

Contents

Acknowledgments	page ix
Note on the Cover Art: Sleeping Venus (1944) by Paul Delvaux	xiii
PART ONE SHAME'S ALLURE
Introduction: The Mythology of Aidōs	3
1 The Lament That Shame Is Dead	18
PART TWO UNASHAMED CITIZENS
2 "A Socrates Gone Mad": Plato's Lament and the Threat of Cynic Shamelessness	47
3 Rousseau's Pariahs, Rousseau's Laments: Pudeur and the Authentic Ideal in Revolutionary France	73
PART THREE CONTAMINATION AND LAMENTATION
4 Furious Democracy: Nineteenth-Century "Slut Shaming," Indian Removal, and the Ascent of the "Ill-Bred" Man	101
5 Arendt's Lament: The Death of Shame and the Rise of Political Children	134
Conclusion: Is Shame Necessary?	167
Bibliography	177
Index	191