Index

action see agency
agency see also agency and structure; collective agency assumption of 267
and belief 55
‘central conflationism’ and 72 co-determination of action 75–79
congenial 314
and contingency 279–290
continuity of 54
creativity of action 62–63
credit for 189
determination of 22
emergent properties and 20
engagement as prerequisite for 111 evasion of 290
exercise of 250
expectations of 107
and family relationships 85
fickle 118
formulation of new social rules 2
and history making 5
identification as agents 309
individualism and 302
and internal conversation 9, 133, 294
and morphogenesis 4, 6, 31, 33fig, 53, 99 and morphostasis 6, 19fig options for action 30–31 in own life 112
and passivity see passivity preferences 155
preservation of 42
primary agency see primary agency projects see projects reduction of 67
of reflexive engagement 65 relational reflexivity and 117n reliance on personal concerns 64 rescinding of 281
shaping of 106
situational logics of action see situational logics of action social influences on 49 and social relations 124, 154 transition from primary to collective 28fig
variety and 89
young people as agents see university entrance; young people agency and structure see also social structure agental reshaping 315
and culture 31, 73
habit and 50, 69, 80
insoparability 72n
interplay between 50–54
legitimation of institutional developments 194 mediation 54, 66n, 294
and morphogenesis 296n
pragmatist and realist approaches 48–51
reflexivity and 51
social influences on agency 49
aim of book 1
anti-individualism
incidence of 222
Archer, Margaret
on emergent powers 76
on personal and social identity 81 Aristotle
on supreme good 116fig
autonomous reflexivity
and career choice 188–201
conclusions as to 202–205
and ‘contextual discontinuity’ 23–31
as dominant mode 16
and family relationships 169–178
and friendships 178–188
internal conversations in 13fig
and morphogenesis 23–31
and morphostasis 23–31

330
Index

overview of 166–169
promotion of 34

Beck, Ulrich
'central conflationism’ 50
extended reflexivity thesis 3 individualization theory 136
on second-wave modernity 11 socialization theory 87, 108
on traditionalism 11 belief see also religion
and agency 55

Bourdieu, Pierre
'central conflationism’ 50
habitus theory 11, 47–48, 68–82, 83, 85, 86 influence ongoing 125
and realist theory 66
socialization theory 96

Camic, Charles
definition of ‘habit’ 47, 58–59 capitalism see also financial markets competition and conflict within 27
career choice
and autonomous reflexivity 188–201
changes in opportunities 39–40, 64
communicative reflexivity and 154–160
and individualism 201, 203
and internal conversation 107
and meta-reflexivity 235–245
'central conflationism’
agency and 72
detachment from 72
hallmark of 74
and reflexivity 73
theorization 50
class see social class
collective agency
actions by 27
competitive conflict 29
and development of modernity 25–26
interaction and 26
mobilization
concept of 29
process of 29–30
reflexivity and 8
transition from primary agency 28/fig communicative action
Habermas’ theory of 45
communicative reflexivity
career choice 154–160
conclusions as to 163–165
and ‘contextual continuity’ 17–23
decline of 125
as dominant mode 16
family relationships
friends as alternative to 141–146
matrix of 134–141
sustaining of 141–146
incidence of 128
internal conversations in 13/fg
maintenance of 34, 133–134
and morphostasis 17–23
nascent morphogenesis and 163, 165
operation of 84–86
practice of 33–34
relational matrix 135/fg retention of 128
shaping a life 154–160, 162/fg suspension of 160–163
'thought and talk’ 21, 33
university entrants 128–133
competitive contradictions
effect of 29
role of 26–28
complementarity
achievement of 115, 117
and contingency 64, 297, 303
deliberation about 185, 199 desirability of 109
disregard of 279
as emergent property 55, 297 establishment of 124, 188, 198 existence of 297
generation of 157
hostility to 119
increase of 118
issues of 108
lack of 161
need for 163, 185
re-establishment of 160 sense of 112–114
concerns see young people conditioning see social conditioning confliction see ‘central conflationism’ ‘contextual continuity’
and communicative reflexivity 17–23
and ‘contextual discontinuity’ 63
defence of 22
experience of 16, 17
'likeness' and 86
and morphostasis 17–23
pre-modern societies 18–19
and situational logics of action 21–23
as traditionalism 19, 59, 63, 82 traditionalism distinguished 19n
Index

'contextual discontinuity'
and autonomous reflexivity 23–31
and 'contextual continuity' 63
experience of 16, 17
growth of 63
and morphogenesis 23–31
and morphostasis 23–31
and phenomenology 24
social mobility and 39
spread of 24
'contextual incongruity'
experience of 16, 17
increased reach of 39
and meta-reflexivity 31–41
and morphogenesis 31–41
religion 38
women 38
young people 37–38, 39–41
contingency
and agency 279
and complementarity 64, 297, 303
'contingent compatibilities' 297, 301 experience and 107, 307
exploration of 292
and expressive reflexivity 270–290
fractured reflexivity and 277–290
geographical 255
influence of 90, 114, 121, 134, 189, 239, 290
innovation and 64
matters of 254
negative 250
openness to 315
opportunity regarded as 308 power of 56
unexpected 2
vulnerability to 46, 66
creativity of action
time of 62–63
and structural change 25
variety and 62
daily life
phenomenology of 74
DDD scheme
and internal conversation 44, 103
demography
modes of reflexivity and 322–324
Discernment, Deliberation and Dedication
(DDD Scheme)
and internal conversation 44, 103
disposition experience as basis of 77–79 dominant modes see modes of reflexivity Donati, Pierpaolo
time registers 120n
Durkheim, Emile
on habit 58–59
on law and punishment and status quo 21
'likeness' 86
on pathology of economic change 35
'segmented society' theory 20
socialization theory 87, 88, 92, 93, 96
eyearly societies see pre-modern societies economic change
instrumental rationality 35
situational logics of action 35
education
as cultural capital 39–40
ego
and personal identity 95
Elder-Vass, Dave
on habit and reflexivity 72–79
emergent powers
balance between 67
possession of 76, 98
emergent properties
causal power of 56
complementarity as 55, 297 cultural capital
construction of 98n
defence of 73
generation of 115, 178
'internal goods' as 99
and monadism 15n
ontology of 72, 73
possession of 5
in realist theory 54, 66
relational goods as 117, 119, 134, 141 relational nature of 51n
role of 20, 55
and social mobility 294 transmission to agents 20
Index

employment see career choice

engagement
- as pre-requisite for agency 65, 111
- ‘thought and talk’ 21, 33

Europe
- transition to modernity 23–31

experience
- as basis of disposition 77–79
- contingency and 107, 307
- variety and 99

expressive reflexivity
- conclusions as to 290–291
- and contingency 279–290
- fragmented reflexivity and 277–290
- responses to mental activities 280/fg extended reflexivity

- areas of 127
- reflexive imperatively contrasted 3
- reflexive modernization and 3
- as subject of book 2
- thesis 3, 10

family
- and agency 85
- and autonomous reflexivity 169–178
- and communicative reflexivity generally 133–134
- as cultural capital 39–41
- friends as alternative to 141–146
- and internal conversation 130, 151
- matrix of relations 134–141
- and meta-reflexivity 211–222
- parents’ socio-economic background 322/fg
- relational goods see relational goods
- socialization 42, 68, 276
- stability as relational good 101
- sustaining of relations 141–146
- traditionality and 306
- feeling
  - phenomenology and 286
- financial investment risk
  - and variety 36
- financial markets
  - intensification of morphogenesis 35–37
  - and state redistribution 37/fg

Fleetwood, Steve
- on habit and reflexivity 68–69, 85
- fragmented reflexivity
- and career choice 271–277
- contingency and 277–290
- as dominant mode 16
- and expressive reflexivity 277–290
- factors leading to 254–257
- and family relationships 258–264

and friendships 265–270
- internal conversations in 13/fg, 139, 251
- nascent morphogenesis and 290
- overview of 249–254
- phenomenology and 308
- relational evils as cause of 257–258
- friends
  - as alternative to family 141–146
  - and autonomous reflexivity 178–188
- friendship patterns and modes of
  - reflexivity 148/fg
  - and meta-reflexivity 222–235
  - preferences 155

Garfinkel, Harold
- on need for reflexivity 2
- ‘generalized other’
- socialization and 90–96, 91/fg
- geographical contingency
  - influence of 255
- geographical mobility
  - degree of 167
  - prospect of 156
  - refusal of 305

Giddens, Anthony
- ‘central conflationism’ 50
- social theory 53, 58, 74, 204
- on traditionality 3, 11
- ‘globalization’
  - and traditionality 48
- good life
  - reflexivity and pursuit of 108/fg
  - ‘goods’ see ‘internal goods’; relational goods

Habermas, Jürgen
- communicative action theory 45
- social theory 89, 93, 94, 112
- socialization theory 87, 95n, 96, 108
- ‘utopianism’ 65, 95

habit, habitus
- and agency and structure 50, 69, 80
- definition of 47
- effectiveness as guides to action 1
- formation through socialization 55, 71,
  - 77–78, 77/fg
- hybridization of 70–72
- and internal conversation 55
- and morphogenetic theory 50–51
- and morphostasis 58–60
- and reflexivity
  - attempts to combine 68–82
  - co-determination of action 75–79
  - conceptualization of relationship 61–63
Index

habit, habitus (cont.)
conclusions as to 84–86
temporal combination 68–69 hybridization 48, 54, 60, 70–72 morphogenetic cycle 53–54 ontological reconciliation 72–79
pragmatist and realist approaches 48–51
realist theory 54, 66–67 relative importance 55, 60–64 theoretical reconciliation 72–79
role of 47, 80
scope of 58–59
temporary 11, 47–48, 68–82, 83, 85, 86
heterogeneity
individualism and 302–303
history making elements for 5
habitus and 80
sociological viewpoint 5–6

ICONI (‘internal conversation indicator’) use of 100n, 128n, 316–329 identity see personal identity; social identity individualism see also methodological individualism; transactional individualism
agency and 302
anti-individualism 222
assertion of 100, 209
and career choice 201, 203
endorsement of 208
heterogeneity and 302–303 ‘institutionalized’ 4, 32 monadic 15, 49
‘new individualism’ 204 and psychology 16
and reflexive modernization 3
self-constituted 204
self-focused 65
individualization theory
opposition to 136
and second-wave modernity 146
information creation
interaction and 300
information technology
morphogenesis and 64
innovation
and contingency 64
instrumental rationality
operation of 34–35
and traditionalism 34
interaction
appreciation of 151
and collective agency 26 conditioning and 54
cultural see cultural interaction
effect of 98
and information creation 300 ‘interactional’ time register 120n of interest groups 63–64 necessity of 282
‘reflexive accounting’ of 2 role in shaping future social order 315 social see social interaction symbiotic 302
interest groups
interaction of 63–64
internal conversation see also ‘thought and talk’ action defined through 9, 133, 294
and agency 9
blotting out of 265
and career choice 107
characterization of 99
 circular 277
as to concerns 42
confirmation of 84, 127, 140, 165
continuous 214
and DDD scheme 44, 103
dominant mode of 141, 206, 208, 318n engagement in 217, 250, 252
evasion of 309
external conversation as 278 and external relations 15–16
factoring into 179
family involvement in 130, 151 and fractured reflexivity 15fg, 139, 251
and habit 55
independence of 67
‘internal conversation indicator’ 100n, 128n, 316–329
limits of 96
mental activities constituting 129 and modes of reflexivity 12, 13fg, 128, 318n privacy of 14
reassessment through 220
reflexivity operating through 3, 11, 48, 89
religion 32
role of 6, 14–15
and self-transformation 61 ‘internal goods’ see also relational goods culture as 39
as emergent properties 99 and pursuit of good life 108fg internet
interaction via 247, 304
Index

investment risk
and variety 36

Joas, Hans
on creativity of action 62–63

Kant, Immanuel
social theory 1, 112
knowledge
types of 77

‘likeness’
Durkheim’s theory of 86

Marx, Karl
on competition and conflict within capitalism 27

Mead, George Herbert
reflexivity theory 11, 62
socialization theory 87–96, 96, 102, 103n
mental activities expressive responses to 280 of internal conversation 129

meta-reflexivity
and career choice 235–245
conclusions as to 245–248
and ‘contextual incongruity’ 31–41
as dominant mode 16
and family relationships 211–222
and friendships 222–235
internal conversations in 13
and morphogenesis 31–41
nascent morphogenesis and 206
overview of 206–211
phenomenology and 207
methodological individualism abandonment of 25n strategies of 98n mobilization see collective agency

modernity characteristics of 6–7, 23–24 development of 25
‘games’ 30
pre-modern societies see pre-modern societies reflexive imperative and 4 replacement by nascent morphogenesis 294–295 second-wave see second-wave modernity slowness of change 38

and traditionalism 26
transition to 24
modernization see reflexive modernization modes of reflexivity

assigned scores from study 321
changes over time
methodology for charting 326–327
demography and 322–324
dominant modes
determinants of 16–17
incidence of 12–14
and internal conversation 141
psychological basis for 17
summary of 318
universal 25
endorsement of 319
friendship patterns 148 historical proposition as to 12
and internal conversation 12, 13
relationships between 324–325
scope of book 7
and situational logics of action 16–17
and internal conversation 141
study methodology 322–324, 324–325
summary of 12–16, 13
and friendship patterns 148 monadic individualism and emergent properties 15n
incidence of 15, 49

morphogenesis see also morphogenetic theory acceleration of 4, 5–8 and agency 6, 31, 33, 53, 99, 296n
and autonomous reflexivity 23–31
basic sequence of 32
completion of cycle 53
and ‘contextual discontinuity’ 23–31
and ‘contextual incongruity’ 31–41
cultural 24, 31–41, 33, 296n double 32
effect of 5
effects of emergence of 1 and increases in reflexivity 64–65 information technology and 64 intensification of 35–36
and meta-reflexivity 31–41
morphostasis in relation to 5–6, 24, 51–57
nascent see nascent morphogenesis
operation of 6
and reflexive modernization 32
reflexivity and 6
scope of 50–51
significance of start of 35, 39 structural 31–41, 33, 296n
and traditionalism 24, 31, 57
morphogenetic theory
and habit 50–51
Index

morphostasis
and agency 6, 19ff
and autonomous reflexivity 23–31
and communicative reflexivity 17–23
and 'contextual continuity' 17–23
and 'contextual discontinuity' 23–31
cultural configurations 19ff
and habit 58–60
morphogenesis in relation to 5–6, 24, 51–57, 60–64
operation of 6
pre-modern societies 17–23
reflexivity and 6
return to 63–64
structural configurations 19ff tendency towards 21
Mouzelis, Nicos on habit and reflexivity 71

nascent morphogenesis
advancement of 298
advent of 189, 227
agency and 4
amplification of 299
change towards 101
communicative reflexivity and 163, 165
consequences of 1, 4, 64 context of 114
divided form of 309
fractured reflexivity and 290
growth of 96, 106
meta-reflexivity and 206 modernity replaced by 294–295
onset of 4
operation of 87, 125, 168, 276
reflexivity and 41–45
routinization of 64
socialization and 108
terms of 305
natal context
satisfaction with 84
natural reality
orders of 77ff
new social rules
formulation through agency 2
non-reflexivity
example of 81–82

opportunity
as contingency 308
university entrance as 129–133
variety of 133
variety of responses to 249

Ostrow, James on habit and reflexivity 71–72 outcomes
variety of 141
parental background see family Parsons, Talcott
habituation theory 47
socialization theory 87, 88, 92, 96, 114
passivity
battle against 284
break with 267
drift towards 159
reduction to 7, 308
relationally induced 160
resort to 165, 278
institutional 124
personal concerns see young people personal identity see also social identity completion of 271
definition of 14, 79
development of 81, 103
and ego 95
personal concerns and 14, 105 realization of 262
and social identity 271, 286
phenomenology
and 'contextual discontinuity' 24
of daily life 74
and feeling 286
and fractured reflexivity 308
and meta-reflexivity 207
and reflexivity 10, 12
Pierce, Charles Sanders on habit and reflexivity 61–62 politics
't new individualism' 204
traditionalism and 204
pragmatist theory
reflexivity and habit 48–51
pre-modern societies
'contextual continuity' 18–19
morphostasis 17–23
reflexivity and 60
primary agency
and development of modernity 25, 26
transition to collective agency 28ff projects
achievement of 56
definition of 56
understanding reasons for choice of 57 variety of resources for 118 psychology
and dominant modes of reflexivity 17
and individualism 16
Index

Rational Choice Theory
conformity to 34, 35
rationality
instrumental rationality see instrumental rationality traditional 60
realist theory see also morphogenetic theory reflexivity and habit 48–51, 54, 66–67
real orders of natural reality 77 ‘reflexive accounting’ of interaction 2
reflexive imperative see also reflexivity
aim of book 1
applicability to all persons 1
changes over time
methodology for charting 325–329
conclusions as to 292–297
conclusions of book 292–315 extended reflexivity contrasted 3 future for 314–315
and habit see habit, habitus
history of approach to 57
conclusions as to 45–46
lack of historical inquiry 10–11 process of historical development 10 propositions as to 12
recentness of 11
inevitability of 125–127 main proposition of book 7
and modernity 4
negative consequences of 1 positive consequences of 1 reason for engaging in 1–2 reflexive modernization contrasted 3, 5
scope of book 4, 5, 7–8
study methodology 8–9, 316–329
summary of findings 293 reflexive modernization extended reflexivity and 3
and individualism 3
and morphogenesis 32
reflexive imperative contrasted 3, 5 reflexivity see also reflexive imperative and agency see agency, agency and structure autonomous reflexivity see autonomous reflexivity
collective agency and 8 communicative reflexivity see
communicative reflexivity
conceptual approaches 14 definition 1
extended reflexivity see extended
reflexivity
extension of 5–8
fractured reflexivity see fractured
reflexivity
and habit see habit, habitus
historical proposition as to 12
increases in 64–65
intensification of 3–4
and internal conversation see internal conversation
mental activities constituting see mental activities
meta-reflexivity see meta-reflexivity modes of see modes of reflexivity and morphogenesis see morphogenesis and morphostasis see morphostasis
need for 2–3
and non-reflexivity 81–82
and phenomenology 10, 12
and pursuit of good life 108 reflexive modernization see reflexive modernization traditional societies and 60
and traditionalism 2, 3, 11, 21, 60
relational goods see also ‘internal goods’ absence of 167, 169, 174
attrition of 167
beneficiaries of 210
creation of 124
duplicated source of 125 emergent 117, 119, 134, 141 family stability as 101
generation of 118, 179, 201, 209
maintenance of 126
orientation towards 117
overview of 98–102
production of 120, 141
receipt of 126, 134, 176
selectivity 102
supply of 202
sustaining of 141
value of 165
relational reflexivity
conclusions as to 124
definition of 117
matrix of relations 121
relational solution evidence for 112–115
illustration of 115–124, 116 shaping a life and 102–104 social interaction and 99, 117 socialization as 96–124
Index

religion
and competition 27–29
‘contextual incongruity’ 38
internal conversation 32 risk management
and variety 36
rules see social rules

Sayer, Andrew
on habit and reflexivity 68–69, 79
second-wave modernity and individualization theory 146
onset of 11
‘segmented society’
Durkheim’s theory of 20
selection (task of)
necessity of 97
self-transformation
and internal conversation 61
shaping a life
and communicative reflexivity 154–160, 162
and relational reflexivity 102–104 start of 104–109
task of 97
shared experiences
socialization as source of 79–82 ‘similar and familiars’ social interaction of 20–21
situational logics of action
congenial elements 23
economic change 35
guidance from 21–23
modes of reflexivity and 16–17
offensive elements 23 pursuit of 22
young people 37, 41–42
social class
socialization and 69
social conditioning conditions for operation of 56
influence of 54, 55–56
interaction and 54
social identity see also personal identity acquisition of 107
development of 81
and personal identity 271, 286
seeking of 103
social immobility
sustaining of 85
social interaction
cyber 247, 304
incidence of 56
influencing of ideas as 91 lack of confidence in 274
morphogenesis and 33
morphostasis and 19
relational reflexivity and 99, 117 of ‘similar and familiars’ 20–21 social mobility see also geographical mobility
assumption of 156
‘contextual discontinuity’ and 39 determination of type of 294
emergent properties and 294
means of 285
quest for 272
social relations
and agency 124, 154
conclusions as to 305–314
social rules
formulation of new rules 2
social science
variety and 297–305
social structure see also agency and structure; culture competitive contradictions 26–28
and cultural change 25
early societies see pre-modern societies
emergent properties 20
and history making 5
interplay with culture 25
morphogenesis 31–41, 33
morphostasis 19
role of interaction in shaping future 315
socialization
agencies of 96
changed nature of 82–84 changing practices of 86 contemporary view of 124 demise of 65
diminution of 64
family 68, 276
‘generalized other’ and 90–96, 91 and habit formation 55, 71, 77–78, 77
influence of 68
informal 6
and modernity 87
and nascent morphogenesis 108 overriding of early 60
parental 42
as passive process 124
as relational reflexivity 96–124 self-socialization 247
social class and 69
as source of shared experiences 79–82 traditional theories of 87–96
and traditionalism 54, 98, 101, 106, 107, 112, 124
Index

state redistribution and financial markets 37fg structure see social structure students see young people supreme good
Aristotle's theory of 116fg Sweetman, Paul
on habit and reflexivity 70–71
'thought and talk' see also internal conversation completion of 160, 161
confirmation of 160
engagement in 12, 21, 33, 84, 100, 128, 150, 158, 165
pattern of 256, 278
practice of 164
requirements for 163
self-control in 256
time registers
use of 120n
traditional societies see pre-modern societies traditionalism
career choice 40
'contextual continuity' as 19, 59, 63, 82
'contextual continuity' distinguished 19n disposition towards 59
family background 306
female roles 270
and 'globalization' 48
hegemony of 58
and instrumental rationality 34
'mindless' 22
and modernity 26
and morphogenesis 24, 31, 57
personal background 258–259, 260, 306 personal values 221
political 204
professional 40, 204
and reflexivity 2, 3, 11, 21, 60
and socialization 54, 87–96, 98, 101, 106, 107, 112, 124 traditional rationality 60 women's roles 270
transactional individualism
incidence of 296
prospect of 305
underdeveloped reflexivity incidence of 128–129 university entrance
agency and 166
communicative reflexivity 128–129
modes of reflexivity at 320fg, 321fg as opportunity 129–133
university students see young people
'utopianism'
Habermas' theory of 65, 95
variety
absence of 19
'bounded' 272, 273, 276, 279, 290 confrontation of 1
cultural 62
definition of 295–297, 315
expectations for 295
experience and 99
extension of 314
and financial investment risk 36 generation of 106n
increase in 35, 39, 63, 292
intensification of 37
means–ends 30
of needs 110
novelty of 31, 96, 100
of opportunities 133
of outcomes 141
pooling of 235
of possible actions 89
production of 31
of project resources 118 proliferation of 291
of response to opportunity 249 responsiveness to 208, 224 selection from 271–277
self-generation of 64, 97, 326 situation 6, 22
social science and 297–305 sources of 149
of strategies 19
Vygotsky, Lev S on history of reflexivity 10, 57
Weber, Max
on habit 59–60
on interplay of structure and culture 25n methodological individualism see methodological individualism on modes of reflexivity 17 Wiley, Norbert
on internal conversation 14
women
'contextual incongruity' and 38
traditionalism and 270
Index

young people
as agents 7–8, 97
basis for decision-making 41 career choice see career choice concerns
career choice 43–45
configuration of 109–112
and 'contextual incongruity' 42–43
internal conversation as to 42–44
and personal identity 14, 105
response to 42
study methodology 327–329

'contextual incongruity' and 37–38, 39–41, 82–84
cyber social interaction 247, 304 education see education main tasks as agents 97
non-reflexivity 81–82
parental background 322/fig selection see selection (task of) shaping a life see shaping a life situational logics of action 37, 41–42
as subjects of study 8–9 university entrance see university entrance