

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

Index

- absentee ballots. See also mail ballots; Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (UOCAVA)
- audits of voter tallies and, 76–78
- civilian absentee ballot rejection percentages, 302
- for disabled voters, 210–218
- Election Administration and Voting Survey data on, 13–14
- Federal Write-In Absentee Ballot, 141–142
- history of, 116, 141–142
- mail ballot research, 32–33, 174–176
- no-excuse requests for, 167–169
- rejection rates, interstate comparisons, 4–5n7, 32–33, 132–134
- traditional absentee voting, 114, 115–121
- transparency and data availability issues in, 274–276
- unreturned ballots, 129–131, 302
- UOCAVA return rate comparisons, 163–164f, 164f, 165f
- usage rates for, 128–129
- validity and reliability of, 4–9
- voter confidence and use of, 256–261
- abstention rates, voting machine performance analysis and, 244–246
- academic survey research, election data using, 18–19
- acceptance rate data
 - mail ballot analysis, 135–137
 - provisional ballots, 94–97, 101–111, 102n10
- accessibility issues
 - convenience vs., 272n1
 - election performance and, 36
 - election security and, 272–273
- accuracy problems, registration list processing and quality control, 61
- active voter definitions, Election Administration and Voting Survey and, 15
- address information
 - accuracy of, in voter registration data, 71f
 - communication with voters using, 69, 70–72
 - incidence of incomplete information, 70–71
 - missing data in, 66–67, 70–72
 - summary index of registration quality and, 82–85
 - undeliverable addresses, 66–67, 71–72
- administration of elections. See also local election administration systems
 - ballot technology and, 172–174
 - campaign practices and, 185–187
 - data transparency and, 271–297
 - disabled voters and, 210–218
 - early voting research and, 174–176
 - future research issues, 137–138
 - impact of mail ballots on, 115f, 121–126
 - mail ballot rejection rates and, 132–134
 - measurement data transparency and, 272–273
 - partisanship of officials, provisional ballot usage and, 100
 - residual vote rate distribution analysis and, 244–246
 - transparency and data availability issues in, 274–276
 - voter confidence metric concerning, 248–270, 260t
- African American voters, voter confidence among, 256–261

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

348

Index

- age levels, disabled voter turnout rates and, 194–201, 196n11
- aggregation rule, state-based election evaluation, 25–30
- Alvarez, R. Michael, 172–176, 240–242
- American Community Survey, disable voter data, 8
- American elections
 - administrative validity and reliability of, 4–9
 - assessment data sources, 9–19
 - myths and misperceptions concerning, 1
 - state-based evaluation, 19–30
 - turnout statistics for, 2
- American National Election Study (ANES), 28
 - voter abstention data and, 244–246
- Ansolabehere, Stephen, 28, 46, 59–60, 61–90, 172–174, 225–228
 - on voter registration, 31
- Atkeson, Lonna Rae, 36, 251–252, 271–297
- audits of vote tallies
 - requirements for, 305
 - state-by-state comparison of, 72–76n1, 76–78
 - voter confidence and, 261t, 262–263
 - voting machine performance and, 228–230
- Australian ballot, 15–18
- ballots. See also absentee ballots; counted ballot/counted voter discrepancies; mail ballots; provisional ballots; rejected ballots
 - blank ballots, 236n9
 - residual vote rate and counting of, 224–225
 - technology innovation, historical evolution of, 230–234
 - transit problems, UOCAVA ballots, 142–148
 - turnout measurement and counting of, 43–45, 49
- barriers to voting
 - for disabled voters, 190–193, 205–210
 - socioeconomic barriers for disabled voters, 205–210
 - UOCAVA participation, 142–148
 - voter registration list barriers, 61–62
- Being online is Not Enough: State Elections Websites 2000*8 (BONE I), 287–288, 295–296
- Being online is Still Not Enough: Reviews and Recommendations for State Elections Websites 2010* (BONE II), 287–288, 295–296
- Berinsky, Adam J., 167–169
- biased data processing
 - disabled voters data, 194n9, 205–210
 - registration list quality and, 63–65
- birthdate coverage
 - factor analysis of, 85–88
 - missing data in, 67
 - voter authentication, state-by-state comparisons, 72–75, 74f
- birthdate distribution
 - missing data in, 67
 - voter authentication, state-by-state coverage, 72–75, 75f
- bivariate analysis. See also multivariate analysis; statistical analysis
 - disabled voter turnout, 194–201
 - polling place operations research, 183–185
- blank ballots, residual vote rate and, 236n9
- bottom-up data management, voter registration and turnout measurement and, 56–59
- “Building Confidence in U.S. Elections,” 248
- Burden, Barry C., on registration and turnout, 30–31
- Bush v. Gore*, voting machine technology as issue in, 230–234
- Caltech/MIT Voting Technology Project, 91, 224–225
- campaign practices, early voting impact on, 185–187
- Carter, Jimmy, 10n11
- Catalist LLC
 - data gathering methods, 63–65
 - voter registration data, 31, 48, 62–63
- Census Bureau. See also Current Population Survey (CPS)
 - disabled voters data, 193–194
 - disable voter data, 188n1, 193n6
 - Voter and Registration Survey, 122
 - voter registration list accuracy and, 61–62
 - Voting Age Population (VAP) estimate, 43–45
- centralization of voting places
 - distance issues with, 174n6
 - polling location difficulties and, 180–183
 - research hypotheses concerning, 174–176
 - turnout rates and, 169–172
 - voter satisfaction with, 185–187
 - wait times for voting and, 177–180
- churches as polling places
 - early voting turnout at, 169–172
 - location difficulties with, 180–183

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

Index

349

- Citizen Voting Age Population (CVAP), 45n5
- civilian overseas voting data, 144n6
 - civilian absentee ballot rejection percentages, 302
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 absentee ballots, 277–279
- Coding Accuracy Support System (CASS), 67
- commercial election data vendors, voter registration list quality and, 63–65
- commercial survey research, election data using, 18–19
- competitiveness of campaigns
 - “fall-off” in turnout rates and, 56–59
 - voter registration and turnout correlation with, 53–56
- completeness of election data
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall completeness by section, 279–283, 282t
 - EVAS rates for, 305
 - state-based assessment, 284–285f, 285f
 - voters online searches and, 288–290
- confirmatory factor analysis, state-based election evaluation, 28
- contestation vs. participation principle (Dahl), 21
- convenience in voting
 - accessibility issues vs., 272n1
 - turnout rates and, 169–172
 - voter confidence and, 263–266
 - voter satisfaction and, 170n5, 185–187
- Cooperative Congressional Election Study (CCES)
 - voter abstention data and, 244–246
 - voter confidence data in, 256n11, 256–261
- correlation coefficients, voter data cross-checking analysis, 85–88
- cost analysis of elections, centralization of polling operations and, 185–187
- counted ballot/counted voter discrepancies. See also recount problems, voting machine performance and provisional ballots and problems with, 97–100
 - state-by-state comparisons, 76–79, 77f
 - voter confidence and, 251
- county election administration
 - residual vote rate analysis and, 244–246
 - voter registration and turnout rate variations, 49–52
- Crawford v. Marion County*, 248–250
- cross-sectional regression
 - heterogeneity in voting machines and performance analysis using, 234–238
 - voter registration and turnout measurement, 56n20
- current list maintenance, state-by-state comparisons, 78–82
- Current Population Survey (CPS), 10
 - early voting data, 167–169
 - quality measurement of, 85–88
 - voter registration measurements, 40–41, 45–49
- Dahl, Robert, 21
- database cross-checking systems, 85–88, 301
- data sources for American elections, 9–19
 - academic and commercial survey research, 18–19
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 elections, 277–282, 278t
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall completeness of EAVS data by section, 279–283, 282t
 - disabled voter data, 193–194
 - EAC quantitative data, assessment of, 276–277
 - Election Administration and Voting Survey, 12–15
 - list processing and quality control and, 63–65
 - mail ballot data shortage, 121–126
 - new index measures, analysis of, 85–88
 - Pew database cross-checking system, 85–88
 - quality indicators, 66–69
 - stakeholder transparency and data availability, 274–276
 - state and local election boards, 15–18
 - transparency of, 271–297
 - UOCAVA data sources, 150–152
 - voter’s perceptions of transparency in, 287–288
 - Voting and Registration Supplement, 9–19
- deadwood
 - current list maintenance and, 78–82, 84f
 - factor analysis of, 85–88
 - obsolete voter data, 68
 - summary index of registration quality and, 82–85
 - voter registration lists, 301

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

350

Index

- deceased voters
 - current list maintenance and, 78–82, 79f
 - data quality for, 67
 - factor analysis of, 85–88
- decentralized election administration,
 - registration list processing and quality control, 61–90
- democracy
 - state-based election evaluation, 25–30
 - voter confidence and, 248–250
- demographic data
 - disabled voter turnout rates and, 194–201
 - provisional ballot research and, 100
 - voter confidence and role of, 256–261
 - voter registration and turnout measurement and, 53–59
- direct barriers for disabled voters, 205–210
- direct recording electronic voting machines (DREs), 172–174
 - heterogeneity in, 234–238
 - historical evolution of, 230–234
 - residual vote rates and performance of, 242–244
 - residual vote rates using, 243f
 - statistical analysis of residual vote rate and, 238–240
- disabled voters
 - barriers to voting for, 190–193
 - current and future research issues for, 221–222
 - data concerning, 11, 11n12
 - election performance measurements and, 205–210
 - election policies and practices concerning, 34, 210–218
 - non-voting by, reasons for, 201–205
 - non-voting percentages of, 304
 - statistics on, 188
 - theory and research sources on, 190–193
 - turnout rates for, 194–201
- discrimination
 - of disabled voters, 190–193, 205–210
 - racial identity, voter confidence and, 256–261, 256t
- disenfranchisement of voters, provisional ballots as protection against, 92–94
- Doherty, David, 82–85
- down-ballot races, audits of voter tallies and, 76–78
- Dunaway, Johanna, 185–187
- Eagleton-Moritz analysis, provisional ballot usage and acceptance, 101–111
- early voting
 - disabled voter access and, 210–221
 - Election Administration and Voting Survey data on, 15
 - historical evolution of, 41–43
 - increased use of, 167–169
 - location and setting of, 169–172
 - polling place operations research concerning, 183–185
 - as positive voting experience, 166–167
 - research on, 33–34, 174–176
 - residual vote rates and, 242–244
 - turnout and registration measurement and, 56–59
 - voter confidence analysis and, 263–266
 - voter registration during, 53–56
 - voter satisfaction with, 185–187
 - waiting times for, 177–180
- educational levels
 - disabled voter turnout rates and, 194–201, 205–210
 - turnout rates and, 7–9
- Election Administration and Voting Survey (EAVS)
 - accessibility and transparency issues and, 36
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 elections, 277–282, 278t
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 elections and, 101–111
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall completeness of data by section, 279–283, 282t
 - data completeness rates, 305
 - data transparency issues, 271–272
 - disabled voters data, 189, 193–194
 - election assessments using, 12–15
 - mail ballot data, 114, 121–126, 128–129
 - provisional ballot research and, 32, 98–99
 - quality measurement of, 85–88
 - rejected mail ballot data, 132–134
 - transparency and data availability issues in, 274–276
 - UOCAVA voter data, 151
 - voting system choice and mail ballot use, 128–129
- “Election Administration by the Numbers: An Analysis of Available Datasets and How to Use Them” (Pew), 12–15, 277–279

- Election Assistance Commission (EAC). see U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC)
- Election Day Registration (EDR)
 - assessment of, 40
 - for disabled voters, 210–218
 - HAVA provisions concerning, 97n4
 - measurement issues with, 43–45, 56–59
 - provisional ballots and, 97–100
 - purging requisites and, 78–82
 - turnout rates and, 53–56
 - wait times for voting and, 177–180
- Election Day vote centers (EDVCs)
 - distance issues with, 174n6
 - early voting turnout at, 169–172
 - location difficulties with, 180–183
 - polling place operations research concerning, 183–185
 - voter satisfaction with, 174–176
 - waiting times for, 177–180
- Election Initiatives project, 22–25
- election laws, turnout rates and, 53–56, 56f
- election machines. see voting machines
- election officials. see administration of elections; local election administration systems
- Election Performance Index (EPI), 22–25, 23n22
 - analysis of, 85–88
 - indicators in, 299–305
- election results. see also audits of vote tallies; counted ballot/counted voter discrepancies
 - comparison of provisional ballots of 2010 and 2012 elections, 101–111
 - election data using, 17–18
 - residual vote rate and, 224–225
 - turnout measurement and, 43–45, 49
 - voter registration list quality and, 65–69
 - vote tally audits, state-by-state comparisons, 76–78
- election-specific mail ballots, 114, 115–121
- Election Systems and Software (ES&S), 230–234
 - Votronic DRE system, 242–244
- Electronic Registration Information Center (ERIC) initiative, 59–60
- electronic voting machines, 172–174, 230–234
- eligible voting population
 - as percentage of registered voters, 300
 - turnout as percentage of, 300
- employment barriers, disabled voter discrimination and, 205–210
- factor analysis, quality measurements of voter data and, 85–88
- fail-safe election measures
 - degrees of provisional ballot use and, 94–97
 - provisional ballots as, 32, 92–94
- “fall-off” in turnout rates, state variations in, 56–59
- federal elections
 - mail ballot data for, 121–126
 - provisional ballot use in, 103t
 - residual vote rate in, 225f
 - statistical analysis of technology and residual vote rate in, 238–240
 - transparency and data availability issues in, 274–276
 - UOCAVA voting and, 141–142
 - voting machine technology and, 233
- Federal Postcard Application, 141–142
- Federal Voting Assistance Program (FVAP)
 - surveys, 150–151
 - UOCAVA voting participation barriers, 142–148
- Federal Write-in Absentee Ballot (FWAB), 150–151
 - returned ballot data, 152
- FIPS codes, disabled voters data and, 193–194
- first time voters, polling place location difficulties for, 180–183, 183t
- “flipped” votes, residual vote rates and analysis of, 242–244
- Foley, Edward B., 95, 97–100, 101–111
- “for cause” absentee voting. See also no excuse voting
 - for disabled voters, 210–218
 - disabled voters data for, 189, 210–218
 - in-person early voting, 167–169
 - mail ballots and, 120
 - traditional absentee voting and, 114, 115–121
 - voting technology and residual voting rate and, 240–242
- Fulton County, Georgia, vote counting controversy in, 12–15
- “gatekeeping” decisions, disabled voter barriers and, 190–193
- geographic area
 - polling location difficulties and, 180–183
 - residual vote rate distribution and, 225–228
 - voter confidence variation by, 256–261

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

352

Index

- Gerber, Alan, 82–85
- Gerken, Heather K., 25–30
- get-out-the-vote (GOTV) efforts, voter registration and turnout correlation with, 53–56
- Google search phrases, online search assessment and analysis of, 288–290, 289t, 290t
- Government Accountability Office, disabled voter accessibility data, 190–193, 192n3
- Gronke, Paul, 35–36, 248–270
- Hall, Thad, 33, 114, 141–165, 172–176, 240–242, 250–252
- Hammer, Michael J., 32, 91–112
- Hart InterCivic voting machines, 230–234
- hearing-impaired voters, turnout rates for, 194–201
- Help America Vote Act (HAVA)
- ballot technology and, 172–174
 - disabled voter accessibility requirements, 190–193
 - disabled voters and, 34, 189
 - Election Day Registration provisions, 97n4
 - identification requirements in, 93n3
 - impact of, 41–43
 - impact on state provisional ballot procedures, 98–99
 - passage of, 62
 - provisional ballot research and, 32, 92–94, 97–100, 101–111
 - provisional ballots and, 91
 - stakeholder transparency and data availability expansion under, 274–276
 - Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act ballots and, 33
 - UOCAVA data evaluation, 152–163
 - voter confidence and impact of, 251
 - voting machine technology and, 230–234, 242–244
- Hernson, Paul S., 32, 91–112
- Hersh, Eitan, 31, 46, 59–60, 61–90
- heterogeneity in voting machines, performance assessment and, 234–238
- Hollerith card, punch card voting machines and, 230–234
- homogeneity in technology, residual vote rate and, 234–238
- human-machine interaction analysis, voting machine performance and, 228–230
- identification requirements
- HAVA vs. state requirements, 93n3
 - limitations as quality indicator, 272–273
 - list data quality and, 65–69
 - voter authentication, state-by-state comparisons, 72–75
 - voter confidence and, 248–252, 254–255, 262–263
 - voter fraud arguments for, 267–268
- income level, as disabled voter barrier, 205–210
- Indiana, election performance evaluation in, 22–25
- indirect barriers for disabled voters, 205–210
- individual-level data, mail voting research and, 137–138
- inequality issues, turnout measurement and, 59–60
- infrequent voters
- purging of voter data and, 69–70
 - research hypotheses concerning, 174–176, 185–187
- in-person voting
- absence of rejection measurements for, 126
 - early voting data, 167–168n3, 169–172, 174–176
 - residual vote rates and, 242–244
 - unreturned mail-ballot measurement vs., 125
 - voter confidence and role of, 254–255
 - waiting times for, 177–180
- intellectual disabilities, voting
- disqualification based on, 190–193
- invalid address data, factor analysis of, 85–88
- isolation problems, for disabled voters, 190–193
- Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA)*, 6–7
- justification bias, in disabled voters data, 194n9, 205–210
- Kimball, David, 101–111
- Kolmogorov-Smirnov test of differences
- state-level mail ballot data, 129n13, 130n14
 - unreturned mail ballots, 129n12
- Kruse, Douglas, 11, 34, 188–222
- least square regression, voter confidence analysis, 261–262
- “leaves on a tree” measurement technique, 21
- legislative policies, state mail ballot systems and, 115–121

- lever voting machines, historical evolution of, 230–234
- lines at polling places. See waiting times to vote
- list processing and quality control
 - audits of vote tallies, 72–76n1, 76–78
 - currency of list, maintenance for, 78–82
 - data characteristics and, 63–65
 - deadwood percentages and, 301
 - new index measures, analysis of, 85–88
 - precinct assignment of voters and mail communication, 70–72
 - state-by-state analysis of, 69–82
 - summary index of registration quality, 69–88t
 - voter identification at polling places, 72–75
 - voter registration and, 31, 61–90
- litigation risk, provisional ballot usage and acceptance and, 94–97
- local election administration systems. See also administration of elections; polling place practices
 - barriers to UOCAVA and, 142–148
 - as data source, 15–18
 - mail ballot rejection or acceptance by, 125
 - provisional ballot usage and, 100
 - quantitative transparency evaluation, 286–287
 - residual vote rate analysis and, 244–246
 - stakeholder transparency and data availability issues, 274–276
 - UOCAVA voting data and, 150–151, 154f
 - voter confidence and, 254–255, 255n10, 263–266, 264f
 - voting machine distribution and, 233
 - voting technology and residual vote rate and, 240–242
- locations for voting
 - data concerning early voting, 169–172
 - difficulties for voters in finding, 180–183, 182f, 183t
 - disabled voter accessibility and, 210–218
 - online voter information about, 290–292
 - percentage of successful voter searches for, 304
- logit regression
 - disabled voter turnout rates, 194–201
 - polling place operations research, 183–185, 183t
- longitudinal analysis, heterogeneity in voting machines and, 234–238
- loser's regret
 - voter confidence and, 254–255, 256–261, 267f
 - voter fraud perceptions and, 267–268
- lower bound in residual vote rate, voting machine performance analysis and, 244–246
- mailability prediction, address accuracy and, 71–72
- mail ballots. See also absentee ballots; permanent vote-by-mail systems
 - disabled voters and, 190–193, 194–201, 210–221
 - early vote using, 167–169, 174–176
 - election-specific ballots, 114, 115–121
 - future research issues, 137–138
 - impact on outcomes, 121–126
 - increased use and acceptance of, 113–114, 127f
 - permanent vote-by-mail, 114, 115–121
 - policy choice and administrative challenges in, 32–33, 113–140
 - postal voting systems, 114, 115–121
 - registration lists as tool for, 69–70
 - requests for, 135–137
 - systems of, 115–121, 115t
 - unsigned ballots, statistics on, 135–133f
 - voter confidence in, 254–255, 256–261, 263–266
 - voter registration rates and, 53–56
 - voter satisfaction with, 174–176
 - voting system choice and usage data, 128–129
- mail communication with voters, address list accuracy and, 69, 70–72
- maintenance of voter rolls
 - current list maintenance, state-by-state comparisons, 78–82, 80f
 - provisional ballot use and, 95–96
- Mann, Christopher B., 32–33, 113–140, 193–194
- marginal voters, polling place operations research concerning, 183–185
- Martinez, Ray, 248–250
- McDonald, Michael, 43–45, 49
- measurement techniques
 - data transparency problems, 272–273
 - errors in, data quality assessment and, 85–88
 - voter registration and turnout assessments, 45–49

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

354

Index

- media coverage of elections
 - early voting impact on, 185–187
 - voter confidence metric and, 248
- Medicare, quality of care for recipients
 - of, 6–7
- midterm elections
 - disabled voter turnout for, 218–221
 - provisional ballot usage and acceptance
 - in, 101–111
 - residual vote rates in, 224n1
- Military and Overseas Voting
 - Enfranchisement (MOVE) Act
 - ballot transit issues and, 142–148
 - compliance data on, 144n7
 - data evaluation, 152–163
 - history of, 141–142
 - Uniformed and Overseas Citizens
 - Absentee Voting Act ballots and, 33
 - military voter profiles, UOCAVA categories, 142–148
- Minnesota, election performance evaluation
 - in, 22–25, 25n23
- minority voter turnout
 - measurement of, 59–60
 - provisional ballot usage and, 100
 - voter confidence and, 256–261, 256t
- missing data
 - address information, 66–67
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall
 - completeness of EAVS data by section, 279–283, 282t
 - election performance evaluation
 - and, 22–25
- mobile voting centers, early voting turnout
 - at, 169–172
- mobility problems, for disabled voters, 190–193
- “motor voter” legislation, 40.
 - See also* National Voter Registration Act (NVRA)
 - impact of, 41–43
- multivariate analysis
 - voter confidence, 261–262, 269–270
 - voter registration and turnout
 - correlation, 53–56
- Munck, Geraldo, 21
- National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS), 2
- National Change of Address (NCOA)
 - database, 63–65
 - data cross-checking using, 85–88
- National Voter Registration Act (NVRA), 274–276
 - Election Administration and Voting Survey, 12–15
 - impact of, 41–43
 - purging guidelines, 69–70, 78–82
 - voter registration measurements
 - and, 45–49
- no excuse voting. See also “for cause”
 - absentee voting
 - disabled voters data for, 189, 210–218
 - in-person early voting, 167–169
 - mail ballots and, 120
 - voter confidence analysis and, 263–266
- non-voters
 - disabled voters as, 194–218, 304
 - motivations of, 272–273
 - percentage of registration problems for, 301
 - polling place operations research
 - concerning, 183–185, 183t, 304
- obsolete voter data
 - audits of vote tallies and purging of, 76–78
 - current list maintenance and, 78–82, 80f
 - deadwood, 68
- online information sources
 - qualitative assessment of state websites, 292–297
 - usability assessment of state websites, 292–297, 294t
 - usability of state election web sites, 305
 - voter-focused evaluation of, 295–296
 - voter information, assessment of, 290–294, 291t, 292t
 - voter satisfaction with, 292–297, 294t
 - voter’s online searches, transparency in, 288–290
 - voter’s perceptions of transparency in, 287–288
 - voting accessibility and transparency
 - issues, 36
- online voter registration
 - disabled voters, 210n14, 210–221
 - historical evolution of, 41–43
- openness of polling places
 - operations research concerning, 183–185
 - polling location difficulties and, 180–183
 - research hypothesis concerning, 174–176
 - turnout rates and, 169–172
 - voter satisfaction and, 185–187
 - wait times for voting and, 177–180
- optical scanning technology

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

Index

355

- for disabled voters, 210–218
- historical evolution of, 230–234
- performance measurement of, 228–230
- single-state technology and residual voting rate analysis, 240–242
- statistical analysis of residual vote rate and, 238–240
- voting process and, 172–174
- ordered probit analysis, voter confidence, 261
- over votes. See also under votes
 - ballot technology and occurrence of, 172–174
 - blank ballots and, 236n9
- paper ballots
 - single-state analysis of residual voting rates with, 236f
 - technological innovations in, 230–234
 - voter satisfaction and confidence and, 172–174
 - voting machine heterogeneity and, 234–238
- partisanship
 - operations research concerning, 183–185
 - provisional ballot usage and, 100
 - voter confidence and, 254–255
- percentage of the range, state-based election evaluation, 27–28
- percentile approach, election performance evaluation, 22–25
- performance measurements for elections
 - alternatives to residual vote rate, 228–230
 - common themes in, 37–39
 - data transparency problems, 272–273
 - disabled voter policies, 210–218
 - election administration, 7–9
 - election machines, 223–247
 - of elections, disabled voters' impact on, 205–210
 - heterogeneity in voting machines and, 234–238
 - indicators of, 299–305
 - methodology overview, 19–30
 - provisional ballot usage and acceptance, 92
 - residual vote rate and voting machine performance, 224–238, 242–244
 - state-based election evaluation, 19–30
 - Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, 141–165
 - validity and reliability testing, 4–9
 - values for performance indicators table, 306–319
 - voter confidence metric, 35–36, 248–270
 - voter registration and turnout rates, 43–45
 - permanent vote-by-mail systems, 114, 115–121.
 - See also* mail ballots
 - for disabled voters, 210–221
 - increased use of, 167–169
 - unreturned mail ballots in, 129–131
 - usage rates for, 128–129
 - voter confidence analysis and, 263–266
 - voter satisfaction with, 174–176
 - Pettigrew, Stephen, 122
 - Pew Center on the States, 22–25
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 elections, 277–279
 - new index measurements from, 85–88
 - summary index of registration quality and, 82–85
 - policy choices
 - disabled voter policies, 190–193, 210–218
 - mail-ballot impacts on, 139
 - mail ballot rejection rates and, 132–134
 - statistical data on, 1–2
 - voter confidence metric and, 248–250
 - political recruitment, for disabled voters, 190–193
 - political values, election administration measurements and, 272
 - polling place practices. See also local election administration systems; precincts
 - campaign practices and media coverage impact on, 185–187
 - current research on, 33–34, 174–176
 - disabled voter accessibility and, 190–193, 210–218
 - disabled voter turnout rates and, 194–201
 - Election Administration and Voting Survey, 12–15
 - location and administration, research hypotheses concerning, 174–176
 - location difficulties for voters, 180–183, 182f, 183t, 183t, 304
 - non-voter percentages due to, 304
 - online information sources, 41–43, 290–292
 - operations research concerning, 174–176, 183–185, 183t
 - partisanship and provisional ballot usage, 100
 - registration lists as tool for, 69–70
 - state-by-state ratings of, 184f
 - voter authentication, 65–69

- polling place practices (cont.)
 - voter confidence and, 250–252, 254–255, 256–261, 265f, 266f, 267f
 - voter fraud perceptions and, 267–268
 - voter identification, state-by-state
 - comparisons, 72–75
 - voter satisfaction research and, 174–176
 - voting experience and, 166–187
 - voting location changes and, 169–172
 - voting machine performance
 - measurement and, 228–230
 - wait times for voting and, 177–180
- Pollster.com, voter registration and turnout
 - estimates by, 53–56
- population size, UOCAVA voter population, 148–149
- postal voting systems, 114, 115–121
 - disabled voters data, 189
 - rejection rates, interstate comparisons, 132–134
 - unreturned mail ballots in, 129–131
 - usage rates for, 128–129
- Post Office database, 63–65
- post-registration policies, voter registration and turnout and, 59–60
- precincts. See also local election
 - administration systems; polling place practices
 - consolidation of, impact on turnout, 169–172
 - disabled voter access in, 210–218
 - mapping of voters to, 65–69
 - stakeholder transparency and data
 - availability issues in, 274–276
 - voter assignment to, 70–72
 - wait times for voting and number of, 177–180
- pre-Election Day voting. See early voting
- Premier Data Systems, 230–234
- presidential elections
 - lower bound to residual vote rates in, 244–246
 - provisional ballot usage and acceptance in, 101–111
 - residual vote rates in, 224–238
- principal components analysis, quality
 - measurements of voter data and, 85–88
- privacy issues, birthdate coverage and voter authentication, 72–75
- private homes as polling places, voter
 - difficulty with, 180–183
- prospective voters, polling place operations
 - research concerning, 183–185
- provisional ballots
 - acceptance and usage measurement and interpretation, 94–97
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 data, 277–279
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 usage and acceptance rates, 101–111
 - current research on, 32
 - Election Administration and Voting
 - Survey data on, 12–15
 - in federal elections, 103t
 - historical context for, 92–94
 - registration lists and, 69
 - rejection percentages for, 302
 - research history concerning, 97–100
 - state-by-state comparisons of, 98–99, 102f, 104f, 106–109f, 107f, 108f, 109f
 - substantive vs. procedural view of, 97–100
 - transparency and data availability issues
 - with, 274–276
 - turnout percentages for, 302
 - usage and acceptance analysis, 91–112
- psychological factors
 - for disabled voters, 190–193
 - disabled voters' reasons for not voting, 201–205
- psychometrics, validity and reliability
 - testing, 4–9
- punch card voting machines
 - heterogeneity in analysis of, 234–238
 - historical evolution of, 230–234
 - performance of, 223–224
 - residual vote rate and, 225–228
 - single-state analysis of residual voting rates
 - with, 236f
- purging of voter data
 - audits of voter tallies and, 76–78
 - requisites for, 78–82
 - vote history as basis for, 69–70
- quality indicators
 - definitions in EPI for, 300–306
 - EAC transparency assessment, 287
 - election administration measurements, 272–273, 299–305
 - future research issues, 89–90
 - for list data, 66–69
 - new index measures, analysis of, 85–88
 - qualitative assessment of state websites, 292–297

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

Index

357

- summary index of registration quality, 69–88t
- values for performance indicators table, 306–319
- voter-focused evaluation of, 295–296
- voter registration list management, 62–69
- quantitative data assessment
 - election data, 276–277
 - transparency evaluation, 286–287
- racial identity, voter confidence and role of, 256–261, 256t. See also minority voter turnout
- recount problems, voting machine
 - performance and, 223–224
- registration date accuracy
 - factor analysis of, 82–83f, 83f, 85–88
 - purging requisites and, 78–82
- regression analysis
 - polling location difficulties, 180–183, 183t
 - polling place operations data, 183–185, 183t
 - turnout rates, 157
 - UOCAVA ballot data, 159t, 160t
 - voter confidence, 261–262
 - voting machine technology and residual vote rate, 238–240
 - wait times for voting, 177–180
- rejection rates
 - absentee ballots, 4–5n7, 32–33
 - civilian absentee ballots, 302
 - mail ballot data, 121–126, 132–135, 133f, 134f
 - provisional ballots, 302
 - UOCAVA ballots, 152–163, 157t, 158t, 162f, 165f, 303
 - voter applications, 85–88
- reliability
 - of American election administration, 4–9
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall completeness of EAVS data, 279–283, 282t
 - of disabled voters data, 205–210
 - mail ballot measurement, 135–137
 - turnout rate measurement, 49
 - voter registration measurements, 45–49
- repeat voters, polling location difficulties for, 180–183, 183t
- Report on 2008 Early and Absentee Voting Dataset* (Cemenska), 174–176
- request data, mail ballot analysis, 135–137
- residual vote rate
 - alternatives to, 228–230
 - blank ballots and, 236n9
 - calculation of, 304
 - decline in U.S. of, 223–247
 - derivation of, 224–225
 - disabled voters, 190–193
 - distribution across time and space, 225–228
 - election data using, 15–18
 - future research issues and recommendations concerning, 246–247
 - lower bound in, 244–246
 - mail ballot analysis, 135–137
 - in national elections, 225f
 - paper vs. electronic balloting, 172–174
 - research on, 34–35
 - single-state analysis of voting technology and, 236f, 240–242, 245f
 - state-based election evaluation, 225–228, 226n3
 - statistical analysis of voting technology and, 238–246
 - turnout measurement and, 43–45
 - voter confidence analysis and, 263–266
 - voting machine heterogeneity and, 234–238
 - voting machine performance and, 224–238, 239t, 242–244
- resource limitations, for disabled voters, 190–193
- returned ballot data, UOCAVA voting, 152, 158t, 161f, 163–164f, 164f
- “risk-adjusted turnout” data, limitations of, 7–9
- Rodden, Jonathan, 28
- Rosenstone, Steven, 11
- same day registration (SDR)
 - for disabled voters, 210–218
 - turnout rates and, 53–59
- sample size, data quality assessment and, 85–88
- scaling techniques
 - Cronbach’s alpha and, 28–29n25
 - state-based election evaluation, 28–29
- scatterplots, voter registration data, 45–49, 53f
- school-based polling places
 - early voting turnout at, 169–172
 - location difficulties with, 170n4, 180–183
- Schur, Lisa, 11, 34, 188–222
- search costs, voting location changes and, 169–172

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

358

Index

- search phrase index, voters online search
 - correlation with, 288–290
- Secure Electronic Registration and Voting Experiment (SERVE), UOCAVA
 - population size, 148–149
- security management, voter accessibility and, 272–273
- shopping centers polling places
 - early voting turnout at, 169–172
 - location difficulties with, 180–183
- Snyder, James M., 28
- social science research, voter confidence
 - measurement and, 250–252
- Social Security Death Index, 63–65, 67
- socioeconomic barriers, for disabled voters, 205–210
- Southwell, Priscilla, 167–169
- stakeholder transparency, election data
 - availability and, 274–276
- state-based election administration, 19–30
 - aggregation of data, 25–30
 - authority of election officer, 15
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall
 - completeness of EAVS data on, 279–283, 282t
 - comparison of provisional ballots of 2010 and 2012 elections, 101–111
 - completeness of data on, 284–285f, 285f
 - current list maintenance
 - comparisons, 78–82
 - database cross-checking systems, 85–88, 301
 - as data source, 15–18
 - disabled voter disenfranchisement and, 190–193
 - future research issues concerning, 89–90
 - identification requirements for voters, 65–69, 72–75
 - “leaves on a tree” measurement
 - technique, 21
 - list quality, state-by-state analysis, 69–82
 - mail ballot policies, 114, 115–121, 129n13, 130n14
 - online voter information, assessment of, 288–294, 291t, 292t, 294t, 305
 - polling place operations data, 183–187
 - precinct assignment and mail
 - communication with voters, 70–72
 - provisional ballot policies, 32, 98–99, 102f, 104f, 106–109f, 107f, 108f, 109f, 110t
 - quantitative transparency evaluation, 286–287
 - residual vote rate distribution, 225–228, 226n3, 227f
 - standard deviation in voter turnout, 52f
 - summary index of registration quality, 69–88t
 - transparency and data availability issues, 274–276
 - transparency of, voters’ perceptions
 - concerning, 287–288
 - turnout rate data, 43–45, 49–52, 50f, 56–59
 - two-state comparisons, 22–25, 24t
 - UOCAVA voting data, 142–148
 - voter confidence in, 256–261
 - voter file maintenance issuers, 43–45, 59–60
 - voter registration data quality and, 49–52, 50f, 56–59, 62–65, 69–88t, 98–99
 - voter satisfaction research, 174–176
 - vote tally audits, comparisons of, 76–78
 - voting machine distribution, 233
 - waiting times for voting, 177–180
- state election laws
 - turnout rates and, 53–56, 56f
 - voter confidence and role of, 254–255
- statistical data. See also bivariate analysis; multivariate analysis
 - for public policy, 1–2
 - registration list quality and, 63–65
 - turnout rates, 89g
 - voter confidence, 258n12
 - voting technology and residual vote rate, 238–246
- Statutory Overview
 - disabled voters data, 193–194
 - qualitative transparency assessment, 287
 - transparency and data availability in, 274–276
- Stein, Robert M., 33–34, 166–187
- Stevens, John Paul, 248–250
- Stewart, Charles, 34–35, 122, 172–174, 223–247, 251–252, 256–261
- stigma of disabled voters, 190–193, 218–221
- summary index of registration quality, list
 - data quality and, 69–88t
- summary measure of registration data, 68, 69–88t
- survey data
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall
 - completeness of EAVS data by section, 279–283, 282t
 - for disabled voters, 205–210
 - election research using, 18–19

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More informationIndex

359

- Federal Voting Assistance Program
 - surveys, 150–151
 - voter confidence and, 253–254
 - voter registration measurements, 45–49
- Survey of Income and Program Participation,
 - disable voter data, 188n1
- Survey on the Performance of American Elections (SPAЕ)
 - disabled voters data, 189, 193–194n7, 193–194
 - early voting data, 167–169
 - election data using, 18–19
 - mail ballot data from, 121–126
 - polling place location data, 180–183
 - polling place operations data, 183–185
 - voter confidence data, 256–261
 - voter fraud data, 267–268
 - voter satisfaction data, 174–176
 - waiting times data in, 177–180
- technological innovations in elections
 - disabled voter access and, 190–193, 210–218
 - distribution of residual vote rate and, 225–228
 - historical evolution of, 41–43
 - provisional ballots and, 98–99
 - residual vote rate and, 34–35, 238–246, 239t
 - single-state analysis of machines and
 - residual vote rate, 236f, 240–242, 241t, 245f
 - statistical analysis of residual vote rate and, 238–240
 - UOCAVA voting patterns, 147t
 - voter confidence and, 251, 265f
 - voter registration data and, 62–63
 - voter satisfaction and, 172–174
 - voting machine performance and, 223–224, 230–234
- transit times, UOCAVA ballot data and, 152–163
- transparency of election data
 - election administration measurements, 272–273
 - election performance and, 36
 - future research and recommendations, 296–297
 - overview of, 271–297
 - qualitative assessment of state websites, 292–297
 - qualitative EAC evaluation of, 287
 - quantitative EAC evaluation
 - of, 286–287
 - security vs. accessibility tension in election
 - administration and, 272–273
 - stakeholder transparency and data
 - availability, 274–276
 - voter-focused evaluation of, 295–296
 - voter information, assessment of, 290–294, 291t, 292t
 - voter's online searches, 288–290
- transportation issues
 - for disabled voters, 190–193, 205–210
 - voting location changes and, 169–172
- trust in election officials, voter confidence
 - measurement and, 254–255, 255n10
- turnout rates
 - advantages and disadvantages of, 7–9
 - all-vote-by-mail systems for disabled voters
 - and, 221–222
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 data, 277–279
 - disabled voters data for, 190–193, 194–201, 210–218
 - disabled voters' direct and indirect barriers
 - and, 205–210
 - early voting impact on, 167–169
 - early voting location and setting, 169–172
 - eligible voting population as percentage
 - of, 300
 - “fall-off” from voter registration
 - and, 56–59
 - future research issues concerning, 59–60
 - geographical variations in, 52n16
 - “highest office” vs. “total ballots”
 - measurements, 51n14
 - historical trends in, 41–43
 - international comparative data on, 2
 - mail ballot policies and, 137–138
 - measurement techniques for assessment
 - of, 43–49
 - midterm vs. presidential election
 - variability, 52n15
 - polling place practices and, 166–187
 - provisional ballot percentages
 - and, 302
 - state-based variations in, 49–52, 52f
 - statistical analysis of, 8n9, 30–31
 - top-down analysis of, 40–60
 - transparency and data availability issues
 - with, 274–276
 - unreturned ballot measurements and, 129–131
 - variables in state rates, 53–56
 - voter confidence impact on, 256–261

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

360

Index

- turnout rates (cont.)
 - voter registration correlations with, 45–49, 53–56
 - voting location openness and, 169–172
- undeliverable addresses
 - factor analysis of, 85–88
 - incidence of, 66–67, 71–72, 84f
 - summary index of registration quality and, 82–85
- under votes. See also over votes
 - ballot technology and occurrence of, 172–174
 - residual vote rates and analysis of, 242–244
- Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (UOCAVA)
 - ballot policies, analysis of, 33
 - barriers to participation in, 142–148
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 absentee ballots, 277–279
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall completeness of EAVS data on, 279–283
 - data source evaluation, 150–152, 161f
 - EAC data evaluation, 152–163, 153t
 - Election Administration and Voting Survey, 12–15
 - evaluation of, 141–165
 - Federal Voting Assistance Program surveys, 150–151
 - historical ballot data, 155t, 156–157t
 - history of, 141–142
 - mail ballot system in, 114
 - performance measurement barriers, 148–149
 - population size estimates, 148–149
 - rejection rates for, 303
 - technology use patterns, 147t
 - transparency and data availability provisions, 274–276
 - unreturned ballot percentages, 303
 - validity and reliability of ballots, 4–9
- unreturned mail ballots
 - civilian absentee ballots, percentages of, 302
 - differences in, 129–131
 - Kolomogorov-Smirnov test of differences, 129n12
 - mail ballot research on, 130f, 134–135f
 - UOCAVA ballot data, 159t, 160t, 303
- unsuccessful provisional voting rate,
 - provisional ballot usage and acceptance and, 94–97
- usability assessment of state websites, 305
- transparency for voters and, 292–297, 294t
- usage rate analysis
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 election provisional ballots, 101–111
 - mail ballots, 113–114, 121–126, 128–129
 - provisional ballot measurement and interpretation, 94–97
 - voting machines, 232–236f
- U.S. Election Assistance Commission (EAC),
 - 2. See also Election Administration and Voting Survey (EAVS)
 - completeness of data, 284–285f, 285f
 - data transparency issues, 271–272
 - disabled voters data, 193–194
 - mail ballot use data, 114
 - precinct data from, 174–176
 - provisional ballots and, 92–94
 - qualitative transparency assessment, 287
 - quantitative data assessment, 276–277
 - quantitative transparency assessment, 286–287
 - self-reports by states and, 59n23
 - stakeholder transparency and data availability expansion under, 274–276
 - UOCAVA voter data, 151, 152–163, 153t
 - voter confidence analysis and, 248–250
 - voter registration reports to, 43–44n3, 45–49
- validity testing
 - of American election administration, 4–9
 - of disabled voters data, 205–210
 - mail ballot measurement, 135–137
 - provisional ballots, 95–96
 - turnout rate measurement, 49
 - voter confidence measurement and, 269–270
 - voter registration measurements, 45–49, 62
- Verkuilen, Jay, 21
- vital statistics, voter registration measurements and, 45–49
- Vonnahme, Greg, 33–34, 166–187
- Votamatic systems, 230–234
- vote history. See also infrequent voters; repeat voters, polling location difficulties for audits of vote tallies and, 72–76n1, 76–78
- factor analysis of discrepancies in, 85–88
- list data quality and discrepancies in, 68
- list purging based on, 69–70
- research hypotheses concerning, 174–176

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-06667-0 - The Measure of American Elections

Edited by Barry C. Burden and Charles Stewart III

Index

More information

- voter confidence
 - ballot technology and, 172–174
 - convenience and competence factors in, 263–266
 - data analysis of, 256–261
 - demographics and levels of, 256–260
 - as election performance metric, 35–36, 248–270
 - future research issues and recommendations, 268–269
 - identification requirements and, 248–252, 254–255, 262–263
 - legal and institutional factors in, 254–255
 - measurement methods for assessing, 250–252, 305
 - multivariate analysis of, 261–262, 269–270
 - national data on, 258f
 - post-election audits and identification requirements, 262–263
 - sociotropic measures of, 252–253n8
 - sources of, 261
 - as survey measurement, 253–254
 - terminology concerning, 251–252
 - transparency data assessment and, 287–288
 - turnout rates linked to, 41–43
 - voter fraud issues and, 267–268
- voter education
 - mail ballot policies and, 124
 - rejected mail ballot rates and, 132–134
- voter fraud
 - accessibility issues and, 272–273
 - mail ballot rejection or acceptance and assumptions concerning, 125–126
 - measurements of mail voting and, 135–137
 - myths and misperceptions concerning, 1
 - provisional ballots and, 92–94, 95–96
 - voter confidence and issue of, 260n13, 267–268, 267f
 - voter list data quality and, 65–69
- voter identification. See also identification requirements
 - at polling place, state-by-state comparisons, 72–75
 - registration lists as tool for, 65–69
- voter participation
 - election administration measurements and, 272–273
 - polling place practices and, 166–187
 - UOCAVA barriers to, 142–148
 - voter registration list barriers to, 61–62
- voter registration
 - absence of registration date for, 78–82
 - comparison of 2008, 2010, and 2012 data on, 277–279
 - comparison of 2010 and 2012 overall completeness of EAVS data, 279–283
 - date coverage quality, 68
 - deadwood on lists, 301
 - disabled voter rates of, 194–201, 205–210
 - distribution data, 68
 - Election Administration and Voting Survey data, 12–15
 - functions of lists in, 62–63, 65–69
 - future research issues concerning, 59–60, 89–90
 - historical trends in, 41–43
 - list processing and quality control, 31, 61–90
 - measurement techniques for, 43–49
 - new index measures of, 85–88
 - online registration, 41–43, 210n14, 210–221
 - online voter information sources for, 290–292
 - overstatement and understatement of rates, 45–49
 - over-time variance in, 48n11
 - percent of eligible population measurement, 300
 - provisional ballots and problems with, 97–100
 - state-based variations in, 46n8, 49–52
 - statistical analysis of, 30–31
 - top-down analysis of, 40–60
 - transparency and data availability issues in, 274–276
 - turnout rate correlations with, 53–59
- voter satisfaction
 - ballot technology and, 172–174
 - campaign practices and media coverage impact on, 185–187
 - disabled voters data, 193–194
 - early voting and, 166–167
 - Election Day voting vs. early voting, 263
 - polling locations and, 180–183
 - polling place practices and, 166–187
 - qualitative assessment of state websites, 292–297, 294t
 - research hypotheses concerning, 174–176
 - review of research on, 167–174
 - summary of findings concerning, 185–187
 - voter confidence and, 254–255, 263–266

- voter validation study, VRS assessments and, 10–12
- Voting Age Population (VAP) estimate, turnout measurements and, 43–45, 51n13
- Voting and Registration Supplement (VRS)
 - disabled voters data, 189, 193–194
 - elections data assessment using, 9–19
 - fluctuations in, 10n11
 - voter registration measurements and, 45–49
- Voting Eligible Population (VEP)
 - limitations of, 45n5
 - turnout measurement and, 49
 - turnout rate estimation and, 43–45
 - voter registration measurements and, 45–49
- voting machines. See also specific types of voting machines
 - alternative performance measurements of, 228–230
 - future research issues and recommendations concerning, 246–247
 - heterogeneity linked to performance assessment, 234–238
 - performance measurements of, 223–247
 - politics of, 233
 - residual vote rate and performance of, 224–238, 242–244
 - single-state analysis of technology and, 236f, 240–242, 245f
 - statistical analysis of technology and, 238–246
 - technological changes in, 230–234
 - usage as percentage of voters, 232–236f
 - voter confidence and problems with, 263–266
 - waiting times to vote and technology changes in, 228–239, 229n5, 229t
- voting rights, provisional ballots in context of, 92–94
- Voting Rights Act
 - provisional ballot usage and, 98–99
 - registration and turnout effects, 40
- waiting times to vote
 - average measurements for, 303
 - data on, 177–180
 - disabled voter turnout and, 210–218
 - early and Election Day data comparisons, 177t
 - for early voting, 177–180, 185–187
 - impact on democracy of, 185–187
 - polling place operations research concerning, 183–185
 - regression estimates, 181t
 - state-by-state analysis of, 178f
 - voting locations and reduction of, 169–172
 - voting machine performance measurement and, 228–239, 229n5, 229t
- Who Votes* (Wolfinger and Rosenstone), 11
- “winner’s regret” voters, 248–250
- Wolfinger, Raymond, 11
- z-scores, state-based election evaluation, 27–28