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and need for male domestic authority, 45–6, 61–3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>no twentieth-century equivalent, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>origins, 38–40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reconciles male authority and marital unity by assuming female</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>submission, 46–9, 132–3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>religious basis, 51–9, 310, 312, 313–14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>eroded, 111–35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>see also Genesis; Pauline Epistles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drumlanrig, Lord, 198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dublin Castle, homosexual scandal, 198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Duff, Robert, 208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edie, John, 55, 57, 118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eastwick, Edward, and women’s suffrage, 255, 261, 262, 266, 304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Education Act (1870), religious provisions, 163</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Egerton, Wilbraham, 189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elcho, Lord (later Earl of Wemyss), and fear of ‘swamping’, 206, 208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elderton, General, and In re Elderton (1883), 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ellis, Havelock, 119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ellis, Sarah Stuckney, and domestic order, 43, 128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elmy, Elizabeth Wolstenholme</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>her band of agitators and lecturers, 137, 141, 142, 152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and child custody, 7, 11–12, 142, 150</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hon. Secretary of Married Women’s Property Committee, 11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elton, Charles, 161</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>enfranchisement of married women, 7, 13, 58, 226, 271–6, 277</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>exclusion of married women compatible with household suffrage, 270–1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Englishwoman’s Review, 72, 122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Erickson, Amy, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Esher, Lord, presiding judge in Agar-Ellis case (1883), 155, 158</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Essays and reviews (1860), 113, 116, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Essays on reform (1866), and divisive class loyalties, 208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>evangelical revival and gender roles, 39–40, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eykyn, Roger, 17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farningham, Marianne, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farquhar, Horace, 166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farquharson, Robert, and amendment to 1884 Infants Bill, privileging fathers, 139, 144</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farr, William, defines the Social Science Association’s self-appointed task, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fawcett, Henry deplores Smollett’s ‘vile aspersions’ on MPs’ families, 179</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>parliament as a deliberative assembly, and class reconciliation, 210–11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>protective legislation, 19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>religion, politics and domestic unhappiness, 275</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>suffrage and Contagious Diseases Acts repeal, 242</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>on working-class heterogeneity, 209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fawcett, Millicent Garrett, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and adoption of the secret ballot, 243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>religion and ‘feminism’, 52, 117, 124, 125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>‘feminist’ and ‘feminism’ anachronistic usage, 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>inadequacy of ‘feminism’ and ‘anti-feminism’ as analytical tools, 20–1, 66–8, 89–90, 159</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and masculinity, 8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MPs’ positions and complex voting patterns, 14–21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and relation to other political traditions, 8, 25–30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and religion, 120–6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>‘separate spheres’, and the need for an alternative framework, 21–3, 33, 309–13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ferguson, Sir James, 205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fife, Duke of, relationship with Horace</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farquhar and marriage, 166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Findlay, Revd George G., 57, 118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fisher, Kate, 169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FitzGerald (of Kilmarnock), Lord, 86, 155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>on Infants Bill (1884), 140, 150, 160</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Index

FitzGerald, Lord Otho, 17
Fitzmaurice, Edmond, 191
Folkestone, Viscount, 226
Forster, Henry, 307
Forster, W. E., 269 child abuse, class and living conditions, 106 child custody and abuses by upper-class men, 98 critic of class representation, 206 fails Henry Lucy's dress and deportment tests, 190, 191, 193 supporter of household suffrage for men, 278, 279 on trade unions as political bodies, 210 Forsyth, William author of Treatise on the law relating to the custody of infants, 154 his catalogue of 'women's issues', 227 introduces 'widows and spinsters' clause into suffrage bill (1874), 7, 13, 272 links child custody law to suffrage arguments, 219
Fowle, Revd Thomas, on abusive husbands, 78, 81 Fowler, Henry H. on class representation, 215 on domestic authority and marital unity, 42, 45, 147 on local taxation and 'qualification for the Imperial franchise', 290 on sexual exploitation of working-class children, 105 women's suffrage and domestic harmony, 183, 275, 276 Fowler, William
ambiguous 'feminist' commitment, 11, 52, 197, 241, 310 and male domestic authority, 52, 96
Foyster, Elizabeth, 70, 71
Galton, Francis, 252
Galway, Viscount, 62
Genesis, 53, 56, 64, 114, 121, 122
George, Henry, 292
Gibson, Edward (later Lord Ashbourne) and family maintenance law, 44
and Guardianship of Infants Bill, 48, 150 legal equality as a threat to household harmony, 48
and theories of political representation, 30
Gisborne, Thomas, 53, 55
Gladstone, William E.
1884 Franchise Bill and the rhetoric of household suffrage, 269, 277 his appeal to the electorate as a moral body, 260–1, 267, 278, 281 class as a barrier to women's suffrage, 220 and county franchise, 245 criticises Smollett for lacking 'manliness', 193–4 Egyptian problems, the Franchise Bill, and Liberal Party discipline, 280 electoral franchise calculations, 204–5, 212 on extending franchise to illiterate Irish householders, 257 and Home Rule for Ireland, 283–4
'masses against the classes' rhetoric, 260 on moral entitlement and individual fitness to vote, 204, 245, 277 and the moral value of suffering, 128 on newspapers and political education, 257 relationship with eldest son, 147 and reopening of electoral reform in the 1890s, 284 secret ballot and dangers of contested elections, 234, 237, 239 self-control when addressing the Commons, 191 and Sir Henry James, 164 supports women voting by proxy, 239 vote as a trust, 245, 248 and Women's Disabilities Bill (1870), 17, 241 on working-class heterogeneity, 209
Gleadle, Kathryn, 59
Goldman, Lawrence, 27, 79
Goldney, Gabriel, 62
Goodwin, Harvey, Bishop of Carlisle, 246–7, 275
Gore, Charles and abuses within marriage, 132
Lux mundi, and biblical criticism, 119 scriptural arguments for sexual inequality need to be bolstered by science, 119–20
Gorst, Sir John, 191
Goschen, George lack of composure in addressing the Commons, 191–2 and parliamentary reform, 213, 214, 215, 258, 269, 295
Goulding, Edward, 304–5
Gramsci, Antonio, 168
Grand, Sarah, 108
Granville, Lord, 162
Green, Ewen, 28
346 Index

Greg, W. R., 115
Gregory, George, 45, 161
on Guardianship of Infants Bill, 45, 143, 146, 161
Gregory, William, 254
Guardianship of Infants Bill (1884) and Act (1886), 7, 12, 19, 45, 48, 50, 52, 96–9, 137–8, 138–40
Act shaped by class interests of legislators, 96–9 and concept of ‘welfare of the child’, 140, 150–9 egalitarian principle of joint guardianship rejected, 138 Irish dimension, 149–50
parliamentary debate dominated by lawyers, 154–6, 162 and reporting of Committee stages, 34 stance adopted by common lawyers, conservative equity lawyers and radical equity lawyers, 156–9 threat to patriarchal privileges, and the right to choose a child’s religious education, 139–40, 146–50 upper-class negligence and abuse ignored, 160 a very conservative interpretation of the Act anticipated, 158–9
Gullace, Nicoletta, 316
Gurney, Russell, 66, 68, 84, 154
H. W. H. and How to choose a wife, 40–1
Habitual Drunkards Acts, 77
Hall, Catherine, see Davidoff, Leonore
Hamilton, Lord Claud, 215, 254
Hammerton, A. James, 45, 66, 71, 133, 134, 142
Hanbury, Robert, and women’s suffrage, 199, 221, 226
Hansard and parliamentary reporting, 33–4
Hansard, Septimus, 73–4, 78, 124
Harcourt, Lewis (Loulou), 187–8, 198
Harcourt, Sir William, 164, 292
besotted with Loulou, 187–8 on Criminal Law Amendment Bill, child abuse and class, 106–7 domestic affections as a threat to his public authority, 186–8 and electoral reform in the 1890s, 284, 288 his father’s moral guidance, 187 ‘gift of imperturbability’ in the Commons, 191 and the importance of ‘independence’, 174 his two marriages, 183 Hardy, E. J., and How to be happy though married, 42, 131
Hardy, Gathorne, 43, 211, 230
Harrington, Timothy, 149
Harrison, Brian, and the framework of Separate spheres, 21–2, 251
Harroy, Earl of, 84
Hartington Committee on Parliamentary and Municipal Elections (1869), 234, 240, 243, 254
Hartington, Lord (later 8th Duke of Devonshire), 81, 191, 193, 209, 235, 284
Harvie, Christopher, 61, 207
Hastings, George W. 75, 89–90
Hatherley, Lord, 46
Havelock-Allan, Sir Henry, 301
Headlam, Thomas, 85, 213
Healy, Timothy, 147, 149, 150
Henley, Joseph, 240–1
Hennel, Charles, 115
Henry, Mitchell, 104
Herschell, Sir Farrer, 97, 152
Heygate, William, 272, 304
Hilton, Boyd, 126–8
Hobhouse, Arthur, 75
Hodge, Charles, 58
Hodgkinson’s amendment (1867), 230, 232
Hoggan, Frances, 141
Holland, Henry Scott, 119, 121
Holton, Sandra Stanley, 185, 222, 223 homosexuality, 103, 108, 197–8
Hopkins, Jane Ellice, 118
Hopwood, Charles, 97, 105, 143 abandons early commitment to women’s suffrage, 128–9 duty of submission, applied to husbands as to wives, 128–9 House of Commons
analysis of voting on women’s rights, 15–21 authority rests on reputation of MPs, 194
centrality of gender and class to political activity, 24, 68, 74, 196, 309–11 and informal discipline, 194–5 lawyers at Westminster, 154–6, 161 legislative behaviour and national, confessional and professional identities, 138, 150, 163, 311 see also House of Commons: lawyers at Westminster parliamentary performance, 188–94 party affiliation and voting record, 25–33 rhetoric and political motive, 31–3
Index

household suffrage, 250–1 changing meanings of, 268–9 and the Conservative Party, 270 and ‘fitness’ – a gendered concept, 268, 277–9 and the Liberal Party, 268–9, 281–2, 284, 287, 300 role in debates on Third Reform Act, 269, 279
and ‘separate spheres’, 278–9
and women’s suffrage, 270–1, 276–81, 282
Howard, Geoffrey, 306
Hughes, Hugh Price, 121
Hughes, Thomas, 81, 124, 127
Hughes-Hallet, Col. Francis, 194
Hutton, R. H., 207
idealism, influence on Edwardian suffrage debates, 315
Illingworth, Alfred, ambiguous ‘feminist’ commitment, 19, 81
Incarnational theology and domestic ideology, 125–6 and new model of masculinity, 127–8 paradigm shift from the ‘Age of Atonement’, 126–7 reassessment of value of suffering, 128
Ince, Henry, and child custody, 144, 146, 154–5, 160, 161
Inchiquin, Lord, 150
Inderwick, Frederick, 261
Infant Custody Act (1873), 12 interest representation, 203, 208–9, 229, 246, 279, 312, 313 and community representation, 298–300 Ireland and child custody law, 149–50 clerical influence at elections, 254 context for militancy, 316 and electoral violence, 234–5 and political representation, 214, 279
Jack the Ripper murders, 100, 103
Jack, Professor, correspondence with Lydia Becker, 273
Jackson, Henry, 217, 272
Jackson, Louise, 105
Jalland, Pat, 92, 183
James, Edward, 208–9
James, Sir Henry, 255
attachment to his mother and filial tributes, 165, 175–6 challenges the implications of the vote as a ‘trust’, 247 on commuters and plural voting, 296–7 on educative value of the vote, 267 electoral corruption and anti-suffragism, 235 on enfranchisement of married women, 273 his extremism converts A. M. Sullivan to suffragism, 252 failure to meet the ideal of manliness, 167, 168, 170 and fashioning of anti-suffragist masculinity, 164–5, 175, 200
and ‘separate spheres’, 164, 175–6, 200
sexuality, 165–6 vested interest in presenting politics as a ‘public’ activity, 167, 179, 200 on women’s intellect, 251 on women’s political knowledge, 263, 266 on women’s role in securing Liberal Unionist victory at Hereford, 265
James, Sir William, and the Agar-Ellis case (1883), 158
Jenkins, Edward, 193
Jenkinson, Sir George, 304
Jessel, George, 85, 90
John, Angela, 185
Johnston, Andrew, 61
Jowett, Benjamin, 113, 116, 127
Judicature Act (1873), 85, 93, 94
Karslake, Edward, 49, 87, 274–5
Kekewich, Sir Arthur, 145–6
Kelly, William, 53–4
Kenealy, Edward Vaughan, 194–5
Kindersley, Vice Chancellor, 59
Kingsley, Charles, and ‘muscular’ Christianity, 127, 172
Kinloch, Lord, judgment in Steuart v. Steuart, 4
Kirkwood, Anderson, 85
Kitson, George, Dean of Durham, 121
Laing, Samuel changing views on parliamentary reform, 206–7, 213, 261, 267 on male breadwinner, 173
Langdale, Lord (Master of the Rolls), 146 languages of representation, variety of, 30, 203–4, 232
and women’s suffrage, 30
see also class representation; community representation; interest representation; property representation; taxation as entitlement to representation
Index

348 law and politics, connections between, 154–62

Lawrence, Jon, 239
Lawson, Sir Wilfrid, 81, 301, 302
Layard, A. H., 211
Leamy, Edmund, 149
Leatham, Edward, 52, 238
on female MPs, 197
on women’s suffrage, 204, 215, 225, 227, 234, 237, 248, 251, 274 legal position of women, and reforms of, 1866–1900, 9–14
Lewis, John D., 17
liberalism changing views on ‘fitness’ to vote, 250–1, 267–8, 300–2 see also household suffrage; manhood suffrage; political education; rating qualification; residence qualification and class differences, 96, 207–8, 223 and class representation, 206–8, 214–15, 249, 312
and ‘feminism’, 25–8, 68, 70, 80–1, 313, 318
and home rule, 283, 292
and household suffrage, 268–9, 281–2 and manhood suffrage, 283–4, 287, 300 and Mill, 25–7, 67, 311
and moral reform, 78–9, 79–81, 110, 311
and radicalism, 27, 284 religious change and women’s rights, 120, 135, 312 and social science, 79–80
and theories of political representation, 30–1, 204, 313
Lightfoot, J. B., 115, 116, 121
Limerick, Lord, 150
Lindsay, Thomas, 121
Linton, Eliza Lynn, 48
local elections and local government, 13–14, 243–4, 314
Lockwood, Amelius, 308
Long, Walter, 288–9
Lopes, Henry, 154
on married women’s property and domestic authority, 43–4, 46, 49, 84
Lowe, Robert, 81
on parliamentary reform, 210, 213, 255, 259
Lowther, James, representation of classes and communities, 214, 298
Lucy, Henry on parliamentary performance, 190–3 pokes fun at Newdegate, 177
Lux mundi (1889), 119, 121
Lytelton, Arthur, 119, 121
Lytelton, Edward, 107–8, 111, 117–18
Macdonald, Alexander, 192–3
Macdonald, J. H., 161
Macfarlane, Donald, 154
McGarel-Hogg, Sir James, 244
Mackennal, Alexander, 121
Maclearen, Alexander, 118
McLaren, Duncan, 61, 175
McLaren, John, and Married Women’s Property Acts, 93, 94
Maguire, John, 239, 242, 262, 276
Maine, Sir Henry, 155
Maintenance of Children Bill (1881), 44
manhood suffrage, 284, 287, 300
Manners, Lord John, 215, 246, 266
Majoriobanks, Dudley, 186
Marriage, see coverture; domestic abuse; domestic ideology; enfranchisement of married women; marriage service; masculinity and domesticity marriage service, and the female vow of obedience, 51, 62, 132 Married Women (Maintenance in Case of Desertion) Act (1886), 50, 86
Married Women’s Property Bill, Select Committee (1868), 74, 80, 86, 87, 88–92
Married Women’s Property (Scotland) Act (1881), 94–5
Married Women’s Property Acts (1870 and 1882), 5, 11, 15, 18, 19, 22, 25, 29, 33, 101, 109, 126, 219, 220, 224
Act (1870), 87–92
Act (1882), 94–6, 277
Bill (1868), 49, 73–4, 80, 220
Bill (1869), 66, 91
Conservative and Liberal voting records, 80–1, 93 equity, trusts, marriage settlements and elite property-holding practices, 82–5 historical perspectives, 66–7 influenced by different models of masculinity, 309 left the wealthy relatively untouched and male authority intact, 85–7, 95–6, 221 Raikes’s alternative bill, 1870, 91 rights of married women versus fear of familial discord, 37–64 use of law to establish a moral standard, 78–9 Married Women’s Property Committee, 11, 67
Martin, T. Carlaw, 142
Index

Martineau, James, 121

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Newdegate, Charles (cont.)
deplores the politicisation of local government, 244 devotion to his mother, and bachelorhood, 176–7 fears clerical influence, 254–5 physical bravery and chivalry, 177–8, 179, 185
and ‘separate spheres’, 167, 178–9 on an uneducated electorate, 254
vociferous anti-suffragist, 167, 179–80
Newland, Henry, 54
Newport, Viscount, 214
Nolan, John, 149
Northcote, Sir Stafford, 237, 254
Norton, Caroline, 69, 83, 98
O’Connor, T. P., 189–90
O’Donoghue, Daniel, 206
Oldstone-Moore, Christopher, 172
Onslow, Guildford, 17
Orr-Ewing, Archibald, 29
Osborne, Bernal, 235, 247
Orway, Arthur, 209
Owen, Robert, and Owenite doctrine on marriage, 59
Palmer, James, and Susannah Palmer,
65–7, 69
Palmer, John Hinde, and married women’s property, 93
Palmer, Roundell, see Lord Selborne Palmerston, Lord, 208, 245
Pankhurst, Christabel, 108, 316
Pankhurst, Richard, 13
Parker, C. S., 81
Parker, Jesse Raynor, 59 parliament, and extra-parliamentary pressure, 6–7
Parliamentary Elections (Plural Voting) Bill
(1895), 294
Pauline Epistles, 51–9, 111–12, 114, 116–20, 123, 125, 132, 314
pauperism and voting disqualification, 300–1
Penzance, Lord, 37, 46, 49, 50
Percival, John, Bishop of Hereford, 121
Percy, Earl, 307
Petrov, Stefan, 77
Phillips, Anne, 221
Phillipps, Henry, Bishop of Exeter, 121
Picton, James, 286
Playfair, Lyon
enfranchisement fits people for the exercise of power, 266 on unrepresented spinsters and widows, 271 on women’s suffrage and female MPs, 199, 252–3 Plunket, David, 245, 257
plural voting, 284, 286, 287, 290–4, 295–6, 298, 306
police, 69, 103, 104, 285 political education conferred by civic involvement, 258–9, 263–4, 264–5
conferred by literacy and reading, 256–8, 264 congred by the vote, 259–60, 266–7 dangers of an uneducated electorate, 253–5, 261
and formal schooling, 255–6, 261–3 knowledge of women’s issues, 266 redefinition disadvantages suffragists, 262, 281, 312
redefinition required by pursuit of party advantage, 250, 301–2 same criteria used to assess both sexes, 254–5, 281
and separate spheres, 263 superseded by appeal to moral judgement, 260–1, 267, 281–2
Pooley, Siaˆn, 169
Poovey, Mary, 46
Powell, William, 29
Prevention of Cruelty to Children Act (1889), 99, 109
Primrose League, 265, 303
Proctor, Adelaide, 128 property representation, 291, 293, 303–5 repackaged as part of the language of community representation, 294–6, 304
and women’s suffrage, 216, 303–6, 307–8 see also community representation
Protheroe, Edward, 197
Pugh, Martin, 21, 27, 29, 203, 251–2, 265, 302–3
Queensberry, 9th Marquess of, 198
Raikes, Henry, 91, 214, 225, 258
rating qualification, 229–30, 231–2, 268, 270, 285, 286, 287, 289–90, 295–6,
303 Redistribution Act (1885) and representation of interests, 299
Redmond, William, 193, 257–8
Registration of Electors Amendment Bill (1893), 286
Index

registration of voters, 285–7 see also rating qualification; residence qualification Rendall, Jane, 27, 29, 270
Renwick, George, 292 residence qualification, 212, 229–32, 286, 287–9, 296
see also plural voting
Richard, Henry, 81
Richmond and Gordon, Duke of, 144
Ridding, George, Bishop of Southwell, 121
Riddle, M. B., 58
Robertson, John, 302
Roebuck, J. A., 81, 213, 230, 278
Romanes, George, 119
Romilly, Lord (Master of the Rolls), judgment in Austin v. Austin, 148
Rosebery, Lord, 198
Round, James, 29
Rover, Constance, 229
Russell, Sir Charles, 86, 143
Salisbury, Lord and children’s religious education, 147 on Gladstone’s political calculations in 1884, 280 on guardianship and judicial discretion, 145, 153–4, 155, 162 see also Lord Cranborne
Sandford, Elizabeth, 47
Sandon, Lord, 242 school board elections, 242
Scottish law, 4, 11, 12, 52, 94–5, 161–2
Scourfield, John, 238–9, 248
Scolepe, George, 253
Sceley, J. R., and Ecce homo (1865), 125
Selborne, Lord, 42, 155 and child custody, 140, 141, 153, 155, 156 separate spheres and biological determinism, 21, 119–20, 251–3 collapsing due to internal contradictions, 142
and domestic ideology, 42, 54
facilitates heteronormative fiction of rational political sphere, 198 growing importance of, 39–40 important to anti-suffragists whose masculinity was insecure, 167, 175, 178–80, 184 an inadequate paradigm, 21–33, 63, 200, 204, 276, 309 increasingly central to twentieth-century anti-suffragism, 119–20, 308
and masculinity, 171, 172, 188, 198–9
and women’s suffrage class representation, 217
and community representation, 306 and electoral culture, 236
and household suffrage, 278 and political education, 263–4, 281 and property representation, 307 see also Alexander Beresford Hope; domestic ideology; Sir Henry James; Charles Newdegate Sexton, Thomas, 149
Shanley, Mary Lyndon, 67, 68, 79
Shaw-Lefevre, George ambiguous ‘feminist’ commitment, 20, 61, 220 on franchise and direct payment of rates, 289 and Married Women’s Property Bill (1868), 73, 74, 91, 220 on plural voters and wealth, 291, 296
Shelley, Percy, 97
Sherlock, David, 252, 276
Simeon, Sir John, 76, 78, 84
Skinner, Quentin, 32
Smith, Samuel, 52, 61, 117
Smith, Thomas Eustace, 242
Smith, William Robertson, 114, 121
Smollett, Patrick, sarcastic bachelor anti-suffragist, 176, 179, 193–4, 267, 275
Social Science Association, see National Association for the Promotion of Social Science Society for the Protection of Women and Children, 70
Spence, James, 55–6, 57
Spencer, Charles Robert (later 6th Earl Spencer), 190, 259
Spicer, Albert, 134
Spicer, Henry, 86
Spinns, P. L., 259
Stanhope, Edward, 295
Stanley of Alderley, Lord, 150
Stansfeld, James, 21, 104
on franchise reform, 289, 300 on male sexuality, 101
and women’s suffrage, 219, 226, 228, 271, 277, 280
Staveley Hill, Alexander, 92, 104, 154
Stephan, Leslie, 171
Steuart, Andrew, and Elizabeth Steuart, divorce and custody of children, 3–4, 10, 12, 74, 156
Storer, George, 237
Stuart, James, 104
Sullivan, Alexander, 195, 252
Szreter, Simon, 169
Talfourd's Act (1839), 11
Tanner, Duncan, 232 taxation, as entitlement to representation, 30, 268, 289–90, 296, 306
Taylor, Harriet, 59, 72, 218
Taylor, Helen, and The claim of Englishwomen to the suffrage (1867), 216, 217–18, 227
Temple, Frederick (Archbishop of Canterbury, 1896–1903), 116, 120
Templetown, Viscount, 304
Thomas, Urijah, 121
Tod, Isabella, 218
Tomlinson, William, 161, 162, 291
Torrens, Robert, 234
Torrens, William McCullagh, 242
Tosh, John, 22–3, 45, 133, 134
Trelawny, Sir John, 66
Trevelyan, George Otto, on the franchise, 231, 246, 266, 291
Tweedmouth, Lord, 186
Valverde, Mariana, 77
Vaughan, Herbert (Catholic Archbishop of Westminster), 121
Vernon, James, 244, 245 vote as a trust, and the shift to individual representation, see Ballot Act Wahrman, Dror, 39
Wallkowitz, Judith, 222
Wall, Charles Baring, 197
Walpole, Spencer, 30
Walter, John, 81
defplores any party spirit in local politics, 244 and Infants Bill, 96, 142–3, 147 on secret ballot and enfranchisement of agricultural labourers, 246
Walton, John, 290
Ward Hunt, George, 230, 242, 266
Warton, Charles, 104, 137, 151
Washburn, Emory, 89
Watkin, Sir Edward, 278
Webb, Alfred, 300
Webster, Sir Richard, 75–6
Westbury, Lord, judgment in Austin v. Austin (1865), 148
Westcott, Brooke Fosse, 115, 116, 121
Westlake, John, 89, 90, 124, 155
Wheelhouse, William, 22, 29
Whitmore, Charles, 293–4, 296
Wicksteed, Philip, 121
Wiener, Martin, 75
Williams, Rowland, 113
Williamson, Stephen, 141
Wilson, Daniel, 55
Wilson, Henry, 113
Wilson, James, Archdeacon of Manchester, 121
Wilson, Linda, 53
Wolstonecraft, Mary, 59
Wolstenholme, Elizabeth, see Elmy, Elizabeth Wolstenholme
Women's Disabilities Bill (1870), 13, 17–18
Women's Franchise League, 273
Women's Liberal Federation, 265 women's movement, and influence on legal reform, 5–7
Women's Suffrage Journal, 72, 263
Woodall, William, 272, 280
Worms, Baron Henry de, 199
Wybergh, John, 78, 81–2