Contents

Acknowledgments
Abbreviations

Introduction
- Explaining Distinctive Features of U.S. Health Care
- Organization of the Narrative
- State–Society Relations

1
Background: Physicians Choose the Insurance Company Model,
Late Nineteenth Century–1940s
- The Early Years: Physicians Forge a Collective Identity
- The Doctor: Not an Organization Man
- The Governmental Response
- The Insurance Company Model
- Commercial Insurers: Dragged into Health Care
- Medical Societies Launch Blue Shield
- Conclusion

2
Federal Reform Politics: Implanting the Insurance Company Model, 1945–1960
- The Ideological Setting of Soft Corporatism
- Truman’s Pragmatic Reform
- Toward the Consumer Ideal in Health Care
- Informal Authority: Health Care Reform under Eisenhower
  - Prepaid Groups
  - Nonprofit Service Benefits
  - Reinsurance

Page xi
xiv
1
4
5
7
10
11
16
20
25
27
31
34
36
37
39
41
45
50
51
52
55
Contents

Defeating Reform Proposals with the Insurance Company Model | 56
Formal Authority: Employer-Provided Insurance | 59
Internal Revenue Code of 1954 | 60
Federal Employees Health Benefits Program | 62
Conclusion | 64

3  Sclerotic Institution: The Declining Power of Organized Physicians and the AMA

Crafting a National Political Voice | 66
Politics: Style and Methods | 75
Organization in Disarray | 80
Grassroots Discontent | 86
The AMA and the Health Insurance Market | 91
Conclusion | 94

4  Organized for Profit: The Hidden Influence of Insurance Companies and the HIAA

Life Insurers and Political Expediency: The Roots of Health Insurance | 96
Industry Division and Birth of the HIAA | 104
The HIAA and Federal Politics: The Hidden Strategy | 109
The HIAA Organizes the Market | 113
The Cost Dilemma | 119
Conclusion | 121

5  The Conflicted Construction of Blue Shield: Caught between Blue Cross and the AMA

The Complicated Childhood of Blue Shield | 122
Doctors and the Problem of Blue Cross | 124
Selling Blue Shield to Doctors | 125
Blue Shield Attempts to Consolidate | 130
Blue Shield's Competitive and Financial Position | 144
Growing Away from the AMA | 147
Centralizing Blue Shield through Federal Programs | 150
Conclusion | 152

6  Corporate Health Care: From Cost Controls to Medical Decision Making

Explaining Cost Problems | 154
The AMA and Cost Containment | 156
Commercial Insurance Companies and Cost Containment | 160
Blue Cross and Blue Shield and Cost Containment | 164
Doctors: Professional Evolution through the Insurance Company Model | 170
Conclusion | 184

Contents

7 The Politics of Medicare, 1957–1965
   - The Incremental Strategy 194
   - Late 1950s: The Hesitant Opposition 196
   - The Evolving Political Consensus 203
   - 1960 Showdown 207
   - King-Anderson: A “Middle-of-the-Road” Approach 208
   - The AMA’s War on Medicare 211
   - The HIAA Walks the Line 216
   - Blue Cross and Blue Shield Part Ways 220
   - Congressional Battles and the Making of Medicare 223
   - Conclusion 230

8 Epilogue: The Limits of “Comprehensive” Reform, 1965–2010
   - Health Care Reform, 1965–2010 233
     - Private Health Interests amid Crisis 234
     - National Health Insurance 237
     - Legislating Cost Controls 240
     - Managed Care on the Road toward Comprehensive Reform 242
     - Comprehensive Reform and the Health Care System 244

Endnote Abbreviations 247
Notes 249
Index 341