Contents

List of Illustrations and Table  page ix
Acknowledgments  xi
Abbreviations  xv

Introduction  1

   Postwar Labor Unrest and the Arrival of Herbert Hoover  39
   Confronting and Defining Waste in Industry  42
   A Public Concern: The Workday in the Steel Industry  47
   Wages, Hours, and “a Feeling of Partnership”  56
   “This Almost Insatiable Appetite for Goods and Services”: The NBER Celebrates the Worker-Consumer  64
   Conclusion  75

2. Wages and the Public Interest: Economists and the Wage Question in the New Era  78
   Measuring Wages in the Postwar Era  91
   Wages as a Public Concern  94
   Prosperity and Wage Justice: The Post-1922 Real Wage Increase  104
   Conclusion  108

   The AFL’s Search for a New Mission  116
   The Rise of the Labor Research Bureau  119
   More than Just More: A New Wage Policy for Organized Labor  124
   Labor’s New Friends  129
   The AFL as a Watchdog for Economic Stability  134
Table of Contents

- Open the Books: The LBI's Examination of Profits
  - Page 139
- "Assuming Responsibility for Service:" The B&O Experiment
  - Page 141
- Conclusion
  - Page 151

4. A New Capitalism?: Interrogating Employers' Efforts to Cultivate a “Feeling of Partnership” in Industry
  - Interrogating New Capitalism: The RSF Studies
    - Page 154
  - The Filene Department Store and Dutchess Bleachery Investigations
    - Page 162
  - The Rockefeller Plan in the Coal and Steel Industry
    - Page 171
  - Conclusion: A New Capitalism?
    - Page 178

5. Gender Research as Labor Activism: The Women’s Bureau in the New Era
  - Empowering Expertise: The Creation of the Women’s Bureau
    - Page 180
  - Redefining Women Workers as Breadwinners
    - Page 188
  - Labor Inquiry as Activism through Gendered and Race Knowledge
    - Page 194
  - Advocating Labor Standards Before and After Adkins
    - Page 204
  - Conclusion
    - Page 213

6. The New “Negro Problem”
  - An Intractable Condition
    - Page 216
  - Celebration and Concern: First Steps at Making Sense of the Migration
    - Page 219
  - The Rise and Fall of the Division of Negro Economics
    - Page 222
  - The Red Summer and the Emergence of Charles S. Johnson
    - Page 229
  - Conclusion
    - Page 239

7. Promising Problems: Working toward a Reconstructed Understanding of the African American and Mexican Worker
  - Framing the Postwar Immigration Debate
    - Page 246
  - Reconstructing the Public Perception of the Negro Problem
    - Page 249
  - Considering the Relative Position of the Negro and Mexican Worker
    - Page 253
  - Remaking the Public Image of the Mexican Problem
    - Page 267
  - Conclusion
    - Page 279

- Archival Sources and Abbreviations
  - Page 307
- Index
  - Page 309