

Contents

List of tables	page vi
Preface	vii
1 Symbolism and regime change	1
2 Dissolution of the Soviet metanarrative	11
3 The leader's vision	28
4 The symbolism of the political arena	79
5 Russian identity in the public arena	134
6 Moscow: a material basis for post-Soviet identity?	178
Conclusion: The difficulties of a post-Soviet narrative	212
Bibliography	231
Index	243

Tables

4.1 Popular evaluation of the political system	page 127
4.2 Does Russia need democracy?	129
4.3 What kind of democracy for Russia?	130
4.4 Order or democracy?	130
4.5 Trust in institutions	131
4.6 Nature of the political system	132
5.1 Attitude to the burial of Lenin	155
5.2 Popular attitude to Stalin	173
5.3 Youth attitude to Stalin	173
5.4 Feelings for Stalin	174
5.5 Evaluation of Stalin's leadership ability	175
5.6 Attitude to breakdown of USSR, 1	175
5.7 Attitude to breakdown of USSR, 2	176