Contents

Section 1 – Fundamental issues

1. Towards the development of a conceptual framework
   Andrea Reupert, Darryl Maybery, and Joanne Nicholson

2. What we want from mental health professionals: “telling it like it is”
   Sandra Bilsborrow

3. Parental mental illness: estimating prevalence to inform policy and practice
   Darryl Maybery, Joanne Nicholson, and Andrea Reupert

4. The effect of parents’ psychiatric disorder on children’s attachment: theory and cases
   Patricia McKinsey Crittenden, Andrea Landini, and Kasia Kozlowska

5. Assessing the economic costs of parental mental illness
   Cathrine Mihalopoulos

6. Stigma and families where a parent has a mental illness
   Andrea Reupert and Darryl Maybery

Section 2 – Comprehensive assessment

7. Assessment and formulation of parenting
   Ruth O’Shaughnessy, Ruth Butterworth, and Michael Göpfert

8. Assessment of parents for the court
   Iyabo Fatimilehin, Ruth Butterworth, Ruth O’Shaughnessy, and Michael Göpfert

9. Thinking about children of parents with mental illnesses as a form of intergenerational dialog and practice
   Brenda M. Gladstone

10. Parental diagnosis and children’s outcomes
   Floor van Santvoort, Karin T. M. van Doesum, and Andrea Reupert

Section 3 – Specific disorders: the impact on children, parenting, and family relationships

11. Schizophrenia and motherhood
    Mary V. Seeman

12. The impact of parental depression on children
    Tracy R. G. Gladstone, William R. Beardslee, and Anne Diehl

13. Parents with anxiety disorders
    Cathy Creswell, Peter J. Cooper, and Lynne Murray

14. Children of parents who abuse alcohol and other drugs
    Shulamith Lala Ashenberg Straussner and Christine Huff Fewell
Section 4 – Child, parent, and family interventions

19 Helping children understand their parent’s mental illness 201
Andrea Reupert, Rose Cuff, and Darryl Maybery

20 Psychopharmacology and motherhood 210
Mary V. Seeman

21 Enhancing depressed mothers’ sensitivity 223
Karin T. M. van Doesum, Clemens M. H. Hosman, and Laura E. Kersten-Alvarez

22 Working with parents who have a psychiatric disorder 238
Tytty Solantaus, Andrea Reupert, and Darryl Maybery

23 Grandparents as primary caregivers 248
Vicki Cowling, Mary V. Seeman, and Michael Göpfert

Section 5 – Building workforce, organizational, and community capacity

26 Parental psychiatric disorder: translating The Family Model into practice change 277
Adrian Falkov

27 E-learning professional development resources for families where a parent has a mental illness 288
Andrea Reupert, Darryl Maybery, and Bradley Morgan

28 How can we make the psychiatric workforce more family focused? 301
Darryl Maybery, Kim Foster, Melinda Goodyear, Anne Grant, Patraporn Tungpumkom, Bjørg Eva Skogøy, and Robert Lees

29 A personal recovery model for parents with mental health problems 312
Darryl Maybery, Graham Meadows, John Clark, Keith Sutton, Andrea Reupert, and Joanne Nicholson

30 Helping parents with mental illness: the value of professional partnerships fighting de facto bias in the American courts 324
Katherine S. Nemens and Daniel Foster
31 Preventing unnecessary loss of child custody 333
   Mary V. Seeman

32 Shifting the intervention paradigm from individuals to families living with parental mental illness 343
   Kathleen Biebel, Joanne Nicholson, and Toni Wolf

33 The policy context and change for families living with parental mental illness 354
   Joanne Nicholson, Andrea Reupert, Anne Grant, Robert Lees, Darryl Maybery, Elaine Mordoch, Bjørg Eva Skogøy, Kristin Anne Stavnes, and Marie Diggins

34 Are we there yet? Developing a conceptual framework for understanding families where a parent has a mental illness 365
   Darryl Maybery, Andrea Reupert, Joanne Nicholson, Michael Göpfert, and Mary V. Seeman

Index 371