

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04453-1 - Teaching Law: Justice, Politics, and the Demands of Professionalism

Robin L. West

Index

More information

Index

- academic lawyers
 - distance from practice, 149
 - justice, 162
 - law, creation of, 162
- academic model
 - bifurcation, 148, 210–211
 - educational, 180
- accreditation, 16–17, 214
- acculturation, moral sensibility, 48–50
- adjudication
 - formalism, 101–103
 - and legislation, 106–108
 - realism, 103–104
- adjudicative law
 - American system of, 69–70
 - centrality, curricular, 127–128
 - integrity, 84–85
- adjudicative process, 27, 125–126, 192–193
- Administrative Procedure Act, 55
- administrative processes, 188–189
- administrators, 11–12, 187
- Affordable Care Act, 160–161, 197–200
- agreement facilitation, 186
- American Bar Association, 131, 174–175, 213
- American Law Institute, 162
- American legalism, 164
- Americans with Disabilities Act, 112–114
- amoralism, 43–44, 55
- analogical reasoning, 52–54
- antidiscrimination, 51
- antiformalism, 69–70
- antipositivist lawyers, 70
- appellate brief writing, 86
- appellate courts
 - formalists, 105
 - realists, 105
- application rates, 12, 177
- applications, dropping, 4, 6
- apprenticeship, 15, 16, 148–149
 - cognitive, practical, socio-ethical, 15
- Aquinas, Thomas, 81–82, 91–92
- arbitration, 63, 185
- argument
 - analogical reasoning, 52–54
 - articulation, 52–54
 - ecumenical categorization, 52–54
 - reformist, 160–161
- Aristotle, 77, 80–82, 91–92
- Association of American Law Schools, 131
- Augustine, 80–81
- bar exam, 4–5
- Becoming a Lawyer*, 44–45
- behavioral psychology, 203
- Bentham, Jeremy, 70, 82–84, 86–87
- the Bible, 77, 80–81
- bifurcation
 - academic model, 148, 210–211
 - benefits of, 157
 - better options, 211
 - costs of, 157–169
- Bill of Rights, 119
- Bogoshian, Heidi, 45
- Bond, Lloyd, 14–15
- British positivists, 103–104
- Brown v. Board*, 112–114, 201
- Butler, Paul, 91–92
- Carnegie Report*, 35–36
- Case, Mary Ann, 55
- Catholic legal thought, 45
- Cicero, 77, 81–82, 91–92
- Civil Rights Acts, 189–190
- class size, 6, 174, 214
- classroom
 - discussion of justice, 90
 - doctrinal, 90
 - legal scholarship, effect on content, 200–201
 - Socratic, 181–182

- classroom (cont.)
 traditional, 68–69, 159–160
 typical, 136–137
- client advising, 134–135 corporate, 1–2
 interviewing, 134–135 loyalty, 45, 204 representation, 125
- clinical education, 155–156, 181
- clinics, 139, 181–182
- Code of Civil Procedure, 96–97
- Codes of Professional Responsibility, 91–92
- Colby, Anne, 14–15
- Columbia Law School, 76–77
- Commerce Clause, 197–200
- common law
 completeness, 30–31, 33–34, 71 concept of equity, 61–63 conception of justice, 45 of contract, 96–97, 99 courts, 164, 188–189
 encroachment, 33
 English, 32–33
 Langdellians, 33 orientation, 127–128 precedent, 152–153
 principles, 34–35, 96–97, 152–153
 rights of contract and property, 70–72 of tort, 141–142, 159–160 tort, contract, property, 127–128
- common law subjects, 127–128
- conflict of interest, 54
- Congress
 General Welfare, 119–121
 investigation of law schools, 174
 juriscentricity, 124
 law, legislative branch, 95 negative rights and liberties, 119
- Constitution
 Bill of Rights, 119
 constitutional exceptionalism, 90–91 constitutional guarantees, 200–201 constitutional idealism, 200 constitutional law classes, 33–34 constitutional questions, 200 constitutionalism, 54–55, 106–111
 contemporary scholarship, 202 Court interpretation of, 121–123
 equal protection, 119–121
 General Welfare, 119–121
 interpretation, unexplored areas, 123–124 interpretation of, 106–108 jurisprudential reasoning, 122–123 mandate to Congress, 119–121
 negative rights, 119–122
 unconstitutional laws, 112–114
- the Constitution, 202
- constitutional interpretation judicial review, 108–109
 juriscentric, 123
- constitutional law, 110, 119
- constitutionalism, 54–55, 106–111
- constitutionality, 68–69
- Consumer Protection Agency, 197–200
- contract law, 50–51, 62–63, 206
- criminal law, 118, 141–143, 189–190
- critical legal studies movement, 106, 119–121
- cultural authority, 77–78
- curricular designs, electives, 187
- curricular stagnation, 185
- curriculum administrative law, 128–129
 antipathy to politics, 126–127
 clinical offerings, 139
 common law, 96–97
 contracts, 97–98 doctrine-heavy, 21 early design of, 73–75
 electives, 91–92, 97–98, 191–192
 first year, 96–97, 128 first year, adjudicative orientation, 128 first year, reform, 128–129 first year courses, 189–190 gaps, 97–98
 horizontal equity, 50
 incremental change, 128–129
 laissez faire philosophy, 184–185
 Langdellian, 184
 Langdellian vision, appellate lawyer, 187 law in context, 172 legal practice, exposure to, 187 legislative law, 128–129
 legislative process, 97–98 mandatory, 91–92
 pluralist, united, 169–170
 politics, 126–127
 practicum courses, 139 property, 97–98
 realism, formalism, 73–75
 reform, 188–189
 required, 187
 restructuring, 188–189
 second year, 190–191 statutory law, 98–99 third year, 188, 190–191 third year, field of law, selection, 191–192 torts, 97–98
 traditional, 91–92, 163–165
 understanding of law, 156–157
- debt, 16–17, 46–47, 176
- degree program, two-year, 12
- dispute resolution, privatized, 115–116

- doctrinal work, traditional, 195–196, 206 domestic violence, 93, 198–199 downturn, global economic, 14–15
Dred Scott, 112–113
 due process, 50, 120
 Dworkin, Ronald, 44–45, 67–68, 84–85
 Dworkinian jurisprudence, 105–106
 Dworkinian principles, 90–91
- economic crisis, 6–7, 17–18, 19–20, 212 economic downturn, 5, 14–15 economics, legal, 132–133 economics of law, 151–152, 153
 economists, 38, 151–152
Educating Lawyers: Preparation for the Profession of Law (Sullivan, Colby, Wegner, Bond, and Schulman), 14–15 efficiency, law, 56–57
 egalitarianism, 166–167
 electives, 91–92, 97–98, 187, 191–192
 empiricism, 163–165
 English common law, 77
 Equal Pay Act, 112–114
 equal protection, 122–123
 equity, 62 horizontal, 50 ethics, 43, 91–92, 151–152, 186
 existential crisis, 177–178
 academic assumptions, 22–23
 the Bar, 137
 the Bar, legal academy, interaction, 39–40 concept of justice, 25–27
 concept of lawyering, 24 creation of law, politics, 27–28 formalism, realism, 28–29
 justice, 39–40
 law school, purpose of, 24–25 manifestations of, 25, 40 political root of law, 39–40
 reform, 177–178
 ways of addressing, 210
 existentialism, 166
 experiential learning, 15–16, 159–160, 176–177 externships, 15–16, 129–130, 137–138, 145, 169, 209–210
- faculty
 bifurcated, 148, 156–157
 composition of, 151–152 contract professors, 180 cost reduction, 209 curricular development, 151–152
 doctrinal, 157
 existential crisis, 193
 growing professional component, 155–156 hiring freeze, 175
 hiring practices, 151–152
 historians, 152–153
 historians, philosophers, economists, 151–152 impact of interdisciplinary-clinical, 157 improvement of law, 205
 institutes, 129–130
 interdisciplinary, 153–154
 interdisciplinary displacement of traditional, 163–165
 junior professoriate, 152
 Langdellian understanding of law, 187 legal history, scholarship, 38–39 legal philosophers, 153 legal policy analysis, 167–168 legal profession, gap between, 145
 legal scholarship, 7
 nonclinical, 145, 148
 professionalism, 152
 professors, not practicing lawyers, 136–137 salary freeze, 175
 substance of law, 144–145
 teaching loads, leaves, sabbaticals, 209 tenure, hiring decisions, 146–147 training lawyers, 7 travel expenses, 209
Failing Law Schools (Tamanaha), 13–14, 35–36 fair process, 48–50, 64–66 fairness, procedural, 65
 Family and Medical Leave Act, 112–114
 Federalist Papers, 76–77 fellowships, 6, 134–135, 151–152
 Ferguson, Robert, 76–78, 80–81
 Fiss, Owen, 69–70, 195 formal equality, 50, 122, 167
 formalism
 adjudication, 101–103
 concept of justice, 30
 cultural authority, 79
 dominance, 70–72
 influence of, 75
 juriscentricity, 101–102
 legislation, attitude toward, 102–103 realism, common ground, 29–30
 formalists
 appellate courts, 105
 legislation, lack of focus on, 105
 Foucault, Michel, 91–92
 Fourteenth Amendment, 68–69, 119–121, 161–162
 Freud, Sigmund, 99–100
 Fuller, Lon, 105
- Georgetown Law Center, legal scholarship, 197–200
Gideon v. Wainwright, 112–113 graduation, 14, 48, 156–157, 174–175, 192–193

- grants bridge grants, 175 research grants, 193–194 summer grants, 211
- Hadley v. Baxendale*, 166–167
 Harvard Law School, 73–75
Hawkins v. McGee, 166–167
 Health Care Act, 160–161 heroism, 112
 Himmelstein, J., 44–45
 hiring practices, 151–152
 historians, 36–37, 109–110, 139–141, 151–152
 history, legal, 132–133
 Hoffman, David, 81–82
 Holmes, Oliver Wendell, 30–31, 43, 79–81
 horizontal equity, 50
 Horwitz, J., 77
 human dignity, 84–85, 109–110
 humanistic approach, 44–45
 humanities, 36–37, 78, 153–154, 178–179, 208
 cultural authority, 80
 justice, 60, 179
 Hume, David, 81–82, 91–92 humility, 54–56
- idealism, legal, 163–168 immunities, 120, 121–122
 incremental reform, 125–126
 Individualized Disability Act, 93–94 injustice. . See also justice doctrinal classroom, 90
 failure, legal system, 116 institutional, 213–214
 law, 69, 90
 legal argument, 117
 legal training, 46–48 legislation, 126
 litigation, 126
 particular law, 70 value, professional motivation, 179
 institutes, 129–130
 integrationist approach, 21
 integrity, 51–52, 63–64, 85
 interdisciplinarity, 154–155, 210–211 traditional paradigm, displaced by, 163–168
 interdisciplinary approaches, 160 courses, 209–210
 explosion of writing, 203
 faculty, 147, 151–152
 knowledge, nature of law, 153–154 legal criticism, 209–210
 movements, 160
 perspectives, 156–157 scholars, 170, 178 seminars, 147, 181 work, 195–196, 206, 208
 international law, 188–189
 internships, 144, 176–177
 interpretation, 37–38, 56–57, 115–116, 119
- Jefferson, Thomas, 81–82
 Jeffersonian classicists, 80 concept of law, 77 concept of legal education, 77 law student, 77–78 lawyer, 77
- judges agents of change, realists, 104–105 agents of preservation, formalists, 104–105 apolitical, 121 bound by institutional role, 204 father-figure, 194
 formalists, realists, 104
 impartial, 54–55 principles articulated by, 97–98
 quasi-legislator, 164 social sciences, common good, 80–81 truth, contingencies of power, 119 judicial behavior, 106 judicial decision, 80–81, 126–127 judicial exclusivity, 123 judicial opinions, 37–38, 203 judicial process, 58–59, 97–99
 judicial review, 106–109
 juriscentric legal education, 101–102
 juriscentricity
 consequences of, 125–126
 constitutional interpretation, 119
 constitutional law, 119
 law, instrument for change, 125–126 legal criticism, capacity, 114–115 limited understanding, potential of law, 125–126
 jurisprudence, 29–30, 70–72, 98–99, 105–106 juriscentric conception, law, 31–32
- justice
See also injustice
 academic lawyers, 162
 autonomy of law, 67–68 competing conceptions of, 86 concept of, 61–63 criminal, 85–86 development of law school, 70–72
 doctrinal classroom, 90
 fidelity to preexisting law, 84–85
 human dignity, 84–85
 Langdellian formalism, 101–103
 legal realism, 101–103
 legal scholarship, 59–60
 legalism, 64–66
 litigation, 125–126

- marginalization of, 70–72
 - maximization of wealth, 84–85
 - moral sensibility, 69
 - moral value, 69
 - neglect of, 61–63, 178–179
 - Nozickian conception of, 86–87
 - private law, 61–63
 - privatization of, 61–63
 - procedural, 64–66
 - processual values, 66–67
 - professional commitment, 162
 - Rawlsian conception of, 86–87
 - requirements of, 32, 88–89, 212–214
 - social, 46, 178–179
 - study of, 81–82
 - subjective, 43
- Kennedy, Anthony, 160–161
- Kennedy, Duncan, 44–45
- King Henry IV, 30–31, 54–55
- knowledge, dissemination of, 201
- Langdell, Christopher, 73–75, 101–102, 148–149
- Langdellian
 - assumption, 151
 - completeness of law, 30–31, 33–34
 - conception, 71, 151
 - curriculum, 183
 - evolution of law, 150–151
 - faith, 41–42, 183–184
 - formalism, 34–35, 71
 - formalists, legislation, 33
 - law school, 79
 - legal scholarship, 41–42
 - model, 150–151
 - model, evolution of law, 150–151
 - realist-formalist debate, 70–72
 - understanding, 38–39, 187
- Langdellianism, 77
- law
 - American Constitution, 109–110
 - appellate opinion, significance, 149–150
 - autonomous study of, 153–154
 - costs, 56–57
 - efficiency, 56–57
 - ethical commitment to, 178–179
 - evolutionary change, 126–127
 - fair application of, 57–58
 - force for change, realists, 103–104
 - general principles of, 30
 - human potential, 171
 - idea of, 21–22
 - idealized, 150
 - incremental reform, 125–126
 - interdisciplinary knowledge, 153–154
 - internal morality, 69–70
 - juriscentric conception, 32–33
 - Langdell's theory of, 149–150
 - learned profession, Langdell, 153–154
 - legal principles, 101–102
 - moral principles, Dworkin, 68–69
 - new law, 124–125
 - non-existent, 116
 - nonclinical legal academy, 145, 148
 - office training, 36–37, 153–154
 - private, 61–63, 188–189
 - product of political will, 95–96
 - public policy, 56–57
 - realism, 80–81
 - reform, 25, 125–126
 - unconstitutional vs. bad, 117
 - utilitarian aspect of, 57–58
 - values of legalism, 57–58
 - virtues of, 119–121
 - wealth maximizing, 56–57
- law degree, market value, 12–13
- law graduates
 - applying the law, 7–8
 - comprehensive education, 192–193
 - distinctive morality, 55
 - employment numbers, 176
 - legal acculturation, values, 48
 - legal judgement, 8
 - legalism, 55
 - market for, 182
 - number of, 174
 - practice of law, 134–135
 - practice-ready, 135–136, 144, 211–212
 - preparation, 134–135
- law reform, 126–130
- law reviews, student edited, 203
- law school
 - acculturation, moral dimension, 48
 - addressing student needs, 141–143
 - administration, 44–45
 - amoralism, 43–44
 - autonomous study, 153–154
 - bifurcation, 20–21, 156–157
 - budgets, 129–130
 - Catholic legal thought, 45
 - centrality of adjudicative law, 127–128
 - challenging bad law, 118
 - clinical offerings, 138–139
 - complaints overstated, 138–139
 - concept of justice, 25–27, 45
 - contemporary nonclinical education, 151
 - cost neutral curriculum improvement, 209–210
 - cost saving measures, 175
 - cultural, legal authority, 78
 - curricular development, 151–152
 - cutbacks, 181
 - degree, 12–13, 174

- law school (cont.)
- distance, interdisciplinary, doctrinal academy, 148–149
 - distance from profession, 37
 - economics of law, 151–152
 - elite, 151
 - employment numbers, 176
 - employment prospects, graduates, 213
 - ethics, transparency, 212–214
 - evolution of legal education, 148
 - existential crisis, 177–178
 - existentialism, 166
 - externship programs, 138–139
 - faculty, I-C model, 157–159
 - finances, 193–194
 - full spectrum of scholarship, 206
 - history of law, 151–152
 - humanistic approach, 44–45
 - ideal professional lawyer, 169
 - institutes, untapped resource, 129–130
 - interdisciplinary, beneficial aspects, 152–153
 - interdisciplinary knowledge, 153–154
 - judicial opinions, 37–38
 - Langdellian model, limitations, 183–184
 - law's political origins, 124
 - lawyering skills, 138–139
 - legal ethics, 151–152
 - legalism, faith, 165–166
 - lower tuition rates, 214
 - moral complaint, 46–48
 - moral discourse, 88–89
 - moral ideals, slighted, 35
 - moral neutrality, conservatism, 45
 - moral values, 44–45
 - nonclinical faculty, 145, 148
 - outdated curriculum, 185
 - pedagogical goals, 171–173
 - perspectives on law, evolving, 147
 - philosophy of law, 151–152
 - popular culture, 112–114
 - properly educated law student, 148–149
 - purpose of, 144
 - reform, alternatives, 169–170
 - reform, bifurcation, 13–14, 20–21
 - reform, integrationist approach, 21
 - reform, practice of law, 14–15
 - reform movement, 11–12
 - relationship with legal profession, 38
 - resource management, 208–209
 - retreat from egalitarianism, 166–167
 - role models, 136–137
 - separation, aspects of, 36–37
 - skills, professionalism, 148
 - skills gap, 177–178
 - skills training, 141–143
 - stagnation, 184–185
 - theoretical foundations, 34–35
 - theories of justice, 26
 - train students for hierarchy, 44–45
 - tuition reduction, impact, 181–182
 - value of degree, 12–13, 176
- law students
- causal relation, politics, law, 99
 - evaluation of particular laws, 56–58
 - social, distributive justice, 56
- lawyer(s)
- academic, 149, 162
 - agreement facilitation, 186
 - alienation from legislation, 124–125
 - antipositivist, 69–70
 - appellate, 138–139, 154–155, 187
 - ethics, justice, 186
 - experts on law, 124–125
 - ideal professional, 169
 - informed critics, 186
 - legislative legal solutions, 124–125
 - litigation, 186
 - public policy formation, 186
 - social and individual injustice, 46–48
 - transnational practice, 186
- Ledbetter Act, 112–114
- legal academy
- antipathy to political processes, 111–112
 - antipathy to politics, 99–100
 - constitutional law, 111
 - desirability, proximity with profession, 143
 - distain for profession, 134–135
 - ideal mission, 137
 - impact of economic crisis, 182
 - moral, economic imperatives, 42
 - poor preparation of students, 134–135
 - provision of legal criticism, 143
 - unasked questions, 58–59
- legal argument
- critical, 160–161
 - critical moral inquiry, 70
 - normative, 82
 - prototype, 86
 - reform, 160–161
- legal authority, 77–78, 79–80, 108
- legal economics, 132–133
- legal education
- bifurcated, 156–157
 - budgetary imperative, 181
 - formative years of, 28–30, 34–35
 - history of, 32, 144
 - lack of unifying vision, 167
 - modern, 55–56
 - pedagogical goals, 171–173
 - price tag of, 208
 - responsive to student needs, 155–156
 - skills and professionalism, 148
 - stagnation, 184–185
 - traditional paradigm, displaced, 163–168

- legal equality, 50
- legal ethics, 91–92, 138–139
 - required course, 209–210
- legal formalism, 71
- legal idealism, 163–168
- legal procedures, 48–50
- legal process school, 105
- legal process theorists, 73–75
- legal questions, 133
 - formalist perspective, 79
 - judicial arguments, 61
 - Langdellian formalists, 32
 - legal precedents, 30
 - multiple analyses, 30–31
 - nontraditional scholarship, 133
- legal realism
 - See realism
- legal reasoning
 - external, internal, 51–52, 88
 - value laden, 51–52
- legal reform, critical theory, 160–162
- legal scholarship
 - analytic, 82
 - appellate court opinions, 27
 - appellate decisions, 133
 - behavioral law and economics, 139–141
 - challenging bad law, 118
 - change in law, purpose of, 205
 - changing shape of, 145–146
 - classroom content, 200–201
 - compared to other disciplines, 203
 - constitutional idealists, skeptics, 200–201
 - constitutionalization of arguments, 117
 - content of law, 197–200
 - critical, effect of bifurcation, 162–163
 - critical legal, 194
 - criticism of, 8–9, 195–196
 - decreasing utility, 131–132
 - doctrinal, 82
 - empirical, 145–146
 - encouraged by tenure system, 178–179
 - existential crisis, 193
 - faculty members, PhD, JD, 146–147
 - focus on appellate opinions, 131–132
 - focus on conflicting interpretations, 131–132
 - Georgetown Law Center, 197–200
 - goals of, 202–203
 - ignores many aspects, 131–132
 - impact, law development, 197
 - interdisciplinary, 82
 - interdisciplinary, displacement of traditional, 163–165
 - justice, 59–60
 - justice, academic environment, 179
 - legal historians, 139–141
 - legal philosophy, 139–141
 - legislative aspect of law, 179–180
 - libertarian direction, 116–117
 - a more just society, 205
 - non-appellate sources of law, 141–143
 - nontraditional, 131–132
 - normative, 82, 145–146, 204–205
 - originalist, 200–201
 - policy analysis, 167–168
 - potential of, 203–204
 - selection process, 196
 - shift in purpose of, 146–147
 - stand your ground law, 118
 - state of, 41–42
 - substantive merits of law, 59–60
 - sui generis, 158–159
 - tenure and hiring decisions, 146–147
 - tenure pressure, 196
 - textualist, 200–201
 - traditional, strengths of, 157–159
 - trendiness, 194, 195
 - truth, justice, 206–207
 - value in all forms of, 171
 - legal system, justice, 214–215
 - legal theory, 160–162
 - legal value, markers of, 84
 - legal writing, 152
 - legalism
 - criticisms of, 64–66
 - justice, inquiry, 64–66
 - justice of, 165–166
 - law graduates, 55
 - moral values, 55–56
 - panglossian contentment., 165–166
 - virtues of, 67
 - legislation, 33–34
 - directed by Constitution, 121
 - formalists, lack of focus on, 105
 - injustice, 126
 - realists, lack of focus on, 105
 - legislative
 - aides, 186
 - assemblies, 32–33
 - caps, tort law, 205–206
 - committees, 199–200
 - enactment, 32–33, 129
 - encroachments, unjust, 70–72
 - excess, 109–110
 - initiatives, inefficient, 114–115
 - law, critiques, 117
 - maneuvering, 93
 - process courses, 189–190
 - processes, 188–189
 - purpose, 124
 - relief, 71
 - solutions, 124–125, 168
 - legislature, impact of judicial review, 108–109
 - legisprudence, 127–128
 - Leiter, Brian, 13–14

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04453-1 - Teaching Law: Justice, Politics, and the Demands of Professionalism

Robin L. West

Index

More information

244

Index

- Lesnick, H., 44–45
 libertarian education, 190–191 libertarianism, 188 liberties, negative, 119 liberty, constitutional interpretation,
 juriscentric, 123
 liberty, juriscentric constitutional interpretation, 123
 litigation, 186
 lobbyists, 94, 95
- MacKinnon, Catherine, 201–202
 Married Women's Property Act, 65
 Marx, Karl, 91–92
 maximization of wealth, 84–85
 Melville, Herman, 205–206
 Mill, John Stuart, 82–84
 Miranda rights, 125–126
Miranda v. Arizona, 112–113 mission, law school, 137, 167–168
 model
 academic, 148
 bifurcated, 210–211
 business, 17–18, 211–212
 common law, 168
 financial, 174
 interdisciplinary-clinical faculty, 157–159
 Langdellian, 150–151, 181–182
 low cost trade school, 180 practice, 148
 traditional, 172–173
 Model Penal Code, 189–190 moral inculcation, law students, 54–55 moral philosophical, political debate, 87–88 moral relativism, 46–48
 moral sensibility, 69
 social justice, 46
 morality, internal, 69–70
 Morrissey, Daniel, 45
 movements
 critical legal scholarship, 194, 195 critical legal studies, 44–45, 164 current reform, 22–23
 interdisciplinary, 160
 jurisprudential, 73–75 law school reform, 11–12
 natural law, 105
 progressive legal studies, 44–45 secular natural law, 105 tort reform, 96–97, 141–142
 Mulcahey, Donald, 45
- National Rifle Association, 118 natural law, 70, 75, 105
 negative rights enforcement, 121–122
 liberties and, 119
- New York Times*, 9–11
 Newton, Issac, 80–81
 Nietzsche, Friedrich, 100 normative inquiries, 56–58 normative legal scholarship cost benefit analysis, 87
 goals of, 202–203
 judicial opinions, 203–204
 justice, 82–84
 legal argumentation, 85–86
 legal principles, 87
 legislative law, 117
 Nozick, Robert, 81–82
 Nozickian conception of justice, 86–87
 Nussbaum, Martha, 81–82, 84, 86–87
- objectivity, 106, 158–159
 Occupational Safety and Health Act, 93–94
Of Law and Letters, 76–77
 Okin, Susan, 81–82, 91–92 origins of law, 27
 Orkin, 81–82
 outsourcing, 1–2
- The Paper Chase*, 50–51, 56
 path dependency, 30–31
 Perry, Imani, 91–92
 philosophy, 26, 38, 58–59, 60, 76–77, 132–133, 178–179
 philosophy, legal, 139–141
 Plato, 26, 91–92
 plea agreements, 141–143
Plessy v. Ferguson, 112–113 policy analysis, legal, 167–168 political philosophy, justice, 87 politics
 creation of law, 93–94 dangers, creation of law, 94–95 legislative branch, new law, 95 positive law, 94–95
 positive law, 67, 69–70, 200–201
 positive morality, 68–69, 70 positive rights, enforcement, 121–122 positivism, 55
 Posner, Richard A., 84–85
 Pound, Roscoe, 99 practice readiness, 191–192
 practicums, 156–157, 172
 pre-formalist tradition, justice, 77–78
 principles
 antidiscrimination, 51
 common law, 183
 equity, 62
 fault and injury, tort law, 99
 international law, 192–193
 judicial opinion, legal, 195
 Langdellian scholars, 183

- legal, 68–69, 102, 148–149, 153
- moral, 69
- moral, Dworkinian, 68–69
- moral, inferred from law, 69
- nondiscrimination, 112
- normative, 149–150
- property, abstract, 166–167
- scholarship, 25
- traditional contract, 129
- private law, 188–189
 - justice, 61–63
- privatization of justice, effect of, 63–64
- procedural fairness, moral dimension, 56–57
- procedural values, 49
- professional judgment, 15–16
- professionalism
 - complaint overstated, 138–139
 - ethical, 39
 - externships, 169
 - idealized conception, 181–182
 - legal, 39
 - legal academy, disdain for, 39
 - nonclinical law school faculty, 152
 - pluralist, united faculty, 169–170
 - preparation of graduates, 7–8
 - professional identity, 208
 - response to critique, 14–15
- professionalism crisis, 16–17, 20, 176–177
 - experiential learning, 176–177
 - media opinion, 9–11
 - qualitative changes, 211
- protection of law, 118, 119–121, 122–123
- public policy institutes, 129–130
- public service, 43–44, 46–47

- rational choice, 200–201
- Rawls, John, 81–82, 91–92
- Rawlsian conception of justice, 86–87
- realism
 - adjudication, 103–104
 - appellate courts, 105
 - concept of justice, 31–32
 - criticisms of formalism, 30–31
 - cultural authority, 79
 - formalism, common ground, 29–30
 - humanities, 80
 - influence of, 75
 - judges, agents of change, 104–105
 - juriscentricity, 101–102
 - law, force for change, 103–104
 - law, role of judge, 33
 - marginalized justice, 79–80
 - rise of, 164
 - social sciences, 80
- Reconstruction Amendments, 119
- reform
 - addressing existential problems, 211–212
 - ethics, transparency, 212–214
 - feasibility of, 208
 - focus on justice, 89–90
 - future of legal system, 214–215
 - identitarian problems, 40
 - importance of unified faculty, 210–211
 - incremental change, 89–90
 - law schools, bifurcation, 13–14
 - law schools, practice of law, 14–15
 - legal argument, 160–161
 - mandatory curriculum, 91–92
 - possibilities for improvement, 210–211
 - the professional lawyer, 212
 - two-year degree, 11–12
- reform proposals, 41
- rights
 - Bill of Rights, 119
 - Civil Rights Acts, 189–190
 - Miranda rights, 125–126
 - negative rights, 119
 - police force, 118
 - reproductive, 201
- Rule Against Perpetuities, 96–97
- Rule of Law, 205–206

- sabbaticals, 209
- salaries
 - administrative, 175–176
 - frozen, 175
 - relative to tuition, 6
- Sandel, Michael, 86–87
- Scalia, Antonin, 67–68
- Schklar, Judith, 55
- Schlag, Pierre, 194, 203–204
- scholarship. See legal scholarship
 - constitutional, 193–194, 202
- Schulman, Lee S., 14–15
- Sen, Amartya K., 81–82, 86–87, 91–92
- Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, 13–14
- Shakespeare, William, 77, 80–82
- Shepard, Steve, 45
- skills-training, classroom, 144
- Socrates, 46–48
- statutory interpretation, 97–98
- students
 - acculturation, 112–114
 - acculturation to practice, 136–137
 - acquisition of principles, 148–149
 - adjudication, 111
 - amoralism, 48
 - analysis of law, 152
 - clinical offerings, 138–139
 - clinicians, learning from, 154–155
 - clinics, 156–157
 - contemporary understanding of law, 153–154
 - critical acuity, 88–89

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04453-1 - Teaching Law: Justice, Politics, and the Demands of Professionalism

Robin L. West

Index

More information

246

Index

students (cont.)

- debt, 16–17, 46–47, 176
 - electives, 187
 - expanded learning opportunities, 155–156
 - externships, 138–139, 156–157
 - immersion, 148–149
 - improvement of law, 205
 - law, economic aspects, 153
 - law reforms, justice, litigation, 125–126
 - law's foundations, 153
 - law's political origins, 124
 - lawyer, thinking like a, 154–155
 - legal practices, exposure to, 141–143
 - legalism, inquiry, 66
 - legislation, 111
 - legislative branch ignored, 112–114
 - moral agents, 27–28
 - moral discourse, 88–89
 - moral neutrality, conservatism, 45
 - moral values, 44–45
 - non-existent law, problem of, 115–116
 - nuanced understanding of law, 154–155
 - practice of law, opportunity to learn, 155–156
 - professional future, 214–215
 - professional judgment, 136–137
 - professional procedures, 152
 - proper education, Langdell, 148–149
 - role models, 136–137
 - skills training, 141–143
 - social justice, 115–116
 - Sullivan, William M., 14–15
 - Supreme Court, 106–108
- Tamanaha, Brian, 13–14, 20–21, 177–178, 210–211
- Teach Justice* (Shepard), 45
- teaching
- constitutional idealists, skeptics, 200–201
 - constitutionalization of arguments, 117
 - core curriculum, 184

- goals of, 144–145
 - legal scholarship, role of, 201
 - libertarian direction, 116–117
 - originalist, 200
 - professionalism, 180
 - substance of law, 144–145
 - teaching about law vs. teaching law, 147
 - tenure and promotion, rewards, 208–209
 - textualist, 200
 - theoretical materials, live issues, 91–92
 - time allocation, skills-training, 144–145
 - traditional, strengths of, 159–160
 - The Paper Chase* (Bridges), 50–51
 - Theory of Justice* (Rawls), 60
 - traditional law classroom, dialogue, 68–69
 - transparency, 174–175
 - truth
 - commitment to ideal of, 162–163
 - constitutionalism, 54–55
 - transcending contingencies of power, 119
 - virtue of, 178
 - Twain, Mark, 205–206
- Unger, Roberto, 67–68, 165–166, 194, 203–204
- University of Chicago Law School, 13–14, 202
- utilitarianism, 82–84
- values, purpose of law school, 25
- Violence Against Women Act, 93–94, 198–199
- Virginia Military Institute, 197–200
- Walzer, Michael, 86–87
- Washington Post*, 9–11
- Wegner, Judith Welch, 14–15
- welfare, general, 121
- West, Cornell, 91–92
- World Trade Organization, 197–200
- Wu, John, 43
- Yale Law School, 73–75