

INDEX

- advocacy groups see rights advocacy groups
- agency
  - action on shifting political opportunities, 111
  - agentic elements of legal mobilization, 4–5, 180
  - of CFA judges, 17–18
  - of rights support structure, 21–23
  - transformative agents see cause lawyering; rights advocacy groups
- appeal cases
  - government as party, 14*fig*, 16*fig*
  - result of cases, 81*fig*
- appellate courts see Court of Appeal; Court of Final Appeal
- Basic Law
  - active use by cause lawyers, 126
  - alleged violation by democratic reforms, 95, 107
  - alleged violation by government policies, 136–137, 174
  - Basic Law Committee, 175–176
  - cause lawyering and, 119–121
  - democracy provisions, 18–19, 92, 97, 103–104, 172–173
  - effect on lawyers' caseloads, 35–36
  - grey areas in, 19
  - human rights provisions, 17
  - invocation in cases, 32, 49, 79, 172
  - judicial independence provisions, 44, 53, 72–73, 74–75
  - and legal mobilization, 13–17, 20
  - as new legal opportunity, 110–111, 125, 150, 163, 183, 186
  - and new legal opportunity structure, 64–66, 115, 118–119, 124–125, 156
  - right of abode under, 77–79, 106–107, 156–157
  - rights protection provisions, 13–17, 19–20
  - schedule of democratic development, 18–19
  - use of, 73, 88, 126
- Beijing government see government
- Bill of Rights see Hong Kong Bill of Rights Ordinance
- cause lawyering
  - as agentic element of legal mobilization, 4–5
  - and autonomy of legal profession, 127–128
  - backgrounds of cause lawyers, 116–118*fig*
  - Basic Law and, 119–121
  - and close-down of political opportunities, 124–125
  - concern for civil liberties, 122–124
  - constraints, 127
  - Court of Final Appeal and, 121–122, 126
  - developments summarized, 134
  - economic pressures on, 132–133
  - gatekeeping role, 136–137
  - and government-funded legal aid, 130, 137–141
  - HKBORO and, 119–121
  - and judiciary, 125
  - lack of academic legal support, 133–134
  - new legal opportunities and, 118–119
  - opportunities, 127
  - political activism and public support, 128–130
  - representation
    - accommodation of needs of disadvantaged, 145–148
    - alignment with clients' objectives and strategies, 148
    - and legal mobilization, 141–145
  - role in economic modernization and democratization, 150–151
  - transfer of sovereignty and rise of, 115–116
  - transformative role, 135
- CFA see Court of Final Appeal
- CFI see Court of First Instance
- Chief Executive see executive
- Chile
  - judicial independence compared, 73–74
- China
  - Beijing government see government
  - judicial dependence see Shanghai
- civil liberties see also human rights
  - cause lawyering and, 115, 116, 124–125, 128

INDEX

- civil liberties (cont.)
  - defence by judiciary, 19–20, 73, 74, 75, 79–80, 85, 88, 126, 157, 183
  - pro-democracy legislation, 93–94
- Civil Rights for Sexual Diversities (CRSD)
  - competency for legal mobilization, 164
  - legal mobilization as long-term strategy, 164–166
  - rights advocacy by, 163
- civil service
  - public confidence, 85–86*fig*
- colonial government see government
- constitution see Basic Law
- Court of Appeal
  - government as party, 16*fig*
- Court of Final Appeal
  - analysis of cases, 30–37
  - assertiveness, 85
  - case load, 17
  - cause lawyering and, 121–122, 125, 126
  - changes in agenda, 30–37
  - conceptions of role of, 73–77
  - defence of rights by, 19–20, 73, 74, 75, 85, 88, 126, 157, 183
  - establishment, 13–17, 66, 115, 118–119
  - government as party, 14*fig*
  - importance of geographical proximity, 66–69
  - increase in use of, 100–103
  - invocation of international human rights treaties, 76
  - judicial independence
    - Basic Law provisions, 44, 53, 72–73, 74–75
    - and legal mobilization, 39–41, 43–45, 71–73
  - and new legal opportunity structure, 71
  - overseas non-permanent judges, 18, 69–71, 72–73
  - overturning of decision, 175–176
  - public confidence, 85–87*fig*
  - result of cases, 81*fig*
  - right-of-abode litigation, 32, 176–177*fig*, 141
  - shift of political opportunities to, 89–90
- Court of First Instance
  - discussion of cases, 30
- courts see judiciary; legal opportunity structure
- critical antecedents
  - critical junctures contrasted, 7
  - definition of, 7
  - interdependence with legal mobilization, 20–21
  - legal complex as, 7–11*fig*, 38–55
- critical junctures
  - changes in political opportunities, 18–20
  - creation of, 11–12
  - critical antecedents contrasted, 7
  - definition of, 11
  - interdependence with legal mobilization, 20–21
  - legal mobilization, 11–20
  - new legal opportunity structure, 12–18
  - 1989 Tiananmen democratic movement as, 5–6, 11–12, 60–61, 91–92, 122, 180, 182
  - transfer of sovereignty as, 4–5
- democracy see political opportunities; pro-democracy movement
- economic modernization
  - democratization and, 150–151
  - role of middle class, 186
- electoral system
  - and legal mobilization, 35, 63, 67–68, 123–124, 148–149, 153, 171–172
- executive
  - balance of power, 27–28, 35–36, 61, 73–74, 90, 98, 104, 108, 153
  - colonial government, 91
  - competence, 24
  - control over legislation, 97–98, 153, 163
  - Executive Council, 97–98
  - foreign participation, 53, 69
  - and judicial independence, 39, 41, 44, 71–73, 74, 85
  - public confidence, 85–86*fig*
- expatriate judges see judiciary
- government see also judicialization of
  - politics; political system; transfer of sovereignty
  - authoritarianism and forms of legal mobilization, 183–185
  - and Basic Law see Basic Law
  - Basic Law violations, 85, 136–137, 174
  - democratic reforms pre-1997, 91–95
  - dismantling of democratic reforms, 95–99*fig*
  - economic pressures on cause lawyering, 132–133
  - executive see executive
  - judiciary see judiciary
  - legislature see legislature
  - overturning of Court of Final Appeal decisions, 175–176
  - as party in appeal cases, 14*fig*, 16*fig*
  - pre-emptive measures against judicial intervention, 172–173
  - public satisfaction with performance of, 87*fig*
  - Tiananmen crackdown, 5–6, 11–12, 60–61, 91–92, 122, 180, 182

INDEX

- historical institutionalism
  - historical aspect, 6–7
  - institutional aspect, 6
  - and legal mobilization, 5–7
- Hong Kong Bill of Rights Ordinance (HKBORO)
  - active use by cause lawyers, 126
  - cause lawyering and, 119–121
  - incorporation of ICCPR, 12–13, 61, 120
  - invocation in cases, 32
  - judicial independence provisions, 44
  - legal aid entitlement, 48, 130–131
  - and legal mobilization, 20
  - and level of human rights litigation, 14, 20
  - as new legal opportunity, 5–6, 13, 16, 110–111, 125, 150, 163, 182, 183, 186
  - and new legal opportunity structure, 64–66, 115, 118–119, 124–125
  - rights protection provisions, 17, 19–20, 64
  - use of, 73, 88, 126, 153
- human rights see also civil liberties
  - Basic Law protections see Basic Law
  - cases see appeal cases
  - treaty usage by Court of Final Appeal, 76, 84
- Indonesia
  - judicial independence compared, 80–83
- intermediate appellate court see Court of Appeal
- International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR)
  - incorporation into HKBORO, 12–13, 61, 120
- international human rights treaties
  - reference by Court of Final Appeal, 76, 84
- Israel
  - judicial independence compared, 73
- Japan
  - judicial independence compared, 73–74, 80–83
- Judicial Committee of the Privy Council
  - see* Privy Council
- judicialization of politics
  - constitutional issues as to policy making, 172–174
  - developments summarized, 179
  - key issues, 171–172
  - politicization of courts, 174–177
  - politicization of government-funded legal aid, 177
- judiciary see also entries for specific courts
  - assertiveness, 85
  - cause lawyering and, 125
  - changes in agenda, 30–37
  - conceptions of role of, 73–77
  - judicial independence
    - and legal mobilization, 39–41, 43–45, 71–73
    - other jurisdictions compared, 73–74, 80–83
    - see also* Court of Final Appeal
  - and new legal opportunity structure, 71
  - overseas non-permanent judges, 69–71
  - political dependence in Shanghai, 50–51
  - public confidence, 85–87*fig*
  - shift of political opportunities to, 6, 11–12, 19–20, 89–90
- Korea
  - judicial independence compared, 83
- law schools see legal education
- legal aid
  - cause lawyering and, 130
  - politicization of, 177
  - state-funded aid and legal mobilization, 42–43, 48–50
- legal complex see also judiciary; legal aid; legal profession
  - comparison of Hong Kong and Shanghai, 50
  - as critical antecedent, 7–11*fig*, 38–55
  - importance of geographical proximity of institutions, 66–69
  - importance summarized, 54–55, 182–183
  - legislation see Basic Law; Hong Kong Bill of Rights Ordinance
  - significance for legal mobilization, 39, 43
  - transformative agents see cause lawyering; rights advocacy groups
- legal education
  - support for cause lawyering, 133–134
- legal mobilization
  - agentic elements, 180
  - comparative contributions of book, 180–181
  - comparative issues, 25–27
  - comparison of Hong Kong and Shanghai, 50
  - competency for, 157–162, 164
  - concepts, 5–6
  - content of book, 27–28
  - courts see entries for specific courts
  - critical antecedents, 7–11
  - critical junctures, 11–20
  - definition of, 4
  - developments summarized, 186
  - distinctive development in Hong Kong, 4–5
  - forms of mobilization and forms of authoritarianism, 183–185
  - and historical institutionalism, 5–7
  - historical origins, 38–39

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-03199-9 - Legal Mobilization Under Authoritarianism: The Case of Post-Colonial Hong Kong

Waikeng Tam

Index

More information

INDEX

- legal mobilization (cont.)
 interdependence with critical antecedents and critical junctures, 20–21 judiciary and see judiciary legal aid and, 42–43, 48–50
 legal complex and see legal complex legal profession and see legal profession as long-term strategy, 164–166
 methodology of book, 28–29 paths to legal mobilization under authoritarianism, 181–182
 political disadvantage and, 99–100, 103–104
 political opportunities see political opportunities
 rights support structure, 21–23
 rise of changes in judiciary's agenda, 30–37 explanations for, 23–24
   question of, 3–5
   in Shanghai see Shanghai structural elements, 180
 theoretical issues, 25–27
 legal opportunity structure see also cause lawyering; political opportunities
   Basic Law as new opportunity, 5–6, 60, 88,
   110–111, 115, 118–119, 124–125, 150,
   156, 163, 183, 186
   conclusions as to, 88
   Court of Final Appeal as new opportunity, 13–17, 27–28, 66, 124–125, 156
   exploitation by rights advocacy groups, 157
   HKBORO as new opportunity, 5–6, 13, 16,
   110–111, 125, 150, 163, 182, 183, 186 importance of, 59–60
   increase in use of courts by politically marginalized, 100–103
   new structure as critical juncture, 12–18
 legal profession see also cause lawyering;
   judiciary; rights advocacy groups
   backgrounds of cause lawyers, 116–118*fig*
   independence and legal mobilization, 41–42, 45–48, 127–128
   involvement of foreign practitioners, 53–54 lack of autonomy in Shanghai, 51–52 legislature
   balance of power, 5–6, 90
   Basic Law interpretation, 172
   competence, 24
   control over legislation, 12–13, 61
   electoral system and legal mobilization, 35,
   63, 67–68, 123–124, 148–149, 153,
   171–172
   foreign participation, 53
   and judicial independence, 39, 44, 71–73
   Patten reforms and, 19
   pre-1997 reform, 91–95
   pro-democracy movement in, 78, 92–95
   Provisional Legislative Council, 77–78
   public confidence, 85–86*fig*
   reversal of reform, 95–99
   role of, 3
   shift of political opportunities from, 6, 11–12, 19–20, 89–90, 99–100,
   103–104, 115, 124–125, 152–153,
   163, 186
   Taiwan compared, 26
   voting rights, 91–92
   weakening of pro-democracy movement within, 110
 lower court see Court of First Instance
- Malaysia
 judicial independence compared, 80–83
- middle class
 role in economic modernization and democratization, 186
- new legal opportunity structure see legal opportunity structure
- overseas judges see judiciary
- Patten, Chris
 democratic reforms pre-1997, 18–19, 89–90, 91–95, 110–111
 reforms reversed after 1997, 95–99, 110–111 political opportunities see also legal opportunity structure
   close-down after 1997, 95–99*fig*
   close-down and rise of cause lawyering, 124–125
   concept of, 90–91
   democratic reforms pre-1997, 91–95
   developments summarized, 110–111
   exploitation by rights advocacy groups, 153–154
   political disadvantage and legal mobilization, 99–100, 103–104
   shift from legislature to judiciary, 89–90, 100–103
   weakening of legislature, 110
 political parties
   public confidence, 85*fig*
 political system see also government; judicialization of politics; transfer of sovereignty
   change as critical juncture, 18–20
 Privy Council
   geographical remoteness, 66–69, 121–122
   government as party, 14*fig*
   result of cases, 81*fig*
 pro-democracy movement see also cause
 lawyering

INDEX

- Basic Law democracy provisions, 92, 97, 103–104, 172–173
- democratization and economic modernization, 150–151
- increase in use of courts, 100–103
- in legislature, 78, 92–95
- middle class and democratization, 186
- political marginalization and legal mobilization, 103–104
- 1989 Tiananmen democratic movement as critical juncture, 5–6, 11–12, 60–61, 91–92, 122, 180, 182
- weakening in legislature, 110
- Provisional Legislative Council
  - challenge to legality of, 77–78
- public institutions
  - confidence in, 85*fig*
  - satisfaction with performance of, 87*fig*
- public opinion
  - confidence in judiciary, 85–87*fig*
  - confidence in public institutions, 85*fig*
  - satisfaction with performance of government institutions, 87*fig*
  - support for cause lawyering, 128–130
- right of abode
  - under Basic Law, 77–79, 106–107, 156–157
- Court of Final Appeal litigation, 32, 141
- rights advocacy groups
  - as agentic element of legal mobilization, 4–5
  - competency for legal mobilization, 157–162, 164
- CRSD as example see Civil Rights for Sexual Diversities (CRSD)
- developments summarized, 166–167
- exploitation of new legal opportunities, 157
- legal mobilization as long-term strategy, 164–166
- ‘one shotters’ and ‘repeat players’, 154–155
- and shift in political opportunities, 153–154
- SoCO as example see Society for Community Organization (SoCO)
- as transformative agents, 152–153
- rights support structure
  - as agentic element of legal mobilization, 4–5
  - importance summarized, 182–183
  - for legal mobilization, 21–23
- Shanghai
  - judicial political dependence, 50–51
  - lack of legal professional autonomy, 51–52
  - legal mobilization compared with Hong Kong, 50
- Singapore
  - judicial independence compared, 80–83
- Sino-British Joint Declaration see transfer of sovereignty
- Society for Community Organization (SoCO)
  - cases brought by, 161*fig*
  - competency for legal mobilization, 157–162
  - exploitation of new legal opportunities, 157
  - rights advocacy by, 156
- South Africa
  - judicial independence compared, 73–74
- sovereignty, transfer of see transfer of sovereignty
- structural elements of legal mobilization
  - see also* critical junctures; legal complex
  - summary of, 4–5, 180
- Taiwan
  - judicial independence compared, 83
  - legislature compared, 26
- Thailand
  - judicial independence compared, 80–83
- Tiananmen see pro-democracy movement
- transfer of sovereignty
  - as critical juncture, 4–5
  - democratic reforms prior to, 91–95
  - and rise of cause lawyering, 115–116
- transformative agents see cause lawyering; rights advocacy groups
- United Kingdom (UK) see also Patten, Chris; Privy Council
  - cause lawyering, 125
  - cause lawyers in Hong Kong, 122–124
  - colonial government see government
  - democratic reforms in Hong Kong
    - see* pro-democracy movement
  - and HKBORO see Hong Kong Bill of Rights Ordinance
  - legal legacy in Hong Kong see legal complex
  - representation by UK law firms, 145
  - transfer of sovereignty see transfer of sovereignty
  - use of international human rights treaties, 76, 84