Index

9/11. See Al Qaeda attacks on US
10 Downing Street. See Prime Minister’s Office

‘acts of completion’
isues relating to, 152–3
Joint Declaration (2003), 166
talks on, 149
Tony Blair calls for, 149, 296
see also cessation of conflict;
decommissioning

Adams, Gerry
and Albert Reynolds, 210–11
assessment of, 144, 197, 242–3
and ceasefire, 256, 267–8
choice of political solution, 269–70 and David Trimble, 148–9, 169, 197–8
and decommissioning, 233, 238, 242, 284, 287, 288–9, 321–2
desire for peace, 191–2
and Good Friday Agreement, 232 ‘Groundhog Day’ reference, 229–30, 260 and IRA, 306, 308–9
and John Hume, 30–1, 129, 184, 210–11, 245, 254–5
and Joint Declaration, 158, 164, 167 Jonathan Powell writes speeches for, 325–6 leadership abilities, 87, 94–5, 171–2, 309, 315
and Martin McGuinness, 279–80 meeting with DUP, 316–17 on negotiating with British, 90 negotiation, 92, 99, 110, 154, 242–3, 287–8, 297–8, 302–3, 305, 306–7, 318, 320, 321, 323
and Northern Bank robbery, 283, 315–16
on reduction of British Army presence, 318–19
sense of history, 295–6
and Tony Blair, 311–12
US visit, 130–1, 139–40, 210–11

Ahern, Patrick (Bertie) aspiration to rejoin Commonwealth, 100 on government with Sinn Féin, 328 involvement in negotiations, 167, 195–6
and John Major, 74
and Tony Blair, 146, 150, 187, 246–7, 262–3, 311, 326
Al Qaeda attacks on US (9/11), impact of, 238, 283, 311–12
Alliance Party, 58, 74, 141, 150, 265
ambiguity
abandonment of, 289–90
Anglo-Irish Agreement, 48–9 clarity and, 88, 263–4, 295, 312–13, 320 ‘constructive ambiguity’, 22, 263–4, 281, 313–14
Good Friday Agreement, 295 importance of, 3, 14–15, 93 religion and, 282
Sinn Féin and, 205
specificity in relation to, 281 talking as source of, 294 as theme, 14
understanding of, 82
unionist parties and, 205 see also pragmatism and principle, balancing of Anglo-Irish Agreement (1985)
ambiguity, 48–9
breakdown of negotiations, possibility of, 47–9
British approach, key factors, 35–6, 38–9 collaboration and cooperation, emphasis on, 33
communiqué post-conclusion, 51 comparison of British and Irish approaches, 43
consent principle, 1–6, 44, 111 ‘constitutional status’, use of term, 49 devolution, 65
eyear British proposals, Irish response to, 42 Anglo-Irish Agreement (1985) (cont.)
final draft, 45, 49–50
Garret FitzGerald, and see FitzGerald, Garret historical continuity within, 98–9 Intergovernmental Conference. See Intergovernmental Conference
Irish constitutional claims, 63–8
Irish Government’s consultative role, 48, 51–2
Irish note, British response to, 43 Margaret Thatcher, and see Thatcher, Margaret meetings, 44–5
negotiation process, 45 negotiations, 29–30, 33–8, 39–40, 41–52
Northern Ireland Civil Service and, 29 operation of. See Intergovernmental Conference opposition to, 63
order of construction, 44 origins of peace process, 1–2, 6 peace process after, 51–2, 114 preliminary discussions, 40–1 presentation post-conclusion, 51 Provisional IRA (PIRA) attacks, effect on negotiations, 52 security cooperation, British focus on, 64 significance of, 37–8 Sinn Féin, aim of marginalising, 116 success of, 36
Sunningdale Agreement contrasted, 48 timescale of negotiations, 44–5 unionist opposition, 46–7, 50, 52–3, 64–5, 68
Anglo-Irish relations
background to, 9
cohesion, 331–2
consultation and cooperation emphasis on, 33 proposals for, 27–8
dialogue, contrasting approaches, 257–8 and European Union, 51–2 Falklands War, 38–40, 41 joint authority. See joint authority Joint Declaration. See Joint Declaration (2003) see also Anglo-Irish Agreement; negotiations Armstrong of Ilminster, Robert Armstrong, Lord on Anglo-Irish Agreement, 9, 33–53
involvement in negotiations, 1–6, 98–9
attacks by paramilitary groups. See loyalist organisations; Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA) Belfast Agreement. See Good Friday Agreement (1998)
Belfast Harbourmaster’s speech (October 2002). See Blair, Tony Blair, Tony achievement summarised, 199–200 and Bertie Ahern, 146, 150, 187, 246–7, 262–3, 311, 326 calls for ‘acts of completion’, 238–9, 296 charisma, 228
commitment to peace process, 187
and decommissioning, 190–1
emphasis on maintaining momentum, 188–9, 192, 227
and Good Friday Agreement, 192–9, 233
Harbourmaster’s speech (October 2002), 149, 281–2, 289–90 Hillsborough talks (April 2003), 149
and Ian Paisley, 281–2
John Major compared, 187–8, 192–3, 197, 199–200, 227, 275–6
and Mo Mowlam, 97
and multiparty negotiations, 75
negotiation style, 187–8 ‘peace train’ metaphor, 221 Royal Agricultural Society speech (May 1997), 188–91
and Sinn Féin, 189, 190 speechwriting, 324–5 strength of mandate, 188 transition from Major Government. See transition between governments and unionists, 189–90
Bloody Friday and origins of peace process, 4–5 Bloody Sunday and origins of peace process, 4–5 Bloomfield, Sir Kenneth on drafting of documents and speeches, 9, 17–32 involvement in peace process, 66, 151
bombings. See loyalist organisations; Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA) British Army, reduction of presence, 294, 316–19
British Commonwealth. See Commonwealth of Nations (Commonwealth) British Government
acknowledges stalemate situation, 299–300
belief in military victory, 87–8, 109–10, 256 clarity in negotiations, preference for, 295–6 consent to international involvement in peace process, 225–6
constitutional issue, perspective on, 57–8 ‘cost of conflict’, 109 drafting of documents and speeches. See drafting of documents and speeches Government of Ireland Act 1920. See Government of Ireland Act 1920 imbalanced relationship with nationalists
and unionists, 206–7 ‘no selfish strategic or economic interest’ statement. See ‘Whitbread’ speech objectives for peace, 151–2 policy shortcomings, 1922–72, 209 relations with Irish Government. See Anglo-Irish relations
transition between governments. See transition between governments
see also Northern Ireland Office (NIO); United Kingdom
‘British presence’ speech. See ‘Whitbread’ speech British withdrawal Harold Wilson considers, 4 talks about, 315
Brooke, Peter
‘British presence’ speech. See ‘Whitbread’ speech commitment to political settlement, 68, 69, 102, 112–13, 114, 260–1
secretary of state, 13–14, 22–3, 24, 30, 67, 83, 114, 122, 202, 209, 255
see also Brooke/Mayhew talks Brooke/Mayhew talks (1991–3)
commencement, 124
Dublin meeting (September 1992), 125–6 leaks to media, 125
progress, 125
three-strand structure, 124–5 Brown, Gordon and Brian Cowen, 282–3
and Mo Mowlam, 97
Bush, George W.
Hillsborough talks (April 2003), 149
involvement in peace process, 152 Cabinet Official Committee on Northern Ireland, establishment of, 66
Cahill, Joe, allowed US visa, 85 Callaghan, James (Jim), contingency planning for intervention, 79
Campbell, Alastair, Irish Diaries, 212 Catholic community. See nationalist community; republican movement ceasefires. See loyalist organisations; Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA)
cessation of conflict acknowledgement of stalemate situation, 299–300
IRA acknowledges, 153–4 verification as issue, 152–3 Chastelain, General John de British consent to appointment, 225 IICD chairman, 95–6, 144–5, 288 influence, 225–6
press conference, 149–50, 169, 218, 286, 304, 308, 315, 317–18 reports on decommissioning, 149–50 ‘Chiffo’. See ‘link, the’
Chilcot, Sir John drafting of text, 265
on negotiational approach, 10, 79–100
permanent secretary, 66, 101, 128–9, 154
Chile, parallels with Northern Ireland, 148 civil rights campaign, student marches, 121 civil servants
analytical approach, 258–9 dialogue between, British and Irish contrasted, 257–8
educational background, influence of, 96 importance of role, 6–7 Martin McGuinness on trusting, 292
trust-building, 258
see also drafting of documents and speeches; Northern Ireland Civil Service
civil unrest pre-1969, 120–1 Clinton, Bill hosts Irish investment conference, 139
and Tony Blair, 188–9, 195–6
US president, 134–5 visits Northern Ireland, 140, 273–4 collusion by security forces. See Cory Collusion Inquiry
Combined Loyalist Military Command (CLMC). See loyalist organisations commemorations, Haass recommendations, 332–3
Commonwealth of Nations (Commonwealth), Bertie Ahern aspires to rejoin, 100 Communities, conflicts within. See intercommunal conflicts conflict, end. See ‘acts of completion’;
cessation of conflict

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Index

338

consent principle
Anglo-Irish Agreement, 1–6, 44, 111 centrality of, 26, 27–8 ‘constitutional guarantee’, 57, 58, 68, 69–70, 72, 77
Downing Street Declaration, 111 Dublin Summit agreement on, 60–2 emphasis on, 14–15, 110–11 Frameworks for the Future, 111–12
Good Friday Agreement, 112, 230 importance, 214–15 Irish acceptance, 57 Joint Declaration, 153 republicans and, 215 Sunningdale Agreement, 2–3 Whitbread speech, 70–1 Constitution. See Irish constitutional claims; Northern Ireland Constitution Act 1973 ‘constitutional imperative’. See Irish constitutional claims
Index

power-sharing, 87
and reduction of British Army presence, 294 relations with, 286, 293, 302–3, 304 returns to talks, 125–6, 174
and Sinn Féin, 278, 306–7, 316–17, 326–7
and UUP, 87, 150
withdraws from talks, 75, 125, 141, 248
see also Paisley, Ian; Robinson, Peter Devlin, Patrick (Paddy), 2–3, 4

devolution
Anglo-Irish Agreement, 53, 65
Constitutional Convention (1974), 28 deadlock as to, 197–8, 229–30, 233, 239–40 decommisioning and, 195, 196–7, 244–5 devolved government. See Northern Ireland Executive DUP and, 296–7
Framework for Accountable Government in Northern Ireland, A, 138 integration and, 60
Irish Government and, 33–4, 36, 65
Joint Declaration, 166
justice and policing, 152–3, 164, 165, 167, 168–9, 170, 209, 293, 296–7, 300–1, 332 Mitchell Review and, 247–8 as objective, 66–7, 283–4 power-sharing and, 126–7, 209–10 ‘rolling devolution’, failure of, 38–40
SDLP and, 57
suspension. See direct rule unionist support, 29–30, 60 see also new institutional framework d’Hondt procedure, use of, 234–5 dialogue
alteration of text, 292–3 ambiguity and clarity in relation, 281 background to role of, 14 between civil servants, British and Irish contrasted, 257–8
collapse of the Executive, after, 277 with PIRA. See ‘link, the’ private dialogue, 277–8, 280–1, 292–3 text in relation, 216–17, 259 see also exploratory dialogue; negotiations ‘Diplock’ courts, Anglo-Irish Agreement and, 63–4 direct rule
commencement, 27
reintroduction, 138, 148–9, 235–6, 258–9, 268, 274–5
district councils
Sir Patrick Mayhew visits, 128 views on British Government intentions, 126

Divis Street Riots (1964), Ian Paisley and, 120–1
drafting of documents
dialogue in relation, 216–17, 259 drafting of. See drafting of documents and speeches in negotiations, 216–17, 322–3 see also single text negotiation peace process as text-driven process, 224

Downing Street. See Prime Minister’s Office
Downing Street Declaration (1993)
consent principle, 111
exchange of letters, 130–1 Irish constitutional claims, 71–3
and Joint Declaration, 159–60 loyalist paramilitary response, 131 publication, 130
drafting of documents and speeches
ambiguity, 22
anticipating responses to texts, 86, 261–2 background to, 9, 12, 13–14
civil servants’ role, 22 civil servants’ role in speech-writing, 21 clarity as to likely effect, 93–4 concealment and transparency in relation, 260–1 Constitutional Convention (1974), 28 constitutional White Paper (24 March 1972), 26–7 continuity and change, balancing of emphases, 262 contribution to peace process, 32 ‘Crossroads’ speech, 23–4 dialogue and text in relation, 216–17, 259 difference between draft and final text, 223–4 equivalence in responding to texts, 255 exchange of views, facilitation by text, 273–4 expression, limits of, 94 fiftieth anniversary speech, 25–6 Future of Northern Ireland, The (discussion document) (November 1972), 27–8 inclusiveness and, 254–5 interpretation by British and Irish contrasted, 256–8
interpretation by republicans and unionists contrasted, 265–8
introduction, 17–18
Joint Declaration, 153–67
language and meaning, 272–3
Index

drafting of documents and speeches (cont.)
  language tone, 274 language, use of, 160, 272–3 length of text, 93 meaning of words, 272–3 means to end, texts as, 269–70
  Northern Ireland Civil Service, 18, 19
  Northern Ireland Government, 19–20
  Northern Ireland Office, 22–3
  ‘On the Runs’ (OTRs) issue, 270–1 O’Neill/Lamass meeting communiqué, 21–2 persuasiveness, 262 political analysis and, 253–4 political developments and, 254 ‘Pottinger’ speech, 20
  pragmatism and principle, balancing of, 262, 271–2 private agreements, 259–60 private dialogue and, 292–3 process, 252–3
  Queen’s Speeches, 20–1
  reform declaration (1968), 24–5 secretary of state’s input, 274–5 speeches context of, 325 cooperation in writing, 325–6 value of, 261, 305
    speechwriters, 324–5
    strategic approach, 93
    tactical approach, 93
    during talks, 265 tone of language, 274
    too much text, 269
    transparency and concealment in relation, 260–1 videoconferencing, 30
    ‘Whitbread’ speech, 30–1
  Dublin Summit (1980), agreement on consent principle, 60–2 Dungannon, Sir Patrick Mayhew visits, 127 economy

  Census 2001, 151
  ‘peace dividend’ from Good Friday Agreement, 78 unionist concerns, 59 elections for representation at multiparty negotiations (1996). See multiparty negotiations Elizabeth II, Queen, Martin McGuinness toasts, 263
  End to Drift, An (1987), 52–3, 64–5
  European Union
  Anglo-Irish relations and, 51–2
  and Good Friday Agreement, 329 support for peace process, 113 exclusively peaceful means, principle of and decommissioning, 290 Sinn Féin and, 290–1
  Executive. See Northern Ireland Executive exploratory dialogue
    announcement of, 134
    conditions for, 133–4
    loyalist organisations, 136–9 Sinn Féin, 135, 137–8, 139–40, 141 timing of commencement, 135

Falklands War and Anglo-Irish relations, 38–40, 41 Faulkner, Brian
    fiftieth anniversary speech, 25–6 leads Northern Ireland Executive (1974), 121 on Sunningdale Agreement, 1–3 Fianna Fáil
    and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 68
    and constitutional claims amendment, 69–70 foundation, 56
    opposition to consent principle, 60 opposition to partition, 56–7 Fine Gael and constitutional claims, 57 foundation of, 56
  Fitt, Gerard (Gerry), 24–5, 26–7, 121 Fittall, William
    on drafting of documents, 13–14, 252–76 principal private secretary, 161, 162–3 FitzGerald, Garret
    Anglo-Irish Agreement, 29–30, 33–5, 36, 37–8, 40–1, 46, 47–8, 98–9, 116
    constitutional reform attempts, 62 and Margaret Thatcher, 34–5, 39, 40, 41, 43, 45–6, 50
  New Ireland Forum. See New Ireland Forum forgiveness. See reconciliation Frameworks for the Future (1985), 111–12

  fugitives. See ‘On the Runs’ (OTRs) Future of Northern Ireland, The (discussion document) (November 1972), drafting of, 27–8
Index

Good Friday Agreement (1998)
- ambiguity, 295
- background to negotiational challenges, 14
- Brooke/Mayhew talks. See Brooke/Mayhew talks
- comprehensiveness, 230
- consent principle, 112, 230
- decommissioning. See decommissioning difference between draft and final text, 223–4
- ‘double referendum’, 76, 77, 142–3
- Downing Street Declaration. See Downing Street Declaration
ey early talks, 69–71 effects of, 76–8
and European Union, 329 framework text for negotiations, 114, 118–19
implementation difficulties. See implementation of Good Friday Agreement implementation proposals. See Weston Park proposals interpretational differences between parties, 295 key agreements, 75–6, 142–3 multiparty negotiations. See multiparty negotiations 1996–8 naming of, 223 negotiations process. See negotiations new institutional framework. See new institutional framework; Northern Ireland ministers, provision for removal, 231 policing, 76, 230
preliminary developments, 63–8 prisoner releases, 76, 230 responses to, 55, 76, 149, 295, 323 and Sunningdale Agreement, 3, 209–10, 212
three-strand structure, 67, 74–5, 89, 115
transition between governments, 192–9 see also implementation of Good Friday Agreement Goodall, Sir David
on Anglo-Irish Agreement, 9, 33–53
British negotiator at Intergovernmental Conference, 40 Government of Ireland Act 1920, Irish unity provisions, 57
Gow, Ian, 49
Great Hatred, Little Room (Jonathan Powell), 258, 270–1, 275, 304
Greysteele massacre (1993), effect on peace process, 129–30 Guzmán, Patricio, Nostalgia for the Light (film), 147
Haass, Richard, recommendations on parades, symbols and commemorations, 332–3 Harbourmaster’s speech (October 2002). See Blair, Tony Haughey, Charles
and consent principle, 60–1, 62, 63
and constitutional claims amendment, 69–70
and Margaret Thatcher, 38–40, 60–1
and New Ireland Forum, 62–3
Heath, Edward, and Sunningdale Agreement, 2–3, 48
Hill, David, on ‘constitutional issue’, 10, 55–78
Hillsborough talks (April 2003), and Joint Declaration, 149
history
Haass recommendations on parades, symbols and commemorations, 332–3 high politics approach to peace process, 147 and memory, parallels with Chilean ‘Disappeared’, 148 peace process as historical narrative, 90–1 sense of, 287–8, 308 Holmes, Sir John
private secretary, 275–6, 324–5 on transition between governments, 12, 177–200 Hume, John
on Europe, 329
and Gerry Adams, 30–1, 86, 129, 139–40, 184, 210–11, 245, 253, 306–7 and Irish Government, 29–30, 34, 191, 254
and John Major, 254–5
negotiations role, 92
and New Ireland Forum, 62–3 Nobel Peace Prize, 108
and power-sharing, 26
and SDLP, 87
sense of identity, 96
strategic approach, 25–6, 87
and US involvement, 85 willingness to compromise, 87 hunger strikes and origins of peace process, 5 implementation of Good Friday Agreement alternative approaches, possibilities for, 244–8 background, 13
INDEX

342  Index

implementation of Good Friday Agreement (cont.)
  bilateral negotiations (April 2000), 236–7 Civil Service perspective, 250–1 and continuation of PIRA activity, 238–9 and continuation of violence and disorder, 243–4 decommissioning. See decommissioning
  Downing Street talks and proposals (1999), 233–4 ‘Groundhog Day’, description as, 229–30
  Hillsborough Castle talks and declaration (March 1999), 232–3
  introduction, 229–30
  lack of comprehensiveness, 239–40 language sensitivities, 231–2 lessons from, 248–50 literal approach, 231–2 Mitchell Review (September 1999), 235–6 public statements, use of, 232 Sinn Féin’s approach, 242
  unionist opposition, 240–2
  Way Forward, The, 233
  Weston Park proposals (July 2001), 237 willing participation, need for, 231 inclusiveness author’s early political experience, 120–1

  background to, 11
  Brooke/Mayhew talks. See Brooke/Mayhew contacts with paramilitary organisations, 128–33, 143–4, 145–6 see also ‘link, the’
  and convergence of differences, 262–3 district councils, visits to, 126–8, 142 exploratory dialogue. See exploratory dialogue
  importance of, 331
  introduction, 120
  multiparty negotiations. See multiparty
negotiations
  Northern Ireland Executive as model, 121 Northern Ireland Office, work of. See
Northern Ireland Office
  Political Affairs Division, work of. See Northern Ireland Office prison regime reforms, 122
  US involvement, 134–5, 139–40
  Independent Monitoring Commission (IMC) establishment, 290
  proposal for, 152–3 institutional reform. See new institutional framework integration with United Kingdom, unionist support for, 60

intercommunal conflicts challengers’ objectives, 105–6 differences between incumbents and challengers, 106
  features of, 103–4 incumbents’ objectives, 105
  introduction, 101–3
  preconditions to settlement all-party confidence in peace process, 108–9, 112–13, 114
  conflict not best chance of achieving goals, 107, 109–10, 113 cost of continuing conflict is unacceptable, 106–7, 109, 113
  external stakeholders’ support, 109, 113, 114 grievances capable of peaceful resolution, 107–8, 110, 113 meeting of in Israeli–Palestinian dispute, 113–14
  meeting of in Northern Ireland, 109–13 prospective all-party acceptance of deal, 108, 110–12, 114
  process of settlement, importance of, 114 settlement of, 10–11 threat of violence, leverage from, 116–17 Intergovernmental Conference establishment of, 40
  meetings, 43–4
  operation of, 64 intergovernmental relations. See Anglo-Irish relations International Independent Commission on Decommissioning (IICD). See decommissioning international involvement in peace process British Government’s consent to, 225–6 scope post-Joint Declaration, 152 see also European Union; United States Irish-Americans fact-finding group visit, 129–30 shift in thinking after 9/11, 284–5 support for Anglo-Irish Agreement, 48 withdrawal of support for PIRA, 283 Irish Civil War, political consequences, 56–7 Irish constitutional claims amendment achievement of, 77 initiatives for, 62, 69–70 offers of, 40–1, 71
  support for, 69–70
  Anglo-Irish Agreement, 63–8
  background to ‘constitutional issue’, 10, 55 Belfast Agreement. See Good Friday
Index

British objective of amendment, 41–2, 46
British perspective, 57–8 ‘constitutional imperative’, 31–2, 69, 110–11
Downing Street Declaration, 71–3 drafting of constitution of 1937, 56–7 Frameworks for the Future, 111–12
multiparty negotiations 1996–8, 74–6 nationalist perspective, 56–7 negotiations during 1980s, 60–3 negotiations during 1990–2, 69–71
Sunningdale Agreement, 3
Supreme Court ruling, 69 unionist perspectives, 58–60

Irish Diaries (Alastair Campbell), 212 Irish Free State accepts partition, 56–7 creation, 56–7
Irish Government
contact with loyalist organisations, 146
and decommissioning, 90
and DUP, 265
opposition to consent principle, 60 relations with British Government. See Anglo-Irish relations relationship with nationalists and unionists, compared with British Government’s, 206–7 Irish Labour Party, 57, 60, 62, 63, 68 Irish National Liberation Army (INLA) ceasefire, 144–5
ceasefire talks, 143–4
contact with, 146
and Joint Declaration, 150–1
Irish Republic
Constitution. See Irish constitutional claims
cost of conflict, 109
see also Irish Free State; Irish Government Irish Republican Socialist Party (IRSP). See Irish National Liberation Army (INLA) Irish Supreme Court, constitutional claims ruling, 69
Irish unity nationalist support for, 58
see also Irish constitutional claims Israeli–Palestinian conflict, preconditions for settlement of, 113–14 Jeffrey, Sir William (Bill) on implementing Good Friday Agreement, 13, 229–51 involvement in peace process, 161, 162–3
joint authority ‘consultative structures’ agreement, 36
Irish proposals, 34–5, 36
Joint Declaration (2003) achievement in international context, 174
acts of completion, 166
aims, 147, 167
assessment of, 170–1
background, 12, 148–53
British negotiation critiqued, 169–74 chronology, 174–5
consent principle, 153
devolution, 166
and Downing Street Declaration, 159–60 drafting of, 155–67
hypothetical impact of, 170
introduction, 147–8
key issues, 152–3
key personalities, 167
lessons learned, 169
negotiation with Sinn Féin, 173 Northern Ireland Office and, 153–7 other issues, 153 phases in negotiations, 168–9 place within peace process, 148–9 political manoeuvrings, 150 publication, 149
revision of draft, 163
single text negotiation, 166–7 sufficient consensus principle, 173 varied approach to issues, 167–8 and Weston Park proposals (July 2001), 161–3 justice system. See courts; policing King, Tom, 22–3, 24, 30 language
drafting of documents and speeches, 160
in negotiations, 90
leaks to media, use of, 125, 129–30 ‘link, the’
braking news of secret exchanges, 130 ‘Chiffon’, code name, 129 existence, 80, 128–9, 218, 253 intelligence assessment, 80 reliability, 80
Loyalist Commission, establishment, 145
loyalist organisations
ceasefire (October 1994), 73, 133–4 Combined Loyalist Military Command (CLMC), 130–1, 133, 134, 140–1, 145
cost of conflict, 109
contact with, 130–3, 144, 145–6
decommissioning of weapons. See decommissioning loyalist organisations (cont.)
and Downing Street Declaration, 131
exploratory dialogue, 135
fugitives. See ‘On the Runs’ (OTRs) Greysteele massacre (1993), 129–30
and Joint Declaration, 150–1 reactive nature of violence, 109 response to PIRA ending of ceasefire, 140–1 US funding for peace projects, 145–6

Maccabe, Chris on inclusiveness in peace process, 11, 120–46
involvement in peace process, 66, 101, 155, 156, 172–3
Maginess, Brian, 18–19
Major, John
and Albert Reynolds, 92–3 announces exploratory dialogues, 135, 136–7
calls 1997 general election, 142 and decommissioning, 180–3, 312–13, 327–8
defeat in 1992 general election expected, 253–4, 264
Downing Street Declaration, 130–1 end of Government, 179–87
and Gerry Adams, 130–1
and Hugh Smyth, 133, 134 and Joe Cahill visa, 85
and John Hume, 254–5
momentum of peace talks, 303
and multiparty negotiations, 74
and PIRA, 302
on talking with PIRA, 130
Tony Blair compared, 187–8, 192–3, 197, 199–200, 227, 275–6
and Tony right wing, 87–8 transition to Blair Government. See transition between governments
and unionists, 179–80
Mallon, Seamus
critiques British Government policy, 170–1, 172 elected MP, 65
on Good Friday Agreement, 1–2 resigns as deputy first minister-designate, 234–5
on Sunningdale Agreement, 221 Mandelson, Peter
secretary of state, 250
suspects Northern Ireland Executive, 236
Mason, Roy, 79
Mayhew, Sir Patrick
announces exploratory dialogues, 136–7
district councils visits, 128, 142 Orange Order meeting visit, 131 Washington Three conditions as to decommissioning, 180–1, 182
see also Brooke/Mayhew talks McGuinness, Martin
and ceasefire, 256, 267–8
choice of political solution, 269–70
and decommissioning, 167–8, 242, 287, 288–9
deputy first minister, 146, 192–3
desire for peace, 191–2 exploratory dialogue, 137–8
and Gerry Adams, 279–80
and Good Friday Agreement, 303
‘Groundhog Day’ reference, 260
and Ian Paisley, 198
leadership abilities, 94–5, 171–2, 309
meetings with, 92, 137–8, 162–3 negotiation approach, 99, 154, 242–3, 287–8, 297–8, 306–7, 318, 320, 323–4
and Northern Bank robbery, 283, 284, 315–16
on peace negotiations, 141
and PIRA, 308, 315, 321
on reduction of British Army presence, 318–19
on self-determination, 129
sense of history, 305
toasts queen, 263
and Tony Blair, 197, 305
on trusting civil servants, 292 verbal abilities, 163
McMichael, Gary, unofficial talks with British Government, 131–3
media leaks. See leaks to media negotiations and, 286–7, 326–7 minorities, conflicts involving. See intercommunal conflicts minority participation in government
Good Friday Agreement, 78
Parliamentary Committees proposals, 25–6 see also power-sharing Misunderstanding Ulster (David Trimble), 170–1
Mitchell, George
chairs multiparty negotiations, 74, 141, 142–3, 221
consent to appointment, 225 decommissioning principles, 182 decommissioning report (1996), 180–1, 182
influence, 225–6
Review on implementation of Good Friday Agreement, 235–6
Index

Molyneaux, James
and 1994 ceasefire, 327
and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 47–8 and Frameworks Document, 179–80
and Irish Government, 265
and Margaret Thatcher, 47–8
meetings with, 29–30
sense of identity, 96
and Sir Patrick Mayhew, 124–5

Mowlam, Marjorie (Mo)
and Gerry Adams, 308
and Martin McGuinness, 308 Maze Prison visit, 142–3
negotiation approach, 326
secretary of state, 83, 97, 102, 142, 187, 250
multiparty negotiations (1996–8)
Belfast Agreement. See Good Friday Agreement (1998)
Blair Government and, 75
commencement, 184
elections for representation, 74, 140–1, 184 preparatory talks, 141
progress, 75
Sinn Féin and, 184–7
‘strands’ of negotiations, 74–5 sufficient consensus principle, 74
Murphy, Paul
Joint Declaration, 158
negotiation skill, 286
secretary of state, 149, 153–4
verbal abilities, 163

narrative. See historical narrative nationalist community British Government’s relationship with, compared with Irish Government’s, 206–7 ‘Catholic’ analysis of peace process, 225 constitutional issue, perspective on, 56–7
language sensitivities, 231–2
participation in government. See minority participation in government sense of identity, 96
support for Irish unity, 58 see also nationalist parties nationalist parties moral stance, 281–2
negotiation stance, 90–1 participation in government. See minority participation in government negotiations acknowledgement of issues, 96 ambiguity. See ambiguity analytical approach, 258–9
as argument-winning, 310

background to British approach, 10, 12–13, ‘bicycle theory’. See momentum below ‘big picture’. See strategic approach below big problems, dealing with, 291–2 body language, 323–4 ‘bottom line’, 226–7, 308 breaking point, judging of, 215–16 bureaucratic process, 83 ‘carrot and stick’ approach, 303–4 catastrophic events, effect of, 99 ‘Catholic’ analysis, 225 change, attitudes to, 320–1 change in political context, 264–5 changes in direction and emphasis, 317–18 charisma, 228
choreographing of, 217–18, 286 clarity preference for, 295–6 shift to, 295 clear objectives adjustment of, 226
advantages of, 98 keeping in view, 303
cohesion, 331–2
‘common ground’, 224–5 competitiveness, 219–20 comprehensiveness and convergence in relation, 262–3 concessions, use of, 220–1 confidentiality, tactical use of, 94 textual understanding, importance of, 96 controlling pace of, 321–2 as cooperative task, 312 deciding to continue, 84 detail, importance of, 282–3 differences in approach, 82–3 different types of talks, strategy across, 89–90, 125 discipline, 212
disorientation as tactic, 278 dissident factions, danger of, 324 distraction, use of, 291 drafting of text. See drafting of documents and speeches egotism, 219–20
embarrasses, role of, 85 empathy, 310
end planning, 209
end point, keeping in view, 303 facilitating of, 86 familiarity with opponents, 219 final moments, importance of, 314 firmness, 205–6
negotiations (cont.)
flexibility
- conditions for, 296–8
- need for, 98
formality, degree of, 292, 302–3, 319 friendship, 310–11 goals, importance of clear, 84 ‘going down to the wire’, 314 hearing and listening, difference between, 319 historical understanding, advantages of, 99 history, sense of, 287–8, 305 humour, use of, 221–2 imbalance between nationalists and unionists, 206–7 improvisation, 316–17
inclusiveness. See inclusiveness independent chairs, 113 informality
- degree of, 292, 302–3, 319
- role of, 305
instinct, 318 interim positions as objective, 303 interpretative differences, 82 as joint task, 312
keeping ahead, 318–19 language, skill in use of, 90 latitude, 291
leaks to media, 129–30
listening, 208–9, 228 listening and hearing, difference between, 319 location, use of, 293–4, 309–10 as logical exercise, 310 long-term strategy, 307–8 ‘mechanics of’, 322 media, use of, 286–7, 326–7 metaphor, use of, 221 minimum demands, adherence to, 227 momentum, 83, 207–8, 284 moral integrity, 83
moral stance, 281–2
neutral territory, use of, 293–4 non-verbal communication, 323–4 number of persons, 304 observers, 208–9
officials and politicians, relationship between, 92–3 one-to-one conversations, 226 organisations with paramilitary arm, difficulties with, 206 outcome
- accuracy of predictions, 87
- long-term change, 86, 87 over-analysis, dangers of, 275–6 over-negotiation, 308–9 pace, control of, 321–2 parties’ priority points, 217 party discipline, 212 pausing, 84
personal relationships, 311 as philosophical exercise, 310 PIRA attacks, effect of, 283–5 planning and spontaneity in relation, 316 political thinking and party political thinking distinguished, 88 practical approach, 215 pragmatic approach, 215 pragmatism and principle, balancing of, 88, 212–13, 290, 330 pre-emption, 318–19
pre-meeting planning, 292 precise wording, 320 pressure, degree of, 311–12
private agreements, 259–60 process, importance of, 84, 114 process of talks, 125 progressing of, 14
reconciliation
- meaning of, 83–4
- prospects for, 88
- repetition, 320
- reporting back, 315
- responses, managing, 84–5
- right amount of talking, gauging, 207
- rightness to talk, 300, 302
- shifts in position, 330–1
- ‘single text negotiation’, 115, 166–7, 322 skill, 210–11
speediness, 83, 207–8 spontaneity, 218–19, 228, 316
stalemate, 299
stalling tactics, 321–2 stereotypes, 91–2
strategic approach, 215, 275–6, 281
strategic use of statements, 87 strategy across different types of negotiations, 89–90, 125 strategy and tactics, confusion between, 98 sufficient consensus principle. See sufficient consensus principle surprise, effect of, 315–16 suspension of, 125–6 switching between strands, 89 ‘symbolic leadership’, 79–80 symbolism, understanding of, 267–8, 286–7, 328–9 symmetry, 217–18
Index

tactical approach, 308–9

talk and text in relation, 216–17, 259 text, use of, 322–3

‘the link’, 80

third party, role of, 91 time management, 99

toughness, 211–12

transition between ministers and governments, during, 97 trust, 82, 94

unfulfilled promises, 220

US involvement, 85

see also
dialogue

New Framework for Agreement, A (1995), 139

new institutional framework

British Government objective, 151–2

Good Friday Agreement, 75, 76–7, 78, 230, 252–3

New Ireland Forum

establishment of, 33–4, 42

failure of, 62–3

proposals by, 50

new political institutions. See new institutional framework ‘normalisation’

consent principle, 152–3

Good Friday Agreement, 76

Joint Declaration, 165

Northern Bank robbery, effect on peace process, 283–5, 315–16

Northern Ireland

Census 2001, 151

constitutional position. See consent principle; Irish constitutional claims dearth toll, 151

institutional reform. See new institutional framework local government. See district councils post-conflict relationship with UK, 100

Northern Ireland Assembly (1998) difficulties, 149 suspension (October 2002), 149

Northern Ireland Assembly (2003), elections, 149–50

Northern Ireland Assembly (2007), inauguration, 146

Northern Ireland Civil Service and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 29

direct rule, 27

drafting of documents and speeches, 18, 19

perspective on Good Friday Agreement implementation, 250–1 political discussions within, 28–9

Northern Ireland Constitution Act 1973, ‘constitutional guarantee’, 57

Northern Ireland Executive (1974) appreciation of, 28, 121 compromise and decision-making, 2–3

failure of, 1–2, 3

as model of inclusiveness, 121 dialogue after collapse of, 277

establishment, 234–5

removal of ministers, Good Friday Agreement provision, 231 restoration, 153, 236–7, 241, 300–1

suspension. See direct rule

drafting of documents and speeches, 19–20

Queen’s Speeches, 20–1

Northern Ireland ministers. See Northern Ireland Executive (1998)

Northern Ireland Office (NIO)

and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 63–4

approach to talks process, 66–7, 83 calibre of ministers, 102 consent principle, defence of, 61–2

contact with loyalist organisations, 130–3

contact with PIRA, 128

contacts within political parties, 128 cooperation with Irish officials, 101–2 drafting of documents and speeches. See drafting of documents and speeches experience and expertise, 65–6, 101 initiative on political settlement, 65–7

and Joint Declaration, 153–7

ministerial longevity, advantages of, 97–8 negotiations. See negotiations

permanent secretary, 201

personnel changes, 161

Political Affairs Division, 122–4 political analysis by, 253–4

political discussions within, 22–3, 28–9

role in relation to Government policy, 201

‘Stormontgate’ (October 2002), 149

trust-building, 258

unionist suspicion of, 178

videoconferencing, 30

Northern Ireland Parliament, and partition, 57

Northern Ireland Prison Service, prison regime reforms, 122

Northern Ireland Women’s Coalition (NIWC)

establishment, 141

and Joint Declaration, 150
Omagh bomb (August 1998), effect on peace process, 144–5, 315–16
‘On the Runs’ (OTRs) agreement on, 254–5
drafting of documents, 164
issue of, 259, 270–1, 274–5
Joint Declaration, 152–3, 162
O’Neill, Terence
‘Crossroads’ speech, 23–4 meeting with Seán Lamass, 21–2 Northern Ireland finance minister, 19
Northern Ireland prime minister, 20–1 ‘Pottinger’ speech, 20
as reformer, 24–5 relations with ministers, 21 resignation, 23–4 speech-writing ability, 19–20
Orange Order
Parades. See parades
Sir Patrick Mayhew visits meeting, 131 Paisley, Ian
and 1994 ceasefire, 327
and decommissioning, 287, 288, 323–4
desire for peace, 281–2 Divis Street Riots, 120–1
first minister, 146
and Good Friday Agreement, 265
humour, 154
and Martin McGuinness, 198
meetings with, 29–30, 316–17
meets Bill Clinton, 140 moves amendment of Northern Ireland Constitution Act 1973, 57 and Paul Murphy, 155
sense of identity, 96
and Tony Blair, 170, 311
verbal abilities, 163
withdraws from talks, 125
Palestinian–Israeli conflict, preconditions for settlement of, 113–14 parades
Haass recommendations, 332–3 regulation of, 296–7
paramilitary activities ending of, Joint Declaration provision, 152–3, 164, 171 organisations with paramilitary arm, difficulties negotiating with, 206 punishment beatings, 214 see also loyalist organisations; Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA) Parliamentary Committees, minority participation in, 25–6 partition of Ireland
nationalist perspective, 56–7 political consequences, 56
see also Irish constitutional claims Patten Review. See policing
peace process
ambiguity and, 3, 14–15 approach by present study, 1, 7 choreographing of, 286, 304
chronology of, xiv–xxii closing down, possibility of, 268–9 commitment to peaceful means, 214 content and structure of present study, 7–15 context and detail in relation, 204–5 context and text in relation, 222 continuation perception of, 298
prospects for, 100
continuing process, sense of, 300–1 continuity, 95, 209–10 control, degree of, 227 creativity, 95–6, 204 formal and informal mechanisms, timing of usage, 102–3 ‘high politics’ approach to history of, 147 historical context, 1–2 importance of process, 114
inclusiveness. See inclusiveness international involvement, 152, 225–6 interviews, author’s approach to, 7–9 key developments, 102 key principles, importance of, 214–15 as metaphorical process, 89 momentum, 227, 303
moral dimension, 203–4
as narrative process, 90–1 and political development, 203–4 positional approach, 90–1 and reconciliation, 301 reduced Anglo-Irish involvement, 334 religious influence, 282
stalemate, 210
studies of, 6 success in political terms, 222 surprise, effect of, 95
text and context in relation, 222 as text-driven process, 224 turning points, identification of, 95 use of term, 202
see also Anglo-Irish relations; exclusively peaceful means, principle of; negotiations
Index

Phillips, Sir Jonathan
drafting of documents, 159
involvement in peace process, 153–4, 155, 157, 158, 161, 162–3, 167 on role of dialogue, 14, 277–301

Pilling, Sir Joseph
drafting of documents, 158
involvement in peace process, 66, 157–8
on negotiational approach, 12–13, 201–28
permanent secretary, 101, 153–4 political director, 156–7 reference to, 249–50

Policing
development, 126–7, 209–10 Executive. See Northern Ireland Executive local promotion of, 128 negotiations, 87
proposals for, 27–8
unionist opposition, 60
pragmatism and principle, balancing of, 88, 212–13, 215, 262, 271–2, 290, 330
Prime Minister’s Office and Irish Government, 178–9 Overseas Adviser, 177–8

unionist relations with, 178
Prior, James (Jim), ‘rolling devolution’, 38–40 prisoner releases
agreement on, 167, 254–5 drafting of documents, 164, 168–9
Good Friday Agreement, 76, 230
issue of, 152–3
prisons. See Northern Ireland Prison Service Progressive Unionist Party (PUP)
boycotting of talks, 141
and Combined Loyalist Military Command, 130–1
contact with, 136, 146
electoral support, 74, 145
exclusion from talks, 128 inclusion in talks, 11, 74, 120, 136–7, 140–1, 142 visit to US, 134–5
see also Smyth, Hugh Protestant community. See unionist community

Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA) abandonment of armed struggle, 210–11 acknowledges end of conflict, 153–4 acknowledges stalemate situation, 299–300
and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 50–1, 52
belief in military victory, 110
Canary Wharf bomb (February 1996), 73, 140–1, 180, 183, 206–7 ceasefire
breaking of, 75
declaration (August 1994), 73, 131 ending (February 1996), 73, 140–1, 180, 183, 206–7 renewal (July 1997), 75, 142–3 unionist response, 327
claims to governance of united Ireland, 56
cost of conflict, 109
decommissioning of weapons. See decommissioning fugitives. See ‘On the Runs’ (OTRs) and Good Friday Agreement, 238–9
and Joint Declaration, 150–1 murder of Robert McCartney, 283 negotiations (‘the link’). See ‘link, the’
Northern Bank robbery, 283–5 possibilities of defeating, 87–8 secret meeting with British Government (1972), 4–5 Shankill bomb (1993), 129–30
and Sinn Féin, 287
and Sunningdale Agreement, 4
support for, 33–5
suspension of operations, 129–30
350  Index

Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA) (cont.)
Teebane bomb (1991), 123
Tony Blair challenges on ‘acts of completion’, 149 and ‘Whitbread’ speech, 81 punishment beatings attitudes to, 290 effect on peace process, 214

Real IRA
and Joint Declaration, 150–1 Omagh bomb (August 1998), 144–5, 315–16

reconciliation
act of, proposal for, 232–3 meaning of, 83–4
process of, 301
prospects for, 88
Rees, Merlyn
secretary of state, 79
on Sunningdale Agreement, 4

Reid, John
secretary of state, 149, 153–4, 250
Weston Park proposals, 161–2 religion and ambiguity 282 republican movement

ambiguity and clarity, 295, 313–14, 320 ‘Catholic’ analysis of peace process, 225 change, attitude to, 320–1 consent principle and, 215 defeat, attitude to, 287–8 desire for peace, 306
interpretation by, 265–6
language sensitivities, 266–7
moral stance, 281–2
religious influence, 282
sense of history, 287–8, 305 united Ireland, aspiration for, 306–7 violence, attitude to, 91

see also Irish National Liberation Army (INLA); Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA); Sinn Féin

Reynolds, Albert
and Downing Street Declaration, 71
and John Major, 92–3
Robinson, Mary
and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 63
proposes constitutional claims amendment, 69–70 Robinson, Peter DUP leader, 192–3
first minister, 192–3

proposes elections to multiparty negotiations, 140 ‘rolling devolution’, failure of, 38–40
Royal Agricultural Society speech (May 1997), See Blair, Tony Royal Ulster Constabulary (RUC). See policing sanctions
drafting of documents, 168–9
issue of, 152–3
Sands, Bobby, 5 secret exchanges. See ‘link, the’ security
British proposals, 39, 45–6, 64 collusion by security forces. See Cory Collusion Inquiry improvement after Good Friday Agreement, 78
Irish proposals, 34, 36, 40–1 ‘normalisation’. See ‘normalisation’ unionist concerns, 58
Shankill bomb (1993), effect on peace process, 129–30

single text negotiation
Good Friday Agreement, 115, 322
Joint Declaration, 166–7
Sinn Féin
and ‘acts of completion’, 296 Adams and McGuinness as duo, 279–80
and ambiguity, 205
and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 1–6, 37–8, 50–1, 116
ban on contact with, 127 commitment to peaceful means, 214 date of British withdrawal, adherence to demand for, 227 decommissioning, 220, 286, 288–90
dialogue with, 202
see also ‘link, the’
and Downing Street Declaration, 71
and DUP, 278, 306–7, 316–17 electoral support for, 29–30, 33–5, 46, 184 exclusion from peace talks, 74–5 and exclusively peaceful means principle, 290–1 exploratory dialogue, 135 future progress, 298–9
and Good Friday Agreement, 76, 77, 295, 323
and hunger strikes, 5 internal authority, 99–100
and Joint Declaration, 150, 173
long-term strategy, 307–8
Index

media, skill in using, 286–7
and multiparty negotiations, 184–7 negotiational control, 321–2 negotiational discipline, 212 negotiational flexibility, 297–8 negotiational focus, 321
negotiational skill, 210–11, 308–9 negotiational stance, 90–1, 94–5, 278–80, 308 negotiational toughness, 211
non-verbal communication, 323–4 participation in peace talks, 73, 75
and PIRA, 287
power-sharing, 87
and reduction of British Army presence, 294 reporting back on negotiations, 315 respectability, growth in, 210–11 response to PIRA attacks, 283
and SDLP, 65, 68
secret contact with. See ‘link, the’ socialist united Ireland, aspiration for, 296 speechwriting with Jonathan Powell, 325–6 ‘Stormontgate’ (October 2002), 149 strategic approach to negotiations, 281, 288 symbolism, understanding of, 267–8, 286–7 unofficial contact with, 123–4 written records of negotiations, 275 see also Adams, Gerry; McGuinness, Martin Smyth, Hugh
meets John Major, 133, 134 unofficial talks with British Government, 131–3 Social Democratic and Labour Party (SDLP)
and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 37–8 and devolution, 57
and Downing Street Declaration, 71
and Joint Declaration, 150
and Sinn Fein, 65, 68
and Sunningdale Agreement, 1–2
and unionist parties, 65 see also Fitt, Gerard (Gerry); Hume, John sovereignty, transfer of, British reservations as to, 41–2, 49 speeches, drafting of. See drafting of documents and speeches Stormont. See Northern Ireland Parliament ‘Stormontgate’ (October 2002), effect on peace process, 149 ‘strategic or economic interest, no’. See ‘Whitbread’ speech sufficient consensus principle
Joint Declaration, 173
multiparty negotiations, 74
Sunningdale Agreement (1973)
Anglo-Irish Agreement contrasted, 48 effect if had been successful, 47
failure of, 3, 4, 36
and Good Friday Agreement, 3, 209–10, 221
Irish constitutional claims, 31–2 opposition to, 2–3
origins of peace process, 1–2 symbols
Haass recommendations, 332–3 ‘symbolic leadership’, 79–80
understanding of, 267–8, 286–7, 328–9 text. See documents; drafting of documents and speeches Thatcher, Margaret agrees to further talks with Irish Government, 67–8 Anglo-Irish Agreement, 35–7, 38–9, 41–3, 45–6, 47–9, 50, 51–2, 98–9 and Charles Haughey, 38–40
and consent principle, 63
and Garret FitzGerald, 34–5, 39, 40, 41, 43, 45–6, 50
and New Ireland Forum, 62–3 Thomas, Sir Quentin
drafting of documents, 99
involvement in peace process, 66, 83, 97, 123–4, 137–8, 141, 154, 315 on settlement of intercommunal conflicts, 10–11, 101–19 transition between governments
background to, 12
decommissioning, 180–3
Good Friday Agreement, 192–9
introduction, 177
Labour victory assumed, 179 Major’s and Blair’s achievement summarised, 199–200 and multiparty negotiations, 184–7
negotiations during, 97
Prime Minister’s Office. See Prime Minister’s Office transition, 187–8
unionist influence at Westminster, 179 unionist ‘veto’ on Major’s policy, 179–80 Trimble, David clarity of vision, 212–13 commitment to peace process, 174
critiques British Government policy, 170–1, 172
and decommissioning, 149–50, 195, 218, 286 on dining at home, 174
first minister, 149
Trimble, David (cont.)
and Gerry Adams, 86, 148–9, 164, 197–8
and Good Friday Agreement, 232, 233, 236–7, 238–9
and Joint Declaration, 159, 163
and Loyalist Commission, 145 Misunderstanding Ulster, 170–1 and Mitchell Review, 236
negotiational approach, 174, 217 negotiational difficulties, 281
negotiational skill, 281–2
negotiational toughness, 211–12
Nobel Peace Prize, 108
and Paul Murphy, 163
political cost of peace, 192–3
reporting back on negotiations, 315 resigns from Executive, 168
and Sinn Féin, 278
on sufficient consensus principle, 173
on Sunningdale Agreement, 154
on talks with terrorists, 171
and UUP, 198, 205
verbal abilities, 163
truth and reconciliation. See reconciliation

Ulster Defence Association (UDA). See loyalist organisations Ulster Democratic Party (UDP)
and Combined Loyalist Military Command, 130–1
contact with, 130–2, 133–4, 136–9
electoral support, 74–5, 120, 141, 145
exclusion from talks, 75, 76, 128, 142–3
inclusion in talks, 74, 120, 134, 140–1
and Ulster Political Research Group, 145 Ulster Freedom Fighters. See loyalist organisations Ulster Political Research Group (UPRG), establishment, 145 Ulster Unionist Party (UUP) boycotting of talks, 141 decline, 87
discussions with, 29–30 Dublin visit (September 1992), 125–6
and DUP, 87, 150
and Irish Government, 265
and Joint Declaration, 150
political cost of peace, 192–3
see also Molyneaux, James; Trimble, David Ulster Volunteer Force (UVF). See loyalist organisations Ulster Workers’ Council strike and origins of peace process, 3 ‘Ulsterisation’ policy, impact of, 4 unification of Ireland

Government of Ireland Act 1920, provisions of, 57
see also Irish constitutional claims unionist community
and Anglo-Irish Agreement, 64–5, 68
British Government’s relationship with, compared with Irish Government’s, 206–7 constitutional issue, perspective on, 55, 58–60 cooperation with Ireland, opposition to, 60 devolution, support for, 60 economic concerns, 59
and Good Friday Agreement, 55 and Irish constitutional claims, 60 literalness, 231–2
Orange Order, 131
political concerns, 59–60 power-sharing, opposition to, 60 Protestant identity, concerns as to, 58–9 security concerns, 58
sense of identity, 96
support for Union, 55, 59
United States and, 134–5, 225
violence, attitude to, 91
unionist parties
and ambiguity, 205
ambiguity and clarity, 295, 320
Anglo-Irish Agreement, 29–30, 37–8, 46–8, 50, 52–3, 64–5
change, attitude to, 320–1
End to Drift, An, 52–3, 64–5
Good Friday Agreement, 76, 77, 295, 323
interpretation by, 265–6
and Joint Declaration, 150
literalness, 266–7, 281, 320
moral stance, 281–2
negotiational approach, 90–1, 314
negotiational discipline, 212
negotiational toughness, 211–12
and reduction of British Army presence, 294
and SDLP, 65
and Sinn Féin, 73
and ‘symbolic leadership’, 79–80 symbolism, understanding of, 267–8
United States, and, 134–5 united Ireland. See Irish constitutional claims; Irish unity United Kingdom
general election 1974 and Sunningdale Agreement, 3 general election 1997, 142
Index

see also transition between governments government. See British Government integration with. See integration with United Kingdom
Northern Ireland’s post-conflict relationship with, 100
United States
Al Qaeda attacks (9/11), impact of, 238, 283, 311–12
Catholic bias, unionist perception of, 225 consulate general’s role in peace process, 134–5
funding for loyalist projects, 145–6 Gerry Adams visit, 130–1, 139–40
Haass recommendations, 332–3
involvement in negotiations, 85, 225 involvement post-Joint Declaration, 152 Joe Cahill allowed visa, 85
shift in thinking after 9/11, 284–5
unionist relations with, 134–5, 225
see also Bush, George W.; Clinton, Bill; Irish-Americans; Mitchell, George videoconferencing, Northern Ireland Office use of, 30
violence
attitudes to, 91, 290

paramilitary activities. See loyalist organisations; Provisional Irish Republican Army (PIRA)
Washington Three conditions. See
decommissioning
Weston Park proposals (July 2001)
implementation of Good Friday Agreement, 237
and Joint Declaration, 161–3 ‘Whitbread’ speech (9 November 1990) consent principle emphasised, 70–1 drafting, 81–2
history, 81–2
renunciation of interest, 81
origin, 81
purpose, 81
renunciation of interest, 44 timing, 81, 129–30
unionist response, 68
Whitelaw, William (Willie) new proposals for talks (1991), 123 secret meeting with PIRA (1972), 4–5
secretary of state, 27
Wilson, Harold considers British withdrawal, 4
and Sunningdale Agreement, 47 ‘Ulsterisation’ policy, 4